

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

INDEX I.

ENGLISH.

[Q. stands for Questions.]

- A, sometimes translated by aliquis, quispian, or quidam, 393.
 Abandoned, perditus.
 Able (to be), posse, quire (queo), 125, e.
 Abdera (of), Abderites, G. æ.
 Abilities, ingenium, sing.
 Abound, abundare, abl.
 About (= concerning), de, abl.
 — (= nearly), ferè, adv.; circiter, prep.
 Above (such an age), 306, and Q.
 Absence (in his), absens.
 Absent (to be), abesse, 227.
 Abstain from, temperare ab, 220.
 Abundance of, abunde, adv. (gen.).
 Acceptable, gratus, 212.
 Accident (by), casu.
 Accompany, comitari.
 Accomplish, conficere, fec, fect.
 Account: on — of, ergo, gen.: 207.
 Accuse, accusare: (if not in a court of justice) incusare, gen. of charge.
 Accused-person, reus.
 Accustomed (to be), solère, solitus.
 Acquainted, to become, noscere, 385.
 Acquit, absolvere, solv, solut: gen. of charge.
 — of a capital charge, capitis absolvere.
 Adapted, accommodatus, 212.
 Addition: in — to this, huc accedit, accedebat, &c., 513.
 Adherents (his own), sui.
 Adjure, obtestari, acc.
 Admire, admirari.
 Adopt a resolution, consilium inire or capere.
 Advantage, emolumentum.
 Advantageous: to be, prodesse, dat.
 — to be very —, magnæ utilitati esse, 242, (3).
 Adversity, res adversæ.
 Advice, consilium.
 Advise, monere, acc.: suadere, dat. (S. 222.)
 Affair, res.
 Afraid: to be —, timère, vereri, S. 99, e.
 Afterwards, postea: with nouns of time; post, used adverbially.
 After (before a sentence), postquam. See 514.
 — prep. post with acc.
- After the battle, (confestim) a prælio.
 Again and again, etiam atque etiam.
 Again from the beginning, ab integro.
 Against, adversus, acc.: in with acc. (of feelings, actions, &c., against a person).
 — his will, invitus, adj.
 — the will of Caius, Caio invito, 364.
 Age (= time of life), ætas, atis.
 — (of that or such), id ætatis } 160, β.
 — (of what?) quid ætatis? }
 Agitate, perturbare.
 Agitated (having his mind), incensus animum, 298.
 Ago, abhinc (to precede the subst. or numeral), 305.
 Agreeable, gratus, 212.
 Agreed: it is —, constat, acc. with infin.
 Agricultural operations, res rusticæ.
 All, omnis, cunctus; (= whole), universus, totus.
 — together, cuncti, universi, 443.
 — over again, ab integro.
 — taken one by one, singuli.
 Allowed: it is —, constat, acc. with infin.
 —: I am —, licet mihi.
 Allow it to happen, committere ut.
 Almost, prope, pæne.
 —: I — think, haud scio an, 161.
 See note on Diff. 25.
 Alone, solus; or (if one person) unus.
 Alps, Alpes, G. ium.
 Already, jam.
 Also, sometimes translated by the pron. idem, 387.
 Altar, ara.
 Although, 451, and Q. on § 56.
 — indeed, quamquam, indic.
 Always, after superlat. by quisque. See 399.
 A man (= any: indef.), quis.
 Amanuensis, a manu servus.
 Among, inter.
 Amongst (a people), apud, with acc.
 Amuse, delectare.
 And, p. 10, d: 'to me and you,' in Lat. 'to me with you,' p. 65, top.
 And that too, not —, nec is, 385.
 Anger, ira.
 Angry: to be —, irasci, dat.: succensere, dat. 222.

