

INDEX

- abstract-normative versions of global law, 70–86, 133, 156, 178, 196, 198, 204
 - framed positivity, 77–86
 - and human rights law, 71–7
 - layered positivity, 71–7, 85, 116
- American Lawyer* journal, 32
- Association of Transnational Law Schools, 37
- Baudrillard, Jean, 168
- Bell, Christine, 127–8, 129
- Center for Transnational Legal Studies, 37
- collective action problems, 182
- common law, 39, 48
- communities of interest and practice, 8, 41, 65
- conflict of laws, 106, 107–14, 126, 144, 156
 - double delegalisation, 114
 - and global governance, 108
 - and regime collision, 114
 - scope of, 109
- constitutional law, 47, 70, 181
 - and international law, 127
 - legacy of, 189
- constitutional pluralism, 115, 118, 134
- constitutionalism, 87, 126, 146, 165, 166
 - antinomies of, 88–91
 - as commonality, 94–7
 - cosmopolitan, 80–1, 85
 - democratic, 89
 - global, 87, 101, 137, 141, 143, 155
 - and governing capacity, 91, 100
 - Janus-faced aspect of, 100–2
 - national, 100
 - oppositions in, 100, 105
 - as plurality, 97–100
 - and political community, 101
 - relationship between the particular and the universal, 90, 91–4, 100
 - sectoral constitutionalisation, 95
 - semantic roots of the concept, 88
 - as singularity, 91–4, 100
 - societal, 97–100, 104
 - and states, 95, 101
 - transnational, 98
 - as universal, 90, 100
 - versions of, 91
- constructivism, 48
- contrapunctual law, 117
- convergence-promoting approaches to global law, 55, 58–86, 135, 178, 198
 - abstract-normative versions, 70–86
 - and divergent approaches, 87, 138, 139, 150
 - formal versions, 63–70, 196
 - and hierarchy, 58
 - structural versions, 59–63, 196
 - and transnational law, 132
- cosmopolitanism, 80–1, 85, 93
- Critical Legal Studies, 182
- criticisms of global law, 180–7, 192
 - compartmentalisation, 192, 193, 194, 195, 204
 - detachment, 185–6, 189, 191
 - disillusionment, 186, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 204
 - elitism, 183–4, 185, 187
 - historical obliviousness, 184, 189

- from the radical perspective, 180, 182, 183, 184, 186
- from a statist perspective, 180, 181, 183, 184, 186
- in the transnational literatures, 182
- triumphalism, 192, 194, 195, 204
- customary law, 48, 66
- Declaration of Human Rights, 72, 75
- democracy, 89, 184, 203
- disciplinary discourses, 85, 129
- divergence-accommodating
 - approaches to global law, 55, 106–30, 135, 146, 178, 198, 199
 - and convergent approaches, 87, 138, 139, 150
 - functionally specific approaches, 118–25
 - hybrid approaches, 125–30, 197
 - laterally co-ordinate approaches, 106–18, 197
 - and transnational law, 132
- Domingo, Rafael, 77–9
- double normativity, 23, 132–5, 146, 171, 176, 197
- epistemic communities, 8, 41, 65
- equality, 81
- European Court of Human Rights, 93
- European Union, 34, 110–13
 - Court of Justice, 41, 93
 - jurisdiction in, 111
 - and transnational legal orders, 112
- federal states, 110, 200
- formalism, 63–70, 137, 153, 154, 178, 196
 - and the development of global law, 68
 - as fidelity to rules, 68
 - grounding in practice, 69
 - and state consent, 64
- fragmentation of law, 66, 69, 139
- freedom, 81
- functionally specific approaches to
 - global law, 118–25, 137, 155, 160, 178, 197, 198
 - focus of, 119, 126
- Ginsberg, Allen, 150
- global access to local markets and local cultural sensibilities, 7
- global actors and structures, 8
- Global Administrative Law, 46, 87, 102–6, 126, 156, 159, 160, 203
 - and concepts of global law, 105
 - and constitutionalism, 143, 166
 - emphasis on process and outcomes, 104
 - focus of, 103, 119
 - and the state tradition, 104
- Global Constitutionalism* journal, 158
- global cultural sensibilities and preferences, 7
- global goods, 137; see also public goods
- global governance, 12–15, 123, 184
 - definition of, 14
 - and global law, 24–6
- global imaginary, 167, 174
- global justice, and global law, 186, 204
- global law
 - active domain of constructive discovery of, 22, 79
 - actors in, 27
 - applicability of, 21, 22, 23, 171
 - authority of, 20, 148, 152, 162, 171, 194
 - autonomy of, 29, 68, 144–7, 192, 193
 - challenges to, 183
 - circuitous nature of, 131–3, 176
 - commitment to, 44–5, 136, 153
 - complexity of, 56, 57
 - conceptualisation of, 1–26
 - consensus for, 196
 - contribution to the making of law, 194, 202, 205
 - criticisms of, 17, 179, 187–92
 - cultivation of, 39–47
 - deep structure of, 82
 - definition of, 15–24
 - development of, 27, 40, 47–54, 57, 178–205
 - dissemination of, 29–54
 - diversity of, 22
 - double normativity, 23, 132–5, 146, 171, 176, 197

