

Contents

Illustrations	page viii
Maps	x
Acknowledgements	xi
Glossaries	xiii
Chronology	xxvii
Preface to the second edition: Towards 2020	xxxiii
Introduction	I
1 Zionism and security	10
Zionism beyond demonization	10
The need for security	23
Jewish socialism and Arab nationalism	30
2 The Hebrew republic	38
The end of empire	38
Defeat and victory in 1948	43
Exile and return	49
3 New immigrants and first elections	54
The survivors	54
Jewish immigration into Palestine	62
The first elections	65
The dominance of Mapai	70
4 The politics of piety	78
The balancing act	78
Who is a Jew?	85
The arrival of the Sephardim	91
5 Retaliation or self-restraint	98
Ben-Gurion, Sharett and Dayan	98
The developing schism	102

	Nasser's metamorphosis	108
	Stalin's embrace	109
	The return of Ben-Gurion	112
	The search for arms	114
	The road to Suez	119
6	The rise of the Right	123
	The Six Day war	123
	Destroying Mapai from within	125
	Out of the underground	130
	The ideology of occupation	134
	Judea and Samaria	141
7	The road to Beirut	147
	Menachem Begin's leadership	147
	Who are the Palestinians?	150
	The reality of negotiations	156
	A more radical hue	165
8	Dissent at home and abroad	175
	The end of consensus	175
	The peace camp	181
	Traditional diaspora opinions	186
	A new assertive generation	191
9	An insurrection before a handshake	198
	The man from Lehi	198
	A new path for the Palestinians	201
	The outbreak of the Intifada	203
	An Israeli awakening	207
	The fall and rise of ideology	211
	Constraining the Prime Minister	213
	From Kuwait to Madrid	220
10	The end of ideology?	227
	The problem solver	227
	The Oslo breakthrough	232
	The PLO in crisis	236
11	The killing of a Prime Minister	244
	The return of the rejectionists	244
	The Right's backlash	255
	Rabbis and ayatollahs	262
12	The magician and the bulldozer	267
	The virtual and the real Likud	267

Contents

vii

	A return to Camp David	275
	A long walk to disaster	281
	The descent into the abyss	284
13	‘He does not stop at the red light’	289
	2001: A Sharon odyssey	289
	The Palestinian struggle within	298
	Islamism ascending	307
	Disengagement from Gaza	314
14	An unlikely grandfather	321
	Ideology and evacuation	321
	Separating from the Palestinians	325
	Between pragmatism and ideology	330
	Olmert’s arrival and Hamas’s ascent	335
	The rise of Hezbollah	341
15	A brotherly conflict	350
	The aftermath of the Lebanon war	350
	The taking of Gaza	354
	A Syrian bomb?	359
	Teheran and the missile war	362
16	Bialik’s bequest?	368
	The calm before the storm	368
	Operation Cast Lead	372
	Goldstone in the quagmire	380
17	Stagnation and isolationism	388
	Blockades and flotillas	388
	Settlers and settlements	393
	Dithering in the White House?	400
18	An Arab Spring and an Israeli winter?	405
	A downward spiral?	405
	Israel and the Arab Spring	410
	An unknown future	417
	Bibliography	421
	Index	427