

Index

- abduction, 45, 195, 639
 - inductive abduction, 404, 420
- aboutness of symbolic resources, 184–185, 188
- abstract concepts
 - influence on human actions, 399–401
- abstraction
 - and thinking, 21–22
 - constructed in collective action, 417–419
- abstractive generalization
 - and intensionality, 37–39
- actants, 105
- action
 - actuations, 119–121
 - and the nature of psyche, 103–104
 - bodies coupling with things, 107–109
 - cultural landscapes as environment for, 29
 - culture as product of, 103–104
 - dramatic actuations, 121
 - emergent properties, 118–121
 - intentional schemas, 118–119
 - production of innovation, 125–127
 - semiotics of, 117–118
 - structure of, 117
- activity as a means of surpassing adjustment, 487–488
- activity theory, 248
- actor network theory, 105, 154
- actuations, 119–121
- adaptation in living organisms, 19
- Adler, Mortimer, 281
- adult–child interaction
 - pointing gestures, 235
 - triadic rhythmic interactions, 226–227
 - use of objects, 233–235
- adult–infant social play, 219
- aesthetic experience, 115–116
- aesthetic transcendence
 - defining transcendence, 351
 - ecstatic power of objects, 354–357
 - metaphor and standing forth in the world, 360–363
 - music, 352, 358–359
 - poetry, 359
 - priority of the Other, 354–357
 - reimagining transcendence, 363
 - religious experience, 354–357
 - transcendence within immanence, 357–360
 - wagering on the idea of transcendence, 351–354
- affective action, 117
- affective bridges, 602–603
- affective grounds of sensemaking, 44–45
- affective register, 545–546
- affects
 - role in communication, 121
- affordances
 - creative action using material and cultural affordances, 172–174
 - of objects, 107–109
 - of the environment, 107
- age-appropriate behavior, 564–565
- aging
 - adaptation to changes caused by, 622–623
 - and self-regulation, 621–622
 - assisted suicide, 617
 - biblical age, 616
 - conceptual qualifiers, 623–624
 - death and dying, 617–618
 - differential aging concept, 621
 - effects of increasing life expectancy, 615
 - euthanasia, 617
 - factors influencing life-satisfaction and well-being, 621–622
 - health challenges associated with, 615
 - life events and melodies of living, 624–626
 - lifespan models, 620–621
 - methods of adaptation and coping, 621–622
 - new perspectives, 616
 - perceptions of, 615–616
 - psychology and, 618–620
 - research related to, 615
 - senicide, 617
 - toward a person-centered theory of culturally guided aging in families, 626–627
 - ubasute* tradition, 617
 - view from within, 624–627
 - view from without, 616–624
 - views of the aging person, 616–617
- agencements*, 487

- agency, 104, 105, 445
 as responsiveness, 548–551
 Alexander technique, 212
 alienness, 550
 allegorical personification, 607
 of a nation, 408–411 allegory
 use to inspire collective action, 417–419
 Almeida, M.R., 585, 586 alphabetical systems evolution of, 112–114
 Alter, 503, 514
 alterity, 503, 581, 591
 in modern psytizenship, 483–484
 Alves, Rubem, 598
 Alzheimer's disease, 615, 627 ambivalence, 519–522 development through overcoming, 518–519 experience of a Swedish woman convert to Islam, 524–526
 Günter Grass and the Third Reich, 529–535
 social context of meaning making, 535–536
 Amerindian identity, 584–587
 Amerindian perspectivism, 588–589, 592
 Améry, Jean, 472
 anchoring, 131
ancien régime, 480, 481, 483, 488
 Anderson, Benedict, 404–407, 416–417
Animal Farm (Orwell), 443
 anthropocentrism, 105, 106 anthropomorphism, 105–106, 408, 607 of natural phenomena, 402 anxiety cause of distortion in meaning making, 80–82, 83 appraisal, 23, 80
 Arab Spring, 419 architecture
 interobjective architecture, 58–60
 socially constructed environments, 60
 Arendt, H., 462–463, 464 arguments, 117, 121–123, 640–643
 Aristotle, 290, 479, 548
 Arrutti, J.M., 576 art and play, 111–112
 and the mind, 110–111
 artifacts, 104–106 and instrumentality, 153–154
 and the mind, 110–111
 co-creation of, 171–172 coordination of complex constellations of artifacts, 159 creative action in actor–artifact relations, 168–169 creative action in audience–artifact relations, 169–171
 creative process, 109–110
 cultural elements, 183–184
 socially constructed environments, 60 transforming things into, 109–114 turning into tools for communication, 112–114
 assisted suicide, 617
 Atchley, R.C., 620
 authoritarianism, 604 autism, 229
 autobiographical memory
 emergence of, 265–267
 experience space and its constraints, 262–264 meaning and memory, 263–264 the self in, 267–271 autobiographical self construction of, 260 meaning in the development of, 267–271 memory and, 260 role of language in development, 260–262 social and cultural context for development, 260–262 autopoiesis, 18–20, 371, 373 awareness through movement classes, 213

 Baby Signs Program, 231 bad me, 82, 90
 Bainbridge-Cohen, Bonnie, 213, 215
 Bakhtin, Mikhail, 249, 283, 285, 287, 288, 289, 293, 374–376, 506, 512, 522, 605
 Baldwin, James Mark, 171, 307, 556–557 challenges to the study of development, 557–558 flood of experience in the life course, 570 personal development through persistent imitation, 559–561
 sembling, 560
 Bar-Tal, Daniel, 464
 Bartenieff fundamentals, 212, 213, 215
 barter exchange, 333 Basque conflict, 443–444, 445–446 militant discourses, 448–449 militant irony, 448–449 three case studies, 446–448
 Bauer, P.J., 266
 Bauman, Z., 600, 602
 beauty, 14, 112, 115, 116, 246, 324, 363, 511, 642 Beck, Ulrich, 487
Befindlichkeit, 545 behaving and acting, 131–132
 behavior described by an observer, 19–20

- behaviorism, 63, 65, 66–67
 behaviorist view of psyche, 16 belief and communicating, 131
 Benjamin, Walter, 463
 Bentley, Arthur, 69
 Berger, John, 603, 607, 609
 Berger, P.B., 590
 Berger, Z., 606
 Bergson, H., 564
 Berlin Aging Study, 618, 621
 Berlyand, Irina, 290
 Bertalanffy, Ludwig von, 18 bias in historical narratives, 466–468 Big Society initiative, 490 bilingualism, 30
 Billig, Michael, 72–73, 419
 bill-splitting, 336, 342–343, 344
 biocultural co-constructivism, 626 biological essentialism, 604 birth effects on movement experience, 213–214
 bivalence, 39, 45
 Bloch, Marc, 461–462, 464, 465, 472 body-mind centering, 212, 213, 215
 Boesch, Ernest, 603
 Bogdan, R.J., 269, 270
 bona fide borders, 306
 Bonn Longitudinal Study on Aging, 621
 Bonnefoy, Yves, 359 border irregularities, 29–30
 border zone, 309
 borders, 55–58 ambivalence created by, 304–305 as thresholds, 305 biological membranes, 305
 bona fide borders, 306
 border zone, 309
 crossing social borders in development and education, 312–313
 developmental perspective, 307 educational border zone, 309–311 effect of delineating national borders, 414–415 effects of creating, 304–305 effects of crossing, 305 epistemological focus, 306
 fiat borders, 306
 from mereotopology to development, 307 in the world and in the head, 305–306 in time during the life course, 306–307
 institutional borders as social membranes, 311–312 line as the minimal border, 303–304
 meanings of, 303–304
 ordinary life on the border, 309
 permeable borders, 305 relation to human activity, 302 temporal border zones, 307–309 theoretical aspects in cultural psychology, 305–306 transcending function of education, 302–303 Borges, Jorge Luis, 223 boundaries, 30
 and regulatory processes, 90–91 boundary objects, 55–58, 151 bounded indeterminacy, 313 breath pattern, 214–215
 Brentano, Franz, 15, 125, 504
 Brewer, M., 67
 bricolage, 184, 401
 Bromberg, Phillip, 86–87
 Bruner, Jerome, 217, 261
 Buddha, 616
 Buddhism, 275, 295
 Bühler, Charlotte, 620
 Bühler, Karl, 512, 520, 521 building information modeling (BIM), 149, 159 shifting multiple functions, 157–159
 Cage, John, 295
 Cameron, David, 490
 Carr, Harvey, 66
 Char, René, 462 children
 aspects of social development, 329–330 associative reciprocity, 324 institutional environment, 327–329 ownership concept, 319–323 possession conflicts among, 319–323 progressive mastery of social norms, 327–329 social world of, 319 strict reciprocity, 324 understanding of exchange and reciprocity, 323–326 children and money
 beyond children as individuals, 338–339 children's lives in a consumer society, 341 collectivism vs individualism, 343–345 cultural aspects, 343–345
 East Asian children Pocket Money Project, 339–343
 economic inequalities, 338–339 economics and children, 337–338
 friendship and money, 342–343
 money as a cultural tool, 345–346 mutual treating by children, 336, 342–343 parent–child relationships mediated by allowances, 342
 sociocultural use of children's allowances, 339

