

INDEX

- Abstract and general ideas in lower culture, 29–32, 93–4; personified, 98
 Actor and Wizard, 202–3
 Affection for the dead, 109
 Allen, Grant, on plant-spirits, 97
 Analogy, 27–8
 Animals give Omens, 166
 Animatism, 50, 79, 81, 87
 Animism, Chap.III.(75–86), see Contents; and Magic and Common-sense, 40; extended to plants and lifeless things, 80–3; development of, 113–14; deception in, 115; how related to Magic, Chap. IV. (117–54), see Contents; political advantage over Magic, 185; and Totemism, 249–55; and Science, 270; and Fine Art, 271; and Philosophy, 272
 Apperceptive mass of Science and Common-sense, 11; of Magic and Animism, 12, 56
 Arbitrary Magic, 63, 72; taboos, 131; myths, 98
 Archer, W., Masks and Faces, 203*n*.
 Astrology, 169, 172, 265
 Atkinson, J. J., on Primal Law, 306
 Avebury on Omens and Magic, 163*n*.

 Belief, Chap. I. (1–37), see Contents
 Berkeley on causality, 121
 Black Magic, 55, 59, 65–6, 69, 126, 141, 185, 217
 Boas, Franz, on savage language, 30; on Totemism, 228
 Bogoras on the Shaman, 215
Book of Daniel, 149
 Brain development in child and savage, 21
 Bryant, E. T., on South African diviners, neurotic, 204
 Buddhist karma, 105
 Burton, R., on Moslem corpse, 100
 Burton's Anatomy of Melancholy on drugs, 259

 Callaway on chiefs and diviners, 184
 Casalis on Bassoutos, 181
 Causation tacitly assumed by savages, 31; confused with coincidence, 31, 52; implied in Magic, 43; how the idea affected by Animism and Magic, 53; origin of idea, 118–22; its slow development, 268
 Causes of belief, 10–14

 Chadwick on treatment of Teutonic gods, 208
 Charms, 41, 43, 60–1, 128
 Chaucer on the Doctour of Phisik, 259
 Cheiromancy, 169
 Chief's taboo, 62
 Cicero on the Delphic Oracle, 172; on the Augurs, 178
 Coddington on savage thought, 19; in Banks Islands, 79; on buto, 252
 Coincidence confused with causation, 12; source of belief in Magic, 46–8, 54, 66, 123; in Omens, 161–2; confirms Wizard's pretensions 220–1
 Common-sense, 11; its limitations, 222; unlike superstition, 2, 40; makes sceptics, 211–12, 221; forced upon Wizard, 212–13; relation to Magic and Science, 257, 267
 Comparative Method, 234
 Comte on stages of culture, 38–9
 Confucius on attitude toward spirits, 126
 Conkling, E. S., on superstitious beliefs among students, 45*n*.
 Contra-suggestibility, 14
 Criticism of beliefs hindered by relative dissociation, 20
 Crystal a Magic source, 175, 193*n*.
 Cushing, T. H., on dramaturgic Magic, 72*n*.
 Czaplicka, A. M., on Siberian shaman, 200, 202, 204

De Divinatione, 157, 162
 Desire as cause of belief, 13
 Diderot on actors, 203
 Differentiation of Omens from other Magic, 162–3
 Diviners, 164, 168, 170, 171, 177, 179
 Dorsey, J. O., on Dakotas, 68, 79; on Omaha, 76
 Dramatic Magic, 64–5
 Dreams and ghosts, 83–6, 89; and Omens, 167, 175*n*.
 Durkheim on Totem divinities, 249

 Edda, 113
 Ellis, W., on spirit-food, 92; on Religion in Raiatea, 136, 150; the idol-maker, 210
 Emotion as cause of belief, 13, 16; in religion, 115, 116
 Endogamy, 237

