

Index

- Abrams, M. H., 129
 abstraction
 and commodification, 37, 40
 as social power (A Lover's Complaint), 37–40, 45–46
 Adorno, Theodor
 the aesthetic test, 25–26, 27 on artworks, 80
 critique of Walter Benjamin, 88, 89–90 on form, 73–74, 76–77, 85, 88, 89–90 on Hegel, 147
 and the hesitation of literary criticism, 27–28 on holding onto dreams (utopian), 7, 8 on nobility, 121
 question of the inside and the outside, 26 yes/no hesitation, 1 aesthetic regime (Rancière), 124, 137–138 aesthetic test, 25–27
 aesthetics and textual interpretation, 77, 78–80 Alpers, Paul, 129, 135
 art, see also No Place (Spiral) (Macbeth) Adorno on, 80
 in “The Canonization,” 91 form of, 80
 graffiti as, 4, 5
 as lens for class criticism, 72 and resistance, 137–138 and technology (Walter), 88–90
As You Like It (Shakespeare), 130 Auerbach, Erich
 and hesitation of literary criticism, 27–28 Hochsprache, 100, 112, 113, 117 literature and social class, 112 Mimesis, 24, 26
 realism, historic, 125
 on Shakespeare, 125
 aura (Benjamin), 88–90

 Balibar, Etienne, 21, 22, 123
 Benjamin, Walter, 7, 88–90 biopower, 5

 Bloom, Harold, 48, 71
 borders
 exclusionary, as part of utopian programs, 6 in No Place (Spiral), 6, 7 and structure of dreams, 7
 Bourdieu, Pierre, 49, 68–69
 Bower, Reuben, 23
 Bracciolini, Gian Francesco Poggio, 107–108, 127
 Bray, Alan, 115
 Brisman, Leslie, 117
 Brooks, Cleanth, 73, 91, 92
 Brown, Wendy, 15, 19, 165
 Burckhardt, Jacob, 106–107
 Butteris/Butterix, Simon, 113

 “Canonization, The” (Donne) governing attitude within, 92–93 as microcosm of the world, 94–95 relationship between love and history, 90–92 self-mocking humor, 93–94 Capital (Marx), 20–22, 36–37
 Carew, Thomas, 13–14, 119
 Castiglione, Baldesar, 108 Chaucer, Geoffrey, 37–38 class, see also nobility, and under individual works and the actual, 14–15, 17, 18
 as basis of a commonwealth (Utopia), 11–12 conceptions of, 17, 20–22 conditions of, 15
 denial of (Bourdieu), 69 essence of as doubling and dividing, 17–19 and literary criticism, 13, 15, 19, 24–25, 27–28 and metaphysics, 100–101 and singularity of a position, 55–56 and transition question, 31
 class analysis, see also stigma of print art as lens for, 72 electrification and equality, 4–5 interpretation of in A Lover's Complaint, 45–46
 as invisible presence, 19–20

