

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More informationIndex

- Abbott, Tony, 80, 176
The Age of Stupid (film), 148
 airline industry
 justification and market order of worth, 106
 promotion of carbon offsetting,
 60, 113
 Anderson, Kevin, 179
 Annan, Kofi, 1
 Anthropocene
 epoch of, 29
 and the Sixth Great Extinction, 30–31
 Asia Pulp and Paper, 18–22
 astroturfing, 73, 84
 AT&T, 83
 Audi, 151–52
 Australia
 advertising and PR campaigns, fossil fuel industries, 82
 civic justification for fossil fuel industries, 109
 corporate campaigns on legislation, 80–81
 corporate funding and public campaigns, 84
 corporate political activity and the fossil fuel industries, 84–85, 90
 media coverage of climate change, 10
 political climate-change
 denial, 11, 58
 political stance on carbon emissions, 9, 79–80, 176
 public demonstrations against carbon taxes, 84, 90, 149
 Renewable Energy Target, 85
 Australian Business Roundtable on Climate Change, 83, 93
 automotive industry
 green advertising and positive emotions, 151–52
 green cars, 59
 banking sector
 client carbon exposure and lending policies, 56, 112
 identification of new markets/products, 57
 Barley, Stephen, 42, 169
 Beck, Ulrich, 71
 Ben & Jerry's, 150
 BHP Billiton, 83, 109, 123
 Big Green, 181
 biocentrism, 191–92
 biosemiotics, 192
 Blockadia, 180
 Bloomberg, Michael, 49
 Boeing, 76
 Boltanski, Luc, 40, 103
 Boulding, Kenneth, 28
 Bows, Alice, 179
 BP (British Petroleum)
 acknowledgement of climate change, 50, 76
 allegations of greenwashing against, 50–51
 ‘Beyond Petroleum’, rebranding
 as, 50–51
 Deepwater Horizon disaster, 51, 186
 geoengineering and, 35
 as major global CO₂ emitter, 15–16 reduced investments in renewable energy, 51
 Branson, Richard, 4, 35, 108, 122
 Breakthrough Institute, 167
 BRICS nations, role in climate negotiations, 10
 British Medical Institute, 183
 Browne, John, 50

- Canada
 - Alberta tar sands oil extraction, 82, 109, 152, 176
 - early opposition to emissions reductions, 9
 - media coverage of climate change, 10
 - political climate-change denial, 11, 58
- capitalism
 - capitalism vs environmental health conflict, 31–32, 74, 164–65
 - consumption within, 1, 31, 32–34, 44–45
 - contradictory logic of, 32–33
 - corporate environmentalism within, 43–45, 115–16
 - defence of, corporate political activity, 94
 - disaster capitalism, 35
 - green capitalism, 24, 43–44 and natural resource depletion, 31–32, 33–34, 164 and political myths, 165
 - reinvention of critique of, 40
- carbon bubble, 58, 182, 183
- carbon budget, global, 49
- carbon capture and storage (CCS), 13, 87, 89, 111, 171
- carbon democracy, 192–93
- Carbon Disclosure Project, 24, 43, 57, 85, 167, 202–3
- carbon neutrality
 - and carbon offsetting, 60
 - as corporate goal, 56
 - as environmental credential, 91
- carbon offsetting
 - promotion of by airline industry, 60, 113
 - systemic inequalities of, 39
- carbon pricing see also emissions trading schemes
 - as commodification of ecosystems, 38–39, 63
 - concept of, 37
 - corporate advocacy for, 56–57, 63
 - as greenwashing, 113
 - growth in, 37–38
 - inclusion within business valuation models, 56, 64, 112
 - as marketisation strategy, 37, 189
 - new market potential of, 57, 106
 - offsetting inequalities, 39
 - restrictive measurement framework, 68–69
 - risk analysis and, 65
- Carson, Rachel, 40
- Chevron
 - green advertising, 86
 - as major global CO₂ emitter, 15–16
 - reduced investments in renewable energy, 58
 - ‘We Agree’ PR campaign, 152
- Chiapello, Eve, 39, 40
- China Petroleum, 85
- citizens
 - as active constituents, 90–91
 - coordination of citizen and corporate interests, 89–90
 - as ecopreneurs, 92
 - as ethical employees, 91–92
 - as responsible consumers, 91
- civil society
 - civic orders of worth, 103, 105–6, 108–9
 - corporate engagement with, exemplifying, 85, 87
 - corporate involvement in, 23, 74–75, 168–69
 - marketisation of, 37
- clean coal, 87, 109, 111
- climate change
 - adaptation, 13–14, 100, 202–3
 - as collective problem, 174–75
 - current impacts, 2–3, 164
 - increasing public awareness of, 10
 - international disagreements over, 9–10
 - political acknowledgement of, 7–9
 - representative concentration pathways projecting future climate change, 13
 - as wicked problem, 6
- climate-change denial
 - corporate opposition to climate regulation, 57–58
 - corporate support for, 75–76, 78, 84
 - and creation of common identity (hegemony), 89

