Index

AA. See anesthesia awareness
ACC. See anterior cingulate cortex access consciousness, 87
precedent autonomy and, 100
actus reus requirements, 171–172
AD. See Alzheimer’s disease
Adams, Fred, 155–156
Addis, Donna Rose, 20–21
advance directives, 83
advance euthanasia directives (AEDs), 80–81 agency, 51–60
with AD, 52–53
with aphasia, 53
authenticity and, 136
in case studies, 59–60
components of, 51–52
HSAM, 55–58
hyperthymesia and, 55–58
identity and, 128–129
memory modification and, 126–134
moral through prospective memory, 3
through working memory, 3
motor function impairment, 58 planning and, 53–54
procedural memory and, 58–59
prospective memory and, 54–55
retroactive memory and, 54 SDAM and, 60
semantic memory and, 56
spatial memory and, 33–34
working memory and, 52
Aizawa, Ken, 155–156
Alzheimer’s disease (AD), 48, 78–80
agency and, 52–53
personal identity and, 130–131
prospective memory with, 78–79
working memory with, 79
amnesia. See also induced amnesia anterograde, 39, 140
dissociative states and, legal implications for, 175–182
episodic, 165
personal identity and, 63–66
anterograde, 65
ECT for, 64
retrograde amnesia, 65
TGA, 64
TPA, 64–65
psychogenic, 140
as psychogenic, 4
retrograde, 65, 140
legal implications of, 193–194
semantic, 25
aphasia and, 39–40, 53
hippocampal neural prosthetic for, 165
TGA, 140
legal implications of, 174
personal identity and, 64
PPA and, 64
TPA, 64–65
ampakines, 144–145
amygdala
damage to, 91
implicit memory and, 108
Andrade, Jackie, 106–107
anesthesia amygdala damage and, 91
anxiety and, 92
ARAS and, 86
BIS index measures for, 84–85 brain monitoring with, 88–89
with EEG, 88–89
with PCI, 89
components of, 86
conscious sedation and, 91 consciousness and, 84, 86–91
goals of, 88
harm and, 92
implicit memory and, 106–109
infused, 89–90

225
Index

anesthesia (cont.)
inhaled, 89–90
intraoperative, 98–111
memory and, 84, 86–91
preoperative, 98–111
anesthesia awareness (AA), 84–85 false memories and, 87–88
GAD and, 90
PTSD from, 95, 104–105
anterograde amnesia, 39, 65, 140
anterior cingulate cortex (ACC), 33
arthrosis, 43
auditory cues, autobiographical memory and, 2 Augustine, 16
autobiographical memory and, 2 autoimmune disease, 2 autobiographical memory, 1 autonomy
acquiescence and, 100
access consciousness and, 100
antecedent, 51, 74–82
authenticity
agency and, 136
autonomy and, 134
memory content disorders and, 113
memory modification and, 134–138
consciousness for, 134–135
erasure of memories and, 134
as moral ideal, 134–138 reconstructive model of memory and, 113 as self-discovery, 135
autobiographical memory system experimental memory and, 4 hippocampal neural prosthetic as influence on, 163–164
HSAM, 41, 55–58
personal identity and, 61
SDAM, 60
sensory cues for, 2
autonomously
consciousness and, 15
autonomy
authenticity and, 134
precedent, 51, 74–82
access consciousness and, 100
critical interests and, 75–78
defined, 75
for life-sustaining treatment, 76–77, 81–82
awareness. See also consciousness; pain perception harm and, 91–98, 100–101
memory and, 91–98
during surgery, 92, 94–98
memories created from, 97–98
patient preparation for, 96
Baddeley, Alan, 32
Bartlett, Frederic, 14, 17
benzodiazepines, 98–111
Bernstein, Daniel, 27
beta-adrenergic receptor antagonists, 116–117 bispectral (BIS) index measures, 84–85
Block, Ned, 87
Borges, Jorge Luis, 56–57, 143–144 brain damage and injury, 42–48
AD and, 48
of amygdala, 91
case study for, 43–48
of hippocampal complex, 43–48 personal identity influenced by, 62, 65–67
imaging of, 42–43
memory influenced by, 2 memory reconsolidation after, 39 memory retrieval after, 39 multiple trace theory and, 45 brain function. See also memory systems for memory, 1
brainjacking, 159–160
Broca’s aphasia, 40, 53
causal theory of constructive memory, 27
CBT. See cognitive-behavioral therapy Chalmers, David, 154–156
chronic pain, fear memories with, 125–126
Claparede, Edouard, 43–44
Clark, Andy, 154–156
classical conditioning, 35 cognitive enhancement strategies, 142–143 augmenting in, 142–143
diminishing in, 143
for memory modification, 134–135 optimizing in, 143
cognitive-behavioral therapy (CBT), 126 collective memory, 5
connectedness, 69–70
conscious fear memories, 115

