

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04572-9 - The Anatomy of Revolution Revisited: A Comparative Analysis of England, France, and Russia

Bailey Stone

Index

More information

Index

- Acton, Edward, 38, 40
 Adamson, John, 25
 Agitators: in New Model Army, 292–97
Agreement of the People: See electoral reforms: debated at Putney Church; Levellers; Lilburne, John Alexandra Fedorovna, tsarina of Russia, 65, 66, 125, 143, 147–49. See also Nicholas II, tsar of Russia
 American War (1778–83), 112, 158
 Amussen, Susan, 33
 Anderson, Perry, 7
 April Crisis (1917), 248–52
 Assembly of Notables (in 1787), 160–62; (in 1788), 169
 Astrov, Nikolai, 103
 Austrian Succession, War of the, 56
- Baker, Keith, 27, 39
 Barber, Sarah, 33
 Barebones Parliament (1653), 376–78
 Bastwick, John, 116, 211
 Bien, David D., 30
 Bishops' Wars (1639–40), 149–56, 183–84, 270
 Blanning, T. C. W., 31
 Bolsheviks. See Intelligentsia: in Russia; Lenin, Vladimir I.: issues “April Theses” on return from exile in April 1917; Red (Bolshevik) Terror: cultural elements of Bonaparte, Napoleon, 424, 427, 456
 Braddick, Michael J., 14, 26, 35–36
 Brest-Litovsk, Treaty of (1918), 332–33, 353
- Brinton, Crane: defines attributes of “Reigns of Terror and Virtue,” 318; defines “honeymoon” phases of revolutions, 186–87; postulates the sequelae of these revolutions, 2, 474; revolutionary theory of, 1–2; scholarly criticisms of, 3–5
 Brissot, Jacques-Pierre: political role of in Legislative Assembly, 273–76; role of in Convention, 276–78
 Brusilov, Alexei, 141, 147, 178, 282–83
 Buckingham, George Villiers, Duke of, 49, 51, 75, 77, 79, 95, 98
 Bukharin, Nikolai, 405, 410, 446, 476 bureaucratization: in revolutionary England, 367–68, 421; in revolutionary France, 191–92, 362–63, 400–01; in revolutionary Russia, 351–52. See also Rabkrin
 Burton, Henry, 116, 211
- Cabarrus, Thérèse, 398, 417
cahiers de doléances (1789): content analyses of, 169–70, 172–73. See also Estates-General (1789)
 Calonne, Charles-Alexandre de: ill-fated financial ministry of, 158–61
Champ de Mars massacre, 246–47
 Charles I, king of England: constitutional ideas of, 75–76; definitively embraces Arminian ecclesiology of Archbishop Laud, 118–20; execution of, 257, 271–72; foreign policy of, 49–51, 112–17; Personal Rule of, 112–21; role of in Civil War, 263–68; seeks Five Members in January 1642, 237–38, 240

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04572-9 - The Anatomy of Revolution Revisited: A Comparative Analysis of England, France, and Russia