- as nostalgic problem, 4 and readings of Walter Benjamin, 88, 89–90 role of, 14–15
stereotypes, 19
- commodification
and abstraction of exchange value, 40 analysis of in Capital, 36–37 and land ownership (A Lover's Complaint), 41–43
- commonwealth (Utopia), 10–12
- country house poetry, 13–14
- Cowen Orlin, Lena, 42
- Crewe, Jonathan, 48
- de Grazia, Margreta, 71
- death
and demise of nobility in Hamlet, 62, 64 of virtuous men (“A Valediction: forbidding Mourning”), 104–105
- democratic equality (seventeenth century), 123
- Derrida, Jacques
on class, 15, 16, 55
and hesitation of literary criticism, 27–28
on historicism, 23
on holding onto dreams (utopian), 7, 8 ideological criticism in Marx, 84
Marcellus Complex, 53–54
on metaphysical poetry, 99–100 ontological criticism in Marx, 85–86 on scholars, 52–53
on specters, 73–74
Specters of Marx, 73, 147
- Dickinson, Emily, 80
- Dickson, Donald, 73
- disinterest, economic (Bourdieu), 49, 69
- division of labor and divisible divisions of labor, 85–86 and question of class, 21–22
- Doherty, Patricia, 2–4
- Donne, John, see also “Flea, The” (Donne); “Valediction: forbidding Mourning, A” (Donne) class and the stigma of print, 86–88 criticism of as metaphysical poet, 96–97, 98 Elegy 19, 74, 80
on endings of poems, 118–119 love for the multitude, 101 and Petrarchan poetry, 111, 114–115 poetry of as virtuoso performances, 105, 111 reading and textual variations in, 76–80 reading of “To his mistress going to bed” (Elegy 19), 78–80 unediting of texts, 74–75
use of language, 112–113
- dreams and borders, 7
holding onto utopian dreams, 7 and interaction with words, 7–8
- Dryden, John, 96, 100
- Duncan-Jones, Katherine, 35
- economics and self-interest, 49
and transition question, 30–31
- economy
creation of the economic economy, 68–69 evolution of, 47
- Eggert, Katherine, 66
- electricity and class inequality, 4–5, 12
- Eliot, T. S., 97
- Engels, Friedrich, 21
- Enlightenment, and class analysis, 14–15
- epic poetry, 129
- equality
democratic equality, concept of (seventeenth century), 123 equivocal dilemma, 123–124
hope and social equality, 12–13, 23
in Lycidas, 121–122
through the uncouth aesthetic (Milton), 123–124, 138–139
- fee-simple, term, 37–40
- female complaint genre
A Lover's Complaint, 29–30 and mise en abyme, 32 and oppositions of class, 36
- Ferguson, Francis, 23
- feudalism
fee-simple (property tenure), 37–39 language of in A Lover's Complaint, 31, 36 and transition question, 30–31
- Fish, Stanley
on Donne, 99
on Lycidas, 122, 134, 139
on Milton, 137, 144
on Paradise Lost, 146, 166, 167–168, 169
- Flaubert, Gustave, 124
- “Flea, The” (Donne) concept of honor in, 82–84, 90 flea as material signifier, 81–83 as reading of class and history, 85–86 reading textual variations of, 73–74
- form
Adorno on, 73–74, 76–77, 85, 88, 89–90
and integral artwork (No Place (Spiral)), 6 interaction between words and dream, 7–8 poetic, in “A Valediction: forbidding Mourning,” 111, 118–119 poetic, in “The Canonization,” 90–91

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-05292-5 - Reading Class Through Shakespeare, Donne, and Milton

Christopher Warley

Index

More information

208

Foster, J., 17
 Foucault, Michel, 135
 Freccero, John, 111
 Friedman, Donald, 121, 129

Gallagher, Catherine, 22
 Garber, Marjorie, 23
 gender historicization of, 116–117 homosociality, 115, 117
 Gillespie, Alexandra, 129
 Goldberg, Jonathan, 19–20, 115
 Gould, Glenn, 98, 105
 graffiti, as proletarian art, 4, 5
 Greenblatt, Stephen, 19, 48, 52–53, 54–55
 Guillory, John
 Cultural Capital, 24, 25
 on Dryden, 100
 on literary language, 100 on Marxism and class, 17
 on Paradise Lost, 144
 on universities, 25

Halpern, Richard, 57, 63
Hamlet (Shakespeare), see also Horatio class position in, 49–50, 59–60, 62, 71–72 clown figures, 62–63
 Marcellus Complex, 53–55
 as play for everyman, 67 and preservation of nobility, 60–62, 64, 66, 67 as product of market relations, 69–70 relationship between Hamlet and Horatio, 56–57 social position in, 63–66, 68, 70–71 truant disposition, 57–58 valorization of production, 62–63 visor effect, 53

Harding, Vanessa, 65
 Hegel, Georg
 Adorno on, 147
 on consciousness, 40, 151
 Kojève's reading of, 144
 Marx's reading of, 147 master–slave dialectic, 150 Spirit, readings of, 147–148, 149

