

Index

- Abbott, Andrew, 23
 Acemoglu, Daron, 75
 “Action for Pension Solidarity”, 168, 169, 171 activists, 81, 84, 88, 89, 91, 92, 101–03, 131, 132, 165–66; allied civil-society movement, 242; civic, 75; factional, 90; networks of, 87, 101; organizational, 289; professionalized, 101; reformist, 87; social movement, 91; student-turned-labor, 81, 100–01
 Acts and Regulations; Employment Insurance Act, 210; National Basic Livelihood Security Scheme, 8t.1.1.
 Agency for National Security Planning, 116
 Ahlquist, John S., 38, 286
 Alavi, Hamza, 35
 Aldrich, Howard E., 27, 47, 54, 87, 99
 Alexander, Jeffrey C., 28
 alliances, 44, 93–94, 104, 154, 156, 211, 228t.8.2., 278, 279, 281; between middle-class and working-class, 13; civic surveillance, 200, 209; conservative, 278; durable corporatistic, 193, 200; electoral, 117; forging of, 14, 79, 144, 169, 284; labor-party, 291; red-green, 278; social housing promotion, 209; state-union, 55–56, 66; strong right-wing, 268; student-worker, 80; union-party, 11, 273, 291; worker-intellectual, 79
 Almeida, Paul, 18, 46, 275
 Alvarez, R. Michael, 20
 Amenta, Edwin, 46–47, 75, 234, 285
 Andrews, Kenneth T., 46–47, 75, 234, 285 anti-labor laws, 104, 114, 121, 126, 134
 Arellano, Karina, 196
 Argentina, 6, 30–31, 43, 199–200, 228t.8.2., 234–38, 242–44, 245f.9.3., 260, 267–68; and Brazil, 6, 7, 39, 43, 183, 230, 261f.9.9., 266, 268; and South Korea, 39, 40, 224, 226; and the linkages of parties with unions and professional associations, 244; modern, 194, 244; modern and generous welfare programs, 194, 244; unions, 182, 260; welfare states in, 234
 Argentine case studies in the 1990s, 200
 Argentine labor movements, 247
 Argentine, 198, 247, 276; CGT leaders, 185, 200; economy, 194, 196, 244; labor organizations, 195, 226; labor politics, 192; Peronists, 227; state bureaucrats and labor elites, 24; state-labor relationship, 231; union leaders, 195
 Argentine Judicialist Party, 44
 Argentine Workers’ Central Union, 195; see also CTA
 Asian Financial Crisis, 6, 116, 121, 202
Associational Networks based on Comembership Data for Argentina, 2005, 245f.9.3.
Associational Networks based on Comembership Data for Brazil, 2005, 236f.9.1.

- Associational Networks based on Comembership Data for South Korea*, 2005, 251f.9.5.
- Associational Networks based on Comembership Data for Taiwan*, 2005, 248f.9.4.
- authoritarian regimes, 22, 23, 35, 39, 41, 115, 116, 150–51, 265, 267
- authoritarian repression, 184, 206, 291
- authoritarian rule, 5, 28
- Auyero, Javier, 193
- Avelino, George, 38
- Babb, Sarah, 38, 283
- Baldwin, Peter, 18, 131, 277–78, 282, 287, 289
- ballots, 12–13
- Banco do Brasil, 191
- Bank-Chaebol relationships directed by the government in South Korea, 40
- Bankers' Union, 191
- Barrington Moore tradition, 288
- Basic Economic, Demographic, and Social Spending Data for Four Countries in the 1990s and 2000s*, 225t.8.1.
- basic pensions 157–58, 161, 167–68, 169, 174, 202, 262; see also pensions
- Bastos, Márcio Thomas, 188
- Becker, Gary S., 21, 75
- Berman, Sheri, 15
- Boito, Armando, 186, 189
- Bolsa Familia, 8t.1.1., 242–43, 263
- bonds, 160, 164t.6.2.
- Borgatti, Stephen, 54, 235
- Brazil, 6–8, 30–31, 43, 182–83, 186–87, 224–26, 228t.8.2., 232–38, 257–59, 266–67; and unions in INAMPS, 281; case studies in the 1990s, 200; economy of, 263; labor activists in, 24; labor movements in, 43, 183; leftist parties in, 249; petroleum mines, 190; state-union relationships, 188; union confederations, 189; unions, 12, 182–83, 184, 187, 195, 238, 241, 276
- Brazilian Labor Party, 42, 239t.9.2.
- Brazilian Social Democracy Party, 183
- Breiger, Ronald, 54, 235
- Britos, Oraldo, 192
- brokerage role of labor unions in civic associational networks, 121
- Brokerage Roles of Key Labor Unions and Civic Associations across Sub-Groups*, 124f.5.3.
- Brooks, Sarah M, 194, 244
- Burgess, Katrina, 61
- Calmfors, Lars, 20, 55
- Cameron, David R., 37, 39
- campaigns, 114, 162, 166, 169, 199; anti-privatization, 165; electoral, 62, 91, 162, 206, 232; national, 162; policy-based solidarity, 28; political, 14, 85; presidential, 114; public, 272; public awareness, 174
- Candlelight Demonstration, 162–65
- capacity, 20–21, 47–48, 56, 62–63, 64–66, 72, 165, 278–79, 285–86; civil society's, 24; coalitional, 286; collective bargaining, 39; expanded state, 178; institutional, 47, 208; long-term planning, 35; mobilization and policy, 61, 63, 65f.3.3., 66, 139, 162, 168–69, 175, 176, 284; of unions, 63, 169; social movement, 24; working-class, 278
- Cardoso regime, 187–88, 191, 200, 231, 238, 258, 266
- Cardoso, Fernando Henrique, 7, 183, 187, 188, 190, 242, 259, 263
- Carneiro, Gilmar, 185, 191
- case studies, 24, 25–26, 28, 111, 139, 142, 200–02, 235–36, 270–71, 276; archival, 144; comparative, 31, 111, 181, 234, 274, 275; historical, 14, 25, 50, 54, 75, 111, 235; in-depth, 271; multi-level, 31; network-informed, 50, 54, 235
- Catholic Association for the Urban Poor, 105
- Catholic Church, 6, 188
- Catholic Peasant Association, 105
- Catholic priests, 197
- Causal Argument*, 271f.10.1.
- Causal Combinations: Determinants of the State-Union Interactions in the 1990s (Time of Economic Crisis) at Confederation Level, 228t.8.2.
- Causal Combinations: Determinants of State-Union Interactions in the 2000s (Time of Growth) at Confederation Level*, 229t.8.3.
- Causal Sequences*, 22f.1.1.
- Cayres, João, 12, 190

