

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

Index

- abortion, polarization over, 231–233
- Abramowitz, Alan, 12–13, 21–25, 83–86, 148–150, 158, 195–207, 279
- Abrams, Samuel J., 21–25, 208, 231–233
- Abramson, Paul R., 178–179
- accountability, 222–223, 243–245
- accuracy, reflexive partisanship and, 186–189
- Ackerman, Bruce, 159–162
- Adelson, Sheldon, 126–128
- administrative agencies, Congressional polarization and power of, 50–51
- Affordable Care Act
 - asymmetric polarization in fight over, 60–61*ii*
 - barriers to passage of, 204–207
 - coalition demographics and, 198–202
 - elites and public disconnect over, 158–159
 - public campaign for, 275–278
 - reflexive partisanship and, 186–189
- African American voters. See also nonwhite voters
 - Democratic Party and, 198–202
 - polarization and enfranchisement of, 10–11, 148–150
 - Southern party realignment and, 16–21, 27*iii*, 208–211
- “aggregate” opinion, as political staple, 231–233
- agreement in negotiations
 - strategies for reaching, 245–251
 - zone of possible agreement, 263–266
- Ahler, Doug, 61–65, 168, 169–170
- Aldrich, John, 36–37, 39–42, 152–154, 178–179, 208–211
- Alito, Samuel, 80
- alternative voting proposals, 75
- Alvarez, Michael, 182–183
- American National Election Study (ANES), 179–184, 198–202, 204–207
- American Political Science Association, 38–42, 213–216
 - polarization task force, 10–11, 51–52, 208–211, 266–267
- Americans for Tax Reform, 211
- Andres, Gary, 256–257
- Ansolabehere, Stephen, 21–25, 32–34
- anti-majoritarian rules, party democracy system and, 204–207
- anti-party approach to polarization, 124–126
- anti-tax activists, 211
- Anzia, Sarah F., 113*iii*
- appointments. See also presidential appointments
 - asymmetric polarization and blocking of, 59–61
 - political benefits of blocking, 67
 - storable vote scheme and obstruction of, 162–163
- appropriations bills, delays and brinksmanship concerning, 46–47, 47*f*
- Aristotle, 263
- Arnold, Douglas, 241–243
- asymmetric polarization, 10
 - historical measurements of, 16–17, 17*f*, 19*f*, 21
 - overview of, 59–68
 - Republican Party role in, 59–61
 - solutions for, 65–68
- Australia
 - equal representation in Senate of, 77
 - instant runoff voting without primaries in, 75

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

286

Index

- Australia (cont.)
 mandatory voting, 78–79
 progressive parties in, 73
 Austria, proportional representation in, 77 availability heuristic, negotiation failure and, 263–266
 Ayres, Ian, 159–162
- “bad government approach” to polarization reduction, 126–131
 Bafumi, Joseph, 21–25, 32–34, 38–42
 Balanced Budget Act of 1997, 279
 Ball, Molly, 235–236 ballot notations, pro-party primary reforms
 and, 128–130
 Barber, Michael, 5, 10–11, 15–34, 52, 139–140, 257–259
 “Bargaining in Legislatures” (Baron and Ferejohn), 241–243 bargaining strategies, 241–243, 247–250
 Baron, David, 241–243
 Baron, David P., 32–34, 241–243
 Barreto, Matt A., 45
 Barry, Mindy, 247–250
 Bartels, Larry, 21–25, 31–32, 61–65, 178–179
 Bauer, Robert, 133, 134
 Baumer, Donald C., 83–86
 Bawn, Kathleen, 61–65, 208–211
 Bayh, Evan, 61–65
 Belgium
 mandatory voting, 78–79
 proportional representation in, 77
 Bennett, W. Lance, 183–184
 Bergan, Daniel, 34–35
 Bessett, Joseph M., 252–253
 bimodal preference distribution, polarization
 and, 21–25
 Binder, Sarah, 12–13, 42, 47–50, 51–52, 100–101, 240–259, 263–266, 269
 Binning, Kevin, 186–189
 Bipartisan Campaign Reform Act, 126–128, 152–154 bipartisan norms breakdown of, 38n17
 “conservative coalition” and, 208–211 decline in U.S. of, 105, 108f gridlock and restoration of, 202–203, 202t
 immigration politics case study and, 43–45
 interparty negotiations and, 247–250
 party democracy as alternative to, 204–207
 Presidential Commission on Election Administration research on, 132–135
- bipartisanship political price of, 230–231 secrecy in negotiations in, 252–253
 Bishop, Bill, 83–86, 98–99
 Bizer, George Y., 275–278
 Blake, Aaron, 247–250
 “blanket” primary, 96–98
 Bliley, Tom, 246–250, 252–253
 “blind spot” of voter ignorance, 208–211 “Bloody Eighth” congressional district recount controversy, 10
 Boehner, John, 43–45, 61n4, 65, 235–236, 243–245
 Bolsen, Toby, 275–278
 Bonica, Adam, 11–12, 158, 165–177, 183–184
 Boozman, John, 252–253
 Bork, Robert, 10
 Borning, Alan, 183–184 bottom-up strategies for polarization reduction, 13–14, 134–135
 Brady, David W., 29–30, 176–177, 275–278
 Brewer, Mark D., 83–86, 198–202
 Britton, Brian, 133–134 budget-reconciliation process, 39–42, 279
 Bullock, John G., 275–278
 Bullock, Will, 29–30 bureaucratic politics, polarization and, 50–51
 Burnham, Walter Dean, 20–21
 Burns, James McGregor, 271–272
 Burr, Aaron, 8
 Bush, George W., 80, 243–245, 247–250, 256–257, 281–282
Bush v. Gore, 10, 60–61n1, 80 business community, asymmetric polarization
 and, 65–68
 Byrd Rule, 39–42
- cable television
 Congressional polarization and, 34–35
 generational differences in polarization
 and, 189–191
 presidential appearances on, 275–278 voter turnout changes and, 179–182, 182f, 184
 Cain, Bruce, 11, 157–164
 California
 open primary in, 87 primary election reform in, 169–170, 233–235 redistricting reform in, 86–87
 “top-two” primary in, 29–30, 74–75, 96–98
 California Redistricting Commission, 98–99

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

Index

287

- campaign financing
 - contribution limits and, 126–128
 - as donor data source, 168, 171*f*
 - matching private-public financing systems, 154–155
 - non-party committee spending, 93*f*
 - party fragmentation and, 152–154
 - party strength and role of, 87–89, 93*f*, 126–128, 213–216
 - permanent campaigning and, 275–278
 - polarization and, 32–33, 33*f*, 34
 - reform of, 87–89, 125
 - state-level legislative polarization and, 139–140
 - voucher public finance scheme and, 159–162
- campaigning, governing by, 275–278
- Campbell, Angus, 185–189
- Canada
 - equal representation in Senate of, 77
 - single member districts in, 76–77
- candidate entry, polarization and, 167–168
- Canes-Wrone, Brandice, 176–177, 256–257
- Cantril, Hadley, 186
- Carsey, Thomas, 21–25
- Carson, Jamie L., 27–28
- Casella, Alessandra, 158–159, 162–163
- CBO (Congressional Budget Office), 254–255
- CBS News, 279
- Center for Voting and Democracy, 74–75
- centrism
 - proposals for developing, 230–238
 - of public electorate, 165–177
 - resistance to asymmetric polarization
 - evidence and adherence to, 61–65
- Centrist Party, proposals for establishing, 236–238
- Chaffee, Steven H., 189–191
- chained Consumer Price Index proposal, 252–253
- Chamber of Commerce, 68
- checks and balances. See separation of powers
- China, Nixon in, 269–272
- Cillizza, Chris, 233–235
- citizen participation
 - data technology and, 176–177
 - expansion of, 204–207
 - generational differences in polarization and, 189–191
 - intervention strategies for increasing, 178–179
 - polarization reduction and role of, 148–150, 154–155
 - sporadic trends in, 157–164
 - vouchers for public campaign financing and, 159–162
- Citizens United*, 79–80
- Citrin, Jack, 61–65
- civil rights movement, polarization and, 148–150
- Clean Air Act Amendments, 279
- Clinton, Bill, 61–65, 101–102, 247–250, 279
 - impeachment of, 10, 59–61
- Clinton, Joshua D., 21–25, 29–30
- closed primaries, proposal for elimination of, 96–97, 97*n*1, 98
- cloture rules (Senate)
 - changes to, 213–216, 225–227
 - history of, 208–211, 220*f*, 226*n*3
 - media coverage of, 222–223
 - Senate Syndrome and, 219–222
 - storable vote scheme and, 162–163
 - veto pivots and, 39–42
- Club for Growth, 211
- CMP (Comparative Manifestos Project), 116–119, 118*f*
- coalition demographics
 - Congressional dealmaking and, 243–245
 - party line and straight-ticket voting and, 83–86
 - policy differences and, 198–202
- coalition management
 - distributive vs. integrative negotiation
 - models and, 241–243
 - interparty negotiations and, 247–250
 - political parties and, 208–211
 - Senate Syndrome and, 218–219
 - starting premises in, 243–245
- Coelho, Tony, 152–154
- Cogan, John F., 176–177
- Cohen, Geoffrey L., 186–189, 208–211
- Coleman, Mayes, Michelle, 133–134
- Commission on Immigration Reform, 43–45
- Committee of the Whole (House of Representatives), 35–36
- committee system of policy development, 47–50, 255–256
- communications technology. See also information technology
 - GOTV mobilization of moderate voters and, 183–184
 - moderate voters and, 165–177
 - negotiations and, 256

