Contents

List of Figures
Preface
Acknowledgements

Introduction
- Of Sufism and Islamic unorthodoxy
- The Ghaznawids in northern India
- Syncretism: Isma’ili Multan and Sind
- The Shi’a Century
- The resurgence of Sunnism under the Ghaznawids

1. The Suhrawardi Order
- A historic overview
- Isma’ili and the Suhrawardi Sufi Order
- The Suhrawardi Order in Multan: An overview of religious and political conditions
- The role of Baha al-din Zakiriyya in politics
- Shaykh Sadr al-din 'Arif
- Zakiriyya's religious affiliations with heterodox Islam
- Zakiriyya's theological connection to the Ja'fari fiqh
- Shah Rukn-e-'Alam
- Conclusion

2. Shams
- Dispelling anecdotes about Uch
- The itinerary of Shams's arrival in Multan
- The river and the arrival from Uch
Contents

- The Shams ta'ziya: An Isma'ili icon in the spiritual legacy of the Suhrawardi Order in Uch
  75
- The religious ceremonial of Shams's shrine
  79
- Chetir and Chaharshamba-yi Suri
  82
- Sakhi Sarwar
  88
- Conclusion
  93

3. The Suhrawardi Order in Uch
   96
- Jalal al-din Surkhposh
  96
- Ahmad Kabir
  103
- Jahaniyan Jahangasht
  103
- Sadr al-din Rajjan Qattal (Sayyid Raju)
  108
- The Jalali Dervishes: Connections to Isma'ilism
  110
- Conclusion
  120

4. The Wilayat of 'Ali in Twelver Shi'ism, Sufism and the Religion of the Medieval Isma'illis
   123
- Introduction
  123
- The concept of wilayat in Shi'ism and Sufism
  125
- Ghadir Khumm, Nawruz, wilayat and Majlisi
  128
- Nawruz and 'Umar Khayyam's Jalali calendar
  133
- Ghadir Khumm, the concept of wilayat in Sufism, and Islamic Scripture
  138
- Jafr
  141
- Application of the dhikr formula to the Nad-e-'Ali and the Ayat al-Kursi
  145
- Ghadir Khumm and architecture: The representation of the wilayat of 'Ali through Mars in Fatimid Cairo 148
- The wilayat of 'Ali as a building: The case of Shah Rukn-e-'Alam
  151
- Nawruz and the Bibi Jaiwandi monument complex
  154
- Representation of multiple religious identities in Uch: Connections with the Isma'ili Satpanth 157
- The exaltation of the Soul of God in Suhrawardi doctrine: The Crucifixion on Easter Sunday in Farvardin
  159
- Conclusion
  164

5. Multan
   169
- Entrance and axiality in orthodox Islamic burial: The qibla (Mecca) direction 169
- Origins of the archetypical monument
  170
- Pir Shams's lodges: The beginning of the Suhrawardi khanqah archetype
  172
Contents

- Shah Rukn-e-‘Alam: History, construction and myths 176
- The plan and the Suhrawardi archetype 181
- Unorthodox elements: Ground floor 184
- The interior 185
- The mihrab: From the exterior 186
- Unorthodox symbols on the second storey 194
- Conclusion 196

6. The Da’wa and Suhrawardi Monuments at Uch 199
- Prelude 199
- Nasir al-din 200
- Sadr al-din 204
- Hasan Kabir al-din 207
- The da’wa after Hasan Kabir al-din 210
- The Surkhposh khanqah and adjoining monuments:
  Burial history and construction 212
- The Surkhposh khanqah 214
- The Surkhposh mosque and the chillah rooms 215
- The Jahangasht and Sayyid Raju khanqahs 217
- The Bibi Jaiwandi pentagram complex 221
- The Bibi Jaiwandi complex: Construction history and myths 221
- Site measurements for the pentagram complex 223
- Similarity between hidden Shi’a symbolism at the Bibi Jaiwandi complex and Rukn-e-‘Alam 226
- Multi-faith symbolism on the Bibi Jaiwandi monuments 227
- The burial symbolism of five traditions 231
- Conclusion: Suhrawardi pluralism as architecture 234
- One of the seven Uchs: Lal Mohra 235
- Reassessment of the da’wa and latter day contributions: The monument of Sultan ‘Ali Akbar 237
- The complete Suhrawardi archetype 238
- The trishul of ‘Ali Akbar 240
- The Mecca orientation of the monument of ‘Ali Akbar’s mother and the monument of Pir ‘Adil 241

Conclusion 245

Glossary 256
Notes on Referencing 259
Bibliography 260
Interviews and Fieldwork 271
Appendices 272
Index 275