

Index

- abduction, 17, 307
 absolute beginning model, 110, 112 absolute space(time), 15, 163, 164–165, 185, 228, 251. See also space cosmic time and, 229–230
 shape dynamics and, 387–388
 action at a distance, 118 adjacent possibility, 271–272 algebra, 333, 430–431
 analysis, 333
 Anaximander, 250
 anthropic principle, 47, 97–98, 109, 160, 378, 462–463
 multiverse models and, 120 probability and, 289–290 strong, 6–7
 antimony of cosmogenesis, 101–102, 145, 316
 irresolvability, 104–105
 Aristotle, 7, 14, 219, 318 arithmetic, 438
 transfinite, 440
 art, 434–435
 astronomy, 5, 360
 Avicenna, 240
- Barbour, Julian, 386
 Barnett, Lincoln, 128 becoming, 249–251, 520–521. See also change as dissident view, 251–252 relational time and, 251 behavioral economics, 340 being, philosophy of, 252–254. See also ontology
 modern physics, 257–258
 social science, 254
 speculative monism, 254–255
 Bergson, Henri, xv, 301 biology, 54–55. See also natural selection co-evolution of phenomena and laws, 64–65 path dependence, 58–60
 black holes, 269, 290–291
 conditions for maximal production, 457 singularities in, 409–410, 451, 455
 block-universe model, 91–92, 162, 165–166, 188. See also classical mechanics; determinism; Newtonian paradigm
 qualia and, 482
 Bohmian mechanics, 488
 bootstrapping, 380–381
 bounce solutions, 406, 450, 452, 486
 black holes, 410
 branching universe models, 101, 118–119, 178, 453–454. See also bubble universes; many universes models distinguished from plural universes, 105–106 Brouwer, L.E.J., 335 bubble universes, 6, 449–450. See also branching universe
 models; many universes models;
 multiverse models
- calculus, 309–310
 Cantor, Georg, 440
 capitalism, 71
 Cauchy, Augustin-Louis, 336
 causal set program, 388
 causality, 7–8, 32–39, 100, 293–294, 415. See also co-evolution of phenomena and laws
 action at a distance, 118
 as fundamental, 207, 208, 524–525 as mental construct, 32–33 between plural universes, 106 between successive universes, 38, 142, 262–263, 279
 causal connections as primitive, 9, 37 dependence on reality of time, 93–94, 163–164
 determinism and, 417
 deterministic, 224
 early universe, 148, 277–280
 emergence of laws from, 281 lawless, 34–36, 155, 164, 225, 276, 281, 283–284, 365
 co-evolution of laws and phenomena and,
 287–288