- CCEJ, 100, 102, 104, 122, 124f.5.3., 252 cells, 141; upper-left, 175; upper-right, 175
 Central de los Trabajadores Argentinos, see CTA
 Central Geral dos Trabalhadores, see CGT
 central leadership, 99, 119, 186
 CFL, 26, 30, 204–05, 207, 211–12,
 228t.8.2., 230
 CGT, 26, 183, 185, 186–87, 192–93,
 195–97, 199–200, 228t.8.2., 230, 231–32; and Azopardo, 196; and conciliatory stance towards neo-liberal reforms under Menem, 195; and CTA in Argentina, 26; and CTA's collaboration in launching the social policy agenda, 232; and San Martín, 196; and the PJ Party in Argentina, 260; and the privileging of core sector workers,
 195; and the pro-Menem factions, 196; solidaristic ties with other civic associations, 195; usage of the name, 192
 Chaebol companies, 115, 117, 146, 219
 Chaebol-oriented economy, 116
 Chae-gyu, Kim, 80 “Chaeya” (movement forces outside the formal party politics), 115
 Chalmers, Douglas A., 59
 Chang, Chi-yŏn, 217
 Ch'ang-bo, Kim, 155
 Ch'angwŏn areas, 87, 90, 97, 148
 Cheju Island, 160, 163–64t.6.2.
 Chen Shui-bian regime, 208 child labor, 186
 children, 8t.1.1., 183, 211
 China, 204, 205, 263
 Chinese Federation of Labour, see CFL
 Chinese Nationalist Party, see KMT
 Chinju, 90
 Cho, Kyŏng-ae, 101
 Choi, Young-Jun, 250
 Chŏng, I-hwan, 217
 Christian faith groups, 80
 Christian Medical Association, 105
 Christian missionary workers, 80
 Chun Doo-hwan regime, 81, 82
 churches, 14, 27, 54, 184, 236; local, 58, 90; progressive, 184
 Citizens' Coalition for Economic Justice, see CCEJ
 “citizens” unions, 184, 185
 civic associations, 27, 57, 58, 236–38,
 239t.9.2., 245–46, 260, 261–62,
 264, 266
 civic leaders, 24, 111–12, 146, 203, 222, 241, 284, 290
Civic Mobilization Network in 1997 in South Korea (based on Mobilization-Oriented Events), 123f.5.1.
*Civic Policy Network in 1997 in South
 Korea (based on Policy-oriented Events)*, 123f.5.1.
 civil society, 12–13, 44, 68–71, 72–75,
 98–100, 200–02, 208–09, 226–29,
 279–81, 288–91; actors, 43, 71,
 103, 144, 169, 170, 183, 196, 220,
 283; and non-unionized forces, 130;
 associations, 66, 95, 174, 191, 263;
 configuration of, 34, 49, 234, 265;
 embracing intellectual groups, 85;
 forces, 67, 71, 96, 102, 116, 134–35,
 250, 257, 261, 286; groups, 7, 67,
 103, 127, 128, 226, 233, 249–52, 253,
 260; intellectuals, 151; interests of,
 70, 73, 74, 138; leaders of, 146, 289;
 linkages to unions, 11; organizations,
 19, 22, 23, 50, 52, 104, 107, 132,
 136; perspectives, 34, 49, 75, 234; representatives of, 74
 civil society groups; organized, 50
 Clark, Terry Nichols, 18, 274
 class alliances, 13
 Clawson, Dan, 14, 18
 cohesiveness, 55–56, 60–62, 111–13,
 144–45, 174–75, 228t.8.2., 257t.9.4., 260–62, 269–72, 283–85
 cohesiveness and embeddedness, 23,
 52–53, 71, 73, 75, 80, 87–89, 112, 143,
 258; changes, 258; combinational spaces of, 66; consolidation of, 112; emergence of, 87; levels of, 52, 75, 136, 257; of unions, 16, 31, 147, 200, 257t.9.4., 270;
 origins of, 80, 84
*Cohesiveness and Embeddedness of Formal Sector in Four Developing Countries:
 1995 and 2005*, 237t.9.1.
 Cohesiveness II, 230
 Cold War, 6
 Coleman, James S., 27, 57, 289 collective bargaining capacity, 39
 Collier, David, 49, 75, 83, 87, 110, 234, 265, 287

- Collier, Ruth Berins, 49, 75, 83, 87, 110, 234, 265, 287
- Collor regime, 238
- Committee on National Pension Reform, 132
- Commune of 1871 (Paris), 14, 58
- Communist Party, 186
- Components of Policy and Mobilization Capacity and their Relevance to Embeddedness and Cohesiveness*, 65f.3.3.
- Confederación General de Trabajo (CGT), 195
- congress, 92–93, 102–03, 132–33, 146, 147, 148–49, 150, 151, 164t.6.2., 177
- coordinated market economy, 36–37
- core leadership groups, 97, 102, 127, 131, 150, 286
- Cornwell, Benjamin, 14
- cross-class alliances, 13, 37, 59, 129, 278, 281
- CTA, 26, 30, 31, 195, 196–99, 200, 226–29, 230, 232, 247; and collaboration with the CGT, 232; and the requirement for institutional coordination mechanisms, 200; in Argentina and with the TCTU in Taiwan, 31; leaders choose to defend the interests of grassroots union members, 197, 198; newly-formed, 195
- CUT, 182–88, 189, 190–91, 199–200, 210, 226, 228t.8.2., 231–32, 241–42; and the PT, 184, 263; headquarters with a strong policy capacity, 189; leaders, 185–86; stands with the “left” in political parties, 186
- Cutright, Phillips, 34
- Dae-jung, Kim, 83, 111–12, 116, 127, 132, 133, 134–35, 145, 149–50, 161–63
- Daewoo Ship-Making Company, 130
- Dangwai political movement, 203, 205, 230
- Dark, Taylor E., 63
- de Silva, Luis Ignacio, 183
- democracy, 12, 13, 14, 84f.4.1., 89f.4.2., 122, 265–66, 268, 288, 291; consolidation of, 13, 88; institutionalization of, 3, 4, 14–15; parliamentary, 15; participatory, 48, 100, 215, 236; political, 13; procedural, 12, 15, 82; social, 265, 267–68; transition to, 5, 13, 36, 40, 41, 101, 102, 248, 257, 290–91
- Democratic Labor Party, see DLP
- democratic parties, 17, 19, 35, 85–86, 96
- Democratic Party, see DP
- Democratic Pension Service, 135t.5.1.
- Democratic Progressive Party, see DPP
- democratization, 3–4, 6, 36, 45, 83, 181, 265, 280, 287, 288; and competing unions, 212; era of, 3, 94, 131, 141, 143, 177, 205; movements, 19, 46, 63, 81, 100, 177, 182, 184, 203, 205; periods, 81, 183; processes, 87, 290; third wave of, 110
- developing societies, 3, 31, 32–33, 35, 36, 40, 41, 45, 266, 282–83; advanced, 19, 280; democratized, 33
- Development of Privatization of Health Care (Ideas and Laws) in S.Korea*, 163t.6.2.
- Diani, Mario, 13, 279
- Digón, Roberto, 192
- Dilma regime, 7, 189, 190–91, 276
- DiMaggio, Paul, 21, 99
- Diretas Já (mass civil unrest in 1984), 184
- Disarticulated Cohesiveness, Embedded Cohesiveness, and Partisan Leaders’ Preferences for the Welfare State*, 255f.9.7.
- Dixon, Marc, 12
- DLP, 85–86, 91, 92–93, 110–11, 115, 146, 147, 149–50, 167, 221; and candidates, 85, 115; and changes in unions’ cohesiveness, 92; building organizations at local and central levels, 91; newly emerging, 177; social democratic, 93; split, 167
- Doo-hwan, Chun, 80
- dos Santos, Adi, 184
- DP, 93, 116–17, 146–47, 149, 170, 177, 214; incumbent, 93; opposition party, 168
- DPP, 203, 205, 206–07, 208–11, 222, 231, 240t.9.3, 249–50, 253; and civic associations, 222; and government, 252; and the anti-KMT forces, 205; and welfare reforms, 259; leaders, 203, 205
- East Asia, 38, 181, 202, 221, 261, 263
- Edwards, Bob, 47, 75

