

Contents

Foreword	page ix
Acknowledgments	xii
About the Authors	xv
Introduction	1
Part I Analytical Framework	19
1 Theoretical Foundations: Institutions, Imprinting, and Identity	21
2 Soviet Political, Economic, and Social Institutions: Catalysts for Migration	35
3 Soviet Educational Institutions: Capability for Contribution	65
4 Migration from the Former Soviet Union to the United States: Three Waves 1972–2015	105
Part II The Immigrants' Experiences, Integration, and Contributions	149
5 Entrepreneurial Spirit, Creativity, and Innovativeness: Startups in the United States	151
6 Research, Development, and Applications in Academic and Industry Settings	199
7 Cultural Adaptation: Challenges and Sources of Support	238
8 Workplace Adaptation: Developing Soft Skills	277
9 Identity: A Constellation of Influences	323
	vii

viii	Contents
Part III Conclusion	371
10 The Impact of Institutions, Imprinting, and Identity on the Immigration and Innovation Process	373
Index	396