© in this web service Cambridge University Press www.cambridge.org
Index

conscious sedation, 91
consciousness access, 87
precedent autonomy and, 100
anesthesia and, 84, 86–91
autonoetic, 16, 29–30
brain monitoring for, 88–89
with EEG, 88–89
with PCI, 89
dissociative states and, legal implications for, 175–176
global neuronal workspace theory of, 86–87 neural synchronization theory of, 86–87 transition back from unconsciousness, 86
autonoetic, 16, 29–30
constructive concept of self, 136 constructive model of memory episodic memory and, 20–21
misremembering as part of, 22
reliability of memory and, 191–192
Cork, Randall, 106
Corkin, Suzanne, 43
cortisol, 103
critical interests, precedent autonomy and, 75–78 Damasio, Antonio, 39–40
DARPA. See Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency
Davidson, Andrew, 107
Davis, Dena, 79
DBS. See deep brain stimulation declarative memory. See explicit memory;
memory systems
deep brain stimulation (DBS), 120–122, 124–125 deep brain stimulation, 160
Deeprose, Catherine, 106–107
Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency (DARPA), 157–158 delirium, postoperative, 99 dementia
AD, 48, 78–80
agency and, 52–53
prospective memory with, 78–79
working memory with, 79
eye movement, 82–83
euthanasia for, 80–81
AEDs, 80–81
genuine change of mind with, 76 legal implications of, criminal responsibility and, 173–174 Lewy body, 80
negative rights and, 80 Parkinson’s disease and, 80
personal identity and, 130–131
positive rights and, 80
precedent autonomy and, 51, 74–82
critical interests and, 75–78
defined, 75
evaluation of, 74–75
for life-sustaining treatment, 76–77, 81–82
SD, 25
Demertzi, Athena, 92–93
dennett, Daniel, 21
direct realism theory of memory, 4–5 dissociative disorders, as psychogenic, 4 dissociative states, legal implications for, 170 amnesia and, 175–182
cognitive control in, 177
consciousness and, 175–176
definition of, 175–176
somnambulism, 178–182
imaging of, 181
testing for, 178
volitional control in, 177
donepezil, 144
dopamine, 146
Dresser, Rebecca, 81
dworkin, Ronald, 75. See also precedent autonomy Ebbinghaus, Hermann, on memory, 16–17
ECT. See electroconvulsive therapy
EEG. See electroencephalography electroconvulsive therapy (ECT), 64
Electroencephalography (EEG), 88–89
Elliot, Carl, 135
emotional memories, 38
encoding, in memory systems, 36–38
engrams, 18
epilepsy, 160
episodic amnesia, 165
episodic memory. See also constructive model of memory; memory systems;
reconstructive model of memory altered content of, 29
autonoetic consciousness and, 16, 29–30 construction of, 20–21
definition of, 3, 30–31
with extended lifespan, 68, 73–74
in hippocampal complex, 31 identity through, 3
legal implications of, 190
modification of, 127–128
personal identity and, 61
episodic memory (cont.)
psychopharmacological interventions for, 152
recognition memory, 34–35
familiarity in, 34–35
reconsolidation of, 22
retrieval of, 1, 22
storage of, 26
updating of, 51
erasure of memories
for fear memories, 115–126 ethics for, 127
pharmacological interventions in, 127 selectivity in, 119, 123 extinction training and, 116 hyperactivity of, 126–127 neuromodulation of, 120–123 with DBS, 120–122, 124–125
with ECT, 124–125
with FUS, 120–122, 124–125
with TMS, 120
nonconscious, 115
panic disorder and, 114
pathophysiology of, 114–115
PTSD and, 114–115
interventions for, 118–119
weakening of, 115–126
with protein synthesis inhibitors, 117–118
with reconsolidation blockade, 117–118
with ZIP, 118
fMRI. See functional magnetic resonance imaging censed ultrasound (FUS), 120–122, 124–125
frontal-parietal cortex, 33
functional magnetic resonance imaging (DMRI), 42
FUS. See focused ultrasound
GAD. See generalized anxiety disorder Gage, Phineas, 130
generalized anxiety disorder (GAD), 42
AA and, 90
global neuronal workspace theory, 86–87 grid cells, 33–34
gustatory cues, autobiographical memory and, 2
harm
anesthesia and, 92
awareness and, 91–98, 100–101
memory and, 91–98
highly superior autobiographical memory (HSAM), 41, 55–58
hippocampal neural prosthesis, 156–166 autobiographical memories and, 163–164 brainjacking risks, 159–160
as closed-loop system, 160–161 DARPA and, 157–158
for epilepsy, 160
for episodic amnesia, 165 mental time travel and, 163–164
Index

