

Index

- Abu-Lughod, Lila, 93, 94, 149
 acting out. See trauma: acting out affect, 16, 59, 88, 97, 98, 99, 104
   affective attraction, 142
   affective bonds, 60
   affective dynamics, 98, 142, 221
   affective investment, 144
   affective resonance, 271. See also affective investment
     representation and the power of emotion, 141–145
   affective states, 16, 97, 99
   as analytically inaccessible, 16
   as bodily experience, 24, 84, 99
   difficulties analyzing, 16, 17 distinguished from emotion, 15, 16, 98 and mind–body system, 16, 74
   neuroscientific approaches to affect, 73 shaping social world, 19, 99, 130, 141, 142, 146, 225
   and soft power. See soft power affective communities, 4, 5, 16, 74, 101, 105, 110, 268, 271
 Afghanistan, 238
 agency, 12, 23, 25, 29, 142, 154, 190, 196, 202, 240, 260, 261
   collective agency, 29, 142, 146, 151 emotions as agency, 23, 147, 273, 283 humanitarian agency, 195, 207
   of mothers and children, 200
   political agency, 63, 146, 291, 296
   power and agency, 189, 199, 207
 Ahmed, Sara, 9, 46, 63, 92, 102, 289
 Alexander, Jeffrey C., 51, 55, 62
 alief, 88
 amity, 20
 Anderson, Benedict, 104
 anger, 26, 45, 72, 78, 95, 160, 162, 175, 212, 225, 227, 237, 255, 262, 276, 279, 291, 299
   collective anger, 243, 260
 antagonism, 229, 230, 238, 247, 253, 254, 260, 264, 291, 296
 anthropology
   anthropological approaches to emotion. See cultural anthropology
 anxiety, 2, 20, 45, 67, 78, 212, 227, 235, 237, 238, 243, 262, 292, 295, 298, 299
   collective anxiety, 265
 apartheid, 6, 28, 213, 247, 249, 250, 251, 258, 267. See Truth and Reconciliation Commission
 (TRC), South Africa
   as a collective trauma, 27, 28, 247, 251, 256, 259
   post-apartheid reconciliation, 248, 258, 268
 Arab Spring, 145
 Aradau, Claudia, 147
 Arendt, Hannah, 201
   on the “politics of pity”, 201
 Australia
   Australian values, lifestyle, 165, 167, 168, 169, 174
   collective insecurity, 165, 168, 175
   collective insecurity, representations of, 168, 177, 182, 292
 Baer, Ulrich, 122
 Bali bombing, 5, 25, 133, 153, 157, 159, 161, 162, 164, 167, 168, 186,
 264, 267, 271, 272, 291, 292
   Australian audience bearing witness,
     160, 163, 164, 165, 167, 171,
     174, 175, 178, 180

- Bali bombing (cont.)
 and Australian nationalism, 157, 160, 164, 166
 as “Australia’s Ground Zero”, 177
 Bali, significance of to Australia, 161, 162, 165, 177
 commemorations of, 158, 163, 164, 167, 178
 emotional resonance of, 163–169
 as enacting Australian national community, 5, 25, 155, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 165, 168,
 174, 178, 181, 182, 211, 262, 267, 292
 fear of, 168, 292
 images, photographs of, 160, 162, 163, 169–180, 181, 272
 media reports of, 158, 162, 163, 164
 and military mythology, 157, 164, 166
 and national mourning, 164, 165, 166, 167, 178
 representations of, 158, 160,
 161–163, 167, 169, 171, 181,
 272, 291
 Sari Bar, 157, 158, 168, 174, 177
 as a collective trauma, 154, 158,
 161, 162, 163, 165, 167, 168, 171 survivor testimony, 162
 Balkans, 67, 229
 Bangladesh, 67
 Barnett, Michael, 143, 188
 on power politics, 143
 Bar-Tal, Daniel, 253
 bereavement, 163, 240. See grief practices, 240, 243, 252, 266
 Berezin, Mabel, 105, 226
 on “community of feeling”, 105
 on “secure state”, 182
 Berger, John, 114
 Berlant, Lauren, 63
 Beuys, Joseph, 129
 Bhabha, Homi, 209
 Bially Mattern, Janice, 24, 98, 140, 283
 on emotions as practices, 97
 Biro, Matthew, 129
 Blanchot, Maurice, 7, 38
 Bourdieu, Pierre, 103
 Brassett, James, 50
 Brison, Susan, 41, 56, 80, 124
 Brown, Wendy, 63, 69
 Burkitt, Ian, 91
 Burman, Erica, 194, 206
 Bush, George W., 132
 Butler, Judith, 10, 36, 41, 124, 174, 246
 on performativity, 10
 on the politics of mourning, 241, 246
 Callahan, William A., 216, 227, 234, 235
 and China’s “national insecurities”, 234 on humiliation in China, 235
 on “structures of feeling”, 226
 Campbell, David, 136, 195
 Cao, Qing, 224
 Caruth, Cathy, 7, 38, 39, 49
 Celan, Paul, 79
 Century of National Humiliation, 12,
 27, 155, 214, 215, 220, 221, 222, 234, 237, 273
 as chosen trauma, 220
 chronology of, 217
 as collective, historical trauma, 226, 227, 229, 233, 237, 265
 as colonial trauma, 27, 216, 267
 history of, 215–216
 as nationalism, 273
 representations of, 221, 233
 childhood, 194, 195
 children, 178, 192, 194, 195
 and Holocaust, 79, 123, 129
 images of mothers and children.
See images of suffering: of mothers and children
 the emotional politics of representing. See images of suffering: and children
 China, 6, 12, 262, 265, 267 and “acting out” trauma, 229
 anti-Japanese sentiment, 236
 apology politics, 236
 Belgrade embassy bombing, 1999,
 235, 236
 Century of National Humiliation,
 representations of, 221–228
 colonial trauma, 6, 223, 226, 235, 268