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

288

Index

- communications technology (cont.)
 - party fragmentation and, 152–154
 - polarization reduction and, 178–179
- communities of interest, redistricting reform and, 86–87
- compactness, in redistricting reform, 86–87
- Comparative Manifestos Project (CMP), 116–119, 118*f*
- Comparative Study of Electoral Systems, 116–119, 119*f*
- compromise
 - basic premises in, 243–245
 - Congressional dealmaking and, 240–259
 - deliberative democracy principles and, 278–279
 - distributive vs. integrative negotiation models and, 241–243
 - privacy in negotiations and, 279
 - sources of, 146–147
- concurrent election cycles, 204–207
- conflict extension, voter polarization research, 21–25
- confrontation, policy-making and, 281–282
- congestion pricing, campaign finance reform and, 159–162
- Congressional Budget Office (CBO), 254–255
- Congressional jurisdiction, negotiation and role of, 246–247
- Congressional polarization. See also House of Representatives; Senate
 - bipartisan norms, breakdown of, 38
 - centrist disempowerment and, 235–236
 - concurrent election cycles and reduction of, 204–207
 - consequences of, 38–42
 - dealmaking and, 240–259
 - declining power of Congress and, 50–51
 - delays and brinksmanship and, 46–47
 - distributive vs. integrative negotiation models and, 241–243
 - external influences on, 21–35
 - gerrymandering and, 27–28
 - ideological measurement and forecasting and, 170–172
 - immigration politics case study, 43–45
 - impact on U.S. governance of, 51–52
 - internal influences on, 35–38
 - intraparty negotiations and, 250–251
 - latent majority and, 233–235
 - legislative productivity and, 42
 - limits of negotiation and, 257–259
 - majority-party agenda control and, 36
 - media coverage of politics and, 34–35
 - negotiation instruments and, 251–257, 263–266
 - party pressures and, 36–37
 - penalty defaults and, 253–254
 - policy outcomes and, 45–51
 - political action committees influence in, 32–34
 - popular vote comparisons with, 158
 - presidential leadership and, 256–257
 - primary elections and, 29–30
 - public distrust and, 275–278
 - redistricting and, 198–202
 - research on, 20–21
 - rule changes in House and Senate and, 35–36
 - secrecy in negotiations and, 252–253
 - strategies for reaching agreement and, 245–251
 - supermajoritarian leadership selection and, 39–42, 100–101
 - teammanship and, 37–38
 - voter polarization vs., 21–25, 38–42
- Congressional primaries, increasing turnout for, 96–98
- constituency relationships, 243–245, 269–272
- Constitution (U.S.)
 - deliberative democracy principles and, 278–279
 - electoral foundations of polarization and, 83–86
 - equal representation of states in, 77
 - gridlock and separation of powers in, 7–8, 12–13
 - penalty defaults and, 253–254
 - polarization and role of, 213–216
 - “constitutional hardball,” asymmetric polarization and, 64*n*7, 65–68
- continuing resolutions, delays and brinksmanship and use of, 46–47
- contribution limits, proposed increases in, 87–89
- Converse, Philip, 185–189
- Cox, Gary, 36, 39–42
- Cox, Gary W., 255–256
- Crosier, Timothy R., 275–278
- cross-party coalitions, creation of electoral incentives for, 83–86
- Cruz, Ted, 73–74, 152–154
- C-SPAN, House proceedings on, 34–35
- cultural divide, partisanship and, 198–202

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

- Dahl, Robert, 77, 212–213
 “Daisy” ad, 8–9
 Dale, Allison, 182–183
 Dancey, Logan, 275–278
 Daschle, Tom, 61–65
 “data driven voter guides,” 11–12
 data science data-driven voter guide, 172–173
 example of voter prompt, 173–174, 174*f*, 175 future challenges in, 176–177
 generational differences in polarization
 and, 190–191
 GOTV mobilization of moderate voters
 and, 182–183
 moderate voters and, 165–177
 Davis, Gray, 9
 De Figueiredo, John M., 32–34 debt ceiling abolition proposals for, 12–13, 204–207 delays and brinksmanship concerning,
 46–47 political benefits of blocking increases in, 67 deliberative democracy, mechanisms of,
 278–279
 DellaVigna, Stefano, 34–35
 Delli Carpini, Michael X., 189–191 democracy. See also specific countries international comparisons of, 81, 116–119 polarization and expansion of, 124–126 popular sovereignty mythology concerning, 150–151
 proposals for restoring access to, 195–207 Democratic coalition, 4–5, 218–219 democratic distortion, polarization and,
 157–164
 Democratic Leadership Council, 61–65, 68
 Democratic Party
 erosion of politics-constraining norms and, 10 fragmentation within, 147
 immigration politics case study and, 43–45 inefficient distribution of supporters of, 61–65 partisan identification with, 21–25
 racial divide and, 198–202
 repositioning to the left by, 16–21, 29*n*12
 Southern party realignment and, 27 votes in 2012 House election and, 75–76 democratization and polarization, 73–81 dependence corruption, negotiation strategies
 and, 269–272
 Development, Relief, and Education for Alien Minors (DREAM) Act, 43–45 differential trades, negotiations and, 263–266 dimensionality of political conflict, historical reduction in, 16–21
 “disappearing quorum,” in House of Representatives, 208–211 distributive negotiation model, Congressional dealmaking and, 241–243
 District of Columbia, full voting rights for, 77 divided government electoral foundations of polarization and,
 83–86 legislative productivity and, 42
 negotiation limits and, 257–259
 party democracy as alternative to, 204–207
 polarization and, 39–42 separation of powers and, 146–147 trends in U.S. toward, 105
 Dodd, Chris, 247–250
 Dodd-Frank financial regulatory reform, 250–251, 255–256
 donor data campaign financing transparency and, 168 example of voter prompt, 173–174, 174*f*, 175 ideological measurement and forecasting
 and, 170–172
 Dost, Meredith, 281–282
 Downsian analysis, resistance to asymmetric polarization evidence and, 61–64, 64*n*6, 65 DREAM (Development, Relief, and Education for Alien Minors) Act, 43–45
 Druckman, James N., 275–278
 Drudge Report, 185–186
 Duck, Julie M., 275–278
 Durbin, Dick, 43–45
 DW-NOMINATE measurements of African American and Latino House members, 27*n*11
 asymmetric polarization by Republican Party, 59–61
 Congressional negotiations and, 241–243
 House and Senate rule changes and, 20*f*, 35–36
 ideological measurement and forecasting, 170–172
 latent majority and, 233–235 of polarization, 16–17, 17*f*, 19*f*, 21, 29*f* dysfunctional two-party presidentialism, 104–108, 108*f*, 116