534 INDEX

- causality (cont.)
 laws of nature and, 100–101 dependence on, 33–34
 mutability of, 134–135
 Mach's view, 229
 meta-law conundrum and, 221 nature of causal explanation, 293–294 reality of time and, 37
 relational event labeling, 382–384 stressed, 111
 sufficient reason and, 513
- change. See also becoming; laws of nature (mutability) inclusive reality of time and, 206, 222 non-uniformity, 222–223 of change, 35–36, 41, 223, 226, 230, 312–313
 time as, 206, 222, 230, 312–313
- Chew, Geoffrey, 380–381
- classical mechanics. See also block-universe model; determinism; Newtonian paradigm diminution of time, 90–91 time-reversibility, 185, 237
- classical ontology, 219
- clocks, 233–234
- co-evolution of phenomena and laws, 39, 63–65, 86, 281, 282–284,
 286–288. See also causality; laws of nature biology, 64–65
 geology, 64–65
 lawless causality and, 287–288
 social science, 73, 282–283
- Communist Manifesto, The*, 72
- complex numbers, 441
- composite systems, 379–380
- compound processes, 379–380
- computational paradigm, 356, 472–473
- computer models, 172, 174
- conceptualism, 306–307
- configuration spaces, 19–20 classical mechanics, 90, 165–166 universe as, 49–50
- confirmability, 372
- connection postulate, 241–242, 296
- consciousness, 273, 482–483. See also mind; qualia
- conservation principles, 369–370
 energy, 278
- constant mean curvature (CMC) slices, 387
- constants, 10, 97, 134, 156–161, 354. See also cosmological constant; physics cosmological models, 396–398 cosmological natural selection, 456 dimensionless, 156–157, 279–280, 394–395 fine-tuning, 157
 probabilistic determination, 158–159 special tuning, 157
 standard cosmological model, 157 standard model of particle physics, 156–157
 under-determination
 probabilistic account, 158–159
- contingency, 294–299
- continuum, 216, 335–336, 517. See also mathematics
 non-mathematical account, 236
 time as, 235–237
- cosmic microwave background, 140, 397–398, 399, 453, 484–485
- cosmic preferred time, 177–178, 181, 214, 220, 227, 491–492. See also time absolute time and, 229–230 as prerequisite of cosmological theory, 488 contrasted with absolute time, 228 history and, 220
 measurement, 233–234
 objections, 181–182
 quantum mechanics and, 194–197, 488 relativistic physics and, 114–115, 192–193, 231–232
 shape dynamics and, 420–421
 singularity of universe and, 139–140
- cosmogenesis, 24–25, 101–102. See also early universe; time (beginning); universe bounce models, 406, 450, 452, 486 emergence from nothingness, 102, 145, 316 singularity at, 124, 144, 153, 172, 209, 402
- cosmological constant, 280, 396, 459, 464. See also dark energy; constants varying value, 409
- cosmological dilemma, 376–377
- cosmological fallacies, 54
 first, 19–22, 30, 125–127, 260, 376–377, 515–516, 526–527
 second, 23–30, 31, 134, 176, 267, 516
- cosmological inflation, 47, 127–128. See also eternal inflation
 non-cyclic succession and, 129–130
- cosmological measure problem, 289–290
- cosmological minimalism, 230–231

- cosmological natural selection, 454–460, 464, 499, 525, 527–528. See also evolution; natural selection
- empirical predictions, 457–460, 485
 cosmological constant, 459–460
- cosmological principle, 411
- cosmological singularity, see singularities, 511
- cosmology. See also standard cosmological model
- as historical science, 13–14, 42, 258. See also history of universe
- as science, 501
- natural history as model, 66–67
- prospective agenda, 484–485
- requirements of theories
- closedness, 371
- lack of symmetry, 369–371
- mathematical consistency, 377–378
- success as theory, 371–372
- steady-state, 295
- cyclic succession, 111–112, 124, 136, 175, 450, 452–453. See also succession
- branching, 454
- ekpyrotic, 128
- empirical predictions, 484–485
- inflation and, 128
- law evolution landscapes, 452–453
- dark energy, 407. See also cosmological constant
- dark flow, 106
- dark matter, 397–398
- Dedekind, Richard, 336
- defects problem, 400
- density, 379–380
- determinism, 188, 224, 466. See also
- block-universe model
- causality and, 417
- early universe and, 148–149
- eternalism and, 248
- possibility and, 300
- deWitt-Wheeler hypothesis, 194, 291, 405–407
- diffeomorphisms, 385
- differential sufficient reason (PDSR)
- principle, 367–368
- Newtonian paradigm, 377–379
- dimensionless numbers, 10, 97, 156–157, 279–280, 394–395
- Dirac, Paul, 259
- discourse and meta-discourse, 77
- first-order, 77–78
- in culture and society, 80
- in science, 81–82
- divergent universes, 106, 119–120, 137
- DNA, 60, 61
- Durkheim, Emile, 69
- early universe, 27–28, 132–134, 142. See also
- cosmogenesis; history of universe;
- initial conditions (of universe);
- universe
- anisotropy, 150–151
- causality, 277–280
- finitude of physical values, 269
- historical account, 267–269
- homogeneity, 493–494
- information content, 148
- mutability of laws and, 176, 210, 261, 486
- new degrees of freedom, 270
- undifferentiated structure, 269–270
- very early universe, 401–402
- economics, 69–70, 73, 339–340
- production, 340
- effective theories, 375, 401
- Einstein equations, 402–403
- Einstein, Albert, xi, xiii, 112, 167, 189–190, 232–233
- electromagnetic radiation, 397
- elementary particles, 380
- emanation, 255–256
- emergent properties, 379–380
- empirical tests, 288–289, 484–485
- change in laws, 485–486
- early universe conditions, 290–291
- general relativity, 190–192
- energetic causal set framework, 389
- energy, 389–391
- conservation, 284–285
- entanglement, 466–467, 490
- entropy, 52–53, 197–198, 234–235, 335
- eternal inflation, 6, 107–108, 449–450, 460–461. See also cosmological inflation
- measure problem, 465
- non-cyclic succession and, 130–131
- eternalism, 246, 248, 249, 361, 520
- ethics, 362–366, 513
- ethical communities, 363–364
- Euclidean geometry, 436, 443