for omissions of memory, legal context for, 185–187 as open-loop system, 160–161 recall through, 163–164
for semantic amnesia, 165 testing of, 158
hippocampus
brain damage and, 43–48
episodic memory and, 31
implicit memory and, 108
personal identity and, 62, 66–67
case studies for, 65–66
prospective memory and, 33
semantic memory and, 31
short-term memory in, 32–33
spatial memory and, 33–34
HSAM. See highly superior autobiographical memory hyperthymesia, 41
agency and, 55–58
HSAM, 41, 55–58
as memory capacity disorder, 143–144
personal identity and, 67–68
identity, 50. See also personal identity
agency and, 128–129
through episodic memory, 3
with extended lifespan, 68–74
technological devices and, 71
in legal implications of memory, 172–173
memory modification and, 126–134
in reconstructive model of memory, 24, 113 implicit memory. See also procedural memory amygdalar mechanisms and, 108
anesthesia and, 106–109
execution of action plans and, 82–83 hippocampal mechanisms and, 108 priming and, 106–108
reconstruction of, 107–108
storage of, 108–109
in neocortex, 109
taxonomy of, 15
as unconscious memory, 106
updating of, 107–108
induced amnesia, 98–106 benzodiazepines and, 98–111
case studies for, 103–104
consolidation of memory and, 103 cortisol and, 103
experimental drugs and, trial studies for, 105–106 intraoperative anesthetics, 98–111 memory-modifying drugs and, 103 norepinephrine and, 103
postoperative anesthetics, 98–111
postoperative delirium and, 99 propofol and, 98–111
protein synthesis inhibitors and, 103, 105–106 reconsolidation of memories and, 102–103 xenon gas and, 99
information technology, 200 infused anesthesia, 89–90 inhaled anesthesia, 89–90
James, William, 17
Jaworska, Agnieszka, 78–80
ketamine, 99
Kihlstrom, John, 106
Kolber, Adam, 188–189
Lacy, Joyce, 191
Laureys, Steven, 92–93
learning, in procedural memory, 1 LeDoux, Joseph, 115
legal implications, of memory. See also dissociative states
actus reus requirements, 171–172
cognitive conditions, 171
for dissociative states, 177
criminal responsibility, 171–175, 193–195 with dementia, 173–174
identity in, 172–173
mens rea requirements, 171–172
under M’Naghten Rule, 171
under Model Penal Code, 171, 177 for negligence, 170
for omissions of memory, 182–187. See also episodic memory hippocampal neural prosthetic and, 185–187
neuroimaging for, 185, 194–195
reconsolidation of memories with, 187 personhood and, definition of, 172
precedent autonomy and, 169–170, 175
reliability of memory and, 187–193
alteration of memories, freedom to, 193 constructive theory of memory and, 191–192
for episodic memory, 190
for recognition memory, 190–191
with retrograde amnesia, 193–194
with TGA, 174
volitional conditions, 171
for dissociative states, 177
Lewis, David, 71
Lewy body dementia, 80
lifespan, extended
connectedness and, 69–70
episodic memory and, 68, 73–74
future mental states and, 69, 72
identity and, 68–74
technological devices and, 71
long-term memory with, 72–73 memory with, 68–74
Methuselah’s paradox and, 71
life-sustaining treatment, precedent autonomy for, 76–77, 81–82 Locke, John, 16
on memory, 16
on personal identity, 60–61
locus coeruleus, 34
Loftus, Elizabeth, 27, 190 long-term memory, with extended lifespan, 72–73
Luria, A. R., 56
Madison, Vernon, 171, 173–175 magnetic resonance imaging (MRI), 42 Mandler, George, 15–16
mapping of memory systems, 32
Marquez, Gabriel Garcia, 25, 56
Martino, Pat, 58–59
McDonald, Leslie, 182–186 meaning, construction of, 24–25
memantine, 144
memory. See also agency; legal implications; specific types of memory anesthesia and, 84, 86–91
Aristotle on, 15–16
Augustine on, 16
Bartlett’s reconceptualization of, 14, 17 brain functions for, 1 brain injury as influence on, 2 as collection of systems, 14. See also memory systems
definition of, 17–20
Ebbinghaus on, 16–17
engrams and, 18
ethical dimensions of, 7–8
with extended lifespan, 68–74
future of, 196–201
through information technology, 200
harm and, 91–98
historical treatment of, 15–17
legal dimensions of, 7–8 Locke on, 16
neurological disease as influence on, 2 philosophical theories of, 4 direct realist theory, 4–5 representational theory, 4–5 Plato on, 15
primary, 17
processes of, 48–49
purpose of, 21
schema theory and, 17
secondary, 17
senses of, 19–20
memory capacity disorders, 39, 49. See also amnesia; legal implications; neurostimulation interventions
anterograde amnesia, 39
enhancement strategies brain stimulation, 142–143 cognitive, 142–143
for memory improvement, 141–144 for memory restoration, 141–144
hyperthymesia and, 143–144
improvement of memory through enhancement strategies, 141–144
therapeutic interventions for, 141–144
psychopharmacological interventions for, 144–147
ampakines, 144–145
donepezil, 144
dopamine, 146
for episodic memory, 152
human trials for, 145–146
memantine, 144
methylphenidate, 146
restoration of memory through enhancement strategies, 141–144
therapeutic interventions for, 141–144
scope of, 140–141, 166–168 memory content disorders, 41–42. See also fear memories; specific disorders
authenticity and, 113
etiology of, 112–113
GAD and, 42
optogenetics and, 123–124
personal identity and, 113
PTSD and, 42
scope of, 112
memory criterion, 61–62 memory disorders, 4. See also legal implications; memory capacity disorders; memory content disorders research on, 6
memory modification, 126–138
agency and, 126–134
authenticity and, 134–138
cognitive enhancement and, 134–135
erasure of memories and, 134
of episodic memories, 127–128 through erasure of memories, 133–134
authenticity and, 134
ethics of, 137–138
Index