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

290

Index

- early voting laws, 9–10
- earmarks, bans on, 13, 152–154
- Echevarria, Joe, 133–134
- economic inequality, polarization and, 10–11, 31–32, 31*f*, 45–51, 262*n*1
- economic issues
- international comparisons of politics and, 116–119
 - partisan division over, 20–21, 23*f*
- Edwards, George C. III, 12–13, 36–37, 101–102, 256–257, 275–282
- Edwards, Mickey, 197–198
- Edwards-Levy, Ariel, 101–102
- Ehrenhalt, Alan, 266–267
- Eilperin, Juliet, 38, 197–198
- “electoral blind-spot” of voters, asymmetric polarization and, 61–65
- Electoral College, 65–68, 83–86
- “electoral price,” of asymmetric polarization, 61–65
- electoral reform. See also primary elections
- campaign financing reforms, 87–89
 - county population density and Democratic presidential vote, 110–111*f*
 - gridlock and, 83–86, 198–202
 - latent majority empowerment and, 233–235
 - negotiation in contested elections and, 268
 - news media and, 89
 - polarization and, 11, 83–90
 - primary elections and, 87
 - proposals for, 12–13, 73–81
 - redistricting reform and, 86–87
 - Senate Syndrome and, 218–219, 227–228
 - voucher public finance scheme and, 159–162
- elite political leaders
- breakdown of democracy and, 197–198
 - electoral decision making and role of, 150–151
 - increased polarization in, 178–179
 - norms of moderation and role of, 65–68
 - popular participation ideology vs., 154–155
 - public opinion disconnect with, 158–159
- endogenous preferences, Congressional dealmaking and, 241–243
- Engaging News Project, 186–189
- Enos, Ryan, 182–183
- Ensley, Michael J., 32–34
- entitlement programs, delays and brinksmanship concerning, 46–47
- Epstein, David, 50–51
- Epstein, Leon D., 154–155, 208–211
- equal representation of states, Republican electoral advantage in Senate and, 77
- estate tax policy, polarization concerning, 47–49, 49*n*20, 50
- e.thePeople website, 183–184
- ethnicity of candidates, 213–216
- Evans, C. Lawrence, 241–243
- executive branch
- gridlock and veto power of, 39–42
 - impact of polarization on, 51–52
 - unilateral actions and, 50–51
- exogenous preferences, Congressional dealmaking and, 241–243
- expertise, negotiation using, 254–255
- extended republic democracy model, 212–213
- external environment, 21–35, 225–227
- extra-constitutional rules, gridlock and, 7–8
- fact-checking movement, 186–189
- Fair Vote Top Four proposal, 74–75
- Fallows, James, 222–223
- false equivalence, media Senate coverage and, 222–223
- Farhang, Sean, 50–51
- Farrand, Max, 278–279
- “fast track” legislative procedures, 219–222
- Federal Aviation Administration, 253–254
- federal revenues, bipartisanship and growth of, 208–211
- Federalist Papers, 212–213
- feminist movement, 211
- Ferejohn, John, 241–243
- filibusters
- asymmetric polarization and use of, 59–61
 - gridlock and, 7–8, 202–203, 202*t*
 - history of, 208–211
 - party democracy system and, 204–207
 - policy making and, 39–42, 47–50, 212–213
 - political benefits of, 67
 - proposed abolition of, 78
 - reform proposals for, 12–13
 - Senate Syndrome and, 219–222
 - storable vote scheme as alternative to, 162–163
 - supermajoritarian leadership selection and, 39–42, 100–101
- Fine, Terri Susan, 213–216
- Fiorina, Morris P., 21–25, 61–65, 158, 178–179, 197–198, 208, 231–233, 275–278, 279
- fiscal cliff, 46–47, 243–245, 253–254, 281–282

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More informationIndex

291

- fiscal governance “crises,” delays and brinkmanship and, 46–47
- 501(c)(4) organizations, 8–9
- fixed pie bias, 263–267
- fixed preferences, Congressional dealmaking
and, 241–243
- Follett, Mary Parker, 241–243
- Food Quality Protection Act, 246–250
- Foster, Chase, 263–266
- Fowler, Anthony, 182–183
- Fox News, 101–102, 185–186
- framing of information, polarization and,
275–278
- Frank, Barney, 243–245, 246–251, 252–253
- free speech, 158–162
- Freelon, Deen G., 183–184
- Frey, William, 198–202

- Galinsky, Adam D., 263–266
- Gallup poll, 279, 281–282
- Gang of Eight, 43–45, 247–250
- Gang of Six, 255–256
- GAO (Government Accountability Office), 254–255
- Garand, James C., 31–32
- Garrett, R. Kelly, 186–189
- Gelman, Andrew, 31–32
- gender of candidates, 213–216
- Gentzkow, Matthew, 34–35, 186–189
- geography
 - Congressional districting and partisan divide and, 198–202
 - extremist candidates and, 233–235
 - gridlock and, 104–116
- Gephardt, Richard, 61–65
- Gerber, Elisabeth R., 29–30, 34–35, 87, 182–183
- German, Ben, 222–223
- Germany
 - Constitutional Court in, 80
 - proportional representation in, 77
 - redistricting reform and, 130–131
- Gerring, John, 208–211
- gerrymandering
 - asymmetric polarization and, 61–65
 - Electoral College vote and, 65–68
 - impact of, 98–99
 - polarization and, 27–28
 - redistricting practices and, 86–87,
130–131
 - reforms of, 13–14
 - single member districts and, 75–76
- Get-out-the-Vote (GOTV) mobilization
 - efforts, moderate voters and, 182–183
- Ghana, two-party system in, 104
- Gilens, Martin, 31–32
- Gilmour, John, 37–38, 243–245
- Gimpel, James, 29–30, 32–34
- Gingrich, Newt, 34–35, 59–61, 61n4, 63n5, 83–86, 218–219, 247–250
- Gini coefficient of family income, state-level
polarization and, 140–143
- Ginsberg, Ben, 134
- Gold, Howard J., 83–86
- Goldfarb, Zachary A., 278
- “good government” approach to polarization reduction, 124–126, 130–131
- Gore, Al, 61–65, 80
- Goren, Paul, 275–278
- GOTV (Get-out-the-Vote) mobilization
 - efforts, moderate voters and, 182–183
- governance
 - by campaigning, 275–278
 - election splitting as barrier to, 231–233
 - party organization models and, 208–211
 - polarization and capacity for, 146–155
 - presidential investment in public and, 275–278
- Government Accountability Office (GAO), 254–255
- government shutdown
 - asymmetric polarization and, 59–61
 - political costs of, 247–250
 - public opposition to, 279
- Grayson, Try, 133–134
- Green, Donald P., 182–183, 235–236, 275–278
- gridlock
 - electoral foundations of, 83–86, 198–202
 - elite politics and, 197–198
 - geography and, 104–116
 - ideological divisions and, 202–203, 202t
 - impact on U.S. governance of, 51–52
 - legislative productivity and, 42
 - overview of solutions to, 10–13
 - party strength and, 124–126
 - polarization and, 7–8
 - polarization case study of, 43–45
 - policy outcomes and, 45–51
 - political benefits of, 67
 - political costs of, 271–272
 - proposals for reducing, 195–207
 - supermajoritarian institutions and, 39–42, 100–101
 - voter alienation and, 61–65

