

CONTENTS

Notes on contributors	page vii
Foreword – Lord Williams of Oystermouth	xv
Preface	xvii
Professor Norman Doe: A Bibliography – Frank Cranmer	xxi
1 Renaissance and re-engagement: Norman Doe’s achievement in the discipline of Law and Religion MARK HILL QC	1
PART I Conceptual foundations and historical development	17
2 Law, religion and the curve of reason CELIA KENNY	19
3 Legal authority in canon law: cases from the notebook of a medieval English ecclesiastical lawyer RICHARD H. HELMHOLZ	34
4 Trust and conscience in the early common law DAVID J. SEIPP	48
5 A sociological theory of law and religion RUSSELL SANDBERG	66
PART II Government and ministry	79
6 The rise of ecclesiastical quasi-legislation PAUL COLTON	81
7 The development and influence of Anglican canon law ANTHONY JEREMY	96

8 Ecclesiastical regulation and secular law: a comparative exploration
FRANK CRANMER	112
PART III Doctrine, liturgy and rites 129
9 Justice and mercy: canon law and the sacrament of penance
ROBERT OMBRES OP	131
10 Pardon and peace: rights and responsibilities in canon law
EDWARD MORGAN	144
11 Public law and traditional faith
NORMAN SOLOMON	161
PART IV The interface of religious law and civil law 175
12 Who needs freedom of religion?
SILVIO FERRARI	177
13 Religion and human rights: principles and practice
CAROLYN EVANS AND TIMNAH RACHEL BAKER	191
14 Coercion, oaths and conscience: conceptual confusion in the right to freedom of religion or belief
ALISON MAWHINNEY	205
15 Religious freedom and the law
BRENDA HALE	218
PART V Conclusions 233
16 The role of religion in building political communities
LINDA HOGAN	235
17 The interdisciplinary growth of Law and Religion
JOHN WITTE, JR	247
18 New directions in the confluence of law and religion
CELIA KENNY	262
Select bibliography	275
Index	291