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More information

Index

245

- emotional response to, 149
- within the fossil fuel industries, 35
- Global Climate Coalition (GCC), 50, 75–76
- within neoconservative politics, 10–11, 57–58
- resurgence in, post-financial crisis, 77–79
- climate policies, corporate
 - agenda-setting for, 41–42, 73
- Climate Project, 6, 131
- climate science, 3, 6–7
- Climategate scandal, 10–11, 77
- Club of Rome, 40
- coal industry, 81, 82, 86–87, 111, 117, 182
- coal-seam gas
 - fossil fuel industry and, 32
 - investment in, 93, 189
 - promotion of as ‘clean’ energy, 69, 86–87
 - public demonstrations against, 70
 - as transition to renewable energy sufficiency, 173
- commensuration, 37, 38, 98, 99
- commodification
 - of the environment, 36–37, 38–39, 98–99, 119–20
 - of risk, 62–64, 65–66, 71
- Confino, Joe, 136
- consumption
 - advertising and, 164
 - beyond green consumption, 193–94
 - within capitalism, 1, 31, 32–34, 44–45
 - citizens as responsible consumers, 91
 - overconsumption and
 - the myth of corporate environmentalism, 4, 168
 - as a political process, 169–70
 - and social identities, 45–47
- Cooper, Melinda, 36
- Copenhagen climate talks, 10–11, 77, 79–80, 165
- corporate capitalism
 - corporate society vs democracy, 42
 - and environmental degradation, 29
 - incorporation of environmental criticism within, 100–2
 - paradox of and corporate environmentalism, 174–75
 - rise of, 14
 - as solution to climate change, 4
- corporate citizenship
 - corporations as citizens, 169
 - as dynamic process, 94
 - involvement in civil society, 23, 74–75, 168–69
 - marketisation of civil society, 37
 - as a political myth, 168–70
 - and political processes, 23, 169
 - and voluntary reporting, 85–86
- corporate culture see also
 - sustainability managers
 - control of employee emotionologies, 107–8, 153–54, 156–57
 - greening of, 153–55
- Corporate Eco Forum, 44
- corporate environmentalism
 - within capitalism, 43–45, 115–16
 - climate change as challenge and opportunity, 149–50
 - and commodification of the environment, 36–37, 38–39, 98–99, 119–20
 - corporate compromises, 110–13, 116, 117–19
 - corporate compromises, external
 - criticism of, 113–14
 - corporate compromises, internal
 - criticism of, 114–15
 - corporate environmental programmes, 17–22
 - as corporate political activity, 73–74
 - corporations as environmental saviours, 42–43, 83
 - and deflection of criticism, 100–2
 - development of green products, 43–44, 47–48, 58–59
 - within ecological modernisation, 167
 - economic growth within, 41–42
 - evolution of, 166–67
 - incorporation of environmental criticism within, 42–45, 189
 - myth of, 166, 167–68
 - and noble corruption, 116–17

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More information

246

Index

- corporate environmentalism (cont.)
 - overconsumption and myth of, 4, 168
 - overview of, 73, 76
 - paradox of and corporate capitalism, 174–75
- corporate omnipotence, political myth of, 170–71
- corporate political activity see also
 - lobbying strategies; political processes; public campaigns
 - campaigns for legislative outcomes, 80–81
 - climate denial strategies, 77–79
- corporate environmentalism
 - as, 73–74
 - and defence of capitalism, 94
 - and downplaying of climate crisis, 73–74
 - and fossil fuel industries, Australia, 84–85, 90
- corporate self-regulation
 - as mitigation of regulatory risks, 57
 - move towards, 175
 - as response to climate crisis, 41–42
- corporate social responsibility (CSR)
 - see also* corporate citizenship
 - growth in, 74–75
 - sustainability reporting, 85–86, 113
 - ties with corporate citizenship, 168–69
- corporations
 - degradation of the environment by, 14–16, 29
 - as economic entities, 14
 - as employers, 22, 91
 - engagement with climate change, 3–4, 16–17, 23–24, 76
 - image and employee retention, 22, 91
- creative destruction, 6, 32
- creative self-destruction
 - concept of, 1–2, 6, 28, 32, 45
 - corporate climate risk constructions as, 72
 - and the economic system, 187
 - political myths as justification for, 172
- Daly, Herman, 178–79
- Dark Mountain Project, 180
- data analysis, research, 204–5
- data collection, research, 196–204
- data, global comparisons, 205–3
- Davey, Ed, 87
- The Day After Tomorrow* (film), 87
- The Decline of Western Civilisation*, 180
- decoupling, of emissions from growth, 17–22, 179, 188
- developing nations, stances on
 - emissions targets, 9
- disaster capitalism, 35
- Doerr, John, 144–45
- Dow Jones Sustainability Index, 43, 57, 167
- Duke Energy, 56–57
- Eaarth*, 148
- Earthwatch, 18–22, 91–92
- ecological modernisation
 - continuing faith in, 187–88
 - corporate environmentalism within, 167
 - economic growth as climate-change solution, 30
 - and renewable reinvention, 173
 - technology as solution to climate change, 3–4, 32, 35–36, 75, 187–88
- economic growth
 - within capitalism, 6, 32–33, 34
 - carbon emissions and, 188
 - climate change as a challenge to, 144–45, 178, 186
 - continued and the climate crisis, 34
 - within corporate environmentalism, 41–42
 - de-growth needed for carbon emission reductions, 179–80
 - future catastrophic collapse of, 180
 - green growth as corporate solution, 30
 - and the steady-state economy, 178–79
- economic processes
 - fossil-fuel-based development vs environmental destruction, 9
 - industrialisation and environmental degradation, 30
 - and natural resource depletion, 31–32
 - within the triple bottom line, 171–72
- ecosystems, commodification of, 36–37, 38–39, 63, 119–20

- emissions trading schemes see also carbon pricing
 concept of, 37
 corporate advocacy for carbon trading, 56–57, 63 proliferation of, 37–38
 regulatory risk and, 56–57
- Emmott, Stephen, 180
- emotional debates
 within the business world, 145
 harnessing, 194
 range of responses to climate change, 143, 147
 research into, 145–46
- emotionologies calculative use of emotionality, 158–59
 championing in emotionology work, 158, 159–60
 climate change as challenge and opportunity, 149–50 climate change as threat, 147–49 compartmentalisation of emotionality, 158, 160–61
 constraint of emotionality, 158, 159 control of, corporate culture, 156–57 corporate greening and employee engagement with, 107–8, 153–54, 156–57 emotional self-management, 147 green marketing and, 150–52, 155, 162 within ideological stances, 149
 managing emotions in emotionology work, 158
 overview of, 145, 146, 161–62, 190
 positive emotions and green advertising, 150–52, 154 positive greening of corporate culture, 153, 162 public campaigns and corporate brands, 152
 range of responses to climate change, 147
 social/local inter-relationship, 146–47, 154, 157–58, 163
- employees
 as agents of change, 122
- emotional engagement with green corporate culture, 107–8, 153–54, 156–57
- employee retention, 22, 91
- ethical employees, 91–92
- function of corporate culture and, 153
- energy companies see also fossil fuel industries; individual company entries climate denial of, 35, 89 dynamic positions of, 93
 green rebranding of, 50, 91
- Engels, Friedrich, 1
- Enron, 76
- environmental criticism see also orders of worth corporate compromises, 110–13, 118–19 corporate deflection of, 186–87 double-movement of, 41 external criticism of corporate compromises, 113–14 history of, 40–41
 incorporation into corporate environmentalism, 42–45, 189 incorporation within corporate capitalism, 100–2 internal criticism of corporate compromises, 114–15 justification for corporate actions (orders of worth), 102–5, 109–10, 118
- Environmental Defense Fund, 83
- environmental degradation
 by corporations, 29
 ecological modernisation and, 30
 as key feature of capitalism (treadmill of production perspective), 31–32, 188–89
- environmental programmes, corporate, 17–22
- Esposito, Elena, 72
- Ewald, François, 52
- exemplifying
 branding and marketing strategies, 86 corporations as engaging with the climate crisis, 85, 87 to counter public criticism, 86–87
 and voluntary reporting, 85–86

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More information

248

Index

- extreme weather events
 - within corporate physical risk management, 53–56
 - increasing, 2–3
 - and risk management failures, 68
- Exxon-Mobil
 - corporate political activity of, 78–79, 81
 - funding for right-wing think tanks, 84
 - geoengineering and, 35
 - as major global CO₂ emitter, 15–16
 - as mega-corporation, 14
 - stranded asset risks, 58, 182
 - stranded assets risk assessments, 58, 182, 183
- FedEx, 18–22, 83
- Fineman, Steve, 121–22, 145, 146
- food industry
 - climate-induced adjustments to production, 129
 - orders of worth and (sustainable palm oil), 114
 - supply chain threats, 53, 55
 - water usage, 112
- fossil fuel divestment, 182–84
- fossil fuel industries
 - advertising and PR campaigns, 82, 86–87, 152
 - citizens as active constituents, public campaigns, 84, 90
 - climate-change denial and, 35
 - corporate compromises, 111
 - and corporate political activity, Australia, 81, 84–85
 - economic dependence on, 186
 - fossil fuels forever perspective, 35, 73–74, 79, 178
 - global fossil fuel emissions, 3–4
 - impact of divestment, 182–84
 - inter-national disagreements over emissions targets, 9
 - justification arguments (civic order of worth), 109
 - opposition to renewable energy, 174
 - political role, GHG emission policies, 23, 176
 - promotion of and economic growth, 81
 - promotion of as green energy, 82, 86–87
 - revenues of, 14
 - stranded assets threat, 49, 58, 182
- Foucault, Michel, 44
- Fox News, 77, 93
- fracking (hydraulic fracturing)
 - carbon emissions from, 69
 - and corporate political lobbying, 82
 - opposition to, 32, 33, 70, 180–81
 - political support for, UK, 87, 176
 - political support for, US, 42
 - as transition to renewable energy sufficiency, 173
- Frito-Lay, 150
- Gaia, 192
- Gandhi, Mahatma, 194
- Gates, Bill, 35
- Gazprom, 15–16, 18–22
- General Electric (GE), ecomagination initiative, 18–22, 41, 59, 100–2, 150–51
- geoengineering
 - growth in, 13, 35–36
 - and marketisation of the ecosystem, 35–36, 189
 - as political strategy, 36
- Gilding, Paul, 148, 172, 180
- Gillard, Julia, 80
- Glasgow University, 183
- Global Climate Coalition (GCC)
 - BP and Shell's resignation from, 50
 - formation of, 75
 - key strategies of, 75–76
- Global Reporting Initiative, 24, 43, 57, 75, 85, 167
- Going Dark*, 180
- Google, 18–22, 56
- Gramsci, Antonio, 88
- grass-roots activism, 180–82
- The Great Disruption*, 148, 172–73, 180
- green capitalism, 24, 43–44
- greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions
 - see also* emissions trading schemes
 - advertising and PR campaigns, 82–83
 - association with and reputational risk, 59–60

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More information

Index

249

- carbon dioxide concentrations, 7–8
- carbon pricing strategies, 37–38
- and climate change, 6–7, 11–12
- corporate compromises, 110–13
- corporations as producers of, 14–16
- and economic de-growth, 179–80
- and economic growth, 188
- fracking carbon emissions, 69
- geoengineering mitigation
 - methods, 35–36
- global fossil fuel emissions, 3–4
- growing concentrations of, 7–8, 174, 187
- opposition to emissions reduction targets, 9, 78–79, 176
- policy responses to, 12–13
- reductions to and global warming rates, 12
- regulatory risk and, 53, 56–58
- threat of mandatory emissions regulation, 75
- greenhouse mafia, 81
- Greenpeace, 60, 143, 148, 152
- greenwashing
 - allegations of against BP, 50–51
 - corporate marketing as, 59–60
 - criticism of as un-modelled risk, 69–70
 - as external criticism of corporate compromises, 113–14
 - General Electric's ecomagination initiative as, 100–2
 - promotion of carbon offsetting as, 113
 - as risk misfire, 70
- Hamilton, Clive, 167
- Hansen, James, 148
- Harper, Stephen, 148
- Harvey, David, 34
- Heartland Institute, 77, 78, 84
- Heathrow Airport, 181
- Heede, Richard, 15
- hegemony
 - concept of, 88
 - and coordination of citizen and corporate interests, 90
 - creation of common identity, 88–89, 120
 - fractured hegemony, 94
 - maintenance of and changing climate positions, 92–94
 - of market neoliberalism, 37, 43–45, 46
 - replacement by government protection, 95
 - synchronisation of public/corporate interests, 89–90
- Hoffman, Andrew, 122
- HSBC, 18–22, 91–92
- Hurricane Katrina, 10, 68, 147, 193
- IAG, 83
- identity see also sustainability managers
 - creation of common identity (hegemony), 88–89, 120
 - dialogical and situational, 138–39
 - social identity and consumption, 45–47
- Ikea, 18–22
- Immelt, Jeff, 100
- An Inconvenient Truth* (film), 10, 148
- industrialisation, 33
- Institute of Public Affairs (Australia), 84
- insurance companies
 - identification of new markets/products, 57
 - increasing insurance costs, 70
 - pricing risk within business models, 64, 67, 68
 - risk culture of, 65
 - un-modelled risk threats, 69
- Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), 8–9
- Jameson, Fredric, 44
- Keeling Curve, 7
- Ki-Moon, Ban, 183
- King, Martin Luther, 191, 194
- Klein, Naomi, 9, 35, 67, 95, 177–78, 180, 181
- Koch, Charles, 77–78
- Koch, David, 77–78
- Koch Industries, 77–78
- Kolbert, Elizabeth, 185, 191
- Krugman, Paul, 179
- Kyoto Protocol, 10, 58, 79, 81

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More information

250

Index

- legal identity, for natural resources, 177
- Lego, 18–22
- Leopold, Aldo, 164
- Levy, David, 76
- Limits to Growth*, 40
- lobbying strategies see also corporate political activity
 - Alberta tar sands oil extraction, 82
 - as corporate political activity, 57–58, 81–82
 - by fracking companies, 82
- MacDonald's, 83, 107–8
- MacKenzie, Donald, 71
- managers see also sustainability managers
 - personal values and environmental concerns, 105, 121–24
 - sustainability values (inspired order of worth), 107–8
- marketing
 - citizens as responsible consumers, 91
 - as exemplifying strategy, 86
 - green advertising and emotional responses, 150–52, 155, 162
 - green branding, 155
 - as greenwashing, 59–60
 - market logic for new products, 106–7
 - positive emotional advertising, fossil fuel industry, 152
 - public fatigue with, 157
- marketisation
 - as response to climate crisis, 42–43
 - carbon pricing as, 37, 189
 - of civil society, 37
 - commodification of the environment, 36–37, 38–39, 98–99, 119–20
 - geoengineering mitigation methods as, 35–36, 189
 - of risk, 64–66
- markets, economic
 - climate change as market failure, 30, 170–71
 - incorporation within the environment, 193
 - justification and market order of worth, 103
 - market-based solutions to climate crisis, 35, 42
 - market risk and, 53, 58–59
 - promotion of new carbon markets, 57, 106
- Marks & Spencer, 56
- Marx, Karl, 1, 31, 32–33
- McKibben, Bill, 1, 98, 181–82
- McPherson, Guy, 180
- Meyerson, Deborah, 140
- Middle-East opposition to emissions reductions, 9
- Minerals Council, 107–8
- mining and resource companies
 - see also* coal industry; fossil fuel industries
 - belief in carbon capture solutions, 111
 - continuation of and low-carbon economies, 117
 - corporate lobbying, 81
 - public campaigns, 82
 - reactions to extreme weather risks, 54, 55
- misfires, 48–49, 51, 68–71
- MunichRe, 76
- Natural Capital Committee (UK), 119
- natural capitalism, 36–37, 43, 98, 170
- natural resources
 - and biocentrism, 191–92
 - depletion of, capitalist system, 33–34
 - as legal entities, 177
- Nature Conservancy, 44
- neoliberalism, 37, 43–45, 46
- networking, 66–67
- New Climate Economy*, 179
- New Zealand, 177
- Newell, Peter, 37
- News Corporation, 93, 122
- NGOs (non-governmental organisations)
 - alliances with corporations, 60, 83–84, 117
 - and grass-roots activism, 181
- Nissan, green cars, 59
- nuclear power, 173–74

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More information

Index

251

- Obama, Barack, 176 Occupy, 192
 orders of worth
 civic order of worth, 103, 105–6, 108–9
 concept of, 103–5, 190
 domestic order of worth, 107
 green order of worth, 108 industrial order of worth, 107 inspired order of worth, 107–8
 market order of worth, 103, 105–7
 opinion order of worth, 108
 Oreskes, Naomi, 180
 Origin Energy, 83
- palm oil, sustainable, 114
 Patagonia, 150
 Paterson, Matthew, 37
 Paulson, Hank, 47, 49
 Peabody Energy, 91, 109, 152, 169
 Pearse, Guy, 150
 People's Climate March, 181
 Pew Center on Global Climate
 Change, 76
 Pick n Pay, 18–22
 Plane Stupid, 143, 148, 152, 181
 Polanyi, Karl, 42
 polar bears, symbolism of, 59, 86, 123, 148, 151
 political myths
 capitalism and, 165
 corporate citizenship, 168–70
 of corporate environmentalism,
 4, 166–68
 of corporate omnipotence, 170–71 creation of new myths, 172–73 as justification for creative self-destruction, 172
 overview of, 165–66, 190–91
 and the triple bottom line, 171–72 political processes see also corporate political activity capitalism vs environmental health conflict, 31–32, 74, 164–65 climate-change denial within,
 10–11, 57–58
 consumption as, 169–70
 and corporate citizenship, 23, 169 corporate influences over, 190 and corporate opposition to climate-change strategies, 31, 176 corporate performative risk-framing and policy influences, 66–67, 71 and framing of risk, 48–49
 geoengineering strategies, 36 positive political motivation, 191
 Polman, Paul, 136
 Porter, Michael, 122
 PricewaterhouseCoopers, 179–80
 public campaigns
 astroturfing, 84
 Australian coal industry, 86–87
 corporate funding and, 84
 as corporate political activity, 80–81, 82
 by corporations as environmental saviours, 83
 to define the social debate, 83–84 opposition to carbon regulation, 82 positive emotional advertising, fossil fuel industry, 152
 using citizens as active constituents, 90–91
 Puma, 136
- Qantas, 60
 QBE Insurance, 69
- Raymond, Lee, 79
 regulations see also corporate self-regulation and corporate interests, 74, 95, 177 future role of, 177–78
 lack of, continued fossil fuel extraction, 176–77
 regulatory risk, 53, 56–58
 state role and, 40–41, 175–76
 renewable energy fossil fuel industries opposition to, 174
 reduced investments in renewable energy, 51, 58
 shale and coal-seam gas as transition to, 173
 solar photovoltaic, 58–59, 173, 174, 182
 wind, 12, 86, 106, 173, 174, 202–3
 Renewable Energy Target
 (Australia), 85

