

Index

- abolition, free expression in US and, 197
- Abu 'Aala al-Maari, 33
- Adivasi movement (India), 91
- advertising, Jewish norms of accuracy and honesty in, 151–53
- Africa
 - increasing Chinese influence in, 293
- Akgül, Mustafa, 146
- Âli Pasha, Governor Mehmed, 137, 138
- alienation, as argument against censorship, 178–80
- Ambedkar, Dr. B. R., 89–90, 243, 244
- Analects of Confucius, The* (Confucius), 62
- Anderson, Benedict, 304
- Angarey (short stories, Jahan), 85
- Anti-Terrorism Proclamation (Ethiopia), 308
- apostasy, 34–35
- Arab Spring, 37
- Areopagitica* (Milton), 176
- Asian financial crisis, 116
- Assange, Julian, 181
- Atatürk, Mustafa Kemal
 - influence of Namık Kemal on, 141–43
 - influence of Western Enlightenment ideals on, 140, 141, 143, 145
 - on watchdog role of the press, 133
 - views on role, mission and regulation of speech and press of, 132–34
 - views on speech as reformed continuation of Ottoman period, 134
- Australia, deliberative democracy in, 72
- bad tendency test, of US Supreme Court, 197–99, 200
 - repudiation of in 1937 in Herndon v. Lowry, 202
- Baker, C. Edwin, 320–22
- balancing test, in US Supreme Court, 204–6
- Balibar, Etienne, 282
- Barron v. Baltimore* (US, 1833), 196
- Bentham, Jeremy, 184–85, 188, 190, 269
- Berlin, Isaiah, 271
- Bharatiya Janata Party (India). See BJP
- Bill of Rights (US), 193–95
- BJP, 238. See also freedom of speech and press in India; Hindu nationalism
 - renaming development and education programs to establish historical links with Indian past, 86–87
 - symbolic changes to India's national iconography by, 86
 - use of 1947–52 period as symbolism in 2014 election speeches, 81–82
 - use of Ram Janmabhoomi movement as symbolic political display, 84
- Blasi, Vincent, 181–83, 184, 190
- blasphemy, 34–35
- Brandeis, Justice Louis D., 186, 198, 200–1, 202
- Bridges v. California* (US, 1941), 205
- Cairo Declaration of Human Rights, 25–29
- Catholic Church
 - human rights and, 24
- censorship, 320, 2
 - attempted censorship of distribution of election results in France, 280–81
 - effect of human curiosity and, 176–78
 - in African countries, 293
 - in India, 82–83, 84–85, 239–42, 250–52
 - in Roman times, 178
 - in Uganda, 111
 - literary in early Qing (China), 259

