

Index

Locators in bold refer to figures, tables and extracts

- ability 30, 202–3
 - see also* competencies; skills
- accountability 13–14, 26
 - membership categorisation analysis 216
 - reflexive 205, 207–11, 221, 221–4, 225
- acculturation 3, 17–18, 27, 36
- action domain, see joint perspectives; social-action domain
- adequacy requirement, see unique adequacy requirement
- adjacency pairs
 - action and affective domains 69, 68–71
 - questions and answers 9, 154, 159
 - repression 136
- adult as ontological stage 30
- adult–child repair 107, 108–9
- affective domain 1, 8–9, 10–11, 47
 - discursive self 232
 - monitoring 4–5, 47, 63
 - and repression 129–30, 131–4, 132
 - and social action 13, 257–67
 - see also* intense emotion; joint perspectives; psychoanalytic perspective; transitional space
- aggravated correction 29
- agreement-pursuing question particle 38
- ambiguity
 - language 9, 132, 142–5, 151–3, 227
 - transitional space 175, 193, 199
- American English 154–5
- amnesia, infantile 48–9
- analysis examples
 - discursive self 230, 229–32
 - questions and answers 157, 156–73
 - self-positioning 205, 204–24
 - transitional space 180, 179–94, 197
- analyst-as-participant 90
- anger, phone call to emergency service 77, 76–9
- anxiety 81–2
 - containment 185, 200
 - working things through 258
 - see also* intense emotion
- arguments, see conflict
- attachment theory 15
- attention seeking 9, 132, 131–4, 151–3
- avoidance 130, 132, 131–4, 139
- awareness of separateness 54–5, 58
 - see also* depressive position; separation
- awareness of self-awareness 53, 173, 258
- badness, projection of 177
- Baker, C. 40
- behaviourism 15, 16
- being-in-the-world 19
- Bick, E. 57
- Billig, M. 130
- Blum-Kulka, S. 96
- body posture 132, 131–3, 134–7, 151–3, 222–4
- boundaries, cross-disciplinary 29, 31
- boundaries, self 130, 177, 232
- breast, significance of 57
- Butler, C. 25, 40–1, 202, 203–4
- ‘Button, button, who’s got the button?’ game 42–3, 44, 260
- CA&E, see ethnomethodologically informed conversation analysis
- call-and-response 163
- camera 265
- case-study approach 6–7, 47–8, 94–5
- categorical ordering work 24
 - see also* membership categorisation analysis
- chalk example 148, 145–53, 258
- cheese example 216, 214–16, 217
- child as ontological stage 30
- child–child correction/repair 107

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04468-5 - Early Social Interaction: A Case Comparison of Developmental Pragmatics and Psychoanalytic Theory