Bailey Stone

Index

More information

524

Index

- Cheka: origins and functions of, 330–31, 349;
sociological analysis of, 351–52. See also Dzerzhinskii, Felix; Red (Bolshevik) Terror
- Chernov, Victor, 236, 249, 260
- Chicherin, Georgi V.: foreign ministry of,
439–47, 467
- Christianson, Paul, 25
- Civil Code (1804), 485–86
- Civil Constitution of Clergy, 193–94,
224–25
- Cobban, Alfred, 24
- Collins, Randall, 7
- Comintern, 405, 410, 446
- Committee of Both Kingdoms, 268
- Committee of General Security, 356, 396
- Committee of Public Safety: roles of in Jacobin Terror, 356; powers of reduced radically in Thermidor, 396. See also Jacobin Terror
- Concordat of 1801, 486–87
- Constituent Assembly: mobilizes for war during Varennes crisis, 244–45; structural reforms passed by in 1789–91, 188–99
- Convention: changing political dynamics of in Thermidor, 396–97; struggle for power in during 1792–93, 276–80
- Council of People's Commissars. See
Sovnarkom
- Council of State (England), 364–65, 371, 418
- court versus country: employed as analytical theme by Perez Zagorin, Lawrence Stone, and other historians of late Tudor, early Stuart England, 80–81
- Cressy, David, 11, 34
- Crimean War, 59, 65, 69
- Cromwell, Oliver: ambitions of still debated by historians, 449–51; crushes Levellers in 1650s, 372–75; crushes Rump (April 20, 1653), 375; dissolves Barebones Parliament in December 1653, 377; opposes Charles I during civil wars of 1640s, 255–57;
resolved, finally, to support Charles I's execution, 264, 271–72; serves as Lord
Protector during late 1650s, 419–21; steers
British foreign policy during 1650s, 432–39;
tries to find points of reconciliation at Putney Debates, 295–96
- Daniels, Robert V., 39–40
- Davies, James, 6
- Davis, J. C., 33
- Democratic Centralism, 387
- Derrida, Jacques, 15
- Desan, Suzanne, 15
- Diggers, 374
- Directory: administrative reforms of, 398–401; constitutional weaknesses of, 456–58; fiscal reforms of, 401–03; foreign policy of,
423–31; military reforms of, 403–05
- Duma, Imperial. See Miliukov, Paul: opposes tsarist regime in 1916–17
- Dumouriez, Charles-François, 259
- Dunes, Battle of the, 437
- Dunn, John, 11–12, 18, 19
- Durnovo, P. N., 73
- Dzerzhinskii, Felix, 331, 337–38, 342, 349,
351, 385–86, 466. See also Cheka; Red
(Bolshevik) Terror
- Eastern Crisis of 1876–78, 60
- Eckstein, Harry, 4, 5
- Edwards, Lyford P., 4, 8, 43
- Eisenstadt, S. N.: modernization theories of, 6
- electoral reforms: debated in England at Putney Church, 295; implemented in revolutionary France, 189–91, 302,
456–57; implemented in revolutionary
Russia, 202
- Eleven Years' Tyranny. See Charles I, king of England: Personal Rule of
- Eliot, John, 96–97
- Elizabeth I, queen of England, 48–49
- émigrés*: increasingly persecuted in the course
of 1792–93, 300–02
- Engagement of 1649, 366, 416
- Enlightenment: ideology of in ancien régime
France, 93, 137–39
- Enragés*, 378–81. See also Leclerc, Théophile;
Roux, Jacques; Varlet, Jean
- Estates-General: historic role of, 84–89; in 1789, 169–72
- Figes, Orlando, 38, 40, 41
- First Balkan Crisis (1908–09), 122
- First Protectorate Parliament, 451–52
- Fitzpatrick, Sheila, 38, 40
- Fleurus, battle of, 423
- Foran, John, 7, 22
- Foucault, Michel, 15
- French royal army: divided condition of in old regime, 91–92; reformed in 1787–88, 163–64; reformed in 1789–91, 197–99;
revolutionized more thoroughly in the course of late 1790s, 298–300,
362–63

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04572-9 - The Anatomy of Revolution Revisited: A Comparative Analysis of England, France, and Russia

Bailey Stone

Index

More information

Index

525

Furet, François, 25, 27–30, 39

Gallicanism. See Jansenism: as ideology subverting crown in old regime France

Geertz, Clifford, 15

gentry: scholarly debate over the economic vitality of in old regime Russia, 68–69, 126–27; swept away by peasantry in Russian upheaval of 1917–18, 312–15Glorious Revolution of 1688–89: compared with Stalin's revolution of 1930s, 483–84;
consequences of, 480–83; historiographical
debate over, 26

Goldman, Emma, 408

Goldstone, Jack, 3, 13, 15, 22, 29–30

Golitsyn, V. M., 102

Gorky, Maksim, 251

Gosplan, 465–66. See also Industrialization debate in USSR; Vesenkha (Supreme Economic Council)