- Eimer, Stuart, 14
 Eisinger, Peter K., 18, 48 embedded cohesiveness, 15–17, 28–30, 31–32, 231–34, 258–59, 263–64, 278–80, 281–84, 285, 287–90; accounts for the success and failure stories of the welfare states approach, 29; claims study historically emerging agents of civil society through social movements, 178; comparing two embedded cases, 235; highlights the “synergy effects” that emerge through organizational or informal linkages between unions and other civic associations, 279; shares, 279, 287; shares the fundamental impulse behind all “politics against market” approaches, 279
 embeddedness, 51–53, 60–62, 66–69, 71–73, 144–45, 227–30, 232–33, 256f.9.8., 260–63, 279–80; and cohesiveness, 23–24, 26, 29, 30, 51–52, 75, 175, 220, 270, 283–85; and labor unions, 29, 87, 95, 108, 269; declining, 150, 159; dimensions of, 64, 96, 98, 115, 118, 140–41, 142, 282, 291; durable, 29, 171, 175; high level of, 127, 128, 187, 249; labor-centered, 147, 226; levels of, 140, 200, 208, 257; low cohesiveness and high, 197, 212, 214; notion of, 288; of unions, 27–28, 30, 31, 67, 68–69, 70, 99–100, 170, 172, 270; organizational, 136, 266; partisan, 246; policy, 63, 64, 96, 98–99, 222; policy-oriented, 137, 152, 174; policy-wise, 64; politics of, 141, 258, 275; social, 56, 247; sub-dimensions of, 109, 283; weak, 60, 69, 213, 244–45, 249, 267, 282–83; weakening of union, 174, 247, 257f.9.4., 266
Embeddedness, Coordination, and Dominance of Universal Reform (UR) Strategy in the Health Care Field, 166f.6.3.
 Emirbayer, Mustafa, 13, 279, 289 employees, 35, 106, 125, 130, 253, 259; corporate, 253; government, 121; informal sector, 198; non-standard, 151, 157; public sector, 39, 40, 188, 197, 252–53 employers, 11–12, 36–37, 40–41, 64, 90–91, 117–18, 135t.5.1., 178–81, 217–18, 281–82
 Employment Insurance Act, 210
 Esping-Andersen, Gøsta, 13, 18, 35–36, 43, 45, 278, 279, 280, 287, 288
 Etchemendy, Sebastián, 194
 Evans, Peter, 16–17
Expansion and Retrenchment of Income Maintenance Policies in Four Developing Economies, 1990s and 2000s, 8t.1.1.
 Fantasia, Rick, 12, 14, 19, 68
 Federation of Korean Industries, 116, 118
 Federation of Korean Trade Unions, see FKTU
 Fernández, Cristina, 59, 103, 122, 124f.5.3., 193
 Fernando de la Rúa regime, 240t.9.3.
 Figueiredo government, 187
 FKTU, 25–26, 44, 120–21, 129–30, 131–32, 134–35, 140, 145–46, 156–57, 212–16; and the efforts to stop the integration of health care societies, 281; and the Rho regime agreement, 145; and the state-employer solidarity network, 134–36; in South Korea, 26, 30, 230; realignment with the former oppositional party and other reformist civic associations, 216; resistance to the integration movement, 138; resists the integration of insurance societies in the late 1990s and the early 2000s, 130; silence regarding the Rho regime’s cut-backs of the National Pension and labor market regulations, 175; SR strategy finds few supporters, 130; support for the pre-existing corporatist management system of health insurance, 138
 FLACSO-Argentina (Latin American Faculty of Social Science in Argentina), 198
 Fligstein, Neil, 21, 47, 53, 75, 114, 286
 Força Sindical (FS), 26, 30, 183, 186–87, 188, 190, 228t.8.2., 230 formal sector, 61, 235–41, 243–45, 249, 251, 259, 260, 264, 266, 267; cohesiveness of, 56, 237t.9.1.; labor-based, 56, 58; leaders, 27, 58–60, 242, 267; partisan based on labor to advance more progressive egalitarian agendas in welfare politics, 58
 Forum of Citizenship (Fórum da Cidadania), 188