Michael A. Forrester

Index

More information

Index

283

- CHILDES resource 7, 64–5, 84, 96, 264–5
 data analysis/accessibility 97–8, 99
 format of recordings 97, 98
 transcription conventions 98, 269
- child-focused conversation analysis 3–4, 28–9, 45
 competencies/understandings 31, 35–8, 257–8
 difficulties specific to child research 31, 39–42
 and ethnomethodology 41–2; see also ethnomethodologically informed conversation analysis
 grammar 31, 38–9, 259–60
 membership 29–31
 pre-linguistic communication 31–3
 repair/correction 31, 33–5, 257–8, 259–60
 seeing thoughts 42–4, 260
 social-practice orientation 4, 19–20, 28
- childhood sexuality 49–50
- children's interactions, arguments 29
- child–self discourse 12, 213, 229, 244
see also discursive self
- child teasing 222
- Chomsky, Noam 72
- Church, A, 36
- Civilization and its discontents* (Freud) 50, 65
- clarity, self-repair skills 111, 120–1, 123–5
- closing conversations 26
- cognitive development,
 information-processing metaphor 15–16
- cognitive-representational theory 16, 18–19
- cognitive theories, limitations of 20
- common-sense knowledge 30, 202, 203–4, 207–11
- communication, mastery 204, 210
see also mastery of language
- competencies 2, 31, 35–8, 217–20, 257–8
see also ability; skills
- concluding 86, 87–90
- conflict 36
 children's interactions 29
 psychoanalytic perspectives 46–7, 49
 resolution 11, 180, 193–7
 repression 132, 134–7
see also trouble-sources-in-talk
- conscious mind, structural theory 48–51
- containment 56, 59
 anxiety 185, 200
 and discursive self 12, 229–31
- contextual factors 225
 mealtime interactions 37–8
 research practices/interpretation of data 95, 95–6
- conversation analysis, see child-focused conversation analysis;
 ethnomethodologically informed conversation analysis
- co-participant research 86
see also participant-oriented analysis
- co-participant responsiveness 12
- Corrin, J. 38–9
- Coulon, A. 202
- Coulter, J. 21
- counselling contexts 39
- counter-transference 47–8
- cross-disciplinary boundaries 29, 31
- cultural differences 154–5
- Danby, S. 40
- data analysis 22, 26–7, 97–8, 99
see also interpretation of data; research practices
- data transcription 90–3, 98, 269
- De Leon, L. 41
- death instinct 49–50, 53–5, 261
- deception 44
- deep experience, metaphor 53
- definitions
 emerging self 11
 ethnomethodology 21–2
 glossing practices 31
 membership 30
 projective identification 56
 social objects 70
 turn-taking terminology 268
- deictic terms 11, 201
- deliberate non-response 9, 142–5
- depressive position 5, 54–5, 58, 59–60, 229, 261
- Derrida, Jacques 20
- descriptions of the world 21
- descriptive studies 30
- developmental pragmatics 2, 225, 259–63
- developmental psychology 2, 15–16, 45
 emergence of field of study 28
 intersubjectivity 33
 limitations of experimental approaches 16–17, 20
 social-cultural outlook 18
 and social interaction 15
- developmentally informed research, see child-focused conversation analysis
- dialogic interruption 222
- disagreement, see conflict
- discourse
 limitations of CA&E orientation 67
 self-repair skills 127

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04468-5 - Early Social Interaction: A Case Comparison of Developmental Pragmatics and Psychoanalytic Theory

