

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

INDEX.

B

I N D E X.

AGNUS DEI; singular copy of, in the library of Sir F. Freeling, Bart., 943.

ALBANS, ST.; conjecture as to the spot where the ancient press was established, 378; extreme rarity of some of the books printed there, 378; residence and monument of the famous Lord Bacon, in its vicinity.

ALBION TAVERN; costly Symposium of the Roxburghe Club at this tavern, in 1818, 470.

ALTHORP; description of the House and Park, 557—565; of the work called Ædes Althorpianae, 566, &c.

AMES; Herbert's interleaved copy of, 280.

AMYOT, THOS. Esq.; his assistance in the composition of the Library Companion, 716, 721; letters upon its publication, 722-3.

ANDREWES, late DEAN of CANTERBURY; his talents as a preacher, &c., 173.

ANGELINA; a sincere friend of the Author, 895.

APPLEYARD, MR.; the first to make the Author acquainted with the death of Earl Spencer, 451.

ARCH, Messrs. J. and A., Booksellers; their purchase of copies of the Ædes Althorpianae, Bibliographical Decameron, and Tour, 569, 600, 660; their commendation of the Library Companion, 719; visit to them in Cornhill, 906.

AUDINET, MR.; his personal knowledge of the old Engravers, 902.

AUSTIN, ST.; magnificent MS. of the De Civitate Dei, in the library of the Duke of Sussex, 944.

AUTOGRAPHS, fac similes of; Charles Butler, 131; North, Bishop of Winchester, 170; Dr. Jenner, 202; Colonel Johnes, 304; Dr. Ferriar, 304; W. Roscoe, 335; Duke of Roxburghe, 352; George Nicol, 353; Richard Heber, 436; late Earl Spencer, 451; six members of the Société des Bibliophiles Français, at Paris, 478; James Edwards, 515; Roger Wilbraham, 534; Chevalier D'Elci, 542; James Boswell, 571; Robert Surtees, 571; T. De Ocheda, 594; Charles O'Connor, 612; Sir Joseph Banks, 619; James Bindley, 622; J. Gutch, 624; M. J. Routh, 791; Henry Kett, 792; Thos. Rennell, 796; Archdeacon Nares, 835; Dr. Jebb, Bishop of Limerick, 836; Sir Thomas Lawrence, 837; Mons. I. B. M. Gence, 839; Lord Grenville, 850; late Bishop of Hereford, 871; Sir James Mackintosh, 883; Alexander Chalmers, 899; Rev. James Dalway, 905; Lord Darnley, husband of Mary Queen of Scots, 945.

BABINGTON, REV. MR; his collations of the early editions of Horace at Spencer House, 507.

BACON, CAPTAIN NATHANIEL; intimate and dear friend of the author's father and mother, 32; tribute of respect to his memory, 33.

BAGSTER, MR., Bookseller; his spirited purchases of copies of the Bibliographical Decameron, 622.

BAILEY, late MR., Editor of the Museum; his sudden death, 713.

BALE, REV. J. SACKVILLE; his letter respecting the Bibliographical Decameron, 643.

BALME, late REV. EDMUND; one of the residuary legatees of the late Mr. Nollekens, 637.

BANNATYNE CLUB; some account of, 471-3; comparison

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

INDEX.

5

between the Bannatyne, Maitland, and Roxburghe Clubs, 476.

BARRIERE, LE, a late Emigrant; his powers of English composition, 97.

BARTSCH, late ADAM DE; his aid to the author, and respect for his memory, 666-8.

BELL, REV. DR.; his System of National Education compared with Lancaster's, 233.

BELINDA; her parties in P. P., 908.

BERNARD, late SIR THOMAS, BART.; some account of, 230, 234; first meeting of Coleridge at his house, 253.

BIBLIOGRAPHICAL DECAMERON; origin of the work so called, 596; history of that publication, 653-690; Decameron banquet, 625, 630; extraordinary illustrated copy of, 649-52.

BIBLIOMANIA; first symptoms of, 192; first and second editions of the work so entitled, with specimens, 271, 288, 337; the reprint urged by an anonymous writer, 343.

BIBLIOMANIÆ AMATOR; letter from, in the Gentleman's Magazine, 328-9.

BIBLIOPHILES FRANCAIS, SOCIÉTÉ DES; established at Paris on the plan of the Roxburghe Club, 476; their publications, 477-80; fac similes of the autographs of six members, subscribers to the Author's works, 478.

BIBLIOPHOBIA, 855, &c.; illustrated copy of, 899; Valpy, late Rev. Dr., his school at Reading, 46; sale of his library, and extracts from the notes of his catalogue of the same, 885-8.

BIBLIOTHECA SPENCERIANA; its announcement, 492-3, 521; its prosperous sale, 528; fate of the fourth volume, 529-42; beauty of its typographical execution, 413.

BINDLEY, late JAMES, ESQ.; under the character of LEONTES in the Bibliomania, 294; the same, in the Bibliographical Decameron, 622; his portrait by Mr. Behnes, 617; his letters in the Bibliographical Decameron, with autograph, 620-2.

BISCHOFF, JOHN, ESQ; his letter respecting his ancestor Froben, 628.

BISHOPS; their resignation on a retiring pension, 164.

BLAKE, late —, the Artist; his extraordinary talents, 785-7; Mr. D'Israeli's letter upon his very extensive collection of his performances, 788.

BLISS, REV. DR.; his congratulations on the prosperous sale of the Bibliographical Decameron, 613.

BOCCACCIO of 1471; anecdote connected with the second sale of it, 357; celebrity of its first sale, 360.

BOCCACCIO of 1472; its presumed greater rarity than the previous edition, 361.

BOHN, MR. JAMES; his catalogue commended, 420.

BOLLAND, MR. BARON; formation of the Roxburghe Club takes place at his house, 368-9; presents the Club with their first book, 379.

BOOK-RARITIES; the foundation of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, 484; prefix or address to the same, 486; late Earl Spencer's commendatory notice of it, 487.

BOSWELL, late SIR ALEXANDER, BART.; his letter to Mr. Markland, and melancholy end, 381-3.

BOSWELL, late JAMES; his edition of Shakspeare, 384; his death, 386; his letter to Mr. Markland, and ballad entitled a Roxburghe Garland, 389-91; his reply touching the Æd. Althorp., 570; on the reception of the invitation to the Decameron banquet, 625; his pithy note, and fac simile of his autograph, 571.

BRINGTON, village and church of, in the immediate neighbourhood of Althorp, 576; respect of the parishioners for their late Noble Master, 584.

INDEX.

7

BROWNE, DR. JAMES, of Edinburgh; his ability as an Epistolographer, 435; extract from one of his letters, ibid.

BRYDGES, SIR SAM. EGERTON, BART.; his letter to the Author on the publication of the Bibliomania, 305.

BUCK, GEORGE; his zeal as Churchwarden in the Author's parish, and propounder of the National School therein, 809.

BUCKINGHAM, DUKE OF, K. G.; his letter to the Author, respecting the Bibliographical Decameron, 610.

BUCKLAND, MR. PROFESSOR; his lectures commended, 119; a species of hyæna yet to be described by him.

BULMER, late WILLIAM, Printer; his estimate of the cost of publishing the Book-Rarities, 489; beauty of the printing of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, 513.

BURTON'S Anatomy of Melancholy, 90.

BURY, RICHARD DE; translation of his Philobiblon, 86.

BUTLER, late CHARLES, ESQ.; his legal and literary attainments, 129-131.

BUTLER, REV. ARCHDEACON; view of the public school at Shrewsbury, 958; sketch of his private library, with facsimiles of some of his earlier printed books, 959-972; his extraordinary copy of the Opuscula Theologica of Melancthon, late in the library of Dr. Kloss, 966; his address on a meeting of the Zoological Society at Shrewsbury, 906.

BYFIELD, family of; engravers upon wood, 335.

BYRON, LORD; his Hours of Idleness, English Bards and Scotch Reviewers, and Childe Harold, 189.

BYZANTINE HISTORIANS; Mr. Heber's set of, 92.

CALCOTT, WM., R. A.; character of his paintings, 783.

CANNING, late RT. HON. GEORGE; his (supposed) farewell speech in the House of Commons, 709; account of that speech, and estimate of his oratorical powers, in the Museum, 710-13; his illness and death, 823-29; Lady Hester Lucy Stanhope's letter relating to him, 828.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

CANTERBURY, ARCHBISHOP of; his brief notice of the Library Companion, 724; his letter on the receipt of a copy of the Tour, 673; on the death of the Author's eldest son, 819.

CARLISLE, NICHOLAS; election to the Secretaryship of the Society of Antiquaries, 752.

CARR, late REV. W. H.; his letter on a sight of the first volume of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, 517; his magnificent collection of pictures, 410.

CASSANO CATALOGUE; some account of, 548-555; anecdote connected with the late Mr. Payne, on Earl Spencer's having purchased the Duke di Cassano's collection, 550.

