

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-66755-6 - The Early Life Correspondence and Writings of the Rt. Hon. Edmund Burke LL.D.: With a Transcript of the Minute Book of the Debating "Club" Founded by him in Trinity College Dublin

The Late Arthur P. I. Samuels

Index

More information

INDEX

- Absentees, 169, 218, 252, 307, 317
 Adair, Foster, wounded in T.C.D., 145
 Addison, 48, 149, 248, 314; tragedies, 167, 302, 303 (see Spectator)
 "Æ," a signature of Burke in Reformer, 160, 305, 314, 317, 326
 Aimée, Louis, 30, 55
All for Love, Dryden's, 174, 320
Annual Register, 216
 Anson, Admiral, 249
 Aram and Helim, letters, 61–63
 Ardesoif, Abraham, member of Club, 140, 208; see Club Minutes, passim, Appendix I, 225–290
 Aristides, Lucas, compared to, 197, 198, 371
 Arran Quay, 1
 Astrology, 68
 Astronomical devilements, 37, 39, 40, 42
 Astronomy, Burke's poem on, 40; debate, 257–263
 "B," initial signature of Burke, 160, 163, 299, 302, 312, 320, 390, 394, 395
 Baldwin, Rev. Richard, D.D., Provost, 20, 22
 Ballitore School, 10, 12, 13, 17, 18, 77, 95; village, 11, 19
Ballitore, Annals of, Mrs Leadbeater's, 10, 12
Ballitore, Burke's poem, 17, 156
 Ballyduff, 1, 2, 77
 Barnard, Mrs, 58
 Barnard, Thomas (afterwards Dean and Bishop), wounds Foster Adair in T.C.D., admonished; Goldsmith's Retaliation; "Slyboots," 145
 Barrett, Rev. John, D.D. (Jacky), Vice-Provost, 205
 Battersby, T. S. F., K.C., 138
 Beaumont and Fletcher, 167, 302
Beauties of Burke, by Wilson, 13, 46
 Beauty, 40
 Belinda, Miss E. Fuller, 45, 151, 153, 164; marries R. Shackleton, 178
 Bellamy, Mrs, 113; Smock Alley Theatre riot, 116, 120
 Berkeley, Bishop, 49, 135
 Berwick, Judge, 206
 Bissett, Robert, LL.D., Life of Burke, 17; originates legend that Burke attacked Lucas, 180, 183, 195, 196
 Black Dog Prison, 69, 143; riot, Burke and Dennis describe, 142; Goldsmith's part in; entry in T.C.D. register, 144; debate in Club, 247, 251
Blackwater, Burke's poem, 9, 10, 19, 111
 Bocalini, 315
 Boeotia (Ireland), Burke repudiates appellation, 157, 162, 297
Boeotia, Dunkin's poem, 129, 130
 Bolingbroke's Patriot King, 198, 373
 Booth, John, his lectures, 26, 27, 30, 64, 65, 66
 Boswell, Rev. John, F.T.C.D., 77
 Boulter, Primate, 74, 184
 Boyle, Henry, speaker, 103
 Brennan, Beaumont, 25, 26, 104, 108, 109, 128, 129, 143, 155, 177, 212, 213
 Brooke, Henry, The Farmer's Letters, 182; groundless legend that Burke satirised him as Diabetes, 180, 198; his Gustavus Vasa, 222, 224
 Brugh (or Burgh), a sizar, 69, 70
 Brutes, have they souls? 67, 70
 Brutus, letter to Cicero, 390
Brutus, Letter to the Town, Dennis' pamphlet, 119, 128, 209
 Buck, Andrew (see Club Minutes, App. I, passim, 225–295), 140, 202; his career, 207; on the Ecliptic, 257; commonplace on Numbers xxiii. 10, 277; faulty keeping of minutes, 285; on Regulus, 295
 Buckley, John, cobbler, 49, 54
 Burgersdyck, F., the Ramist logician, 28; Burke's detestation of, 29; the "sprightly," 52; 71
 Burke, spelled also Bourke, and Burk, 2, 3, 20
 Burke, Edmund: parentage and birthplace, 1; date of birth, 1–5; brothers and sisters, 3–6; early delicacy, 8; at a dame's school, and hedge school, 8, 215; residence at Ballyduff, 8, 9; influenced by Spenser, 9, 10; poem on Blackwater, 9, 10, 19, 111
Schooldays: goes to Ballitore School with brothers Garret and Richard, 10; friendship with Richard Shackleton, 14; his studies, 16; school anecdotes, 16, 17; admiration for Abraham Shackleton, 17, 18, 44, 58, 76, 94, 159, 213; revisits Ballitore, 18, 19; idyll from Theocritus, 19
In Trinity College: matriculation, 20; describes T.C.D. entrance, 22; Cambridge compared, 23, 24; Oxford, 25; acquaintanceship with Herbert, Brennan and Sisson, 25, 26; their correspondence "Club," 26; describes the junior freshman course, 28; his detestation of Burgersdyck, and the Ramist philosophy, 29; fortifies himself with Epictetus, 30; "verse nonsense," 31; poem on his Daily Life,

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-66755-6 - The Early Life Correspondence and Writings of the Rt. Hon. Edmund Burke LL.D.: With a Transcript of the Minute Book of the Debating "Club" Founded by him in Trinity College Dublin