Animal, animal, alis.
Another, alter, era, &c. G. alterius : answering to 'it is one thing,' aliud, 38.
— man's, alienus.
Answer, respondere, dat.
Antiquity, antiquitas.
Any * (after expers), omnis.
Any. See 389.
— where (= any whither), usquam, 402.
— man may, cujusvis est. See 389—92.
Appeal to, appellare, acc.
Appear (= seem), videri (vis).
— (show myself), apparere.
Apply vigorously to, incumbere in (with acc.); cubu, cubit.
Approved (valour, &c.), spectatus.
Arms, to take, arma capere.
Army, exercitus, ūs.
Arrived at: men have —, ventum est, 296.
Arrow, sagitta.
As, after tam, talis, tantus, tot, is, quam, quantus, qualis, quot, respectively.
—, after idem, qui (or ac, atque).
— far as I know, quod sciam, 56.
— as I can, quoad ejus facere possum, 512.
— possible, } quoad ejus fieri — can be done, } potest, 512.
— it were, quasi.
— soon as, simul ac; ut primum; quum primum; ubi; ut, 512; 514.
— many as 200, ad ducentos.
As not to, 85.
Ashamed: am — of, pudet, 207.
Ask, rogare.
Ask pardon for a fault, delicti veniam petere.
Assault (a town), oppugnare.
—: to accuse of an —, reum facere de vi.

Assist, auxiliari, adjuvare, opitulari; sublevare, succurrere, subvenire, S. p. 68, k.
At once, — and; idem—idem, 396.
At, of place near which a battle is fought, &c., apud (or ad), 457.
At two miles' distance, a millibus passuum duobus, 348.
At two miles off, a millibus passuum duobus.
Athens, Athenæ.
Athenian, Atheniensis.
Attached to, amans; diligens, with gen. 183.
Attack, adgredi, gress: adoriri, ort (acc.).
Attend to, attendere, 229.
Averse to, alienus, 212.
Avoid, vitare.
Authority, auctoritas.
Aware, to be, intelligere.

B.

Baggage, impedimenta, pl. (properly hindrances).
Banish, pellere ex civitate (pepul, puls).
Banished from, extorris, abl. 276.
Banquet, convivium.
Barbarian, barbarus.
Base, turpis.
Battle, p. 10, t.
— of Cannæ, pugna Cannensis.
Be it far from us. See note †, p. 30.
Bear, ferre (tul, lat, 33).
Beasts, feræ.
Beaten (to be), vapulare (ab).
Become, fieri, factus sum.
— acquainted with, noscere, 385.
Becoming (to be), decere, acc.
Befal, accidere, dat.
Before, adv. antea.
—, prep. ante, acc.

* The pronouns and adverbs for 'any' may be thus exhibited:

	Exclusion of all .†	Inclusion of all alike.	Inclusion of some .
				Less emphatical after si, ne, &c. Pronouns.)	{ quisquam ullus	{ quivis quibet	{ aliquis quispiam	quis	Any (body).
Place.)	usquam { (to) (at)	{ quovis (to) ubivis (at)	{ aliquo	quo	{ to any place. (any where). at any place.
Time.)	unquam	—	aliquando	quando	{ at any time. at some time. ever.

†  All are generally excluded when 'any' follows negatives; or 'without,' 'scarcely,' 'than:' and in questions that expect the answer 'no,' ('nobody,' 'nothing,') &c.

205

Children, liberi, pl.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

Cheese, caseus.
 Choose (= elect), eligere (lēg, lect).
 Christian, christianus.
 Citizen, civis.
 City, urbs, urbis.
 Civil-gown, toga.
 Claim, postulare.
 Clear (= excuse), purgare.
 Clothe oneself, induere, 283.
 Coast, ora, 40.
 Cold, frig-us, ōris.
 Come, venire (vēn, vent).
 — to the assistance of, alicui auxilio venire, 242.
 — to a determination, consilium inire.
 Command, imperare, dat.
 — an army, præesse, dat.
 Commission, mandare, dat.
 Commit many sins, multa peccare.
 Common, communis.
 Common : of a — kind, vulgaris.
 Compassion, miseriordia.
 Compel, cogere (coēg, coact).
 Completed : I have — the work, opus absolutum habeo, 364.
 Concerns (it), interest, 207.
 Condemn, damnare, condemnare : to death, capitis.
 Condemn a man to pay his vow, voti damnare.
 Conduct, honorable, honestas.
 Confer (benefits) on, conferre (beneficia) in ; acc. (tal, lat).
 — an obligation on, gratiam inire ab aliquo (Cic.) ; apud aliquem (Liv.) 339.
 Congratulate, gratulari, 492.
 Connection with, conjunctio. See 157.
 Conquer, vincere (vic, vict).
 Consequence : it is of —, interest.
 — : — no ; nihil interest, or refert, 207.
 Consider = think, existimare, arbitrari.
 — = attend to, attendere, 229.
 Considerable quantity, aliquantum.
 Considerably, aliquanto, 406.
 Constancy, constantia.
 Constantly, perpetuo.
 Constellation, astrum ; sid-us, eris.
 Consul, consul, ulis.
 Consult, consulere (sulu, sult), acc.
 — for, } consulere
 — a man's interests, } alicui, 233.
 Contemporary, æqualis.
 Contented, contentus, abl.
 Contention, contentio.
 Continue, pergere (perrex).
 Contract to build, conducere faciendum (dux, duct).
 Contrary to each other, inter se contrarii, æ, a.

