NEW APPROACHES TO NEO-KANTIANISM

After the demise of German Idealism, Neo-Kantianism flourished as the defining philosophical movement of Continental Europe from the 1860s until the Weimar Republic. This collection of new essays by distinguished scholars offers a fresh examination of the many and enduring contributions that Neo-Kantianism has made to a diverse range of philosophical subjects. The essays discuss classical figures and themes, including the Marburg and Southwestern Schools, Cohen, Cassirer, Rickert, and Natorp's psychology. In addition, they examine lesser-known topics, including the Neo-Kantian influence on theory of law, Husserlian phenomenology, Simmel's study of Rembrandt, Cassirer's philosophy of science, Cohen's philosophy of religion in relation to Rawls and Habermas, and Rickert's theory of number. This rich exploration of a major philosophical movement will interest scholars and upper-level students of Kant, twentieth-century philosophy, continental philosophy, sociology, and psychology.

NICOLAS DE WARREN is Research Professor of Philosophy at the Husserl Archives and the Center for Phenomenology and Continental Philosophy at the Institute of Philosophy, KU Leuven. He is the author of Husserl and the Promise of Time: Subjectivity in Transcendental Phenomenology (Cambridge, 2009) and numerous articles on phenomenology, philosophy of art, hermeneutics, and political philosophy.

ANDREA STAITI is Associate Professor of Philosophy at Boston College. He is the author of Husserl's Transcendental Phenomenology: Nature, Spirit, and Life (Cambridge, 2014), and has published many articles in journals, including Husserl Studies, Continental Philosophy Review, Philosophy and Social Criticism, and Research in Phenomenology.

Acknowledgments

We would like to thank Andrea Cimino, Leonardo Manfrini, Kevin Marren, Blakely Vogel, and Patrick Eldridge for assistance during the preparation of this volume. Our gratitude as well to Rosemary Crawley and Hilary Gaskin at Cambridge University Press for their support throughout this project.

This book is dedicated to the memory of Jonathan Trejo-Mathys, who passed away prematurely at the age of thirty-five after a courageous struggle with cancer. Jonathan was an admirable scholar, a vibrant thinker, an inspiring teacher, a loving husband, father, and friend. As his superb chapter in this collection demonstrates, he was a rare Anglophone philosopher with full command of the German Neo-Kantian tradition in the philosophy of law. In fact, his chapter was meant to be a précis for a book that will never be written. Jonathan's death is a great loss for the profession, but his legacy continues in the lives of friends and peers who had the privilege to share with him part of their intellectual and human journey.