Grand Remonstrance, 217, 220, 238

Guchkov, Alexander: is challenged in his capacity as War Minister by Petrograd
Soviet in March 1917, 206–07

Gurr, Ted Robert, 6–7

Hammer, Armand, 407–08

Hampden, John, 116, 209, 268

Heads of Proposals. See electoral reforms:
debated at Putney Church

Hébert, Jacques-René, 381

Hébertism, 381–83. See also enragés;
*sans-culottes*Henrietta-Maria, queen of England, 75–76, 151, 154–55, 240, 342, 434. See also
Charles I, king of England

Hexter, Jack, 24

High Courts of Justice: in Independent/
Cromwellian Terror of 1649–53,
342–43

Hoffman, Philip T., 18

Holles, Denzil, 96, 268, 269

Hunt, Lynn, 10, 20, 22, 27, 28–30

Huntington, Samuel: modernization theories of, 6, 19Independent/Cromwellian Terror: British aspects of, 345; cultural elements of,
345–46; domestic and foreign circumstances of, 339–42; statistical analysis of, 339–46.
See also Charles I, king of England:
execution of; High Courts of Justice
Industrialization Debate in USSR, 466–68

Intelligentsia: in Russia, 70–72

Ireton, Henry: debates Levellers at Putney

Church in 1647, 295; moves for execution of Charles I after civil wars, 271–72

Irish Rebellion (1641), 219–20, 238–40

Izvol'ski, Alexander, 122

Jacobin Terror: cultural components of, 326–27; domestic and international circumstances of, 321–24; provincial aspects of, 325–26; relaxed sharply in Thermidor, 396–98; statistical analysis of, 320–29. See also Jacobins: during TerrorJacobins: compared to Bolsheviks, 357; during Constituent Assembly, 221–29; during Terror, 356–58; during Varennes crisis, at Paris and in provinces, 245–47. See also Jacobin TerrorJames I, king of England: constitutional ideas of, 75; foreign policy of, 47–49Jansenism: as ideology subverting crown in old regime France, 93–94

Jemappes, battle of, 258

jeunesse dorée, 397–98, 417

Johnson, Chalmers, 3, 5, 10

Jourdan Law (1798), 404–05, 462

June Offensive (1917), 282–84

Kadets. See Intelligentsia: in Russia; Miliukov,
Paul: opposes tsarist regime in 1916–17

Kaiser, Thomas E., 29, 31–32

Kamkov, Boris, 334, 386

Kelsey, Sean, 33

Kerensky, Alexander, 200, 231, 235, 250; as prime minister, 261–63, 285–89; as war minister, 260–61; leads abortive “June Offensive”, 282–84; survives (as of 1970) in upstate New York, 338

Kimmel, Michael, 4, 10, 17, 19, 22, 43

Kishlansky, Mark, 25, 33

Kokovtsov, V. N., 122–23

Kollontai, Aleksandra, 387, 392

Kolonitskii, Boris, 39

Kononov, Alexander: as Minister of Trade and Industry in 1917, 204

Kornilov, Lavr, 261, 285–87

Kotkin, Stephen, 39

Kronstadt Rebellion (March 1921), 385, 388, 390–91. See also proletariat: rises up in many areas against new Soviet regime in 1918