536 INDEX

- events ontologies, 388–389
 Everett, Hugh, 108
 evolution. See also cosmological natural selection biological, 59, 253–254, 422–428, 436, 448 path dependence principle and, 59
 explication, 306–307
- facticity, 11, 14–15, 43, 45, 160–161, 297–299
 falsifiability, 372
 Feyerabend, Paul, 363
 Feynman diagrams, 384
 Feynman, Richard, 227, 259
 Flatness problem, 127
 forces, 331–332
 foreign clocks, 233
 formal axiomatic systems, 425–426 frames of reference, 180–181 Fraassen, Bas C. van, 40
 free will, 466–467
 Friedmann–Robertson–Walker–Lemaître (FRWL) model, 186–188, 396 future, 248–249
 unreality of, 416
- galaxies, 398
 Galilean relativity, 285 games, 423
 gauge principle, 355
 gauge symmetries, 307–308, 370 gauge theories
 equivalence between, 472–473 gauge/gravity duality, 192 general relativity, 52, 85, 139, 375. See also relativistic physics choice of initial events, 378–379
 cosmic time and, 179, 519
 empirical component, 190–192, 522–524 FRWL model, 186–188
 incompatibility with historical account of universe, 184–185
 initial conditions of universe, 124 lack of general symmetries, 369–370 relational approaches Einstein's, 386
 shape dynamics, 387–388
 simultaneity in, 418–421
 singularity as breakdown of, 145, 172, 209, 291
- singularity theorems, 402–405 quantum effects and, 405 significance, 405–407
 spacelike singularities, 403 timelike singularities, 403 spatialization of time, 189–190 genetic recombination, 223, 282
 geology, 60–61, 253–254
 co-evolution of phenomena and laws, 64–65
 geometry, 325–326, 430. See also topology Euclidean, 436, 443
 non-Euclidean, 438
 Riemannian, 441
 symmetries of spaces, 439–440 global clocks, 233–234
 Gödel, Kurt, 188, 232, 343
 Gödel incompleteness proofs, 343–345, 433, 444 gravitation, 189, 377
 avoidance of thermal equilibrium and, 492–493 inverse square law, 331–332 gravitational constant, 156 gravitational waves, 396–397
- Hawking, Stephen, 144
 Hawking–Penrose theorem, 291, 403 hierarchy problem, 395
 Higgs field, 381–382
 Hilbert program, 343–345, 444
 Hilbert, David, 343 history of universe, 169, 170–171. See also cosmology as historical science; early universe; universe
 dark matter, 397–398
 dependence on cosmic time, 177–178, 220, 238–239
 dependence on reality of time, 238–239 far future, 407–410
 incompatibility with general relativity, 184–188 incompatibility with Newtonian paradigm, 173
 mutability of laws and, 202–203, 264–265
 openness, 531–532
 quantum mechanics' unhistorical nature, 195–196 Hobbes, Thomas, 222 hole argument, 385

