

CONTENTS

Frontispiece. A Masula boat of Madras

List of Text-Figures page xiii

GROUP A. FLOATS, RAFTS & KINDRED CRAFT

Chapter I. Swimming Floats and Riding Floats	1
II. Buoyed Rafts	20
III. Reed Rafts and Reed Canoes	39
IV. Log Rafts and Catamarans	61
V. The Origin of the Junk and Sampan	86

GROUP B. SKIN BOATS: CORACLES, CURRAGHS, KAYAKS & THEIR KIN

VI. The Coracle in Asia	92
VII. British Coracles and Irish Curraghs	111
VIII. The Skin Boats of the American Indians	148
1. The Bull Boats of North America	148
2. The Pelota or Hide Balsa of South America	150
IX. The Skin Boats of the Eskimos and other Arctic Peoples	155
X. The Origins of Skin Boats	175

GROUP C. BARK CANOES, DUGOUTS & PLANK-BUILT CRAFT

XI. The Genetic Relation of the Bark Canoe to Dugouts and Plank-Built Boats	181
XII. From Dugout to Carvel-built Ship	189
XIII. The Evolution of the Clinker-built Fishing Lugger	195
XIV. Constructional Parallels in Scandinavian and Oceanic Boat Construction	199
XV. The Sailing Ships of Ancient Egypt	213

CONTENTS
x.
Chapter XVI.	page 229
The Development of Arab Ship Design
XVII.	241
The Boats of the Ganges
XVIII.	253
Outrigger Devices: Distribution and Origin
XIX.	271
The Prow of the Ship: Sanctuary of its Tutelary Deity
I.	271
In India and the Far East
II.	282
In Arabia and the Mediterranean Region
III.	285
The Cult of the Oculus
Literature Cited	290
Abbreviations	290
Index	297
List of Plates	305
Plates I to XLV
Map showing the distribution of the principal types of primitive watercraft	at end of book