

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08785-9 - Migration in the Mediterranean: Mechanisms of International Cooperation

Edited by Francesca Ippolito and Seline Trevisanut

Frontmatter

More information

MIGRATION IN THE MEDITERRANEAN

Mediterranean States have developed various cooperation mechanisms in order to cope with the issues that arise from migration. This book critically analyses how institutional actors act and interact on the international scene in the control and management of migration in the Mediterranean. Even though the involvement of ‘universal’ international organizations guarantees a certain balance in setting the goals of cooperation mechanisms and buttresses a certain coherence of the actions, the book highlights how the protection of migrants’ fundamental rights is still an objective as opposed to a reality, and security imperatives and trends still prevail in the aftermath of the 2011 Arab Spring.

FRANCESCA IPPOLITO is Associate Professor in International and European Union Law at Cagliari University, Italy, where she teaches, researches and publishes in European Union law, international migration law and international human rights law.

SELINE TREVISANUT is Professor of international law at the University of Utrecht, where her research interests include international law, the law of the sea, international migration law, international environmental law and international economic law.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08785-9 - Migration in the Mediterranean: Mechanisms of International Cooperation

Edited by Francesca Ippolito and Seline Trevisanut

Frontmatter

More information

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08785-9 - Migration in the Mediterranean: Mechanisms of International Cooperation

Edited by Francesca Ippolito and Seline Trevisanut

Frontmatter

More information

MIGRATION IN THE MEDITERRANEAN

Mechanisms of International Cooperation

Edited by

FRANCESCA IPPOLITO

AND

SELINE TREVISANUT

University of Cagliari

University of Utrecht

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08785-9 - Migration in the Mediterranean: Mechanisms of International Cooperation

Edited by Francesca Ippolito and Seline Trevisanut

Frontmatter

More information

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

University Printing House, Cambridge CB2 8BS, United Kingdom

Cambridge University Press is part of the University of Cambridge.

It furthers the University's mission by disseminating knowledge in the pursuit of education, learning and research at the highest international levels of excellence.

www.cambridge.org

Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/9781107087859

© Cambridge University Press 2015

This publication is in copyright. Subject to statutory exception and to the provisions of relevant collective licensing agreements, no reproduction of any part may take place without the written permission of Cambridge University Press.

First published 2015

A catalogue record for this publication is available from the British Library

Library of Congress Cataloging in Publication data

Migration in the Mediterranean : mechanisms of international cooperation / edited by Francesca Ippolito, Seline Trevisanut.

pages cm

ISBN 978-1-107-08785-9 (hardback)

1. Emigration and immigration law – Mediterranean Region. 2. Boat people – Legal status, laws, etc. – Mediterranean Region. 3. Asylum, Right of – Mediterranean Region. 4. Illegal aliens – Mediterranean Region. I. Ippolito, Francesca, editor. II. Trevisanut, Seline, editor.

K3275.M537 2016

325.09182'2–dc23

2015024718

ISBN 978-1-107-08785-9 Hardback

Cambridge University Press has no responsibility for the persistence or accuracy of URLs for external or third-party internet websites referred to in this publication, and does not guarantee that any content on such websites is, or will remain, accurate or appropriate.

CONTENTS

List of contributors	page vii
Introduction
FRANCESCA IPPOLITO AND SELINE TREVISANUT	1
PART I Multilevel cooperation in the Mediterranean	13
1 Conceptualising a migrant’s rights-based EuroMed cooperation: political, legal and judicial rationale
FRANCESCA IPPOLITO	15
2 EuroMed, migration and frenemy-ship: pretending to deepen cooperation across the Mediterranean
ELENA BASHESKA AND DIMITRY KOCHENOV	43
3 The League of Arab States and the protection of migrants
MERVAT RISHMAWI AND JANEEN RASHMAWI	68
4 The roles of the African Union and its Member States in managing migration across the Mediterranean
MARTIN WELZ	94
5 Strengthening the cooperation between IOM and the EU in the field of migration
JULINDA BEQIRAJ	115
6 Expanding protection space in Libya and Tunisia after the Arab Spring: reflections on UNHCR’s evolving role in mixed migration
ELIZABETH EYSTER AND EMANUELA PAOLETTI	136