- Epictetus on divination, 178
 Evil eye, 58
 Exemplary Magic, 70–2, 266
 Exogamy and Totems and Marriage
 Classes, 225, 235, 237–41
 External soul, 103
- Fate and Magic, 153; and Omens, 175, 179; and Causation, 179–80
 Fear a cause of superstition, 13; gives power to ghosts, 53; of the dead, 108–9
 Feeling as cause of belief, 13
 Fetichism, 38
 Force, idea of, 30–1, 49–52, 93; force and ghosts, 127–8; in Magic and Science, 256–7
 Forms of thought in primitive mind, 24, 25
 Fowler, Ward, on Iguvian Magic, 132, 133; on Roman prayers, 135, 151
 Fraud, in what sense attributed to Wizards, 214
 Frazer, J. G., on Magic and Animism, 39; on driving out ghosts, 109*n.*; on Magic and Religion, 123, 125; on power of Wizard, 214; on Totemism, 223, 229, 234; first Hypothesis on Totemism, 243; on Grass-seed Rites, 247; second Hypothesis on Totemism, 247; on Zoolatry, 254
 Free-will and Animism, 153
 Funerary rites, extravagance and economy, 110; and Religion, 250
- General ideas at savage level, Chap. I. § 7; present though unnamed, 30
 Gesture, 30, 51; and Magic, 59
 Ghosts and spirits alike, 99; how imagined, 99, 103; and corpse, 100; may die or be killed, 106; their way of life, 107, 113; easily deceived, 111; and Magic, 129
 Ghost-theory, 83–7; extended to animals, 87–90; and soul-stuff, 91–4; and spirits, 94–9
 Gibbon on fanatics, 217
 Gods from tools, etc., 82; from plants and meteors, 96–7; from abstract ideas, 98; subject to death, 106; act by Magic, 143–5; controlled by Magic, 149–53; teach Magic, 139, 140; from ancestors, 185; and Totems, 251–4
 Grimm, J., on divine power, 145
- Haddon, A. C., on Magic in Torres Straits, 57, 71, 80, 186; on treatment of Wizard, 195; Totemism, 229
 Hallucination, 19, 22, 85
 Hartland, E. S., 51*n.*
 Hegel on sorcery, 124*n.*
 Hepatoscopy, 169
 Herodotus on Egyptian prediction, 123; on Persian law, 149; on Omens, 155, 162; on Dreams, 167, 171, 172
 Hirn, Yrjö, on sympathetic Magic, 68; Magic and Religion, 183
History of Human Marriage, 238–9
 Hodson, T. C., on a Tanghul sceptic, 211
 Hose and McDougall on Pagan tribes of Borneo, 54
 Howitt, A. W., prowess in kidney-fat, 175; on Medicine Man, 201; to cure headache, 262
 Hume, D., Natural History of Religion, 38; on future life, 107; on causation, 120, 121
 Hutton, J. J. H., on Leopard men, 144*n.*
 Hyperphysical Animism, 75, 80
- Iliad*, 113, 209
 Images or mental pictures, 3; vivid in savages and children, 19
 Imagination, Chap. I. § 4 (see Contents); as unverifiable representation, 4
 Imagination-beliefs, 6; mimic perception-beliefs, 33; their power over-rated, 33–4; allied to play-belief, 34–6, 78; often inconsistent, 111–12
 Indirect Magic, 59, Chap. II. §§ 6, 7 (see Contents)
 Industry and Magic, 73
 Initiation of Wizard, 133, 141, 193–5*n.*; and disillusion, 207
 Intichiuma, 59, 246
 Intuition, 165
- Jevons, F. B., on Totemism, 229
 Jounod, H. A., on taboos, 63; on photograph-soul, 68; on divination, 179; on Magician's power, 193*n.*
- Kalevala*, 138, 192
 Kant on free-will, 153
 Kingsley, Mary, on soul-doctors, 85; on four souls, 102
- Lang, A., on ghosts, 44; on Animism, 77, 78; on Totemism, 229, 234–7
 Laws of Association of Ideas, 67
 Lecky on Belief, 104
 Leibnitz, 104
 Leuba, J. H., 72
 Levy-Bruhl on the primitive mind, 15–16
 Livingstone on South African doctors, 190
 Lyall, Alfred, Asiatic Studies, 152
- McDougall, W., 54. See also Hose and McDougall

INDEX

277

- Magic, Chap. II., see Contents; relation to government, 183-4; relation to Animism, Chap. IV., see Contents; to Fine Art, 192; to Religion, 124-7, 184-5; to Omens, 157-64; its equivalent for inspiration, 175; relation to Totemism, 244-8; to science, 41, Chap. VIII. §§ 1, 2, 3, see Contents; to Medicine, 190, 258-61
 Major premise of primitive reasoning, 24, 25, 28
Mana, 51, 52, 123
 Marett, R. R., on Animatism, 50, 79
 Marriage and Totemism, 237-41
 Mathew, J., on source of magical power, 193 n.
 Memory and Belief, 3, 10
 Mercier, C., on paranoia, 206
 Metamorphosis, 143-4, 244-5
 Methodology, none for the primitive mind, 12, 47
 Mill, J. S., on Comte, 38; on induction, 47
 Mimesis, principle of, 66
 Minor premise not understood in primitive reasoning, 25-6
 Müller, Max, on Totemism, 229

 Natural selection within limits favoured the superstitious, 44

 Odour as soul-stuff, 69, 92
 Omen, magical or spiritual, 130, 134, Chap. V., see Contents
 Oracles, dreams and omens, 166-7; in Greece, 171-3; in Fiji, 173; often obscure, 176
Origin and Development of Moral Ideas, 39, 239

 Panætius on Divination, 178
 Participation, principle of, 66
 Pausanias, 174
Pekin Gazette, 152
 Perception as source of belief, 9, 15; among savages, 67
 Philosophy and Animism, 272
 Photograph and soul, 242
 Pliny (the Elder) on Ancient Medicine, 259, 261
 Plutarch, 172
 Poet respected, 56; inspired, 167 n.; and wizard, 197
 Polybius on Roman Religion, 178
 Positivism, 38
 Possession, 140-1, 142, 167, 172-3
 Prayers, at first seem dangerous, 125-6; from spells, also spontaneous, 130, 131; become spells, 134, 135