- glorious civilization, 216, 236
 historical memory of, 220
 history of trauma, 6, 28, 212, 219, 221, 222, 223, 225, 226, 228, 233, 234, 237, 265, 271 history of trauma, commemorations of, 222, 223
 and humiliation, 216, 220, 222, 225, 228, 233, 267
 Nanjing Massacre, 1937, 213
 national identity, 27, 212, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 233, 235, 265, 273
 nationalism, 27, 212, 222, 228, 273
 Opium War, 212
 and re-enacting trauma, 213
 sense of victimhood, 234, 235 Spy Plane Crisis, 2001, 235
 and struggle for recognition, 28, 226, 234, 235
 Summer Olympic Games, 2008, 236
 Taiping Rebellion, 1851–1864, 223
 territory forced removal, trauma of, 215
 Tiananmen Square tragedy, 1989, 223, 224, 227, 236
 and Tibet, 236
 Tibetan Uprising, 1959, 223
 trauma, representations of, 223, 224, 225, 226, 229
 and unfinished mourning, 228–238
 as “victim” versus “victor”, 220, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227
 and “working through” trauma, 229
 Xidan Democracy Wall closure, 1979, 223
 Chinese Communist Party (CCP), 215, 222, 224
 and the politicization of historical trauma, 224–225 chosen trauma, 69, 213, 214, 220, 229, 236, 264
 meaning of, 221
 as motivating group behavior, 230, 264
 victimhood, 220
 Chouliaraki, Lilie, 138, 188, 203
 Chow, Rey, 192
 cognition, 16, 21, 84, 92, 94, 95, 97, 285
 as embodied, 97
 Cohen, Stanley, 250
 Cold War, 12, 50
 collective trauma, 9, 37, 52, 155, 159, 160, 180, 216, 220, 229, 230, 240, 261, 273, 292
 as a cultural enactment, 54–55
 theorizing alongside emotions and affects, 53–54, 81, 106–108 compassion, 162, 177, 180, 186, 188, 195, 202, 203, 209, 210, 255, 274, 275, 276, 298, 299 compassion fatigue, 134, 189, 299
 conflict. See also cycles of violence
 and emotions, 146, 237, 238, 239, 246, 253, 268, 300
 neuroscientific approaches to, 85
 and representations, 136, 232, 253
 Connolly, William A., 48, 136
 content analysis, 185
 Crawford, Neta C., 14, 17, 21, 22
 on institutionalizing emotions, 22
 Culbertson, Roberta, 44, 80
 cultural anthropology approaches to emotion, 82, 93, 94, 96, 97, 109, 149, 280, 289 cultural trauma, 2, 62, 181, 220, 227
 as product of symbolic representations, 52, 55, 58, 59, 159 cycle of violence, 232, 238, 245
 emotional discourses, 232, 245, 253, 264 representations as perpetuating antagonism, 238, 254 representations as transforming cultures of violence, 260–261, 263, 295–296
 D’Costa, Bina, 67
 Damasio, Antonio, 85
 Darby, Philip, 136
 de Masi, Sonya, 162
 Delbo, Charlotte, 44
 Deng, Xiaoping, 224, 234
 Devetak, Richard, 132
 Di Prete, Laura, 126
 Didion, Joan, 42