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

292

Index

- “gridlock interval,” 39–42
 Groseclose, Timothy, 34–35, 36–38 gun rights supporters, 211
- Hacker, Jacob, 10, 59–68, 271–272
 Hacker, Jacob S., 47–50, 253–254
 Hall, Robert L., 32–34
 Hamilton, Alexander, 8
 Han, Hahrie, 29–30
 Hare, Christopher, 59–61
 Harkin, Tom, 225–227
 Hasen, Rick, 159–162
 Hastall, Matthias R., 190–191
 Hastert rule, 235–236
 Hastorf, Albert H., 186
 Hatch, Orin, 43–45
 Healy, Andrew, 61–65
 Hecl, Hugh, 275–278
 Heitland, Kirsten, 186–189
 Herron, Michael C., 21–25, 32–34, 38–42
 Hersh, Eitan, 182–183 heterogeneity parties, governance and, 208–211
 Hewlett Foundation, 182–183
 Hibbing, John, 252–253
The Hill, 222–223
 Hirano, Shigeo, 29–30
 Hix, Simon, 116–119
 Hoffman, Adam H., 29–30 holds
 gridlock and, 7–8
 policy making and, 47–50
 Hopkins, Asa, 182–183
 Hopkins, Daniel J., 34–35
 House of Representatives
 Centrist Party proposals for, 236–238
 external influences on, 21–35
 gerrymandering and, 27–28
 immigration politics case study and, 43–45
 internal influences on, 35–38 majority-party agenda control in, 36 media coverage of politics and, 34–35 partisan polarization and, 218–219 party line and straight-ticket voting trends in election to, 83–86 political action committees influence in, 32–34
 primary elections and, 29–30 proportional representation for elections to, 76–77 reform proposals for rules of, 12–13 Republican advantage in elections to, 75–76, 91, 91*f*, 92*f*, 94 research on, 20–21
 rule changes in, 35–36
 Speaker of the House, 12–13, 36–37, 235–236
 supernumerary leadership selection in, 39–42, 100–101
How Democratic is the American Constitution? (Dahl), 77
 H.R. 4437 immigration bill, 43–45
 Hulse, Carle, 247–250 human error, negotiation failure and, 263–266 hyperpartisanship
 gridlock and, 7–8
 in media outlets, 34–35 party size and, 6–7
 polarization and, 4–7
- ideological division and coherence electoral rewards for, 83–86
 gridlock and, 7–8, 197–198, 202–203, 202*t* history of partisanship and, 208–211
 hyperpartisanship and, 5 measurement and forecasting of, 170–171, 171*f*, 172
 polarization and, 157–164
 teamsmanship and, 37–38 ideologically motivated PACs, 32–34, 87–89 immigration backlash against Obama and, 275–278 interparty negotiations on, 247–250 issue entrepreneurship involving, 246
 polarization case study of, 43–45
 Immigration Reform and Control Act (IRCA), 43–45 incivility, polarization and, 8–10 income distribution, polarization and, 24*n*8, 31*f*, 31–32 incumbency, 13, 213–216, 268
 Independent Counsel, creation of, 124–126 independent voters, 6, 34–35, 183–184
 India, proportional representation in, 77 individual donors campaign finance reform and, 87–89, 159–162 example of voter prompt, 173–174, 174*f*, 175 extreme voting records of candidates and role of, 139–140 ideological measurement and forecasting and, 170–172
 matching contributions of, 126–128

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

Index

293

- political extremism of, 32–33, 33f, 34, 64n6
- spending by, 93f
- industrial regulation, bipartisanship and growth of, 208–211
- information technology. See also
 - communications technology
 - data-driven voter guides, 172–173
 - expertise as negotiating tool and, 254–255
 - future challenges in, 176–177
 - generational differences in polarization and, 189–191
- GOTV mobilization of moderate voters and, 183–184
- moderate voters and, 165–177
- online news sites and, 186–189
- reflexive partisanship and, 185–189
- voter competence and, 169–170
- instant runoff voting (IRV)
 - Senate elections and, 226n3, 227–228, 228n4
 - without primaries, 75
- institutional-design approach to polarization reduction, 148–150, 163–164, 255–256
- integrative negotiation model, Congressional dealmaking and, 241–243
- “intense demanders,” Congressional dealmaking and, 243–245
- interest group politics, 157–164, 208–211
- internal environment, Congressional polarization and, 20–21, 35–38
- international comparisons of democracy and polarization, 81, 104, 116–119
- Internet, Congressional polarization and, 34–35
- interparty negotiations, Congressional dealmaking and, 247–250
- intraparty negotiations, 250–251, 257–259
- investor concern over U.S. polarization, 105
- IRCA (Immigration Reform and Control Act), 43–45
- IRV. See instant runoff voting
- issue constraint, polarization and impact of, 18–20, 23f
- issue entrepreneurship, Congressional negotiations and agreements and, 246
- Iyengar, Shanto, 21–25, 190–191
- Jackman, Molly C., 113n1, 190–191
- Jackman, Simon D., 21–25
- Jacobs, Lawrence R., 275–278
- Jacobson, Gary C., 11, 32–34, 61–65, 83–90, 152–154, 179–184, 198–202, 279
- Jamieson, Kathleen Hall, 186–189
- Jennings, M. Kent, 189–191
- Jerit, Jennifer, 186–189
- Johnson, Jenna, 252–253
- Johnson, Lyndon, 152–154
- Joint Committee on Deficit Reduction, 253–254
- judicial branch. See also Supreme Court
 - polarization and, 50–52
 - policy making and role of, 212–213
- judicial nominations, 213–216, 219–222, 225–227
- Kaiser, Robert, 240–250, 254–255, 259
- Kamarck, Elaine, 11, 12–13, 96–102, 235–236
- Kane, Paul, 235–236
- Kaplan, Ethan, 34–35
- Karlan, Dean, 34–35
- Karol, David, 12–13, 208–216, 243–245
- Katznelson, Ira, 61–65
- Kaufmann, Karen M., 29–30
- Kelner, Robert, 152–154
- Kernell, Samuel, 89, 256–257, 275–278
- Khanna, Kabir, 186–189
- Kim, Young Mie, 186–189
- Kingdon, John W., 256–257
- Knobloch-Western, Silvia, 190–191
- Koch Brothers, 126–128
- Koger, Gregory, 47–50
- Kousser, Thad, 86–87
- Krehbiel, Keith, 241–243
- Krimmel, Katherine, 140–143
- Kripplian, Travis, 183–184
- Kroznick, Jon A., 275–278
- Krugman, Paul, 73
- Kuklinski, James H., 186–189
- La Raja, Raymond J., 152–154
- labor unions, 211
- Ladd, Jonathan, 34–35
- lame-duck sessions, 47–50
- Lane, Robert Edwards, 185
- latent majority, 233–236
- Latino voters. See also nonwhite voters
 - Democratic Party and, 198–202
 - immigration politics case study and, 43–45
 - polarization and enfranchisement of, 148–150
 - Southern party realignment and, 27n11
- “law of available data,” Congressional negotiations and, 241–243

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

294

Index

- Layman, Geoffrey, 21–25
- Lee, Frances E., 12–13, 37–38, 45, 51–52, 208, 240–259, 263–266, 269, 281–282
- legislation. See also specific Acts
- on abortion, 231–233
 - filibuster reforms and, 12–13
 - House and Senate rule changes and votes on, 35–36
 - interparty negotiations and, 247–250
 - negotiation as core of, 263–266
 - permanent campaigning and, 275–278
 - policy making and polarization and, 39–42
 - starting premises in dealmaking over, 243–245
 - supermajoritarian leadership selection and, 39–42, 100–101
- legislative productivity
- Congressional dealmaking and, 240–259
 - ideological measurement and forecasting and, 170–172
 - latent majority concept and, 233–235
 - negotiation as core principle of, 263–266
 - polarization and, 42, 218–219
 - policy outcomes and, 47–50
 - Senate Syndrome and, 219–222
- legitimacy issues, interparty negotiations and, 247–250
- Lelkes, Yphtach, 21–25
- Lenz, Gabriel, 21–25, 61–65
- Lepper, Mark R., 186
- Lesniewski, Niels, 255–256
- Lessig, Lawrence, 269–272
- Levendusky, Matthew, 21–25, 83–86, 89
- LGBT rights, 211
- Lijphart, Arend, 11, 73–81
- Limbaugh, Rush, 8–9, 185–186
- Lindstedt, Catharina, 266–267
- Liptak, Adam, 59–61
- Liu, Thomas J., 186–189
- Living Voters Guide, 183–184
- Lizza, Ryan, 233–235, 278
- lobbying groups, party organization and, 208–211
- local government
- characteristics of political organizations and, 140n3
 - ideological measurement and forecasting in, 170–172
 - nonpartisan ballots in, 213–216
 - nonpartisanship in, 158–159
 - vouchers for public campaign financing and, 159–162
- Locke, John, 263
- Lodge, Milton, 178–179, 186, 275–278
- log-rolling, negotiation strategies and, 269
- Lomax, Larry, 133–134
- Loomis, Burdett, 275–278
- Lord, Charles G., 186
- lottery as voting incentive, 79
- Lovell, Ani-Rae, 281–282
- loyalty to party. See party loyalty
- Madison, James, 212–213, 263, 278–279
- Madisonian democracy, party organization and leadership, 212–213
- Maher, Bill, 8–9
- majoritarianism
- asymmetric polarization and, 65–68
 - filibuster reform and, 213–216
 - interparty negotiations and, 247–250
 - latent majority concept and, 233–235
 - party democracy as alternative to, 204–207
 - policy making and polarization and, 39–42
 - public opinion on, 223–224
 - Senate Syndrome and, 219–222, 225–227
- Majority leader, party pressures on, 36–37
- majority-party agenda control, 36, 162–163
- Malecha, Gary Lee, 256
- mandatory voting, proposals for, 78–79
- Mann, Thomas E., 47–50, 59–61, 61n2, 73, 78–79, 86–87, 98–99, 197–198, 230–231, 275–278, 281–282
- Mansbridge, Jane, 12–13, 135, 262–272
- Mariani, Mack C., 83–86, 198–202
- Martin, Cathie Jo, 251–257, 263–266
- Masket, Seth, 29–30, 168, 208–211
- mass public, hyperpartisanship and, 6
- matching private-public financing systems, campaign financing and, 154–155
- Matson, Marsha, 213–216
- Mayhew, David R., 42, 83–86, 140, 140n3, 143f, 202–203, 202f, 208–211, 243–245, 247–250
- McCain-Feingold Act, 126–128, 152–154
- McCarty, Nolan, 5, 10–11, 15–52, 59–61, 83–87, 136–144, 213–216, 257–259
- McClosky, Herbert, 21–25
- McConnell, Mitch, 247–250, 257–259
- McCubbins, Mathew, 36, 39–42
- McGhee, Eric, 213–216
- McGhean, Ann, 133–134
- McLeod, Jack M., 189–191

