

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-06608-3 - Asian Courts in Context
Edited by Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-chen Chang
Frontmatter
More information

ASIAN COURTS IN CONTEXT

The rise of Asia in global political and economic developments has been facilitated in part by a profound transformation of Asian courts. This book provides the most up-to-date and comprehensive analysis of these courts, explaining how their structures differ from courts in the West and how they have been shaped by the current challenges facing Asia. Contributors from across the continent analyze fourteen selected Asian jurisdictions representing varying degrees of development: Japan, Korea, Taiwan, India, Indonesia, Mongolia, the Philippines, Hong Kong, Singapore, Bangladesh, Malaysia, Thailand, China and Vietnam. Setting the courts of each region in the context of their country's economic, political and social dynamics, this book shows how and why Asian courts have undergone such profound transformations in recent years and predicts the future trajectories of tradition, transition and globalization to suggest the challenges and developments that lie ahead.

JIUNN-RONG YEH is University Chair Professor in the College of Law at the National Taiwan University.

WEN-CHEN CHANG is Professor in the College of Law at the National Taiwan University.

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-06608-3 - Asian Courts in Context
Edited by Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-chen Chang
Frontmatter
More information

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-06608-3 - Asian Courts in Context
Edited by Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-chen Chang
Frontmatter
More information

ASIAN COURTS IN CONTEXT

Edited by
JIUNN-RONG YEH
and
WEN-CHEN CHANG

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge University Press
 978-1-107-06608-3 - Asian Courts in Context
 Edited by Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-chen Chang
 Frontmatter
More information

CAMBRIDGE
 UNIVERSITY PRESS

University Printing House, Cambridge CB2 8BS, United Kingdom

Cambridge University Press is part of the University of Cambridge.

It furthers the University's mission by disseminating knowledge in the pursuit of education, learning and research at the highest international levels of excellence.

www.cambridge.org

Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/9781107066083

© Cambridge University Press 2014

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 2014

Printed in the United Kingdom by Clays, St Ives plc

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

Library of Congress Cataloguing in Publication data

Asian courts in context / edited by Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-Chen Chang.
 pages. cm

Includes bibliographical references and index.

ISBN 978-1-107-06608-3

1. Courts—East Asia. 2. Courts—South Asia. 3. Courts—Southeast Asia.

I. Yeh, Jiunn-rong, editor. II. Chang, Wen-Chen, editor.

KNC459.A975 2014

347.5'01—dc23

2014022409

ISBN 978-1-107-06608-3 Hardback

Cambridge University Press has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party internet websites referred to in this publication, and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate.

CONTENTS

List of figures	vii
List of tables	viii
List of contributors	ix
Acknowledgments	xii
1 Introduction: Asian courts in context: tradition, transition and globalization	1
JIUNN-RONG YEH AND WEN-CHEN CHANG
PART I: Courts in advanced economies	75
2 Towards a more responsive judiciary: courts and judicial power in Japan	77
NORIKAZU KAWAGISHI
3 Courts in the Republic of Korea: featuring a built-in authoritarian legacy of centralization and bureaucratization	112
JONGCHEOL KIM
4 Courts and judicial reform in Taiwan: gradual transformations towards the guardian of constitutionalism and rule of law	143
WEN-CHEN CHANG
5 Hong Kong: common law Courts in China	183
PUI YIN LO
6 As efficient as the best businesses: Singapore's judicial system	228
KEVIN Y. L. TAN

	PART II: Courts in fast developing economies	267
7	Legitimacy of courts and the dilemma of their proliferation: the significance of judicial power in India	269
	JAYANTH K. KRISHNAN
8	Courts in Indonesia: a mix of Western and local character	303
	HIKMAHANTO JUWANA
9	The fledgling courts and adjudication system in Mongolia	340
	BATBOLD AMARSANAA
10	The Philippines' post-Marcos judiciary: the institutional turn and the populist backlash	356
	RAUL C. PANGALANGAN
11	Courts in Malaysia and judiciary initiated reforms	375
	YEOW CHOY CHOONG
12	Courts in Thailand: progressive development as the country's pillar of justice	407
	PAWAT SATAYANURUG AND NATTAPORN NAKORNIN
13	Courts and the adjudication system in Bangladesh: in quest of viable reforms	447
	RIDWANUL HOQUE
14	Courts in China: judiciary in the economic and societal transitions	487
	WEIXIA GU
15	Renovating courts: the role of courts in contemporary Vietnam	528
	PIP NICHOLSON
16	Conclusion: Challenges and prospects for Asian courts	566
	JIUNN-RONG YEH AND WEN-CHEN CHANG
	Index	582