- discourse, 2, 11, 13, 61, 90, 139, 149, 156
- of Bali bombing, 291
  - as commemoration, 158, 163
  - of compassion, 188, 293
  - colonial discourses, 204
  - defining discourse, 119–120
  - distinguished from representation, 120
  - emotions as discourse, 4, 12, 50, 62, 68, 69, 93, 96, 101, 108, 109, 110, 140, 147, 149, 216, 238, 253, 256, 260, 264, 273, 291, 292, 293
  - of fear, 105, 144, 162, 165, 167, 168, 177, 181, 222, 237, 238, 253, 265, 291, 292, 298
  - of healing, 248, 265
  - humanitarian, 204. See also humanitarianism: and North/South discourses of
  - of mourning, 244
  - of national humiliation, 219. See Century of National Humiliation
  - of pity, 293. See also politics of pity and the production of social meaning, 94, 100, 116, 120, 139, 149, 163, 169, 180, 248, 265, 270, 272, 274, 288
  - and representation, 25, 114, 119, 133, 140, 143, 144, 181, 261, 265, 269, 272, 286, 296
  - of security, 175, 182, 292
  - of solidarity, 182, 293–295
  - of suffering, 154
  - of terrorism, 167, 168
- discourse analysis, 160, 185
- Doty, Roxanne Lynn, 119, 120, 130
- Duvall, Raymond, 143
- on power politics, 143
- East Timor, 238
- Edkins, Jenny, 10, 11, 39, 45, 47, 75, 77, 122, 132, 232
- Elster, Jon, 84, 102
- emotion, 97
- and beliefs, 17, 19, 22, 41, 88, 141, 208, 272, 278, 282, 285, 301
  - and cognition, 16, 21, 22, 74, 85, 278
  - and collective identity, 3, 22, 52, 74, 105, 110
  - constructionist conceptions, 21, 22, 90, 281, 298
  - de-essentialized, 280
  - defining emotions, 13–16, 84–86
  - distinguished from affect, 15
  - as embodied, 19, 93, 96–99, 100, 102, 106, 141, 279, 285
  - emotion norms, 102, 145
  - “emotion work”, 261, 262
  - emotional resonance, 4, 16, 142, 254, 271. See also Bali bombing: emotional resonance of
  - and foreign policy possibilities, 144
  - and the formation of aid communities following distant disaster, 189
  - and gender, 13
  - as “governed”, 73, 143, 233, 262, 288
  - and humanitarianism, 187, 195
  - as individual, isolating, 31
  - in international relations theory, 13, 15, 22, 88, 281–284
  - linked to affect, 16
  - methodological challenges, 14, 15, 16, 18, 22, 30
  - methodology for examining emotion, 16–20
  - mind–body dichotomy, 97
  - and misperception, misjudgment, 21
  - and nationalism, 104, 228, 298
  - neuroscientific approaches to emotion, 73, 85, 92, 99
  - in opposition to reason, rationality, 4, 13, 14, 21, 31, 82, 86, 87
  - and path dependency, 22
  - and performativity, 81, 82, 145, 290
  - and political community, 2, 3, 5, 6–12, 13, 22, 25, 29, 35, 82, 101, 102, 103, 106, 107, 147, 154–156, 161, 237. See also trauma: and political community
  - and political transformation, 5, 49, 88, 92, 146, 212, 242, 291, 293, 295, 296. See also political transformation

- politics of, 82–84
 and the politics of representation, 18–20, 140, 141, 142, 146
 and public expression, 73, 77
 social emotions, 270
 and social meaning, 19, 58
 and state identity, 22, 167–169, 219, 280–284
 as practices, 97
 emotional cultures, 28, 186, 267, 269, 288, 293, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301
 as politically transformative, 297–301
 emotional hegemony, 208 emotional liberty, 94, 145. See also Reddy, William M.
 emotional practices, 97
 emotional regime, 94
 emotional turn, 73, 85
 emotionality, 143
 emotives, 290
 empathy, 180, 254, 274, 275, 276, 294, 298
 Eng, David, 77
 Erikson, Kai, 53, 54
 Eyerman, Ron, 62