Labrousse, C.-E., 159, 170

- Lacombe, Claire, 378–79. See also enragés
- Lafayette, Marie-Joseph-Paul-Gilbert du Motier, marquis de, 138, 161, 166, 247, 273, 306
- Lambert, John, 377, 416
- Laud, William, 82, 99; as Archbishop of Canterbury, 112, 117–18, 156, 184; imprisoned (1641), tried (1644) and, eventually, executed (January 1645), 210, 221; properties of threatened by London mobs in 1639–40, 181–84
- La Révellière-Lépeaux, Louis-Marie, 458
- Leclerc, Théophile, 378–81. See also enragés
- Left SRs: challenge Lenin's new Soviet regime in 1918 and after, 334, 385
- Legislative Assembly: internal political dynamics of during 1791–92, 272–76
- Lenin, Vladimir I.: calls for seizing power in September 1917, 262; contributes to Stalin's rise to power, 411–12; differs with Stalin on class and ethnic issues, 412–13; ideas of on foreign policy of revolutionary Russia in Great War era, 439–41; issues “April Theses” on return from exile in April 1917, 233; leads the efforts to consolidate powers of new Soviet regime in 1917–18, 347–49, 351, 352–54, 362; reveals some ambivalence regarding the future trajectory of the NEP (New Economic Policy), 406–07
- Lenin Levies, 470
- Léon, Pauline, 378, 379. See also enragés levée en masse (1793), 299, 323
- Levellers: crushed by Cromwell in 1650s, 372–75; ideas of during height of their influence in late 1640s, 294–97
- Le Chapelier Law (1791), 196–97
- Lilburne, John, 181, 211, 294, 296. See also Cromwell, Oliver: crushes Levellers in 1650s; Independent/Cromwellian Terror: domestic and foreign circumstances of; Levellers: ideas of during height of their influence in late 1640s
- Litvinov, Maxim, 440, 443, 446, 467. See also Chicherin, Georgi V.: foreign policy of
- Loménie de Brienne, Etienne-Charles, 160–65
- Long Parliament: elections to in 1640, 153; political dynamics of during civil wars, 267–72; reforms implemented by during 1640–42, 209–12
- Louis XIV, king of France: grandiose foreign policy of, 51–54
- Louis XV, king of France: constitutional philosophy of, 84–85; over-extended foreign policy of, 51–58
- Louis XVI, king of France: constitutional philosophy of, 134; duplicitous acts of during early years of revolution, 228–29; execution of in January 1793, 258, 279; flees kingdom in June of 1791, 242–47; geopolitical ideas of, 130; social ideas of, 136
- Lucas, Colin, 25
- Lvov, Georgii, 144–45, 174–76, 186, 200–03, 249–50, 316
- McPhee, Peter, 29
- Major-Generals (1655–57), 452–54
- Malesherbes, Chrétien Guillaume de Lamoignon de, 93, 107, 134
- Malia, Martin, 3, 12–13, 43
- Mally, Lynn, 40
- Manuilov, Alexander, as Minister of Education in 1917, 206
- Marie-Antoinette, queen of France, 139, 157; growing political influence of at Versailles in late 1780s, 164–65; intensifying opposition of to reforms of Constituent Assembly, 226–29; intrigues for royal escape from France (1791), 240–47. See also Louis XVI, king of France
- Markoff, John, 29
- Marston Moor, battle of, 256
- Mary, Queen of Scots, 48, 83
- Maupeou, René-Nicolas-Charles-Augustin de, 104–08. See also Maupeou Revolution
- Maupeou Revolution, 104–09
- Maximum Général*, 359–60
- Mazauric, Claude, 24
- Mensheviks. See Intelligentsia: in Russia
- Migulin, P., 63
- Mirabeau, Honoré Gabriel Victor Riqueti, comte de, 138, 166, 168
- Military Opposition (1918), 387. See also Trotsky, Leon
- Militia Committee (1640s), 239–40. See also Long Parliament: political dynamics of during civil wars
- Miliukov, Paul: opposes tsarist regime in 1916–17, 144–45, 148, 174, 175–76; serves as Foreign Minister in early 1917, 200, 203, 208, 229–36, 248–52; thinks back upon Russian Revolution from his exile in the West, 259

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04572-9 - The Anatomy of Revolution Revisited: A Comparative Analysis of England, France, and Russia