Michael A. Forrester

Index

More information

284 Index

- discursive self 12–13, 227–9, 231, 255–6
 analysis examples 230, 229–32
 becoming languaged 225
 identification and captivation of the image 244–55
 membership categorisation 213
 pronoun recognition and use 235, 233–5, 240
 social-practice dimension 19–20
 third-person reference 240–4
see also mirroring; self-positioning
- displacement 265–6
 and repression 130, 132, 131–4, 139
 transitional space 180, 197–9, 200
- display 42–3, 151–3
- doctor/medicine example, symbolic play 180, 179–85
- doing, see social-action domain
- ‘doing being ordinary’ 25, 71–83, 262–3, 266–7
 mishearing 132, 145–51
 and repression 129–30, 136, 151–3
 research practices/interpretation of data 91
see also ‘order-at-all-points’;
 sequence-focused CA&E
- doing disapproval 195
- doing formulating 158, 210
- doing refusal 214
- doing shouting 222
- Douglas, Mary 259
- dropping the infant/child metaphor 229
- Duncan, S. D. 264–5
- dynamic unconscious 6, 83, 129, 263, 266
- ecological validity, research practices 85, 86
- ego 48–51
- embodiment 57
- emerging self 11, 12
see also discursive self; self-positioning;
 transitional space
- emotional development, see developmental psychology
- emotionality, see affective domain; intense emotion
- emotional mirroring, see mirroring
- empathy 181–2
- enculturation, see acculturation
- Enfield, N. J. 154–5
- engagement
 questions and answers 161
 and repression 132, 137–51
- enigmatic signifiers 152
- enunciated self 235, 233–5, 240
see also discursive self
- equipment, recording 22, 265
- Ervin-Tripp, S. 17–18
- essence of a concept 19
- ethics, research practices 96–7
- ethnomethodologically informed conversation
 analysis (CA&E) 1, 2, 5, 15–21, 27, 65–6
 and child-focused conversation analysis 41–2
- emerging self, see self-positioning
- limitations of 67
- membership categorisation analysis 23–5
- methodology 21–3, 26–7, 64–5
- methodological stance 5–6, 67
- and psychoanalytic perspective 266–7; see also joint perspectives
- research background 3, 15–21
- sequence-focused 23, 25–7
- turn-taking terminology 268
see also child-focused conversation
 analysis; sequence-focused CA&E;
 social-action domain
- ethnomethodology, definition 21–2
- etiquette of speaking 31
- events, recording/interpretation 90–3
- evidence base, psychoanalytic perspective 47–8
- external action and internal thinking, see inside and outside of social relations
- facial expressions 132, 131–3, 134–7, 151–3, 222–4
- family therapy 40
- feeling domain, see affective domain
- Filipi, A. 32–3, 34, 35
- Finland, research 34–5, 38
- format of recordings 97, 98
- Foucault, Michel 19, 225
- fractal orderliness, see ‘order-at-all-points’
- Freese, J. 81
- Freud, Sigmund 5, 14, 47–8, 261
 early social relations 52–3
 knowing others’ thoughts 44
 repression 130
 structural theory of the mind 48–51
- frustration 12, 59, 228, 229
- Garfinkel, H. 22, 31, 202, 207–11
- gaze 31–3, 111, 118–20, 126–7
- gender roles 40
- glossing practices 31, 189, 192
- good-enough parenting 5, 58, 262
- Goodwin, M. H. 29, 107
- grammar 21, 31, 38–9, 259–60
- Green, Charlotte 80, 79–81
- greeting sequences 22, 41

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04468-5 - Early Social Interaction: A Case Comparison of Developmental Pragmatics and Psychoanalytic Theory

Michael A. Forrester

Index

More information

Index

285

- half-membership status 3, 30, 40–1, 45, 151–3, 205, 204–7
- Heidegger, Martin 19, 20
- Hindenburg disaster radio broadcast 75, 74–6
- Hinshelwood, R. D. 56–7
- humour, use of 9, 133–4, 258
 - analysis examples 180, 189–92
 - repression 137–8, 139
- Husserl, Edmund 19
- hysterical excess, Ella 139, 192–3
- hysterics/laughter, radio broadcast 80, 79–81
- identification 5
 - and captivation by/of the image 244–55
 - Freud on 50, 52–3
 - Klein on 53; see also projective identification
- In search of lost time* (Proust) 88–9
- individuation, see emerging self; transitional space
- infantile amnesia 48–9
- information-processing metaphor 15–16
- inside and outside of social relations 5, 10–11, 63, 175–8, 261–2
 - boundaries of self 232
 - Freud on 48, 52
 - seeing others' thoughts 4, 42–3
 - see also* separation; transitional space
- insider participant/research 85, 94
 - see also* participant-oriented analysis
- instincts 5, 49–50, 261
- instructional-oriented play 132, 145–51
- insults, trading 195–7
 - see also* conflict
- intense emotion 81–2
 - Hindenburg crash radio broadcast 75, 74–6
 - phone call to an emergency service 77, 76–9
- intentionality 18, 33
 - and gaze 32, 33
 - limitations of CA&E orientation 66
 - questions and answers 159, 165
- Interaction and the development of mind* (Wootton) 6–7
- interactive vertigo 148, 145–53, 258, 263
- internal psychological life 4–5, 46–7, 130
 - see also* inside and outside of social relations
- interpretation of data 2, 7, 13, 90–3, 261, 263–4
 - psychoanalytic tradition 47–8
 - see also* data analysis; research practices
- intersubjectivity 4, 45, 48
 - competencies/understandings 36
 - repair/correction 33–5
- intrinsic vs. extrinsic research processes 86, 85–6, 90
 - see also* participant-oriented analysis
- introducing topics of conversation 26
- introjection, Freud on 50, 52–3
- investigating 86, 87–90
- Jefferson, G. 91
- joint perspectives (social-action and affective domains 5–6, 13, 64–6, 82–3, 130, 257–60, 267
 - adjacency pairs 69, 68–71
 - local management system of conversation 67
 - 'order-at-all-points' 66–7
 - problem with the 'problem of order' 67, 71–82
 - repression 130
- Keenan, O. E. 28
- Kidwell, M. 31–2
- Klein, Melanie 5, 53–5, 261, 262
- knowing others' thoughts 42–4, 260
- Laakso, M. L. 34–5, 38
- laboratory-based approaches, limitations 16–17
- Lacan, Jacques 233–40, 244–5
- language-as-action metaphor 19–20
- language as form of life 3, 19
- language, becoming 3, 21, 27, 82–3
 - discursive practices 225
 - participant orientation/unique adequacy 93–4
 - questions and answers 159
 - self-reference/membership categorisation 211–14
- language games 19–20
- language-socialisation approach 17–18
- language-thoughts 44
- languages other than English 154–5
- laughter, radio broadcast 80, 79–82
 - see also* humour
- learning what not to say, see repression
- Lerner, G. H. 37–8
- less-than-full membership, see half-membership status
- Levinson, S. C. 154–5
- Levy, E. T. 264–5
- lies 44
- life instinct 49–50, 53–4
- Livingston, E. 70
- local management system, of conversation 67
- logocentrism 19

