Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples

cultural aspects, 117
mental illness, perception of, 107
spiritual beliefs, 117–18
academia, changing contexts of, 117–18 academia.edu, 7
academic argument, 73–4
concise sentences in, 76–80 academic integrity, 84–5
academic literacy, structural elements, 73–4 academic writing, 70–100
formal writing, academic argument, 73–4 process, 80
purpose and context, 71–2 purpose and audiences, 72
steps, 73
assignment expectations, 75 cross-referencing with structure, 74 draft plan generation, 76–80
task analysis factors, 75 structure, introduction, body, conclusion, 74 writing decisions, 71–2
case study, 72
writing strategy, 74–80
accountability, 191, 227–8 accreditation, 7
standards, 13–15
accuracy (information sources), 83
acronyms, 111–13
active or attentive listening, 142 aggression, 134
in the workplace, 143–4 anxiety, 29
argument (academic), 73–4 assertiveness, 34–7, 136–7
case study, 35
graded assertiveness, 35–7
case study, 36–7
assessment, 228
using digital literacy to improve quality, 170–2 assignments
draft plan generation, 76–80
expectations, determining, 75 explanations and examples, 79
locating evidence, 77–9
main point development, 76–7
task analysis – content, task, limits, 75 developing ‘stance’, 76
task words, 75
assumptions, 28
audience, 96, 97
analysis of, 40
Australian Commission on Safety and Quality in Health Care, acronyms/abbreviations, 112
Australian Health Practitioners Regulation Agency (AHPRA), 7
Australian Nursing and Midwifery Accreditation Council (ANMAC), 13–15 authority (information sources), 82–3 autonomy, 227–8
avatar, 171
behavioural change, 135
behavioural patterns, 215 beliefs, 123–4, 187
spiritual beliefs, 116–21
best practice, 226
body (of thesis statements), 74
body language see kinesics Boolean searches, 169–70
Buddhism, 118
bullying, 143–4
impact on the individual, 146 impact on the organisation, 146–7 last resort, 151
motivation for, 145
power disparity, 144
rewarding bullying behaviour, 147–8
strategies to overcome, 147–51
symptoms and consequences, 146
bureaucracies, 185–6
Call-Out, 99
capabilities
clinical capability, 191–3
interpersonal capabilities development, 131–51
practice capability, 196–7, 198–9 writing capabilities, 157–8 career management, 172
casual staffing, 42
challenging situations, repetitive exposure to, 161 change, 135, 194
being open and engaging in, 222
case study, 216
change agents, 213
stemming from evidence hierarchies, 208–9 change management, 206, 222–3
case study, 217
dispositions to enable, 218–22
channel, 23
Check-Back, 99–100
Christianity, 118
chronemics, 140
clinical capability, 191–3
clinical leaders attributes, 196–9
practice capacity and capability, 198–9
roles, 197
clinical leadership, 183, 196–7, 199–200 application to practice – A FAST HUG case study, 199–200 clinical reasoning skills, 214–15
clinical settings
academic contexts, communicating in, 70–100 clinical contexts, writing in, 91–3 issues/problems in, 220
code, 23
Code of Ethics for Nurses in Australia, 11, 12–13, 15
Code of Professional Conduct for Nurses in Australia, 11, 12–13, 15 codes of practice, 12–13 cognitive reappraisal, 149–50 collaboration, opportunities for, 170–1 collectivist culture, 109
communication, 94–8, 98, 133, 157–8, 188–93
applications, 161–2
case study, 217
communication barriers
case study, 27–8
interpersonal barriers, 30
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>intrapersonal/psychological barriers, 28–31, 30</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>physical/external barriers, 41–3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>semantic barriers, 37, 38–40</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>communication practice, 59–64, 122</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>communication technologies, 172</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>contexts, 1–16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>academic and clinical, 70–100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>meaning determined by context, 95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>as core ability, 132</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>cultural influence in, 224–6</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>effective communication, 1–2, 131, 191–2, 212, 213</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>case study, 193</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>flow, 212</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>influence of personality, 104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>information sources, case study, 83–4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>learning objectives and outcomes, 15–16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>misunderstanding, 115–16</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>models, 22–5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>with new technologies, 164</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>opportunities for, 170–1</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>‘patient’ and ‘client’, 11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>people’s responses – world understanding, 25–7, 94</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>processes – guiding communication processes, 206–14</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>rhythmic approach, 95</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>seeking help and information, 59–61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>case studies, 59–61</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>structured and unstructured, 8–9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>structured communication, 37–8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>two-way communication, 215</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>vertical and horizontal, 189–90</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Western ideas of, 106</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>communication models, 22–5</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>common terms, 23</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>interactive model of communication, 24</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>linear model, 22–4</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>transactional model of communication, 25</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>transmission, 22–3</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>communication theory applications, nursing and healthcare, 20–43</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