Bailey Stone

Index

More information

Index

527

- Moore, Barrington, 7, 19
Morrill, John S., 25
- Napoleon. See Bonaparte, Napoleon
Napoleonic revolution-from-above: specific aspects and historical results of, 484–88
Narkomindel (NKID), 440–41. See also Chicherin Georgi V.; Litvinov, Maxim
Naseby, battle of, 256, 270, 276
Naval reforms in revolutions: analyzed in comparative fashion, 369–71
Necker, Jacques, 131, 135, 158, 163, 169
Nekrasov, Nicholas: as popular Minister of Transport in 1917, 204–05
New Economic Policy (NEP): aspects of, 405–09; is increasingly challenged in late 1920s, 465–66; strengths and weaknesses of debated by later historians, 467–69
New Model Army, 256; as catalyst for a radical revolution in late 1640s, 290–96; triumphs of in civil wars of 1640s, 269–71; victories of in 1650s, 368–69
Nicholas II, tsar of Russia: fails to support ministers such as Sergei Witte and Peter Stolypin in prewar years, 121–27; opposes basic reforms during Great War, 140–49; relinquishes power in February 1917, 175–180; reprehensible tendencies of in prerevolutionary Russia, 64–66; sentenced to be immediately shot, along with other family members, in July 1918, at behest of leading Bolsheviks, 393 (n. 188)
Nikolayevich, Konstantin, 45, 59
Norbrook, David, 33
Nye, John V. C., 18
- October Manifesto (1905), 100–01
Okbrana, 177, 179, 346, 351
Order No. 1 (1917), 206–07
Orgburo, 350
Osinskii-Obolenskii, Valerian, 386, 387
- Paris Parlement: historic role of, 84, 88–89, 136; political role of in 1787–88, 160–69
Parker, Noel, 12, 13, 16, 20, 22
Parliament: historic role of in English political and foreign affairs, 77–79
peasants: analyzed, comparatively, in English, French, and Russian Revolutions, 297–98, 315–16
Pepys, Samuel, 439
Petition of Right Controversy, 95–100
Petrograd Soviet: watches over the reformist ministers of Provisional Government in 1917, 199–208
Pettee, George, 8
Pincus, Stephen C. A., 26, 30
Pipes, Richard, 39
Plehve, V. K., 103
Politburo, 350
Politique de bascule in French Directory, 461–64
proletariat: helps to overthrow tsarist regime in February Days (1917), 176–80; increasingly radicalized during summer of 1917, 310–12; rises up in many areas against new Soviet regime in 1918, 388–91
Protectorate: British policy of, 421–22; constitution of, 415–16; foreign policy of, 432–39; structural weaknesses of, 448–49
Provisional Government (1917): foreign policy of, 281–89; reforms of in early 1917, 199–208. See also Petrograd Soviet Prynn, William, 116, 211
Putney Debates (1647), 257, 295–96. See also Cromwell, Oliver; Ireton, Henry; Levellers; Lilburne, John
Pym, John, role of in Long Parliament, 152, 209, 213–20, 264, 268–70; role of in Short Parliament, 152. See also Long Parliament: political dynamics of during civil wars
- Rabaut Saint-Etienne, Jean-Paul: famously criticizes privilege for impeding efforts at reform in prerevolutionary France, 137
Rabkrin, 349, 351, 361
Rapallo Treaty, 442–44
Rasputin, Grigorii, 143, 147–48, 179
Red Army: established under Trotsky's leadership, 352–54; overhauled during 1920s, 413–14
Red (Bolshevik) Terror: chronology of, 330; cultural elements of, 337–38; domestic and foreign circumstances of, 332–37; social incidence of, 336–37; statistical analysis of, 330–39 religion: opposing conspiracy theories of held by Puritans, Catholics, and others in ancien régime and early revolutionary England, 80–84, 118–21, 180–84
Revolution of 1905, 100–04. See also Russo-Japanese War
Richet, Denis, 25