 Priest and sorcerer, 184-5; and learning, 271
 Psychological Animism, 75; Chap. III. § 2 (77-83)

 Rain-rites, 132, 265-7
 Ray, S. H., on the Lifuans, 72 n., 86
 Reason and imagination, 4-5; in immature minds, Chap. I. § 6
 Reflection and ghost, 84, 88
 Reincarnation, 104
 Relations in savage thought, 31
 Religion, meaning of word, 114; and Magic, 123-7; and Totemism, 251-5
 Retrogradation, Ch. IV. § 4 (133-7)
Rigveda, 82, 98, 149
 Rivers, W. H. R., on suggestibility in savages, 16; on savage thought, 19, 30; on Totemic gods, 97, 261-2; on Toda prayers, 135; blindness of savages to deceit, 213; on a custom at Mota, 231, 233
 Roth, W. E., on prayer to Totem, 249
 Roy, S. C., on Oraon rain-rites, 132

 Scapulomancy, 169
 Scientists in barbarism, 269
Secret of the Totem, 235
 Seligman on sex-taboo, 61; on departmental experts, 187, 214
 Seneca on Omens, 179
 Shadow and ghost, 84, 88
 Shaman, derivation of word, 204
 Shamanism, 147-8, 184
 Skeat and Blagden on the Semang, 79, 98; on Malay Magic, 102, 191
Social Origins, 235
 Societies of Wizards, 186
 Sorcerer and Magician, 182; and Priest, 184
 Sorcery, 59; defined, 119
 Soul and soul-stuff, 77, 80, 85, 91-3, 101; how many, 102; origin and destiny of, 104-7; of Totem and clansman, 242, 243
 Southey, R., The Curse of Kehama, 195
 Speisser on Animism in Ambrym, 82
 Spell, 41, 43, 60; tends to personify, 82, 86; and prayer, 130, 131
 Spencer, H., Sociology, 38; on Animism, 83, 85, 97, 113; on Totemism, 228
 Spencer and Gillen on savage imagination, 13; on Guanjis, 76; on magic stones, 50-1, 193 n.; emotions of Australians, 174; foreign Magic, 200; account of a Wizard, 215; list of Totems, 226
 Spirits and ghosts, Chap. III. §§ 6-7 (94-103); power of, 142-3; controlled by Magic, 146-54; and Omens, 164-8

- Stages in development of Magic, 59
 Stanbridge, W., on aborigines' scepticism, 209
 Standard of truth for savages, 19
 Stefánsón on Esquimo, 90
 Stigand, G. H., on the Masai, 76
 Stoics and divination, 178
 Stoll, Otto, on self-suggestion, 204
 Substitution in Magic, 71
 Suggestibility, 14, 205
 Superstition, Chap. I., see Contents; its dark side, 37; innate disposition to, 44
 Syllogism and savage thinking, 22-7
 Symbols, 69; may fulfil Omens, 176
- Taboo, on persons and things, 61-2; on words, 63; names of dead and of spirits, 131; on kings, 149; connected with Totemism, 245, 246
 Talisman, 61, etc.
 Testimony, 10, 12
 Thompson, Basil, on Tongan rejection of coincidence, 221
 Thurn, E. F. im, on savage belief, 46, 81, 85; on the peaiman, 190
 Torday, E., on Bahuana, 80; dead cast no shadow, 84*n*.
 Totemism, 81, 96, 97, 103; Chap. VII. (223-55), see Contents
 Transmigration, 101, 105
 Turner, G., on Samoan gods, 252
 Turner (Am. B. of Ethn.) on Esquimo Angoqok, 258
 Tylor, E. B., Primitive Culture, 38; on Animism, 83, 113; on motivation of Magic, 125; on spell and prayer, 137
- Tyndall on the Scientific Uses of the Imagination, 4
- Ventriloquism practised by Wizard, 191
 Vocation of Wizard, 197-9, 215
Volsunga Saga, 143, 145*n*.
 Voluntary action as cause of belief, 13; supposed source of idea of cause, 118, 122
- Weeks, J. H., on Congo Cannibals, 57, 61; the Bakongo, 60, 92, 98; specialists in Magic, 187; on character of wizard, 190, 201; sorcerer not honoured at home, 200; his trickery, 212
- Westermarck, E., savage classification of phenomena, 39; on sex-taboo, 62; on averting the evil eye, 74; descent in female line, 236; Totemism and marriage, 238-9; animal worship, 253
- Whiffen, Th., on chief and medicine-man, 184; medicine-man's unscrupulousness, 201; sceptics, 210
- Wiedermann on Religion of Ancient Egyptians, 103, 197
- Williamson, R. W., on the Mafulu, 131
- Wizard, 58; the mind of, Chap. VI. (182-222), see Contents; and government, 183-4; societies, 186; his utility, 198; and Pharmacology, 258, 261; Anatomy and Physiology, 262; Psychology, 263-4; Botany and Zoology, 264; Astronomy, 265; Meteorology, 267
- Wollunqua, 250
- Wundt, W., on Körperseele, 100, 113; on Animism and Magic and idea of cause, 117-22; or retrogradation, 133