- censorship (cont.)
 of Internet and Twitter in Turkey, 131, 146–47
 of Internet in Ethiopia, 295–96, 306–8
 of Internet in France through Amendment Fillon, 279, 280
 of Internet in Russia under Putin, 225 of Internet in Singapore, 126–27
 of Minitel network in France, 277–79
 of press in Ethiopia, 299–300, 306–8
 of social media in China, 268
 Reporters Without Borders surveillance of France for Internet censorship, 274
 terrorism as justification for Internet
 censorship, 14, 251
 validation and alienation as arguments against, 178–80
- Chaplinsky v. New Hampshire* (US, 1942), 202, 204
- Charlie Hebdo* magazine massacres, 32
- China. See also Confucian speech;
 deliberative democracy in China;
 Internet governance in China increasing influence in Africa of, 293 investment in telecommunications in Ethiopia, 294–95, 308–9
 social media censorship in, 268
- clear and present danger test (US), 200–1, 202, 205
 in World War I espionage cases, 198–200
- Clinton, Hillary, 42–48, 207
- coca-colonization, 283
 defined, 283
- Commentaries on the Laws of England*
 (Blackstone), 195
- Communication and cultural domination (essay, Schiller), 284
- Comparing Media Systems, Three Models of Media and Politics* (Hallin and Mancini), 3
- computerization of society, The* (Nora-Minc), 277
- Confucian speech, 3, 60, 61
 as minben (people-centric), 61 diplomacy school of, 62
 etymological study of Chinese characters for understanding moral codes in, 65–66 freedom of speech in Singapore and, 115–17
 ideal of public discussion in, 64
 legalist school of, 62
 legitimating state authority, 70–71
 lessons for Western deliberative democracy from, 61, 72–76
- normative ranking of morality, reason and might in moral code of, 63 public speech as remonstrance and, 62–63
 remonstrance under Communist state
 and, 69–70
 resistance in vs. Western deliberative democracy, 71–72
 subjugation of self-interest to public interest in, 64
- Confucianism
 influence of/on Internet governance in China, 257–62
 limitations of influence on Internet governance after Mao, 262–65, 270–71
 consequentialist theories of free speech, 174–76, 322
 political theories of, 181–86
 psychological theories of, 176–80
 cultural imperialism, 12
 cultural relativism
 human rights and, 29
 curiosity, effect on censorship of, 176–78
 Cyberspace Administration of China, 269
- de Certeau, Michel, 297
- Declaration of the Rights of Men and the Citizen of 1789 (France), 274
- deliberative democracy, 60 goals, 70
 in Australia, 72
 in Singapore, 128
 lessons from Confucian deliberation
 for Western deliberative democracy, 61, 72–76
- deliberative democracy in China. See also Confucian speech; internet governance
 in China
 alternative interpretation to authoritarianism approach to, 60
 authoritarianism approach to, 59, 60
 lessons from/for Western deliberative
 democracy, 61
- Deng Xiaoping, 64
- deontological theories of free speech, 174–76, 322, 323
- Deringil, Selim, 139, 140, 141, 142
- developing countries, Internet governance tactics and strategies in, 298
- Ding Ling, 261
- dissent, 119, 123
 free expression in US and, 192, 193, 194, 196, 197, 198, 200, 202, 207

- in Singapore, 123, 128
 - suppression of under Putin in Russia, 224
- Doniger, Wendy, 87, 240, 251
- Dworkin, Ronald, 175, 190, 322
- Egypt, free expression in, 10
- Emerson, Thomas, 203, 322
- Emperor Abdulhamid II (1876–1908), 139
- EPRDF. See also Ethiopia; Schoolnet
 - (Ethiopian e-government project); Woredanet (Ethiopian e-government project)
- ethnic federalism in implementation of
 - Woredanet and Schoolnet, 304
- implementation of Woredanet and Schoolnet prior to 2005 by, 304–5
- refusal to engage in open debates and lack of
 - commitment of/to free press of, 299–300
- revolutionary democracy in
 - implementation of Woredanet and Schoolnet, 303–4
- Ethiopia, 3. See also EPRDF; Schoolnet
 - (Ethiopian e-government project); Woredanet (Ethiopian e-government project)
- censorship and surveillance of Internet in, 295–96, 306–8
- Chinese investment in, 294–95, 308–9
- criminalization of social media and, 206, 306–8
- development of vs. in Singapore, 293–94
- EPRDF's tactics and strategies of
 - development and censorship in, 296, 298, 304–5, 309–12
- Ethiopian Commodity Exchange (ECX)
 - and, 295
- government investment in/for development and improved service delivery, 295
- low access to and low quality of ICTs in, 295, 306
- use of ethnic federalism, revolutionary democracy and development as state building strategy and, 302–3
- Ethiopian People's Revolutionary Democratic Front. See EPRDF
- European Convention on Human Rights, 41
- Facebook, 11, 14, 294
 - ban of/in Turkey, 131
 - censorship of/in India, 251
 - closing down of comments in support of Kashmiri protestors, 88
- Falun Gong, 263, 266
- Fang Dongmei, 63
- Federal Communications Commission (FCC)
 - net neutrality and, 193
- Fida Husain, Maqbool, 87
- Fire* (film, Mehta), 240
- First Amendment (US Constitution), 41, 198,
 - See also* free expression in US; Supreme Court (US)
- foundational norms, 41
- Four Theories of the Press*, 2
- France. See also French language as tool for nation-building; freedom of speech and press in France; freedom of speech and press in France in digital age
 - Charlie Hebdo* and terrorist act in, 32
 - Declaration of the Rights of Man and the Citizen, 274
- free expression. See also censorship; consequentialist theories of free speech; deontological theories of free speech; free expression in US; Internet governance; liberal theories of free speech; nonliberal theories of free speech; psychological theories of free speech; speech norms; universality of free speech
 - challenging assumptions of, 4–9
 - changing norms of/in digital age, 9–13
 - instrumentalist theory of, 322, 323
 - national emergencies as reason for suspending, 13
 - rising state securitization and, 13–14
 - struggle over norms of/among international actors in turbulent times, 317–19
 - tolerance for/in balance between open and closed terrains of speech, 11
- free expression in US, 7, 319
 - abolitionism and slave power and, 197
 - as outlier internationally, 189
 - bad tendency test during antebellum period, 196
 - bad tendency test in espionage cases of World War I era and, 197–99
 - bad tendency test repudiation in Herndon v. Lowry (1937), 202
 - Bill of Rights and, 193–95
 - cases expanding protection of/with search for truth rationale (after 1937), 202
 - cases expanding protection of/with self-governance rationale (after 1937), 203