Convenient, commodus.
 Conversant, to be, callēre, acc.
 Converse, loqui (locut).
 Corrupt, corrumpere (rup, rupt).
 Cost, stare, constare, 266. abl. : dat. of pers.
 Count, numerare.
 Country, patria ; as opposed to town, rus, ruris.
 — in the, ruri.
 — into the, rus.
 — from the, rure.
 Courage, virtus, utis.
 Courageously, fortiter.
 Courtesy, humanitas.
 Cross over, transjicere or trajicere (jec, ject), acc.
 Crown, corona.
 Cruelly, crudeliter.
 Cruelty, crudelitas.
 Cry out, clamare.
 Cultivate, colere (colu, cult) : if it be a study, e.g. eloquence—studēre, dat.
 Cure, mederi, dat.
 Custom, consuetud-o, inis.
 Cut off, intercludere (clus), 233.

D.

Daily, quotidie, indies or in dies singulos (S. 69, t).
 Danger, periculum.
 Dare, audēre, ausus sum.
 Day, by, interdium, 311.
 Deaf, surdus.
 Dearer, pluris, G. 266.
 Death, mors.
 Death, to (after condemn), capitis.
 Debt, æs alienum, 273.
 — heavy, magnum æs alienum.
 Deceive, decipere, io (cep, cept).
 Decree, decernere (crev, cret).
 Deem, putare.
 Defend what is actually attacked, defendere (fend, fens) : — what may be attacked, tueri.
 Degree, to what a — ! quo, with gen., 512.
 Deliberation (after opus est), consulto, 171.
 Delight, delectare.
 Delightful, jucundus.
 — to the sense of sight, amœnus.
 Demand, postulare ; poscere (poposc) ; to demand importunately, efflagitare (S. 257).
 Deny, negare.
 Depend on, niti (nis or nix) : in with abl.
 Deprive of, spoliare, orbare ; abl.
 Desert, deserere (seru, sert).

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

INDEX I.—ENGLISH.

207

- Deserve, mereri (merit); well of, bene de.
 Deserving of, dignus, abl.
 ——— to be, &c. dignus esse qui,
 with subj.
 Design, consilium.
 Desire, velle; cupere (cupiv, cupit): = express a wish, optare (S. 420, x).
 Desirous, cupidus, gen.
 Despair of, desperare.
 Destroy utterly, delere (delev, delet).
 ——— (= burn) concrẽmare, 141, c.
 ———: go about to destroy, perditum ire, 362*, a.
 Deter, deterrere. [See From.]
 Detrimental, to be, detrimento esse, 242.
 Devote oneself to, incumbere in, with acc. (cubu, cubit).
 ———, studere, dat.
 Die, mori, ior (mortu); mortem or supremiũ diẽm obire, 249.
 Difficult, difficilis.
 Difficulty: there is — in doing, &c. = it is done difficile.
 ———: he has — in doing, &c. = he does it difficile.
 Difference, distantia.
 ———, it makes a very great, permultum interest, 122.
 ———, what is there? quid interest?
 ———, there is no, } nihil interest,
 ———, it makes no, } or refert, 207.
 Diligence, diligentia.
 Dinner, cœna.
 Direct, = instruct, prœcipere (cep, cept).
 Discharge, fungi (funct), abl.: per-fungi.
 Discipline, disciplina.
 Discontented, am with, pœnitet me, 207.
 Discourse, sermo, onis.
 Discover, invenire, reperire. S. 177, o.
 Disease, morbus.
 Disgraceful, turpis.
 Disgusted: am — at, tædet (perf. pertæsum est) me, 207.
 Dishonorably, turpiter.
 Displease, displicere, dat.
 Dissatisfied: am — with, pœnitet me, 207.
 Distance: to be at a distance of, &c. abesse, distare, 319.
 ———: at two miles' distance, 348.
 Distant: to be — from, abesse; distare (a), 319.
 Ditch, fossa.
 Divest, exuere (exu, exut), 233.
 Do nothing but —, nihil aliud quam (faciunt omitted), 420.
 — well, prœclare facere.
 Dog, canis.
 Doubt, dubitare.
 ———: I don't at all —, nullus dubito (quin). See note 492.
 Doubt: there is no —, non est dubium (quin), 89.
 Dream, somnare.
 ———, s. somnium.
 Draw (= call) away, advocare.
 ——— up an army, aciem instruere (strux, struct).
 ——— in three lines, triplicem aciem instruere.
 Dress, vestitus.
 Drink, bibere (bib, bibit).
 ——— s. potus, us, } 177.
 ——— ing, potio, } Drive, pellere (pepul, puls): — drive away, abigere (eg, act).
 Dutiful affection, pietas.
 Duty, officium.
- E.
- Each (of two), uterque, utraque, utrum-que, G. utriusque.
 ——— one, unusquisque.
 ——— other, (after 'to love,' &c.) inter se, 470.
 ——— of them, singly, singuli, pl.
 Eagerly desirous, studiosus, gen.; avidus, gen.
 Easy, facilis. Easily, facile.
 Eat, edere (ẽd, ẽs); vesci (S. 273).
 Eclipse, defectio.
 Eclipsed, to be, deficere (fec, fect).
 Efface, delere (delev, delet).
 Either — or; aut — aut; vel — vel; sive
 — sive, 456.
 Elect, eligere (leg, lect).
 Election, comitia, n. pl.
 Eloquence, eloquentia. facundia (natural eloquence).
 Emulate, æmulari, 229.
 Encamp, considere (sed, sess).
 Encounter death, mortem oppetere.
 ——— a danger, periculum obire.
 End of, extremus, agreeing with its subst., 179.
 Endued with, præditus, abl.
 Endure, sustinere (tinu, tent).
 Enemy (private), inimicus.
 ——— (public), hostis.
 Engage = fight with, configere (fix, flict).
 ——— = undertake, recipere (cep, cept).
 Engaged in: to be —, operam dare, 337:
 (in a battle, affair, &c.) interesse, 224.
 Enjoy, frui, abl.
 Enough, satis, affatim (S. 512).
 Enquire of, quærere ex (quæsiv, quæsit).
 Enter into partnership, coire societatem.
 Entrust, credere (credid, credit), dat. of person.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

208

INDEX I.—ENGLISH.

Envy, invidēre (vid, vis); dat.
 Ephesian, Ephesius.
 Equal, par, dat. Equal to (in magnitude, real or figurative), instar, gen., 207.
 Errour, error.
 Escape from, s. fuga, 157.
 Escape: it escapes me, me fugit, fallit, præterit, 259.
 Eternal, æternus (= everlasting); sem- piternus, 123, c.
 Even mind, æquus animus.
 Even — not, ne — quidem.
 Evening, in the, vesperi.
 Every, omnis.
 — body, quisque, 396.
 — tenth man, decimus quisque.
 — body who or that, quisquis, qui- cunque, 396.
 — thing, omnia, pl.
 Ever, unquam, aliquando, quando, 402.
 Evil, malum, neut. adj.
 Exactly, with a numeral; ipse, in agree- ment, 308.
 Exceed the bounds of moderation, mo- dum excedere (cess).
 Exceedingly, vehementer.
 Excel, antecellere, præstare, 229.
 Exhort, hortari, adhortari.
 Expedient, utilis, dat.
 — it is —, expedit.
 Expediency, utilitas.
 Experience (familiarity with a thing),
 usus, ūs.
 Exposed to, obnoxius, 212.
 Extortion, pecuniæ repetundæ; or only repetundæ.
 Extremely flourishing, longe opulentis- simus.
 Eye, oculus.