personal identity and, 129
proxy consent for, 137–138
identity and, 126–134
as intervention strategy, 139 motivations influenced by, 139
personal identity and, 129–132
first-person subjective aspects of, 130–131
in Gage case study, 130
memory erasure and, 129
third-person objective aspects of, 130–131 protein synthesis inhibitors for, 132 for PTSD, 127–128
of unpleasant memories, 131–132 memory storage
epigenetic mechanisms for, 18 genetic mechanisms for, 18 for implicit memory, 108–109
in neocortex, 109
memory systems and, 36–37
for older memories, 40
short-term, 37–38
neurophysiological mechanisms for, 18
memory systems, 14, 30–42
aphasia and, 39–40
Broca’s, 40, 53
definition of, 39–40
Wernicke’s, 40, 53
classical conditioning in, 35 consolidation within, 36–38 emotional memories in, 38
encoding in, 36–38
failure of, 40–41
fear memories in, 38
as fixed, 37
hypermnesia and, 41
HSAM, 41
mapping of, 32
memory capacity disorders and, 39
anterograde amnesia, 39
memory content disorders and, 41–42
GAD and, 42
PTSD and, 42
non-associative learning in, 35 priming in, 35
procedural memory, 35
for prospective memory, 33
ACC and, 33
frontal-parietal cortex and, 33
hippocampal complex and, 33
neural pathways for, 33
for recognition memory, 34–35
familiarity in, 34–35
reconsolidation mechanisms, 36–37
with brain damage, 39
dysfunction in, 39
retrieval mechanisms in, 36–37
with brain damage, 39
dysfunction in, 39
for spatial memory
agency and, 33–34
grid cells and, 33–34
hippocampus and, 33–34
locus coeruleus and, 34
storage as part of, 36–37
for older memories, 40
short-term, 37–38
taxonomy of, 31
memory-modifying drugs, 103
Meno (Plato), 15
mens rea requirements, 171–172
mental time travel, 16; 163–164 Methuselah’s paradox, 71
methylphenidate, 146
midazolam, 107
Mill, John Stuart, 189
Milner, Brenda, 43
M’Naghten Rule, 171
Model Penal Code, 171, 177
Molaison, Henry, 66
moral agency
through prospective memory, 3
through working memory, 3
Morse, Stephen, 175–176
Morton, William, 109
Moscovitch, Morris, 17–18
MRI. See magnetic resonance imaging
Multiple Trace Theory, 18
Nader, Karim, 37
near-death experiences (NDEs), 28–29 negative rights, 80
neocortex, 109
neural synchronization theory, 86–87 Neurath, Otto, 22–23
neuroethics, scope of, 6–7 neurological disease, memory influenced by, 2 neuroscience of ethics. See neuroethics neurostimulation interventions, for memory capacity disorders, 147–166. See also hippocampal neural prosthetic DBS, 148–151
extended mind theory and, 154–156 criticism of, 155–156
with external devices, 154–156 false memories induced by, 153 in lateral temporal cortex, 149–151
TMS, 147
Nichols, Shaun, 130
non-associative learning, 35 nonconscious fear memories, 115
Index