| rationale for development, 21–2 |
| ‘theory’, 22 |
| community, operation, impact of organisations, 184 |
| competence, 3, 15–16, 131–2, 135, 188–9 |
| domains, 15, 132 |
| concept maps, 76–7 |
| conclusion (of thesis statements), 74 |
| confidence, 220 |
| conflict, 134, 161 |
| congruent leadership, 200 |
| consumers, 14 |
| context, 26–7 |
| convenience (information), 231 |
| conversation, 63–4 |
| critical practice, 64–7, 123–4 |
| critical thinking, 133, 219, 221, 228 |
| cross-cultural communication, 113–16 |
| case studies, 113–15 |
| cross-cultural practice, 121–2 |
| cultural difference, 106–10, 139 |
| dimensions, 108 |
| individualist and collectivist cultural differences, 108–10 |
| orientation inhibiting productive communication, 109–10 |
| verbal and non-verbal differences, 107–8 |
| cultural practices, 52 |
| cultural stereotyping, 110 |
| culture, 32, 50, 103–4 |
| cultural groups, 116–21 |
| cultural influence, 224–6 |
| defining, 104–6 |
| emerging from globalisation, 106 |
| evidence-based healthcare cultures, 206–33 |
| national culture, 106 |
| organisational culture, 187 |
| transcultural skills, 103–25 |
| wider concept of, 105 |
| currency (information sources), 83 |
| decision-making, 230 |
| spiritual beliefs, impact of, 116–21 |
| delegation, 191–2 |
| and coordination of care, 132 |
| feedback and accountability, 191 |
| resistance to, 192 |
| steps, 192 |
| demographics, 184 |
| digital (online) learning, 160–1 |
| digital literacies, 156 |
| critical digital literacy, 165 |
| defining, 163 |
| digital exclusion, 165–6 |
| learning inequalities and, 162–6 |
| using to improve assessment pieces quality, 170–2 |
| digital skills in healthcare practice, 153–75 |
| context, 156–7 |
| digital technology, 168–70, 171 |
| case study, 170 |
| collaboration and communication opportunities, 170–1 |
| learning outcomes and, 166–7 |
| distance learning, 157–8 |
| document-sharing applications, 171 |
| draft plans, 76–80 |
| thesis development, 76 |
| dynamic practices, 67–8, 124 |
| economics, 184 |
| editing academic writing, 88–90 |
| the final draft, 90 |
| for tone and style, 88–90 |
| first, second and third person, 88–9 |
| education higher education, 49–54 |
| case study, 52 |
| person-centredness, influence of, 9–11 |
| regarding bullying, 150–1 |
| research regarding online communication in, 157–8 |
| understanding what you bring to higher education, 49–52 |
| case studies, 50–2 |
| eHealth records, 174 |
| Electronic Health Records (EHR), 173–4 |
| pitfalls, 174 |
| emotional barriers, 215 | emotional intelligence (EI), 4, 5–6, 165, 183
elements, 5–6
Goleman’s model, 190–1
case study, 193
elements, 190–1
in nursing, 190–1
elements, 190–1
emotions, 35
empathy, 30–1, 191, 193
evidence
academic writing steps, 73
locating evidence, 77–9
expert evidence, 73
implementation, 212
searching and locating information sources for, 81–2 utilisation, evolution of skills
and knowledge, 229–33
evidence-based culture, case
study, 232
evidence-based healthcare, 206, 229–33
