Contents

Acknowledgments
List of abbreviations

Introduction: the return of the repressed island

Part I  The Anglo-Irish War

1. “The dirtiness of this ‘trouble’”: fighting the Anglo-Irish War
2. The postwar international order and the mobilization of public opinion
3. A different home front: Irish nationalists in England
4. “Strangers in blood” at a funeral: the Treaty of 1921 and the Irish civil war

Part II  Irishness in interwar England

5. Politics and the Anglo-Irish relationship
6. The cultural persistence of Irishness
7. A decaying world in exile: the Anglo-Irish and other loyalists
8. The Irish in England and the failure of ethnic politics
9. Immigration and accommodation in Irish England
10. The end of an era: 1939 and the salience of Irishness

Conclusion: the first decolonization?

Bibliography
Index