 Fassin, Didier, 33, 34
 fear, 7, 20, 24, 38, 45, 52, 61, 72, 87, 95, 105, 144, 162, 165, 167,
   168, 171, 175, 177, 181, 212,
   237, 238, 243, 246, 248, 250,
   262, 265, 277, 289, 291, 295, 298, 299
 feeling rules, 103, 288, 297
 feelings, 4, 7, 10, 13, 17, 22, 75, 93, 97, 107, 208, 282
   of belonging, 60, 67, 81, 102
   as distinct from affect and emotion, 16, 84, 88, 96, 98, 99, 147, 285
   as fragmented, 29, 44, 57 “fellow feeling”, 110, 275
   of isolation, 37
   and representation, 18, 140, 141, 180, 269
   of solidarity, 60, 67, 138, 148, 167
   structures of feeling, 27, 101,
     105, 106, 108, 147, 226, 228, 273

 feminist theory, 21, 63, 78, 87, 104, 137
   and emotions, 21, 87, 278
 Fierke, K.M., 10, 56, 98, 132, 136, 142, 148, 232, 240
 forgiveness, 254, 255, 259
 Foucault, Michel, 94, 119, 289
 Freud, Sigmund, 231, 241
   on mourning versus melancholia, 241

 Galtung, Johan, 229, 230, 231
 Giddens, Anthony, 279
 Gobodo-Madikizela, Pumla, 254
 grief, 8, 27, 162, 175, 178, 190, 230, 231, 240, 243, 244, 246, 249,
   259, 266, 295
   Australians working through, 180, 181 communal grief, 240, 244
   as an essential process after trauma and loss, 27, 80, 155, 212, 213, 214, 239, 246, 264
   “frozen grief”, 231
   images of mothers, 190
   as mourning, 64, 81
   pieta, icon of, 195
   “politics of grief”, 212, 239, 246, 249, 259, 264, 296
   “portraits of grief”, 127
   and representation, 129, 133, 167, 192 stages of grief, 178
   the turn to grief after trauma, 238–246, 249, 263, 266
   TRC as grieving traumas of
     apartheid, 249–257
   working through, 27, 64
 Gries, Peter Hays, 219
 guilt, 72, 87, 171, 212, 222, 237, 243, 248

 Haiti earthquake, 2010, 1, 49, 145
 Halbwachs, Maurice, 64, 65
 Hall, Cheryl, 104
 Hall, Stuart, 140, 141
 Halpern, Jodi, 254
 Hansen, Lene, 115
 Harré, Rom, 288
 hatred, 238

- healing, 26, 55, 56, 155, 231, 263
 communal healing, 27, 28, 53, 57, 240, 246, 248, 249, 251, 252, 255, 256, 257, 259, 262 grief as healing, 155, 240, 246.
See also grief: as an essential process after trauma and loss the South African TRC as healing, 28, 213, 249, 251, 252, 257
- Heaney, Jonathan G., 105
- Herman, Judith Lewis, 9, 39, 53, 243
- Hiroshima, 12, 50
- Hirsch, Marianne, 126
- Hobbes, Thomas, 20
- Hochschild, Arlie Russell, 103, 261, 288, 297
- Hoffmaster, Barry, 87
- Holland, Jack, 144
- Holocaust, 2, 11, 33, 40, 44, 50, 67, 75, 79, 123, 129
 art of, 129
 images of, 67
- Howard, John, 133, 164, 168, 178, 272
- humanitarian intervention, 5, 23, 28, 300
- humanitarianism, 274
 and emergency, 196
 and emotional underpinnings of, 201, 202, 209, 275, 298, 299
 and national character, 294
 and North/South discourses of, 189, 202, 204, 207, 208, 274 and “politics of pity”, 199, 202. See also images of suffering: and the “politics of pity”
 as realpolitik, 293
 and solidarity, 208
 Western discourses of, 195, 196, 293
- humiliation, 23, 67, 229, 232, 237, 243, 260. See also Century of National Humiliation
- Humphrey, Michael, 66
- identity
 collective identity after trauma, 3
 in-group/out-group relations, 253 negative stereotypes, 253, 254, 255
 and practices of representation, 121, 133, 138, 148, 296
 securitization of, 135, 136
 and threat, 61
- images of suffering and childhood, 195, 199
 and children, 190, 194, 195, 196, 204, 206
 and collective identity after trauma, 177
 colonial framing, 189, 201, 204, 207, 208, 209, 274
 as comforting, 207
 and emotion, affect, 187, 188, 190, 192, 195, 199, 201
 feminization of disaster, 190, 196, 207
 gendered dimensions of, 194, 196, 206–207
 humanitarian icons, 190
 and humanitarian meanings, 188, 200, 204, 209, 274
 and masculinization of audience, 206, 207
 and media coverage, 49, 187
 as mobilizing action, 178, 187, 188, 203
 of mothers and children, 190, 192, 195
 North/South discourses of, 189, 190, 196, 201, 274
 notions of rescue, 204–206
 pieta, 195
 and the “politics of pity”, 199, 201, 203
 and power of aid workers, 200 and power hierarchy, 187, 188, 189, 190, 192, 195, 199, 201, 204, 206, 207, 208
 and solidarity, 207
 stereotypes, 189, 190, 192, 194, 203, 206
 Western discourses of, 186, 200, 203, 204, 207
 Western viewers as responsive actors, 207–208
- imagined communities, 148
- Indonesia, 167, 206
 Bandah Aceh, 204
 Indonesian refugees, 200
 Indonesian refugees, visualization of, 196