CAWDOR, EARL; a member of the Roxburghe Club: his book contribution, 409.

CAXTON, WM. first English Printer; Lewis's and the Author's Life of, 273; monument to his memory erected by the Roxburghe Club, 386-8.

CHALMERS, late ALEXANDER; anecdote about the reprint of the Morte d'Arthur, 748; literary character of, 898.

CHANTREY, SIR FRANCIS; his bust of Sir Joseph Banks, 619; his celebrated monument in Litchfield Cathedral.

CHAPELS, PROPRIETARY; their odious tenure and regulation, 174.

CHELTENHAM, HISTORY OF; by the Author, 202.

CHILDREN, JOHN GEORGE, Esq.; his letter in approbation of the Author's work of "A Pastor's Advice to his Flock, 884; one of the Curators of the British Museum; his worth and attainments, 902.

CLASSICS, GREEK AND LATIN; Introduction to Editions of, 192; second edition of the work so entitled, 205; third and fourth editions, 211.

CLIVE, VISCOUNT; second President of the Roxburghe Club, 403; his book contribution to the Club, 463.

CLORINDA; a female friend of the Author, 896.

COLCHESTER, late LORD; his acknowledgment of a copy of the Decameron, 635.

COLERIDGE, the late poet; first editions of his earlier poems, 339; his Christabel, 340; Watchman, 340; his powers of conversation, 253-7.

COKE, SIR EDWARD; his high legal attainments, and bitterness of persecution of Raleigh, 128-9.

COKE, T. W. ESQ., of Holkham; his beautiful copy of the Italian Pliny of 1476, 505; other rarities in his library described by the late Earl Spencer, and by the late Mr. Roscoe 505.

COLLEGE FESTIVALS, or GAUDIES, 93.

COLLINS, MR., a Bookseller in Change Alley, 85.

COMBES, WILLIAM, ESQ.; his love of books and amiable character, 900.

COMPTON, late MRS. WILLIAM; her appreciation of the author's dramatic talents, 65; her verses upon a drawing of the late Sir Thomas Lawrence, when a lad, 782.

COMPTON, CAPTAIN, the Author's uncle; shipwreck of his vessel, the Verelst, with singular anecdote, 10.

COMPTON, WILLIAM, the Author's uncle; his description of his Sister, the Author's Mother, 8; uniform kindness to the Author, 43.

COPELSTON; see LLANDAFF.

COPLEY, late R. A., 151-2; anecdote of, with the Author, 151; account of some of his paintings, 150-2.

COVERDALE'S BIBLE of 1535; in the libraries of the Duke of Sussex, Marquis of Northampton, Miss Curren, and Sir F. Freeling, Bart., 922.

CRAPELET, MR.; his criticism upon the Tour, 671, 693.

CROKE, CHIEF JUSTICE; his Law Reports in the reigns of Elizabeth, James, and Charles, 129.

CROWE, late REV. WM., public Orator at Oxford; anecdote of, 245-6.

CUNNINGHAM, ALLAN; the poetic character of his numerous and useful publications, 720.

CURRER, MISS; early patronage of the Author, 278; patronage of the History of the University of Oxford, 356; description of her Library, with two copper-plates, 949-957; her publication (privately printed) of the Richardson Correspondence, 949-52; description of the furniture, pictures, and prints, at Eshton Hall, 952; catalogue of her library, privately printed, and generously distributed, 953-4; her more recent book-acquisitions, 955-6.

CURZON, HON. R.; sketch of his library, 941.

DALLAWAY, late REV. JAMES; anecdotes of, and letters from, 902-5.

DAMPIER, late BISHOP OF ELY; his library purchased by the Duke of Devonshire, 362-3; account of his library when an early collector, 363; anecdote of his late brother, a Prebendary of Ely, 363.

DARKE, late MR. CHARLES; merchant at Madras, 30; in possession of the bond of the Nabob of Arcot, given in favour of the Author's father; appropriates the assets to his own use, without accounting for the same, 31; marries his daughter to General Floyd, father-in-law of the present Sir Robert Peel, ibid.

DARNLEY, EARL; fac simile of his autograph, 945.

DAVY, late SIR HUMPHREY, BART.; his love of poetry, 188; his serious illness, and address of the Author on the occasion to the auditory of the Royal Institution, 247-9; appreciation of his character, 227-8.

DAVIES, MR. JOHN; a Bookseller at Shrewsbury, 320.

DELAFIELD, late MR.; resident at Kensington, 743.

D'ELCI, COUNT; the friend and correspondent of the late Earl Spencer; account of his library by the latter; and his commendatory letter on the Bib. Spenceriana, 539-42.

DENMAN, LORD; counsel for the Author in defence of a law suit, 847.

DENNIS, DR.; President of St. John's College, 79.

DENT, late THOS., ESQ.; his library, 409.

DESK; the Author's companion, 167.

DEVONSHIRE, DUKE OF; his seat at Hardwicke, 563; accepts the dedication of the Bibliographical Decameron, 599; acknowledges the receipt of a copy, 634; spirited and liberal conduct at the sale of the Roxburghe library, and in the purchase of books, 356, 363-5.

DE THOU; some account of his library, 589.

DE VISME; family of, at Kensington, 742.

DIANE DE POICTIERS; portrait of, at Althorp, 564; private plate from the same; numerous copies of, by Mr. G. H. Freeling.

DIBDIN, THOMAS; the author's father. The "Tom Bowling" of his younger brother Charles, 2; commander of the "Eagle Galley," of 28 guns, in his twenty-fifth year, 5; marries his first wife, 6; becomes a widower in 1772; marries his second wife, ELIZABETH COMPTON, the author's mother, in 1775, 7; description of him by his second wife, 12; commands a large Indiaman, called the Diana, 13; convoys a large fleet of merchantmen, 15; scandalous conduct of the governor and council of Bombay in withholding remuneration, 17; loss of the Diana, 17; engagement, through Governor Strattan, with the Nabob of Arcot, 18; particulars of this important, but unfortunate engagement, and treatment of Governor Strattan; losses and embarrassments of Captain Dibdin, 19, 27; becomes master attendant at Nagore, 28; his anxiety to make this a valuable harbour, 29; is compelled to resign from ill-health, 30; affectionate letters of condolence on his departure, and death at the Cape of Good Hope, 35.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

DIBDIN, ELIZABETH (late COMPTON); the author's mother, 7; her person and accomplishments, 8-10; specimens of her poetry, 9-12; her description of her husband, 12; her acquaintances in India, 13; her letter of consolation to her husband, 14; her letter on the death of her husband, 35; dies broken-hearted at Middleburg, in Holland, 38; her will, 39.

DIBDIN, CHARLES; the author's uncle, 2; eulogium and specimens of his ballad-poetry, 2-4.

DIBDIN, PENELOPE, the author's aunt; letter to her sister-in-law, the first Mrs. Dibdin, 6.

DIBDIN, THOMAS FROGNALL, the Author: marriage of his parents by the first marriage-licence ever granted in India, 13; description of his parents, and their uniform misfortunes, 14-40; is born in Calcutta, and arrives in England after the decease of his parents on their voyage home, 42.

Chap. II.—SCHOOL-BOY DAYS: he is consigned to his uncle, Mr. Wm. Compton, 43; sent by him to the school of Mr. JOHN MAN, at Reading, 46; continues there, under very kind treatment from both master and mistress, till his eleventh year, 48; his passion for soldiering, 49; his love of reading history, and supposed earliest scintillations of the Bibliomania, 50; school-boy games, 51; fifth of November, 52; passion for drawing, 53; early school-books, 56; attachment to a school-fellow of the name of Sherwood, 57; poetry, in memory of the worth of that family, 57-9; fate of a school-fellow of the name of BILLINGHURST, 60; leaves Reading, and goes to a school at Stockwell, 62; application and practices of the master, 63; progress in education, 64; dramatic composition attempted, with singular anecdote, 65; zeal in painting stage-scenery, 66; removal from Stockwell to Dr. GREENLAW'S school, between Brent-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

INDEX.

13

ford and Isleworth, 67; progress in classics, 69; composition of English poetry; Twickenham meadows, 71-3; love of Homer's Iliad, 73; school-themes, 74; crisis of school-boy happiness, 76; removal to college, 77.

Chap. III.—COLLEGE LIFE, 78-120; entrance at St. John's College, Oxford, 79; college lectures, 81; appreciation college amusements, 81; favourite authors; and predominant attachment to Johnson and D'Israeli, 85-88; love of Rushworth, Burton, Henry, and Gibbon, 88-90; formation of a Society for Literary and Scientific Disquisition, nicknamed THE LUNATICS, 94; characters of several of its members, 98-105; installations of the Dukes of Portland and Wellington described, 106-111; illuminations on Lord Howe's victory of the 1st of June, 112; departure from Oxford, 114; degree of D. D. in 1825.