- free expression in US (cont.)
 - cases not protecting free speech and, 206–7
 - cases validating free-expression claims in transition from repulican to pluralist democracy from 1930s–1945, 201–3
 - dissent and, 192, 193, 194, 196, 197, 198, 200, 202, 207
 - First Amendment and, 199
 - legal doctrine of clear and present danger test in Hemdon v. Lowry (1937), 202
 - legal doctrine of clear and present danger test in Whitney v. California (1927), 200–1
 - legal doctrine of clear and present danger test in World War I espionage cases, 198–200
 - protection of hate speech in, 173, 189, 275, 279
 - Sedition Act of 1798 and, 196
 - Sedition Act of 1918, 198
 - Supreme Courts use of balancing test, 204–6
 - Supreme Courts use of two-level approach and, 204–6
 - suppression of social and cultural outsiders and, 192
 - transition from republican to pluralist democracy and, 201–3
 - US National Security Agency and, 11
- free expression in US in digital age, 207–11
 - pending decision on net neutrality and, 193
- freedom of expression in Islam. See also Islam and human rights
 - apostasy and blasphemy and, 34–35
 - political correctness in the Western world and, 32
 - Rushdie affair and, 31
 - Salafism, 37–39
 - Western notions of absolute freedom of expression vs. desirable limits of/in Islam, 30–32
- freedom of speech and press in France, 3
 - criminalization of hate speech and, 276
 - long tradition of support of free speech and press and, 274
 - protective-state rationale of regulation of, 276
 - state-society relations and, 275–81
 - vs. freedom of speech in US, 286–90
- freedom of speech and press in France in digital age
 - attempted management of distribution of election results, 280–81
- censorship and Amendment Fillon, 280
- censorship regime for Minitel network, 277–79
- censorship through Amendment Fillon in 1996, 279, 280
- criminalization of hate speech and, 279
- early need for regulation of with introduction of Minitel in 1979, 277
- Falque-Pierrotin report and, 280
- fear rhetoric in, 280–81
- French effort to be alternative policy maker in, 286–90
- omnigoogolization in, 283–84
- protective-state rationale of regulation of, 277, 278, 279, 280
- state-society relations and, 275–81
- three-strike law for copyright law violators, 281
- freedom of speech and press in India, 3. See also BJP; Hindu nationalism
 - accelerated corporatization of the media in 2014, 251
 - British colonial construction of religious identities in India and, 244–46
 - censorship of under Indira Gandhi, 240
 - contestations over space and symbolism and, 90–91
 - control of communal speech in, 79
 - freedom of/as Hindu value and, 242–44
 - hate speech laws in, 248
 - Hindu values and, 249–52
 - incitement of religious hatred as control of, 87–88
 - Indian secularism and religious identity and, 246–48
 - overview of, 239–42
 - recent censorship in, 87–88, 250–52
 - restrictions against incitements to religious hatred to protect Hindu majority, 84–85
 - restrictions against political sensitive speech and religious hatred in name of communal harmony, 82–83
 - sections 153A and 295A of the Indian Penal Code and, 82, 84–85, 241, 245, 246, 248, 251
 - use of colonial instruments of control in country's peripheries, 88
 - use of Dalit and Ambedkar symbolism and, 89–90
 - use of mythical, historical and spatially rooted symbols in Indian politics and, 79–81, 91–94

