CAMBRIDGE LIBRARY COLLECTION

Books of enduring scholarly value

Cambridge

The city of Cambridge received its royal charter in 1201, having already been home to Britons, Romans and Anglo-Saxons for many centuries. Cambridge University was founded soon afterwards and celebrates its octocentenary in 2009. This series explores the history and influence of Cambridge as a centre of science, learning, and discovery, its contributions to national and global politics and culture, and its inevitable controversies and scandals.

Athenae Cantabrigienses

The Athenae Cantabrigienses was the most ambitious of several large writing projects undertaken by Charles Henry Cooper, a keen historian, successful lawyer and town clerk of Cambridge in the mid-nineteenth century. He enlisted the help of his elder son, Thompson Cooper, for this book, a collection of carefully-researched biographies of distinguished figures with Cambridge connections, inspired by Anthony Wood's Athenae Oxonienses (1692). Two volumes were published during Cooper senior's lifetime, but only 60 pages of the third volume (ending in 1611) appeared in print, and he died leaving an enormous quantity of notes. Even in its incomplete state, the work contains about seven thousand biographies; their subjects include clergymen, military commanders, judges, artists, scholars and benefactors of the University. Volume 2, originally published in 1861, covers the period 1586-1609.

Cambridge University Press has long been a pioneer in the reissuing of out-of-print titles from its own backlist, producing digital reprints of books that are still sought after by scholars and students but could not be reprinted economically using traditional technology. The Cambridge Library Collection extends this activity to a wider range of books which are still of importance to researchers and professionals, either for the source material they contain, or as landmarks in the history of their academic discipline.

Drawing from the world-renowned collections in the Cambridge University Library, and guided by the advice of experts in each subject area, Cambridge University Press is using state-of-the-art scanning machines in its own Printing House to capture the content of each book selected for inclusion. The files are processed to give a consistently clear, crisp image, and the books finished to the high quality standard for which the Press is recognised around the world. The latest print-on-demand technology ensures that the books will remain available indefinitely, and that orders for single or multiple copies can quickly be supplied.

The Cambridge Library Collection will bring back to life books of enduring scholarly value across a wide range of disciplines in the humanities and social sciences and in science and technology.

THE reception of our former volume was gratifying. We trust that this may be no less acceptable.

Our special thanks are due to Henry Bradshaw, esq., M.A. fellow of King's college, for numerous extracts from the records of that society; to the Rev. William George Clark, M.A. public orator, for the loan of the books containing the letters written on behalf of the university by his predecessors in office; to the Rev. John Eyton Bickersteth Mayor, M.A. fellow of S. John's college, for access to the ancient register of that house containing the admission of officers, fellows, scholars, and other members; and to the Rev. Joseph Romilly. M.A. registry of the university.

We are under continued obligations to many of the gentlemen mentioned in the preface to our first volume. We have also the pleasure to acknowledge assistance received from several anonymous correspondents, and from John Thomas Abdy, esq., LL.D. Regius professor of laws; Robert Ascroft, esq. town clerk of Preston; the Rev. Edward Atkinson, D.D. master of Clare college; Henry Blenkinsop, esq. of Warwick; the Rev. Mynors Bright, M.A. fellow and tutor of Magdalen college; the Rev. Thomas Brocklebank, M.A. fellow of King's college; Edward S. Byam, esq.; the Rev. James Cartmell, D.D. master of Christ's college; Richard Caulfield, esq., B.A. of Cork; the Rev. William Keatinge Clay, B.D. vicar of Waterbeach; John Payne Collier, esq., F.S.A.; the Rev. Basil Henry Cooper, B.A.; the Rev. John William Donaldson, D.D.; the Rev. Roger Dawson Dawson-Duffield, M.A.; the Rev. Henry Thomas Ellacombe, M.A. rector of Clyst S. George; the Rev.