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04468-5 - Early Social Interaction: A Case Comparison of Developmental Pragmatics and Psychoanalytic Theory

Michael A. Forrester

Index

More information

286 Index

- loss 11, 180, 185–93
 Lynch, M. 70, 93–4
- Mackay, R. 30
 McNeill, D. 264–5
 making requests 26, 36–7
 manipulating appearances 44
 masculinity traits 40
 mastery of communication 204, 210
 mastery of language 29–31, 202–4
 maternal projections 177
 maternal reverie 56, 59
 see also mother–infant entity
 Maynard, D. W. 29, 81
 MCA, see membership categorisation analysis
 MCDs, see membership categorisation devices
 mealtime interactions 37–8
 see also analysis examples meaning-as-use metaphor 19–20
 medical encounters 39
 medicine example, symbolic play 180, 179–85
 membership 82–3
 child-focused conversation analysis 29–31
 of a culture 17–18; see also acculturation
 definitions 30
 and mastery of language 202–4
 questions and answers 155, 158
 and repression 51
 and skills of conversation 41
 see also half-membership status
 membership categorisation analysis (MCA)
 CA&E 3, 23–5
 child-focused conversation analysis 39–42
 competencies 217–20
 reflexive accountability 221, 221–4
 role status and rights 216, 214–16, 217
 self-positioning 203–4, 211–14, 225–6
 membership categorisation devices (MCDs) 12, 24, 202
 members' methods 10, 85–6, 155, 158
 memory
 infantile amnesia 48–9
 transitional space 176
 methodological sense-making practices, see
 sense-making practices
 methodology 2, 263–4
 CA&E 21–3, 26–7, 64–5
 Case-study 94–5
 limitations 16–17, 20, 47–8; see also joint approaches
 see also data analysis; interpretation of data; research practices
 methods, and social action 22
 mimicry, see mirroring
 mind, as categorising entity 18–19
 mind-as-representation 16
 mirroring, emotional 12–13, 176, 228–9, 231, 233, 244–55
 misconduct 31–2
 mishearing 9, 192, 258
 and repression 148, 137–8, 139, 145–51
 misunderstandings 113–16
 modernism 227
 monitoring
 attention-seeking 151–3
 self-repair skills 111, 121–3
 moody face/body posture 132, 131–3, 134–7, 151–3, 222–4
 motherese 187, 189
 mother–infant entity 48, 52–3, 176, 228, 244–5
 multi-party conversations, self-repair 111, 116, 123–5
- naming
 research practices 86, 87–90
 self-repair skills 111, 109–11, 112–13
 unique adequacy requirement 102–4
 naturalistic social interactions 86, 86
 concluding 87
 investigating 87
 naming 87
 noticing 87
 negative evidence 34–5
 Neisser, U. 85
 New Zealand, research 25
 nipple, significance of 57
 non-recognisable, repression of 2–3, 265–6
 non-responsiveness 9, 142–5, 238
 Norrick, N. R. 107
 noticing
 research practices 86, 87–90, 92
 unique adequacy requirement 102–4
- objectivity, research 86
 object-relations theory 52, 53–4, 56–8, 228
 see Klein; Winnicott
 observability of objects 32
 observable phenomena 42–3
 Ochs, E. 17–18
 Oedipus complex 52
 Ogden, R. 53, 54–5, 61–2
 omnipotence, and reality 10, 178
 on-going sequences of actions 37–8
 ontological stages, adult and children as 30
 open questions 28, 155
 'order-at-all-points' 6, 22, 65, 66–7, 82–3, 262–3, 266–7
 conflict resolution 193
 problem with the 'problem of order' 67, 71–82
 repression 9, 149