- global law (cont.)
 epistemic dimension of, 26, 188 extent and intensity of the movement towards, 19, 21, 26
 factors in, 30
 forward-looking aspects of, 171
 and global governance, 16, 24–6
 and global justice, 186, 204
 and globalisation, 145, 146, 176
 hierarchy in, 64
 historical-discursive approaches to,
 86–106, 165
 impulse towards, 26–7
 inexorability of, 173–7, 179
 influence of, 192, 193
 internal contestations of, 166
 intimated character of, 26, 30, 144, 148–75, 179
 legitimacy of, 161
 limits of its paradigm, 181 material jurisdiction of, 21, 75
 and national law, 39–42
 normalisation of, 43
 partial visions, 135–9 and political morality, 137 principles of, 78, 80, 81, 118
 as process, 1, 203
 prominence of judges and jurists, 189 and ratio and voluntas, 195–205 realisation of, 170–3
 recharging of, 192 reconciliation of the different strands of, 194
 referential object of, 19 relationship with its antecedents, 152
 a response to the diversity of law beyond the state, 12 restoration of, 192–5
 rhetorical dimension of, 26, 165, 191 role of the academy, 173
 self-generating and self-sustaining quality of, 131, 163
 as self-norming, 64, 68 serious discussions of, 10–12
 significance of elites, 42–3
 and the social and political world, 192
 sources of, 16, 19, 21, 204
 species of, 55–130, 135, 138, 139, 145, 153, 162, 178
 structural dimension of, 26
 subjects of, 78, 93
 suggestions of, 151–4 terminology, 18–24
 and transnational law, 15–18, 179
 and trend-spotting, 166
 universality of, 19, 21, 22, 23, 41, 78, 81, 89, 143, 197, 201
 use of the word ‘global’, 1–9 value of the concept, 11 visions of, 55–8
 wide and narrow versions of, 24, 25 global law firms, 31–9
 global law-craft continuities of, 45, 46
 continuum of, 31, 45–7, 51, 170, 188
 development of, 31
 jurisgenerative activity, 52, 53
 role of the academy, 173
 global legal community, 47–54, 78
 Global North, hegemony of, 74, 124 global public order, 155
 globalisation, 6, 43, 169, 174, 176 autonomy of law in, 8, 10 causes of, 4
 factors in, 5
 and global law, 145, 146
 indices of, 6
 intensification of, 7 of law, 24, 25, 29–54 meaning of, 5 momentum of, 8, 23
 multi-domain and open-ended remit of, 8
 as a process, 3–5
 reifying tendency in the debate on, 5 resistance and counter-tendencies, 7 roots and preconditions of, 3 governance experimental, 161
 multi-level, 14