Chap. IV.—CHOICE OF A PROFESSION, 121-166; attendance on the courts of law during the practice of Bearcroft, Erskine, and Mingay, 121; anecdote of Lord Kenyon, 123; admitted a student of Lincoln's Inn, 125; associates at table, on keeping term, 130; is placed a pupil with Mr. Basil Montague, 134; analyses the first volume of Blackstone's Commentaries, 136; attachment to the arts, 136; intimacy with I. J. Masquerier, Esq., and Sir Robert Kerr Porter, 143; anecdote of Copley, and brief accounts of his more celebrated pictures, 151-2; chambers taken at Gray's Inn, and dearth of law business, 153; establishment at Worcester as a provincial counsel, 154-8; resignation of the law, and inclination for the church, 159; visit to Bishop Hurd at Hartlebury, 164; plan of studying, 164; ordination, by North, Bishop of Winchester, 166.

Chap. V.—AUTHORSHIP, 167, 203; engagement in a periodical paper, called The Quiz, 175; publication of Poems; history and result of publication, 176, 189; analysis of the first volume of Blackstone's Commentaries,

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

136, 190; Law of the Poor Rate, 191; rising symptoms of the Bibliomania, 192; Introduction to the Classics, 194; Tales, 195; acquaintance with the celebrated Dr. Jenner, 199, 200; Vaccinia, a poem in MS., 200; History of Cheltenham, 202.

Chap. VI.—PUBLICATIONS, 204, 337; second, third, and fourth editions of the Classics, 205, 214; Fenelon on the Education of Daughters, 215, 220; an evening lectureship at Brompton 221; rambles and reading in the neighbourhood of Kensington, 222; epistles of Scaliger, Vossius, and Casaubon, 222; old English divines, 223; Lectures at the Royal Institution, 225, 249; specimen of, 236; heads of the Twenty-eight Lectures delivered there, 239, 244; pronounces an eulogy on Sir Humphrey Davy, in announcing his recovery from a dangerous illness, 248; editor of a weekly periodical paper called The Director, 249, 250; acquaintance with the late Mr. Coleridge, 253-7; Quarles's Judgment and Mercy for Afflicted Souls, 258; specimens of the work, 260, 267; More's Utopia, 267, 271; the Bibliomania, first edition, 271; Typographical Antiquities, 273, 281-8; visits to the late Marquis of Bute, and to Luton, 275-6; society of the present KING OF THE FRENCH, 276; loss of the author's younger son, 280-4; completion of the Typographical Antiquities, 284-8; second edition of the Bibliomania, characters, extracts, commendatory letters of the author's friends on publication of that work, 288, 337.

Chap. VII.—ROXBURGHIANA, or the history of the rise and progress of the ROXBURGHE CLUB, 345, 481; its origin, 367-9; a few friends breakfast with the author on the day of the sale of the Boccaccio, 371; the first dinner of the club, on that day, at the St. Alban's tavern, 374; the first toasts, 375; second meeting, or first anniversary dinner, 376; the number of the club ultimately fixed, 378;

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

INDEX.

15

third meeting, and first donation of a book, 379; first vacancy in the club, by the death of the Rev. J. C. Heber, 380; second vacancy, by that of the Rev. Jas. Dodd, 380; death of the two Boswells, 380-391; the club erect a monument to the memory of William Caxton, the first English printer, 386-8; vacancies in the club filled up, 389; election of Sir Walter Scott under the name of the Author of Waverley, 398, 402; his demise, with that of Rob. Lang, Esq., and elections of B. Barnard, Esq., and Viscount Clive, 403; death of Mr. Roger Wilbraham, and election of Earl Cawdor, 404-8; death of Mr. Dent, and election of the Hon. and Rev. Nevil Grenville, 409; demise of Rev. W. H. Carr, and election of Dr. Hawtrey, 410-11; deaths of Mr. Haslewood and Mr. Heber, 413; vacancies occasioned by the same supplied by Archdeacon Butler and Sir Stephen Glynn, Bart., 447; death of the noble President, 448; election of Viscount Clive as his successor in the chair, and of the Duke of Buccleugh as a member of the club, 459; Publications of the Roxburghe Club, called The Roxburghe Garland, in the alphabetical order of their contributors, 462-9; fervent wish of the author for the PROSPERITY OF THE CLUB, 481.

Chap. VIII.—THE SPENCER LIBRARY, 482, 556; its precursor in the Book-Rarities, 484; severe application at Spencer House in the composition of the Bibliotheca Spencer., 494-6, 508; ill health in consequence of severity of application, 509; departure for Ramsgate, and composition of a poem called Bibliography, 510-11; resumption of Spencerian labours, 512-20; private circulation of the first volume, with the opinions of Mr. Edwards, Mr. R. Wilbraham, Mr. H. W. Carr, and the late Dr. Burney, 514-7; portion of the preface to the three volumes, 525; dedication of the work to the late Earl, 527; its prosperous publication, 528; analysis of the fourth volume, 529; portion of its preface, 530; symposium at the author's house on the publication of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, 531-4; the invitation, 531; the answers of Messrs. Hibbert, Haslewood, and R. Wilbraham, 532-4; opinions of Count D'Elci and Mr. Roscoe upon the work, 535-42; fate of the fourth volume of the work, 543; supplement, in the publication of the Cassano Catalogue, 548, 555; extracts from the preface, 553-4.

Chap. IX.—ALTHORP, 557, 594; description of the house and park, 557-9; of the pictures, 561; of the description of the same given by Mrs. Jameson, 559-564; list of drawings and plates introduced into the Ædes Althorpianae, 567; announcement of that work, 568; copies bespoken by booksellers, 569; list of Bibles mentioned at Althorp, 579; list of the principal plates, and prices given for their execution, 583-5; reflections on the result of the publication, 588; copies of books formerly in the library of De Thou, 589.

Chap. X.—PUBLICATIONS CONTINUED, 595-741; the Bibliographical Decameron, origin of the work, 596; prospectus and conditions of subscribing, 598; it is dedicated to the Duke of Devonshire, 599; number of copies taken by the leading booksellers, 600; severity of application in the composition of the work, 601; expense and occasional difficulties in its typographical execution, 602-3; kindness of friends in the north of England, 604-8; the publishers dine with the author; 624; offer for the purchase of the copies remaining on hand declined, 625; the author's friends afterwards dine with him, 625; destruction of most of the wood-blocks, 628; destination of others for snuff boxes, 627; Mr. Gifford disposed to review the work, 631; letters of congratulation from various friends, and its general success in the country, 635-652; extraordinary illustrated

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

INDEX.

17

copy of the work in the possession of G. H. Freeling, Esq., 649-652. THE TOUR, 653-700; first conception of, 653; engagement of Mr. George Lewis to make the drawings, 654; prices paid for the engravings, 656-9; dedication of the work to the Roxburghe Club, 661; copies taken by the leading booksellers, 660; publication, 662; successful purchases abroad, 663-5; intercourse with, and obligations to, foreigners, 666, 670; enthusiasm of research, 671; copies of the work presented to the Archbishop of Canterbury, Sir Walter Scott, Mr. Southey, and Mr. Campbell, 673-7; favourable opinions of numerous friends abroad and at home, 676, 695; a second edition, abridged, in a smaller form, with a few plates repeated, and some additional plates, 696; illustrated copies of Messrs. Drury, Hibbert, Hanrott, and Freeling, 697-8; projected similar Tour in this country, 699. THE MUSEUM, history of this weekly publication, 700, 714; pieces written by the author, 702, 710; is offered the editorship of the publication on the death of its first editor, Mr. Bailey, which is declined, 713. THE LIBRARY COMPANION, history of that publication, 714-741; obligations to Messrs. Petrie and Amyot, 716; to Earl Spencer, Mr. Grenville, Mr. Heber, and Mr. Hibbert, &c., 717; letters of congratulation on the publication of that work, 722, 734; reviews of the work, 736-741; omissions, 735.

Chap. XI.—KENSINGTONIANA, 742-801; arrival at Kensington from Worcester, 740; society at Kensington, 740-7; comparative state of population, 740; candidate for preacherships, 749; for secretaryship to the Antiquarian Society, 751-4; visit paid by [Sir] Walter Scott, and character of that distinguished man's writings, 754-8; acquaintance of the late G. V. Neunburg, Esq., 759; his death and character, 760; removal from Young-street to Horn-ton-street,

c

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

763; residence of Mr. Douce at Kensington, 763; the Nol-lekens legacy, 765; illness and death of Mr. Douce, 775; the Author's acquaintance with W. Y. Ottley, Esq., 777; with the late Sir Thomas Lawrence, 781; with Messrs. Wilkie and Calcott, 783; with Messrs. Northcote and Blake, 785-7; with Vivares, the Engraver, 789; with Mr. Kett, 790-1; with the late Mr. Rennell, Vicar of Ken-sington, 792; death and character of Mr. Rennell, 796-8; monument to his memory, 799; departure of the Author's son for India, 890.