- Franklin, Mark N., 18
 Fraser, Nancy, 129
- Ganz, Clemente, 190
 Garret, Geoffrey, 11, 20, 37
 Gaspar, José, 186
 Gender Equality in Employment Act, 210
 Gerhards, Jurgen, 13, 46
 Global Healthcare, 163t.6.2.
 Godio, Julio, 195
 Goldstone, Jack A., 48
 Gould, Roger V., 13–14, 58–59, 70, 75,
 103, 122, 124f.5.3.
 Gramsci, Antonio, 14
 Grand National Party, 44, 149
 Granovetter, Mark, 21, 27, 56–58, 75, 266
 grassroots unions, 25, 91–92, 113–14, 119, 124, 200, 206, 211, 214, 217
 “Great Anti-Labor Law Struggle”, 96, 170, 213, 257
 “Great Workers Struggle”, 83, 94, 114
 Green Party, 239t.9.2.
 Grossman, Gene M., 75
- Habermas, Jürgen, 16, 55, 266
 Haggard, Stephen, 36, 37, 38, 245, 248,
 266, 281
 Hall, Peter A., 21, 36–37, 242, 277,
 280, 281
 Health and Medical Industry Union, 91, 171
 health care, 8t.1.1., 29–30, 105–06,
 127, 150–51, 161–63, 173, 176–81,
 252–53; industries, 161–62; integration movement, 149, 284, 289; organizations, 125; privatization of, 159t.6.1., 161;
 reform, 101, 106, 107, 124–25, 126–28,
 131, 133, 135t.5.1., 139, 159t.6.1.;
 service providers, 162, 163t.6.2.; societies, 152, 177, 281, 289; universal,
 7, 39, 93, 121, 126, 129, 139, 177,
 178, 272
 Health Council, 241
 health fields, professional associations in, 105, 106, 129, 151, 152–54, 155, 166, 272
 “Health Insurance Mandate for Health Care Service Providers”, 162, 163t.6.2.
 health rights, 105, 130, 154, 167 health service providers, 133, 241 health solidarity networks, 28, 150, 151,
 162, 166, 222
 Hecllo, Hugh, 34, 39, 140
 Henrique, Fernando, 190
 Hicks, Alexander M., 11, 46
 Higgins, Sean, 243
 Ho, Ming-sho, 204, 206
 Holobica, Carlos, 192
 Horie, Leandro, 64, 189
 HRN, 30, 151–52, 154–55, 158, 162,
 164t.6.2., 165, 173, 176
 Hsiao, Michael Hsin-huang, 204
 Huang, Changling, 205
 Huber, Evelyne, 35
 Hunter, Wendy, 242
 Hyundai Automobile Company, 82, 97,
 119, 127, 130, 161, 175, 213, 217–19
 Hyundai Unions, 122
- Illustration of Cohesiveness and Embeddedness in Formal and Informal
 Civic Sectors*, 57f.3.1.
 IMF, 33, 61, 111, 116–18, 119, 143,
 194, 215
 Incheon, 82
 income, 55, 105, 128–29, 139, 202;
 losses, 218; maintenance policies, 7;
 maximizing, 218; national guaranteed,
 252; upper-middle, 3
 independent unions, 206–07, 208
Individual-Level Career Trajectories of Radical Intellectuals from Autocracy to Democracy, 84f.4.1.
 industrial unions, 88–92, 97, 107, 108, 114, 122, 140–41, 174, 176, 189–90;
 and cohesiveness, 91; building of, 91;
 establishment of, 92; structure of, 89, 168; upper-level, 126
 informal civic associations, 27, 57, 58,
 236–38, 239t.9.2., 245–46, 260,
 261–62, 264, 266
 insurance societies, 130, 138
 integration, 105–06, 107, 125, 127,
 128, 129, 130, 133, 135t.5.1., 138;
 financial, 130–31; movement, 104,
 106–07, 126, 129, 130, 138, 151, 165,
 172, 177; national-level, 125; of health care organizations, 125; of health care providers, 105, 126, 136; processes, 88
 International Labor Office, 132, 151, 225t.8.1., 243f.9.2., 254f.9.6.

- Isaac, Larry, 19, 46
 Iversen, Torben, 36–37, 42, 45, 64, 141, 277, 280, 281
- Japan, 6, 88, 212
 Jessop, Robert Douglas, 38
 Justicialist Party, 7, 193, 198, 244
- Katzstein, Peter J., 37, 39
 KCTU, 88–93, 95–98, 120–24, 126–29, 134–37, 145–47, 156–58, 159, 212–16, 219–23; activists, 85, 126, 146, 218; and FKTU in South Korea, 26; and metal unions, 217; and the PSPD ad-hoc solidarity, 29, 140, 158; and the PSPD alliance, 29, 156, 160; and the affiliated industrial unions, 141, 272; embeddedness and cohesiveness, 25, 221; grassroots unions, 139, 175; leaders, 92, 115, 117, 119–20, 149, 222; leadership structures, 91, 120, 145; mode of cohesiveness, 92; policy and mobilization capacities, 221; the declining influence of the, 261
- Kenis, Patrick, 61
 KGEU, 120
 KHMU, 95, 97, 122, 150, 152–55, 158, 166, 173, 175, 176
 Kim Dae-jung regime, 83, 107–08, 111–12, 116, 127, 132, 134–35, 145, 149–50, 161–63
 Kim Yong-ik, 158
 Kirchner, Cristina, 199
 Kirchner, Néstor, 193–94, 198
 Ki-sik, Kim, 100–01, 147
 Kitschelt, Herbert, 18, 59, 274
 KLI, 214
 KMT, 7, 204–05, 206–07, 239t.9.2., 240t.9.3., 249–50, 252–54, 259–60, 261, 262; and DPP's welfare reforms, 259; and low embeddedness in civil society, 204; policymakers, 250; state and independent unions, 206; strategies, 204
- Knoke, David, 61, 209
 Korea Health and Medical Workers' Union 97; see also KHMU
 Korea Labor Institute, see KLI
 Korea Teachers' Union, 120
 Korean Confederation of Trade Unions, see KCTU
 Korean Democratic Metal Union, 122–24
 Korean Employers' Federation, 116, 118, 212
 Korean Federation of Environmental Movements, 104, 122, 124f.5.3.
 Korean Federation of Medical Activist Group for Health Rights, 29–30, 152–55, 173, 222, 272
 Korean Government Employee's Union, see KGEU
 Korean Hospitals Union, 122, 124f.5.3.
 Korean Peasants' Association, 125–26
 Korean Social Insurance Union, 152
 Korean welfare state, 148, 150
 Korean Women's Associations United, 104, 252
 Korpi, Walter, 15, 17, 35, 43, 45, 55, 176, 178, 279, 281–82
 Kwōn Yōng-gil, 114
 Kwon, Huck-Ju, 35, 37, 250, 252
 Kwon, Yung-Gil, 107
- labor activists, 52–53, 83, 86, 88–91, 92, 95, 96–97, 100–01, 131, 206; and health professionals, 272; Brazilian, 24; in Incheon and Seoul areas, 82; militant, 80; students turned, 84, 87
 Labor Congress, 197 labor leaders, 85, 114, 148, 151, 181, 184, 203, 205, 269, 271; CGT, 196, 197; embedded, 27; Korean, 25; militant, 119; moderate, 119; new, 94, 184, 203, 271; radical, 29, 110; Taiwanese, 203, 262 labor market reforms, 10, 67, 73, 104, 110, 118, 121, 127, 128, 135t.5.1.
 labor movements, 4–5, 83, 85–88, 94, 97, 100, 104, 110–11, 203, 226; Argentine, 247; assertive, 213; democratic, 131, 147; militant, 144, 213, 217; moderate, 216; radical, 104; South Korean, 5, 25, 83, 131, 145, 151, 203, 220; Taiwanese, 207, 223 labor organizations, 21, 25–26, 34, 52–53, 86, 94, 213, 214, 215, 278; Argentine, 195, 226; embedded, 28; growing anti-CFL, 230; strong, 218 labor parties, 10, 23, 24, 85, 93, 112–13, 240t.9.3., 274, 279; Argentina and Brazilian, 42; incumbent, 274–75; independent, 10, 203; see also labor-based parties labor pensions, 210, 212

- labor politics, 25, 79–80, 82, 83, 86, 87, 214, 216, 262, 263; Argentine, 192; institutionalization of, 23, 51, 84; South Korean, 42, 97, 217; Taiwanese, 42
Labor Standards Act, 116, 118, 210 labor strikes 85, 196, 250; see also strikes labor unions, 11–12, 26–27, 44–45, 53–55, 106–07, 121–22, 148–49, 191–92, 244–46, 260–62; and universal welfare states, 121; autonomous nature of, 205; brokerage role of, 121; centralized, 35; key grassroots, 122; progressive, 93 labor-based parties, 17–18, 20, 92, 108, 113, 141–42, 147, 149, 238–41, 274–75; and unions, 18, 55, 86, 185, 275, 282; incumbent, 112; independent, 114; leaders of, 27; mass-bureaucratic, 86; new, 85 labor-civic solidarity, 27–28, 29, 51–52, 122–24, 175–76, 177, 183, 220–21, 226–27, 263–64; defensive movements by, 162; durable nature of, 5, 226; effectiveness of, 139; historically constituted, 141; in Latin America, 199; network, 99, 161, 171, 272; pre-existing, 141; structural changes and declining in South Korea, 216 labor-linked associational fields, 29, 53, 87, 95, 108
 Landless Rural Workers, 391n. 3
 Latin America, 3, 10, 18, 20, 38, 43, 233, 236, 240, 242 leaders, 3–4, 27–28, 58–59, 82, 94, 130–31, 146–48, 197, 264–65, 285–86; civic, 24, 111–12, 146, 203, 222, 241, 284, 290; core union, 217; dissident union, 195; embedded, 16, 59, 61; formal-sector, 27, 58–60, 242; grassroots union, 90, 114, 120, 126, 127; labor, 85, 114, 148, 151, 181, 184, 203, 205, 269, 271; local union, 84, 192, 210; new union, 88, 185, 213; organizational, 58, 158, 238, 289; political, 157, 192–93, 242, 262, 290 leadership, 13, 20, 90, 127, 139, 145, 185, 187, 259, 262; central, 99, 119, 186; civic, 286; communal, 241; education of, 97; hegemonic, 95; new PJ, 232; organizational, 289; pioneering, 47; solidaristic, 139; strong institutional, 12; student movement, 101; traditional conservative, 140; uncompromising militant, 145; union, 20, 187, 286
 Lee, Cheol-Sung, 4, 51, 56, 193, 195, 206, 220, 266
 Lee Myung-bak regime, 155, 160, 162–65, 171, 173–74, 258
 Lee, Namhee, 81
 Levitsky, Steven, 18, 61, 192, 194, 199, 244, 246, 274
 LGBT (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender), 186 lobbying, 99, 103, 127, 155; campaigns, 53; channels, 74, 93, 107, 125, 149, 167, 175, 222, 285, 289; costs of, 72–74, 138; policy-relevant, 231 low cohesiveness, 73, 175, 197, 212, 214, 230, 257 low embeddedness, 171, 175, 204, 206–07, 212, 214, 249, 257, 259, 265
 Lula regime, 189–90, 191, 231, 240, 243, 259, 263, 266
 Marinho, Luiz, 188
 market reforms, 18–19, 30–31, 53–54, 70–71, 143, 182, 193, 200–03, 228t.8.2., 274–76; neo-liberal, 4, 6, 17, 41, 46, 52, 58, 270, 275, 276; radical, 31, 40, 59–60, 69, 226, 285; responses to, 201, 221, 227; state-initiated, 193; state-led radical, 231
 Martin, John Levi, 47, 59
 Marxist and Leninist traditions, 81, 82
 Marxists, 19, 81
 Maybury-Lewis, Biorn, 186
 McAdam, D., 21, 48, 53, 75, 103
 McCammon, Holly, 46, 285
 McCarthy, John D., 10, 28, 47, 66
 McGuire, James W., 20, 192, 281
 Medical Industry Union, 91
 Medical Workers' Union, 97
 Medicine Union, 95, 152, 166 member unions, 121, 130, 136, 166, 172t.6.3., 174, 211, 212, 220, 222; core, 124, 130, 219; KCTU, 29, 122, 126
 Menem, Carlos; metal unions; government, 195, 198; market reforms, 194; reform strategies, 194, 244; retrenchment drive, 245
 Menem regime, 10, 194–95, 196, 197, 260, 265 metal unions, 90, 115, 119, 217, 219

- Meyer, David S., 18, 48
 Minjung movements, 83, 94–95, 99, 102, 104, 115, 117, 151
 Mische, Ann, 241
 mobilization embeddedness, 62, 71–72, 74, 98, 98f.4.4.
Mobilization Embeddedness: Over-Time Betweenness Centrality Rankings of Key Labor and Civic Organizations in Associational (Co-affiliation) Networks in South Korea: 1991–2005, 98f.4.4. moderate reforms, 7–10, 16, 173, 200, 207, 228t.8.2., 231, 232, 240, 269–70
 Montgomery, James D., 27, 58
 Moore, Michael, 162
 Mosley, Layna, 38
 movement forces, 47–49, 115, 132
 movement leaders 47–48, 49, 103, 273;
 see also leaders
 Movement of Landless Rural Workers 183;
 see also MST
 Movimiento de los Trabajadores Argentinos, 196, 197
 MST, 183, 184, 187
 Mu-hyun, President Rho, 148–49, 157, 174
 Murillo, Maria Victoria, 20, 186, 196, 199, 242, 244
 Myung-bak, Lee, 143
- National Alliance, 94, 115
 National Association for the Health Care, 105–06, 191
 National Basic Livelihood Security Scheme, 8t.1.1.
 National College Student's Association, 115
 National Confederation of Food Workers, 83, 95, 141, 219, 222
 National Conference for Health Insurance Unification, 29, 97, 101, 104–07, 109, 112, 117, 126, 138, 250
 National Conference of New Politics, 117
 National Congress, 167
 National Council of Disabled People, 241
 National Council of Trade Unions, 85, 90, 94, 97, 98, 98f.4.4., 106, 115, 126, 156
 National Council of Women's Rights, 241
 National Health Care Plan, 135t.5.1.
 National Health Council, 241
 National Health Insurance, 167
 National Health Insurance Service), 128
 National Liberation, 87
 National Peasants Association, 169
 National Pension Service, 8t.1.1., 111–12, 131–32, 134, 156–58, 168, 169, 170–73, 175–76, 177
 National Security Planning, 116
 National Social Security Medical Assistance Institute, 281
 National Strike for the Maintenance of Rights, 187
 National Teachers' Union, 148, 215
 National Union of Teachers of Higher Education Institutions, 187, 191
 National Workers' Association, 85
 National Youth Council, 241
 National-level independent and democratic pension service, 135t.5.1.
 Natural Conference for Health Insurance Unification, 104
 Nazi infiltration into voluntary associations, 15 neo-liberal market reforms, 4, 17, 24, 41, 46, 52, 58, 111, 118, 142
Network-Informed Strategic Actions of the State and Unions in the Combinational Spaces of Cohesiveness and Embeddedness: Retrenchment and Expansion Games, 68f.3.4.
Network-Informed Strategic Actions of the State and Unions in the Combinational Spaces of Cohesiveness and Embeddedness: South Korean Cases, 173f.6.4.
 New Korea Party, 116
 non-standard workers, 151, 160, 215, 218–19
 Nordic social-democratic countries, 15, 35–36, 277, 278
 North Korea, 116
- OECD countries, 217
 Offe, Claus, 44
 old-age pensions, 7–8, 224, 250, 252–53
 Olson, Mancur, 27, 68
 “opportunity structure”, role of, 48–49, 111, 115, 285
Organizational Evolution of Labor-Based Organizations from Autocracy to Democracy, 89f.4.2.

- Over-Time Changes of Cohesiveness, Embeddedness, and the Welfare State (1995–2005)*, 257t.9.4.
 “Owenite Societies”, 55
- Pak T’ae-ju, 148
 Pak Wŏn-sun, 100, 101, 147
 Pampel, Fred, 39, 45, 224
 Park Geun-hye, 37, 80, 143, 167
 Park Geun-hye regime, 80, 83, 161, 163t.6.2., 168, 174 parties, 30, 56–58, 63, 103, 191, 211, 234–35, 239t.9.2., 249–52, 286; and unions, 235, 238, 251; center-right, 238; conservative, 83, 107, 115, 149, 160, 213, 214, 221, 224, 252; institutionalized, 147; leftist/reformist, 74; left-wing, 278; liberal, 113; non-KMT, 249; non-Leftist, 240t.9.3.; right-wing, 61, 137, 260
Parties’ Interorganizational Ties within and outside Formal Sector in Four Developing Countries: 1995 and 2005, 239t.9.2.
 Party of the Brazilian Democratic Movement, 183
 Paulo, Vicente, 188
 peasants, 17, 18, 19, 105–06, 124, 125–26, 128–30, 134, 184, 278; associations of, 122; discontent of, 105; movements of, 85 pension field, 131–32, 156, 158, 167, 169–71, 173, 272–73, 288 pension funds, 139, 156; private, 199; re-nationalized, 182 pension policies, 134, 139, 160–61 pension programs, 5, 39, 259; existing, 188; generous Latin American, 40; national, 7; old-age, 253 pension reforms, 8t.1.1., 131, 132–33, 134–35, 138, 156–57, 158, 191, 258, 262; and Labor’s role, 131; initiated by the Kim Dae-jung regime, 132; neo-liberal, 272 pension schemes, 42, 133, 171, 174, 253; contribution-based universal, 250; current, 157; existing, 156, 231; national, 273 pensions, 6–8, 29–30, 131–32, 156, 158, 173–75, 176–77, 252–53, 263, 273; and health care, 150, 161, 173, 177, 181; labor, 210, 212; non-contributory, 8t.1.1., 199; old-age, 7–8, 224, 250, 252–53; private, 157; privatized, 194; public, 183; retirement, 132, 151, 156, 158; retrenchment of, 167; upper-bracket, 42
 People’s Solidarity for Participatory Democracy 98f.4.4.; see also PSPD
 Peronist Justicialist Party, 195
 Peronists, 192–93, 195; and the CGT limited themselves to patronage cliques, 185; government, 182, 192, 194–95, 197; ideology of, 192; patronage cliques, 185, 200; radical, 193; union faction, 192, 200
 Persson, Torsten, 42, 141
 Pierson, Paul, 22, 34, 42–43, 110, 176, 177–78, 224, 272, 282
 PJ, 194, 195, 246
 Polanyi, Karl, 28, 55
 Polanyian tradition, 279 policy capacity, 51, 61, 62–63, 95f.4.3., 97–99, 106, 158–59, 170, 171–72, 221–23; increasing, 211; linkages for, 62; strong, 189; upgraded, 106; weak, 159t.6.1.
 policy legacies, 40, 41, 224
Politics of Labor Market and Social Policy Reforms during the Tripartite Committee under the Reformist Kim Dae-jung Regime, 135t.5.1.
Politics of Market-Oriented Reforms of Social Policies during the Reformist Rho Mu-hyun Regime (2003–2007), 159t.6.1.
Politics of Neo-Liberal Reforms during the Two Conservative Regimes (2008–2014), 172t.6.3.
 Pontusson, Jonas, 37, 38, 281
 Porto Alegre, 240
 power resource theory, 32, 35–36, 44–45, 46, 55, 140–41, 176–78, 283 priests ; Catholic, 197
 Przeworski, Adam, 18, 20
 PSPD, 98f.4.4., 103, 134, 146, 156; activists, 103; durable central leadership, 99; in South Korea, 209; intellectuals, 157; lawyers and professors, 167; lobbying and policy-crafting capacity, 134; movement, 151; organization, 103; Social Welfare Unit, 131, 157