Helgerson, Richard, 36
 Herbert, George, 126
 historicism and literary criticism, 23 historiography (the transition question), 30 history and authenticity, 88–90 and divisible divisions of labour, 85–86 and love (“The Canonization”), 90–92 as virtual space, 5

Index

Hochsprache (Auerbach), 100, 112, 113, 117 Holland, Philemon, 126
 hope and social equality, 12–13, 23
 Horatio (Hamlet)
 as figure for criticism, 48–49 justness, 47–48, 60 prominence of role, 70–71 relationship with Hamlet, 119–121 as scholar, 50–54, 56
 Huizinga, Johan, 62
 humanism
 and representation of uncouth, 122, 126 vera nobilitas debate, 107–108, 127
 Hythloday, Ralph (Utopia), 108 idealism and unediting of texts, 75–76, 80 identity politics, 15

 ideological criticism, in Marx, 84
 individualism (A Lover's Complaint), 39–40

Jackson, Virginia, 80
 Jameson, Fredric
 on class, 19, 20
 collectivity, term, 143 on denunciation of class in Marxism, 15–16 on equality, 123–124 on Hegel's master–slave dialectic, 150 on Hegel's Spirit, 147–148, 149
 and hesitation of literary criticism, 27–28
 on Marx, 31
 on postmodernism, 23
 on utopian program, 6, 7

Jenkins, Harold, 62
 Johnson, Samuel, 96–97
 Jonson, Ben
 on Donne, 101, 112
 as pastoral poet, 13–14 “To Peshurst,” 13–14, 16–17 justness, concept of

 in “A Valediction: forbidding Mourning,” 116, 119
 Bourdieu, Pierre, 69
 of Horatio (Hamlet), 47–48, 60

Kaufman, Robert, 76
 Keenan, Thomas, 36–37
 Kendrick, Christopher, 141 Kerrigan, John
 on A Lover's Complaint, 30, 32, 44 on female complaint genre, 30
 on Milton, 173
 Kerrigan, William
 on Donne, 72
 on Paradise Lost, 142, 145–146, 168
 King, Edward, 123, 131

- Kojève, Alexandre, 144, 148
- labor
 and class analysis, 21–22
 divisible divisions of labour, 85–86 Hegel's Spirit as, 147, 148 use value of, 40
- laity, in "A Valediction: forbidding Mourning," 114
- land ownership
 in A Lover's Complaint, 37–40, 41–43 feudalism and fee-simple, 37–39
- Laqueur, Thomas, 116–117
- Leishman, J. B., 75
- Lenin, Vladimir, 4
- Lewis, C. S., 156
- Lipking, Lawrence, 135
- literary criticism
 and class analysis, 13, 15–16, 19, 24–25, 27–28
 of country house poetry, 13–14 and creating relevance to discourse studies, 22–23 hesitation of, 27–28
 and historicism, 23
 Horatio as figure of (Hamlet), 48–49 and imagining the future, 23–24 and pre-knowledge of the outside, 27
 role of, 14
 and slow reading, 23, 25
 unediting of texts, 74–76
- literature actual vs. represented, 14–15, 16–17 class and linguistic difference, 100 literary language, 100 literary literature, 112, 124 reading and textual variations, 76–77
 virtuosity in, 112
- Locke, John, 39
- Love, Harold, 75
- Lover's Complaint, A* (Shakespeare) abstraction as social power, 37–40, 45–46 discontent in, 33–35
 as female complaint poem, 29–30 and land ownership, 41–43 and language of feudal property, 31, 36, 37, 38, 43–44 as mise en abyme, 32, 35 narrative voice in, 32–33, 43
 and oppositions of class, 36 representation of class through historical transition, 31–32, 37–38, 40–41 and transcendent nobility, 44–45 transitoriness, nature of, 29–30, 36 young man in, 43–44
- Lycidas* (Milton)
 anonymity in, 131–132, 133, 135–137, 139 desire for fame in, 132–135 egalitarianism in, 121–123 end-point of Jove, 134–135 equality within its aesthetic, 137, 138–139 knowable human condition, 128–129, 139–140 and language of nobility, 133 Lycidas, 135–137
 Milton's author-function, 135
 narrative voice in, 122, 128
 uncouth swain, 129, 130–131, 139–140 use of uncouth, 121
- Lyly, John, 106
- Macbeth, Rory
No Place (Kingly Digs), 2–4
No Place (Spiral), 1–2, 4, 5–6, 28
- Machiavelli, Niccolò, 26
- Macpherson, C. B., 39
- Man of Law's Tale, The* (Chaucer), 37–38
- manuscripts and stigma of print, 86 idealization and unediting of, 75–76, 80
 reading and textual variations, 76–77
- Marcellus Complex (Derrida), 53–55
- Marcus, Leah, 135
- Marotti, Arthur, 75, 77, 117
- Marx, Karl
 on class and inequality, 162 definition of class, 21–22, 68 equation problem, 37 ideological criticism in, 84 on material analysis, 82 ontological criticism in, 85–86 reading of Hegel, 147 writing of Capital, (Vol III), 20–21
 "Zur Kritik der Politischen Oekonomie," 36–37
- Marxism
 conceptions of class, 17 as old-fashioned analysis, 14–15 and ontology, 16, 17–18, 85–86 and self-denunciation, 15–16
 and transition question, 30–31
- May, Steven, 87
- McLeod, Randall, 78–80
- metaphors, compared to similes, 102–103
- metaphysical poetry ahistoricity of, 97 criticism of Donne, 96–97, 98 and deconstruction, 99–100 poets, 98–99
 social interaction of, 98–99 unity of material, 96–97, 98
- metaphysics, 100–101

