READING

1 Quickly read about Matt and Annika’s shopping experiences. Who might buy these things? Write M or A.

books ☐ clothes ☐ food ☐ school bag ☐ second-hand goods ☐

Last month we invited you to send in your photos and articles about the last place you shopped. We decided to print these two answers from Matt and Annika. How different!

I really like going round the markets with my friends. There are markets on the first Sunday of the month near my house. They sell lots of different things. The market is divided up into different areas so for example there’s the food area. You can’t miss it because there’s a big sign above the entrance. You can do your weekly grocery shopping, you know, fruit and vegetables, or you can just have a coffee and a piece of cake there. Then there’s the clothes section, which my sister loves but I think is really boring. I mean, clothes are clothes! One thing I like best about the market is the second-hand goods area – that’s where you can find anything and everything! There are old books, furniture, kitchen equipment and some really amazing objects. The other week I found a really old paperweight; you use it to stop papers from blowing away. It’s made of heavy glass and it’s beautiful because you can see different colours in it. I think it’s an antique. But I think the best part is the entertainment. There’s always someone playing some music. It’s such a great atmosphere.
Matt, aged 15

I think the last time I bought something was online. I generally buy all my clothes online these days. It’s so much easier and it’s really convenient. Also, you can get all the latest fashions from Europe. Here in New Zealand we have to wait for ages for things to come from Europe into the shops. I think it’s because we are so far away and our winter is in the European summer. But now with online shopping, it doesn’t matter. I have several apps that are looking out for what I want. At the moment, I’ve got an app searching for a cool school bag that I saw online. Of course, I have to look out for delivery charges! But I usually manage to get some great discounts. I think that’s the great thing about technology and it’s definitely made a difference for those of us who live a long way away!
Annika, aged 16

WRITING Notes

1 Read the notes and complete the table below.

Hi Mum,
Here's the battery that doesn't work. Can you take it back to the store for me and exchange it for a new one please? The receipt is in the bag with it.
Thanks,
Sam.

Dad,
The book is in my bedroom. There are four pages missing, as I told you yesterday (pages 4–7). It would be great if you could get a refund. I can't find the receipt anywhere but the shop assistant's name was Becka.
Phil

Angelina,
Here's my pencil case. When you go to the supermarket, can you take it and tell them that it doesn't close properly. I think it's broken. I only bought it yesterday so I don't think it'll be a problem. The receipt is inside it. Can you get me a new one – any colour will do!
Thanks,
Max