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

Index

295

- means difference in partisan polarization, 16–17, 17*f*, 19*f*, 21
- media coverage of politics. See also cable television; social media; television coverage of politics; specific outlets
- electoral reform and, 89
- generational differences in polarization and, 189–191
- incivility and, 8–10
- news websites and reflexive partisanship intervention, 186–189
- news websites, reflexive partisanship intervention using, 186–189
- newspaper markets, 34–35, 35*m*14, 185–186
- norms of moderation and role of, 65–68
- polarization and, 34–35
- reflexive partisanship and, 185–189
- resistance to asymmetric polarization evidence in, 61*n*2, 65
- secrecy in negotiations and, 12–13, 252–253
- Senate accountability and, 222–223
- Senate Syndrome and, 218–219, 227
- voter turnout changes and, 179–184
- median voter preferences
 - Congressional extremism and, 21–25, 25*f*, 178*n*1
 - policy making and polarization and, 39–42
- Medicare, 46–47, 279
- messaging tools, negotiations and, 256
- Mettler, Suzanne, 275–278
- Miller, Warren E., 185–189
- Milyo, Jeff, 34–35
- minority party
 - interparty negotiations and, 247–250
 - policy outcomes and role of, 47–50, 204–207
 - Senate Syndrome and obstruction by, 219–222, 225–227
 - Speaker election and, 235–236
- minority voters, Democratic Party and, 198–202
- Mitchell, George, 152–154
- Mizruchi, Mark, 65–68
- moderate politicians
 - asymmetric polarization and decline of, 61–65
 - campaign financing as aid to, 87–89
 - decline in U.S. of, 105, 169–170
 - election of, 13–14, 227–228
 - encouragement in Republican Party of, 68
 - generational differences in polarization and, 190–191
 - improving benefits for, 65–68
 - incentives for, 176–177
 - institutional designs for increasing, 148–150
 - polarization and, 11–12
 - primary expansion as advantage for, 96–98
- moderate voters
 - Congressional extremism compared with, 21–25, 178*n*1
 - decline of, 178–179
 - empowerment of, 165–177
 - generational differences in polarization and, 190–191
 - GOTV mobilization of, 182–183
 - turnout incentives for, 179–184
- Moon, Woojin, 32–34
- Morgan, Jonathan, 183–184
- Morton, Rebecca B., 29–30, 87
- motivated reasoning, triggers for, 275–278
- Muddiman, Ashley, 186–189
- Muirhead, Russ, 12–13, 230–238
- multicandidate political action committees, 159–162
- Mutz, Diana, 89, 185–189
- Nagourney, Adam, 247–250
- National Election Study, voter polarization research, 21–25
- Naurin, Daniel, 266–267
- negotiation strategies
 - agreement strategies, 245–251
 - aids for Congress in, 262–272
 - Congressional agreement and role of, 246–247
 - Congressional dealmaking and, 240–259
 - constituents, trust and “second-level game” in, 269–272
 - in contested elections, 268
 - distributive vs. integrative models, 241–243
 - future challenges in, 271–272
 - instruments of negotiation and, 251–257
 - legislative process and, 263–266
 - limits of negotiation and, 257–259
 - revision of assumptions about, 266–269
 - secrecy in negotiations, 12–13, 252–253, 266–267, 279
 - side payments and, 269
 - starting premises in, 243–245
 - transparency and, 266–267
- neutrality, 61–68

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

296

Index

- New Deal politics, party structure and, 208–211
 “new nullification,” 59–61
 New Zealand
 progressive parties in, 73
 single member districts in, 75–76 news websites, reflexive partisanship intervention using, 186–189 newspaper markets, 34–35, 35n14, 185–186
Niche News, 185–189
 Nicholson, Stephen P., 275–278
 Nixon, Richard, 269–272
 No Child Left Behind Act, 279 nomination process, 128–130, 143–144, 208–211 nonpartisan ballots, 213–216 nonpartisan local elections, 158–159
 nonpartisan primaries, 29–30, 227–228, 228n5.
 See also open-primary systems nonpartisan redistricting committees, 98–99, 234n2 non-party committees, campaign spending by, 93f, 152–154 non-voters, partisanship measurements of, 179–180, 180f, 184 nonwhite voters. See also African American voters; Latino voters Democratic Party and, 198–202 expansion of citizenship for, 204–207
 immigration politics case study and, 43–45
 polarization and enfranchisement of, 148–150
 Southern party realignment and, 27n11 normative theory, negotiation and, 266–267 norms of moderation, re-establishment of, 65–68, 235–236
 Noury, Abdul, 116–119
 “nuclear option,” 219–222, 252–253
- Obama, Barack appointments and nominations by, 213–216
 asymmetric polarization and, 61–65
 campaign financing and, 152–154
 Congressional dealmaking and, 243–245
 election of, 133
 immigration reform and, 278 incivility in politics and, 8 obstruction of, 219–222 party loyalty and election of, 83–86 policy outcomes and polarization in presidency of, 47–50 voter support for, 27–28
- obstructionism
 media coverage of, 222–223 political benefits of, 64n7, 67 public opinion of, 223–224 raising costs of, 213–216 in Senate, 218–219
 Senate Syndrome and, 219–222
 storable vote scheme as alternative to, 162–163
 O'Connor, Sandra Day, 80
 O'Halloran, Sharyn, 50–51
 O'Keefe, Ed, 252–253
On Deaf Ears (Edwards), 256–257 one-dimensional polarization model, roll-call voting behavior and, 18–20, 20f
 O'Neil, Tip, 235n3 online information platforms
 GOTV mobilization of moderate voters
 and, 183–184
 presidential use of, 275–278 reflexive partisanship intervention using, 186–189 voter guides and, 172–173 online voucher campaign financing, 159–162 open-primary systems, 87, 96–98
 nonpartisan primaries, 29–30, 227–228, 228n5 partisanship reduction and, 139
 polarization and, 29–30
 Senate elections and, 228n5
 Ornstein, Norman J., 47–50, 59–61, 61n2, 73, 78–79, 197–198, 230–231, 275–278, 281–282 outside extremist groups, 11
- PACs. See political action committees
 Palmquist, Bradley, 185–191, 275–278
 Panetta, Leon, 247–250
 Park, Hong Min, 223–224
 Parker, Christopher S., 45 parliamentary model international comparisons of, 104 party democracy proposal and, 204–207 party structure and, 213–216
 policy making and, 39–42
 parliamentary procedures, public view of, 223–224 “parties in service” model of party organization, 208–211 partisan media outlets
 asymmetric polarization, 61–65
 reflexive partisanship and, 185–189