- horizon problem, 127, 399
 Hoyle, Fred, 463–464
 hydrodynamics, 167
- identity of indiscernibles, 369, 382–383 identity of indiscernibles principle, 369–370, 382–383, 499
 igneous rocks, 60
 infinitesimals, 337
 infinity, 102, 112. See also mathematics; singularities
 actual existence, 315–318 Aristotle's conception, 318–319 age of universe, 114
 initial singularity, 124
 mathematical representation, 314–316, 516–517
 quantum mechanics, 195
 relative frequencies in infinite sets, 465 transfinite arithmetic, 440
- inflaton, 486
 information content, 242
 early universe, 148
 initial conditions (Newtonian models), 49–50, 121–125, 225–226, 289
 as primitive, 122
 reduction of laws to, 470–476
 initial conditions (of universe), 11–12, 121–125, 149, 171–172, 210. See also
 early universe
 choice of, 378–379
 cosmological natural selection and, 460 empirical investigation, 290 experimental reproduction, 154–155
 fine-tuning, 11, 396
 flatness, 400
 historical accounts, 123–125
 metalaws and, 477
 natural law and, 51
 origin, 172–173
 standard cosmological model, 132
 succession and, 152–153
 thermal homogeneity, 399 intrinsic properties, 388–389 intuitionism, 326–327
 inverse square law, 331–332
- Kant, Immanuel, 103–104, 243–244, 327
 kaon condensates, 457
 Kauffman, Stuart, 272–271, 448
 Kuhn, Thomas, 79
- landscape, 447, 451–452
 laws of nature. See also co-evolution of phenomena and laws; principles (physical) abstracted from meta-laws, 122 as local in multiverse model, 109–110 as mode of causality, 100–101
 as primitive, 122
 causality and, 33–34, 281
 causal connections as primitive, 37 emergence from cosmic singularity, 145–146
 empirical confirmation, 416
 historical accounts, 123–125
 immutability, 11–12, 95, 175
 necessity for science, 177, 199, 223–224, 260 initial conditions and, 51
 mutability, 8–9, 134–135, 142, 147, 259, 260–261, 358, 417–418. See also change as part of history of universe, 264–265 branching universes, 453–454 current stability and, 147
 early universe, 176, 261
 explanatory advantage, 261, 266 forms of nature and, 269–273
 landscape, 447, 452–453
 observation, 485–486
 reality of time and, 164
 singular universe and, 261
 Newtonian paradigm, 20
 origin, 172–173
 reduction to states, 476–479 relation to phenomena, 264 source of, 10
 stability, 172, 204, 207, 265–267
 time-reversibility, 36–37, 492–496
 underdetermination, 47–48
 underdetermination of universe, 174 within time, 8
- least action principle, 278, 284 legal systems, 306–307
 Leibniz, Gottfried, 49, 229, 316, 337, 347, 367, 513–514
 Lemaître, Georges, 25
 leptons, 381–382
 life, 50
 co-evolution of laws and phenomena, 64–65
 defining attributes, 66
 life sciences, 259. See also science

538 INDEX

- local clocks, 233
 loop quantum gravity, 377, 496
 Lorentz transformation, 53
- Mach, Ernst, xviii, 75, 222, 229, 515 Mach's principle, 385
 many-universes models, 6, 97. See also branching universe models; bubble universes; multiverse models; universe
- Marx, Karl, 40–41, 69–70 Marxism, 79–80, 282–283
 mathematics, 12, 68–69, 88, 201–202, 302–303, 358, 528–529. See also continuum; infinity
 analogical amplification of perceptual experience, 326–327
 as discovery, 303, 304, 319–320, 422, 444 as evoked, 422–428, 436, 442–444, 529 as invention, 303–305, 319, 422, 444–445 as solipsistic, 327
 as timeless simulacrum of world, 215–216, 310–311, 321–322, 431, 528–529 axiomatic reasoning, 320–321 axiomatization, 343–344, 433–434, 438, 444 classical ontology and, 245 deflationary account, 345–347 dependence of multiverse view on, 140–141 describing change in time, 309–310 development, 442–443
 beyond realm of experience, 325–326 evocation and study of variations, 438–439
 formalization, 433–435
 internal, 328–330, 333, 342, 435–437 applicability to nature, 441–442 naturalistic phase, 432–433 new objects by unification, 440–441 new structures, 439–440 of mathematical powers, 18 relationships between autonomously generated constructions, 441 effectiveness, 310, 346, 428–430
 economics, 339–341
 in mathematics, 430–431 limits of, 334–335, 341–342 space and, 312–313
 empirical discovery and, 443 equivalent propositions, 307–308 evolutionary conjecture, 323–325
 explication, 306–307
 history, 325–342, 431–446 natural history and, 337–338 natural philosophy and, 88–89
 Newtonian paradigm and, 334
 Platonism, 445
 primacy over physics, 44 proof, 426–427
 recursive reasoning, 307, 329 relation to natural world, 17 representation of flow of time, 215–217, 235–236
 research directions, 434–435 science and, 305, 330–335 social science and, 338–339
 space and, 312–313, 319
 timelessness, 15, 202, 257–258, 308–309, 322–323
 universe as isomorphic to, 12, 122, 366, 415 mature universe, 27, 270–272
 Maxwell, James Clerk, 51
 Mazur, Barry, 426–427
 McTaggart, J.M.E., 213–214
 metalaw problem, 9, 31–32, 38–39, 71–72, 116, 176, 204, 207–208, 275–277, 292–293, 418, 447, 524–528 causality as primitive, 221, 292–293 reduction to states, 476–479 requirements for theory resolving, 498–499 universality of metalaw, 470–476 metamorphic rocks, 60
 metaphysical folly, 480 mind, 323–325, 344–345. See also consciousness; qualia computational theory, 356–357 modality, 294–299. See also probability (within and between universes) possibility, 299–301
 momentum
 as intrinsic, 389–391
 conservation, 285
 monism, 254–255
 Montesquieu, 69
 multiverse models, 6, 12, 47, 105–106, 108, 135, 159, 357. See also branching universe models; many universes models; parallel universes; plural universes; singular universes (arguments for); universe anthropic principle and, 120

- dependence on reality of mathematics, 140–141
- eternal inflation, 449–450
- inappropriate use of Newtonian paradigm, 125–127
- lack of explanatory power, 135, 378
- laws of nature as local, 109–110
- probability in, 149
- quantum mechanics, 108
- Mumford, David, 303
- mutability of types, 61–63, 86, 253–254. See also natural kinds; ontology
- social science, 254
- species, 62
- Myerson, Émile, 189
- natural evolution, 323–325
- natural history, 58–60
 - as model for cosmology, 66–67
 - mathematics and, 337–338
- natural kinds, 243, 253. See also mutability of types; ontology
- natural philosophy, xviii, 75–78, 514, 531–532
 - aims, 76, 531–532
 - as meta-discourse, 77–78, 81–82
 - connection between conception and empirical discovery, 87–88
 - contemporary form, 82
 - distinction between empirical and ontological aspects of scientific theory, 83–86
 - interdisciplinary methodological comparison, 85–86
 - mathematics and, 88–89
 - metaphysical limits, 76–77
 - nature as subject, 75
- natural selection, 56, 282. See also biology; cosmological natural selection
- naturalism, 356–357
 - as ethical stance, 362–366
 - definition, 363
 - epistemology, 364
 - ontology, 362
- necessity, 43, 294–299
- negative capability, 273
- neuroeconomics, 340
- neutron stars, 457
- newness, 301
- Newton, Isaac, 165
 - Newtonian paradigm, 19, 43, 237, 341, 358–359, 373. See also block-universe model; classical mechanics
 - applicability of mathematics, 334
 - application to entire universe, 95, 125–127, 373–374
 - cosmological inapplicability, 373–377, 500
 - determinism and, 149
 - incompatibility with historical approach, 173
 - initial conditions, 49–50, 225–226
 - laws of nature, 20
 - immutability, 260
 - principle of sufficient reason (PSR) applied to, 377–379
 - temporal naturalist context, 391–392
 - time in, 165–166, 277
- Noether's theorem, 285, 369, 390
- non-cyclic succession, 116, 136–137, 268. See also succession
 - eternal inflation and, 130–131
 - inflation and, 129–130
 - reasons for preference over cyclic succession, 138
- non-Euclidean geometry, 325–326
- nothingness, 102, 145, 316
- now, 247–248
- nucleic acids, 60
- number, 313, 433
- observable universe, 5
 - large-scale structure, 397–398
- ontology, 63, 232–233. See also being; mutability of types; natural kinds; proto-ontology
 - argument for current structure of universe as effectively permanent, 244
 - classical, 219
 - distinguished from proto-ontology, 243
 - mathematics and, 245
 - misguided nature of project of fundamental ontology, 240
 - naturalism, 362
 - relationship to empirical content of theories, 83–84
- pantheism, 255–256
- panpsychism, 482, 483, 531
- parallel universes, 106. See also multiverse models

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07406-4 - The Singular Universe and the Reality of Time: A Proposal in Natural Philosophy

Roberto Mangabeira Unger and Lee Smolin

Index

More information

540 INDEX

- parallel universes (cont.)
 lack of explanatory power, 107, 119 particle accelerators, 154–155, 269, 290 particle physics. See standard model of particle physics; string theory
- past
 unreality, 416
- path dependence principle, 58–61, 86 evolution and, 59
 particularity of nature and, 59
 rock formation, 60–61
- Peirce, Charles Sanders, 307, 367, 417
- Penrose, Roger, 144, 175, 397, 402, 517
- perceptual experience, 480–481. See also qualia science vs., 217–220
- periodic table, 24, 61
- perpetual motion, 154
- phase transitions, 25–26, 207, 210
- physics. See also constants; quantum mechanics; relativistic physics; standard model of particle physics; science; string theory as supreme science, 55
 effectiveness, 353
 mathematics in, 428–430, 445–446 scaling up, 212
 unification, 46–47, 51–53, 96–97, 353–354 values of constants, 97, 134
- Planck's constant, 156
- plasticity, 345
- Platonism, 303, 424, 445, 529
- plural universes, 137, 151, 291, 413, 449–450, 460–465. See also multiverse models arguments against, 116–117 collisions, 106
 distinguished from divergent universes, 105–106
 succession and, 141–143
 underdetermination and, 159–160
- plurality postulate, 241, 256–257, 296
- Poincaré, Henri, xviii, 54, 75, 163
- popular science, 82
- possibility, 225, 299–301
 singular universe view, 300–301 spectral account, 299–300
- possible worlds, 294–295
- precedence principle, 466, 470, 483, 490, 525–526
- prediction, 120
- presentism, 246–247, 361, 520
- principles (physical), 278, 284–285. See also laws of nature as immutable, 286
 mutable, 286
- principles of the open future, 364
- probability, 158–159
 in quantum mechanics, 468–469
 within and between universes, 148–149, 289–290, 465. See also modality
- problem-solving, 324–325
- proteins, 60
- proto-ontology, 239–243, 256–257, 296, 317. See also ontology connection, 241–242
 plurality, 241, 256–257
 reality, 240
- punctuated equilibrium, 173
- Putnam, Hilary, 522
- qualia, 364, 480–481, 531. See also consciousness; perceptual experience
- quantum field theory, 384
- quantum graphity, 497
- quantum gravity, 368–369 background independent approaches, 496–498
 shape dynamics and, 421
- quantum mechanics, 51–52, 167–168, 333. See also physics avoidance of singularities via, 291–292, 405–406
 cosmic time and, 194–197
 double slit experiment, 467–468
 entanglement, 466–467
 foundational issues, 486–491 free will and, 466–467 hidden-variables theories, 195, 196, 365, 392, 487–488 incompleteness, 195
 multiverse, 108
 multiverse model and, 107
 probability, 468–469
 reality of ensembles, 488–489 unhistorical nature, 195–196
- quarks, 381–382
- quaternions, 441
- radical contingency, 44–45
- real numbers, 216, 336