- Milton, John, see also Lycidas (Milton); Paradise Lost (Milton) author-function of, 135 as democratic poet, 124–125 ego of, 137
 and noble mind, 173–174 stylistic decorum of, 125–126 and uncouth, 121
 money and commonwealth, 11
 More, Thomas, 2–4, see also Utopia (More) Moretti, Franco, 48, 49
- Nietzsche, Friedrich, 105–106
No Place (Kingly Digs) (Macbeth), 2–4
No Place (Spiral) (Macbeth) borders of, 6, 7
 building as text, 1–2, 4, 5–6, 7–8 as lens on Renaissance literature, 8–10, 28 theory behind, 13
- nobility Adorno on, 121
 as basis of commonwealth (Utopia), 11–12 challenge to (Paradise Lost), 174 and desire for fame, 133 language of (Lycidas), 133 preservation of (Hamlet), 60–62, 64, 66, 67 subversion of (More), 11–12 as transcendent (A Lover's Complaint), 44–45
vera nobilitas debate, 107–108, 127
 and virtue (Renaissance thought), 105–108
- Norwich Electricity Company, 4, 5
 Nyquist, Mary, 172
- ontology
 and the actual, 18
 and Marxism, 16, 17–18, 85–86
- Orgel, Stephen, 77, 80
 Osorius, Hieronimus, 108
- Paradise Lost* (Milton) challenge to nobility in, 174 class and transformation in, 143, 146–147 class-consciousness in, 148–150 and class inequality, 150, 162–165 creation as uncouth, 172–173 division of books, 151 equality and ambition in, 154–156 hierarchy in, 144–147, 152–153, 160–162, 164, 170, 174–176 nobility of Eve, 159–160 organization of the universe, 143, 157–159 Raphael's narrative, 151–152
 Raphael's uncouth voyage, 166–167, 171–173 readings of, 144
 recompense and divine history in, 153–154 relationship between Adam and Raphael, 156–159, 165–166, 172 roles of Ithuriel and Zephon, 168–171 satanic uncouthness, 167–171 and spirit of work, 176–178
 “The sun was sunk” (Book IX), 141–143 transforming essence of, 142–144, 176 pastoral, the, 129–130
 Patterson, Annabel, 129
 “Penshurst, To” (Jonson), 13–14, 16–17 Petrarchism, 111, 114–115 poetry, see also metaphysical poetry, and under individual works country house poetry, 13–14, 16–17, 23
 Donne's poetry as virtuoso performance, 105, 111
 epic poetry, 129
 Petrarchan poetry, 111, 114–115
 Poggio Bracciolini, Gian Francesco, 107–108, 127 postmodernism
 and class analysis, 19
 critiqued through Renaissance literature, 8–10 Jameson on, 23
 print, stigma of, see stigma of print production, economic, 47 property tenure (feudalism), 37–40 public sphere (seventeenth century), 49–50 Puttenham, George, 130
- Quirini, Lauro, 127
- Rabil, Jr., Albert, 127
 Rajan, Balachandra, 129, 142
 Rancière, Jacques, 124, 125, 137–138, 139, 165 rational public, 49–50
 Redpath, Theodore, 114
 Renaissance literature
 postmodernism critiqued through, 8–10 as read through the lens of No Place (Spiral), 8–10 relationship between virtue and nobility, 105–108
- Roberts, Sasha, 30
 Roche, Thomas, 34–35
 Rosenbach MS 239/22 (Donne elegy), 78–80
 Rosenfeld, Colleen Ruth, 102–103, 111
- Sacks, Peter, 135
 Sanchez, Melissa, 150
 Saunders, Ben, 81, 117
 Saunders, J. W., 86–87
 scholars
 Derrida on, 52–53
 Horatio as a scholar (Hamlet), 50–54, 56
 as specters, 53–54