- injustice, 68, 253, 258
 and apartheid, 213
 structural inequality, 258
- Iraq, 238
- irrationality. See rationality
- Islamic State, 12
- Israel, 67
- James, William, 84
- Jeffery, Renée, 14
- Jemaah Islamiyah, 157
- Jervis, Robert, 15
- justice, 5, 86, 250
 restorative justice, 255
 retributive justice, 163
- Kaplan, E. Ann, 9, 126, 134
- Kashmir, 238
- Kearney, Richard, 43, 118
- Kiefer, Anselm, 129
- Kinnvall, Caterina, 66
- Kleinman, Arthur, 134
- Kleinman, Joan, 134
- Kofman, Sarah, 123
- Korf, Benedict, 138
- LaCapra, Dominick, 244
- Lahr, John, 118
- Langer, Lawrence, 38, 40, 75
- language, 43
 aesthetic displacement of, 126
 as communicating trauma, 31, 54
 and emotion, 18, 19, 80, 107, 141, 144, 203
 as expression of feelings, 18, 107
 linguistic turn, 116
 as meaningful, 124
 medical codification of pain, 76
 as performing emotionality, 77, 80, 93, 100, 107
 and representation, 59, 114, 116, 117, 284
 and social organization, 58, 116, 125
 and trauma, 10, 55, 58, 59, 71, 75, 78, 112, 124. See also trauma: and inexpressibility, incommunicability
- Laub, Dori, 56, 79, 124
- Lebow, Richard Ned, 17
- Lewis, Jeff, 162
- Lifton, Robert, 39
- Lindner, Evelin, 232
- Lutz, Catherine A., 82, 93, 94, 109, 149, 280, 289
- Malkki, Lisa, 195
- Mamadouh, Virginie, 138
- Mandela, Nelson, 251
- Mao, Zhedong, 223, 224, 225, 234
 Cultural Revolution, 223
 Great Leap Forward, 223
 Hundred Flowers Campaign, 223
- McDermott, Rose, 96, 99
- McDonald, Matt, 272
- media
 and emotional empowerment, 300
- Megill, Alan, 61
- melancholia
 Freudian definition. See Freud, Sigmund: on mourning versus
 melancholia
- memory, 45, 50, 70
 collective memory, 64–65
 commemorating trauma through
 memory, 63, 68
 communal, 63, 64
 and forgetting, 60
 and power relations, 66, 67
 and social/collective identity, 65, 67, 68, 69
- South Africa, apartheid trauma.
See South Africa: apartheid
 trauma
- traumatic memory, 4, 8, 11, 40, 42, 44, 45, 46, 53, 63–70, 124
 and working through trauma, 40
- Mercer, Jonathan, 14, 17, 21, 22, 271
- methodology. See emotion:
 methodology for examining
 emotion
 and visual representations, 160
- Middle East, 145, 229, 238
- Miller, Manjari Chatterjee, 216, 228, 234
 on Chinese colonial trauma, 216
- Miller, Nancy, 126, 127
- Milliken, Jennifer, 119
- mind–body dichotomy, 21, 87
- Minow, Martha, 254