- reality, 240
 as transitive property, 418–419 reciprocal action principle, 368
 recursive reasoning, 307, 329
 reductionism, 55, 63–64 hierarchy of scientific disciplines, 54 limits, 379–380
 strong, 57, 273–274, 282
 weak, 57, 259–260, 273–274 regularities of nature cyclic succession, 115–116
 reification, 338
 relationalism, 229, 251, 355–356, 529–531. See also time
 as answer to reductionism, 380–382 becoming and, 251
 causal set program, 388
 general relativity
 Einstein's approach, 386 intrinsic properties and, 388–389 energy and momentum as, 389–391 limitations, 385–386
 uniqueness of events, 382–384 relativistic physics, 52. See also general relativity; physics; shape dynamics
 cosmic time and, 114–115
 empirical confirmation, 419 preferred rest states, 180–181
 reality of time and, 91–92
 relativity of simultaneity, 91, 178–179, 193, 418–421
 time in, 168
 religion, 366
 rest states, 180–181
 revolutionary science, 79
 Riemannian geometry and general relativity:
 pseudo-Riemannian four-dimensional manifold and time, 104, 131, 179, 180, 190–193, 214, 232, 441
 Riemannian spacetime and empirical tests, 191–192
 Robinson, Abraham, 337
 rulers, 217–218
 Rutherford, Ernest, 406
 Schopenhauer, Arthur, 219 science. See also life sciences; physics; social science
 contradicting perceptual experience, 217–220
 distinction between empirical and ontological components, 83–86 hierarchy of sciences, 54, 55
 limits, 316–317
 mathematics and, 330–335
 methodological comparisons, 85–86 necessity of unchangeable laws, 177, 199, 223–224, 260
 philosophy and, xix
 popular, 82
 problem-solving in, 324 revolutionary, 79
 scientific communities, 363–364 scientific method, 23, 363 scientism, 317, 512–513 sedimentary rocks, 60–61 self-revision, 80–81
 shape dynamics, 183–184, 192, 387–388, 420–421, 491–492. See also relativistic physics
 quantum gravity and, 421 Shapiro's time delay test, 191 simultaneity, 91, 178–179, 193, 418–421
 singular universe, 5, 92, 100, 357–358, 414–415. See also universe (as all that exists)
 absolute beginning model, 110 arguments for, 116–117. See also
 multiverse models
 from incompatibility of non-cyclic succession with eternal inflation, 127–131
 from reciprocal support of arguments, 138–141
 from rejection of first cosmological fallacy, 125–127
 from rejection of second cosmological
 fallacy, 131–138
 from wish to answer questions about initial conditions, 121–125
 non-empirical character of multiverse, 117–121
 branching universe models and, 101 causal communion as criterion, 100
 relativistic physics and,
 114–115
 solitary universe variant, 110 succession of universes, 110–111, 113–114
 cyclic, 111–112, 115, 124
 inflation and, 128
 non-cyclic, 112, 116, 124–125 world of singular events, 111

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07406-4 - The Singular Universe and the Reality of Time: A Proposal in Natural Philosophy