- freedom of speech and press in Russia. See also
 freedom of speech and press in USSR
 Article 29 of the constitution and, 227–29
 Doctrine of Information Security of the Russian Federation and, 223–24, 226–27 emergence of anti-extremist legislation under pretext of combating terrorism, 224–25
 emergence of as legal concept in 1990, 213 Internet governance in, 42, 51–52, 225 judicial doctrine on free speech
 and, 227–30
 Pussy Riot case and, 226, 229
 regulation of morality under Putin, 226
 Russian constitutional concept of free speech and, 221–23
 Russian Statute on Mass Media (Mass Media Statute, 1991), 219–20, 229
 Russian support of strict speech regulation under Putin, 226
 state-controlled model of media after 2000
 and, 225
 under Vladimir Putin, 223–27
 freedom of speech and press in Singapore, 3, 115
 Asian values and, 115–17
 Lee Kuan Yew and PAP's views on, 117–21 Lee's newspaper policy (Newspaper and Printing Presses Act of 1974), 125–26
 uniqueness of Lee's model of neoliberalism, 127–28
 freedom of speech and press in Turkey.
See also Atatürk, Mustafa Kemal;
 freedom of speech and press in Turkey
 (late Ottoman period (1830s–1923)) Atatürk's views on role, mission and regulation of, 132–34
From palace to palace, Tales of Turkish journalism (2015) and, 145
 historical overview of late Ottoman and early Republican period (1830–1945), 131–32
 Internet and social media governance and censorship in, 131, 146–47
 repressive laws for from 1931 to 1945, 134
 since 2002 rule of Justice and Development Party (AKP) and, 131
 freedom of speech and press in Turkey (late Ottoman period, 1830s–1923), 134–35 emergence of Ottoman print capitalism and unofficial journalism (1840–1860), 138
 growing press influence and increased censorship (1870–1908) and, 139
 hearsay and oral communication in coffeehouses, 135–36
 modernization of newspapers and public opinion under Sultan Mahmud
 II, 137–38
 monitoring of coffeehouses, 136
 Namik Kemal as the model and example for Turkish journalists, 139
 repressive press laws of 1864 and 1867
 and, 138–39
 freedom of speech and press in USSR.
See also freedom of speech and press
 in Russia
 abstaining of USSR from signing of UDHR, 22
glasnost during perestroika (restructuring)
 period (1985–90), 217–19
 Marxist-Leninist perspectives on, 3, 214–16
 Marxist-Leninist perspectives on regulation of speech, 216–17
 ratification of ICCPR and UN membership
 and, 216–17
 USSR Law on Press and Other Mass Media
 (Press Statute, 1990) and, 219
 Freedom Online Coalition (FOC), 52–53
 French language as tool for nation-building, 275, 281
 coca-colonization and, 283
 Toubon Law and French music quota on radio, 281, 283
Frohwerk v. United States (US, 1919), 198
 Gandhi, M. K., 83–84
 Ghar Wapsi movement (India), 244
glasnost, and freedom of speech and press in USSR, 217–19
 globalization, adjusting of speech norms and, 318 Google, 11, 14, 43
 fear of omnigoogolization in France, 283–84
Google Spain v. AEPD case on de-indexing of search results, 172, 186–87
 support of US Internet position, 51
 Transparency Report of, 51
 Gorbachev, Mikhail, 217
 Habermas, Jürgen, 4 hate speech, 41, 172
 criminalization in Britain and, 32
 exclusion from protection in Russian Constitution, 221