contributing to through lifelong
learning, 206–33
evidence-based practice (EBP), 206–9
common pitfalls, 226
global uptake of, 212
JBI levels of evidence, 208
lack of confidence in using and
appraising evidence, 220
problems, 212
understanding, evolution of skills
and knowledge, 229–33
knowledge, 229–33
evidence-based culture, case
study, 232
evidence-based healthcare, 206, 229–33
contributing to through lifelong
learning, 206–33
evidence-based practice (EBP), 206–9
common pitfalls, 226
global uptake of, 212
JBI levels of evidence, 208
lack of confidence in using and
appraising evidence, 220
problems, 212
understanding, evolution of skills
and knowledge, 229–33
knowledge, 229–33
emotions, 35
empathy, 30–1, 191, 193
feedback, 64–6, 132, 137, 191
two-way feedback, 24, 215 flattened (decentralised) organisations, 185–6 functional organisational structure, 185–6
gerder, 32–3, 33
gender theory (Semmelweis’s), 78
globalisation, 106
Google, 169
groups, 184
haptics, 139–40
harm prevention/avoidance, 228 healthcare
changing care provision, 184 changing contexts, building learning capacities and resilience, 49–68
communication theory
application, 20–43
delegation see delegation delivery systems, changes in, 184 healthcare cultures, evidence-based, 206–33
healthcare organisational structures, 184–8
healthcare teams, 185, 187–8 cross-cultural communication in, 113–16
high-level interprofessional communication, need for, 98
leadership and management
in, 194–6
person-centredness, influence of, 8–9
healthcare cultures, 110–16 negotiating, 111
healthcare practice see practice healthcare professionals see professionals
healthcare settings, 42, 183
interpersonal communications
in, 133–4
hierarchy, 34
Hinduism, 118–19
horizontal communication, 189
human rights, 12, 132, 166 ideas, 84–85, 219–20
identity, 2
identity management, 172
implementation science, 206 individualist culture, 108–9 individualist–collectivist dimension, 108
differences between, 108
information literacy, 71, 80–4, 162
information sources
 case study, 83–4
evaluating, 82–4
searching and locating for evidence use, 81–2
infrastructure, 186
investment in, 156
initiatives, clinical leadership link, 199–200
innovation, 221
intellectual property, 84–5
intelligence (emotional), 4, 5–6, 165, 183 internet, 162, 168–9
interpersonal barriers, 32–8
strategies to overcome, 34
interpersonal capabilities, development – healthcare
professionals, 131–51
interpersonal communication in healthcare settings, 133–4 process models, 211
interpreters, 124–5
inter-professional
communication, 188
in-text referencing, 85–6
intranet, 173
interpersonal barriers, 28–31
intra-professional
communication, 188
introduction (of thesis statements), 74 JBI (Introduction, Situation,
Background, Assessment,
and Recommendation), 37–8, 99, 160
case study, 37–8
Islam, 119
JISOBAR (Identify, Situation, Observations, Background, Agreement,
and Recommendation), 37–8, 99, 160
medical jargon, 38–9
JBI-PACES, 224
Johari window (self-awareness)
model, 134–5
Judiasm, 119
kinesics, 138

