The current edition of the Cambridge Latin Course is the result of over forty years of research, classroom testing, feedback, revision, and development. In that period millions of students, tens of thousands of teachers, hundreds of experts in the fields of Classics, history, and education, and dozens of authors have contributed to make the Course the leading approach to reading Latin that it is today.

To list everyone who has played a part in the development of the Cambridge Latin Course would be impossible, but we would particularly like to thank individuals and representatives from the following organizations, past and present:
