

THE CAMBRIDGE COMPANION TO AMERICAN POETS

The Cambridge Companion to American Poets brings together thirty-one essays on some fifty-four American poets, spanning nearly 400 years, from Anne Bradstreet to contemporary performance poetry. This book also examines such movements in American poetry as modernism, the Harlem (or New Negro) Renaissance, “confessional” poetry, the Black Mountain School, the New York School, the Beats, and L=A=N=G=U=A=G=E poetry. Its reputable host of contributors approaches American poetry from perspectives as diverse as the poetry itself. The result is a Companion concise enough to be read with pleasure yet expansive enough to do justice to the many traditions American poets have modified, inaugurated, and made their own.

Mark Richardson is Professor of English at Doshisha University in Kyoto, Japan. He is the author of The Ordeal of Robert Frost: The Poet and His Poetics (Illinois, 1997). He has also edited, with Richard Poirier, Robert Frost: Collected Poems, Prose, and Plays (Library of America, 1995), Robert Frost in Context (Cambridge University Press, 2014), and The Collected Prose of Robert Frost (Harvard, 2007).

A complete list of books in the series is at the back of this book.