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

Index

297

- partisan primaries, polarization and, 29–30
- partisan sorting
 - benefits of, 230–231
 - electoral rewards for, 83–86
 - historical consequences of, 208–211
 - House/presidential election voting
 - correlations and, 83–86, 90–91, 91*f*
 - increase in, 178–179
 - international comparisons, 116–119*n2*
 - motivated reasoning and, 275–278
 - Senate syndrome and, 218–229
 - Southern party realignment and, 27
 - voter polarization and, 21–24, 24*n8*, 25, 29*f*
- partisanship measurements
 - moderate voter turnout and, 179–184
 - reflexive partisanship, discouragement of, 185–189
- “party branding” for candidates, 208–211
- party democracy proposal, 204–207
- Party Government* (Schattschneider), 208–211
- “party in government” concept, decline of, 147–148
- party loyalty
 - campaign financing and, 152–154
 - Congressional districting and, 198–202
 - Congressional polarization and negotiation
 - pressures, 36–37, 37*n15*
 - increase in, 178–179, 202*t*
 - partisanship and, 16*n3*
 - party switching vs. position switching, 21–25
 - record levels of, 83–86, 202*t*
 - reflexive partisanship, discouragement of, 185–189
 - reforms involving, 12–13
- party organization and leadership
 - asymmetric polarization and, 61–65
 - betrayal of party purposes and, 231–233
 - as brokers between candidates and interest groups, 140*n2*
 - campaign financing and role of, 87–89, 126–128, 152–154
 - Congressional dealmaking and, 241–245
 - Congressional polarization and, 51–52
 - gridlock and, 202–203, 202*t*
 - historical overview of, 208–211
 - international comparisons of, 208
 - intraparty negotiations and, 250–251
 - loss of leadership leverage and, 152–154
 - Madisonian system and, 212–213
 - majority-party agenda control and, 36
 - party committees, campaign financing and
 - role of, 87–89, 93*f*
 - party pressures and, 36–37
 - platforms and, 104–108, 108*f*, 116
 - players in, 246
 - polarization reduction and, 11, 123–135, 136–144
 - policy making and, 39–42, 47–50
 - primary election reform and, 128–130
 - re-empowerment of, 146–155
 - reform proposals and, 13–14
 - state-level polarization, 140–143
 - strong legislative parties and, 137–144
 - strong vs. weak models of, 137–144
 - structural incentives for, 150–151
 - supermajoritarian leadership selection and, 39–42, 100–101
 - weak party models, 137–144
- party strength
 - centrism and, 230–231
 - as polarization solution, 124–126, 136–138, 138*f*, 144, 208–211
 - redistricting practices and, 130–131
 - weak parties, 137–144, 208–211
- “party-conflict dimension,” in roll-call voting, 16
- party-conflict scale, means difference in
 - partisan polarization, 16–17, 17*f*, 21, 26*f*
- party-line voting
 - current research on, 16
 - gridlock and, 7–8
 - ideological coherence and, 5
 - majority control and, 36, 213–216
- party-responsibility model, policy making and, 39–42
- Patrick, Tammy, 133–134
- patronage-based party organizations, 208–211
- Patterson, Thomas E., 189–191
- Pelosi, Nancy, 235–236
- penalties for polarization, limits of, 61–65
- penalty defaults, Congressional polarization and, 253–254
- permanent campaigns, 12–13, 275–278
- Perot, Ross, 236–238
- Persily, Nathaniel, 11, 123–135
- Peterson, Erik, 275–278
- Pew Research Center, 45, 186–189, 279, 281–282
- Phillips, Justin H., 86–87
- Pierson, Paul, 10, 47–50, 59–68, 235–236, 253–254, 271–272

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

298

Index

- Piketty, Thomas, 31–32
- Pildes, Richard, 11, 146–155
- Plan B proposal, Republic tax cuts and, 243–245
- polarization. See also asymmetric polarization; Congressional polarization; voter polarization
- benefits of, 230–231
- cable television impact on, 179–184
- causes and consequences of, 15–52
- comparative perspectives on, v, 81, 104, 116–119
- consequences of, 38–42
- coping strategies for, 213–216
- current research on, 16–21
- definitions of, 4
- distrust of representation and, 269–272
- electoral foundations of, 83–86
- erosion of electoral foundations for, 83–90
- generational differences in, 189–191
- gridlock and, 7–8
- hyperpartisanship and, 4–7
- immigration politics case study, 43–45
- impact on U.S. governance of, 51–52
- incivility and, 8–10
- intervention strategies for reducing, 178–192
- legislative productivity and, 42
- management vs. solutions involving, 13–14
- negotiation and, 262–272
- overview of solutions to, 10–13
- partisanship and, 136–137
- party strength and reduction of, 123–135, 136–144
- policy making and, 39–42
- policy outcomes and, 45–51
- political fragmentation vs., 146–155
- proposals for reduction of, 157–164
- of public, 275–278
- solutions to, 96–102
- terminology relating to, 3–4
- waiting for an end to, 101–102
- polarization task force, American Political Science Association, 10–11, 51–52, 208–211, 266–267
- “polarization without persuasion,” 34–35
- polarized electorate, Congressional polarization and, 21–25
- policy demanders model of political parties, 208–211
- policy making
- asymmetric polarization and, 67
 - delays and brinksmanship concerning, 46–47
 - filibuster reform and, 213–216
 - lowering barriers to, 10–13, 195–207
 - party institutions and, 212–213
 - polarization and, 39–42, 83–86
 - political action committees influence in, 32–34
 - strategies for reaching agreement and, 245–251
- policy outcomes, 45–50, 51
- political action committees (PACs)
- polarization and role of, 32–33, 33f, 34
 - vouchers for public campaign financing and, 159–162
- political engagement, polarization and role of, 148–150
- political fragmentation, polarization vs., 146–155
- political preferences, hyperpartisanship and, 6
- politician-dominated party structure, 208–211
- politics-constraining norms, erosion of, 8–10
- Poole, Keith T., 16–21, 27–28, 31–34, 36, 46, 59–61, 83–87, 213–216, 241–243
- Pope, Jeremy C., 21–25, 29–30
- popular sovereignty mythology, polarization and, 150–151, 154–155
- Populist movement, “good government” approach to polarization reduction and, 124–126
- position switching, party switching vs., 21–25
- Post-Broadcast Democracy* (Prior), 179–184
- PR. See proportional representation
- preference intensity distribution, 162–163, 185–189
- preferential voting proposals, 75
- presidential appointments
- asymmetric polarization and blocking of, 59–61
 - filibuster reform involving, 12–13, 213–216
 - rule changes involving, 213–216
 - Senate Syndrome and, 219–222, 225–227
- Presidential Commission on Election Administration, 132–135
- presidential leadership
- Congressional negotiations and, 256–257
 - consolidating support and, 275–278, 281–282
 - policy concessions and, 281–282
- presidential politics
- gridlock and veto power of, 39–42

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

Index

299

- nomination process, 128–130
- unilateral actions and, 50–51
- Presidential Task Force on Negotiating Agreement in Politics, 10–11, 51–52, 262n, 266–267, 268
- presidential vote margins
 - concurrent election cycles and, 204–207
 - Congressional districting and, 198–202
 - county population density and, 111f
 - historical trends in, 199f
 - partisan sorting and, 83–86, 90–91, 91f
 - state and Congressional elections and, 208–211
- pressure group politics. See interest group politics
- primary elections. See also specific types of primaries, e.g. open-primary systems
 - advantage for extremists in, 168, 178n1, 233–235
 - closed primaries, proposal for elimination of, 96–97, 97n1, 98
 - Congressional deal making and, 243–245
 - Congressional districting and, 198–202
 - Congressional primaries, proposals for increased turnout in, 96–98
 - mandated same-day scheduling for, 96–98
 - partisanship reduction in, 139
 - polarization and, 29–30, 178n1
 - post-Watergate growth of, 124–126
 - pro-party approach to reform of, 128–130
 - proposed abolition of, 74
 - redistricting and, 98–99
 - reform proposals for, 87, 128–130
 - reforms for, 13–14
 - table of dates for, 102
- primary scale of roll-call voting, current research on, 16
- Prior, Markus, 11–12, 34–35, 178–189, 192
- privacy, in negotiations, 266–267, 279
- procedural ambiguity, 222–223, 225, 250–251
- professionalization of politics, free speech and, 159–162
- Progressive movement
 - anti-party ideology of, 154–155
 - “good government” approach to polarization reduction and, 124–126
 - primary election reform and, 128–130
 - state growth and, 208–211
- Project Votesmart, 172–173, 183–184
- pro-minority bias, Senate Syndrome and, 218–219
- pro-party approach to polarization, 126–131
 - benefits and risks of, 131–132
 - campaign financing reform and, 126–128
 - primary reform and, 128–130
- proportional representation (PR)
 - for House elections, 76–77
 - redistricting reform and, 130–131
 - for Senate elections, 77–78
 - single member districts and, 75–76
- Proposition 14 (California). See “top-two” primary election
- public financing of elections, 79–80
 - party organization empowerment and, 152–154
 - pro-party approach to polarization and, 126–128
 - voucher public finance scheme, 159–162
- public support in politics, 275–278
- Publius*, 212–213
- qualitative research on polarization, 16–21
- quantitative research on polarization, 16–21
- Quirk, Paul J., 186–189
- racial divide, partisanship and, 198–202
- ranked choice voting proposal, 74–75
- Rapoport, Roland B., 281–282
- Razaghian, Rose, 50–51
- Reagan coalition, 218–219, 235n3
- Reagan, Daniel J., 256
- reapportionment, asymmetric polarization and, 59–61
- Recall Elections Blog*, 9
- recall elections, proliferation of, 9
- redistricting practices
 - party democracy system and, 204–207
 - party power increases and, 130–131
 - polarization and, 9
 - presidential vote margins and, 198–202
 - reform proposals for, 86–87, 98–99, 124–125, 234n2
- reflexive partisanship
 - generational differences in polarization and, 190–191
 - interventions for reducing, 185–189
 - news websites and reduction of, 186–189
- Reform Party, 236–238
- regime types, international comparisons of, 105f
- regional variations in polarization, 140–143, 186–189, 208–211