- PT incumbency, 189, 200 public sector employees, 39, 40, 188, 197, 252–53
- radical reforms, 10, 16, 69, 71, 192, 228t.8.2., 232, 259, 269, 275
- reforms, 71, 72t.3.1., 73–74, 115–16, 126–28, 129, 132–34, 138, 189, 218; agrarian, 187; anti-labor, 230; costs of, 20, 72, 274; economic, 188, 196; expansionary, 133, 140, 255f.9.7., 257, 260, 265, 273, 277, 281, 282; labor market, 10, 67, 73, 104, 110, 118, 121, 127, 128, 135t.5.1.; market-oriented, 53–54, 56, 182, 193, 194, 221, 227, 228t.8.2., 234, 274–75; neoliberal retrenchment, 260; of pensions, 8t.1.1., 131, 132–33, 134–35, 138, 156–57, 158, 191, 258, 262; pro-market, 196; radical, 10, 16, 69, 71, 192, 228t.8.2., 232, 259, 269–70, 275; redistributive social assistance, 276; unrealized, 173
- regimes, 83, 111–12, 143, 145, 146–47, 148–51, 155, 158–59, 173, 215; Cardoso, 187–88, 191, 200, 231, 238, 258, 266; Carlos Menem, 10, 194–95, 196, 197, 260, 265; Chen Shui-bian, 208; Chun, 81, 82; Chun Doo-hwan, 81, 82; Collor, 238; Dilma, 7, 189, 190–91, 276; Fernando de la Rúa, 240t.9.3.; Kim Dae-jung, 83, 107–08, 111–12, 116, 127, 132, 134–35, 145, 149–50, 161–63; Kim Young-sam, 111; Lee Myung-bak, 155, 160, 162–65, 171, 173–74, 258; Lula, 189–90, 191, 231, 240, 243, 259, 263, 266; Peronist, 15; Rho Mu-hyun, 144, 148, 150–51, 155–56, 160, 161–63, 167, 172–74, 175, 261–62; Roh Tae-woo, 105
- Regional Health Care Service, 125
- religious youth groups, 188
- retrenchment, 4, 30–31, 42–44, 50–51, 74, 143–44, 168–69, 171–77, 282; drive, 5, 73, 175, 260, 273, 280; efforts, 40, 74, 144, 170, 171–72, 175, 273; games, 71–72, 196, 197, 259; major, 7–8, 224; of labor law, 134; of social policy, 75; outcomes, 5, 33, 35, 52, 224, 227, 257; politics of, 150; pressures, 32, 34, 176, 244, 257; radical, 39, 42, 43, 172t.6.3., 175, 222, 223, 224, 233, 235; reforms, 35, 188, 270
- revolutionary, 83, 86, 113, 250, 254; forces, 81; political fronts, 113; resources, 81; socialist ideologies, 203; strategies, 83, 85; theories, 81; underground organizations, 87
- RHCS union, 126, 127, 129, 131, 174
- Rho Mu-hyun regime, 144, 148, 150–51, 155–56, 160, 161–63, 167, 172–74, 175, 261–62
- Roberts, Kenneth M., 18, 43, 245
- Roh Tae-woo, President
- Rousseff, Dilma, 183, 189, 231, 239t.9.2., 263
- São Paulo, 190
- selective reforms, 16, 31, 52, 72–74, 130–31, 138, 140, 269–70, 280–82
- Sicko* (film by Michael Moore), 162
- Snow, D. A., 48
- social democracy, 265, 267–68
- social movement organizations, 14, 99
- “social movement unionism”, 14, 18–19, 24, 216, 231, 275
- societies, 19, 23–24, 35–36, 41, 55–57, 72–73, 112, 142, 185–86, 265–66; insurance, 130, 138; state and civil, 13, 15, 44, 47, 175, 182, 209, 211, 212, 290
- solidaristic strikes, 214, 217
- solidarity network, 104, 106, 126, 127, 139–40, 146, 151–52, 155, 166–67; comprehensive, 129, 151; durable, 159, 166; health-care, 173; issue-based, 109; KCTU-PSPD, 158; labor-civic, 99, 161, 171, 272; labor-civil society, 135t.5.1., 159t.6.1., 172t.6.3.; labor-linked civic, 75; launches a movement to set up a Maginot line, 157; long-lasting, 176; organized, 133; society-wide, 171; well-organized inter-organizational, 129
- Soskice, David, 36–37, 42, 45, 141, 277, 280, 281, 282
- South Korea, 6–8, 28–31, 86–88, 109–13, 216–17, 220–27, 232–35, 250–51, 255–59, 263; and Argentina, 39, 40, 224, 226; and leaders of student movements, 82; and Taiwan, 6–7, 39, 41, 202, 203, 230, 234, 235, 267, 268; and the origin of top-down solidarity in, 79; case studies, 5, 22, 25, 31, 173f.6.4., 176, 178, 234, 270–71, 273; GNP, 44; health field networks, 153f.6.1.; KCTU,

- 276; labor movements, 5, 25, 83, 131, 145, 151, 203, 220; labor politics, 42, 97, 217; manufacturing industries, 218; economy and civil society, 143; top-down solidarity in, 79
- South Korean Health Field Networks in 2005 (based on Mobilization-Oriented Events)*, 153f.6.1.
- state bureaucracy and bureaucrats, 33, 35, 39–40, 103, 107, 140, 202, 204, 208, 265
- state corporatism, 204, 212
- state institutions, 3, 4, 10, 29, 54, 269–70, 272, 283, 284, 290–91
- state repression, 22, 187, 206
- state-union, 185, 186, 207; alliances, 55–56, 66; collusion, 72; coordination, 183; interactions, 16, 183, 200, 212, 226, 228t.8.2.; relationships, 207
- Stephens, John D., xv–13, 19, 35–36, 49, 55, 265, 279, 287, 288
- strikes, 69, 91, 94, 106, 191
- student movements, 82, 101, 115, 205
- Swenson, Peter, 220, 281
- Taiwan, 7–8, 30–31, 202–04, 221–25, 228t.8.2., 230, 234–39, 247–50, 253–56, 260–62; and South Korea
- Taiwan Alliance for Advancement of Youth Rights and Welfare, 209
- Taiwan Confederation of Trade Unions, see TCTU
- Taiwan Federation of Financial Unions, 209
- Taiwan Labor and Social Policy Research Association, see TLSA
- Taiwan Labor Front, see TLF
- Taiwan Occupational Safety and Health Link, 209
- Taiwanese health care system, 253
- Taiwanese labor movements, 207, 223
- Taiwanese labor politics, 42
- Taiwanese labor unions and civil society, 253
- Taiwanese parties and unions, 249
- Taiwanese politics, 249
- Taiwanese unions, 201, 208, 211, 221, 259, 262
- Taiwanese workers, 205
- TCTU, 30, 31, 204, 205, 206–07, 208–12, 222–23, 226, 228t.8.2., 230–31;
- alliance with professionalized civic associations in Argentina and Taiwan, 30; and autonomous groups emerged from the anti-KMT political movement, 197–205; and CTA alliance, 30; leaders increasingly lose connections to grassroots unions and civil society allies, 211; maintains its organizational structure, 205; unemployment and poverty are main concerns of the, 211
- “The Old Age Union”, 169
- “The Pastoral Worker and Youth”, 188
- Thelen, Kathleen, 19, 45, 141
- think tank communities, 198
- Tilly, Charles, 103
- TLF, 205, 207–09, 211, 222, 231, 262; and the identity transformation of the, 208; and the involvement in labor politics, 208; and the role in cultivating “linkages for mobilization capacity”, 208; closely collaborated with the TCTU in institutional policy-making, 209; intellectuals discuss how to propose labor and social policies and negotiate them with the government, 208; offices discuss with union leaders how to organize unions, 208
- TLSA, 209
- Tocquevillians, 15, 55, 58, 287
- top-down solidarity in South Korea, 79
- Total Social Expenditure in Argentina and Brazil: 1990–2010*, 243f.9.2.
- Total Social Expenditure in South Korea and Taiwan: 1990–2011*, 254f.9.6.
- trade unions, see unions
- traditions, 6, 16, 35, 41, 288; corporatist, 20; of populist politics, 6; power resource, 46
- Trajectories of Mobilization and Policy Capacity of Union Organizations during the Course of Institutionalization in South Korea*, 95f.4.3.
- Turra, Julio, 189
- Ulsan, 87, 90, 97, 119, 148
- Unified Workers’ Central Union, see CUT
- union actions, 21, 184, 229t.8.3.
- union activists, 90–91, 92, 113, 114, 125
- union confederations, 25, 204, 205, 212–13, 215, 223, 226, 227, 231, 235;