FIGURES

3.1	The hierarchy and jurisdictions of the courts in Korea	114
3.2	Composition of cases	120
4.1	Structure of judicial system in Taiwan	147
5.1	Structure of courts of the HKSAR	189
6.1	Structure of the courts in Singapore	263
7.1	Court system in India	274
8.1	Judicial system in Indonesia	307
9.1	Structure of courts in Mongolia	342
10.1	Expanded or total court system in the Philippines	358
10.2	Vacancy rate for judicial positions	362
11.1	Structure of courts in Malaysia since 1994	378
12.1	Structure of courts	412
13.1	Structure of courts and tribunals	455
14.1	Structure of courts and instances of trial (civil and criminal procedure)	492
15.1	Vietnamese institutional map	534
15.2	Vietnamese court institutions	534

TABLES

2.1	Selected data on the caseload of the Supreme Court	90
2.2	Selected data on the caseload of high courts	90
2.3	Selected data on the caseload of district courts	91
3.1	Maximum and actual number of judges (as of 31 December 2011)	119
4.1	The number of courts and judges in different jurisdictions in Taiwan	152
4.2	The performance of courts in different jurisdictions in Taiwan	154
6.1	Disposal of cases by the Supreme Court 2012	238
6.2	Departmental targets and achievements by the Supreme Court	238
7.1	Vacancies of judges in High Courts	277
7.2	Statement of total number of advocates enrolled with the State Bar Councils	284
8.1	Breakdown of cases by categories in first instance courts	313
8.2	Breakdown of cases by categories in courts of appeal	313
9.1	Number of courts and judges in Mongolia	346
9.2	The performance of courts in different jurisdictions in Mongolia	347
10.1	The number of courts in the Philippines	359
11.1	Number of judicial positions in superior courts (2011)	380
11.2	Number of judicial positions in subordinate courts (2011)	380
12.1	The number of civil cases, consumer cases and criminal cases in courts of first instance nationwide B.E. 2553-4 (2010-11)	415
12.2	Statistics of civil and criminal cases pending and disposed of by the Supreme Court	415
13.1	Comparison of caseloads of different courts and a glimpse of backlog of cases in civil courts until early 2011	482
14.1	The number of courts and judges in different jurisdictions in China	493
14.2	Breakdown of cases by categories in 2011	494
15.1	Case numbers from all jurisdictions	538

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-06608-3 - Asian Courts in Context
Edited by Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-chen Chang
Frontmatter
More information

CONTRIBUTORS

BATBOLD AMARSANAA is Vice Director of the National Legal Institute of Mongolia and a member of the Judicial Qualifications Committee of Mongolia. His primary areas of research include company and business law, comparative law, private international law and insurance law.

WEN-CHEN CHANG is Professor at National Taiwan University College of Law. She focuses her teaching and research on comparative constitutions, international human rights, international environmental law, administrative law, and law and society.

YEOW CHOY CHOONG is Professor and former Dean at the Faculty of Law, University of Malaya, Malaysia. His primary areas of research include transnational civil litigation, international commercial arbitration and the administration of the civil justice system.

WEIXIA GU is Assistant Professor at the Faculty of Law, University of Hong Kong. She specializes in commercial arbitration, business dispute resolution, conflict of laws, and civil justice, particularly with respect to China and Greater China.

RIDWANUL HOQUE is Associate Professor of Law, University of Dhaka, Bangladesh. His research interests include comparative constitutional theory, judicial politics, law and society, migration law, and Islamic family law.

HIKMAHANTO JUWANA is Professor of Law and former Dean at the Faculty of Law, University of Indonesia, Jakarta, Indonesia. He specializes in international law, Indonesian business law, competition law, and contract law.

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-06608-3 - Asian Courts in Context
Edited by Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-chen Chang
Frontmatter
More information

X

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

NORIKAZU KAWAGISHI is Professor of Constitutional Law at the Faculty of Political Science and Economics Law School, Waseda University, Japan. He is a constitutional law expert whose research interests are mainly in freedom of expression and constitutionalism.

JONGCHEOL KIM is Professor of Law at Yonsei University School of Law in Seoul, South Korea. He is a leading scholar of Korean constitutional law who writes extensively in both Korean and English.