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04468-5 - Early Social Interaction: A Case Comparison of Developmental Pragmatics and Psychoanalytic Theory

Michael A. Forrester

Index

More information

Index

287

- see also* sequence-focused CA&E order of knowledge 36
 other correction 100, 106–7
 other-initiated self-repair (OISR) 111, 118, 127, 167
 other-initiation, turn-taking 108
- paranoid-schizoid position 5, 54–5, 58, 261
 parent–child interaction 2
see also mother–infant entity
 participant-oriented analysis 85, 86, 94, 263
 context of the recordings 96
 data analysis 26–7
 research practices 86, 90, 91, 93–4
 participant-oriented evidence 7
 performance 42–3, 151–3
 permission, participant 96–7
 phantasy, unconscious 56–7
 phone call to an emergency service example 77, 76–9 Piaget, Jean 16, 18
 play
 competencies/understandings 36
 Freud on 51
 transitional space 10–11, 178, 180, 179–85, 199–200
 working things through 258
 pointing 163
 portable recording equipment 22
 postmodernist discourses of self 227
 posture 132, 131–3, 134–7, 151–3, 222–4
 post-structuralism 18–19, 20
 potential/potentiating space 10, 61–2, 178
 Potter, J. 20
 pragmatics, developmental 2, 225, 259–63
see also ethnomethodologically informed conversation analysis preconceived ideas, researcher 91
 pre-linguistic communication 31–3
 ‘problem of order’, see ‘order-at-all-points’
 problem with the ‘problem of order’ 67, 71–82
 project of the question 155–6, 169, 171, 172, 173–4
 projections, maternal 177
 projective identification 5, 55, 261–2
 discourses of self 12, 228, 229
 and object-relations 56–8
 pronouns 11, 193, 228–9, 255, 259
 discursive self 235, 233–5, 240
 self-positioning 201
 third-person reference 240–4
 propositional attitudes 18–19
 prosody 38–9
 Proust, Marcel 88–9
- psychoanalytic perspective 1, 4–5, 46–8, 62–3
 attachment theory 15
 and CA&E 266–7; see joint perspectives
 developmental psychology 2
 Freud 48–51, 52–3
 Klein 53–5
 methodology 47–8
 projective identification/object relations 56–8
 repression 8–9, 132, 131–4
 Winnicott 58–62
see also affective domain; discursive self; repression; transitional space
 psycholinguistics 16
 psychological predicates 264
 pursuit of a response, see response-seeking
- quantification, limitations of 16–17
 questions and answers 9–10, 22, 23, 26, 154–6, 173–4, 257–8
 analysis examples 157, 156–73
- radio broadcasts 75, 74–6, 79–81
 reality, and omnipotence 10, 178
 reassurance, conflict resolution 197
 reciprocity 229–31, 255
see also mirroring, emotional recording equipment 22, 265
 recordings
 context of 95, 95–6
 methodology 64–5
 transcription 90–3, 98, 269
 video recording 22, 64–5, 90–3
see also CHILDES resource
 re-engagement, and repression 132, 137–51
 reflexive accountability 205, 207–11, 221, 221–4, 225
 rejected face/body posture 132, 131–3, 134–7, 151–3, 222–4 reliability, research practices 90
 repair 8, 26, 106–9, 110, 125–8
 child-focused conversation analysis 31, 33–5, 257–8, 259–60
 emergence of self-repair skills 111, 109–25
 questions and answers 167, 170
 sample extract/analysis 100
see also self- over other-repair
 repetition 28
 repetition compulsion 51
 repetitive nature, research practices 92
 representational theory 16
 repression 5, 8–9, 46–7, 50–1, 129–30, 151–3, 265–6
 and avoidance/displacement 132, 131–4
 disagreement in the interaction 132, 134–7
 infantile amnesia 48–9