non-declarative memory. See implicit memory; memory systems non-REM (NREM) sleep, 24

norepinephrine, 103

NREM sleep. See non-REM sleep

OBEs. See out-of-body experiences obsessive compulsive disorder (OCD), 35

olfactory cues, autobiographical memory and, 2 omissions of memory, legal implications for, 182–187. See also episodic memory

hippocampal neural prosthetic and, 185–187

neuroimaging for, 185, 194–195

reconsolidation of memories with, 187

On Memory and Recollection (Aristotle), 15

One Hundred Years of Solitude (Marquez), 25, 56

optogenetics, 123–124

out-of-body experiences (OBEs), 28–29 pain perception, 92–94. See also chronic pain mediation of, through brain networks, 92–93 memory of pain compared to, 93 suffering and, 93

anxiety as result of, 93–94

panic disorder, 114

Parfit, Derek, 62

Parkinson’s disease, 80

Parsons, Ryan, 117

PCI. See perturbational complexity index (PCI), 89

PET. See positron emission tomography

Phaedo (Plato), 15

Phelps, Elizabeth, 191

phenomenal consciousness, 87

Pitman, Roger, 117–118

planning, 53–54

Plato, 15

Plum, Fred, 86

Posey, Sam, 58

positive rights, 80

postoperative anesthetics, 98–111

postoperative delirium, 99

posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD), 42

AA from, 95, 104–105

fear memories and, 114–115

interventions for, 118–119

xenon for, 118–119

memory modification for, 127–128

PPA. See primary progressive aphasia

precedent autonomy, 51, 74–82

access consciousness and, 100

critical interests and, 75–78

defined, 75

legal implications of memory and, 169–170, 175

for life-sustaining treatment, 76–77, 81–82

preoperative anesthetics, 98–111

Price, Jill, 55–58, 143–144

primary memory, 17

primary progressive aphasia (PPA), 64

priming

implicit memory and, 106–108

in memory systems, 35

Principles of Psychology (James), 17

procedural memory

agency and, 58–59

definition of, 30–31

learning in, 1

as memory system, 35

OCD and, 35

taxonomy of, 4

propofol, 98–111

memory modification and, 129–132

first-person subjective aspects of, 130–131

in Gage case study, 130

memory erasure and, 129

third-person objective aspects of, 130–131

narrative approach to, 63

Parfit on, 62

TGA and, 64

perturbational complexity index (PCI), 89

PPA. See primary progressive aphasia

precedent autonomy, 51, 74–82

access consciousness and, 100

critical interests and, 75–78

defined, 75

legal implications of memory and, 169–170, 175

for life-sustaining treatment, 76–77, 81–82

preoperative anesthetics, 98–111

Price, Jill, 55–58, 143–144

primary memory, 17

primary progressive aphasia (PPA), 64

priming

implicit memory and, 106–108

in memory systems, 35

Principles of Psychology (James), 17

procedural memory

agency and, 58–59

definition of, 30–31

learning in, 1

as memory system, 35

OCD and, 35

taxonomy of, 4

propofol, 98–111
Index

prospective memory, 33
ACC and, 33
with AD, 78–79
agency and, 54–55
frontal-parietal cortex and, 33
hippocampal complex and, 33
moral agency through, 3
neural pathways for, 33
proxy consent, 137–138 psychogenic amnesia, 140. See also dissociative disorders PTSD. See posttraumatic stress disorder rapid-eye movement (REM) sleep, 24 Rascovsky, Katya, 25
recall, through hippocampal neural prosthetic, 163–164
recognition memory, 34–35
division of, 15–16
familiarity in, 34–35
legal implications of, 190–191
reconsolidation, Aristotle on, 15–16 reconsolidation blockade, for fear memories, 117–118