- Robespierre, Maximilien: calls for need to expropriate Gallican Church, 192–93; champions popular cause in early days of revolution, 222; champions role in foreign affairs for Constituent Assembly in 1790–91, 225; debates Brissot over geostrategic issues at Jacobin Club, 275; demands execution of Louis XVI in late 1792, 279; falls from power in Thermidor, Year II, 382–83; functions as a leader of Jacobin Terror in 1793–94, 328; splits with Feuillant faction after Champ de Mars Massacre, 246–47; wishes to deny judicial procedure to Louis XVI during his trial in 1792–93, 279 (n. 52), 393 (n. 188)
- Rosenberg, William G., 16, 41
- Rosenthal, Jean-Laurent, 18
- Roszbach, battle of, 57
- Roux, Jacques, 378–81. See also enragés
- Rupert, Prince, 264–65, 290, 342
- Russell, Conrad, 25, 26, 34
- Russian (Imperial) Army: serves as a catalyst for urban and rural upheaval in 1917, 308–10; state of in spring and summer of 1917, 282–84; weakened condition of in late 1916 and early 1917, 145–47
- Russian Soviet Federative Socialist Republic (RSFSR), 349
- Russo-Japanese War (1904–06), 61–62, 69, 100–04, 121, 126. See also Revolution of 1905
- Saint-Just, Louis Antoine: does not see dictatorship as permanent solution to constitutional problems in Jacobin France, 382; wishes to deny Louis XVI judicial procedure altogether during his trial in 1792–93, 279 (n. 52), 393 (n. 188)
- sans-culottes*: analyzed by Albert Soboul, 383–85. See also enragés; Hébertism
- Scott, Jonathan, 34, 35
- Second Balkan Crisis (1912–13), 122
- Second Protectorate Parliament, 454–56. See also Protectorate: structural weaknesses of
- seigniorialism: abolished tentatively and then altogether in France during 1792–93, 305–07; curtailed but not abolished altogether by Constituent Assembly in early August 1789, 194–96
- Servan, Antoine Marie Joseph de: links fiscal crisis in prerevolutionary France directly to historic French belligerence, 138–39
- Seven Years' War, 56–58, 87, 94, 104
- Sewell, William H., 21–22, 39
- Sharpe, Kevin, 25, 32–33
- Shingarev, Andrei: as Agriculture Minister in early 1917, 203–04
- Ship Money, 116–17, 150, 211
- Short Parliament: elections to in 1640, 153; ultimately dismissed by Charles I after brief session, 181–82
- Sieyès, Abbé Emmanuel-Joseph, 167, 169
- Skocpol, Theda: compares French and Russian peasant upheavals, 315–16; compares Montagnard and Bolshevik dictatorships, 357–58; revolutionary theory of, 7–10; scholarly criticisms of, 10–22; sees French peasants as ready, psychologically, for a revolutionary role in summer of 1789, 173
- Smith, Nigel, 33
- Smith, Steve A., 16, 36–37, 39
- Soboul, Albert, 24
- Solemn League and Covenant, 256, 268, 270. See also Long Parliament: political dynamics of during civil wars
- Sovnarkom* (Council of People's Commissars): plays crucial role in consolidation of Soviet state, 347–50, 356, 364
- Spiridonova, Maria, 334, 385, 386. See also Left SRs: challenge Lenin's new Soviet regime in 1918 and after
- Stalin, Joseph: ambivalence regarding so-called “war scare” in 1927, 446–47; articulates “Socialism in One Country” slogan during 1920s, 466–68; begins to implement a crash “modernization” drive in 1929 and thereafter, 475–78; orchestrates “Great Terror” in late 1930s, 477–78
- Stavka* (Supreme Military Headquarters), 178
- Stolypin, P. A., 123, 125–28
- Stolypin Reforms: implications of for Russian peasants debated by scholars today, 126–27; provide limited degree of economic progress for peasants during Great War, 177
- Stone, Lawrence, 4, 5, 23, 24, 34
- Strafford, Thomas Wentworth, earl of, 96, 117, 154, 184; execution of (1641), 210, 221
- Strode, William, 45, 51, 58, 99, 209
- Sukhanov, Nikolai, 200–01, 230, 232–33, 248, 251
- Suny, Ronald, 39
- Sverdlov, Iakov, 335, 347, 349. See also Sovnarkom; VTsIK