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More information

252

Index

- renewable reinvention
 - shift to renewable energy, 173
 - use of nuclear power, 173–74
- Repsol, 85
- Republican Party (USA), 77, 146
- reputational risk, corporate, 53, 59–60, 65, 70
- Rio First Earth Summit, 8–9
- risk discourses
 - climate risk as performative activity, 71
 - commodification of risk, 62–64, 65–66, 71
 - economisation of risk
 - constructs, 64–66
 - within institutions and practices, 47–48, 64–66
 - and re-framing of the climate crisis, 48–49, 60–62, 70–72, 189
- risk management
 - adaptability of climate re-framing, 70–72
 - carbon pricing within, 64, 65
 - constructionalist perspective of, 52
 - corporate constructions of risk, 51–52
 - distribution of calculability, 67–68
 - inter-organisational influences and policy convergences, 66–67, 71
 - market risk, 53, 58–59
 - non-market actors as unforeseen risks, 69–70
 - as performative construct, 48–49, 60–62, 71
 - physical risk, 53–56
 - politicisation of, 66–68
 - regulatory risk, 53, 56–58
 - reputational risk, 53, 59–60, 65, 70
 - risk as an economic cost, 67–68
 - risk types and responses to, 52–53
 - strategic risk analyses of business threats, 49–51
 - un-modelled risk threats, 68, 69–70
- Robinson, Mary, 183
- Rockefeller Foundation, 183
- Rockefeller, John D., 183
- sacrifice zones, 31, 67–68
- Saudi Aramco, 15–16
- Schumpeter, Joseph, 1, 6, 32
- Scully, Maureen, 140
- shared value, 74–75, 122
- Shell (Royal Dutch Shell)
 - acknowledgement of climate change, 76
 - geoengineering and, 35
 - as major global CO₂ emitter, 15–16
 - reduced investments in renewable energy, 58
 - revenues of, 14
 - stranded asset risks, 58, 182
- Should Trees Have Standing*, 177
- Silent Spring*, 40
- Sixth Great Extinction, 30–31
- Slocum, Rachel, 148
- solastalgia, 147
- Sony, 18–22
- spaceship Earth, 192
- Spicer, Andre, 76
- Stanford University, 183
- Statoil, 85
- steady-state economy, 178–79
- Stern, Sir Nicholas, 28, 30, 165
- Stone, Christopher, 177
- Storms of My Grandchildren*, 148
- stranded asset risks, 49, 182
- Superstorm Sandy, 68, 147
- supply chains, 17, 24, 41, 49, 54, 55, 107, 111
- sustainability
 - and corporate compromises, 112, 115–16
 - noble corruption and, 116–17
- sustainability managers
 - achievement identity genre, 134
 - calculative use of emotionality, 158–59
 - championing in emotionology work, 158, 159–60
 - as committed activists, 125–26, 130–31, 132–33
 - compartmentalisation of emotionality, 158, 160–61
 - compromised roles of, 116–17, 118–19, 120–21, 138, 162–63
 - constraint of emotionality, 158, 159
 - emotional dissonance, local/social emotionologies, 157–58, 162, 163
 - epiphany identity genre, 136–37