reconsolidation mechanisms, 36–37
with brain damage, 39
dysfunction in, 39
legal implications of memory and, 187
reconstructive model of memory
anti-foundationalism and, 22–23
authenticity and, 113
construction of meaning in, 24–25
episodic memory and, 20–21
identity and, 24, 113
implicit memory and, 107–108
personal identity in, 24 reproduction model of memory and, 23 sleep in, 24
REM sleep. See rapid-eye movement sleep reconstitutational theory of memory, 4–5 reproduction model of memory, 23 Ressler, Kerry, 117
retrieval mechanisms, 36–37
with brain damage, 39
dysfunction in, 39
retrograde amnesia, 65, 140
legal implications of, 193–194
retrospective memory, agency and, 54
Roskies, Adina, 5–6
Rowlands, Mark, 61
Rugg, Michael, 46
Sacks, Oliver, 59
Schacter, Daniel, 19–20, 190
schema theory, 17
Schulte, Julius, 171
Scoville, William, 43
SD. See semantic dementia
SDAM. See severely deficient autobiographical memory secondary memory, 17
sedation. See conscious sedation self, concepts of, 136
semantic amnesia, 25
aphasia and, 39–40
Broca’s, 40, 53
definition of, 39–40
Wernicke’s, 40, 53
hippocampal neural prosthetic for, 165
semantic dementia (SD), 25 semantic memory, 1. See also constructive model of memory; memory systems
agency and, 56
definition of, 3
experiential memory and, 4
in hippocampal complex, 31
storage of, 26
severely deficient autobiographical memory (SDAM), 60 Shereshevski, Solomon, 56–58, 143–144 short-term memory, 31–33
in hippocampal complex, 32–33
as limited-capacity type of memory, 32 sight. See visual cues sleep disorders, semantic amnesia from, 25 sleepwalking. See somnambulism smells. See olfactory cues somnambulisum, 178–182
imaging of, 181
Sorabji, Richard, 15
sounds. See auditory cues spatial memory
agency and, 33–34
grid cells and, 33–34
hippocampus and, 33–34
locus coeruleus and, 34
Squire, Larry, 30–31
Stark, Craig, 191
Stickgold, Robert, 24–25
Strohming, Nina, 130
suffering, 93
anxiety as result of, 93–94
surgery, awareness during, 92, 94–98
memories created from, 97–98
patient preparation for, 96
taste. See gustatory cues Taylor, Charles, 134–135. See also authenticity
TGA. See transient global amnesia
TMS. See transcranial magnetic stimulation TPA. See transient psychogenic amnesia trace, memory and
definition of, 18–19
experiential memory and, 18–19
imaging of, 19
in Multiple Trace Theory, 18
Tulving on, 19
transcranial magnetic stimulation (TMS), 120 transient global amnesia (TGA), 140
legal implications of, 174
personal identity and, 64
PPA and, 64
transient psychogenic amnesia (TPA), 64–65 true memories
actual experience as foundation of, 27 causal theory of constructive memory and, 27
definition of, 26–27
NDEs and, 28–29
neuroimaging studies of, 28
OBEs and, 28–29
subjectivity of, 30
verifiability of, 30
Tulving, Endel, 16, 19

unconscious memory, 106
unconsciousness, transition to consciousness and, 86 unpleasant memories, 131–132. See also anxiety, fear memories VBM. See voxel-based morphometry Veselis, Robert A., 1–2, 108
Vilberg, Kaia, 46
visual cues, autobiographical memory and, 2 voxel-based morphometry (VBM), 42
Wearing, Clive, 45, 58–59, 66–67, 152
Wernicke’s aphasia, 40, 53
Westbury, Chris, 21
The Woman Who Can’t Forget (Price), 55–56 working memory, 1
AD and, 79
agency and, 52
as emergent phenomenon, 32–33 as limited-capacity type memory, 32
moral agency through, 3
xenon gas, 99, 118–119
Zadra, Antonio, 178
zeta inhibitory peptide (ZIP), 118