- post-national institutions of, 15
- range of activities encompassed, 13
- gubernaculum*, and jurisdictio, 84, 90, 94
- Günther, Klaus, 82, 85, 198
- Habermas, Jürgen, 83
- Hague Conference on Private International Law, 109
- historical-discursive approaches to global law, 86–106
- horizontality, 78
- human rights, 72
 - character of, 75
 - charters and conventions, 17, 41
 - and cosmopolitanism, 93
 - expansionist dynamic in, 75
 - language of, 72, 73
 - legal impact of, 76
 - legal and politico-ethical registers, 72, 73
 - scope of, 77
 - social and collective rights, 74
 - Western bias of, 72, 73
- human rights law, 41, 74, 94, 156
- humanity's law, 126–7, 156
- hybrid approaches to global law, 125, 138, 156, 178, 197
- hybrid national/international courts, 161
- hybrid public/private normative orders, 17
- hyperreality, 168
- Institut de Droit International*, 50
- interdependence, 9, 24, 81, 117
- international and national spheres of action, 12
- International Association of Judges, 35
- International Bar Association, 33
- international community, 91
- International Court of Justice, 61, 113
- international courts and tribunals, 34, 40, 94, 113
 - hybrid national/international courts, 161
 - and national courts, 96
- International Criminal Court, 41
- international institutions, 4, 14, 15, 81, 93, 133
- international law, 50, 165, 166, 181
 - autonomy of, 154
 - boundary problems between legal orders, 106
 - centrality of, 91
 - constitutional, 70, 127, 159
 - constitutionalisation of, 87
 - contractualist view of, 154
 - delegation model of, 182
 - and global law, 51
 - influence of, 58
 - integrity of, 154
 - legacy of, 189
 - private, 106, 109
 - public, 109
 - and states, 61, 93, 163
 - subjects of, 73
 - unity of form, 66
- International Law Commission, 66, 140
- international law firms, 31–9
- international lawyers, 95
- international organisations, hybrid treaty-constitutions, 95
- international regimes, 13, 120, 125
 - autonomy of, 160
 - and regime complexes, 123
- international relations, 12
- intimations of global law, 148–75
 - definition of, 149
- Jessup, Philip, 18
- judicial networks, 34
- jurisdictio*, and gubernaculum, 84, 90, 94
- jus civile*, 79
- jus cogens*, 19, 66, 67, 92
- jus commune*, 86
- jus gentium*, 50, 79, 86, 108, 156
- jus publicum*, 86
- justice, global theory of, 137
- Kadi* case, 141–2
- Kant, Immanuel, 59
- Kelsen, Hans, 64
- Krisch, Nico, 117

- Krygier, Martin, 152
 Kumm, Mattias, 80–1, 85
- laterally co-ordinate approaches to global law, 106–18, 137, 138, 197
 conflict of laws, 107–14
 legal pluralism, 114–18
- law authoritative grounds, 12, 27
 authority of, 82, 84, 101, 152, 155, 157, 163
 autonomy of, 10, 69, 192, 202
 codification and restatement of, 48
 conceptualisation of, 27, 196
 decompartmentalisation, 56
 fragmentation of, 66, 69, 139
 heteronomy of, 202
 historical resources of, 85 normative grammar of, 27
 as ratio and as voluntas, 196
 sources of, 68
 state-centred model of, 9, 80 validity of, 152, 155
- law cases of broad interest, 44, 97, 113, 141–2
- law of peace, 156
- law of the peacemakers, 127–8
- law of recognition, 128–9, 156
- Law Schools Global League, 37
- League of Nations, 60
- legal disciplinary discourses, 86
- legal education, 36, 38
 and legal practice, 38
 national basis of, 40
 research culture in, 37 transnational institutions, 36
- legal expertise, 38, 51, 52, 69, 188, 189
- legal occupational culture and practice, 30, 145
- legal orders, 11
 disorder of normative orders, 165 unity of, 201
- legal phenomena beyond states, 3
- legal pluralism, 107, 114–18, 134, 138, 141, 144, 204
 constitutional, 115, 204
 external, 201
 global, 200
 internal, 201
 radical, 116, 134
 strains of, 115
- legal professional and academic practice, 30, 37, 65, 69, 96, 97, 169
 contribution to the making of law, 47 depth and formalisation of, 33
 epistemic communities, 8, 41, 65, 95
 national basis of, 39–42
 significance of elites, 42–3, 50
- legal professional networks, 95
- legality, universal code of, 82
- legitimacy, 127
- Lex Pacificatoria*, 127–8
- Maduro, Miguel, 117
- minorities, protection and representation of, 17
- Mox Plant* case, 113
- national judiciaries, linking of, 34
- New York University Law School, 102
- normativity, 23, 77–86, 170, 172; see also double normativity development of global indicators, 160 forms of, 12
 global, 134
 local, 134
 and social relations, 80
- obligations erga omnes, 67, 92
- opinio juris*, 66, 69
- ‘outcasting’, 167
- Palombella, Gianluigi, 84
- positive law, 70
- power, constitutive or constituted, 144
- private international law, 106, 109
- proportionality analysis, 160, 167
- public goods, 121, 124, 138 non-excludability and non-rivalrousness of, 121, 122 and regulation, 122
 value choices about, 123