- children's development as persons
 - cultural life course, 570–571
 - early work in developmental psychology, 556–557
 - Stern and the experiencing person, 558–559
 - through persistent imitation, 559–561
 - work of Stern and Baldwin, 556–557
- children's development as persons, investigation
 - analysis, 563
 - convergence between individual and collective meaning, 563–567
 - design and central concepts, 561–563
 - duration and redundancy in development of the personal life course, 569–570
 - imitation, 567–569
 - intermediate summary of cases, 569
 - multifunctional imitation in the life course, 570
 - someone to copy and be copied by, 567–569
 - timed and untimed living, 563–567
- chimpanzees
 - culture in, 235
- Christianity
 - source of technologies of the self, 382–383
 - toward a genealogy of psychological rationality, 390–392
- citizen
 - definition, 480
- citizenship
 - alterities in modern psytizenship, 483–484
 - emergence of, 479
 - emergence of the self-governing citizen, 480–483
 - psychological and political aspects, 479
 - role of psychology, 492–493
 - see also* psytizenship
- climate change
 - as social object, 136–138
 - from science to communal discourse, 136–137
 - mass media, 138
 - political institutionalization and reified discourse, 137–138
- co-construction, 4, 5, 23, 87, 133, 563, 571
- co-creation of artifacts, 171–172
- Coe, Cati, 419
- cognitive archaeology, 109
- cognitive polyphasia, 55, 248
- cognitive psychology
 - problems related to representationalism, 63–65
- cognitive revolution in psychology, 16
- cognitive science of religion (CSR)
 - avoiding ethical violence in research, 376–377
 - enacting psychology, 370–371
 - enactivism and the socio-material embeddedness of cognition, 371–372
 - implications of interpretative speculations, 376–377
 - meaning of natural, 366–367
 - Mikhail Bakhtin, 374–376
 - moving forward, 376–377
 - non-reductive scientific naturalism, 369–374
 - phenomenological naturalism, 366–367
 - phenomenological naturalism and sociocultural theory, 374–376
 - religious belief, 367–369
 - rethinking religious cognition, 372–374
 - scientific naturalism, 367–368
 - sociocultural cognition, 370–371
 - sociocultural theory and embodying language, 374–376
 - William James and religious belief, 368–369
- cognitive theory of personality, 621
- Cold War, 482
- Cole, Michael, 260, 333, 486
- collective action
 - construction of abstraction and reification, 417–419
 - influence of imaginative processes, 419–421
 - use of metaphor, allegory and metonymy to inspire, 417–419
- collectivism
 - children and money, 343–345
- Common Core educational standards, 281
- common sense, 35, 37, 41, 43, 46, 87, 88, 255, 399, 461, 560, 584
- communication, 4, 5, 17, 18, 20, 25–26, 28, 29
 - and belief, 131
 - intentional, 24, 25
 - symbols as a product of when acting, 22–23
- communication memory, 460
- communication tools
 - artifacts turning into, 112–114
- competent baby paradigm, 226, 233
- complex semiotic systems, 254–255
- compliance, 58, 321
- computer metaphor of the mind, 69–70
- conceptualization
 - leading from perception, 21
- conflict ethos, 464–466
- conflict theories of self-reflection, 247–249
- conformity, 58, 453, 454, 465
- consciousness
 - emergence of, 27–28
- construction of the person
 - in interethnic situations, 592–593
- constructivism
 - approaches to subjectivity, 383
- context
 - importance in interpersonal psychoanalysis, 92–93
- contextuality, 503

- continuity and discontinuity in intergenerational narratives, 462–464
- Cooley, Charles, 247
- cooperation and interaction, 132–134
- core–distal connectivity pattern, 215–216
- corporeal turn in human sciences, 207–209
- Costa, P.E.S., 585
- creative cognition, 164–165
- creativity, 104 approach to the study of creative action, 174–175 appropriation by audiences, 170 as a dialogic process, 171–172
 co-creation of artifacts, 171–172
 creative action in actor–artifact relations, 168–169 creative action in actor–audience relations, 171–172
 creative action in audience–artifact relations, 169–171
 creative action using material and cultural affordances, 172–174 creativity complex, 168 ecologies of creating, 168 evaluation of artifacts by audiences, 170–171 five A's framework, 166–174 four P's framework, 166 interpretation of artifacts by audiences, 170
 meanings of, 163
 mediational model, 167 role of sociocultural factors, 163–164 sociocultural approach to study, 165–174 theoretical roots, 164–165 tradition of decorating eggs for Easter, 166 user-generated content and objects, 171
- Crites, Stephen, 358–359
- cross-cultural psychology, 343, 344
- crystallized imagination, 402
- cultural affordances, 235 creative action using, 172–174
- cultural canalization of gender identities, 606–609 of gender stereotypes, 605
- cultural elements
 use of, 183–184
- cultural experiences
 as symbolic resources, 183–184
- cultural-historical activity theory (CHAT), 148–149
- cultural knowledge from intergenerational narratives, 459–461
- cultural landscapes environment for human action, 29
- cultural life course and the development of children as persons, 570–571
- cultural psychology abstractive generalization, 38–39
 approach to religion, 383–385 as the general theory of psychology, 45–46 as the science of sensemaking, 39–42 contribution to a general theory of psychology, 35–36 current developments in the field, 3 dynamics of sensemaking, 42–45 extensional and intensional categories, 36–37
 holism, 39
 immanent formal causation, 40
 intensionality and abstractive generalization, 37–38 mind is sensemaking, 41–42 mind is the process of decoupling from the environment, 41 mind is the psychological object, 40–41 organizational closure, 39–40
 processual ontology, 39
 relationship to interpersonal psychoanalysis, 78–79 sensemaking is inherently dialogical, 42
- cultural tools, 333
 historical maps, 431–434
- cultural uses of objects, 236
- culture as the field distribution of possibilities, 44 as the spirit of psyche, 28 attitudes to money, 343–345 dialectical study of the meaning of money, 335–337 historical development in relation to mind (Vico), 401–404 nature of, 103–104
 relation to consciousness and personhood, 27–28
- cyberspace, 488
- dance, 25, 103, 107, 112, 117, 133, 168, 208, 212, 213, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 264, 352, 358, 512, 514, 577, 579, 583, 584
- Dante, 408
- de Beauvoir, Simone, 188
- de Oliveira, Carlito, 587, 589, 591
- death and dying, 617–618
- defence systems, 80–82
- Delpit, Lisa, 293
- Descartes, René, 14, 70, 368
- development crossing social borders, 312–313
- development of persons challenges to the study of, 557–558
 elementarism, 557–558
 nondevelopmentalism, 557–558
- development through overcoming ambivalence, 518–519

