

CONTENTS

List of illustrations	page vi
Acknowledgements	vii
Short titles and abbreviations	ix
Reference chronology	xii
Introduction: Through the Lycurgan looking glass	I
Part I Classical Tragedy and the Lycurgan Programme
1 Civic poetry in Lycurgus' Against Leocrates	25
2 Scripts and statues, or a law of Lycurgus' own	60
3 Site of change, site of memory: The 'Lycurgan' Theatre of Dionysus	92
Part II Reading the Theatrical Heritage
4 Courtroom drama: Aeschines and Demosthenes	129
5 Classical tragedy and its comic lovers	159
6 Aristotle and the theatre of Athens	191
Epilogue: Classical tragedy in the Age of Macedon	221
Bibliography	250
Index	273