- public international law, 109
- public law, 80, 86
- ratio*, 195–205
- recognition, 128, 156
- regional institutions, 17, 93
- regulatory activity, 3, 13, 14
- Reich, Robert, 173
- responsibility to protect, 153
- rights, mainstreaming of, 160
- Rule of Law, 25, 82–4, 90, 156
 - at the global level, 92
 - and legality, 83
 - public and private domains, 84
 - and the ‘rule of man’, 83
- Slaughter, Anne-Marie, 34
- social interconnectedness, 6
- social movements, 7
- solidarity, 78
- sovereignty of states, 12, 49, 58, 163, 181
 - external, 12, 13, 15
 - historical importance of, 13
 - internal, 12, 13, 15
 - popular sovereignty, 89
- state law and non-state law, 16
- states, 9
 - centralised, 49
 - constitutional, 47
 - constitutional courts, 113
 - and constitutions, 88
 - federal states, 110, 200
 - and international law, 93
- Steger, Manfred, 174
- Stone Sweet, Alex, 93, 94
- structural versions of global law,
 - 59–63, 133, 137, 153, 178, 196
 - and formalism, 69
 - grounding in practice, 69
- subsidiarity, 78, 80, 160, 167
- suggestions of global law
 - oblique, 157–62, 170
 - projected, 151–7, 170
 - unsettled, 162–9, 170
- systems theory, 97–100
- Teitel, Ruti, 126–7, 129
- Teubner, Gunther, 97–100
- toleration of diversity, doctrines of, 160
- Tourme-Jouannet, Emmanuelle, 128–9
- tradition, legal, 163, 190
- traditionalism, 157
- traditionality, 152, 157, 165
- transnational advocacy networks, 33
- transnational constitutional orders, 88
- transnational jurisgenerative structures, 17
- transnational law, 18, 24, 57
 - articulation of, 145
 - autonomy of the various sectors, 99
 - and conflict of laws, 111
 - convergent legal standards of, 105
 - development of, 51
 - functional specialisation, 112
 - and global law, 179
 - and national law, 40, 41
 - and public interest, 109
 - sub-spheres of, 99
 - subjects of, 98
 - and trend-spotting, 159
- transnational law journals, 37
- transnational lawyers, 33
- transnational legal culture, 38
- Tuori, Kaarlo, 82, 85
- Twining, William, 1–9, 10, 11, 17
- United Nations, 133, 142
 - authority of, 61
 - benefits of, 62
 - capacity of, 153
 - Charter, 59, 62, 72, 92
 - commitment to, 61
 - as a constitutional framework of international law, 92, 142
 - enforcement of collective security, 62
 - global capacity of, 61
 - and global law, 65
 - jurisgenerative activity, 65
 - membership of, 61
 - prominence of, 60
- Universal Declaration of Human Rights 72, 75

Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties, 67	Waldron, Jeremy, 92, 94
Vienna Declaration, 75	Westphalian system of governance, 13
voluntas , 195–205	Wordsworth, William, 150
	World Conference on Human Rights, 75