- developmental psychology
 - corporeal turn, 207–209
 - future directions in movement studies, 220
 - shift toward the study of movement, 208–209
- Dewey, John, 15, 66, 69, 103, 114–115, 154, 481
 - double psychologizing of the educational curriculum, 281
 - mutuality of mind and world, 73
 - on creative perception, 170
 - on creativity, 168–169, 172
 - on self-reflection, 246
- dialogic pedagogy
 - definition, 275–276
 - ecological non-instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 294–296
 - epistemological instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 282–283
 - epistemological non-instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 287–291
 - growth of interest in, 274–275
 - instrumental and non-instrumental education, 276–279
 - instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 279–285
 - non-instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 285–296
 - ontological non-instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 291
 - social justice instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 283–285
 - types of, 276–279
 - unresolved issues, 296–298
- dialogical account of feelings, 512–515
- dialogical nature of sensemaking, 42
- dialogical perspective
 - applications, 503
 - approach to the human experiential mind, 503–504
 - definition, 503
- dialogical self theory, 605
- dialogical understanding in history education, 436–438
- dialogicality, 503
- dialogue
 - aspect of creativity, 171–172
 - concept in social sciences, 274
- dicent*, 117
- differential aging concept, 621
- Dinesen, Isak, 463
- discourse analysis, 72–73
- discourses, 123–124
- discursive practices, 400
- dissociated experiences, 85–87
- distanciation, 245, 251, 252, 253, 255, 256
- divine, 355, 356, 360, 402, 528
- “Divine Will,” 387
- domain-specificity of creative action, 174
- Donald, Merlin, 260–261
- Dostoevsky, Fyodor, 287, 294
- double binds, 549
- double psychologizing of the educational curriculum, 281
- double-directedness of a position, 512
- Down syndrome, 229, 231
- dramatic actuations, 121
- dreams, 27, 83, 88, 180, 182, 353, 539, 603
- driving force of lack, 520
- dualism
 - revolt against, 70
 - tendency to return to, 70–73
- Duncker, K., 64
- Dupré, Louis, 355–356, 357
- Durkheim, Émile, 131
- dynamic gestalt, 39, 46
- early infancy
 - breath pattern, 214–215
 - core–distal connectivity pattern, 215–216
 - cultural influences on motor development, 207–208
 - effects of emotional deprivation, 208
 - experience and body awareness, 211–214
 - fundamental patterns of total body connectivity, 214–217
 - future directions in movement studies, 220
 - head–tail pattern of connectivity, 216–217
 - influence of social play, 207–208
 - iterative movement experience, 209–211
 - study of motor development and movement, 208–209
 - thinking in movement, 217–219
- East Asian children Pocket Money Project, 339–343
- ecological non-instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 294–296
- ecological psychology, 549
- ecological theory of perception, 106–107
- economic games, 325–326, 328–329
- economic inequalities, 338–339
- economic tools, 333
- ecstasy, 358
- Edelman, Gerald, 209
- education
 - crossing social borders, 312–313
 - portrayals of, 523–524
 - transcendent nature, 302–303
- educational border zone, 309–311
 - institutional borders as social membranes, 311–312
- effectivities for action, 107
- Egan, Kieran, 436
- Ego, 503, 514

- Egyptian revolution (2011), 443–444, 449–450
 irony as a mode of resistance, 452–453 irony in images of authority figures, 450–451 pedestrian interpretations of images produced by the military, 451–452
 Ehrenfest, Paul, 289
 Ehrenzweig, Anton, 361
 elementarism, 557–558
 embodied experience fundamental patterns of total body connectivity, 214–217
 somatic education techniques, 211–214 embodiment thinking in movement, 217–219
 embodiment theory, 209
 embodying language, 374–376 emotion-focused coping, 621 emotional reactions
 role in communication, 121
 emotions, 23
 and religious development, 385–386
 enactive approach to cognition socio-material embeddedness of cognition, 371–372 enactive cognition theory, 18–20 enactive program, 211, 212
 enactive semiosis, 118, 120
 Engeström, Y., 153, 154, 248
 Ensminger, J., 328
 epistemic objects, 151
 epistemological instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 282–283
 epistemological non-instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 287–291
 epistemology of sociocultural psychology, 637–649
 Erikson, E.H., 179, 620
 Estonia
 building a nation, 138–140
 collective memory work, 140–142 historical accounts and national identity, 133–134 national identity, 138–143
 reifying national identity as a state, 142–143
 ethnic diversity in the urban context, 587–592
 ethnic groups historical accounts and identity, 133–134 ethnic identity relation to history education, 428–430 ethnic reterritorialization, 576 ethnic self-affirmation, 578, 581, 582 ethnic self-identification, 575 ethos of conflict, 464–466
 euthanasia, 617
 Evans, Richard, 530
 executive functions
 functional use of objects in the pre-language stage, 230–233
 existentials of embodied history, 542
 affective register, 545–546
 case example, 542–546
 habituation, 543
 hermeneutic repertoire, 544–545
 incorporation, 544
 intercorporeity, 543–544
 expanded mediational structure (EMS), 333–334 expanded self, 335 expansive learning, 248 experience, 14, 15, 16, 17, 20–21, 23, 24, 25–26, 28, 30–31, 103, 106, 108, 112, 114
 aesthetic, 115–116
 and body awareness, 211–214 meaning and memory in development, 260–262 of the world and the self, 114–116 semiotics of behavior and, 116–125 experience and meaning approach of sociocultural psychology, 638–639 experience space and its constraints, 262–264 experimental psychology, 15 explanandum, 40 explanans, 40
 extensional categories, 36–37 faith, 6, 353, 356, 359, 385, 386, 399, 400, 406, 530, 585, 607 fantasy, 83, 88, 180, 183, 353, 407, 539, 568
 Febvre, Lucien, 461
 Fechner, Gustav, 15 feed-forward process, 559 feelings dialogical account of, 512–515 driving the mind toward reflection, 23–24
 Feldenkrais, Moshe, 208, 213
 Feldenkrais method, 212, 215
 Fernandes, Danilo, 586, 587
 fiat borders, 306
 field theory, 79–80, 85, 90–91 figurative schema, 131
 first-person approach, 15, 28, 31, 388
 Flaubert, Gustave, 187
 Fogel, Alan, 213
 folkpsychology, 557
 forms of vitality, 218–219, 220
 Foucault, Michel, 304, 381–382, 390, 470–471, 604
 four levels of semiotic mediation, 186–187