The Late Arthur P. I. Samuels

Index

More information

35; nicknamed "Cowshed," 38, 41, 42; meets Josey Delaney and John Slater, 38; Huguenot "boobies," 39; verses on Astronomy, 40; "astronomical devilmints," 37, 40, 42; on Beauty, 40; "E. Burke, Esquire," 41; an infanticide case, 42; distrusts his conversational powers, 44, 48; studies romances of chivalry, 45; Don Belianis, 45, 48; referred to in Sublime and Beautiful and in debate on Hessian Subsidy, 45, 46; tar water, 49; makes granasty with cobbler's wax, 49, 54; on Dick's cleanliness, 50; signature "Colley Cibber," 50; dancing, 50, 99; a lover's suicide, 51; on "Love," 51; panegyric on Damer, 52, 54, 104, 107, 147; "sprightly Burgersdyck" and syllogisms, 52; verses on Self Love, 53; Pope's Ethic Epistles, 53; eulogium on Aimée, 55; diligence at Greek lectures, 55; religious impressions, 56–60; on Schism, 59; Mirza (Burke) to Zelim (R. Shackleton), 59, 60; verses on Absence, 59; on Voiture, 60, 106; Montesquieu, 61; describes the Liffey floods, 63, 83; navigates in a tub, 64; Booth's lectures on natural philosophy, 64, 65; "Doctor" Taylor an "Arrant Quack," 65, 85; Burke proposes to form "Club," 65; "Have brutes souls?" 67, 70; "astrological ascendancies," 68; works in father's office, 69, 77, 84, 104; "Can God sin?" syllogism, 70, 71; a joint letter with Herbert, 72; duel between Dillon and Keatinge, 76; complains of Wilder as examiner, 76; premium for good answering, 76; puns, 77; the "Triumvirate," 78; Cork assizes, 78; Mallow races, 78; complains of Shackleton's silence, 79, 93; sympathises with his love trouble, 81, 82, 88; Burke's poem on Taylor, 87; the Pretender's defeat, leniency to the rebels, 91, 217, 244; reads for scholarship, 91; translation of Second Georgic, 92, 93, 153; praises the feeding and teaching at Ballitore, 94; gains scholarship, 94; describes the examination, 94; goes into residence, 95; his father's opposition, 95; Wm Dennis his chum, 95; relations with father, 96; love for his mother, 97; anxiety in her illness, 97, 98; "killing thought" in T.C.D. library, 98; his wide reading, 99; groundless assertions of biographers that he was an idler, 99, 134, 137; on studying and teaching classics, 100; advises Shackleton on course of reading, 100; "my favourite Shakespeare," 100; "Murdering sleep," 100, 101; reads for

Little-go, 101; Sisson's portraits, 102; Tully's offices "a blameless piece," 104; admiration for Waller's poetry, 104, 107; character drawing, 105; advises Dick to read Xenophon and Juvenal, 106; narrow escape in great storm, 106; Blacklock, the blind poet, 106, 126; Voiture's genius, 106; "Will Shine," 107, 132, 134; Shackleton's Phaeton, 108, 109, 122, 127; prophecy that their letters "may become most valued pieces," 110; disagrees with Pope on Wit's advantages, 111; ode to the Blackwater, 111; acquaintance with Thomas Sheridan, 113; theatre riots, 115–118; Sheridan's apology; a "pitiful fellow," 121; Dublin indifferent to literature, 126; his four furors, 128, 129; views on Sallust, Terence, Plautus, Tully's orations, 129; Dunkin's Boeotia a "bad piece," 129; Burke on Dennis Turning Critick, 131–133; Burke as Maevius, 133, 134; inaugurates "The Club" in T.C.D., 134, 146, 203; origin of College Historical Society, 134, 203; his diligent college career, 135–137; The Sublime and Beautiful, 45, 52, 136, 141, 178, 248; influence on Lessing and Kant, 137; cautioned for neglect of lectures, 137; entered in the Temple, 146; his views on his Bar studies and poems, 146; Shackleton's admiration of Damer, 147; Shackleton's contributions for Poems on Several Occasions, 150–153; Burke suffers from "old pain in hip," 151; criticism of Julia and Belinda, 151, 164; admiration of Shackleton's Dedicatory Ode, 152, 154; shortsighted, 18, 107, 153; poem on Ballitore, 156; repudiation of name of Boeotia for Ireland, 157–162, 297; publishes the Reformer, 160; introduction to, 161–163, 297; "wretched productions" of England, 162; entreats prayers for our fallen brethren in England, 162, 297; proclamation, poem, 162, 298; writes to Shackleton about Reformer, 163; criticises the Restoration dramatists, 166, 290; Ben Jonson, 166, 301; Shakespeare's divine genius, 167, 302; Beaumont and Fletcher, 167, 168, 302; Dryden, Otway, 167, 302; witches' scene in Macbeth, 168, 303; stage decorum, 168, 304; the audience, 168, 305; Irish manufactures, 169, 307, on absentees, 169, 316; takes B.A. degree, 171; on destitution of the peasantry, 172, 314; the Riches of a Nation, 172, 315; art and literature in Dublin, 172, 312; Foote, 173, 174, 320; Sheridan's All for Love, 174, 320;

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-66755-6 - The Early Life Correspondence and Writings of the Rt. Hon. Edmund Burke LL.D.: With a Transcript of the Minute Book of the Debating "Club" Founded by him in Trinity College Dublin

The Late Arthur P. I. Samuels

Index

More information

INDEX

411

Quinn's Hamlet, 174; The Suspicious Husband, 174, 321; The Foundling, 175, 321; Dryden's plots, 175, 322; an Easter homily, 175, 323; on prose and poetry, 176, 325; Spirit in writing, 176, 325; the Reformer ceases, 177, 328; Longinus, 178; Epithalamium on Richard Shackleton's marriage, 178

The Lucas Controversy, 180–202; Charles Lucas, Henry Brooke, 180; legend that Burke satirised them, 180–182; no evidence for it, 180; Burke's attacks on The Cork Surgeon, 183; Sir R. Cox, the Cork surgeon mistaken for Lucas, the Dublin apothecary, 182; A Free Briton's Advice, four pamphlets, signed Helvidius Priscus, 331, 337, 342, 349; written by Burke, 190, 191; Lucas, Epaminondas; The Naked Truth, pamphlet, 191, 356; description of Lucas and La Touche, 192, 357, 360; two Letters to the Citizens of Dublin, 195, 363, 372; the "Court Patriot," 195, 364; exposure of The Cork Surgeon's Antidote, 196, 364; parodies him, 200; a "Patriot Parliament," 200, 380–384; Burke's authorship of pamphlets against Cox, 201, 336, 389