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04468-5 - Early Social Interaction: A Case Comparison of Developmental Pragmatics and Psychoanalytic Theory

Michael A. Forrester

Index

More information

288 Index

- repression (cont.)
 of non-recognisable 2–3, 265–6
 problem with the ‘problem of order’ 73
 re-engagement 132, 137–51
 and silliness 189–92
 social action and psychological affect 65
 research practices 6–7, 84, 104–5
 case-study methodology 94–5
 context of the recordings 95, 95–6
 data analysis/accessibility 97–8, 99
 ethics 96–7
 events, recording/interpretation 90–3
 format of recordings 97, 98
 intrinsic vs. extrinsic research 86, 85–6, 90
 participant orientation 93–4
 sample extract/analysis 99–100, 101
 transcription conventions 98, 269
 unique adequacy requirement 93–4, 102–4
see also data analysis; interpretation of data; methodology
 research themes 31–42, 257–67
 resources, conversational 111, 121–3, 126–7
 response-seeking
 questions and answers 9–10, 158
 and repair 8, 107–8
see also non-responsiveness
 reverie, maternal 56, 59
 right to speak 40, 216, 214–16, 217
 routines 37–8, 71
see also ‘doing being ordinary’
- Sacks, H. 4, 28, 31, 42–4, 71, 155, 202, 207–11, 260
 sad face/body posture 132, 131–3, 134–7, 151–3, 222–4
 said, the ‘not said’ and the ‘not, not said’ 130
 Schegloff, E. 72, 106–7, 128
 schizophrenia 44
 Seedhouse, P. 90–1
 seeing others’ thoughts 42–4, 260
 self, boundaries 130, 177, 232
 self, emergence of, see emerging self self, structural theory of the mind 48–51
 self-concept 227
 self- over other-repair 8, 106–7, 108–9, 110, 126, 128
 and emergence of self 111, 109–25
 self-positioning 11–12, 201–2, 225–6, 257–8
 analysis examples 205, 204–24
 competencies and membership
 categorisation 217–20
 gaze shift 111, 118–20
 half-membership 204–7
 membership and mastery of language 12, 202–4
 reflexive accountability 207–11, 221, 221–4
 roles, status and rights 216, 214–16, 217
 self-reference and membership
 categorisation 211–14
 subject positioning 221, 221–4
 self-repair designed as in pursuit of a response (SRPR) 118
 semiotic communicative meaningfulness 159
 sense-making practices 5–6, 67, 70, 193, 201–2
 ethnomethodological focus 5–6, 67, 70
 problem with the ‘problem of order’ 72
 research practices 85–6
 separation
 discursive self 229, 233–4
 and frustration 12, 228
 structural theory of the mind 48
see also depressive position; inside and outside of social relations; transitional space
 sequence-focused CA&E 3, 23, 25–7, 39–42
 sequential implicativeness 26
 sequential knowledge 36
 sexuality, childhood 49–50
 Shakespeare, P. 30
 sibling relationships 41
 Sidnell, J. 40
 signifiers, enigmatic 152
 silliness 189–92
 skills of conversation, and membership 41
see also ability; competencies
 skin, significance of 57
 social-action domain 1, 15, 20–3
see also ethnomethodologically informed conversation analysis; joint perspectives social anthropology, ethnography and sociology 28
 social constructionism 19, 20–1, 227
 social-cultural outlook, developmental psychology 18
 social-interaction 15, 227
 social objects, definition 70
 social positioning 40, 202
see also status
 social-practice orientation 4, 19–20, 28
see also child-focused conversation
 analysis; social-action domain
 social-semiotic subject positioning 227
 socialisation, language socialisation approach 17–18
 Soininen, M. 34–5
 songs/singing 99–100, 101, 102–4, 236
 speakings 237
 splitting 53–4, 55, 261, 262