- Misztal, Barbara, 69
 Mitter, Rana, 227
 Moeller, Susan, 275
 Mollica, Richard, 243
 Morgan, David, 78
 Morgenthau, Hans, 20
 Morrison, Toni, 40
 mourning, 68, 178, 231, 240, 241, 242, 243, 263
   national mourning, 158, 164
   ritualization of, 158, 260
   unfinished mourning, 69, 231
   and “working through” trauma, 46, 229, 231, 237, 241, 244, 246
- Nagasaki, 12, 50
 narrative, 117–118
   and representation, 117
 national trauma, 133, 160, 161, 181, 228, 252, 272, 291. See also chosen trauma national unity, 257
 nationalism, 68
   Australian nationalism, 6. See Bali bombing: and Australian nationalism Chinese nationalism. See China: nationalism and commemoration, 68
   and emotion, 298
   emotional nationalism, 182
 nation-state
   as “affective community”, 5, 17, 23, 69, 104, 105, 106, 160, 181, 182, 210, 282, 291, 294, 298
   as a “community of feeling”, 105, 106
   discourses of contemporary statehood, 50, 292 emotional underpinnings of, 23, 104, 105, 155, 281–282. See also Berezin, Mabel: on “secure state” as guarantor of security, 34, 69, 105, 175
   narratives and response to trauma, 69, 154, 169
   and nationalism, 298
   as rational actor, 104
 natural catastrophe, 1, 48, 50, 196, 274
 Nussbaum, Martha, 94, 95, 278
- Olson, David, 117
 Oren, Neta, 253
 Orford, Anne, 199
 outrage
   communal, 26, 166
- People’s Republic of China (PRC). See China
 performativity, 55, 121, 125, 159
 Perlez, Jane, 200
 Perlmutter, David, 127
 Philipose, Liz, 78
 pity, 134, 196, 201, 202, 203, 274
   and morality, 208
 Plato, 13, 104
 political liberalism, 20, 86, 104, 276
 political psychology, 21, 96
   deterrence, 21
 political realism, 20, 143
   emotions and, 20
   realpolitik, 113, 293
 political theory
   history of emotions in, 103
 political transformation
   emotions and, 49, 250
   possibility of after trauma, 49, 211–214, 239–246 role of representations, 130, 259–263, 295–297 political violence, 1, 23, 214, 292. See also conflict emotionally motivated, 23, 268
   instigating trauma, 49, 210 politics of apology, 259
 politics of grief. See grief: “politics of grief” politics of pity, 201, 202
   as an emotional hierarchy, 202
   racial hierarchy, 202
   women and children as victims, 202
 poststructuralism, 22, 113
 post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). See trauma: and post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) power, 19, 49, 59, 94, 143, 145 emotional power, 94, 143, 146.
   See also emotion: emotional resonance Foucauldian conception, 119, 287, 289, 290

- political power, 11, 28, 49, 50, 66, 121, 131, 233
 and practices of representation, 117
 as productive, 143
 of representation, 260, 296
 social power, 66
 structural power, 143
 Prager, Jeffrey, 65
- Radley, Alan, 58
 rage. See anger
 rationalism, 21
 rationality, 21
 and cognition, 21, 99, 278
 and emotion, 4, 21, 86, 92, 93, 99, 100, 278, 281, 300
- Rawls, John, 104
 reason, 86, 99
 Rechtman, Richard, 33, 34
 Reddy, William M., 140, 290
 reification, 62
 and commemoration of trauma, 50
 and dereification, meaning of, 62
 meaning of, 62
- Renwick, Neil, 224
 reparation, 255
 representation of childhood, 194
 as conceiving emotions, 18, 19, 20, 140, 141, 147, 149
 and discourse. See discourse: and representation enabling collectives to emotionally enact trauma, 57, 59, 260, 261
 as framing the social world, 18, 19, 59, 113, 114, 115, 118, 135, 141, 146, 194, 225, 262, 274 and gender stereotyping, 192
 meaning of, 114
 mimetic versus aesthetic, 114, 116
 the politics of representation, 115, 260 practices of, 114, 115, 121
 practices of representation, 116
 and reclaiming trauma, 261 representation theory, 114–116
 and subjectivity, 121
 of victims/victimhood, 207
 and working through trauma, 121
 retribution, 167, 230, 257, 291
 revenge, 230, 235, 237, 244, 291
 as a product of chosen trauma, 230
 Ricoeur, Paul, 64
 Rorty, Richard, 48
 Rosaldo, Michelle Z., 82, 93, 96
 Rosenwein, Barbara, 145, 289, 290
 Ross, Andrew, 17, 24, 99, 104, 146, 283
 Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 104
 Rwanda, 238
- Sari Bar. See Bali bombing: Sari Bar
 Sasley, Brent, 23, 282
 Saurette, Paul, 15, 17
 Scarry, Elaine, 46, 75, 76, 253
 Scheer, Monique, 97
 Schick, Kate, 132, 232, 244, 245
 Schmemmann, Serge, 66
 Scott, David, 234
 security affect and September 11, 2001, discussion by Ty Solomon and Jack Holland, 144–145 affective dynamics of, 238
 collective insecurity, 168, 177, 237, 265, 291, 298
 cultures of insecurity, 61
 emotion, Bali bombing and security discourses, 271–273 government construction, regulation, 133, 164, 272, 292 insecurity caused by trauma, 41, 47 media representations, 158, 177
 nation-state, 105
 political construction, regulation, 68, 163
 representations of, 272, 273
 social response to trauma, 29, 35, 36, 272
 semiotics, 116, 160, 185
 September 11, 2001, 1, 9, 12, 48, 50, 77, 126, 132, 144, 164, 232, 264
 images of, 77
 World Trade Center, 48, 77, 126
 shame, 23, 45, 72, 87, 212, 222, 227, 229, 233, 237, 243, 260
 Shanahan, Denis, 168
 Shapiro, Michael, 61, 133
 Sheridan, Greg, 164

