

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-61273-0 - Travels in France: During the Years 1787, 1788 and 1789

Edited by Constantia Maxwell

Table of Contents

More information

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Arthur Young, Esq., F.R.S.	frontispiece
Editorial Note	page xi
Editor's Introduction	xiii
Author's Preface	liii
Author's Note upon Methods of Writing Books of Travel	i

PART I

JOURNAL

FIRST JOURNEY (May 15th to November 11th, 1787)	5
Arrival at Calais. Boulogne. Excellence of the French roads. Montreuil. Abbeville. Manufacture of Van Robais. Amiens. The Treaty of Commerce with England (1786). Clermont. The Château and Forest of Chantilly. Luzarches. Arrival in Paris. Meeting with the Duc de Liancourt. Conversation with M. de Broussonnet and M. Desmarest. Arrival at Versailles. Royal ceremonies. The Palace of Versailles	pp. 5-14
Departure from Paris. The road to Orléans. The Pays de Beauce. Orléans. The province of Sologne. Métayers . Vierzon. Vatan. Manufactures at Châteauroux. Argenton. Beauty of the country. Limoges. The Bishop and Lord Macartney. The work of Turgot. The King's stud at Pompadour. Brive. Trade at Souillac. The river Dordogne. Poverty of the peasants. View of the Pyrenees. The vineyards of Cahors. Caussade. Montauban. Toulouse. The Canal of Brienne. House of M. du Barry. St Martory. St Gaudens. Arrival at Bagnères-de-Luchon	pp. 14-30
A comparison between French and English inns. Life at Bagnères-de-Luchon. French manners and customs. The valley of Larboust. Dampness of the climate. Bears and wolves. Departure for Spain. Re-entry into France. Contrast between French and Spanish conditions. Perpignan. Cost of the roads. Narbonne. Treading out the corn. The Canal of Languedoc. Béziers. Farm of the Abbé Rozier. Pézenas. Excellence of the roads in Languedoc. Montpellier. The Fair of Beaucaire. Nîmes. Taciturnity of the French. Château of M. Sabatier. Merchants at St Hippolyte	pp. 30-47
Irrigation at Ganges. Village of Montdardier. Lodève. Bédarieux. Ignorance of a French merchant. Heat at Mirepoix. Pamiers. Abominable inn at St Girons. St Martory. Return to Bagnères-de-Luchon. Bagnères-de-Bigorre. Castles at Lourdes and Pau. Prosperous farms of small proprietors. Navarrenx. Hasparren. Bayonne. The landes of Bordeaux. Aire, Auch, Lectoure and Agen. Château of the Duc d'Aiguillon. Ploughing with oxen. Wealth and prosperity of Bordeaux. Rivers Garonne and Dordogne. Waste properties. Angoulême. Château of Verteuil	pp. 47-63

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-61273-0 - Travels in France: During the Years 1787, 1788 and 1789

Edited by Constantia Maxwell

Table of Contents

More information

vi

CONTENTS

- Undertakings of the Comte de Broglie. Poitiers. Cutlery manufacture at Châtellerault. Château of the Comte d'Argenson. Tours. Cavern houses on the banks of the Loire. Duc de Choiseul's château of Chanteloup. Manufacture of steel at Amboise. The château at Blois. Château of Chambord . . . pp. 63–70
- Monument of Louis XI at Cléry. Pithiviers. Farm of Duhamel du Monceau. Malesherbes. Palace of Fontainebleau. Return to Paris. Visit to Liancourt. Influence of Rousseau upon French manners. Political conversation. Excursion to Ermenonville. Château of Mortefontaine. Madame de Pons. La chasse . . . pp. 70–79
- Return to Paris. Public buildings. Political conversation. The Abbey of St Germain. The Corn Market. Visit to Lavoisier the chemist. Inventions of M. Lhomond. More political conversation. The veterinary school at Charenton. The École Militaire. The Queen's garden at the Trianon. The King's apartment at Versailles. Living in Paris. Departure for Senlis. Soissons. Manufacture of plate glass at St Gobain. St Quentin. The Canal of Picardy. Cambrai. Valenciennes. Lille. The basin at Dunkirk. Fortifications at Gravelines. Arrival at Calais and embarkation for Dover . . . pp. 79–96
- SECOND JOURNEY (July 30th to October 15th, 1788) . . . p. 96
- Arrival at Calais. St Omer. Abbey of Var at Arras. Mr Fox at Amiens. Rouen. Prosperity of Le Havre. M. l'Abbé Dicquemare the naturalist. Passage to Honfleur. Leather factory at Pont-Audemer. Pont-l'Évêque. The Marquis de Guerchy at Caen. Plantations of the Marquis de Turgot. The Fair of Guibray. Château de Harcourt. Bayeux. The harbour of Cherbourg. Mud houses at Coutances. Entrance into Brittany . . . pp. 96–107
- Poverty of the country around Combourg. The camp at Rennes. Poverty at Montauban. Noblesse at Lamballe. Guingamp. Morlaix. Fair day at Landivisiau. Brest. Quimper and Quimperlé. Shipbuilding at Lorient. Vannes. The château of Auvergnac. The theatre at Nantes. Mr Wilkinson's machinery for boring cannon. Revolutionary talk at Nantes . . . pp. 107–117
- The Loire. La Meignanne. La Flèche. The Marquis of Galway at Turbilly. Alençon. The theatre at Rouen. Manufactures at Louviers. The château of Vernon. The château of La Roche-Guyon. Ignorance of agriculture on the part of the French nobility. Return to Rouen. The road to Dieppe. Arrival in England . . . pp. 118–130
- THIRD JOURNEY (June 2nd, 1789 to January 30th, 1790) . . . p. 130
- Supper with Dr Burney. Passage to Calais. Arrival in Paris. The States-General at Versailles. The pamphlet shops of Paris. Coffee-houses in the Palais-Royal. Scarcity of bread. Political events and discussions. The Royal Society of Agriculture. The Duc d'Orléans. The King's library. The conduct of M. Necker. The King's garden. The Repository of the Royal Machines. Debate in the Assembly. Sieyès, Mirabeau, Rabaut-St-Étienne, etc. Dinner with the Duc de Liancourt . . . pp. 130–145
- Visit to Dugny. Discussion on the rotation of crops. The Comte de Mirabeau. The National Assembly. The Oath of the Jeu de Paume. The Séance Royale. Meetings at the Palais-Royal. Criticisms of M. Necker. The mob at Versailles. The crowd at the Palais-Royal. The Union of the Orders. Pamphlets of the Duc de Liancourt. The Cahiers . . . pp. 145–162