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

300

Index

- Reid, Harry, 61–65, 219–222, 225–227
- Reiff, Neil, 152–154
- religious affiliation, partisanship and, 198–202, 211
- repeated interactions, negotiation using, 255–256
- Republican Party
- advantage in House elections of, 75–76, 91, 91*f*, 92*f*, 94
 - asymmetric polarization and, 59–61
 - disproportionate influence of, 75–81
 - economic inequality and, 31–32
 - encouragement of moderates in, 68
 - erosion of politics-constraining norms and, 10
 - European conservatism compared with, 73
 - fragmentation with, 147
 - history of ideological pluralism in, 208–211
 - immigration politics case study and, 43–45
 - obstructionism by, 281–282
 - partisan identification with, 21–25
 - partisan polarization and, 218–219
 - party line and straight-ticket voting and, 83–86
 - polarization and extremism of, 10, 73–81
 - racial divide and, 198–202
 - repositioning to the right by, 16–17, 17*n*4, 21, 61–65, 73–81
 - Southern party realignment and, 27
 - tax cut policies and, 47–50
 - Tea Party influence in, 13–14, 101–102
- “respect” buttons on online news sites, 186–189
- “reversion points” in political agreements, asymmetric polarization and, 67
- Rhodes, Randi, 185–186
- Rice, Laurie L., 89
- Rich, Robert F., 186–189
- Riker, William, 241–243
- Rivers, Douglas, 241–243
- Roberts, Jason M., 35–36
- Roberts, John C., 80
- Rodden, Jonathan, 11, 21–25, 104–119, 158
- Rohde, David W., 36–37, 39–42, 178–179
- roll-call voting behavior
- campaign contributions and, 158
 - campaign funding and, 32–34
 - comparative perspectives on, 116–119
 - House and Senate rule changes and, 35–36
 - latent majority and, 233–235
 - of minority legislators, 27*n*11
 - polarization research and, 16, 18*n*6, 18*n*7, 20*f*, 20
 - state legislatures, 113*n*1
- Romney, Mitt, 133
- Rosenblum, Nancy L., 154–155, 231–233
- Rosenthal, Cindy Simon, 255–256
- Rosenthal, Howard, 16–21, 27–28, 31–34, 36, 46, 59–61, 83–87, 170–172, 213–216, 241–243
- Ross, Lee, 186
- Rucker, Phillip, 101–102
- Ryan, Josiah, 227–228
- Saad, Lydia, 101–102
- Saenz, Emmanuel, 31–32
- same-day primaries, proposals for, 96–98
- sanction model of political representation, negotiations and, 269–272
- Santelli, Rick, 96–98
- Saunders, Kyle L., 158
- Scacco, Joshua M., 186–189
- Schaffner, Brian, 213–216
- Schattschneider, E. E., 20–21, 143–144, 208–211
- Schickler, Eric, 47–50, 185–189, 208–211, 275–278
- Schlozman, Kay Lehman, 208–211
- Schorr, Boris, 59–61
- Schweider, David, 186–189
- Sears, David O., 185
- “second-level game,” negotiations in, 269–272
- secrecy in negotiations, 12–13, 252–253, 266–267, 279
- selection model of political representation, negotiations and, 269–272
- selective exposure, reflexive partisanship and, 185–189
- self-selection, 21–25, 186–189
- self-serving bias, 263–267
- Sellers, Patrick, 256
- semi-closed primary, 125, 139*n*1
- Senate. See also cloture rules
- accountability in, proposals for increasing, 225–227
 - behavioral problems in, 225
 - Centrist Party proposals for, 236–238
 - external influences on, 21–35
 - gerrymandering and, 27–28
 - immigration politics case study and, 43–45
 - internal influences on, 35–38
 - leadership problems in, 225

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More informationIndex

301

- measurement and forecasting of ideological
 - distribution in, 170–171, 171*f*, 172
 - media coverage of politics and, 34–35
 - party line and straight-ticket election to, 83–86
 - policy outcomes and legislative deliberation in, 47–50
 - political action committees influence in, 32–34
 - primary elections and, 29–30
 - procedural warfare in, 218–219
 - proportional representation in elections for, 77–78
 - public view of, 223–224
 - reform proposals for, 12–13
 - Republican electoral advantage in, 77
 - research on, 20–21
 - rule changes in, 35–36, 39–42, 202–203, 202*t*, 204–207, 212–213
 - “60-vote Senate,” 222–223
 - stable vote scheme and, 162–163
 - supermajoritarian leadership selection in, 39–42, 100–101
- Senate Syndrome
 - accountability and media role in, 222–223
 - electoral reform and, 227–228
 - historical emergence of, 219–222
 - partisan polarization and, 218–229
 - proposed solutions for, 224
- seniority violations for committee leadership,
 - policy outcomes and role of, 47–50
- Sensenbrenner Bill, 43–45
- Sensenbrenner, James, 247–250
- separation of powers
 - gridlock and, 7–8, 202–203, 202*t*
 - parliamentarianism and, 230–231
 - partisanship and limitations of, 212–213
 - party organization and, 208
 - polarization and, 146–147
- sequestration, 67, 253–254
- Shapiro, Jesse M., 34–35, 186–189
- Shapiro, Robert Y., 275–278
- Shaw, Daron, 21–25
- Shear, Michael D., 278
- Sherman, David K., 186–189
- Shor, Boris, 86–87, 140–143
- “side payments,” majority rule procedures
 - and, 213–216
- side-payments, 13, 269
- Sierra Leone, two-party system in, 104
- Simas, Elizabeth N., 32–34
- Simpson-Mazzoli Act, 43–45
- Sinclair, Barbara, 47–50, 83–86, 202–203, 202*t*, 241–243, 246, 257–259
- Sinclair, Betsy, 182–183
- single member districts (SMDs), Republican
 - plurality in, 75–76
- single-track Senate agenda proposals, 213–216
- “60-vote Senate,” 219–223
- Skocpol, Theda, 45, 275–278
- Skowronek, Stephen, 208–211
- Slothuus, Rune, 275–278
- Smith, Joanne R., 275–278
- Smith, Mark, 275–278
- Smith, Richard A., 32–34
- Smith, Steven, 241–243
- Smith, Steven S., 12–13, 35–36, 47–50, 202–203, 202*t*, 218–229
- Sniderman, Paul, 169–170, 172–173
- Snowe, Olympia, 257–259
- Snyder, James M., 21–25, 32–34, 36–37, 137–138
- social media
 - generational differences in polarization and, 189–191
 - moderate voters and, 165–177
 - party fragmentation and, 152–154
- social policy, 10–11, 16–21, 45–51
- Social Security, 46–50, 279
- social structures, asymmetric polarization and, 65–68
- socio-economic status, voter turnout and, 213–216
- soft money bans, 126–128, 143–144, 152–154
- Sood, Gaurav, 21–25, 186–189
- Soraut, Frank J., 241–243
- Southern party realignment
 - African-American enfranchisement and, 16–21, 271*n*11, 208–211
 - polarization and, 10–11, 19*f*, 26*f*, 27
- Speaker of the House, 12–13, 36–37, 235–236
- special-interest groups, 32–34, 61–65
- Spivak, Joshua, 9
- state expansion, bipartisanship and, 208–211
- state judiciary, popular participation ideology
 - and election of, 154–155
- state legislatures
 - campaign financing and polarization in, 139–140
 - Electoral College vote and, 65–68
 - gerrymandering and, 27–28
 - ideological measurement and forecasting in, 170–172