- hate speech (cont.)
 French criminalization of, 276, 279 laws in India, 248
 protection of/in US, 173, 189, 207, 275, 279
 Havel, Vaclav, 10
Herndon v. Lowry (US, 1937), 202
 Herndon, Angelo, 202
 Hindu nationalism, 238–39. See also BJP;
 freedom of speech and press in India British colonial construction of religious identities in India and, 244–46 censorship in India and, 239–42
 contestations over space and symbolism
 and, 90–91
 Dalit and Ambedkar counter-symbolism
 against, 89–90
 defined, 238
 destruction of Babri Masjid mosque in Ayodhya by, 238
 free speech and Hindu values and, 249–52
 freedom as Hindu value, 242–44
 Ghar Wapsi movement and, 244
 Hindutva and, 238
 Indian secularism and religious identity
 and, 238, 246–48
 politics of visibility in, 244, 250 religious, cultural and political organizations in, 238
 use of colonial instruments of speech control in country's peripheries and, 88
Holmes Jr., Justice Oliver Wendell, 198–200 Holocaust
 criminalization of denials of, 32 human rights, 14. See also Islam and human rights
 basic principles in US Supreme Court civil rights decisions, 36
 Biblical sources of, 23
 Catholic Church's critique of, 24 cultural relativism and, 29
 in Singapore, 115
 Islamic version of/as serving interests of Muslims and providing balance to entire global human rights movement, 30 natural law tradition in, 23 need for new consensus, 22–23
 UDHR as rooted in Western conceptions of, 22–23
 Western critique of individual human rights, 24
Hurley v. Irish-American Gay, Lesbian and Bisexual Group of Boston (US, 1995), 203
 India. See BJP; freedom of speech and press in India; Hindu nationalism Indonesia, 121
 instrumentalist theory of freedom of expression, 322, 323
intellectual biography, An (Hanioglu), 142 International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR), 41
 ratification of/in USSR, 216–17
 Singapore's nonsigning of, 115
 International Telecommunications Union
 (ITU), 50
 Internet and ICTs in Ethiopia. See EPRDF; Ethiopia; Schoolnet (Ethiopian e-government project); Woredanet (Ethiopian e-government project)
 Internet Corporation for Assigned Names and Numbers (ICANN), 50
 Internet governance, 14. See also censorship; Ethiopia; freedom of speech and press in France in digital age; Google; Internet governance in China; Internet governance in Singapore; Internet governance in US; Jewish norms and speech in digital age; social media;
 Ugandan media system
 censorship and surveillance of Internet in Ethiopia, 295–96
 censorship in India under Information Technology Act, 251
 Chinese influence on Ethiopia's Internet, 308–9
 civilization of Internet discussions, 281 competition between Chinese vs. US norms and, 49–51
 copyright and data privacy and, 160–63
 cybersecurity and, 14
 Freedom Online Coalition (FOC)
 and, 52–53
 French desire to be alternative to US
 hegemony in, 286–90
 French vs. US approaches to, 285
 in Iran, 42, 51
 in Russia, 42, 51–52, 225
 in Turkey, 131, 146–47
 Internet Freedom policy of US, 42–48
 Internet Governance Forum, 52 socio-religious control over in Israel, 164–66 struggle over norms of/among international actors, 41–43, 51–52, 53–54, 317
 terrorism as justification for Internet
 censorship, 14, 251

