Contents

Preface to the Third Edition
Preface to the Second Edition
Acknowledgements

1 The Tension between Regulation and Emancipation in Western Modernity and Its Demise
   1. Modern Regulation and Emancipation
   2. The Role of Science and Law in the Management of Excesses and Deficits of Modernity
   3. A Paradigmatic Transition?
      3.1. On Oppositional Postmodernism
      3.2. Oppositional Postmodernism and Law

2 Toward an Oppositional Postmodern Understanding of Law
   1. The Tension between Regulation and Emancipation
      1.1. The Reception of Roman Law
      1.2. The Rationalist Natural Law
      1.3. Theories of the Social Contract
   2. Legal-Political Modernity and Capitalism
      2.1. The First Period: Liberal Capitalism
      2.2. The Second Period: Organized Capitalism
      2.3. The Third Period: Disorganized Capitalism
   3. Unthinking Law
      3.1. From the Epistemological to the Social Transition
      3.2. The State or the World System?
      3.3. Recoupling Law with the Polity?
      3.4. Legal Utopia or Utopian Pragmatism?
   4. Conclusion
Contents

3 Legal Plurality and the Time-Spaces of Law: The Local, the National, and the Global

1. Introduction .................................................. 99
2. Legal Plurality .................................................. 100
   2.1. The Core Debate on Legal Pluralism ................. 102
   2.2. The Structural Components of Law ................. 106
   2.3. Bringing in the Epistemologies of the South ....... 112
3. The Centralism of the State ............................... 113
   3.1. Plurinational State/Plurinational Law ............... 116

4 The Law of the Oppressed: The Construction and Reproduction of Legality in Pasargada

1. Introduction .................................................. 121
2. Justiciability, Dispute Processing, and Legal Rhetoric 122
   2.1. Explicit and Implicit Issues: The Object of the Dispute as the Result of a Bargaining Process ................. 127
   2.1.1. The Breadth or Narrowness of the Dispute ....... 127
   2.1.2. The Processed Dispute and the Real Dispute ........ 128
   2.2. Topoi, Forms and Procedures: Forms as Arguments 129
   2.3. Language and Silence in Dispute Processing ......... 131
      2.3.1. Common Language, Technical Language, Folk Technical Language .......................... 131
      2.3.2. Language and Silence ................................ 132
3. Dispute Prevention and Dispute Settlement in Pasargada Law 136
   3.1. The Setting .............................................. 136
   3.2. Dispute Prevention in Pasargada ...................... 141
      3.2.1. The Ratification of Legal Relations by the RA 141
      3.2.2. Substantive Norms Defining the Type and Range of the Relationships ......................... 148
      3.2.3. Forms and Procedures for Legalizing Relationships ................................................. 154
   3.3. Dispute Settlement in Pasargada ...................... 161
      3.3.1. Process .............................................. 161
      3.3.2. Topoi of Dispute Settlement ....................... 165
4. Conclusion .................................................. 186
   4.1. The Structure of Legal Plurality ...................... 186
   4.2. The View from Inside .................................... 189
      4.2.1. Nonprofessional .................................... 190
      4.2.2. Accessible .......................................... 191
      4.2.3. Participatory ........................................ 192
      4.2.4. Consensual ......................................... 192
Contents

5 Globalization, Nation-States, and the Legal Field: From Legal Diaspora to Legal Ecumenism? 196

1. Introduction 196
2. The Globalization Process 198
3. Paradigmatic and Subparadigmatic Readings of Globalization 207
4. The Nature and Types of Globalization(s) 212
5. The Social Basis of Global Agency 219
   6.1. The Position of the Country in the World System 225
   6.2. Routes to and through Modernity 226
   6.3. Families of Legal Cultures and Kinship Ties 229
   7.1. The Globalization of Nation-State Regulation 232
      7.1.1. The Heterogeneous State 232
      7.1.2. The Relative Weight of Transnational and National Factors 236
   7.2. The Law of Regional Integration: The European Union 240
      7.2.1. The National and the Transnational 242
      7.2.2. The State and the Market 244
      7.2.3. Democracy, Social Cohesion, and Interest Representation 246
      7.2.4. Europe, the World System, and the History of Europe 248
   7.3. Global Capital’s Own Law: Lex Mercatoria 250
      7.3.1. The Origins and Elements of Lex Mercatoria 250
      7.3.2. Lex Mercatoria and the World System 252
      7.3.3. Lex Mercatoria and Legal Cultures 254
   7.4. Transnational Third Worlds: The Law of People on the Move 258
      7.4.1. International Migration 259
      7.4.2. Refugees and Displaced People 268
      7.4.3. Citizenship, International Migration, and Cosmopolitanism 272
   7.5. Ancient Grievances and New Solidarities: The Law of Indigenous Peoples 283
      7.5.1. Historical and Cultural Roots of Indigenous Rights 287
      7.5.2. Self-Determination versus the Ethnocratic State 294
      7.5.3. Building Transnational Coalitions 299
7.5.4. Learning from the South of the South 302
7.6. Cosmopolitanism and Human Rights 305
  7.6.1. International Human Rights and National Sovereignty 309
  7.6.2. Universalism versus Cosmopolitanism? 319
  7.6.3. Cultural Embeddedness and Cosmopolitanism 326
  7.6.4. Cultural Imperialism and the Possibility of Counterhegemony 330
  7.6.5. Human Rights as an Emancipatory Script 333
  7.6.6. Human Rights, Development, and Paradigmatic Transition 343
7.7. The Global Commons: Jus Humanitatis 358