Foundation of "the Club," 203; Burke's energy, 214; manner of speaking, 214; Irish accent, 215; Dennis refers to his marriage, 211; pamphlet-writing for the "Great Ones," assisting Lord Egmont and Lord Granville, 211; Dennis criticises the Sublime and Beautiful, 212; comparison with Hutcheson, 212; Burke visits Dennis, 213; "A Colossus," 213; sends him the Sublime and Beautiful, 213; Burke's early characteristics in debate, 214–218; "damned absolute," 216, 239; impeachments in the Club, 216; the Via Media, 216; on absenteeism, 218, 252; leaves T.C.D., 219; letter to Matthew Smith, 219; description of London; Westminster Abbey, 220; references to Peg Woffington and Henry Brooke, 221, 222; Matthew Smith's reply, 222; enigma on the daughters of Cadmus, 222; Peg Woffington, 223; Henry Brooke, 224

Burke in the Club, accused of scurrility, 226; approves Buck's draft laws, 227; essay on society, 230; on Alcibiades, 230; on the Genoese, 230; thanked for matter of oration but not for its delivery, 231; on the Dutch; the Barrier Treaty; the English in the war, 232; wool trade; "ticklish subjects"; freedom of debate, 236, 237; the Passions, 236, 268; harangue on Presidency, 238; on pride, 238; a

"confined ridicule," 239; accused of being "damned absolute," 239; on luxury, 242; thanked for his presidency, 243; the Stadtholdership, 243; leniency to the Scotch rebels, 244; sea pirates, 245; receives the grand thanks, 246; Huske at Falkirk, 247; painting, poetry and philosophy, 248; as Brutus the First, 250; an absentee tax, 252; the Sermon on the Mount, 252; accusation of Dennis, 253; the ecliptic, 261; Chesterfield's vicerealty, 263, 264; excused during examinations, 265; Molock's speech, 266; multiplicity of laws, 267; on the passions, 268; literary piracy, 272; moves that Shackleton be permitted to wear his hat, 274; on malice, 275, 276; as Coriolanus, 276; punishes Buck, 277; appointed censor, 279; accuses Ardesoif, 279; law as to presidents' powers, 280; fined, 280; speech as censor, 280; receives minor thanks, 281; president, 281; on piety, 281; censures Ardesoif and Hamilton, 285; on hours of meeting, 285; as a senator against Caesar, 287; sheep stealing; the death penalty, 289; as Othello, 289; "not perfect," 291; on oratory, 291; on alcohol drinking, 291, 292; censures Dennis, 293; speech from Milton "not perfect," 293; as Ulysses, 293

The Reformer, articles by Burke, see Appendix II, 297–329

Lucas Controversy, pamphlets and articles submitted as written by Burke, see "Lucas Controversy," Appendix III, 331–395

London Evening Post, articles and correspondence with R. Shackleton, see Appendix IV, 396–404

Burke, Edmund, an infant, buried in St James' churchyard, 3, 4

Burke, Ellen, infant sister of Edmund, born, 4, 55

Burke, Garret, brother of Edmund, 2, 3, 6, 8, 10, 42, 85, 95, 96, 143, 150; father's executor and residuary legatee, 406

Burke, Juliana, sister of Edmund, baptismal certificate, 3; marries Patrick French, 6; marriage licence, 7; her flirtation with R. Shackleton, 41, 45; Julia and Belinda, 45, 151, 153, 164; Dulcinea's commands, 48; father's legacies to, 406

Burke, Mary (Mary Nagle), mother of Edmund, 1, 5, 402; marriage licence bond, 2; illness, 55, 97, 98, 101; Burke's affection for her, 97; husband's legacies to, 405

Burke, Mary, two infant sisters of Edmund, so baptised, 4

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-66755-6 - The Early Life Correspondence and Writings of the Rt. Hon. Edmund Burke LL.D.: With a Transcript of the Minute Book of the Debating "Club" Founded by him in Trinity College Dublin

The Late Arthur P. I. Samuels

Index

More information

412

INDEX

- Burke, Richard, father of Edmund, marries Mary Nagle, 2–5; marriage licence bond, 2; will, 3, 50, 405; children of, 3, 4; birth and burial certificates of infants, 3, 4; attorney of Exchequer, 5; penal laws, 5, 6; high professional standing, 5; splenetic, 5, 95; his friend Harding, 50, 405; opposes Burke's residing in college, 95; Dennis' description of, 96; opposes Edmund going to America, 97; changes residence from Arran Quay to 3 Lower Ormond Quay, 106
- Burke, Richard (Dick), brother of Edmund, 2, 6; baptism, 4; at dame's school, 8; at Ballitore, 10, 17, 29, 31, 33; Edmund anxious about his behaviour, 43; and cleanliness, 50; mentioned, 58, 88; taken from Ballitore, 92; returns, 92, 102; Edmund advises his reading, 106
- Burney, Miss, on Burke's oratory, 215
- Butchery, stage, 169, 305
- Cadmus, the daughters of, 221; enigma, 222
- Cambridge Union Society, 205
- Cambridge University, early connection with T.C.D., 28, 29
- "Capulets, the Tomb of," 221
- Carey, H., 49
- Cartesian philosophy, 67
- Castletown-Roche, parish register, 3
- Cebes, 27, 28, 100
- Censor*, Lucas' paper, 189; attacks on Sir R. Cox and Chief Justice Marlay, 189, 389; Burke's contributions to, 390–395
- Centlivre, Susanna, her plays, 166, 300
- Chappel, Wm., D.D., Provost, a Ramist, 28; Milton's tutor, 29
- Charlemont, Lord, 202, 216
- Chesterfield, Earl, Lord-Lieutenant, 25, 73, 88–90; Burke on, 263
- Chrononhotonthologos, King, 49
- Cibber, 50, 300, 322
- Cicero, 24, 100, 104, 129, 190, 331, 337, 342, 349, 390, 393
- Club, the "Correspondence," 25, 26, 73, 78
- Club, the, founded in T.C.D., 26, 134, 203; germ of College Historical Society, 134, 137, 203; originated by Burke, 64, 65, 203; letter of Burke and Dennis describing proceedings, 139; the Minute Book, 203–207; see Appendix I, 225–295; rules drawn by Buck approved by Burke, 227; Proceedings, Debates, etc., Coriolanus, Alcibiades, 230; the Genoese, 230; Lord Lovat, 232; the Dutch in the War, 232; Milton, 233; linen and wool trade restrictions, 234; "ticklish points," 235, 237; the passions, 236, 268; poetry, 238; pride, 238; ridicule, 239; Hamilton's and Mohun's trials, 239; Buck's trial, 240; Roman luxury; Dennis as Cato; Buck as Scipio; Shackleton as a Roman; Burke's summary, 240–242; Shackleton on the Decalogue, 242; Burke thanked for his presidency, 243; on the Stadtholder, 243; on the Scotch rebels, 244, 245; piracy at sea, 245; battle of Falkirk, 247; painting, 248; philosophy and poetry, 249; Admiral Anson, 249; poverty, 251; on the scholars and the riot, 251; an absentee tax, 252; Burke on Sermon on the Mount, 252; Burke impeaches Dennis, 253, 254; absence of the president, 255; on history, 257; the ecliptic, 257–263; Chesterfield as Lord-Lieutenant, 263; Molock's speech, 266; multiplicity of laws, 267; literary piracy, 269–274; Shackleton and his hat, 274; Burke on "Malice," 275, 276; Burke as Coriolanus, 276; Satan's speech, 277; commonplace by Buck on Numbers xxiii. 10, 277; election of censor, 278; Ardesoif impeached, 279; Burke's law as to president's power, 280; Burke fined, 280; Burke's speech as censor, 281; Burke president, 281; on piety, 281; the laws, 282; Hamilton accused, 283; good nature, 284; deaths of Scipio, Hannibal and Philipoemon, 284; atheism, 285; Buck's faulty minutes, 285; Hamilton and Ardesoif censured, 285; stationery allowances, 286; hours of meeting, 286; Caesar's command in Gaul, 287; charity, 289; earthquake at Lima, 289; sheep stealing and death penalty, 289; Prussias and Hannibal, 290; Shackleton's Latin verses, 291; alcohol, 291–293; Dennis censured, 293; embassy of Ulysses, 294; Regulus and Carthage, 295
- Cock's Hill, 26, 64, 72
- College Historical Society, T.C.D., origin, 26, 64, 134, 137, 203, 205
- Comedy, "Weeping," 175, 322
- Complaints of Dublin*, the, 187
- Conditions of Life, On the Several*, poem, 170, 308
- Congreve, Wm, dramas, 157, 166, 168, 301
- Cooke, John, M.A., article on "The Club," 225
- Cooper's Hill*, 150
- Cork assizes, 78
- Cork Surgeon, the, see Cox, Sir Richard
- Corruption, directors of, 198, 373; methods of, 336, 352–355
- Cotter, Joseph, publisher, 140, 160
- Cotter, Sarah, 140, 150

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-66755-6 - The Early Life Correspondence and Writings of the Rt. Hon. Edmund Burke LL.D.: With a Transcript of the Minute Book of the Debating "Club" Founded by him in Trinity College Dublin

The Late Arthur P. I. Samuels

Index

More information

INDEX

413

- Court Patriot, the (Sir R. Cox), 195, 199, 364, 365, 375
- Cowley, 56
- Cox, Cornelius, merchant, 26, 64, 72
- Cox, Sir Richard, M.P. (the Cork Surgeon), Lucas' opponent, 182; The Cork Surgeon's Antidote; "Anthony Litten," 182, 196, 202, 364, 388; attacked by Burke, 183, 196, 364, 385; carries resolution that Lucas was a public enemy, 194; the Court Patriot, 195, 364, 375; exposed in Letters to the Citizens of Dublin, 195, 363, 372; his writings parodied, 200, 378; his Letter to the Duke of Dorset, 199, 201, 376, 385–388; his "dream," 366, 386
- Crawford, Wm., article in National Magazine on Burke's and Dennis' letters, 137–139
- Croly, Rev. George, LL.D., Life of Burke, misrepresents Burke's college career, 99; reiterates the Burke and Lucas legend, 180, 193
- Crump, Rev. George, LL.D., his Utopia or Apollo's Golden Days, 155
- Culloden, battle of, 89, 91, 217
- Damer, Joseph, 52; Burke's panegyric, 54, 104, 107, 147; afforestation, 147
- Dedication to the Cork Surgeon, The*, 201, 202, 385
- Delaney, Josey, a servant at Ballitore, 22, 38
- Denham, Sir John, 150, 157
- Dennis, William, Burke's college chum, 54; enters T.C.D., 209; description of Burke's father, 96; writes Brutus' Letter to the Town, 119, 128, 209; criticism on Othello, 131, 148; Burke's poem Dennis Turning Critick, 132; his lost correspondence, 138; joint letter with Burke describing Club debates and Black Dog Riot, 139–141; joint letter with Burke, 148–150; Burke's correspondence with, 154; original member of the Club, 202; panegyric on Lord Chancellor Jocelyn, 209; censor, 209; his career, 209–214; his poem, Man's Redemption, 210; Burke's marriage, 211; on Burke and Lord Egmont, 211; controversy with Sheridan, 212; his exposition of The Sublime and Beautiful, 212; contrasts Burke and Hutcheson, 212; letter to Shackleton, 214; treasurer of the Club, 247 (see Club Minutes, passim, Appendix I, 225–295)
- Dependence of Ireland, 184, 188, 234–237, 364–369, 376–379
- Diabetes*, 180, 198
- Dillon, John, his duel with Keatinge, 76
- Dix, E. R. McC., Mr, 160, 269
- Don Bellianis of Greece*, Burke's references to, 45; Kirkman's edition, 46; description of Ireland in, 46, 47
- Dorset, Letter to the Duke of*, 199, 201, 202, 375–378, 387, 388
- Dryden's dramas, 167, 174, 302, 320
- Dunciad*, the, 29, 50, 104
- Dunkin, Rev. Wm., D.D., his Boeotia, 129, 130; Swift's friendship; head master of Portora, 131
- Egmont, Lord, Burke assists, 211
- Epaminondas, Lucas referred to as, 180, 191, 332, 393
- Epictetus, 28, 30
- Epithalamium, Burke's, on Shackleton's marriage, 178
- Essay on Waters*, by Lucas, Johnson's recommendation, 202
- Euripides, 304
- "Eusebius," letter in London Evening Post, 397, 402
- Falkirk, battle of, 89, 247
- Fame*, 248, 356, 391–393
- Fleckno's Ghost*, by Brennan, 128
- Fleming, Mr, verses on Peg Woffington, 221, 223
- Foolish Miscellany, The*, 177, 327
- Foot, the actor, 173, 174, 319, 320
- Foot, Lundy, auditor C.H.S., 206
- Fortune's Tricks in Forty Six*, 155
- Foster, Rev. John, F.T.C.D., examines Burke for scholarship, 94
- Foundling, The* (E. Moore's play), Burke criticises, 175, 321, 322
- Free Briton's Advice to the Citizens of Dublin*, four pamphlets signed Helvidius Priscus, submitted as written by Burke, 190; support Lucas, 191, 336 (see Lucas Controversy Pamphlets, Appendix III, 332–395)
- French, Patrick, marries Juliana Burke, 6
- French and English acting contrasted, 168, 304, 305
- Fuller, Elizabeth (Richard Shackleton's first wife), 45, 151, 153, 164, 178 (see "Belinda")
- Genoese, Burke on, 230
- Gentleman, The*, "But of the Run," 129
- "Gentlemen's Party," the, Smock Alley riot, 118
- Georgics*, Burke's translation, 91, 92, 153
- Goldsmith, Oliver, on Burgersdyck, 29; his tutor Wilder, 75; a college spree, 75; his medical degrees, 75, 76; the Black Dog Riot, 144; admonished, 145; Bishop Barnard "sly boots," 145; On the Several Conditions of Life(?), 170, 308
- Granville, Lord, Burke's association with, 211

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-66755-6 - The Early Life Correspondence and Writings of the Rt. Hon. Edmund Burke LL.D.: With a Transcript of the Minute Book of the Debating "Club" Founded by him in Trinity College Dublin

The Late Arthur P. I. Samuels

Index

More information

- Hamilton, Joseph, member of the Club, 143, 207 (see Club Minutes passim, App. I, 225–295)
- Harding, Ambrose, friend of Burke's father, 50; his clerk's suicide, 51; mentioned in Richard Burke's will, 405
- Harrington, Earl, Lord-Lieutenant, 187, 194 (see Lucas Controversy)
- Hastings, John, F.T.C.D., 94
- Hawley, General, 89, 247
- Hazlitt, on Burke and Lord Egmont, 211
- Helim to Aram, letters, 61–63
- Helvidius Priscus, 190, 191, 336
- Henley, Dr, 177
- Hennessy, Miss Polly, 101
- Hennessy, Mrs, 97
- Herbert, Newcomen, a friend of Burke, 23, 25; describes comet of 1743, 26; referred to, 36, 40, 53; joint letter with Burke, 72; describes alarms in Dublin in 1745, 73; sails for East Indies, captured at sea, 74, 88; Burke's description of him, 78
- Hibernia*, magazine, 138
- Hiffernan, Dr Paul, The "Tickler," attacks on Sheridan and Lucas, 119; criticises the Reformer, 163, 309; the Lucas Controversy, 171, 172, 182, 309, 336
- Hill, Hugh, enters T.C.D. along with Burke, 20, 21
- Hissing, in theatres, 169, 305
- Historical Club (see College Historical Society), 26, 64, 134, 203, 205
- Homer, 22, 24, 100, 167, 302, 303, 357
- Horace, 22, 23, 24, 80, 83, 193, 358
- Huguenots at Ballitore, 39, 55
- Huske, General, 247
- Hutcheson, Francis, on Beauty and Virtue, 212
- Ikerrin, Lord and Lady, portraits by Sisson, 102
- Immoral plays, 168, 169, 299, 300, 321
- Ireland (see Boeotia), (see Dependence of Ireland)
- Ireland Sixty Years Ago*, 74, 113
- Irish manufactures, 169, 234, 306, 307
- Jacobite rising (1745–6), 89, 90, 217, 244
- Johnson, Dr, commends Lucas, 202
- Jones, Henry ("The Bricklayer"), poem on Booth's lectures, 66
- Jonson, Ben, Burke's admiration for, 166, 301
- Judge, tenure, 185, 187; office of, 394
- Julia and Belinda*, Shackleton's poem, 45, 151, 153, 164
- Justice*, article by "B" in Censor, 394
- Juvenal, 24, 98, 100, 106, 129, 386
- Kearney, Benjamin (Attorney), 58, 152
- Kearney, Rev. John (F.T.C.D.), Pro-vost, 152
- Kearney, Rev. Michael (F.T.C.D.), 24, 27, 64, 65; on T.C.D. matriculation, 24; examined by Burke, 152
- Keatinge, Maurice, duel with Dillon, 76
- Kirkman's Don Bellianis of Greece, 45–48
- Kissing, on stage, 168, 304
- Labourers, Irish, miserable condition, 172, 316
- La Touche, James Digges, 186, 188, 193, 202 (see The Naked Truth pamphlet, 356–360)
- Lecky, on Burke in T.C.D., 135; the Annual Register, 216
- Lecturer Lectured, The*, skit on Dr J. Taylor, 86
- Lee, Nathaniel, "fustian tragedies," 166, 169, 300, 304
- Leland, Thomas, F.T.C.D., 94
- Letter to a Member of Parliament*, 198, 372
- Letter to the Cork Surgeon*, 202, 388
- Letter to the Duke of Dorset*, 199, 301, 376–385, 388
- Letters to the Citizens of Dublin, The*, 195, 196, 199; First, 363–371; Second, 372–384
- Lettres Persanes*, Montesquieu's, 60
- Liberty of the Press, 196, 197, 370
- Liffey, its "dead dogs," 36; floods, 63, 83
- Litten, Anthony, The Cork Surgeon, 182, 189, 364, 388 (see Cox, Sir Richard)
- London Evening Post*, description of Burke, 14, 402; misunderstanding and correspondence between Burke and R. Shackleton, 15, 398–401
- Longinus, 109, 126, 178, 394
- Lovat, Lord, debate in Club, 231
- Love, 51–53
- Love for Love*, Congreve's play, 301
- Lucas Detected*, by Sir James Taylor, 182
- Lucas, Charles, defends students' action in theatre riot, 118, 119; The Book of the Prophet Lucas, 120; the Lucasian controversy, 180–202; his pamphlets, 181; groundless legend that Burke opposed him, 180; his style, 182; The Dublin Apothecary (Lucas) mistaken for the Cork Surgeon (Sir Richard Cox), 183; the Dublin Corporation, 185; contest with Aldermen, 186; refused a Quo Warranto, 186; The Complaints of Dublin, 187; Earl Harrington, 187, 194; attacks on Chief Justice Marlay, 187; Irish dependence, 188, 358; La Touche and Lucas, candidates for Parliament, 188; Lucas' petition to George II, 188; refused by Lord Justices, 189; the Censor, 189, 389; the Free Briton's pamphlets, 190; Epaminondas, 191, 332; Sir R. Cox carries resolution that Lucas is an enemy to his country, 194; Chief Justice Marlay's charge, 195; Lucas flies,

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-66755-6 - The Early Life Correspondence and Writings of the Rt. Hon. Edmund Burke LL.D.: With a Transcript of the Minute Book of the Debating "Club" Founded by him in Trinity College Dublin

The Late Arthur P. I. Samuels

Index

More information

INDEX

415

- 195; Aristides, 197, 198, 371; M.P., M.D. honoris causa, 198
- Lucas Controversy Pamphlets (1748–1749) (submitted as Burke's), Appendix III, 332–395
- A Free Briton's Advice to the Free Citizens of Dublin*, no. I, 331; an individual may rouse a nation from despondency; Thrasybulus, Phocion, Epaminondas, 332; Fabricius, 333; Cincinnatus, Regulus, Cato, 334; appeal to citizens of Dublin; the spirit of liberty, 335; dangers of corruption, 336; Helvidius Priscus, 336
- A Free Briton's Advice*, etc., no. II, 337–342; the constitution—the property of every individual, 337; balance of power in the community, 338; sketch of the constitution of republican Rome; nobles and commoners; the Valerian law; the consuls and tribunes, 339; lessons for Dublin, 340; the spirit of liberty, 341; the mean between faction and licence, 342
- A Free Briton's Advice*, etc., no. III, 342–348; the Roman constitution (continued), 343; struggles of the factions, 344–346; warning to Dublin citizens, 347; freedom of election must be preserved, 348; a dawn of liberty, 348
- A Free Briton's Advice*, etc., no. IV, 349–355; the fall of the Roman Republic, 349–352; “patriotism sickened, corruption forged, and faction rivetted the fetters,” 352; warning to Dublin; the methods of corrupters, bribery of classes, self enslavement of the community, 353; appeal to the Dublin electors, 355
- The Naked Truth*, etc. etc., 356–362; the coming election, 356; Lucas described, 357–360; La Touche described, 360, 361; appeal to the electors to support them, 362
- A Letter to the Citizens of Dublin*, 363–371; “Court Patriots,” 364; the Cork Surgeon examined; “pernicious tendency and absurdity of his writings,” 364; his doctrine of dependency, 365–369; the woollen manufacture, 367; his slanders on Lucas and Dublin, 369; freedom of the press, 370; Lucas compared to Aristides, 371
- A Second Letter to the Citizens of Dublin*, and Letter to a Member of Parliament, 372–375; the patriot Prince; the tottering constitution, 373; the directors and tools of corruption, 373; an intrepid minority, 374; necessity for a coalition, 375; The Second Letter, etc., 375–384; the Court Patriot again, 376; the furious patriot of 1731 contrasted with the supple courtier of 1749
- The Letter to the Duke of Dorset* (1731), an analysis and comparison, 376–379; a review of the British constitution, 379; A Patriot Commonalty, 380–384
- A Patriot's Letter to the Duke of Dorset* (1731), etc. with A Dedication to the Cork Surgeon, 385, 386; Machiavel's politics outdone, 386; the Cork Surgeon's dream, 386
- A Letter to the Cork Surgeon*, 388; Peter Wilson's advertisement, 388
- The Censor*, no. VIII, patriotism and faction; Brutus' letter to Cicero, 390; no. X, the teachings of history, Cyrus, The Cyropedia, 391; no. XIII, Fame, Themistocles, Athens, Phocion, Xenophon, a saying of Socrates, 392, 393; no. XXII, Fame (continued), Pompey, Epaminondas, the phases of vanity, 394; no. XXIII, judges and the administration of justice, 394; Reference to Lucas and Chief Justice Marlay, 395
- Machiavel, the Cork Surgeon outdoes, 386
- MacKnight, Thomas, Life of Burke, on Burke in T.C.D., 135; rejects legend that Burke attacked Lucas, 180; on Burke and Shakespeare, 166
- Maevius (Burke), 133, 134
- Malebranche, 68
- Mallow races, 78
- Marlay, Chief Justice (see Lucas), 185; charge to Dublin Grand Jury, 195, 197, 395 (see Liberty of the Press)
- Mechel, the dancer, 169, 395
- Meddler, The, a Dublin miscellany, 50, 61; letters from Helim to Aram, 61, 63
- Microcosm, the, 23, 27
- Milton, Sin and Death, 161, 297; Il Penseroso, 221; read in the Club, 138, 230, 233, 250; Molock's speech, 266; Satan's speech, 277, 288, 293; 386, 388, 391
- Mirza* (Burke), 59
- Mohun, Mathew, member of Club, 139; first president, 203; 207 (see Club Minutes passim, 225–295)
- Monanimy, 2, 8
- Montesquieu, 60
- Moore, Edward, his play The Foundling, 174, 321
- Morley, Lord, 36, 98, 180, 181, 214, 215
- Mulla, river, 9, 111
- Murray, John, schoolfellow of Burke, 54
- Nagle, Mary, mother of Edmund Burke (see Burke, Mary)
- Nagles, of Ballyduff, 5; see Richard Burke's will, 407

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-66755-6 - The Early Life Correspondence and Writings of the Rt. Hon. Edmund Burke LL.D.: With a Transcript of the Minute Book of the Debating "Club" Founded by him in Trinity College Dublin

The Late Arthur P. I. Samuels

Index

More information

- Naked Truth, The, or Lucas and La Touche Set Forth, etc.*, pamphlet, 191, 192, 356–362 (see Lucas Controversy Pamphlets)
- Napier, Sir Joseph, on Burke's birth-place, 1
- Noel (or O'Neill), Mr, usher at Ballitore, 34; ordained, 44
- Nonsense Verse, Burke's, 31
- North Wall, the, Burke's description, 37
- Nugent, Jane Mary, Burke's wife, 211, 404; visits Ballitore, 18, 19; "Jenny," 397; his annoyance at her being mentioned in London Evening Post, 398
- O'Halloran, Burke's hedge school-master, 8, 215
- Ormond Quay, 3 Lower, Burke's father's residence, 106, 405
- Orpen (or Orpin), Richard, enters T.C.D. with Burke, 20, 21; gains scholarship, 23
- Otway, the dramatist, 167, 302
- Ovid, 13, 110
- Oxford, 25, 29, 75, 112
- Painting, Burke's declamation on, 248
- Palmerin of England*, 46, 47
- Parliament, Irish (1748–1750), 183–185
- Passions, debate on, 236, 257, 268
- Patriot Parliament, 200, 380–384
- Pellisier, Rev. John, D.D., F.T.C.D., Burke's tutor, 22, 77
- Penal laws; attorneys, 6; marriage, 7
- Petronius, 176, 314, 325
- Phaeton*, Shackleton's poem, 123; criticised by Burke, 108, 109, 122, 127, 150
- Philomaths, 8, 9
- Philosophy and poetry, debate, 248
- Phoenix Park, 35
- Plautus, 129
- Plutarch, 197, 221, 371
- Poems, by Burke, Blackwater, 9, 10, 19, 111; Ballitore, 17, 156; Theocritus' Idyll, 19; Verse Nonsense, 31; "Soon as Aurora," 35–37; Astronomy, 40; Almighty Self Love, 53; "As when some cloud," 59; on Dr Taylor, 87; translation of the Second Georgic, 91, 92, 153; Dennis Turning Critick, 131–133; Damer, 147; "O Yes! O Yes!" 162, 298
- Poems on Several Occasions* (1748), Burke's contributions, 146, 150; Shackleton's Julia and Belinda, 45, 151, 153, 164; Burke's Second Georgic, 92, 153; Dennis Turning Critick, 133
- Poet's Dream*, by R. Shackleton, 140, 150
- Pope, Dunciad, 29, 50, 104; Ethic Epistles, 53; on Wit, 111, 301
- Portarlington school, 39
- Portora school, 131
- Press, liberty of, 197, 370
- Prior, Sir James, Life of Burke, on date of Burke's birth, 1; plagiarism, 14; the Panegyric on Damer, 54; excerpts from Burke's letters, 113, 114, 138, 139, 147, 153, 156; Burke and Lucas controversy, 180, 183; Life of Goldsmith, 137
- Prior, Sir Thomas, founder of Royal Dublin Society, 49; Essay on Tar Water, 49; List of Absentees, 52, 53, 252
- Priscus (see Helvidius Priscus)
- Prose and poetry, contrasted, 176, 325
- Pyrrick dances, 174, 320
- Pythagoras, 323
- Quinn, in Hamlet, 174
- Raleigh, Sir Walter, 9
- Ramist philosophy, 28, 29
- Ramsay, Mr, 42, 44
- Raphael's St Paul at Athens, 248
- Reformer*, the, see Chapter IV, 160–179, and for Burke's articles, App. II, 297–329; no. 1, revolt against dulness; depravation of taste and morals; Boeotia; design of the Reformer; Gothic barbarism across the channel; our fallen brethren of England; a proclamation, 161, 162, 297–299; no. 2, Sheridan and the Irish stage, 166; his reforms; objectionable plays, 299; Farquhar, Cibber, Centlivre, 300; constituents of good comedy; Vanbrugh, Congreve, Wycherley; appreciation of Ben Jonson, 301; on tragedy; the "divine Shakespeare"; Otway, Dryden, Rowe, Addison, Beaumont and Fletcher, 301; no. 3, actors' faults, 168; their alterations in plays; the Witches' scene, Macbeth, 303; kissing; stage abuses and buffooneries; the audience; taste for the vicious and unnatural, 304; hissing and clapping; stage butchery; spectators rather than an audience; harlequinades, 305; no. 4, public spirit, 169, 306; home manufactures; "funds for folly, none for science," 307; poem On the Several Conditions of Life, 170, 308; the Cold Bath advertisement, 308; no. 5, the Tickler's criticism, 171, 309; a round of the coffee houses, 310; opinions on the Reformer, 311; no. 6, the state of literature, 172; learning v. lucre, 312; no. 7, condition of the peasantry, 172, 314; the labourers, 316; graziers, 317; a resident landlord, 317; no. 8, experience teaches wisdom; the "Smarts" on the Reformer, 173, 318; Sir Dilberry Diddle to Jacky Wagtail, 173, 319; Sheridan in All for Love; the Pyrrick dance, 174,

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-66755-6 - The Early Life Correspondence and Writings of the Rt. Hon. Edmund Burke LL.D.: With a Transcript of the Minute Book of the Debating "Club" Founded by him in Trinity College Dublin