F.

Face, to know a man by, de facie nosse.
 Fail (a friend), desse, dat.: fail (one), deficere, 229.
 Faith, fides, 5.
 Faithful, fidelis.
 Fall on (= seize on), incessere, 229.
 False, falsus.
 Falsehoods, utter many, multa mentiri.
 Family, familia.
 Far from (thinking) this, tantum abest ut — (ut).
 Far: not to be — from, haud multum or procul abesse (quin). 91.
 Far be it from me not, 83. See note †
 p. 30.
 Far, multo with compar. and superl., 410.
 Farewell, ave, salve, vale, 281.
 Fate, fatum.
 Fault, culpa.

Favour, a, beneficium.
 —, favēre, dat. (fav, faut).
 Fawn upon, adulari, dat. or acc.
 Fear, of body, timor; of mind, metus, ūs.
 Fear, timere, metuere, vereri, S. 99.
 Feeble, imbecillus.
 Feed on, vesci, 273. S.
 Feel thankful, gratiam habere.
 Fever, febris, abl. i.
 Few, pauci, æ, a.
 Few:—a few days ago, paucis his diebus.
 —: — before, paucis illis
 diebus.
 Fidelity, fides.
 Field, in the, militiæ.
 Fight, pugnare.
 — on horseback, ex equo.
 Find, invenire, reperire, 177.
 —: hard to find, difficilis inventu, 364.
 Finish, conficere.
 Fire, ignis, (= conflagration) incendium.
 First, primum: at first, primo, S. 83.
 Fit, aptus, 212.
 Fitted, accommodatus, 212.
 Fix by edict, edīcere (ut).
 Flank, on the, a latere.
 Flatter, adūlari (dat. or acc.).
 Flaw, vitium.
 Flight, fuga.
 Flogged, to be, virgis cædi (cæs).
 Folly, stultitia.
 Fond, cupīdus, gen.
 For: when untranslated, 255.
 For how much? quanti?
 — as much—as, tanti—quanti, 266.
 — less, minoris, 266.
 — just as much—as } tantidem — no more, than } quanti, 226.
 — (= in behalf of), pro.
 — (= owing to, of obstacles), præ, abl.
 — instance, verbi causā.
 — some time, dudum, jamdudum, 420.
 — (after to fear), sign of dat.
 — any thing I care, per me licet.
 — us (after make), a nobis.
 Food, cibus, i.
 Foreign to, alienus, 212.
 Foretell, prædicere.
 Forget, oblivisci (oblītus), 199.
 Former, the, ille, 378.
 Forsooth: as if —, quasi vero, 494.
 Fortune. See Good.
 —: let — see to it, id Fortuna vidērit.
 Found, condere (condid, condīt).
 Founder (of a family), princeps (fa- miliæ).
 Free from, liberare (abl.).
 Freedman, libertinus: (but with reference to his master, libertus).

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

INDEX I.—ENGLISH.

209

Friendly, amicus.
 Friends, his own, sui.
 From a boy, puero.
 — the heart, ex animo.
 — a wall, ex muro.
 — your neighbourhood, istinc.
 — a different direction, aliunde.
 — after conceal, omitted, 251.
 — prevents, deters, &c. quominus, 94.
 — recover, ex.
 Front, in, a fronte.
 Frugality, frugalitas.
 Fruits (of the earth), fruges: (of a tree), fructus.
 Full, plenus, 182.
 Fury, furor.

G.