© in this web service Cambridge University Press labelling theory, 30
language
negotiating unfamiliar language, 111–13
in a new culture/context, 121–2
leadership, 183, 190, 196–7, 200, 223–4 change, coping with, 194 evolution of skills and knowledge, 229–33
in healthcare, 194–5
leadership versus management, 195–6
nursing leadership, 227
learning, 172, 206, 221
digital learning as a substitution process, 160–1 emerging learning technologies, 159–60
learning objectives and outcomes, 15–16 digital technology and, 166–7
lifelong learning, 49–68, 206–33, 221
mobile devices and, 158 online, 157–8
open learning resources, 159
case study, 160
through simulations, 171–2
traditional methods, 163 learning management system (LMS), 172 libraries, case study, 81–2
lifelong learning, 49–68, 206–33, 221
LinkedIn, 172
list of references (APA style), 86 listening, 142
empathic listening, 30–1
literacy, 52, 71, 73–4, 80–4, 156, 162–6 literature, 78–9, 133
logical thinking, 133
management, 183
in healthcare, 195
leadership versus management, 195–6
marginalisation, 29
masculinity–femininity dimension, 108 matrix organisational structure, 185–6 meaning, negotiation, 138 media literacy, 163–4
media as entertainment form, 164 medication safety officers, 217–18 Mendeley, 172
mind (concept) maps, 76–7 mobile communication, 157–8 mobile devices, 158, 168
motivation, 135, 190, 193
for bullying, 145
multiculturalism, 106
multiliteracies, 164
multimedia, 159
Muslims, 119
National Competency Standards for the Registered Nurse, 15–16, 132, 188–9 regarding delegation, 191–2
National Registration and Accreditation Scheme (NRAS), 13–15 noise, 23
non-verbal communication, 41, 133
case studies, 141, 143
misinterpretation, 142
types, 137–41
verbal non-verbal communication relationship, 141–3
nurses
effect of behaviours and communication styles, 132 motivations for becoming, 3–4
case study, 4
nursing students
abilities, 229–30
roles, 7–8
study experiences case studies, 53–4, 58 people, engagement with, 133 prioritising messages, 133
professional skills, 183–200
role of telehealth in nursing student training, 157 uncertainty of self, 220 nursing changing roles, 184
communication theory application, 20–43 definition, 227
emotional intelligence in, 190–1
knowledge, 220–1
nursing competency standards, 135 global and local contexts, 131–2 nursing presence concept, 9 patient-focused nursing, 221–2
process, 228
systematisation of, 6–7
Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia (NMBA), 7
Code of Professional Conduct for Nurses in Australia and Code of Ethics for Nurses in Australia, 11, 12–13, 15 value statements, 12–13
registration standards, 132
objectivity, 93
oculesis, 107, 117–18, 138–9 online communication, 157–8 flexibility, 157
research regarding, 157–8 online media, 163–4
online safety, 167–8
open-mindedness, 219
oral communication, 94–8 clinical context, 98–100
general principles, 94–5
oral presentations, 195–8 organisations
change agents, 213
heterophilous and homophilous, 213
hierarchy, 34
impact of bullying on, 146–7 impact on communities/groups, 184 influences of, 184
organisational culture, 187
structure
formal structures, 184, 187
healthcare organisational structures, 184–8 informal structures, 186–7 values and beliefs, 187 over-explaining, 39–40
PACE (Probe, Alert, Challenge and Emergency), 160–1 paralinguistics (vocales), 140 patients