The Late Arthur P. I. Samuels

Index

More information

INDEX

417

- 320; epigram on Foote, 320; no. 10, The Suspicious Husband; The Foundling; comedies of the day; The Conscious Lovers; The Careless Husband, 322; the "Weeping Comedy"; Dryden's plots, 174, 324; no. 11, an Easter homily, 175, 323; morality and revealed religion; infidelity and blind zeal, 324; no. 12, literary standards; "spirit"; prose and verse, 176, 325; the "Damning Critics," 326; no. 13, the Foolish Miscellany, 177, 327; smatterers, 177, 328
- Religious views, Burke's, 56–59, 175, 252, 323, 404
- Restoration dramatists, 166, 300, 301, 320, 321
- Rhames, Aaron, the printer, 88
- Ringsend, Burke describes, 34, 37
- Riots, theatre, 113–121; Black Dog, 143, 247, 251
- Roscommon, Lord, poet, 157, 314
- Rowe, Nicholas, tragedies, 167
- Royal Dublin Society, 49, 89, 147, 169, 307
- St James' Parish, Dublin, extracts from register, 3, 4
- Sallust, 24, 100, 129
- Sands, Edward, 42
- Schism, 59
- Schoolmaster's Letter*, 191, 336
- Sermon on the Mount, Burke's commonplace on, 56, 252
- Several Conditions of Life*, poem, 170, 308
- Sforza, Duke of Milan, 315
- Shackleton, Abraham, Burke's schoolmaster, 10, 58; described, 11; opens Ballitore School, 12–16; Burke's admiration for, 17, 18, 44, 58, 76, 94, 95, 213; poetic allusions to, 17, 159
- Shackleton, Richard, Burke's friendship with, 14–16; educated at T.C.D., 15, 16, 207; description of Burke in London Evening Post, 14, 15, 402; correspondence as to this, App. V, 398–401; Ballitore School, 12, 16, 17; his imitation of Theocritus, 19; Poems on Several Occasions, 19, 150, 153; flirtation with Juliana Burke, 41, 45; Dulcinea's commands to, 48; poem on Julia and Belinda, 45, 151, 153, 164; love is self love, 51, 52; admiration for Burke's Damer, 54, 147; discusses religion with Burke, 56–59; Zelim, 59; "Have brutes souls?" 67, 70; his faulty syllogism, 70, 71; his love disappointment, 79; Burke troubled by his silence, 79–81; sympathises with him, 82; Burke advises him on reading the classics, 100–102; Phaeton, 108, 109, 122, 127, 150; The Poet's Dream, 140, 150; nicknamed "Blarney," 143; list of his poems as preferred by Burke, 150; Dedicatory Ode to Poems on Several Occasions, 152, 154; Burke's criticism of Julia and Belinda, 164; our "Anacreon," 163; contributes to the Reformer, 174; marries Elizabeth Fuller, 178; Burke's Epithalamium, 178; Dennis' letters to, referring to Burke's marriage, 211; and his writing for the "Great Ones," 212; The Sublime and Beautiful, 212; oration on Poverty, 141, 251; debates in Club as a Roman, 241; on the Decalogue, 242; permitted to wear his hat, 274; Latin Verses, 191
- Shakespeare, 100, 166, 167, 301, 302, 303, 370
- Sheer*, poem by Shackleton, 140
- Sheridan, Dr, "The Irish Hippocrates," 221
- Sheridan, Rev. Thomas, D.D., 113
- Sheridan, Thomas, Sch. T.C.D., Smock Alley theatre, 113, 116; supported by T.C.D. students, theatre riots, 113–120; his apology, 121; Burke criticises him, 122, 164, 168, 174, 299; Dennis' contest with, 212; All for Love, 174, 320 (see Reformer)
- Siris*, Bishop Berkeley's, 49
- Sisson, the artist, 26; member of Correspondence Club, 26, 72, 78; of the triumvirate, 78; companionship with Burke, 102; portraits of speaker Boyle and Lord and Lady Ikerrin, 102; of Richard Shackleton, 103
- Slator, John, 38
- Smiglecius, 29
- Smith, Matthew, correspondence with Burke, 217–224
- Spectator*, the, 48, 60, 61, 77, 83, 173, 233; on Fame, 248
- Spenser, Edmund, 9
- Starkie, Walter, 207
- Steele, Sir Richard, the "Weeping" Comedy, 175, 322
- Stratford, Euseby, abuses Ballitore School, 95
- Sublime and Beautiful*, The, 40, 45, 52, 136, 141, 166, 178, 248, 392; its influence on Lessing and Kant, 137; Dennis' reference to, 142; his criticism, 212; Shackleton's copy, 213
- Suspicious Husband*, The, Hoadley's play, 321
- Swift, Dean, 29, 61, 112, 131, 157
- Taste, 45, 325
- Taylor, Dr ("Chevalier"), the oculist, 65; "an arrant quack," 85; Dr Johnson on, 85; his puffs, 86; The Lecturer Lectured, 86; Burke's poem, 87
- Terence, 24, 100, 129

- The Tickler, 119, 163, 171, 172, 182, 309, 336
Thoughts on Scarcity, 291
Ticklish points; debates in C.H.S., 235, 237
Tisdall, Michael, 145
Todd, Rev. H., Life of Milton, 206, 266
Triumvirate, club, 78, 88
“U,” a signature of Burke in the Reformer, 160, 308, 324
Undertakers, the, 183
Utopia, Rev. George Crump’s poem, 155
Vanbrugh, 166, 300
Vergil, 22, 24, 40, 92, 100, 153, 167
Victor, Sheridan’s manager, 113
Voiture, 60, 106, 209
Walker, Rev. John, D.D., F.T.C.D., 206
Waller, Edmund, 54, 104, 107, 147
Walsh, John E., Right Hon., Ireland Sixty Years Ago, 74, 113
Walsh, Richard (“Gallows”), and Black Dog Riot, 144, 145
Walsh, Ven. Robert, D.D., history of C.H.S., 204
Wellington, Duke of, at Portarlington school, 39
Westminster Abbey, 221
Weston, secretary to Earl Harrington, 194
Wilder, Rev. Theaker, F.T.C.D., examines Burke; Goldsmith’s tutor; anecdotes of, 74–76
Wilson, C. H., Beauties of Burke, 13
Wilson, Peter, advertisement as to the Cork Surgeon, 388
Woffington, Peg, 181, 221, 223
Wood, Atwell, 145
Woollen trade, 199, 201, 234, 235, 237, 367, 376, 387
Wycherley’s plays, 166, 301
Xenophon, 24, 100, 105, 106, 391, 393
Yelverton, Barry, Lord Avonmore, 208
Young, “his fustian tragedies,” 166, 300
Zeal for liberty, to be treated tenderly, 193, 358
Zelim (Richard Shackleton), Burke’s letter to, 59