	PART II Managing regular and irregular migration in the Mediterranean	171
7	Euro-Mediterranean labour migration: a mutually beneficial partnership?
	ANJA WIESBROCK	173
8	Regulating migration and asylum in the Maghreb: what inspirations for an accelerated legal development?
	DELPHINE PERRIN	192
9	The EU external border policy: managing irregular migration to Europe
	SELINE TREVISANUT	215
10	The EU and the obligation of non-refoulement at sea
	EFTHYMIOS PAPASTAVRIDIS	236
11	Obligation to readmit? The relationship between interstate and EU readmission agreements
	MARIAGIULIA GIUFFRÉ	263
12	The cooperative mechanism established by the Migrant Smuggling Protocol to the UN Convention against Transnational Organized Crime
	PATRICIA MALLIA	288
	Index	308

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08785-9 - Migration in the Mediterranean: Mechanisms of International Cooperation

Edited by Francesca Ippolito and Seline Trevisanut

Frontmatter

More information

CONTRIBUTORS

ELENA BASHESKA is Research Associate at the University of Groningen, Faculty of Law, where she completed her Ph.D. in EU Law. She has lectured extensively in EU Law, and was appointed Vice-Dean for post-graduate studies and Director of the Law Faculty Research Centre at the South East European University. She has published a number of articles and book chapters on different aspects of EU External Relation Law.

JULINDA BEQIRAJ is Research Fellow at the Bingham Centre for the Rule of Law, British Institute of International and Comparative Law. She also lectures on international economic institutions at the University of Trento. Julinda holds a Ph.D. from the School of International Studies in Trento, and her doctoral dissertation focused on the international protection of the economic and social rights of migrant workers. At the Bingham Centre, she works on the role of the rule of law in the context of the post-2015 millennium development agenda and on barriers and solutions to access to justice in different countries.

ELIZABETH EYSTER is Senior Protection Officer in UNHCR's Division of International Protection in Geneva. From 2012 to 2013, she was Deputy Representative for UNHCR in Tunisia. Prior to that, she was Head of Office for UNHCR in Tunisia in 2010 and 2011. Elizabeth has also worked for UNHCR in Pakistan and Kosovo.

MARIAGIULIA GIUFFRÉ is Lecturer in Law at Edge Hill University and a visiting research fellow at the Refugee Studies Centre, University of Oxford, where she works on her current research 'Asylum Control and Access to Protection: Admission, Readmission, and Human Rights'. Mariagiulia is an affiliate to the Refugee Law Initiative (RLI) and a member of the Lund/Uppsala Migration Law Network (L/UMIN). Her recent publications include the edited volume Exploring the Boundaries

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08785-9 - Migration in the Mediterranean: Mechanisms of International Cooperation

Edited by Francesca Ippolito and Seline Trevisanut

Frontmatter

More information

viii

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

of Refugee Law: Current Protection Challenges (with Gauci & Tsourdi, Brill 2015).

FRANCESCA IPPOLITO is Associate Professor in international law and European Union law at the University of Cagliari, Italy. She served as Consultant in European Union Law at the Foreign Affairs Ministry in Rome. Her research deals with international migration law, non-discrimination and fundamental rights. Her most recent publications include Regional Approaches to the Protection of Asylum Seekers: An International Law Perspective (with Abass, 2014) and Protection of Vulnerable Groups: The European Human Rights Framework (with Iglesias Sanchez, 2015).

DIMITRY KOCHENOV is Visiting Professor and Martin and Kathleen Crane Fellow in Law and Public Affairs, Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University (2015–2016); Chair in EU Constitutional Law, University of Groningen; Visiting Professor, College of Europe, Natolin campus.