JAYANTH KRISHNAN is the Charles L. Whistler Faculty Fellow and Professor of Law at the Indiana University Maurer School of Law, United States. His academic research focuses are mainly on the legal profession, law and globalization, and legal education, with a special emphasis on how these areas intersect in India.

PUI YIN LO is a barrister who has been in private practice in Hong Kong for twenty years. He has appeared before courts of various levels, including the Privy Council and the Hong Kong Court of Final Appeal. His specializations include constitutional and administrative law, and protection of human rights. He is the author of two books on the Hong Kong Basic Law.

NATTAPORN NAKORNIN is former Lecturer in Law at Faculty of Law, Chulalongkorn University, with specialization in criminal law and criminal procedure. She is admitted to the Thai Bar and is presently a Judge at the Judicial Training Institute.

PIP NICHOLSON is Professor of Law and Director of the Asian Law Centre, Melbourne Law School, Australia. Her current research and teaching focuses are primarily on law and legal change in transitional countries and cross-cultural legal research.

RAUL C. PANGALANGAN is Professor of Law and former Dean at the University of the Philippines. He is a leading authority on constitutional law in the Philippines and specializes in public international law and constitutional law.

PAWAT SATAYANURUG is Lecturer in Law at Faculty of Law, Chulalongkorn University, with specialization in public international law,

Cambridge University Press
 978-1-107-06608-3 - Asian Courts in Context
 Edited by Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-chen Chang
 Frontmatter
More information

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

xi

international criminal law, and international human rights law. He is presently pursuing a doctoral degree at University of Zurich, Switzerland.

KEVIN Y. L. TAN is concurrently Adjunct Professor of Law at the National University of Singapore and Adjunct Professor of International Law at the S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies, Nanyang Technological University. He is a leading scholar of Singapore constitutional law, human rights, legal history and comparative law in South-east Asia.

JIUNN-RONG YEH is University Chair Professor at National Taiwan University College of Law. He previously has served as a Minister in the Taiwanese Government and Vice-Dean of his College, and also taught in many overseas universities. His teaching and research focuses are primarily on comparative constitutional law, environmental law and administrative law. He has published widely in both Chinese and English and is the author and editor of nineteen books.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

In the process of putting this book together, we have accumulated many intellectual and other debts. We would like to first acknowledge the Institute for Advanced Studies in Humanities and Social Sciences of National Taiwan University, whose Top University Research Project enabled us to invite all contributors of this book to hold a conference in March 2012 for the discussion of draft chapters, to acquire research materials, and to employ research and editing assistants. We are especially grateful to the generous support of the Dean of the Institute, Distinguished Professor Chun-Chieh Huang.

Together with three other colleagues at the College of Law, National Taiwan University – Professor Andrew Jen-Guang Lin, Professor Kuan-Ling Shen and Professor Chung-Jau Wu – we have, since August 2011, formed a collaborative research team on “Courts in East Asia and Legal Transplant” under the auspices of the Institute for Advanced Studies in Humanities and Social Sciences of National Taiwan University. The publication of this book has been one of the many items on the research agenda set in this collaboration. We especially acknowledge the intellectual contributions of these three colleagues to this book as well as to the chapter on Taiwan. We hope our other intellectual collaborations will also soon come to fruition.

We are enormously indebted to all of the contributors to this book. Without their most generous intellectual contributions, the publication of this book would not be possible. Special gratitude must be extended to Sabrina Su, our English language editor, for her meticulous editing efforts and willingness to work with us on a very pressing schedule. We are also greatly indebted to Dr Chun-Yuan Lin, Szu-Chen Kuo and Shao-Man Lee for their relentless efforts in assisting in the preparation of the manuscript. Thanks too to our students and research assistants, Ju-Ching Huang, Jo-Tzu Ma, Yi-Li Lee, Chia-ching Chen, Yan-Lin Li, Pei-Jung Li, Wei Chen, Wen-Wei Chen and Po-Cheng Lin, for their assistance in editing and checking the styles throughout this book.

Cambridge University Press
978-1-107-06608-3 - Asian Courts in Context
Edited by Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-chen Chang
Frontmatter
More information

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

xiii

In this endeavor, we must also thank Cambridge University Press for agreeing to publish this book, and for all of their efforts in guiding us through getting the manuscript to press.

January 2014

Jiunn-rong Yeh and Wen-Chen Chang