- fourth age, 618, 621 fragile signs, 522
 Freire, Paulo, 281, 283, 284–285
 Freud, Sigmund, 91, 400, 550
 internalization, 249 theory of fantasy (imagination), 180 friendship and money, 342–343
 Fromm, Erich, 78
 Fromm-Reichman, Freda, 78 frontier, 30, 313, 581, 588, 591 Fuchs, T., 543, 544 functional, canonical use of objects by children, 225 functional permanence of objects, 226
- Gadamer, Hans-Georg, 85
 Geertz, Clifford, 72, 358, 598, 600 gender concept of, 598
 gender equality insights from sociocultural psychology, 609–611 gender identities
 cultural canalization, 606–609
 semiotic mediation by images, 606–609 gender identity and self, 597–598 as a dynamic and contextualized system, 603–606 central assumptions of sociocultural psychology, 598–600
 social identities as boundary phenomena, 600–603 gender relations, 604–605, 606 gender roles, 604–605
 gender stereotypes, 605 Geneple model of creativity, 169, 173 general systems theory, 18
 generativity of symbolic resources, 188–189 genetic psychology, 556 genuine dialogue concept, 286–287 geropsychology, 615 Gessel, Arnold, 210
 gestalt, 218, 247, 507, 549 gestalt units, 544
 gestures in young children use in self-regulation, 230–233 Gibson, James J., 71, 106–107, 108, 550
 affordances, 173
 gift exchange, 333
 globalization, 488
 God, 69, 130, 133, 139, 351, 352, 353, 370, 377, 385, 386, 387, 406, 528, 557, 579, 616
 Goldstein, J.A., 419
 Goldstein, Kurt, 78
 good me, 81, 82, 90
- Grass, Günter
 adolescence and war, 531–532 doubts over the heroic soldier propaganda, 532–535 growing up in Nazi Germany, 527–529 Hitler Youth and beyond, 529–531
 propaganda and the cult of Hitler, 527–529 questions over his involvement in warfare, 532–535 uniforms and propaganda, 529–531
 Gregory, Richard, 64
 Gricean maxims of good communication, 293
 Griffin, Martyn, 482 group-based moral emotions, 471–473 guidance, 178, 181, 183, 189, 223, 255, 275, 279, 308, 309, 310, 380, 510, 519, 556, 561, 619
 Guimarães, D.S., 588
- Habermas, Jürgen, 482 habits development of, 119, 120
 habituation, 543
 Hackney, Peggy, 213, 214, 215
 Halbwachs, Maurice, 436, 459–460 handicap, 135–136, 143
 Hanna, Thomas, 212
 Harré, Rom, 67
Harry Potter, 562, 566–567, 568, 569
 Havighurst, R.J., 620
 head–tail pattern of connectivity, 216–217
 Hegel, Georg theory of self-consciousness, 247–248
 Heidegger, E., 66
 Heidegger, M., 542, 545, 546
 Heraclitus of Ephesus, 597, 598
 Herbart, Johann Friedrich, 15 hermeneutic philosophy, 85
 hermeneutic repertoire, 544–545
 hermeneutics, 352, 637
 hetero-affection, 541
 heuristics, 327
 Hewstone, M., 67
Hexis, 548
 high culture dialogue of, 286 hippocampus, 267 historical guilt, 471–473 historical knowledge from intergenerational narratives, 459–461
 historical maps
 as cultural tools, 431–434
 historical myths, 469
 historical preexistence of the human mind, 463–464

- historical representation, 133–134
- historical selfhood as embodied, 540–542
- historical truth
 - pragmatic consequences of, 471–473
- historiography
 - fostering of national identity, 424–426
- history
 - need for youth to understand, 461–462
 - politics of representing the past, 443–444
- history education, 424
 - and identity formation, 428–430
 - approach to national identity, 427–428
 - fostering of national identity, 424–426
 - historical maps as cultural tools, 431–434
 - ironical and dialogical understanding of nation and national identity, 436–438
 - master narratives and their persistence, 430–431
 - myths of origin and their persistence, 430–431
 - relation to ethnic identity, 428–430
 - sociocultural investigation of alternative pathways, 434–436
 - sociocultural views on imagining history, 426–427
- history education studies
 - continuities and changes, 428–430
- Hitler, Adolf, 526
 - cult of, 527–529
 - death of, 535
- holism, 39
- Hollenback, J., 358
- holomorphic representation, 133, 135
- homeland concept, 413
- Homer, 616
- hospice movement, 618
- human experiential mind
 - defining, 504–506
 - dialogic and sociocultural perspectives, 506–507
 - dialogical account of feelings, 512–515
 - dialogical perspective, 503–504
 - first-person perspective, 507–508
 - mind in motion, 511–512
 - notion of position, 511–512
 - perspectives within, 507–511
 - phenomenology, 504–506
 - relation to the self, 515
 - second-person perspective, 507, 508–509
 - third-person perspective, 507, 509–511
- humans
 - as responsive beings, 548–550
 - viewed as not part of nature, 68
- Hutto, D., 269
- hypergeneralized signs, 404
- iconic signs, 112
- icons, 117
- identification, 121, 143, 252, 255, 256, 304, 429, 430, 431, 434, 435, 446, 483, 490, 491, 512
 - with Other, 254
- identity
 - ethnic, 133–134, 142–143
 - historical, 424–426
 - influence of history education, 428–430
 - national, 133–134, 138–143
- identity construction, 140–142
- ideographic, 650
- ideologies, 591
- Ignatius of Loyola, Spiritual Exercises, 386–387
 - a book for building yourself, 387
 - development of subjectivity through the rhetoric and fractal structure of the exercises, 388–390
 - disciplining experience, 388–390
 - giving someone the way and order, 388–390
 - knowledge of the self, 388
 - realising and relishing things interiorly, 388
- illusion
 - and poverty of the stimulus, 67–68
- images
 - semiotic mediation of gender identities, 606–609
- imagination, 121
 - and spheres of experience, 181
 - as an integrative sociocultural concept, 181–183
 - constraints on the use of, 192–194
 - future study directions, 195
 - historical perspectives on, 180–181
 - loop of imagination, 181–183
 - plausibility in sociocultural situations, 183
 - relation to reality, 179
 - role in guiding the lifecourse, 179
 - role in sociocultural change, 191–192
 - role in the life course, 189–191
 - study methodological problems, 194–195
 - symbolic resources concept, 178
 - theoretical problems, 194
- imagination and creativity theory, 149–150
- imaginative processes, 402
 - embodiment and reification of the concept of nation, 408–417
 - range of influence on human action, 419–421
- imagined communities
 - and national identity, 404–408
- imagined landscape
 - and concept of nationhood, 411–415
- imagining history
 - sociocultural views on, 426–427

- imitation
 - multifunctional imitation in the life course, 570
 - personal development through persistent imitation, 559–561
 - someone to copy and be copied by, 567–569
 - user-generated content and objects, 171
- immanent formal causation, 40
- implicatory denial, 467
- incorporation, 544
- indexes, 117
- indexical signs, 112
- indigenous people
 - ethnic diversity in the urban context, 587–592
- indigenous university students, 576–584
 - challenges faced by, 589
 - migration to the urban context, 584–587
 - search for academic education, 584–587
- individualism
 - children and money, 343–345
- inductive abduction, 404
- inherent intentionality, 15
- innovation
 - production through action, 125–127
 - user-generated content and objects, 171
- institutional environment
 - influence on child development, 327–329
- institutionalization, 136
- instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 279–285
- instrumental education, 276–279
- instrumentality, 153–154
 - coordination of complex constellations of artefacts, 159
 - failed remediation in oral health care (Finland), 155–156
 - shifting multiple functions of BIM software, 157–159
- intangible concepts
 - influence on human actions, 399–401, 419–421
- intellectualism
 - fallacy of, 69
- intensional categories, 36–37
- intensionality
 - and abstractive generalization, 37–39
- intentional action
 - development of, 119
- intentional communication, 24, 25
- intentional schemas, 118–119
- intentional worlds
 - semiotic constitution of, 123–125
- intentionality, 15, 55, 110, 118, 120, 170, 269, 400, 504, 505, 508, 509, 540, 541, 544, 545
- interaction and cooperation, 132–134
- intercorporeity, 543–544
- interdisciplinary synthesis, 4
- interethnic situations
 - construction of the self, 575–576
 - ethnic diversity in the urban context, 587–592
 - multinaturalism and the construction of the person, 589–591
 - psychology and the construction of the person, 592–593
 - self as the space of circulation of subjective agencies, 591–592
- intergenerational narratives
 - bias in, 466–468
 - breaking down literal social denials, 470–471
 - building up and marginalizing the ethos of conflict, 464–466
 - contemporary effects, 458
 - continuity and discontinuity, 462–464
 - forms of social denial, 467
 - historical guilt of descendents, 471–473
 - historical preexistence of the human mind, 463–464
 - literal social denial, 468–469
 - memories of historical events, 459–461
 - memories of past ways of living, 459–461
 - natality, 463, 464
 - need for youth to understand their history, 461–462
 - of violence, 464–466
 - parrhesia*, 470–471
 - pragmatic consequences of historical truth, 471–473
 - reconciliation processes, 473–474
 - role of group-based moral emotions, 471–473
 - scaffolding children's autobiographical memories, 458–459
 - scaffolding positive family identities, 458–459
 - violence from the point of view of victims, perpetrators and bystanders, 466–468
- internalization theories of self-reflection, 249–251
- interobjective architecture, 58–60
- interobjectivity, 51–55
 - in social research, 56
- interpersonal psychoanalysis
 - ability to deal with the unknown, 94–95
 - approach in the consulting room, 82–83
 - boundaries and regulatory mechanisms, 90–91
 - considerations for the therapist, 87–89
 - field theories, 90–91
 - goals and growth, 93–94
 - importance of context, 92–93
 - origins of, 78
 - relationship to cultural psychology, 78–79
 - role of language, 91–92
 - semiotic capacity of patients, 82
 - semiotic space in the therapeutic field, 89–94
 - Sullivan's modes of meaning making, 80