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

302

Index

- state legislatures (cont.)
 - partisanship in, 158, 198–202
 - party organization and polarization of, 140n3, 141f, 142n4, 143
 - polarization in, 38n16
 - primary elections and, 29–30, 96–98
 - pro-party primary reforms and, 128–130
 - roll-call votes and, 113n1
- state voting constituencies, 92f, 198–202
- statutory debate limits, 219–222
- Steele, Claude M., 186–189
- Stiglitz, Edward, 169–170, 172–173
- stimulus policies, polarization concerning, 47–50
- Stokes, Donald, 185–189
- Stone, Walter J., 32–34, 281–282
- Stonecash, Jeffery M., 83–86, 198–202
- storable vote scheme, 158–159, 162–163
- “strategic disagreement,” 243–245, 257–259
- Strauss, Aaron, 182–183
- Streb, Matthew, 213–216
- stress-testing, of asymmetric polarization
 - remedies, 65–68
- Strickland, April, 275–278
- Stroud, Natalie Jomini, 11–12, 178–192
- Sumner, Charles, 8
- Sundquist, 20–21
- “sunset” provisions, 39–42, 253–254
- sunshine laws, secrecy in negotiations and, 252–253
- Sunstein, Cass, 21–25
- Super PACs, voucher campaign financing and, 159–162
- Supercommittee, 253–254
- supermajoritarian institutions
 - centrist disempowerment and, 235–236
 - Congressional leadership elections and, 235–236
 - polarization and, 39–42, 100–101
 - storable vote scheme and, 162–163
- SuperPacs, 8–9
- Supreme Court (U.S.)
 - asymmetric polarization in, 59–61
 - campaign financing rulings by, 87–89
 - polarization and first amendment rulings of, 158, 159–162
 - policy making and role of, 212–213
 - reform proposals for, 80
- symmetrical polarization, characteristics of, 61–65
- Taber, Charles S., 178–179, 186, 275–278
- “talking filibuster” proposal, 213–216
- targeted mobilization, GOTV mobilization of moderate voters and, 182–183
- tax cuts
 - negotiations over, 255–256
 - penalty defaults and, 253–254
 - polarization concerning, 47–49, 49n20, 49n21, 50
 - politics and policy concerning, 243–245
- Tea Party, 11, 13–14, 101–102
 - asymmetric polarization in Republican Party and, 59–65, 73–81
 - campaign funding and, 126–128
 - immigration reform and, 43–45
 - obstructionism by, 281–282
 - primary election participation by, 96–98
- teammanship, Congressional polarization and, 37–38, 51–52, 208
- television coverage of politics. See also cable television; specific stations
 - generational differences in polarization and, 189–191
 - presidential appearances on, 275–278
 - voter turnout changes and, 179–184
- Terry, Deborah J., 275–278
- Terry, William C., 255–256
- The Big Sort: Why the Clustering of Like-Minded America is Tearing Us Apart* (Bishop), 98–99
- Theriault, Sean M., 27–28, 35–37, 59–61, 281–282
- Thiess-Morse, Elizabeth, 252–253
- Thomas, Chris, 133–134
- Tichenor, Daniel, 43–45
- ticket-splitting, decline in, 83–86
- Tierney, John T., 208–211
- Ting, Michael, 137–138
- Toomey, Pat, 256–257
- Top Four voting proposal, 74–75
- top-down strategies for polarization, 13–14
- “top-two” primary election (California), 29–30, 74–75, 96–98, 143–144, 169–170, 227–228
- “Toward a More Responsible Two Party System,” 208–211, 213–216
- traditional party organizations (TPO), polarization and, 140–142, 142f, 143f
- transparency
 - negotiation-friendly approach to, 266–267

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08711-8 - Solutions to Political Polarization in America

Edited by Nathaniel Persily

Index

More information

Index

303

- process vs. rationale in, 266–267
- secrecy in negotiations and, 12–13, 252–253
- Tremayne, Mark, 186–189
- Trounstine, Jessica, 213–216
- trust
 - compromise and lack of, 281–282
 - negotiations and role of, 269–272
- Tufte, Edward R., 27–28
- Turban, Sébastien, 162–163
- turnout. See voter turnout
- Tushnet, Mark, 59–61
- two-dimensional polarization model, roll-call
 - voting behavior and, 18–20, 20*f*
- two-party systems, international comparisons of, 104
- “UCLA School” of party organization, 208–211
- unemployment benefits, polarization
 - concerning, 47–50
- unique maximum of party strength (p^*), 137–144
- United Kingdom, single member districts in, 75–76
- universal health care, conservative acceptance
 - in Europe of, 73
- “unorthodox lawmaking,” party leadership and, 246
- USA-Patriot Act, 247–250
- Vallone, Robert P., 186
- Vavreck, Lynn, 182–183
- Venezuela, two-party system in, 104
- veto pivots, 39–42, 78
- veto points
 - gridlock and, 12–13
 - policy making and, 39–42, 212–213
 - storable vote scheme and, 162–163
- Visser, Penny S., 275–278
- Volden, Craig, 246, 255–256
- voter competence
 - “blind spot” of voter ignorance and, 208–211
 - data-driven voter guide, 172–173
 - party cues and, 213–216
 - polarization and, 167–168, 169–170
- voter polarization
 - absence of evidence for, 21–25
 - campaign financing and, 159–162
 - Congressional polarization and, 21–25, 38–42
 - immigration reform and, 45
 - voter suppression and disenfranchisement
 - absence of evidence for, 21–25
 - asymmetric polarization and, 59–61
 - expanded citizenship laws as alternative to, 204–207
 - proposals for ending, 79
 - voter ID laws, 9–10
 - voter registration laws, 9–10
 - voter turnout and, 78
- voter turnout
 - Congressional primaries, proposals for increasing, 96–98
 - moderate voters’ incentives for, 179–184
 - nonpartisan elections, 213–216
 - proposals for increasing, 78
- voting behavior. See also moderate voters
 - asymmetric polarization and, 61–65
 - data-driven voter guides and, 172–173
 - electoral reform and, 89–90
 - extreme candidates and, 176–177, 178*nn*, 233–235
 - generational differences in polarization and, 189–191
 - House/presidential vote correlations and, 83–86, 90–91, 91*f*
 - international comparisons of, 116–119
 - partisan identification and, 21–25, 83–86, 180*f*
 - polarization and role of, 148–150
 - polarization of state constituencies, 92*f*
 - primary turnout and, 96–99
 - redistricting practices and, 86–87, 98–99, 130–131
 - reflexive partisanship and, 185–189
 - spatial cues about candidate ideology and, 173–174, 174*f*, 175, 175*f*
 - strong vs. weak parties and, 137–144
- Voting Rights Act
 - African American/Latino enfranchisement and, 27
 - polarization and, 148–150, 208–211
 - reforms of, 133
 - Supreme Court invalidation of parts of, 80
- voucher public finance scheme, 159–162
- Walker, Scott, 9
- Wallace, Sophia J., 43–45
- Warren, Elizabeth, 152–154
- Washington state, primary election reform in, 233–235
- Wawro, Gregory, 47–50, 162–163, 208–211, 246

- Waxman, Henry, 246–250, 252–253
- Wayman, Frank W., 32–34
- weak parties, 137–144, 208–211
- West, Darrell, 275–278
- Western European countries
 - economic inequality in, 46
 - negotiation process in, 263–266
 - progressive parties in, 73
- Wheelan, Charles, 236–238
- white voters, Republican Party and, 198–202
- Williamson, Vanessa, 45
- “Willie Horton” ad, 8–9
- Willis, Derek, 235–236
- Wilson, Joe, 8
- Wilson, Scott, 278
- Wilson, Woodrow, 230–231
- win-win negotiations, Congressional dealmaking and, 246–247
- Wiseman, Alan E., 246, 255–256
- Wittmer, Dana E., 255–256
- Woodward, Bob, 278
- World Values Survey, 116–117, 117f, 119
- Wright, Gerald C., 213–216
- Yang, Seung-Mock, 189–191
- Yglesias, Matthew, 252–253
- youth audiences, generational differences in polarization and, 190–191
- Zelizer, Julian, 34–35
- Zepeda-Millán, J. Chris, 43–45
- zero-sum outcomes
 - distributive negotiations and, 241–243
 - negotiation limits and, 257–259
 - polarization and, 51–52