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More information

Index

253

- as green change agents, 125–26, 128–30
- heroic identity genre, 134
- home vs work identities, 133, 161
- identities of, 124–26, 190
- lack of personal environmental concerns, 121–22
- managing emotions in emotionology work, 158
- narrative identity genres of, 135–36, 137–38, 139, 140
- personal lifestyle choices, 133
- political nature of identity work, 140–41
- promotion of employee engagement, 107–8, 153–54, 156–57
- as rational managers, 124–28, 131–32
- role within greening of corporate culture, 153–55
- sacrifice identity genre, 137, 139
- shifting identities of, 131–33
- transformation identity genre, 134–36, 139
- sustainability reporting, 85–86, 113
- SwissRe, 76
- tar sands oil extraction, Canada
 - as ethical oil, 109
 - political support for, 176
 - PR campaign, Canada, 152
 - promotion of as green energy, 82
- Tata Motors, 18–22
- Tea Party (USA), 77, 149
- technology
 - green advertising, car industry, 151–52
 - innovation and hope, marketing, 150–51
 - investment in, mitigation of market risks, 58–59
 - as solution to climate change, 3–4, 32, 35–36, 75, 187–88
- Ten Billion*, 180
- Tesco, 150
- Thatcher, Margaret, 8
- Thévenot, Laurent, 103
- think tanks
 - and ecological modernisation, 167
 - climate-change denial and, 77
 - corporate alliances with, 24, 53, 73–74, 80, 88–89, 96, 192
 - corporate support for, 78, 84
 - role in shaping emotional norms, 146
- 350.org, 181–82
- 3M, 76
- Timberland, 150
- Toyota
 - green cars, 59
 - Prius hybrid, 59, 157
- Transatlantic Trade and Investment Partnership (TTIP), 95, 177
- Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP), 95, 177
- treadmill of production perspective, 31–32, 188–89
- triple bottom line, 171–72
- Tutu, Desmond, 183
- Tyndall Centre for Climate Change, 179
- Typhoon Haiyan, 147
- Unilever
 - corporate environmental programme, 18–22
 - corporate environmentalism, 76, 136
 - personal epiphany of CEO, 136
 - Project Sunlight, 90
- United Kingdom
 - corporate political lobbying, 82
 - Ecosystem Markets Task Force, 36, 98
 - media coverage of climate change, 10
 - Natural Capital Committee, 119
 - political support for fracking, 176
- United Nations Global Compact, 75, 168–69
- United States of America (USA)
 - domestic political influence on climate negotiations, 10, 76, 77
 - emotional response to climate change, 148
 - failure to ratify Kyoto Protocol, 10
 - media coverage of climate change, 10
 - opposition to emissions reduction targets, 9, 176
 - political climate-change denial, 11, 58

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-07822-2 - Climate Change, Capitalism, and Corporations: Processes of Creative Self-Destruction

Christopher Wright and Daniel Nyberg

Index

More information

254

Index

Vale, 18–22
values, environmental, 193
Visy Industries, 83

Walmart, 17, 41, 83, 150
Warden, Gary, 123–24, 136
Westpac, 83
Whirlpool, 76
Winston, Andrew, 102

World Business Council for Sustainable Development, 76
World Council of Churches, 183
WWF (World Wildlife Fund), 18, 44

Yusoff, Kathryn, 148

Zeitj, Jochen, 136
Žižek, Slavoj, 44