- interpersonal psychoanalysis (cont.)
 systems of defence, 80–82
 work of Donnel Stern, 85–86 work of Edgar Levenson, 83–85 work of Harry Stack Sullivan, 79–83 work of Phillip Bromberg, 86–87
- interpretant, 117
- interpretative denial, 467
- intersubjectivity, 51–53
- iron logic of the universal necessity, 283
- ironic understanding in history education, 436–438
- irony
 as a mode of resistance, 452–453 as a tool of critique, 443 in images of authority figures, 450–451
- Islam, 383
 experience of a Swedish woman convert, 524–526
- Jack, Daboma incident in Malta, 50–51
- Jackson, Michael, 413
- James, William, 15, 78, 265, 354–355, 359, 361, 373, 605 human experiencing mind, 504–506 on religious belief, 368–369
- Jefferson, Thomas, 288
- Jones, J.W., 361
- Judaism, 383
- Jules et Jim*, 186
- Kant, Immanuel, 37
- Kegan, Robert, 490
- kinesphere, 217
- kinaesthetic, 207, 212, 213, 219
- Klein, Melanie, 91
- Knorr-Cetina, Karin, 151
- knowledge encounters, 55–58
- Koenigsberg, Richard, 416
- Kübler-Ross, Elisabeth, 618
- Laban, Rudolph, 212, 213
- Labaree, David, 278
- Lacan, Jacques, 247
- Lakatos, Imre, 287, 288–291
- language
 embodying language, 374–376
 emergence from social symbols, 24–26 relationship to tool use, 151–153 role in interpersonal psychoanalysis, 91–92
- language game model, 22
- Latour, Bruno, 479, 492
- law, 334, 360, 366, 367, 368, 369, 373, 374, 401, 461, 506
- Lee, Peter, 428
- legisigns, 119, 123, 639, 640
- Leonardo da Vinci, 609
- Leontjev, A.N., 148, 150
 cultural-historical activity theory (CHAT), 148–149
- Levenson, Edgar, 83–85
- Lévi-Strauss, Claude, 401
- Lewin, Kurt, 79, 519, 549
- life course duration and redundancy in development of, 569–570 future-oriented nature, 306–307 multifunctional imitation in, 570 role of imagination, 189
 role of symbolic resources, 189–191 sociocultural perspective, 178–179
 timed and untimed living, 563–567
- lifespan models, 620–621
- lifespan theory of socio-emotional selectivity, 622
- linguistic turn in human sciences, 207
- Linnell, Per, 295
- literal denial, 467
- literal social denial, 468–469
 breaking down, 470–471
- literature, 193
- Little Buddha*, 186
- Locke, John, 321
- London, Jack, 188
- loop of imagination, 181–183
- Lorde, Audre, 293
- Lotman, Juri, 29
- Lotze, Hermann, 15
- Lovejoy, Arthur, 70
- Luckman, T., 590
- Luria, Alexander, 3, 152
- machinations, 105
- machines, 104–105
- Madame Bovary*, 187, 188
- Madureira, A.F.A., 601–602, 603, 608–609
- magnet effect, 226
- Malafouris, Lambros, 109–110, 118
- Mamana, Silvia, 213
- Mandela, Nelson, 412–413
- maps
 as cultural tools, 431–434
- market economy, 334, 335, 339, 341, 342, 344, 345
- market exchange, 334, 335, 339, 343, 344, 345
- market value, 334
- marketization, 341, 344, 345–346
- Marx, Karl, 13

- mass media
 role in the climate change debate, 138
- master narratives, 591 and their persistence, 430–431
- material affordances
 creative action using, 172–174
- material culture, 104–106
- material engagement theory, 118
- Material Me, 335
- material signs
 semiotic value, 114
- Maturana, Humberto, 18–20, 371–372
- McGraw, Myrtle, 210
- Mead, George H., 16, 68, 78, 589–590 concept of the significant symbol, 250
 on self-reflection, 246
 theory of the social act, 251–252
- meaning, 13, 17, 20–21, 22, 23, 25, 26, 27, 29, 30, 37, 42–43 and memory, 263–264
 definition, 126
 distinction from sense, 538 emerges from sensemaking, 43
- meaning making distortion caused by anxiety, 80–82, 83
 Sullivan's modes of, 80
- mediation, 17, 38
 as an epistemological barrier, 63
 by signs, 148
 four levels of semiotic mediation, 186–187
- mediationism dominance in psychology theory, 63 getting over it, 73–74 problems in mainstream cognitive theory, 63–65 problems with, 63 tendency to return to dualism, 70–73
- memory and meaning, 263–264
 anoetic memory, 265
 autobiographical memory, 260, 263–264, 265–267 childhood (infantile) amnesia, 264–265, 360 collective memory, 29, 140–142, 143, 400, 417, 425, 444, 465, 473, 607 declarative memory, 264–265 embodied memory, 543 episodic memory, 264–265, 266–267 event memory, 459–461 factors influencing development, 260–262 family memories, 458–459 making memory, 260 nature of early memory, 264–265 procedural memory, 543 reexperiencing, 265, 266 semantic memory, 265
- Meno dialogue, 282
- Merleau-Ponty, Maurice, 211, 360, 538, 541–542
 sedimented dispositions, 548
- metacanonial uses of objects, 230
- meta-knowledge, 133, 144
- metaphor and standing forth in the world, 360–363
 use to inspire collective action, 417–419
- metaphysical naturalism, 366, 369
- metonymy
 use to inspire collective action, 417–419
- microgenesis, 104
- migrants effects of crossing borders, 305
- Miller, Arthur, 137
- mimesis, 261
- mimetic culture, 261
- mind, 31
 art and artifacts, 110–111
 as sensemaking, 41–42
 as the process of decoupling from the environment, 41
 as the psychological object, 40–41 historical development in relation to culture (Vico), 401–404
- mind and body duality, 15
- mind of breathing, 215
- mirror theories of self-reflection, 246–247
- model of how action produces meaningful experiences, 639–649 capabilities and limitations of this model, 647–649
 self-management of behavior, 643–644
 semiotic boundaries and growth of meaning, 644–646
 sociocultural resources for shaping experiences and behaviour, 646–647 tetrahedral structure, 640–643
- model of overcoming ambivalence by development, 518–519 extending the model, 522–526
 social context of meaning making, 535–536
- modeling systems, 29
- modern reflective capacity as a cultural artefact, 486
- modern subjectivity conceptions of the self, 381–382 genealogical approach to study, 382 psyche as an historical object, 381–382
- modernism, 72, 283
- monarchy body of the king, 404–406