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-04572-9 - The Anatomy of Revolution Revisited: A Comparative Analysis of England, France, and Russia

Bailey Stone

Index

More information

Index

529

- Talleyrand-Périgord, Charles-Maurice de, 428
- Tawney, R. H., 24
- Taylor, George V., 24–25
- Tenth Bolshevik Party Congress (March 1921), 410–12
- Tereshchenko, Mikhail Ivanovich: attitudes of on Russian foreign policy issues evolve in course of 1917, 287–89; serves as finance minister in 1917, 231; serves as foreign minister in Second and Third Coalition Governments in 1917, 260
- Terray, Abbé Joseph Marie, 104
- Thermidor: conception of as a stage in revolution poses difficulties for many scholars, 394–95; stimulates debates among Lenin's successors after Lenin's death in January 1924, 465
- Thirty Years' War, 48–51, 77, 81–82, 99, 113, 118
- Tilly, Charles, 12, 18, 20, 22, 43
- Trevor-Roper, Hugh R., 24
- Trimberger, Ellen Kay, 7
- Trotsky, Leon: commands the new Soviet Red Army, 352–54; finds his “no war, no peace” formula for negotiations with Imperial Germany rejected by fellow-Bolsheviks in March 1918, 348; sanctions (along with Lenin) the murder of Nicholas II and other members of his family in July 1918, 393 (n. 188); warns of Bolshevik Terror-to-come in address of November 1917, 330
- Trubetskoi, Sergei, 67, 101
- Tsereteli, Irakli: promotes “revolutionary defensism” as a unifying concept for the Provisional Government's foreign policy, 232–33, 236, 248–50, 260–61, 281–82
- Turgot, Anne-Robert-Jacques, baron de l'Aulne, 131
- Tyacke, Nicholas, 25
- Underdown, David, 32
- Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR): debated as ethnic issue by Bolsheviks, 412–13. See also Russian Soviet Federative Socialist Republic (RSFSR)
- Valentine, Benjamin, 96
- Valmy, battle of, 258
- Van Kley, Dale K., 28, 29
- Varennes, Flight to, 242–46
- Varlet, Jean, 378–81. See also enragés
- Vergennes, Charles-Gravier, comte de: compares basic French and English constitutional development, 45, 135; foreign policy of during 1774–87, 130–34
- Verona, Declaration of (1795), 458, 463
- Vesenkha* (Supreme Economic Council), 465–66. See also Gosplan; Industrialization debate in USSR
- Von Laue, Theodore H., 41
- VTsIK* (All-Russian Congress of Soviets Executive): role of in consolidation of new Soviet regime, 347–49, 356, 364
- Wallerstein, Immanuel, 17–18
- War Communism, 354–55, 360, 363, 366
- War Scare of 1927, 444–46
- Wardship: abolished in 1646, 297–98
- Weber, Max, 14, 16, 17, 347, 368, 489
- Weir, David, 18
- Western Design, 436–37. See also Cromwell, Oliver: steers British foreign policy during 1650s
- Wheeler, James S., 26, 35
- Whiteman, Jeremy J., 31
- Winstanley, Gerrard, 374
- Witte, Sergei: orchestrates Russia's industrialization program under Tsar Nicholas II, 63, 72–74, 93, 104; skillfully handles negotiations in the aftermath of Russo-Japanese War, 100; warns about Imperial Russia's unpreparedness for war during the lead-up to World War I, 123, 125
- Woloch, Isser, 30
- Women: diversified roles of in the English, French, and Russian Revolutions, 391–92; insecure status of in post-Terrorist France, 398; insecure status of in Soviet Russia, 409–10; score (temporary) gains in status in revolutionary France during 1792–93, 303–04; secure full suffrage in revolutionary Russia (July, 1917), 202; still experience unequal rights in Napoleonic France, 485–86
- Workers' Opposition, 387. See also Democratic Centralism
- Zagorin, Perez, 24
- Zaret, David, 33
- zemstvos*, 66, 68, 69, 89, 127