- social meaning, 115
 production of through representations, 115, 116, 137
- social power, 289, 291, 296
- social science
 as sidelining emotions, 4, 13, 86 distinction between emotion and
 affect, 16
 studying emotions in, 85, 277
- soft power, 142
- solace, 162
- solidarity
 after the Bali bombing, 175, 180, 272
 after the South-East Asian tsunami, 2004, 183, 202, 208
 transnational, 1, 189
- Solomon, Robert, 94, 95, 278
- Solomon, Ty, 142, 144
- Somalia, 238
- South Africa, 6, 27, 28, 247, 252, 258, 259, 265, 267, 268
 Amnesty Committee, 250
 apartheid trauma, 248, 250, 252
 Committee on Human Rights Violations, 250
 history of trauma, 249, 296
 Interim Constitution, 1993, 248, 255
 national identity, 256
 National Unity and Reconciliation Act, 1995, 250
 post-apartheid national identity, 248 reconciliation, 248
 Reparation and Rehabilitation Committee, 250
 TRC's working through trauma, 249–250, 252, 261
- South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission
 (TRC), 28, 213, 247, 249, 250, 265, 295
 critiques of, 257–258
 facilitating healing. See healing rehumanizing processes, 253–255
 reparation processes, 255–257
 use of survivor testimony, 250–253
- South-East Asian tsunami, 2004, 1, 5, 26, 49, 137, 153, 154, 183, 211, 267, 271, 273, 293, 296
 and active/passive actor dichotomy, 190, 196, 199, 200, 204
- event description, 183–184
 feminization of disaster, 196
 imagery, colonial framing, 185, 186–189
 imagery, non-Western victimhood, 186, 188
 imagery, Western aid workers, 187, 203, 204
 images, photographs of, 184,
 185, 186, 187, 196, 209,
 274, 294
 media reports of, 184
 North/South discourses of, 190–203
 representations of, 185, 189, 209, 274, 293, 294
 transnational community after, 185, 202, 208, 273, 274, 293
 transnational community bearing witness, 184
- sovereignty, 11, 50, 68, 71, 133, 135, 169
- Sri Lanka, 238
- state. See nation-state
- state as person, 281
- Staub, Ervin, 253
- Steele, Brent, 138
- Stompka, Piotr, 3, 62, 63
- survivor testimony, 8, 28, 55, 56, 65, 66, 67, 75, 81, 254, 256
 as dialogue, 55, 56, 125, 251, 252, 254
 as “duty to speak”, 124
 South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission
 (TRC). See South African Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC): use of survivor testimony
- Suski, Laura, 195
- sympathy, 274
 communal unity, 148, 165, 298
 mediation between individual and collective, 180
 pity, Western privilege, 201, 202, 208
 political identity, construction, 293, 299 towards trauma sufferers, 107, 180, 201, 210, 275, 298
 victims as objects of, 201