- money
 as a cultural tool, 333, 345–346
 as an economic tool, 333
 bill-splitting, 336, 342–343, 344
 dialectical study of cultural meaning, 335–337 expanded mediational structure (EMS), 333–334
 polysemic nature, 334–335
 See also children and money
- monologic pedagogy, 275
- mood, 118, 119, 120, 121
 affective register, 545–546
 role in communication, 121
- moon, travel to, 182, 191, 192
- moral, 13, 25, 28, 49
- Moscovici, S., 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 465
- motivation, 15, 16, 23, 36, 82, 87
- motivational theory of lifespan development, 622
- motor development and iterative experience, 209–211 cultural influences on early development, 207–208 effects of early deprivation, 208 study of, 208–209
- movement
 body and perception, 107
 fundamental patterns of total body connectivity, 214–217 future directions in developmental studies, 220
 somatic teaching, 211–213
 thinking in movement, 217–219
- Muehlebach, Andrea, 489
- multiculturalism, 488
- multinaturalism, 589
 and the construction of the person, 589–591
- Murdoch, Iris, 353–354, 356
- music, 352, 358–359
- music therapy, 226
- Muslim women representations of the veil, 56, 57
- mystery, 68, 105, 352, 355, 359, 363, 383, 400
- mystical experience, 356, 358, 362, 363
- mysticism, 361, 386
- myth, 138, 139, 261, 589
 challenging, 469 foundation myth, 143, 414, 431
 Italians, good fellows, 469
- mythic culture, 261, 267
- myths, 591
- myths of origin and their persistence, 430–431
- Nachträglich*, 549
- Nachträglichkeit*, 550–551
- naïve personalism, 557
- naming and self-reflection, 245
- narrative thinking, 217
- nativity, 463, 464
- nation
 allegorical personification, 408–411
 defined in the remembrance of those who died for it, 415–417 effect of delineating borders, 414–415 embodiment and reification of the concept, 408–417 ironical and dialogical understanding in history
 education, 436–438
 relationship to imagined landscape, 411–415 unknown soldier memorials, 415–417
- national identity and imagined communities, 404–408 approach in history education, 427–428 fostering through history education, 424–426 historical accounts of Estonia, 133–134
 historical maps as cultural tools, 431–434
 influence of history education, 424
 ironical and dialogical understanding in history
 education, 436–438
 master narratives and their persistence, 430–431
 myths of origin, 430–431
- national identity (Estonia), 138–143
 building a nation, 138–140
 collective memory work, 140–142
 reifying national identity as a state, 142–143
- nationalism
 in history writing and education, 424–426
- natural meaning in cognitive science of religion (CSR), 366–367
- nature humans viewed as not part of, 68
- Nazi Germany
 Günter Grass and the Third Reich, 529–535
 propaganda and the cult of Hitler, 527–529
 rise of, 526–527
- negotiation, 30, 52, 94
- Nelson, Katherine, 230
- neoliberalism, 488
- Neoplatonism, 386
- networks, 105
- Neuman, John von, 70
- neuronal group selection theory, 209
- neurophenomenology, 212
- Nietzsche, Friedrich, 381
- Nigro, K.F., 588

- nomotetic, 8, 31
- noncanonical use of objects by children, 225–226
- nondevelopmentalism, 557–558
- non-dialogic pedagogies, 275–276
- non-instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 285–296
- non-instrumental education, 276–279
- non-reductive scientific naturalism, 369–374
- normative mediator, 333
- norms, 8, 105, 302, 340, 564–565, 575
- not me, 90
- not me experience, 82
- null state, 520
- number systems
 - evolution of, 112–114
- numerical use of objects
 - development in young children, 233–235
- object
 - of a representamen, 117
- object construction, 151
- object of activity theory
 - uses in studying human activities, 149–151
- object relations theory, 86
- objectification, 51, 54–58, 59, 148, 154
 - influence of sociocultural context, 55–58
- objectivity, 51–53
- objects
 - affordances of, 107–109
 - awareness of their functional attributes, 223–225
 - cultural uses, 236
 - ecstatic power of, 354–357
 - functional, canonical use by children, 225–226
 - functional permanence of, 226
 - functional uses and executive functions before language, 230–233
 - how children learn to use them according to their function, 225–226
 - metacanonial uses, 230
 - noncanonical use by children, 225–226
 - numerical use in young children, 233–235
 - protocanonial use by children, 225–226
 - relation between symbolic and functional uses, 228–230
 - rhythmic-sonorous uses, 226–228
 - self-regulation through, 230–233
 - use in child interaction with adults, 233–235
- observer
 - describing behavior, 19–20
- Onfray, M., 382
- ontic nature of objects, 118
- ontogenesis, 104, 207, 247
 - in living organisms, 19
- ontological non-instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 291
- ontopotentiality of symbols, 114
- operation, 13, 19, 21, 22, 25, 26
- ordinary life on the border, 309
- organization, 38
- organizational closure, 39–40
- Ortega y Gasset, J., 462, 463–464, 470, 472, 473
- Orwell, George, 443
- ostensive gestures, 226, 231
- Ostrom, Elinor, 154
- Other, 30, 42, 143, 190, 360, 376, 503, 541
 - dialogical dance with, 512
 - generalized Other, 524
 - I–Other relationships, 403
 - priority in aesthetic transcendence, 354–357
 - priority of, 362–363
 - realm of, 360
 - self-reflection via identification with, 254
- ownership
 - understanding in children, 319–323
- Paideia proposal, 281
- Paley, Vivian, 281, 283, 284, 285
- Pali canon, 616
- Panofsky, Erwin, 608
- parataxic thinking, 80
 - as a defence, 80–82
- Park, Rosa Louise, 489
- Parmenides of Elea, 597, 598
- parrhesia*, 470–471
- pathic dimension, 549, 550
- Pavlov, Ivan, 246
- Peirce, Charles S., 15, 92, 117, 303
 - on self-reflection, 245–246
- Peircean Semiotics, 639
- perception
 - ecological theory of, 106–107
 - leading to conceptualization, 21
- perceptual action, 119
- person, 13, 15, 17, 31
- personal agency, 560
- personal development through persistent imitation, 559–561
- personal dimension of experience, 538–539
- personal sense, 545
- personality, 557
- personality suggestions, 560
- personhood
 - emergence of, 27–28
- personified abstractions, 404–406
- perspective-taking, 172

- pertinentization ongoing process during sensemaking, 45
- phenomenological naturalism, 366, 374–376
- phenomenology, 15, 637
 pre-reflective, embodied experience, 539–540
- Piaget, Jean, 209, 226, 228, 482
 on self-reflection, 246
- planning capacity, 104
- Plato, 14, 66, 249, 274, 417, 479
 Socratic Dialogic method, 282–283
- play development of, 150
- play and art, 111–112
- Pocket Money Project, 339–343
- poetry, 359
- Poincaré, Henri, 164
- pointing gestures, 231
- political institutionalization climate change debate, 137–138
- politics of representing the past, 443–444
 agency, 445
 Basque conflict, 443–444, 445–449
 Egyptian revolution (2011), 443–444, 449–453
 positioning, 444–445 symbolic action and re-action, 453–455
 symbolic tools, 444–445
 theoretical framework, 444–445
- polysemic nature of money, 334–335
- possessions
 polysemic nature, 334–335
- postmodern psytizenship from a psycho-cultural perspective, 486–491
- postmodern transitions of psytizenship, 484–486
- postmodernism, 72
- power relations, 605
- prejudice, 582, 602, 605
- pre-reflective, embodied dimension of selfhood, 538–539
- pre-reflective, embodied experience
 affective register, 545–546
 existentials of embodied history, 542–546
 future research, 552
 habituation, 543
 hermeneutic repertoire, 544–545
 historical selfhood as embodied, 540–542
 incorporation, 544
 intercorporeity, 543–544
 sedimentation of pre-reflective experiential structures, 546–547
 sedimented experiential dispositions, 548
 turn to phenomenology, 539–540
- Prigogine, Ilya, 597
- private gestures in infants, 231
- problem-focused coping, 621
- processual ontology, 39, 46
- propaganda and the cult of Hitler, 527–529
- proprioception, 212, 213, 218, 219
- protocanonical use of objects by children, 225–226
- prototaxic thinking, 80
 as a defence, 80–82
- psyche, 633
 Aristotelian view, 15 as an historical object, 381–382 behaviorist view, 16 biological basis, 15 conceptions shaped by psychology, 16 culture as the spirit of, 28
 definition, 633–634
 distinction from spirit, 14–15 division of, 14 feelings drive the mind toward reflection, 23–24 from biological processes to social behavior, 18–20 functionalism of the American pragmatists, 15–16 genealogical approach of cultural psychology, 383–385 genealogical relationship to religion, 383–385 influence of religion on the concept, 380–381
 nature of, 31, 103–104
 ontology of, 13–14
 role in the theory of evolution, 15 sociocultural psychology view, 16 study of developmental dynamics, 635–637 turning things into objects, 106–109
- psychoanalysis, 180 theory on self-reflection, 247
- psychogenesis and modernity, 480–483
- psychological distancing theory, 248
- psychological impersonalism, 557
- psychological knowledge nature and origins of, 30–31
- psychological rationality, 390–392
- psychology as a liminal science, 633–635
 as a science, 633–637
 behaviorism, 16
 cognitive revolution, 16 conceptions of psyche, 16 explanatory extensions, 637 first-person approach to the study of, 15 fragmented state of the discipline, 35–36 functional approaches of the German and Austrian schools, 15 growth of the sociocultural perspective, 3 need for a general theory of psychology, 35–36