Index

211

- Shakespeare, William, 125, 130, see also under individual works
- Smith, A. J., 73, 74–75, 104
- Snider, J. Denton, 29
- social interaction and anti-modernist ideology, 98–99 and concept of virtue, 105–108 of metaphysical poetry, 98–99
- sodomy, 19–20, 115
- Specters of Marx* (Derrida), 14, 17–18, 52
- Spenser, Edmund, 129
- Spirit (Hegel), 147–148, 149
- Spivak, Gayatri, 40
- Stallybrass, Peter and de Grazia, Margreta, 75
- Stein, Arnold, 97
- stigma of print, 86–88
- swains, 130
- Tate Modern Gallery, 5
- texts, see also unediting of texts buildings as (No Place (Spiral)), 1–2, 4, 5–6, 7–8 materiality of John Donne's texts, 86–88 transition question (Marxist historiography), 30–31, 49
- Troilus and Criseyde* (Chaucer), 38
- Tucker, Robert, 21
- Tuve, Rosemund, 122, 128, 129, 132–133
- uncouth aesthetic, 121, 126, 138–140
- unediting of texts
 of Donne, 74–75
 and literary idealism, 75–76, 80 McLeod, Randall, reading of 'To his mistress going to bed' (Elegy 19), 78–80 unheimlich (Freud), 42, 126
- Utopia* (More), see also No Place (Spiral) (Macbeth) character of Thomas More, 10, 12 class and commonwealth, 11–12 and meaning of text, 10 as symbol of class arguments, 4 use in graffiti art (Macbeth), 1–4 use of utopian program in, 6 utopian writing, 6
- "Valediction: forbidding Mourning, A" (Donne) Butteris reworking of, 113 concept of justness in, 116, 119 concept of virtue in, 102, 104, 108–111, 117–118 death of virtuous men, 104–105 gender dynamic within, 115, 116 and poetic form, 111, 118–119 servant–master relationships, 104–105 similes in, 102–103, 110–111 twin compasses simile, 116–118
 use of language, 114–115
 use of term "laity," 114
- Vance Smith, D., 38–39
- vera nobilitas* debate, 107–108, 127
- Vettori, Francesco, 26
- Vico, Giambattista, 26
- Virno, Paolo, 96, 98, 104, 105, 119
- virtue and nobility, 105–108
 in "A Valediction: forbidding Mourning," 102, 104–105, 108–111, 117–118
- virtuoso performances (Virno) Donne, poetry as, 105, 111 essence of, 98, 104, 105 in literature, 112
 metaphysical poets as, 98–99
- Wall, Wendy, 20
- Williams, Raymond
 readings of country house poetry, 13–14, 16–17, 23 role of literary criticism, 14
- women, and electricity supply, 5, 12
- Žižek, Slavoj, 31, 165