Chap. XII.—LONDON, 802, 908; the Author's first piece of preferment, at Exning, in Suffolk, 802-3; history of that parish, published in the British Magazine, 803; obtains the living of St. Mary, St. Marylebone, 804; congratulations of friends, 805; consecration of St. Mary's church, and sermon preached on that occasion, 807; a National School erected, 808; first charity sermon in support of it, 810; the general panic in the year 1825-6; its inevitable, disastrous effect upon the Author, 813; death of the Author's only surviving son, in India, 816-8; Mr. Canning's letter of condolence upon that subject, 818; the same, from the Archbishop of Canterbury, 819; the same, from Sir Francis Freeling, 820; similar letters from other friends, 821; monument to the memory of the Author's son, in the chan-cel of Exning church, 822; the publication of Thomas à Kempis, 823, 830-9; illness and death of Mr. Canning, 823, 829; letter of Lady Hester Lucy Stanhope, containing Pitt's opinion of him, 828; dedication of Thomas à Kempis to the Countess Spencer, 833; various commendatory let-ters upon the work, 835-9; projected edition of Fox's Book of Martyrs, 839; letters in support of the project; its failure, 839, 843; proposal for establishing a Hospital in the Author's parish; infamous conduct of the proposer;

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

INDEX.

19

failure, and loss to the Author in defending, and succeeding in the defence of, a law suit, in consequence, 844-8; projected History of the University of Oxford; patrons and subscribers, 849, 852; proposed expenses for its adequate execution, 853-4; letters of various friends, 853-8; failure of the undertaking, 858; origin, progress, and success of the Sunday Library, 859, 871; the Christian Classics, plan of; unsuccessful, 872-4; sermon on Archdeacon Cambridge's visitation at St. Paul's, Covent Garden, 872; letter to the Editor of the Times in reply to his Strictures on the Bishop of London's pamphlet on the better observance of the Sabbath Day, 874; Pastor's Advice to his Flock, published in 1831; specimens of that work, 873, 884; the Bibliophobia, 885, &c.; Lent Lectures, 891; review of professional labours, 893; female friends of the Author, 894-7; hasty visits to his London friends, 901-7.

Chap. XIII.—SKETCHES OF PRIVATE LIBRARIES; tribute of respect to the memories of book collectors, and illuminators, 909-11; Mr. J. A. Repton's copy of the Squyr of Low Degree, with specimens, 912-18; library of Sir Francis Freeling, Bart., with occasional extracts from his rare poetry, 919, 937; of the Right Hon. Thomas Grenville, 938; of the late Richard Heber, 939-41; of the Hon. R. Curzon, 941; of Lord Vernon, 941-2; of H. R. H. the Duke of Sussex, 948; soirées of H. R. H., as President of the Royal Society, 946-9; library of Miss Curren, of Esh-ton Hall, 949-57; of Archdeacon Butler, of Shrewsbury, with fac similes from some of his earlier books, 957, 972; of Sir John Tobin, with the same, 972-6; of Dawson Turner, Esq., with notices of some of his more curious MSS., 977, 982.

DIBDIN, FRANCIS, the Author's elder son; his death, and monument to his memory, 816, 822.

c 2

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

DIBDIN, THOMAS FROGNALL; the Author's younger son, death of, 282-4.

D'ISRAELI, JOHN, ESQ., the Author's early attachment to his Curiosities of Literature, 87; his commendatory letter on the Bibliomania, 306; on the Bibliographical Decameron, 636; on the Tour, 679; on the Library Companion, 731; his opinion of James I., 88-9; his letter respecting his collection of drawings by the late T. Blake, 788.

DIVINES of the CHURCH OF ENGLAND, 162-3, 223.

DOBREE, late MR. J., his letter on the publication of the Tour, 688; his character, 686-8.

DODD, late REV. JAMES, a Roxburgher, 380.

DOUCE, late FRANCIS, ESQ., his letters on the publication of the Bibliomania, 307, 313; on that of the Bibliographical Decameron, 636; his character, under the name of Prospero, in the Bibliomania and Bibliophobia, 000, 638; letter, under that name, upon the publication of the Tour, 678; letter of encouragement to undertake a similar tour in Great Britain, 700; his letters on the publication of the Library Companion, 734; his opinion on the origin of the book of Common Prayer, 734; the Author's intimacy with, at Kensington, 763; his visits to Oxford and Goodrich Castle, 764; the Nolleken's legacy, 765; letters, 766-8; Cobbett and his snails, 767; character and bequest of his library, 768; engravings from one of his illuminated books, 768-9; resignation of his situation at the British Museum, 771-3; letter upon early printing, 772; upon a reluctance to epistolography, 773; illness and death, 774-6; his will, and legacy to the Author, 776-7; his letter on the Bibliophobia, 889.

DRURY, REV. HENRY, ardour of his bibliomaniacal enthusiasm, 322-3; his letters on the publication of the Tour, 680; on the Library Companion, 728; on the Bibliophobia, 888.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

DULWICH COLLEGE, A DAY AT; a communication, so called, in the weekly publication of the Museum, 702.

DWYER, late W.M. bookseller, 194.

EBERT, late librarian of the Wölfenbittel library; his melancholy death, and reluctant commendation of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, 555.

EDWARDS, late MR. JAMES; his letter on the publication of the Bibliomania, 320; of the first volume of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, 514.

EDINBURGH REVIEW, selections from, 1833, vol 4., 8vo. 183; history of its establishment, ibid.

EKINS, REV. F., his letter on the publication of the Tour, 686.

ELLIS, SIR HENRY; his contributions to the Bibliomania, 320; his Letters illustrative of English History, ibid.

EMIGRANTS at Oxford, 96.

ERSKINE, late LORD CHANCELLOR; his talents as an advocate, 123; accepts the Author's dedication of the Analysis of the first volume of Blackstone, 190.

ESTIUS, his Commentary upon the Apostolical Epistles, 163.

EUPHEMIA; a female friend of the Author, 894.

EXHIBITION, the first, of the ROYAL ACADEMY, 137.

EXNING, in Suffolk; its parochial history; the seat of a conspiracy against William the Conqueror, 803.

EYRE, ARCHDEACON, his letter on the subscription to the Ædes Althorpianae, 572; his kindness, and letters to the Author touching some Caxtons in the library of York cathedral, 606-8.

F, GEORGE, a member of the society called the Lunatics, 101.

FIDELIA, a female friend of the Author, 896.

FLOYD, GENERAL, son-in-law of Mr. Charles Darke, and father-in-law of the present Sir Robert Peel; gallantry of his conduct as a cavalry officer, 31.

FONTHILL FEVER, or a trip to Fonthill Abbey; series of communications in a weekly paper called the Museum, 708.

FORD, late MR. WILLIAM, the bookseller; his letter on the publication of the Bibliomania, 317.

FOSCOLO, late UGO, some account of, 405.

FOX'S Book of Martyrs, failure of a projected new edition of that work, 839, 843; rarity of the first edition, 843.

FOX, late RIGHT HON. CHARLES JAMES, purchase of his historical work by Mr. Miller, 185, 277; his talents as an orator, 711.

FREELING, SIR FRANCIS, Bart., his letter on the publication of the Bibliomania, 322; his beautiful copy of Robinson's Ancient Order, &c. of the Round Table, 1583, 368; his communication on the death of Earl Spencer, 451; his letter to the Author on the death of his son in India, 820; some account of his library, with specimens of the early English poetry, 919, 937; beautiful MS. catalogues of his early English poetry, and of his collection of works upon Witchcraft, 923.

FREELING, GEORGE HENRY, Esq., his letter on a birds-eye view of the Bibliographical Decameron, 614; his extraordinary illustrated copy of that work, 650; similar copy of the Bibliophobia, 890.

FROGNALL, MRS., widow of CAPTAIN FROGNALL, the Author's great Aunt; receives a letter from her niece, the Author's mother, on the death of her husband, 35; receives the Author at Reading, on his arrival from Holland, 43; capricious and tyrannical conduct towards him, 45; her death and epitaph, 45.

FRY, late MR., a Bookseller; his bibliomaniacal ardour, 324-5; his letter upon the English De Bure, 338-9.

GEORGE III.; character of his library, now deposited in the British Museum, 340.

GIBBON'S Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, 90; the Author's shallow philosophy, 91.

GIFFORD, late LORD; his legal attainments, and tribute of respect to his character, 131.

GLEIG, REV. THOS., chaplain to the Chelsea Hospital; characters of his Subaltern and New Orleans Campaign, 750.

GLOVER, REV. ARCHDEACON; his letter on receiving a copy of the Author's Pastor's Advice to his Flock, 882.

GODSTOW NUNNERY, 82.

GOSSET, late REV. DR.; early kindness to the Author, and social attainments, 747.

GRAFTON, late DUKE; his copy of the large paper of Clarke's Cæsar, 193.

GRAMMONT; pictures illustrative of the time of, in the gallery at Althorp, 562.

GRENVILLE, the RT. HON. THOS.; his beautiful library, 321; his Niello, by Finiguerra, 611; approves of the Bibliographical Decameron, 613; brief notice of his library, 938.

GUISCARDO THE PIRATE; a tale of the Author, in MS., extract from, 196.

GUISE, third DUKE OF; his portrait at Althorp, 564.

GUTCH, late REV. JOHN; his letter concerning the Bibliographical Decameron, 623.

GUTCH, JOHN MATTHEW, ESQ.; his bibliomaniacal ardour, 320.

HALLAM, HENRY, ESQ.; recommended to write a history of England; commendation of his "Middle Ages," 677.

HARDWICKE, seat of, belonging to the Duke of Devonshire; 563.

HAMPER, late WILLIAM; his letter on the publication of the Bibliomania, 314.

HARMAN, JEREMIAH, ESQ.; his friendliness to the Author, and patronage of arts, 621.

HARRIS, late MR. JAMES; librarian of the Royal Institution, 274.

HARROW, A DAY AT; a paper so called in the weekly publication of the Museum, 703.

HASLEWOOD, late MR. JOSEPH; his character as Bernardo in the Bibliomania, 295, 415; his poetical epistle, 295; his acknowledgment of the second edition of the Bibliomania, 296; importance of his aid in the British Bibliographer, 295; reference to the errors imputed to him, 379; sparring between him and the late Rev. J. Dodd, touching Robin Hood, 380, 419; his death, and defence of his character against the attacks of the Athenæum, 413-431; his letter on receiving a copy of the English version of Arrian upon Coursing, 420; commendation of his Juliana Berners; Palace of Pleasure; and Mirror for Magistrates; 422-3; his edition of Drunken Barnaby, 424; his answers on accepting the invitation to partake of the Spencer symposium, 533; the same of the Decameron, 626; accompanies the Author to Fonthill, 708; anecdote about the reprint of the Morte d'Arthur, 748.

HATCHETT, CHARLES, ESQ.; his commendation of the Bibliographical Decameron, 621; subscribes to the Ædes Althorpianae, 573-4.

HAWTREY, REV. DR. ED. CRAVEN; master of Eton school; elected a member of the Roxburghe Club; his fine library, 411.

HEATH, ROBERT; his Epigrams, 1560, 12mo.; specimen of his Castarella, 187.

HEBER, late RICHARD, ESQ.; portrait of him when a boy, by Copley, 152; his interest in the second edition of the Bibliomania, 290; his character in that work under the name of Atticus, 290-4; is defeated in most of his purchases at the sale of the Roxburghe library, 358; comparison between the Roxburghe collection of Old Ballads and those in his own library, 361; produce of the first seven parts of the sale of his library, 366; his death, and estimate of his literary attainments, 413-426-432; is visited in his coffin by the Author, 433; his letter to the same, 434-6; brief sketch of the early-English-literature-part of his library, 437; his funeral, 439; general description of his library, 440; supposed cost of his library, 443, 461, 939; discovery of his will by the Author, 443-446; letters of congratulation on the discovery, 445; importance of his library in the composition of the Library Companion, 717.

HEBER, late REGINALD, Bishop of Calcutta; visits the Author at Kensington, and promises to be of service to his son in India, 801; not the first poet of the same name, 800.

HENRY'S History of England, 90.

HEREFORD, late BISHOP OF; his commendation of the black letter, 236.

HESIOD, Robinson's edition of; anecdote of a copy on large paper, 942.

HIBBERT, GEORGE, ESQ.; his answer to the invitation to the Spencerian banquet 532; his letter respecting the non-introduction of his portrait in the Bibliographical Decameron, 616; his letter on the publication of the Tour, 679; his letters on the Library Companion, 725-7.

HIVE, THE; address on a proposed periodical paper under this name, 811-12.

HOARE, SIR R. C., BART.; variety and importance of his publications, and tribute of respect to his memory, 708-9.

HORACE; enthusiasm of a foreigner of the name of Hanthall for this author, 507.

HORN, late MR. ALEXANDER, the Bibliographer, 354-5.

HORNE, REV. HARTWELL; his notice of omissions in the Library Companion, 735.

HORSEMAN, REV. JOHN, Rector of Heydon, near Royston; an original Member of the Society called the Lunatics, and subsequently called the Academics; specimens of his poetry, 99-100; 300-3.

HOWELL; curious extracts from his Londinopolis, 118.

HUNTER, late DR. WILLIAM; his copy of the Aldine Plato of 1513. upon vellum, 193.

JAMESON, MRS.; notice of her description of Althorp, 535.

JACKSON, DR. CYRIL; his influence in the University of Oxford, 97.

JENNER, late celebrated DR.; Author's acquaintance with, 199; his Essay on the Cuckoo, 200; his great celebrity, and letter from, 201; tribute of respect to his memory, 340.

JOHNSON, DR.; Life of, by Boswell, new edition, 87.

IFFLEY CHURCH and THE ISIS; poetical quotation, 83.

JOHNES, late THOMAS, ESQ.; his letter on the publication of the Bibliomania, 303.

ISTED, late SAMUEL, ESQ.; his letters respecting the Bibliographical Decameron, 646-8.

ISTED, the late GEORGE, ESQ.; 368.

KEMPIS, THOMAS A KEMPIS; some account of the Author's translation of his Imitation of Christ; the Introduction; publication, 830-9; specimens of, 832.

KENYON, late Lord Chief Justice; anecdote of, 124.

KENYON, present LORD; his commendation of the Pastor's Advice to his Flock, 883.

KETT, late REV. HENRY; the Author's early acquaintance with him, 258; is the Editor of Headley's Collection of Ancient Poetry, 258; his melancholy end, 259; his letter (with fac simile of autograph) respecting an early edition of Juvenal, 791.

KING, late REV. THOMAS; a particular friend of the Author, at Kensington, 167-8.

KLOSS COLLECTION; sale of his Library, 411, 966; see SOTHEY. Mr. Hanthall's opinion of, 967.

LANG, late ROBERT, ESQ.; his love of books, and character of his library, 371; his letter of commendation on the Bibliographical Decameron 599; his letter on the publication of the Tour, 680.

LANGDON, MR. JOSEPH; Corrector of Mr. Savage's press, and Clerk of St. Mary's, Bryanston Square, 277.

LAWRENCE, late SIR THOMAS, P. R. A.; acquaintance with, and anecdote of, 781; his portraits of Kemble in Hamlet, Coriolanus, and Rolla, 782.

LENT LECTURES; some account of, 891-3.

LESSONS for Afternoon Church Service, 171; on preaching and reading, ibid.

LETTERS, ORIGINAL, in part or whole; from Penelope Dibdin, the Author's aunt, to her sister-in-law, 6; the Author's mother, descriptive of her marriage happiness, 12; of her domestic occupations, 14; to her husband, consoling him under misfortune, 17; on the death of her husband, 35; from Governor Stratton to the Author's father, 21; from the same to the same, 22; from George Baldwin to the Author's father, 25; from the Author's father to H. Norris, Esq., on the harbour at Nagore, 29; from the same to Sir Thomas Rumbold, 30; from W. Petrie, Esq., of the Madras Council, to Captain and Mrs. Dibdin, on their departure from India, 34; from Mr. Brohier to the same, on the same

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

subject, 35; from North, Bishop of Winchester, *, on application for Holy Orders, 169; from Dr. Jenner *, 201; from Lawrence Sterne, 207; from an unknown, about Gibbon's notes on classical authors, 212; Bishop of Llandaff on the publication of the Bibliomania, 302; Col. Johnes *, on the same, 303; Dr. Ferriar *, on the same, 304; Sir S. E. Brydges, on the same, 305; Mr. D'Israeli, on the same, 306; Mr. Douce * (three letters) on the same, 307-312; Rev. H. J. Todd, on the same, 313; William Hamper, on the same, 314; Mr. Utterson, on the same, 316; Mr. Ford, on the same, 317; Mr. Wade, on a translation from the German, 331; John, Duke of Roxburghe *, to the late George Nicol, 351; George Nicol * to the Author, 353; late Sir Alexander Boswell to Mr. Markland, 389; Sir Walter Scott to the Author, on his election to the Roxburghe Club, 399-400; Mr. J. Haslewood, various, 419-420; late Richard Heber to the Author *, 434; late Earl Spencer to the Author, on the projected publication of his Reminiscences, 449; the same, to the same, on his Book Rarities, 487; Mr. Bulmer, to the same, estimate of printing expenses, 490; Earl Spencer, various letters from, during the progress of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, 500, &c., (see SPENCER); James Edwards *, on the publication of that work, 514; Roger Wilbraham *, on the same, 517, 534; Rev. W. H. Carr, on the same, 517; Mr. G. Hibbert, on acceptance of the invitation to the Spencerian banquet, 533; Mr. Haslewood, on the same, 533; Mr. Roscoe, on the publication of the Bib. Spenc., 538; Earl Spencer's letter descriptive of the libraries of Count D'Elci and Count Melzi, 540-5; Count D'Elci * to Lord Spencer, on the Bib. Spenc., 542; Earl Spencer, on the acquisition of the Cassano Collection, 549;

* The asterisk denotes, that with the letter there is a fac simile of the autograph.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

INDEX.

29

James Boswell *, on subscribing to the Ædes Althorpianae, 570; Robert Surtees *, on the same, 571; Charles Hatchett, on the same, 573-4; Charles Warren, the late Engraver, 583; Robert Lang, on the Bibliographical Decameron, 599; Archdeacon Eyre, touching the volume in York Minster Library, 606; Doctor Charles O'Connor, 609; the Duke of Buckingham, 610; Earl Spencer, on the Bibliographical Decameron, 613; George Henry Freeling, on the same, 614; Mr. Major, on the same, 615; Mr. Roscoe, on the same, 616; Mr. G. Hibbert, on the same, 616; Sir Joseph Banks, on the same, 618; Mr. Bindley *, on the same, 620; Mr. C. Hatchett, on the same, 621; Mr. Slaney, on the same, 621; late Mr. Gutch *, on the same, 623; Mr. James Boswell, on the Decameron banquet, 625; Mr. Utterson, on the same, 626; Mr. Bischoff, on a wood-cut of his Ancestor, 627; Mr. Bulmer, on Mr. Gifford's intended review of the work, 631; Mr. Roscoe, on his supposed review of it, 632; Mr. Dawson Turner, on the projected Tour on the Continent, 633; Duke of Devonshire, on receiving his copy of the Decameron, 634; Lord Colchester, on the same, 635; Mr. D'Israeli, on the same, 636; Mr. Douce, on the same, 636; E. W. Percy, Esq., on the same, 640; Rev. C. A. Wheelwright, on the same, 640; Edward Roberts, on the same, 642; Rev. I. S. Bale, on the same, 644; Samuel Isted, Esq., on the same, 647-8; Mr. G. H. Freeling, on the same, 650; Mons. Trebutien, on the same, 652; Adam de Bartsch, on the proffered gift of a copy of the Tour, 667; Archbishop of Canterbury, on receiving a copy of the Tour, 673; Sir Walter Scott, on the same, 675; Mr. Southey, on the same, 676; Mr. Douce, on the same, 678; Mr. D'Israeli, on the same, 679; Mr. Hibbert, on the same, 679; Mr. Lang, on the same, 680; Rev. H. Drury, on the same, 680; Rev. C. A. Wheelwright, on the same, 681; Rev. Chris-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

topher Sykes, on the same, 681; Rev. J. H. Todd, on the same, 683; Rev. Fred. Ekins, on the same, 686; S. Dobree, Sen., on the same, 688; Mons. Auguste le Prevost, on the same, 690; Mons. Schweighauser, on the same, 691; Lady A. M. C[ampbell], on the same, 693; Mons. Peignot, on the same, 695; Mr. Douce, on a similar Tour in this country, 700; Mr. Armyot's letters on the publication of the Library Companion, 722-4; Archbishop of Canterbury, on the same, 724; Bishop of Norwich, on the same, 724; Mr. George Hibbert, on the same, 725-7; Mr. Markland, on the same, 728; Rev. H. Drury, on the same, 728; Duke of Newcastle, on the same, 729; Sir Francis Palgrave, on the same, 730; Mr. D'Israeli, on the same, 731; Mr. Dawson Turner, on the same, 732; Mr. Tooke, M. P., on the same, 733; Mr. Douce, on the same, 734; Mr. Douce, on obtaining the Nollekens legacy, 765; on Cobbett's complaint of the migration of his snails, 767; upon early printing, 772; on a reluctance to letter-writing, 773; Mr. D'Israeli, on his collection of drawings of the late Mr. Blake, 788; Dr. Routh, respecting an early edition of Juvenal, 790; Mr. Kett, respecting the same, 791; Rev. T. Rennell, on a passage in Gregory Nazianzen, 794; on the proffered services of the Author during his last illness, 797; Dr. Rennell, his father, Dean of Winchester, on the deaths of his two sons, 796; Archbishop of Canterbury, on the death of the Author's eldest son, 819; Sir F. Freeling, on the same subject, 820; Mr. Canning*, on the same, 817; Mr. Douce, on the same, 820; Lady Hester Lucy Stanhope, on the death of Mr. Canning, 828; Hon. and Rev. George Spencer, on the publication of Thomas à Kempis, 834; late Archdeacon Nares*, on the same, 835; Sir Thomas Lawrence*, on the same, 837; Mons. I. B. M. Gence*, on the same, 839; Rev. J. H. Todd, on the pro-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

INDEX.

31

jected edition of Fox's Book of Martyrs, 841; Dean Rennell, on the same subject, 841; Lord Grenville*, on a projected History of the University of Oxford, 850; Mr. Talboys, on the same subject, 853; Mr. Southey, on the same, 855; Rev. J. H. Todd, on the same, 856; Dr. Routh, on the same, 856; Miss Currer, on the same, 857; Mr. Markland, on the same, 857; Rev. Basil Woodd, on the Sunday Library, 865; late Bishop of Hereford on the same, 871; Sir James Mackintosh*, on the Author's Pastor's Advice to his Flock, 882; Lord Kenyon, on the same, 883; late head master of a public school, 883; Alexander Chalmers*, on presenting Sir F. Freeling with a volume of poetry, 899; Rev. J. Dallaway*, to Mr. Major, during the progress of Walpole's Anecdotes of Painting, 903-5.

LIBRARIES; of Mr. Heber, Mr. Hibbert, Sir M. M. Sykes, Thos. Dent, Duke of Marlborough, Earl Spencer, and Duke of Devonshire; their supposed aggregate value, 461.

LICQUET, MR.; his criticism upon the Tour, 671, 693.

LINCOLN'S INN; mode of keeping term at, 125.

LLANDAFF, BISHOP OF, DR. COPLESTON; 94, 98, 105; letter upon the publication of the Bibliomania, 302.

LLOYD, JOHN ARTHUR, ESQ.; a member of the Roxburghe Club, 396; his beautiful library, 396-7; his contribution to the Club, 397.

LOCKHART, MR.; his Biography of his father-in-law, Sir Walter Scott, ardently expected, 757-8.

LUNATICS; formation and members of the society so called, 94-106; removed to London, and parent of the society subsequently called the Academics, 104.

LUTON, description of, 275.

LYSONS, late SAMUEL; his varied antiquarian attainments; character, 752-4.

MAC CREERY, MR., the late Printer; tribute of respect to his memory, 323-4.

MAC NEILLE, late REV. DANIEL; his presumed approbation of the Decameron, 641.

MACREADY, MR.; his successful representation of Rob Roy, 758.

MADDEN, SIR FREDERICK; one of the editors of Wycliffe's version of the Bible, 242; editor of the Werwolf, 409.

MAITLAND CLUB; some account of, 474-6.

MAJOR, MR. JOHN, Bookseller; his spirited conduct respecting the fourth volume of the Bib. Spencer. and first interview with the Author, 543-4; subscribes largely to the Ædes Athorpianae, 569; to the Bibliographical Decameron, 600; his letter respecting the latter work, 615; subscribes largely to the Tour, 660; becomes a half-sharer in the copyright of the Library Companion, 714; character of his own publications, and of their publisher, 720; his verses in defence of Izaak Walton; correspondence with Mr. Dalway upon his edition of Walpole's Anecdotes of Painting, 903.

MALVERN HILLS; their picturesque beauty, 156.

MARCOLPHUS; some account of, 155.

MARKLAND, J. H., supplies the Author with a letter from the late Sir Alexander Boswell, 381; his letter on the Library Companion, 728; his letter on the projected History of the University of Oxford, 857.

MARLOW, DR., tutor, and afterwards president, of St. John's College, Oxford, 79-81.

MARSH, BISHOP; his translation of Michaelis, 162.

MARSTON, JOHN; a poet of the time of Elizabeth, 186.

MARTIN, MR., his account of the publications of the Bannatyne club, 473.

MARY, ST., MARYLEBONE, the living of, given by Lord Liverpool to the Author, 804.

MATON, late WILLIAM GEORGE, M. D., the father of the society called the Lunatics, and excellent character of, 95-8.

MASQUERIER, JOHN JAMES, ESQ., the Author's early intimacy with him, 143; his celebrated picture of Bonaparte reviewing the consular guard, 149; Tallien's testimony of the accuracy of the likeness of Bonaparte, 150; his portrait of ONE individual, particularly dear to the Author, 148; his recommendation of Mr. George Lewis to accompany the Author abroad, 654; his portrait, from recollection, of the Author's younger son, 283.

MELZI, Count, of Milan; description of his library by the late Earl Spencer, 545.

MERIVALE, HERMAN, ESQ.; captain of the Harrow school, and gainer of several prizes at Oxford, 704-5.

MINORA, an affectionate friend of the Author, 896.

MONCRIÉFF, the late SIR WILLIAM, and the present LORD, 101.

MONTAGU, BASIL, ESQ., the Author is placed a law-pupil under him, 132; the attachment of both master and pupil to the memory of Lord Bacon, 135.

MONTAUSIER, DUCHESSE DE, beautiful portrait of, at Althorp, 563.

MOORE, REV. DR., vicar of Pancras; his popularity as a preacher, 751.

MORE, SIR THOMAS; first collection of his works, and his description of Jane Shore, 120; the Author's edition of his Utopia, 267, 271.

MUSEUM; some account of a weekly publication so called, 700, 714.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

MUSTAPHA, the late Mr. Gardiner, bookseller, introduced under that name in the Bibliomania, 299.

NANCY, HOTEL ROYALE, anecdote at, 669.

NEELD, JOSEPH, M. P., in possession of Northcote's picture of Lady Jane Grey, 785; his subscription of 10*l.* for the establishment of an hospital in the Author's parish, 845.

NEWCASTLE, DUKE OF, his letter to the Author on the Library Companion, 729.

NEWTON, late REV. MR., his sermon on the death of his wife, 101.

NEUNBURG, the late GEORGE VANDER, Esq., the Author's intimacy with, and anecdote of his marriage, 759, 762; his library, ibid.

NICASSUS, character of, 127.

NICOL, late MR. GEORGE, bookseller to his Majesty, George III.; his intimacy with his royal master and the late Duke of Roxburghe, to the latter of whom he was librarian, 343, 353; his purchases for both, and his letter to the Author, 352-3; his catalogue of the duke's library, 355; invites the Author to an examination of the Boccaccio of 1471, before its sale, 359.

NORTHCOTE, late JAMES, R. A., estimate of his talents, 785; his young Princes in the Tower, ibid.

NORWICH, BISHOP OF, his letter on the Library Companion, 724.

OCHEDA, late MR., librarian to the late Earl Spencer, 593.

OXFORD, projected History of the University of, some account of its progress, and unsuccessful termination, 849-858.

O'CONNOR, late DR. CHARLES, librarian to the Duke of Buckingham, some account of, 609-12.

ORMEROD, late REV. MR., vicar of Kensington, death of his younger son, Holden, 744; intercourse with, and death of the father, 747, 792.

OTTLEY, WILLIAM YOUNG, Esq., intimacy with the Author; estimate of his collections of paintings and engravings, and of his publications, 777, 780.

PALGRAVE, SIR FRANCIS, his letter to the Author on the Library Companion, 730.

PANIC, the GENERAL, in the years 1825-6; 812-13.

PARADISE, a place so called at Oxford, the Author's frequent and happy visits therein, 115-16.

PARKES', MR., account of journals and reviews, 183.

PASTOR'S ADVICE TO HIS FLOCK, specimens of this publication, 877-8; letters in commendation of that work, 882.

PAYNE, late MR. THOMAS, bookseller, dedication to him of the Library Companion, 719; tribute of respect to his memory, 897.

PEARLS, allusion to the Ceylon pearls, 718.

PEIGNOT, M.; his criticism on the works of the Author, 695.

PERCY, E. W., Esq.; his letter concerning the Bibliographical Decameron, 640.

PETRIE, WILLIAM, Member of the Council at Madras; his kindness to the Author's father, 34; Author's attachment to the NAME of Petrie, 35.

PETRIE, HENRY, Esq., Keeper of his Majesty's Records in the Tower of London; his tribute of respect to the memory of the late Earl Spencer, 453; the Author's obligations to him for assistance in the composition of the Library Companion, 716; his unequalled fitness for the great work of our national historians, upon which he is now engaged, 717.

PETTIGREW, T. W. Esq.; his sumptuous catalogue of the Bibliotheca Sussexiana, 946.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

PHORMIO, an early college friend of the Author; his unhappy end, 114.

PICKERING, MR.; his rare books, 904-5.

PICTURE-BOOK; a series of communications, under that title, in the "Museum," 707.

POEMS, by the AUTHOR; history of their publication, with specimens and the Preface, 176-181; see SHERWOOD; anecdote before publication, 182.

POOR LAWS; present administration of, 191; the Author's work upon, 191.

PORTER, JANE and ANNA MARIA; their various works, 175.

PORTER, SIR ROBERT KERR; an early acquaintance with the Author, 143; his celebrated Panorama-painting of the Capture of Seringapatam, 143-148; characteristics of his talents as an Artist, 147; extraordinary fate of his great picture of the Battle of Agincourt, 145; erects the first Protestant cemetery at Caraccas, 175.

PORTLAND, late DUKE OF; his Encœnia at Oxford, 106.

PORTMAN, EDWARD BERKELEY, ESQ.; patron of the National School in the Author's parish, at Marylebone, 809.

PRAYERS of the Church of England, 174-5.

PREACHING and READING; their comparative importance, 159-161; fastidious criticism upon the former, 172.

PREVOST, M. AUGUSTE LE; his letter respecting the Tour, 690.

PRUEN, late Rev. THOMAS; 158.

QUARTERLY REVIEW; its establishment and progress, 739; its notice of the Library Companion, 738-40.

QUISQUILIUS; the late MR. GEORGE BAKER introduced under this name in the Bibliomania, 299.

QUIZ, THE; publication so called, 176.

RAINE, REV. JAMES; his kindness to the Author, 607.

- RALEIGH, SIR WALTER; his high character, 89.
- RASTELL'S PASTYME OF PEOPLE; reprint of, with six copies upon thick paper, 488.
- RENNELL, REV. THOS. D. D., Dean of Winchester; his letters on the deaths of his two sons, 799; on the projected publication of Fox's Book of Martyrs, 841.
- RENNELL, late REV. THOMAS, Vicar of Kensington, 792; his letter concerning Gregory Nazienzen, 794; on the professed services of the Author to assist him in his last illness, 797; solicitude of the Archbishop of Canterbury on its probable result, 797; his death, 798; letter of his father upon the same, 799; subscription for a monument to his memory, 799.
- REPTON, JOHN ADEY, ESQ.; his notice of Reviews of the Library Companion, 736; extracts from his "Squyr of Low Degre, 913-8.
- REVIEWS of the Library Companion, 736-8.
- ROSCOE, late WILLIAM, ESQ.; his letter after the publication of the Bibliomania, 335; on that of the Bibliomania Spenceriana, 537; on the Bibliographical Decameron, 632.
- ROSE, REV. HENRY; his funeral sermon on the death of the late Earl Spencer, with extracts from, 454-9.
- ROSICRUSIUS; the Author introduced under this name in the Bibliomania, 297-8.
- ROUTH, REV. DR., President of Magdalen College, Oxford; tribute of respect to, 115.
- ROXBURGHE, late JOHN, DUKE OF, K. G.; celebrity of his library, and passion for old books, 348, &c., 361; facsimile of his autograph, 352. CLUB, see ROXBURGHIANA; Rise and Progress of the ROXBURGHE CLUB, forming the chapter entitled Roxburghiana; large paper copy of a Catalogue of the Roxburghe Library, with the prices, and names of the purchasers, most beautifully executed, 367.

RUMBOLD, late SIR THOMAS, Governor of Madras, his kindness to the Author's father, 28-9.

RUSHWORTH'S COLLECTIONS, 88.

SCHWEIGHÆUSER, M.; his letter respecting the Tour, 691.

SCOTT, late SIR WALTER, BART.; supposed to have written an account of the establishment of the Edinburgh Review, 183; his ballad of Hawking and Hunting, 292; his letter on receipt of a copy of the Bibliomania, 322; his character as Sir Tristrem, in the Bibliomania, 296; becomes a member of the Roxburghe Club, 398; his letter to the Author both before and after his election, 398-401; records the fact of such election in his preface to Peveril of the Peak, 402; his contribution to the Club; letter to the Author, on accepting a copy of his Tour, 675; visits the Author at Kensington, 754; his commendation of the Hon. William Spencer's poems, 755; character of his poetry, 756-8; sends early copies of his poems to Sir Francis Freeling and Mr. Heber, 757; his novels, 758; dramatic representations of them, 759.

SEDGWICK, PROFESSOR; commendation of, 906.

SELINA; an old friend of the Author, 896.

SENIOR, MR.; his Lectures at Oxford commended, 119.

SERMONS published by the Author, 810: see PREACHING.

SIDMOUTH, LORD; his zeal in rescuing the ecclesiastical patronage of the parish of St. Marylebone from the Law Church, 804.

SIDNEY, SIR PHILIP; ode to the memory of, 925.

SLANEY, RICHARD, ESQ.; letter in commendation of the Bibliographical Decameron.