- ordering the epistemic field, 635–637
- roots of, 637
- third-person approach to the study of, 15
- psychophysics, 15
- psytizen carnivalization, 491–492
- psytizenship
 - activity as a means of surpassing adjustment, 487–488
 - definition, 479–480
 - empowered and dissolved psytizens, 489–491
 - experience beyond decision and fragmentation, 488–489
 - historico-genealogical approach, 480–484
 - modern reflective capacity as a cultural artefact, 486
 - postmodern psytizenship from a psycho-cultural perspective, 486–491
 - postmodern transitions, 484–486
 - psychogenesis and modernity, 480–483
- queuing, 49–51
- Rabbow, Paul, 386
- Rancière, J., 404
- rationalism of the Enlightenment, 283
- reality, 130, 134, 180
 - relation to imagination, 179
- reciprocity
 - understanding in children, 323–326
- reductionism, 106
- reflective modernity, 487
- reification
 - constructed in collective action, 417–419
- reified discourse
 - climate change debate, 137–138
- relational psychoanalysis, 78
- religion
 - cultural analysis, 382–383
 - cultural psychology approach, 383–385
 - genealogical relationship to psyche, 383–385, 390–392
 - influence of conceptions of the self, 380–381
 - technologies of the self, 381–383
 - see also* cognitive science of religion (CSR)
- religious development
 - emotions and self-governance, 385–386
- religious experience
 - aesthetic transcendence, 354–357
- religious extremism, 130
- religious fundamentalism, 602
- religious violence, 130
- remediation, 155–156, 159
- representamen, 117
- representation
 - as activity or process, 131–132
 - as product, 132–133
 - holomorphic, 133, 135
 - meanings of, 130–131
 - vs. object, 134–136
- representationalism
 - in social cognitive psychology, 65–70
 - problems in cognitive psychology, 63–65
- resource development and conservation theory, 622
- responsiveness and personal history, 550–551
- reverse action of signs, 250
- revolutions, 192
- rhema, 117, 123
- rhythmic-sonorous uses of objects, 226–228
- Ricoeur, Paul, 361–362
- Rogoff, Barbara, 370
- Roman Catholic culture, 490
- Rorty, Richard, 487
- Rosa, Alberto, 208, 599, 600
- Rosch, Eleanor, 211
- Rose, Nikolas, 482
- Ruiz Zafon, C., 514–515
- rule configuration, 154
- rule constellation, 154
- runaway objects, 151
- rupture theories of self-reflection, 245–246
- Sanders, Cecily, 618
- Santaella, L., 607, 608
- Sapir, Edward, 78
- Sartre, Jean-Paul, 188
- satisficing, 623
- Scarry, Elaine, 363
- scenarios, 44–45, 191, 210, 224, 229, 231, 236
- Schachtel, Ernst, 360
- Schiffer, Brian, 67
- School of the Dialogue of Cultures, 290
- science
 - notion of, 13
- scientific naturalism, 367–368, 369–374
- Scott, Joan, 598, 604
- scripts, 154, 155, 322, 454, 649
- Searle, J.R., 327–328
- second-person approach, 31, 208, 218, 220
- sedimentation of pre-reflective experiential structures, 546–547
- sedimented experiential dispositions, 548
- sedimented response registers, 551
- Segato, Rita, 601, 604
- selective inattention, 81
- selective optimization with compensation (SOC) model, 621

- self
- and gender identity, 597–598
 - as the space of circulation of subjective agencies, 591–592
 - construction of the autobiographical self, 260
 - historical selfhood as embodied, 540–542
 - in autobiographical memory, 267–271
 - multinaturalism and the construction of the person, 589–591
 - production of, 26–27
 - relation to the human experiential mind, 515
- self-awareness, 540
- self-consciousness theory of Hegel, 247–248
- self-esteem, 80–81
- self-governance
- and religious development, 385–386
- self-management of behavior, 643–644
- self-reflection
- complex semiotic systems, 254–255
 - conflict theories, 247–249
 - definition, 245
 - internalization theories, 249–251
 - Mead's theory of the social act, 251–252
 - mirror theories, 246–247
 - naming, 245
 - reasons for, 255–257
 - rupture theories, 245–246
 - semiotic mediation, 245
 - semiotic process underlying, 255–257
 - social representation theory, 248
 - two processes of, 252–254
 - via distanciation from the self, 253
 - via identification with Other, 254
- self-regulation
- and aging, 621–622
 - through gestures and objects, 230–233
- self-states, 86–87
- self story, 266
- sembling, 560
- semiology, 637
- semiosis, 3, 117–118
- semiosisaction, 639
- semiospheres, 29–30, 645
- semiotic boundaries and growth of meaning, 644–646
- semiotic–cultural constructivism in psychology, 575
- semiotic mediation, 245, 503, 509
- influence of images on gender identities, 606–609
- semiotic objects
- constitution of, 123–125
- semiotic prism, 189–190, 192
- semiotic resources, 185, 646
- semiotic space in the therapeutic field, 89–94
- semiotic tools, 508
- semiotic traps, 549
- semiotic value of material signs, 114
- semiotics, 4, 16, 17, 29, 106, 126, 152, 164, 169, 637, 648, 649
- border irregularities, 29–30
 - of action, 117–118
 - of behavior and experience, 116–125
 - of self-reflection, 255
- Peircean, 639
- semiotization, 30, 126
- Sen, Amartya, 274
- senicide, 617
- Sennett, Richard, 482
- sense
- distinction from meaning, 538
- sensemaking
- as inherently dialogical, 42
 - cultural psychology as the science of, 39–42
 - mind as, 41–42
- sensemaking dynamics, 42–45
- affective grounds of sensemaking, 44–45
 - bivalence of meaning, 45
 - culture as the field distribution of possibilities, 44
 - hyperdimensionality of the distribution, 44
 - meaning emerges from sensemaking, 43
 - sensemaking is a field dynamics, 42–43
 - sensemaking works through ongoing pertinentization, 45
 - significance in absentia (SIA), 45
 - significance in praesentia (SIP), 45
 - transition among signs is a habit function, 43–44
 - transition among signs is the unit of analysis of sensemaking, 43
- sensorial action, 117
- sexism, 598, 600–602, 604–605
- Sheets-Johnston, Maxine, 207, 218
- Shotter, John, 490
- Sidorkin, Alexander, 291–292, 294, 295
- Sigel, I.E.,
- psychological distancing theory, 248
- sign transition, 42, 43
- is a habit function, 43–44
 - unit of analysis of sensemaking, 43
- significance in absentia (SIA), 45
- significance in praesentia (SIP), 45
- signs
- as internalized mediators for interaction, 20–21
 - reverse action, 250