Law and Democracy: The Global Reform of Courts
6 370

1. Introduction 370
2. The Four Dimensions of the Global Hegemonic Consensus 371
3. The Rule of Law/Judicial Consensus 374
4. The Globalization of the Rule of Law and Judicial Reform 375
  4.1. The Judicial System in Core Countries 376
  4.2. The Judicial System in Semiperipheral Countries 378
    4.2.1. The Democratic Transition and the Fight against Corruption 378
    4.2.2. Court Reform in the Semiperiphery: A Case of High-Intensity Globalization 387
  4.3. USAID in Colombia: A Case Study of High-Intensity Global Legal Reform 393
5. State Weakness, the Judicialization of Politics, and the Exportation of the Rule of Law 398
6. Prospects for Democracy 407
  6.1. The Role of Law and Courts in Representative Democracy 408
  6.2. The Role of Law and Courts in Participatory Democracy 411
7. Conclusion 417

On Modes of Production of Social Law and Social Power
7 420

1. Introduction 420
2. Power, Empowering, Disempowering 423
  2.1. The Contributions of Foucault and Feminist Theory 423
  2.2. Power, Constellations of Power, and Social Emancipation 426
3. The State and Civil Society 431
Contents

5. Reading the Structure–Agency Map 445
   5.1. The Structural Places and Their Dimensions 445
   5.2. Forms of Power 451
   5.3. Forms of Law 457
   5.4. Forms of Knowledge 470
6. On Structural Determination: Asymmetries and Bifurcations 475
7. Expanding the Legal and the Political Fields 481
8. Conclusion 492

8 Law: A Map of Misreading 496
   1. Introduction 496
   2. Understanding Maps 500
   3. A Symbolic Cartography of Law 505
      3.1. Law and Scale 506
      3.2. Law and Projection 511
      3.3. Law and Symbolization 516
   4. Symbolic Cartography and Oppositional Postmodern Law 519

9 Can Law Be Emancipatory? 522
   1. Introduction 522
   2. Setting the Context for the Question 523
   3. The Western Bias and the Plausibility of the Question 527
   4. The Demise of the Social Contract and the Rise of Social Fascism 531
      4.1. Social Exclusion and the Crisis of the Modern Social Contract 531
      4.2. The Emergence of Social Fascism 538
      4.3. Social Fascism and the Production of a Stratified Civil Society 542
   5. On Subaltern Cosmopolitanism 544
   7. Cosmopolitan Legality in Action 559
      7.1. Law in the Contact Zones 559
         7.1.1. Multicultural Human Rights 562
         7.1.2. The Traditional and the Modern: The Other Modernities of Indigenous Peoples and Traditional Authorities 563
         7.1.3. Cultural Citizenship 564
         7.1.4. Intellectual Property Rights, Biodiversity, and Human Health 565
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Contents</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>7.2. Law and Democratic Rediscovery of Labor</td>
<td>568</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.3. Law and Non-Capitalist Production</td>
<td>573</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.4. Law for Non-Citizens</td>
<td>576</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7.5. The Law of the State as the Newest Social Movement</td>
<td>579</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8. Conclusion</td>
<td>584</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Postface as Disquietude</td>
<td>587</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>A Long Journey</td>
<td>587</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Capitalism, Colonialism, and Patriarchy</td>
<td>590</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Implications for Law</td>
<td>592</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>The New Interregnum</td>
<td>593</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Bibliography</td>
<td>598</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Index of Names</td>
<td>643</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Index of Subjects</td>
<td>653</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>