Gain an advantage, emolumentum capere (cep, capt),—ex.
 — possession of, potiri (abl. gen.).
 Gaul, Gallus.
 Get possession of, potiri (potit), abl.
 Gift, donum, munus, eris (S. 242).
 Give information, docere, 253: give much information, multa docere (de), 252.
 — battle to, praelium committere (cum: —mis, miss).
 Given over, desperatus.
 — it is, datur.
 Glad, to be, lætari, 521.
 Glory, gloria.
 Glorious, gloriosus.
 Go wrong, errare.
 — away, abire, discedere (cess), S. 308.
 — about to destroy, perditum ire, 362*, a.
 — on, pergere (perrex).
 — in your valour! macte virtute esto! 280.
 God, Deus, 56.
 Gold, aurum.
 Golden, aureus.
 Good, bonus; (= beneficial, expedient) utilis.
 —: to do —, prodesse, dat.
 — fortune: it was my —, (contigit mihi, — ut, 374).
 — time, in, in tempore.
 Govern, imperare, dat.; (= regulate, direct) moderari, acc. or dat. See 220.
 Grateful, gratus.
 Gratitude, gratia.
 Greatest (when degree is meant rather than size), summus.
 Greedy, avidus, gen.

Greece, Græcia.
 Greek, Græcus.
 Grief, dolor.
 Grieve, dolere, mœrere, S. 521.
 Ground, humus; on the ground, humi.
 Grudge, invidere, dat. (vid, vis).
 Guard against, cavere, acc. 233 (cav, —, be on my, — caut).
 Guidance, under your, te duce; under the guidance of Herdonius, Herdonii ductu.

II.

Habit of silence, taciturnitas.
 Had rather, malle, 150 (conjug. 142, 1).
 Hail, ave, salve, 281.
 Hand, manus, ūs, 4, f.
 Hanging, suspendium.
 Happen (of evils), accidere: of fortunate events, contingere (tig): = turn out, evenire (S. 374).
 —: how does it happen that...? qui fit ut, &c.?
 Happy, beatus, felix (S. 443).
 Hard: — are hard to avoid, difficile vi-tantur.
 — to find, difficilis inventu (sup.).
 Hardly (= scarcely), vix.
 Hardly any body, nemo fere.
 Harvest, messis, f.
 Hate, odisse (with tenses derived from perf.).
 Hateful, to be, odio esse, 242.
 Have, habere.
 — a thing done, faciendum curare, 356.
 — an interview with, convenire, acc.
 —: in such sentences as, 'with whom we have to do.' See 336.
 Head, caput, capitis, n.
 Heal, mederi, dat.
 Healed, to be (of a wound), consanescere.
 Health, to be in good, valēre.
 Hear, audire.
 Hearing: without hearing him (= him unheard), inauditum, acc. mas.
 Heart (as the seat of the affections), animus, 92.
 —, cor, cordis, n.
 Heavy, gravis.
 Height: to such a —, eo, adv. gen.
 Help (a person in perplexity), subvenire, dat.; juvare, acc. auxiliari, dat. succurrere, dat. (S. 222, k).
 Her, acc. sing. se, if relating to nom. of sent.; if not, eam.
 —, adj. suus, a, um, if relating to nom. of sent.; if not, ejus.

P

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

Hesitate, dubitare.
 Hidden, occultus.
 Him, se, if relating to nom. of sent. : if not, eum.
 Himself, 369 ; 373, c. (Q. on § 48.)
 Hinder, impedire. See Q. on § 15.
 Hindrance, impedimentum.
 His own friends, adherents, &c. sui.
 Hit (= strike), ferire, icere, cædere (cecid, cæs). S. 299, i.
 Hold a levy of troops, delectum habere.
 — one's tongue, silere, tacere, S. 299, g.
 — cheap, parvi pendere, 266.
 Home, to, domum: at, domi: from, domo.
 Honey, mel, mellis.
 Honour (= the honorable), honestas ; (= probity) fides, ei.
 — to be an, } honori esse, 242.
 Honorable, to be, } Honorable conduct, honestas. Honorable, honestus. Honorably, honeste.
 Hope, sperare : see 15.
 Horseback, on, ex equo : (of more than one person) ex equis.
 House, at my, domi meæ.
 How (with adj.), quam.
 — disgraceful it is, quanto opprobrio est.
 — many, quot.
 — much, quantum.
 — does it happen? quæ fit ut...?
 — few there are, who —? quotusquisque est, qui...? (with subj.) 477.
 Human-feeling, } humanitas.
 Humanity, } Hunger, fames, is.
 Hurry, to be in a, festinare.
 Hurt, nocere, dat. ; lædere, acc. (læs).
 Hurtful, to be, nocere.
 Husband, vir, 291.