Roberto Mangabeira Unger and Lee Smolin

Index

More information

542 INDEX

- singularities, 22, 112, 269. See also infinity as breakdown of general relativity, 145 at origin of universe, 124, 132, 144, 153, 172, 209, 402 objections to, 145–146
 immutability of laws and, 204 in black holes, 409–410, 451 quantum effects eliminating, 291–292 social science, 40–41, 54, 69–71, 79–80, 254. See also science closed list of social systems, 71 co-evolution of phenomena, 73, 282–283
 economics, 69–70, 73, 339
 mathematics and, 338–339
 meta-laws, 71–72
 mutability of laws, 175
 social structure as made and imagined, 69–70 social self-criticism, 80 space, 242. See also absolute space(time)
 mathematics and, 312–313, 319
 topology, 411–412
 spacetime
 as backdrop to events, 163
 Kant on, 103–104
 Lorentz formulation, 104 relational account, 49
 special relativity, 419
 special tuning problem, 395
 species, 62
 speculative monism, 254–255
 Spinoza, Baruch, 219, 316 spontaneous collapse models, 488 standard cosmological model, 131–132, 144–145, 360. See also cosmology constants, 157
 defects problem, 400
 fine-tuning and scale, 395–398
 flatness problem, 399–400
 horizon problem, 399
 necessity and contingency, 297 standard model of particle physics, 46–47, 120, 133, 196, 354. See also physics constants, 156–157, 394–395
 cosmological natural selection, 456 variability and anthropic principle, 378
 empirical confirmation, 393–395
 gauge group, 394
 relational aspects, 381–382 supersymmetry and grand unification, 370 star formation, 398 statistical mechanics, 52, 167, 197–198, 237–238. See also thermodynamics steady-state universe, 295 stratigraphy, 60–61
 Strawson, Galen, 480
 string theory, 6, 46–47, 97, 98–99, 107, 119, 171–172, 211, 377. See also physics empirical tests, 461–462 minimally supersymmetric, 462–463
 multiverse, 108–109
 strong anthropic principle, 6–7 structure of universe, 132–134 succession, 262–263, 413, 450. See also cyclic succession; non-cyclic succession; universe causal connection between current and previous universes, 142, 279 change of laws between universes, 142 empirical inquiry into earlier universes, 146–147 successive universes plurality and, 141–143
 sufficient reason principle, 42, 367, 499, 513–515 symmetry, 369–370
 temperature, 379–380
 temporal naturalism, 357, 361. See also time (reality) contrasted with timeless naturalism, 361–362
 ethics, 364
 see also time, 511
 thermodynamics, 52, 167, 197–198, 335, 355. See also statistical mechanics time. See also cosmic time; relationalism as change, 206, 222, 230, 312–313
 as fundamental, 205–207, 262
 beginning, 42–43. See also cosmogenesis continuous, 235–237
 discontinuous, 236–237
 experience and, 218
 in quantum mechanics, 167–168
 inseparability from space, 178
 irreversibility, 185, 234–235, 354, 492–493 Laplacean determinism and, 224–225 mathematical representation of flow, 215–217

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07406-4 - The Singular Universe and the Reality of Time: A Proposal in Natural Philosophy

Roberto Mangabeira Unger and Lee Smolin

Index

More information

INDEX 543

- non-emergence, 104, 206, 227
- reality, 7, 139, 162, 415–418. See also
 - temporal naturalism
 - causation, laws and, 292–294
 - denial of, 90–92
 - problems, 93–94
 - inclusive, 206, 245–248
 - motivations for pursuing, 208–209
 - objections, 212–217
 - qualia and, 480–481
 - relativity of simultaneity and, 418–421
 - singularity of universe and, 139, 200–201
 - thermodynamics and, 167
 - unreality of future, 416
- relativistic treatment, 52, 91–92, 168
- spatialization, 168, 181–182, 189–190, 232, 263–264, 314
- unreality, 203, 213–214, 218–219
- timeless naturalism, 361–362
- topology, 440. See also geometry
 - of space, 411–412
- transcendental folly, 366
- Turing machines, 473
- twistor theory, 381
- typological idea, 306–307

- ultraviolet catastrophe, 405–406
- underdetermination, 47–48, 158, 171–172, 174, 428–429
 - plural universes, 159–160
- unification scale, 401–402
- universal anachronism, 23–30, 31, 267

- universe. See also cosmogenesis; early universe; history of universe; many-universe models; multiverse models; singular universe; succession
 - age, 102, 114
 - application of Newtonian paradigm to, 95
 - as all that exists
 - 6193-6300. See also singular universe
 - as configuration space, 49–50
 - as global clock, 234
 - as mathematical structure, 12, 366
 - differentiated structure, 271
 - eternity, 114, 517–518
 - facticity, 11, 14–15, 43, 160–161, 297–299
 - fundamental structure, 132–134
 - large-scale structure, 410–412
 - mature state, 27, 270–272
 - topology, 411–412
- Vico, Giambattista, 69
- vitalism, 54–55

- wave function collapse, 167–168
- Weierstrass, Karl, 336–337
- Weinberg, Stephen, 464
- Weyl curvature hypothesis, 397
- Weyl, Hermann, 347
- Wheeler, John, 108
- Wheeler–DeWitt equation, 194–195, 497
- Wigner, Eugene, 304

- Yang–Mills theories, 393