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04468-5 - Early Social Interaction: A Case Comparison of Developmental Pragmatics and Psychoanalytic Theory

Michael A. Forrester

Index

More information

Index

289

- SRPR (self-repair designed as in pursuit of a response) 118
- stage of life discourses 202
- status 216, 214–16, 217
see also half-membership status; social positioning
- Stivers, T. 154–5
- street games, girls talk during 29
- structuralism 18–19
- structural theories of mind 48–51, 233–40
- subjectivity
 depressive position 58
 research 86
- subject positioning, membership
 categorisation analysis 221, 221–4
see also self-positioning
- sublimation 130
- surface experience, metaphor 53
- symbol formation 264
- symbolic order 13, 233–40
- symbolic play 180, 179–85
- taboo words 9, 130, 132, 140–2, 145–53
- TalkBank database 96
- talk-in-interaction, see social-action domain
- Tarplee, C. 36, 39
- teasing 221, 222
- telephone conversations, adjacency pairs 69, 68–71
- that and how (etiquette) of speaking 31
- theory of mind 4, 33, 42–4, 45
- third-person references 197–9, 240–4
- third-position/third-turn repair 33–4, 111, 116
- timelessness, transitional space 176, 199
- Tomasello, M. 18
- tonal repetition 39
- topic-introduction procedures 22
- trading insults 195–7
see also conflict
- transcript as evidence 92, 263–4
- transcription, data 90–3, 98, 269
- transference 47–8
- transforming movement 10, 175, 261
- transitional space 5, 10–11, 47, 61–2, 175–8, 199–200, 261–2
- analysis examples 180, 179–94
- conflict resolution 180, 193–7
- discursive self 229
- displacement 197–9
- trading insults 195–7
- trouble-sources-in-talk 8, 127–8
- attention-seeking 131
- misunderstandings 113–16
- questions and answers 161
- repression 132, 145–51
- response-seeking 107–8
- self- (over) other-repair 106–7
- turn-taking 108
see also conflict
- trust, in language skills of children 35
- turn-taking 23, 26, 38–9, 108, 268
- Tykkyläinen, T. 38
- unconscious mind 5, 46–7, 50–1, 261
 problem with the ‘problem of order’ 73
- repression 132, 145–53
- structure 233–40
see also dynamic unconscious
- unconscious phantasy 56–7
- understanding 165, 192
see also competencies
- unfolding structures of action 37–8
- unique adequacy requirement (UAR) 7, 93–4, 102–4
- validity, research practices 90–1
- video recording 22, 64–5, 90–3
- Vygotsky, Lev 18, 264
- Weatherall, A. 40
- Weber, Max 13–14
- Wells, B. 38–9
- Wetherell, M. 20
- Whalen, M. R. 36
- what responses 28
- Wilkinson, R. 40–1
- Winnicott, Donald 12–13, 58–62, 228, 261
see also transitional space
- Wittgenstein, Ludwig 3, 19–20
- Wootton, A. 6–7, 33–4, 36–7
- working things through 185, 200, 258