- Internet governance in China, 42
 - Chinese Internet White Paper and, 48–49
 - competing norms with US and, 49–51
 - defamation law and, 270
 - evolution of political control over in
 - modern era, 266–70
 - influence of China on Ethiopian Internet, 308–9
 - influence of Confucian and Leninist
 - political belief systems on, 257–62
 - limitations of Confucian and Leninist
 - beliefs after Mao and, 262–65, 270–71
 - political development after Mao and, 262–66
 - rise in Internet use in 2000s and, 267
- Internet governance in Singapore, 116, 121–24
 - censorship of, 126–27
 - compared to Ethiopia, 293–94
- Internet governance in US, 207–11
 - competing norms with China and, 49–51
 - French challenge to US hegemony in, 286–90
 - French vs. US approaches to, 285
 - Google support of US Internet position, 51
 - International Strategy for Cyberspace of, 51
 - Internet Freedom policy of, 42–48
- Iran
 - Internet governance and, 42, 51
- Islam and human rights. See also freedom of expression in Islam
 - Article 18 of UDHR and, 24
 - balance as a defining feature of Islam, 36
 - Cairo Declaration of Human Rights and, 25–29
 - Charles Malik and lack of acceptance of UDHR and, 21–22
 - cultural norms defense of Islamic version of, 29–30
 - Islamic perceptions and critiques of, 30
 - need to return to first principles of justice and equality in, 35
 - Salafism, 37–39
 - UDHR during Cold War and, 25
 - Western animus against/in public and in press, 19–20
 - women's rights in, 36, 37
- Islamic countries. See also freedom of expression in Islam; Islam and human rights
 - abstaining of/from signing of UDHR, 22
- Islamic State fundamentalist group (ISIL), 252
- Jewish norms and speech in digital age, 151–52
 - accuracy and honesty in speech and advertising and, 151–53
 - copyright and data privacy and, 160–63
 - disclosure of corruption or impropriety by
 - religious figures and, 156–57
 - privacy and, 153–58
 - social gossip and, 153–58
 - social media and, 158–60
 - socio-religious control Internet in Israel and, 164–66
- Jewish norms of conduct of speech, 150–51
 - disclosure of corruption or sexual impropriety by Rabbis and, 156–57
 - Noahide Laws of Judaism and, 151
- Kenya, 295, 300
- Kraft und Stoff* (Force and Matter, Bucher), 142
- Law of Maintenance of Order [Takrir-i Sükun], 134
- Lee Kuan Yew. See also Internet governance in Singapore; freedom of speech and press in Singapore
 - Helsinki speech on media freedom of (1971), 117, 118, 124
 - national and international praise for/after death of, 114, 293–94
- Leninism. See also Marxist-Leninist perspectives
 - influence of/on Internet governance in China, 257–62
 - limitations of influence on Internet governance after Mao, 262–65, 270–71
- Liang Shuming, 66, 70
- liberal theories of free speech, 171–73
 - arguments against universality of, 190
 - as policing abuses of power, 181–83
 - consequentialist and deontological theories of, 174–76
 - effect of curiosity on censorship as
 - demonstrating validity of nonliberal free-speech theories, 177, 178
 - Google Spain v. AEPD* case on de-indexing of search results and, 186–87
 - mandating and subsidizing of local news and, 187–88
 - policing for abuses of power as
 - demonstrating validity of nonliberal free-speech theories, 182–84
 - publicity as inhibiting misfeasance as
 - demonstrating validity of nonliberal free-speech theories, 185–86
 - validation and alienation arguments against censorship as demonstrating validity of nonliberal free-speech theories, 179–80

- Malaysia, 121
 Malaysiakini (Malaysian Internet site), 126
 Malik, Charles, 21–22, 25
 Mandela, Nelson, 10
 Mao
 Internet governance in China after, 262–66
 marketplace of ideas metaphor, 4
 Marshall, Justice Thurgood, 203
Martin v. Struthers (US, 1943), 204
 Marx, Karl, 128
 Marxist-Leninist perspectives. See also Leninism
 on free speech and press in USSR, 214–16
 on regulation of speech in USSR, 216–17
 Mayanja, Abu, 107
 media plurality
 anticoncentration laws and, 187
 mandating and subsidizing of local news
 and, 187–88
 Mehta, 248
 Meiklejohn, Alexander, 174, 175, 187–88, 190, 275, 278
 Meir Kagan, Israel, 154
 Mencius, 67, 72
 Mill, John Stuart, 199
Miller v. California (US, 1973), 204
 Milton, John, 4, 176–77, 186–87, 190
 Minitel, 284
 Modi, Narendra, 81–82
 Muhammad Hashim Kamali, 33
 Murugan, Perumal, 250
 Museveni, Yoweri, 96, 97, 99, 103, 104, 105