- Brazilian, 189; centralized, 108, 114, 147; democratic, 85, 90; industrial, 88, 91–92; industry-level, 111; major, 26, 182, 195, 212, 227; new, 85, 95; organizational-level major, 30; region-based, 89; sector-based, 214
- union embeddedness, 174, 247, 257t.9.4., 266
- union federations, 85, 206
- union leadership, 20, 187, 286
- union members, 14, 18, 64, 162, 166, 193, 215, 219, 240t.9.3., 246; privileged core, 19; radical grassroots, 160
- union organizations, 85, 88, 90, 94, 95f.4.3., 126, 129, 136, 176, 245–46; active, 209; centralized, 20, 187; combative, 106; nationally-organized, 126; nation-wide, 125; regional, 90, 94; responses in Brazil and Argentina, 181; responses in South Korea and Taiwan, 202; specialized, 158; trade, 279
- union, grassroots members, 158, 192, 197, 215–16
- “unionism with results”, 187
- union-party relationships, competing, 204
- unions, 7–16, 17–23, 61–64, 66–74, 168–74, 181–88, 217–19, 257–63, 274–77, 279–82; and civic associations, 122, 169, 176, 191, 284; and civil societies, 115, 118, 158, 182, 194, 199; and the interaction of the state, 10, 66, 68f.3.4., 71, 72, 74, 112, 212, 213, 276; Brazilian, 12, 182–83, 184, 187, 195, 238, 241, 276; cohesiveness of, 16, 31, 147, 200, 257t.9.4., 270; embeddedness of, 27–28, 30, 31, 67, 68–69, 70, 99–100, 170, 172, 270; grassroots members, 25, 91–92, 113–14, 119, 124, 200, 206, 211, 214, 217; Health and Medical Industry Union, 91, 171; in post-industrial societies experience pressure, 19; independent, 206–07, 208; industrial, 88–92, 97, 107, 108, 114, 122, 140–41, 174, 176, 189–90; large manufacturing, 217–18, 220–21, 222; member, 121, 130, 136, 166, 172t.6.3., 174, 211, 212, 220, 222; metal, 90, 115, 119, 217, 219; Taiwanese, 201, 208, 211, 221, 259, 262; with high embeddedness, 27, 28, 59, 74, 175, 185, 197, 212, 214, 257
- Unions' Cohesiveness within the Formal Sector and Embeddedness in Informal Civic Sphere in Four countries: 1995–2005*, 255f.9.7.
- Unions' Cohesiveness within the Formal Sector and Embeddedness in Informal Civic Sphere in Taiwan and South Korea: 1995–2014*, 261f.9.9.
- Unions' Interorganizational Ties within and outside the Formal Sector in Four Developing Countries: 1995 and 2005*, 240t.9.3.
- universal health care, 7, 39, 93, 121, 126, 129, 139, 177, 178, 272
- universal reforms, 16, 70, 72–73, 130–31, 140, 141, 166f.6.3., 269, 270, 281
- Voss, K., 14, 19, 46, 275
- Walzer, Michael, 28
- Weingast, Barry R., 138, 275
- Weir, Margaret, 140
- welfare state development, theory of, 39, 291
- welfare states, 30–35, 36, 41, 43–44, 50–51, 74–75, 226–29, 234–35, 254–57, 281–83; and market-oriented reforms, 53–54, 181; building of, 58, 278; comprehensive, 266; development among developing nations, 79; development of, 36, 39, 41, 44, 46, 49, 248–49, 264, 266–67, 291; emerging, 32; existing theories of, 33, 45, 281; expansion and retrenchment of the, 66; expansion of, 3, 11, 38, 39, 41, 141, 235, 269, 282; generating expansion of, 28; in developing countries, 33–34, 41, 43; market-oriented reforms of, 53–54, 181; neo-liberal reforms, 181; outcomes of, 11, 17, 235, 270–71, 291; politics of, 50, 54, 84, 235, 269; retrenchment of, 6, 11, 34, 44, 46, 53, 224, 228t.8.2., 265, 269; retrenchment outcomes, 30; scholarship of, 279, 280; South Korean development, 220; universal, 10, 36, 49, 56, 121, 234, 277–78, 281, 288, 291
- Wilensky, Harold, 34, 39
- Women's Association United, 104, 124f.5.3., 252

414

Index

- Wong, Joseph, 248, 249–50
 Workers' Congress, 197
 Workers' Party, 31, 43, 183, 185, 186, 191,
 200, 231, 239f.9.2., 263
 World Bank, 61, 132, 151, 242
- Yang, Jae-Jin, 118, 140
 Yi Chu-ho, 97
 Yi Kab-yong, 145
 Yi Kün-wön, 115
 Yi Söng-jae, 149
- Yöng-dae, Kim, 148
 Yong-ik, Kim, 107, 127, 128, 131, 158
 Yöngnam Labor Institute, 90, 97
 Yöñ-myöng, Kim, 131
 Young-sam, Kim, 83, 94, 96, 100, 104,
 108, 113–14, 127
 Yu Si-min, 158
 Yu-sön, Kim, 92, 97
- Zhang, Feng-yi, 209
 Zulato, Renato, 184, 186