- Tagg, John, 116
- terrorism, 1, 5, 145, 158, 232, 274
     Australian response to, Fortress
         Australia, 133
     Bali bombing. See also Bali
         bombing
- Todorov, Tzvetan, 68
- transnational community, 27, 155, 183, 186, 274, 275, 294
- transnational solidarity, 1, 26. See also solidarity: transnational after the Bali bombing, 154. See also solidarity: after the Bali
         bombing
     after the South-East Asian tsunami, 2004, 183. See also solidarity:
         after the South-East Asian tsunami, 2004
- trauma
     acting out, 67, 229, 231, 232, 237, 244
     and aesthetic sources of expression, 126
     bearing witness, 3, 7, 9, 26, 36, 51, 55, 56, 57, 124, 148, 220, 243, 248, 253, 254, 271, 275
     as central to world politics, 12, 266 changes in meaning, 33–35
     and collective identity, 60–63, 69, 148, 180, 262
     communally transformative, 26, 28, 35, 48, 49, 53–60, 63, 125, 131, 137, 158, 166, 169, 249, 294
     conceptualizing trauma, 38–41
     and “crisis of representation”, 122 disbelief following trauma, 7, 8, 9, 38, 72
     discourses of, 4, 12, 13
     dissociation, 42, 47
     distant trauma as “normalized”, 51
     as embodied, 52
     and forgetting, 49, 237, 245
     and historical legacies of suffering, 33 identity and meaning after trauma, 41–46, 67, 132, 232
     images of, 45, 229, 246
     as individual, isolating, 2, 3, 7, 8, 12,
         29, 34, 35, 44, 49, 53, 54, 107, 129, 130, 150
     and inexpressibility,
         incommunicability, 3, 8, 9–10, 12, 34, 56, 73, 74–78, 150, 247 memorialization of, 68, 232, 246, 260 narrating trauma, 52, 124
     and narrative disruption, 42–45
     narratives of, 43, 44, 45, 46, 50, 67, 69, 131, 260
     paradox of, 3, 6–12, 35, 131, 181
     performance of, 10, 224, 260
     and photographic testimony, 126
     and political community, 8, 9, 11, 12, 18, 30, 33–37, 48, 52–60, 69, 70, 71, 72, 114, 122, 131, 132, 133, 134, 237. See also emotion: and political community
     politically enabling, 1, 2, 3
     the politics of representing trauma,
         2, 3, 10, 66, 125, 126, 130–139, 159, 247
     post-trauma, maladaptive behaviors, 211, 214, 231, 239
     and post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD), 2, 35, 54, 181
     psychoanalytical approaches, 7, 35, 39 psychological effects, 68
     representations of, 121, 122–130, 131, 132, 137, 138, 147, 149, 160, 237, 256, 263, 274
     and sense of security, 8, 35, 47
     as shaping Jewish identity, 67
     as speech act, 56
     trauma culture, 55
     trauma recovery, 36, 45, 55, 62, 241, 243, 252
     trauma time, 47
     and “traumatic experience”, 37, 39, 49 traumatic memory. See memory:
         traumatic memory
     unresolved trauma, 69, 229, 265.
         See also chosen trauma; trauma:
         acting out
     and victimization, 229, 253
     victims of, 4, 7
     visual representations of, 126

- trauma (cont.)
 voiceless dimensions of, 56, 75–76, 77–78, 249
 working through, 40, 42, 125, 211, 228, 229, 231, 233, 237, 239, 240, 244, 245, 247, 249, 261, 262
 working through, artistic representations of, 128 working through, challenges of, 214
 trust, 20, 23
 Tutu, Desmond, 251, 255
- ubuntu, 255
 meaning of, 255
 United States, 132, 229
- van der Kolk, Bessel, 39
 Vaughan-Williams, Nick, 50, 233
 Verdoolaege, Annelies, 256
 victimhood, 199. See China: as “victim” versus “victor” and disempowerment, 201
 victimization, 27, 70, 234, 236, 265
 Vietnam, 12, 50
 violence, 62, 215, 219
 physical, 248
 political, 1
 structural, 248
 systemic, 250
- Volkan, Vamik D., 69, 213, 220, 221, 229, 230, 231. See also chosen trauma
- Wajnryb, Ruth, 79
 Waltz, Kenneth, 20
 Wang, Zheng, 220, 221, 222
 War on Terror, 12, 50
 Weinstein, Harvey, 254
 Weiss, Robert, 243
 Weiss, Thomas, 188
 Wendt, Alexander, 281
 White, Hayden, 43, 115
 Whitebrook, Maureen, 121
 Wilson, Richard, 230, 257, 258
 Winterson, Jeanette, 40 women, 13, 192, 194, 196. See also images of suffering: feminization of disaster
 images of, 190, 192
 and rape trauma, 67
 working through. See trauma: working through World War II, 67
- Young, Allan, 230
 Yudhoyono, Susilo Bambang, 200
 Yugoslavia, 12
- Zaretsky, Eli, 46, 61, 62
 Zehfuss, Maja, 15