 national emergencies, as reason for suspending free expression, 13 National Resistance Movement (NRM, Uganda). See also Uganda; Ugandan media system
 ideological roots of, 97–99
 media propaganda of, 99–101 Movement System resistance councils
 and, 101–3
 National Security Agency (US), 11 natural law tradition, 23
 Nazi speech, 173, 189, 279
 Nega, Eskinder, 306
 net neutrality
 defined, 193
 pending decision on in U.S., 193
 Netherlands, 4
New Vision, The (newspaper, Uganda), 96, 105–10, 112

New York Times v. Sullivan (US, 1964), 205–6, 270
 Noahide Laws of Judaism, 151
 nonliberal theories of free speech, 171–73, 176
 Google Spain v AEPD case on de-indexing of search results and, 186–87
 mandating and subsidizing of local news
 and, 187–88
 policing for abuses of power as demonstrating applicability of beyond liberal societies, 182–84
 publicity as inhibiting misfeasance as demonstrating applicability of beyond
 liberal societies, 185–86
 validation and alienation arguments against censorship as demonstrating applicability of beyond liberal societies, 179–80

 Obama, Barack
 publication in Israeli newspaper of private prayer of at Kotel (Western Wall in Jerusalem), 157–58
 Open Society Foundations, 126 Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development in 2011, 51

Permoli v. New Orleans (US, 1845), 196 pluralism, 11
 political correctness, in Western world, 32
Practice of Everyday Life, The (De Certeau), 297 privacy and free expression, 10
 in Jewish norms of conduct of speech, 153–58
 NSA of US and, 11
 publication of Obama's private prayer at Kotel in Israeli newspaper, 157–58
Procnier v. Martinez (US, 1974), 203 Protestant Reformation, 23
 psychological theories of free speech, 176–80, 186–87
 public opinion, 123
 Pussy Riot (Russia), 226, 229
 Putin, Vladimir, 223–27
 Pye, Lucian, 258

Rangila Rasul, 250
 Rashid Jahan, 85
 Raz, Joseph, 173, 174, 176, 178–80, 186–87, 190
Red Lion Broadcasting v. FCC (US, 1969), 203 relativist view of free speech, 176
 remonstrance, 261