- Simmel, G., 302
 Skinner, B.F., 482
Skyfall, 187
 Sluga, Glenda, 483
 Smith, Adam
 on self-reflection, 246–247
 Smith, Mark, 285
 social act Mead's theory of, 251–252 social borders crossing in development and education, 312–313 social cognition, 51, 64, 67, 208, 218, 327 social cognitive psychology representationalism in, 65–70 social constructivism, 71, 72
 social context of meaning making, 535–536 social conventional signs, 640 social denial forms of, 467 social engineering, 283–285, 481 social exchange
 gift exchange, 333
 money as a cultural tool, 333
 social identities as boundary phenomena, 600–603 social influence, 58
 social justice instrumental dialogic pedagogies, 283–285
 social membranes institutional borders as, 311–312
 social objects
 climate change, 136–138
 national identity (Estonia), 138–143
 religious extremism, 130
 semiotic constitution of, 123–125
 social representation, 134–136
 wheelchairs, 135–136
 social representation theory, 130–131, 400, 417
 behaving and acting, 131–132
 belief and communicating, 131
 individual and collective levels of analysis, 143–144 interaction and cooperation, 132–134
 self-reflection, 248
 social objects, 134–136
 social symbols emergence and development of, 24–26 social virtual objects, 123 social world of children, 319
 socially constructed environments, 60 socially shared reality, 181 societal discourse, 131 Society of Jesus, 386, 585 sociocultural change
 role of imagination, 191–192
 role of symbolic resources, 191–192
 sociocultural cognition, 370–371
 sociocultural context influence on objectifications, 55–58 sociocultural frames of reference Daboma Jack incident, 50–51 sociocultural phenomena, 123 sociocultural psychology approach on experience and meaning, 638–639
 as a science, 633–637
 central assumptions, 598–600 current developments in the field, 3
 definition, 16
 directions in, 8–9
 epistemology of, 637–649 features of the sociocultural approach, 16–17
 model of how action produces meaningful experiences, 639–649
 nature of, 31
 place among the sciences, 649–650 structural-systemic approach, 17–18 view of psyche, 16
 sociocultural resources for shaping experiences and behavior, 646–647 sociocultural theory, 148
 Socrates, 274
 Socratic Dialogic method, 282–283
 somatic education, 215
 somatic education techniques, 211
 somatic teaching, 211–213
 somatics, 212
 soul, 14
South Park, 188
 spectator theory of knowledge, 69 spheres of experience, 181 spirit, 31
 nature of, 14–15
Spiritual Exercises. See Ignatius of Loyola Spiritual Exercises split-self, 550
 statehood, 142–143
 Steiner, George, 351–353, 356, 357
 Stengers, Isabelle, 597 stereotypes, 582
 Stern, Daniel, 218–219, 543
 Stern, Donnel, 85–86
 Stern, William, 556–557
 challenges to the study of development, 557–558
 the experiencing person, 558–559

- Stimmung*, 545
 Stoicism, 386
 Storr, A., 357
 Straus, Erwin, 541 street art diversity of interactions with, 56 strong signs, 522
 structural coupling, 38, 106, 116, 124, 211, 372, 373, 636, 648 structural-systemic approach of sociocultural psychology, 17–18 structure, 36, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42 subjectivity, 51–53, 106
 Sullivan, Harry Stack, 78 modes of meaning making, 80
 systems of defence, 80–82
 work on interpersonal psychoanalysis, 79–83 Sykes–Picot agreement (1916), 411
 symbolic action and re-action, 453–455
 symbolic bricolage, 184 symbolic gestures, 231 symbolic nature of humans, 13 symbolic resources, 124, 575
 aboutness, 184–185
 aboutness of, 188
 and theory of imagination, 178 as a sociocultural concept, 183–189
 concept of, 178
 constraints on the use of, 192–194 cultural experiences as, 183–184
 defining, 184–185
 four levels of semiotic mediation, 186–187
 future study directions, 195
 generativity, 188–189
 heuristic power of the concept, 178 model for analyzing the use of, 185–189 origins of the concept, 184 plausibility, 187–188
 role in sociocultural change, 191–192
 role in the lifecourse, 189–191
 semiotic prism, 189–190, 192
 study methodological problems, 194–195
 theoretical problems, 194
 time orientation, 186 use of cultural elements, 183–184 symbolic systems, 183 symbolic thought development of, 150
 symbolic tools, 444–445
 symbolic use of objects relation to functional uses, 228–230 symbols, 24–26, 117
 nature of, 112, 121
 product of communication when acting, 22–23 sympathetic magic, 132 syntactic thinking, 80
 Tai Chi, 215
 Tannaim, 274
 Tartu School of semiotics, 29 technologies of the self, 381–383 terrorism, 130
 texts, 29, 123–124
The Dreamers, 186
 Thelen, Esther, 209–211 theology, 385
 theoretic culture, 261 theory of evolution functions of psyche, 15 theory of mind, 65–66 theory of the ideal, 150 thinking in action, 117, 118
 thinking in movement, 217–219
 Third Age, 618, 621 third-person approach, 15
 Thomae, Hans, 621, 624
 Thompson, Clara, 78
 Thompson, Evan, 211, 371–372, 373 time depiction of, 14
Tintin, 192
 tool use relationship to language, 151–153 tools, 25, 104–105 and signs, 151–152
 creative process, 109–110
 money
 as a cultural tool, 333
 Toomela, Aaro, 17, 18 torpedo touch, 282 total body connectivity
 breath pattern, 214–215
 core–distal connectivity pattern, 215–216
 fundamental patterns, 214–217
 head–tail pattern of connectivity, 216–217
 totalitarian regimes irony as a tool of critique, 443
 totalitarianism, 283–285
 transcendence defining, 351
 within immanence, 357–360

- transition among signs, 42, 43
 is a habit function, 43–44
 is the unit of analysis of sensemaking, 43 transitions, 178, 184, 189, 191, 195 translation, 29, 30, 256, 336 trauma theory, 86
 Trevarthen, Colwin, 210
 triadic rhythmic interactions, 226–227
 Truth and Reconciliation Committees, South Africa, 466–467
 Tulving, E., 264–265, 266

ubasute tradition, 617
 umbrella revolution (Hong Kong, 2014), 417–418
Umwelt, 17, 31, 108, 111, 127, 400, 640
Unheimlichkeit, 546
 unknown soldier memorials, 415–417

 Valsiner, Jaan, 107, 187, 208, 313, 504, 530, 538, 544, 545, 558, 591, 597, 599, 600, 608, 609 value
 definition, 126
 Varela, Francisco, 18–20, 211
 Veblen, Thorsten, 296 vectors, 519, 520
 Verne, Jules, 192
 Vico, Giambattista, 180, 417
 axioms on the historical development of the human mind and and culture, 401–404 violence from the point of view of victims, perpetrators and bystanders, 466–468 religious violence, 130
 vitality forms, 215 Viveiros de Castro, E., 584, 588–589, 591–592, 593 volitional action, 117
 volitive action, 119 Völkerpsychologie movement, 15
 von Uekküll, Jakob, 640
 Vygotsky, Lev, 3, 17, 18, 71, 148, 260, 482 distinction between sense and meaning, 538
 internalization, 249–251
 mediation by signs, 148 on communication, 230
 on creativity, 169, 171
 on imagination, 180–181, 182 on the full sense of words, 520 on the use of objects, 228 psychological mediation, 184 role of objects, 149–150
 signs, 333
 theory of imagination and creativity, 149–150 theory of the sign, 249–251 tools and signs, 151–152
 zone of proximal development, 53, 306

 Wagner, Roy, 591
 Waldenfels, Bernhard, 542 agency as responsiveness, 548–551
 Wartofsky, Max, 153
 Watson, J.B., 66, 68
 Weber, Max, 600
 Weimar Germany and the rise of Nazism, 526–527
 Wertsch, J.V., 123, 184, 249, 274, 426, 430, 434, 435, 436, 437, 443, 444, 445, 453, 454
 wheelchairs
 as social objects, 135–136
 White, Hayden, 417
 White, William Alanson, 78
Widerfahrnis, 550
 Will, 387
 Wineburg, Sam, 428 women violence against, 601
 Wundt, Wilhelm, 15

 Yoga, 211

Zeitverschiebung, 549 zone of free movement, 107, 544 zone of promoted action, 544 zone of proximal development, 53, 104, 306