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-61273-0 - Travels in France: During the Years 1787, 1788 and 1789

Edited by Constantia Maxwell

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

vii

Departure from Paris. Conversation at the Marquis de Guerchy's. The price of bread. Château of the Marquis de Montesquiou at Mauperthuis. Château-Thierry. Mareuil. View of Reims. Châlons. A poor peasant woman. The Academy of Sciences at Metz. News from Paris. Pont-à-Mousson. Nancy. Meeting with M. Lazowski at Lunéville. German characteristics in Alsace. Riot at Strasbourg. Colmar. News from Paris. Attacks upon châteaux. Besançon. Lack of newspapers in the provinces. Dijon. Conversation with Guyton de Morveau the chemist . . . pp. 162-199

Beaune. Mr Wilkinson's factory at Montcenis. Autun. Reports of brigands. Moulins. Meeting with M. l'Abbé de Barut. Estates for sale in the Bourbonnais. The Limagne of Auvergne. Clermont. More news from Paris. Volcanic origin of Auvergne. The Castle of Pagnac. Le Puy. Thueys. Silk mills at Aubenas. Pradel and Olivier de Serres. Montélimar. Meeting with M. Faujas de St Fond the naturalist. Roman remains at Orange. Laura's tomb at Avignon. View of the Rhône . . . pp. 199-224

L'Isle-sur-Sorgue and the Fountain of Vaucluse. Destruction of game. Singular district of the Crau. Meeting with M. Gibelin at Aix. La Tour-d'Aigues. Populousness of Marseilles. Meeting with the Abbé Raynal. Toulon. Passage to Cavalaire. Fréjus. Journey over the mountains. Arrival at Cannes. Antibes. Departure for Italy. Re-entry into France at Pont-de-Beauvoisin. Lyons. Visit to M. l'Abbé Rozier. Unemployment and commercial depression at Lyons. The road to Moulins . . . pp. 225-245

Nemours. Melun. Arrival in Paris. The King and Queen in the gardens of the Tuileries. The Paris militia. Visit to Liancourt. M. Desmarest of the Academy of Sciences. The Jacobin Club. Rumours of Royalist plots. Distress in Normandy. Debate in the National Assembly. Dinner at the Duc de Liancourt's apartments in the Tuileries. Another dinner at the Palais-Royal. The Duke of Orléans' pictures at the Palais-Royal. Political events. A visit to the Jacobin Club. French manners and customs. Character of the Duc de Liancourt. Arrival in London . . . pp. 245-267

PART II

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

SOIL p. 269
 Rich calcareous plain of the North-East: Flanders, Artois, part of Normandy, etc. Rich chalk district: Champagne, Touraine, parts of Angoumois and Poitou. Fertile plain of the Garonne. The Limagne of Auvergne. Poor gravel districts: Brittany, Anjou, Maine, part of Touraine. Districts of various loams: Berry, La Marche, Limousin. Poverty of soil in parts of Guienne and Gascony. Stony and mountainous districts: Languedoc, Provence, Dauphiné and the Lyonnais. Gravel plain of the Bourbonnais and Nivernais. Variations of soil in Burgundy and Franche Comté. Poverty of Lorraine. France superior to England as regards soils . . . pp. 269-274

FACE OF THE COUNTRY p. 274
 Mountains. Chestnut districts. Rivers. Appearance of the provinces. Advice to the traveller pp. 274-276

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-61273-0 - Travels in France: During the Years 1787, 1788 and 1789

Edited by Constantia Maxwell

Table of Contents

More information

viii

CONTENTS

POPULATION	p. 276
Estimates of Necker and other writers. Inquiry of the National Assembly. Small proportion of the French population in towns. Lack of traffic on the high roads. Overpopulation of France. Disadvantages of small properties. The English peasantry
PRODUCE	p. 279
Method of calculation. Average produce per English acre in various districts. Rotations of crops. Estimate of the arable lands. Average price and rent of cultivated land. Average produce of corn lands. Comparison with English conditions
CAPITAL EMPLOYED IN HUSBANDRY	p. 286
Deficiency of stock. Lack of permanent improvements. Comparison with English conditions. Investment of French capital in the Sugar Islands. Expense of the navy
COURSES OF CROPS	p. 288
Good husbandry in Flanders, part of Artois, etc. Poor cultivations in Picardy, Normandy, etc. Barbarous rotations in Brittany, Maine and Anjou. The landes of Bordeaux. The volcanic country of Auvergne. Wastes in Provence. Rotations in Lorraine and Franche Comté. Poverty of Sologne. Bourbonnais and Nivernais. Importance of proper courses
ENCLOSURES	p. 291
Description of provinces. Poor cultivation as prevalent in enclosed districts as in open fields. Division of commons. Advantages of enclosure
WASTE LANDS	p. 293
Calculation of the extent of wastes and unproductive land. Marshes
VINES	p. 294
Price of vineyards. Value of produce. Wages of labourers. Export of wine. Admirable culture of the vine in France
THE TENANTRY	p. 295
Peasants with small properties. Hiring of land at money rents. Feudal tenures. Subletting of land by middlemen. Métayers . Disadvantages of the métayage system. Small properties
MANUFACTURES	p. 300
Manufactures at Abbeville, Amiens, Breteuil, Orléans, Romorantin, Châteauroux, Limoges, Brive, Cahors, Caussade, Montauban, Toulouse, St Martory, St Gaudens, Bagnères-de-Luchon, Narbonne, Béziers, Montpellier, Nîmes, Ganges, Le Vigan, Lodève, Bédarieux, Carcassonne, Bagnères-de-Bigorre, Pau, Hasparren, Aire, Lectoure, Agen, Châtelleraut, Tours, Amboise, Blois, Beauvais, St Gobain, St Quentin, Cambrai, Valenciennes, Lille, St Omer, Arras, Beauval, Rouen, Pont-Audemer, Caen, Cherbourg, Rennes, St Briec, Morlaix, Nantes, Angers, Le Mans, Alençon, Gacé, Elbeuf, Darnétal, Louviers, Reims, Lunéville, Dijon, Montcenis, Marseilles, Lyons, St Étienne. Workers' earnings in France and England. Influence of manufactures on agriculture

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-61273-0 - Travels in France: During the Years 1787, 1788 and 1789

Edited by Constantia Maxwell

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

ix

PRICE OF PROVISIONS, LABOUR, ETC.	p. 313
Price of provisions. French and English beef. Consumption of bread in France. French and English wages compared. Rise of prices	pp. 313-315
COMMERCE	p. 315
French imports and exports in 1787. Imports of the produce of land. The woollen trade. Progress of French commerce. The field of trade. Trade to Russia. Trade to India. African trade. Trade with the United States. West Indian trade. Fisheries. The ports of France	pp. 315-323
THE TREATY OF COMMERCE BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND FRANCE (1786)	p. 323
Observations of the Chamber of Commerce of Normandy. Memorial of Du Pont de Nemours. Comments upon the Treaty in various French towns. French trade with England	pp. 323-327
THE REVOLUTION IN FRANCE	p. 327
Some abuses of the ancien régime ; lettres de cachet ; the levy of taxes; enrolments for the militia; corvées ; the penal code of finance; the capitaineries . Complaints made in the cahiers . The burden of tithe. The administration of justice. Reflections upon the Revolution. Effect of the Revolution upon the feudal system; the clergy; the manufacturers; the small proprietors; agriculture in general; the public revenue. Future effects of the Revolution. Demands made in the cahiers . State of France at the opening of 1792; agriculture; commerce and manufactures; the finances; police of corn; prohibition of the export of the raw materials of manufactures. France no longer offers an eligible field for the investment of capital in land	pp. 327-360
Editor's Notes	pp. 361-404
Appendix . (a) The value of the livre , etc.	p. 405
(b) Diversity of weights and measures	pp. 405-407
Principal works referred to by the Editor	pp. 408-412
Index	pp. 413-428

Map of France to illustrate the Travels

This map is available for download from www.cambridge.org/9781107612730