effect of nurse behaviours and communication styles on experience, 132

mismanagement of a patient’s healthcare data, 214

patient-focused nursing, 221–2

perception, 25–7, 165

person (first, second, third), 88–9

personal dispositions, 206

personal interactions, 157–8 personality, 104

person-centredness, 8–11

influence on education, 9–11 influence on healthcare, 8–9 physical barriers, 41–3

strategy to overcome, 42–3 physical environments, 42

place, 27

plagiarism, 84–5, 108

polito-economic climate, 184

power distance, 108

differences in, 115–16

case study, 116

power relationships, 66–7

case study, 67

practice, 121–2

best practice, 226

communication practices, 59–64, 122

context, 183

critical practice, 64–7, 123–4

cultural influence in, 224–6

digital skills in, 155–75

dynamic practices, 67–8, 124

links to professional practice, 226–9

in a new culture/context, 121–2

practice capability, clinical leadership and, 196–7, 198–9 professional practice, pathways to, 11–16

guiding lights in nursing profession, 12–16

reflective practice, 57–8, 122, 132, 135–6

scope, clinical leadership link, 199–200

practitioners

practitioner–person partnership, 11

registration (AHPRA/NMBA), 14, 132

presentations (oral)

10–20–30 rule, 97

audience, place and resources, 96

forms of, 96

main point development, 96

sub-points to support, 96

perfection, 98

pictures not words, 97

practice, 97

principles, 95–8

slides, 97

privacy, 168

professional awareness, developing, 6–7

professional communication, 188–93

professional identity, 2

developing, 2–7

professional settings, building transcultural skills for professional contexts, 103–25

professionals, 226–7

interpersonal capabilities development, 131–51

professional skills, 183–200

roles, 7–8

quality initiatives, 199–200

reading, 157–8

referencing, 84–7

methods, 85–7

reference lists, 86

in-text referencing, 85–6

reasons for, 84–5

systems and conventions case study, 86

tips, 87

what to reference – rules, 85

reflective practice, 57–8, 122, 132, 135–6

assistive conditions, 135–6

reflective thinking, 221

refugee patients, 120

case study, 123

relationship, 27

rehabilitation (information), 135–6

remote patient management, 174–5

research

disseminating, 172

research base, 78–9

research literature – communication, 133

ResearchGate, 172

research utilisation, 206

facilitators and barriers, 214–8

National Institute of Clinical Studies, 215–6

resilience, 49–68

resources, 96

communication barrier issues relating to, 42

open learning resources, 159

respect, 107, 122

restorative justice, 148–9

key elements, 148–9

rights, 12, 166

risk-management prioritisation, 213–4

risk managers, 217–8

Rogers’ Diffusion of Innovation theory, 212 safety

health consumer, health and safety of, 14

online safety, 167–8

SBAR, 189

search engines, 169–70

self-awareness, 2, 3–6, 131, 190, 193 becoming aware of your ‘self’, 5–6

‘blind spots’, 134–5

building, 134–6

communicating, 4

Johari window model, 134–5

self-concept, 134–6

self-talk, 136

understanding who you are, 49–52

case studies, 50–2

self-efficacy, 136–7

self-esteem, 29

self-regulation, 190, 193

semantic barriers, 37, 38–40

strategies to overcome, 40

Sikhism, 120

simulations, 171–2

skills

clinical reasoning skills, 214–15
development – guiding communication processes, 206–14 digital skills, 155–75
evolution as related to evidence utilisation and leadership, 229–33
professional skills, 183–200
social skills, 191
transcultural skills, 103–25
Skype, 170
SOAP (Subjective, Objective, Assessment, Plan), 8
social climate, 184
social contact, 63–4
case study, 63
social harmony, 109
social media, 161, 167–8, 173
apps, 170
career and identity management, 172 Platforms, 171
proprietary social media channels, 173 tools, 168–9
social skills, 191, 193
social structures, 184
social withdrawal, 29
society, 161–2
Spillway Model, 211
spiritual beliefs, 116–21
stance, 76
stereotyping, 110
gender stereotypes, 33
storage applications, 171 style, 88–90
tall (bureaucratic) organisations, 185–6
task words, 75
teams, 185, 187–8
dynamics, 222–4
participating in groups or teams, 61–3
case studies, 62
power and team influence, 188
see also emotional intelligence TeamSTEPPS™, 98–9
technology, 168–9
emerging learning technologies, 159–60
learning technologies, affordability of, 167 new technologies, communicating with, 164 rapid advancement, 156
study/workplace communication technologies, 172
teleconferencing, 171
telehealth, 156–7
role in nursing student training, 157 10–20–30 rule, 97
textbooks, 159
theory, 78
therapeutic presence, 142
therapeutic relationships, 8–9, 11, 132 thesis statements
academic writing steps, 73
introduction, body, conclusion, 74
main points supporting, 73 development of, 76–7
explanations and examples, 79
thesis development, 76
time, 26–7
time pressures, 41
tone, 88–90
training
nursing student training, 157
real-world training environments, 161
transcultural skills, 103–25
transference models, 209 transition, 220
conceptualising, 55–68
trauma, 33
uncertainty avoidance, 108
validation, 31
values, 12–13, 187
verbal communication, 61, 133
verbal–non-verbal communication relationship, 141–3
verbal messages, 139
vertical communication, 189–90 virtual classrooms, 159 virtual world simulations, 171–2 vocalics, 140
Web 2.0 technologies, 168–9, 173
well-being, 109
WhatsApp, 170
workplace, aggression in the, 143–4 workplace bullying, 144–51 doing nothing, 145
World Health Organization (WHO), 132 world-views, 25–7, 215
writing
academic writing, 71–2
academic contexts, 70–100 Dont’s list, 80
editing, 88–90
information’s value and credibility, 84
referencing academic sources, 84–7
capabilities, 157–8
in clinical contexts, 91–3 guidance, 91–3
written communication, 133
YouTube, 159, 162
zero tolerance, 147–8