PATRICIA MALLIA is Senior Lecturer in international law and Head of Department at the University of Malta (Faculty of Law). She obtained her Ph.D. from the IMLI, International Maritime Law Institute, focusing on combating contemporary threats to maritime security. Her research interests focus on the analysis of contemporary maritime threats, primarily piracy and migrant smuggling.

EMANUELA PAOLETTI is Executive Assistant at the Office of the Director in Amman, formerly at the UNHCR offices in Tunisia and Libya. She is Associate Editor at Migration Studies and Research Associate at the Refugee Studies Centre at Oxford. She obtained her Ph.D. at the University of Oxford, where she completed her doctoral research on the Italian-Libyan agreements on migration and international relations theory.

EFTHYMIOS PAPASTAVRIDIS is a part-time lecturer in public international law at the University of Thrace and a Research Fellow at the Academy of Athens since 2009; he is also a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Athens, Faculty of Law. In 2012, he was the director of the Centre for Research Studies of the Hague Academy of International Law on 'Criminal Acts at Sea' (English-speaking section). He has published the monograph Interception of Vessels on the High Seas (2013).

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08785-9 - Migration in the Mediterranean: Mechanisms of International Cooperation

Edited by Francesca Ippolito and Seline Trevisanut

Frontmatter

More information

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

ix

DELPHINE PERRIN is Marie Curie Research Fellow at Aix-Marseille University, where she conducts a project on Migration Law-Making in the Maghreb (MIGRINTERACT). She is Associate Researcher at IREMAM (Institute for Research and Study on the Arab and Muslim World) in Aix-en-Provence and at the Centre Jacques Berque (CJB) in Rabat. Delphine has just co-edited a special issue of the journal Middle East Law and Governance on Migration, Mobility and Citizenship.

JANEEN RASHMAWI is Associate Fellow at the Cairo Institute for Human Rights Studies in Geneva. Her work focuses on monitoring the human rights situation in Palestine, Egypt and Syria, with a special focus on conducting advocacy work with the United Nations Human Rights Council.

MERVAT RISHMAWI is a Palestinian human rights researcher who worked with the International Secretariat of Amnesty International for approximately twelve years, most of which she spent as the Legal Advisor to the Middle East and North Africa Region (MENA). She is currently a Senior Policy Analyst for the Arab Regional Office of the Open Society Foundations, focusing primarily on the League of Arab States. She has authored many publications on human rights in the MENA region, including the League of Arab States. She is also a fellow at the Human Rights Centre at the University of Essex, UK; and a fellow at the Human Rights Law Centre at the University of Nottingham, UK. This chapter is written in personal capacity.

SELINE TREVISANUT is Professor of international law at Utrecht University and Senior Research Associate at the Netherlands Institute for the Law of the Sea. She taught courses and conducted research at Columbia University, European University Institute, Max Planck Institute for Comparative Public Law and International Law and National University of Singapore. Her publications include a monograph on 'Irregular Migration by Sea in International Law and EU Law' (Jovene 2012, in Italian) and several articles and contributions on the law of sea and on international migration.

MARTIN WELZ is Postdoctoral Researcher at the Center of Excellence 'Cultural Foundations of Integration' and the Department of Politics and Public Administration at the University of Konstanz. His recent publications related to the African Union include Integrating Africa:

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-08785-9 - Migration in the Mediterranean: Mechanisms of International Cooperation

Edited by Francesca Ippolito and Seline Trevisanut

Frontmatter

More information

X

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

decolonization's legacies, sovereignty and the African Union (2012), The African Union beyond Africa: Explaining the Limited Impact of Africa's Continental Organization on Global Governance (2013) and The UN and the African Union: In Mali and Beyond: A Shotgun Wedding? (2014), Briefing: Crisis in the Central African Republic and the International Response (2014).

ANJA WIESBROCK is Senior Judicial Advisor at the Research Council of Norway. She has previously worked as a post-doctoral fellow at the University of Oslo and as an assistant professor of EU Law at Maastricht University. In 2009 she finalized her Ph.D. thesis on the national implementation of EU legislation concerning regular migrants, published as Legal Migration to the European Union (2010).