SMITH, REV. SYDNEY; his celebrity as a lecturer, 228; as a preacher, 751.

SOPHRONIA; a female friend of the Author, 894.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

INDEX.

39

SOTHEY, MR., the YOUNGER; his catalogue of Dr. Kloss's library commended, 411-2.

SOUTHEY, ROBERT, ESQ.; letter to the Author on accepting a copy of his Tour, 676; eulogy of his literary attainments, 677.

SPECIMEN of an English Debure, by the Author, 338; of Bibliotheca Britannica, by the same, ibid.

SPENCER, late EARL, K. G., First Lord of the Admiralty on Earl Howe's victory of the 1st of June, 1794, 113; his earlier attentions to the Author, 205; declines the dedication of the second edition of the Introduction to the Classics, 210; delineation of his character in the second edition of the Bibliomania 483; his strong approbation of the Book-Rarities, 484; accepts the Author's proposal to make that work the basis of a Catalogue of his own Library, under the title of BIBLIOTHECA SPENCERIANA, confining it to first editions, and to all works printed in the fifteenth century, 491; progress and history of that work, forming the eighth chapter of these Reminiscences; purchases the Boccaccio of 1471, at the second sale of it by public auction, 357; his note touching the intended purchase of the late Bishop of Ely's library, 363; accepts the presidentship of the Roxburghe Club, 379; his letter on the deaths of Mr. Haslewood and Mr. Heber, 414; his death and character, 448-58; his last letter to the Author, 449; verses applicable to Himself, as written on the demise of the first Baron Spencer, 448; testimonies of the high character of the deceased, 452-3; his funeral sermon by the Rev. Henry Rose, 454-9; letter from Earl Spencer to the Author on the publication of the Book Rarities, 487; his acquisition of some rare books printed by Caxton, 488, 497-8; his prompt and valuable services to the Author, 499, 507, 512; his enthusiasm and liberality in the acquisition of rare and valuable books,

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-00934-8 - Reminiscences of a Literary Life, Volume 2

Thomas Frognall Dibdin

Index

More information

503-6; his congratulation on the completion of the department of "Miscellanies" in the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, 523; dedication of the Bibliotheca Spenceriana to Him, 527; acquisitions abroad—and descriptions by him of the libraries of Count D'Elci and Count Milan, 539, 545; purchase of the Cassano library, 546; catalogue of that collection, 548; announcement of its acquisition, 549; sale of its duplicates, with prices of some of the rarer articles, 551-3; description of the house, pictures, and grounds, at Althorp, 557-566; approves of the Bibliographical Decameron, and letter thereupon, 613; obtains the living of Exning, in Suffolk, for the Author, 803; is greatly instrumental in obtaining the living of St. Mary, Marylebone, for the same, 805; his communications respecting the Sunday Library, 870-2; his opinion of Dr. D'Oyly's sermon on the Intermediate State, 871; his approbation of Miss Currer's catalogue of her library at Eshton Hall, 954.

SPENCER, HON. and REV. GEORGE; his letter on the Author's publication of Thomas à Kempis, 832; on declining the dedication of the Library Companion, 718-9.

STACE, MR. MACHEL, Bookseller to the late Marquis of Bute, 275.

STATUTES (Ancient) of the University of Oxford, 92, 94, 105.

STODDART, SIR JOHN; an early acquaintance of the Author's; Chief Justice of the Civil and Maritime Courts at Malta; his talents as a writer in the Old Times, 102.

STOTHARD, late THOMAS, R. A.; specimens of his engraving upon copper in the Bibliomania, 337; commendation of his work.

SUBSCRIPTION LISTS, or names of subscribers to works; the interest taken in them, 279.

SUNDAY LIBRARY; account of the origin, progress, and successful termination of this work, 859-71; list of the writers from whose sermons it is compiled, 867-870; suggested continuation of that work declined, 872.

SURTEES, late ROBERT, ESQ.; his communication to the Gentleman's Magazine respecting the Bibliomania, 327; his kindness to the Author, and estimate of his literary reputation, 604-6.

SUSSEX, H. R. H., Duke of; sketch of his library, 943-6; of his soirées, as President of the Royal Society, 946-9.

SYKES, late SIR MARK MASTERMAN, BART.; his magnificent collection of books and prints, 321; probable amount of his purchases at the sale of the Roxburghe library, 373; his anxiety about his purchases, 374.

SYKES, REV. CHRISTOPHER; his letter respecting the Tour, 681.

SYLVANUS URBAN; his compliment to the late Earl Spencer, 537.

TALBOYS, MR.; his letter upon the projected History of the University of Oxford, 853.

THAMYRA; name under which the wife of the first Baron Spencer is mentioned in his masque of Althorp, 581.

THEODOSIA, a kind friend of the Author, 895.

THOMSON, the poet, extracts from his Castle of Indolence, 121, 203.

THOMSONS, late REV. SETH and ARCHER; their styles of preaching, 749.

THORPE, MR., his purchases from the Heber collection, 901.

THURLOW, late LORD, his sonnet in praise of the late Earl Spencer, 482; his poems, 483.

TILLARD, late JAMES, ESQ.; his munificence, and tribute of respect to his memory, 808.

TOBIN, SIR JOHN, brief account of his library, with fac similes, 972-6.

TOBIN, MISS, his daughter, her dexterity as an artist, 973-5.

TODD, REV. H. JAMES; his letter on the publication of the Bibliomania, 313; his letter respecting the Tour, 683.

TOOKE, WM. ESQ., M. P.; his letter on the Library Companion, 733.

TOURNAY, late REV. DR., Warden of Wadham College, powers of argumentation and influence in the University of Oxford, 79.

TURNER'S, DAWSON, ESQ., letter on the Author's projected tour on the continent, 633; his letter on the Library Companion, 732; sketch of his library, 977; wish expressed for a catalogue of it, 979-986

TURNER, late MR. THOMAS; chief corrector of the Shakspeare press; tribute of respect to his memory, 519, 603.

TURNER, late MR. WILLIAM, of Canonbury Square, Islington; his illustrated copies of the Author's works, 325.

TWEDDELL, late THOMAS, ESQ., 141.

TYPOGRAPHICAL ANTIQUITIES of Great Britain; history of that work, with names of the earlier subscribers, 273-288; preliminary disquisition, 274; price of the 4th volume, 287.

TYSON, MR. and MRS.; friends of the Author when established at Worcester, 197.

"UP AND BE DOING" wood, so called, in Althorp Park, 577.

UTTERSON, EDWARD VERNON, ESQ.; his letter to the Author on the publication of the Bibliomania, 316; on the invitation to the Decameron banquet, 626.

UWINS, THOS, ESQ.; his copies of portraits for the Ædes

Althorpiana, 575; his design for the Bibliographical Decameron.

VERNON, LORD; sketch of his library, 941-3.

VIVARES; an aged Engraver, and son of the late celebrated Vivares in the same line of art, 789.

WADDILOVE, DR., late Dean of Rippon; his attentions to the Author, 608.

WADE, late ROBERT WATSON; his literary attachments and attainments, 330; his poetical epistle to the Author, 332-4.

WALKER, late REV. MR., Chaplain of Lincoln's Inn Society; tribute of respect to his memory, 126.

WARREN, late CHARLES; Engraver, letter from, 583.

WAVERLY MSS.; prices brought at the sale of them, 889.

WAY, REV. WILLIAM; composer of Latin and Greek verses on the "Tam O'Shanter and Souter Johnny," of Thom, 706.

WELLINGTON, DUKE OF; his installation and encoenia, as Chancellor of the University of Oxford, 106-112; reasons, pro and con, for his election as Chancellor, 106-9; verses addressed to him by the Author, and intended to have been presented to him when he visited the University press, 109.

WESTMINSTER REVIEW of the Library Companion, 737.

WILBRAHAM, late ROGER, ESQ.; his death and literary character, 404-8; his contribution to the Roxburghe Club, 408; his letter to the Author on the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, 516; his second letter, on the completion of the three volumes, 534; anecdote with Hugo Foscolo, 406.

WHEELWRIGHT, REV. C. A.; his letter respecting the Decameron, 640; respecting the Tour, 681.

WILKIE, DAVID, ESQ., R. A.; character of his paintings, 783-4.

WILLIS, late HENRY NORTON, ESQ.; his social and intellectual attainments, 745-7.

WILLS, DR. Vice Chancellor of Oxford; his public donations, 79; reception and opinion of the society called the Lunatics, 96.

WINCHESTER, NORTH, late BISHOP OF; his ordination of the Author, 166; anecdote of, and commendatory letter from, 169.

WOODD, late REV. BASIL; his letter upon the Sunday Library, 865.

WRANGHAM, REV. ARCHDEACON; the Author's first acquaintance with him, 139; sketch, with specimen, of his literary attainments, 139-142; becomes a member of the Roxburghe Club, 391; further specimens of his poetry, 391-5.