- five forms of, 67
- remonstrating political officials pre-Song dynasty, 68
- under Communist state, 69–70
- variable success rate of/throughout Chinese history, 69
- Reporters Without Borders, 274
- Roberts, Justice Owen, 202
- Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 140, 141, 144, 274
- Rushdie, Salman, 31, 240
- Russia. See freedom of speech and press in Russia; freedom of speech and press in USSR
- Salafism, 37–39
- Satanic Verses, The* (Rushdie), 240
- Scanlon, Thomas, 175, 190, 322
- Schauer, Frederick, 173, 189
- Schenck v. United States* (US, 1919), 198–99
- Schneider v. New Jersey* (US, 1939), 204
- Schoolnet (Ethiopian e-government project), 295
- EPRDF ethnic federalism in implementation of, 304
- EPRDF implementation of/prior to 2005, 304–5
- EPRDF revolutionary democracy in implementation of, 303–4
- Scott, James, 278, 282
- Sedition Act (US, 1798), 196
- Sedition Act (US, 1918), 198
- Sharma, 243, 244
- Singapore. See also Internet governance in Singapore; freedom of speech and press in Singapore; Lee Kuan Yew as extreme outlier on development-democracy grid, 115 need for study of economic model of, 115
- slavery, free expression in US and, 197
- Snowden, Edward, 181
- social media, 10, 14
 - as enforcement space, 14
 - blockade of/in Uganda, 110, 111
 - censorship of/in China, 268
 - censorship of/in India, 88
 - censorship of/in Turkey, 146–47
 - change in the role of intermediaries and, 11
 - criminalization of/in Ethiopia, 296
 - in Uganda, 97
 - Jewish norms of conduct of speech in, 158–60
- Souter, Justice David, 203
- South Korea, 117
- speech norms
 - changing of/in digital age, 9–13
 - globalization and, 318
- State Internet Information Office (SIIO), 268
- strategic communicators, 42
- strategies vs. tactics, in Internet governance, 297–98
- Sultan Abdulaziz (1861–76), 139
- Supreme Court (US). See also free expression in US
 - avoidance of free-expression issues in first century of First Amendment, 196
 - bad tendency test in espionage cases of World War I era and, 197–99
 - civil rights and, 36
 - clear and present danger test in World War I espionage cases, 198–200
 - legal doctrine in first cases related to free expression, 197
 - upholding of labor injunctions by, 197
- surveillance, 11, 12
 - in China, 266, 269
- Tacitus, 178
- tactics vs. strategies, in Internet governance, 297–98
- Taiwan, 117
- Takvim-i Vekayi* ('The Calendar of Events, Turkish newspaper), 137–38
- Ten Thoughts on Remonstrating with Taizong* (Wei Zheng), 69
- terrorism, 20, 317
 - anti-extremist legislation for combating in Russia, 224
 - threat of/as reason for Internet censorship, 14, 251
- Thornhill v. Alabama* (US, 1940), 203, 205
- Transparency Report (Google), 51
- Tunisia, free expression in, 10
- Turkey. See Atatürk, Mustafa Kemal; freedom of speech and press in Turkey; freedom of speech and press in Turkey (late Ottoman period, 1830s–1923)
- Twitter
 - censorship of/in India, 251
 - censorship of/in Turkey, 131, 146–47
- two-level approach, in US Supreme Court, 204–6
- Uganda
 - ideological roots of National Resistance Movement (NRM) in, 97–99

- Ugandan media system, 3, 97. See also National Resistance Movement
 (NRM, Uganda); Uganda blockade of social media during 2016
 elections, 110, 111
 inclusivity approach of NRM toward during transition period, 105
 NRM propaganda in, 99–101
 social media and radio as medium of Ugandan political engagement, 111
New Vision newspaper and, 96
New Vision newspaper as example of NRM's political ideology, 105–10
 Ugandan Communications Commission
 (UCC), 110
- United States. See free expression in US;
 Internet governance in US;
 Supreme Court (US)
- Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR, UN), 8, 21–23, 274, 317. See also human rights; Islam and human rights as rooted in Western conceptions of human rights, 22–23
 Charles Malik and, 21–22
 during Cold War, 25
 horrors of World War II and, 23
 Islamic states and Soviet Bloc's abstaining from signing of, 22
- universality of free speech, 173, 188
 beyond context of liberal tradition, 171
 relativist argument against universality, 173, 188, 189, 190
 relativist argument against universality of US model of, 189
- Upadhyaya, Deen Dayal, 86
- USSR. See freedom of speech and press in Russia; freedom of speech and press in USSR
- validation, as argument against censorship, 178–80
- van Gogh, Theo, 31
- Voltaire, 140, 141
- Walesa, Lech, 10
- walled garden approach, to Internet governance, 51
- Weber, Max, 318
- West Virginia State Board of Education v.*
Barnett (US, 1943), 203
- Whitman, James, 276
- Whitney v. California* (US, 1927), 200–1
- women's rights in Islam, 36, 37
- Woredanet (Ethiopian e-government project), 295
- EPRDF ethnic federalism in implementation of, 304
- EPRDF implementation of prior to 2005, 304–5
- EPRDF revolutionary democracy in
 implementation of, 303–4
- World War II, 23, 317
- Xi Jinping, 265
 Internet governance under, 268
- Yeltsin, Boris, 221
- Young Ottoman Society, 139
- Young Turks, 138
- YouTube
 ban of/in Turkey, 131
- Zenawi, Meles
 reactions to death of/vs. death of Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore, 293–94
- Zhou Yuezhong, 183