

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-14701-0 - Global Urban Justice: The Rise of Human Rights Cities

Edited by Barbara M. Oomen, Martha F. Davis and Michele Grigolo

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

List of contributors page vii*Editors' preface* xi

- 1 Introduction: the promise and challenges of human rights cities 1

BARBARA M. OOMEN

PART I Actors and their shifting capacities

- 2 Cities, human rights and accountability: the United States experience 23

MARTHA F. DAVIS

- 3 Making human rights the talk of the town: civil society and human rights cities, a case study of the Netherlands 44

ESTHER VAN DEN BERG

- 4 Human rights at a local level: the Montréal experience 64

BENOÎT FRATE

- 5 From principles to practice: the role of US mayors in advancing human rights 81

JOANN KAMUF WARD

PART II Renegotiating rights in the urban space

- 6 Human rights in the city and the right to the city: two different paradigms confronting urbanisation 103

EVA GARCÍA CHUECA

- 7 Defying the demand to 'go home': from human rights cities to the urbanisation of human rights 121

JONATHAN DARLING

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-14701-0 - Global Urban Justice: The Rise of Human Rights Cities

Edited by Barbara M. Oomen, Martha F. Davis and Michele Grigolo

Table of Contents

More information

vi

CONTENTS

- 8 Contested advocacy: negotiating between rights and reciprocity in Nima and Maamobi, Ghana 139
CATHERINE BUERGER
- 9 The human right to water in the city context: insights from domestic litigation 157
NATALYA PESTOVA
- PART III Implementing human rights cities
- 10 Human rights practice and the city: a case study of York (UK) 179
EMILY GRAHAM, PAUL GREASY, ERIC HODDY AND RACHEL PENNINGTON
- 11 Human rights and the city: obligations, commitments and opportunities. Do human rights cities make a difference for citizens and authorities? Two cases studies on the freedom of expression 199
KLAUS STARL
- 12 The right to the city in Mexico City: the Charter 220
ANA MARÍA SÁNCHEZ RODRÍGUEZ
- 13 In a state of becoming a human rights city: the case of Eugene, Oregon 237
KENNETH J. NEUBECK
- PART IV Conclusions
- 14 Human rights cities: challenges and possibilities 257
CYNTHIA SOOHOO
- 15 Towards a sociology of the human rights city: focusing on practice 276
MICHELE GRIGOLO
- References* 294
Index 323