I.

I for my part, equidem.
 If — not, nisi, 451.
 If however, sin autem, 451.
 Ignorant, to be, ignorare, acc.
 — : not to be ignorant, non ignorare, quin.
 — who is ignorant? quis ignorat, quin...?
 — of, rudis, gen.
 Immediately after the battle, confestim a prælio.
 Immense, ingens.
 Immortal, immortalis.
 Impiety, impietas.
 — : if it may be said without —, si fas est dictu, 364.

Impiety : it cannot be said without —, nefas est dictu, 364.
 Importance, it is of, interest, gen., '203.
 — great, magni (or multum) interest, 206, a.
 Important, gravior.
 Importune, flagitare.
 Impose on, imponere (posu, posit), 233.
 Impute as a fault, vitio or culpæ dare or vertere, 242.
 In the presence of the people, apud populum.
 — (an author), apud (Xenophontem, &c.).
 — front, a fronte.
 — flank, a latere.
 — the rear, a tergo.
 — triumph (to lead), per triumphum.
 Inattentive to, negligens, gen., 183.
 Increase, augere (aux, auct), trans. : crescere (crev), neut.
 Incredible, incredibilis.
 Inconsistent with, alienus, 212.
 Inconvenient, incommodus.
 Induce, adducere ut, &c.
 Indulge, indulgere (duls, dult), dat.
 Industry, diligentia.
 Inflict punishment on, aliquem pœnâ afficere, 276.
 Influence : to have great — with, multum valere apud aliquem.
 Inform, certiorum facere, 187.
 Information. See Give.
 Inhabit, incolere (colu, cult).
 Injure, violare, (= do harm to) lædere, acc.
 Injurious, it is, nocet, dat.
 Injury, injuria.
 Innocent, innocens.
 Insignificant : how — ! quam nullus !
 Insolence, to such a height of, eo insolentia.
 Instance, for, verbi causâ.
 Interest (= true interest), utilitas.
 — : it is the — of, interest, gen., 203.
 Interests (to consult the). See 233.
 — (to provide for). See 233.
 Interview. See Have.
 Intimate : to be — with, familiariter uti, abl.
 Inventor, inventor, fem. inventrix.
 Invest (= blockade), obsidere (sed, sess).
 Invoke, appellare.
 Iron-hearted, ferreus.
 Is (= is distant), distat.
 Island, insula.
 It cannot be but that, fieri non potest quin.
 It is not every man who can, &c., non cujusvis est, &c., 190.
 Italy, Italia.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

INDEX I.—ENGLISH.

211

J.

Jest, jocus.

Jewel, gemma.

Join battle with, committere prælium (cum).Journey, on the, inter viam.Joyful, lætus.Just (equitable), æquus.Justice, justitia.

K.

Keep, servare.— one's word, fidem præstare.— up a certain state, splendide se gerere.Kill, interficere, occidere, necare, 308.King, rex, rēgis.Know, scire, novisse, callēre, 385.

L.

Labour, labor.Lame of one leg, claudus altero pede.Lamp, lucerna.Large, magnus.Lasting, sempiternus.Latter, the, hic.Law, lex, legis.Lay on, imponere.— down, }
— aside, } ponere (posu, posit).— a person under an obligation, gratiam ab aliquo inire.— down a magistracy, magistratum abdicare; or se with abl. 308.Lead a life, agere vitam (eg, act).League, foedus, eris.Learning, branch of, doctrina.Lean on, niti (nisus, nixus), abl. 273.Learn, dicere (didic).— by heart, ediscere.Leave, relinquere (liq, liet): (by will), relinquere.— (= go out of), excedere with abl. (cess), 83.— nothing undone, nihil prætermittere quin.— off, desinere (desi, desit).Leg. See Lame.Leisure: I have —, vacat mihi, 154.

Lemnos, Lemnos, G. i.

Let me know, fac sciam (with ut omitted).Let out to be built by contract, locare faciendum.Letter, literæ, pl.: epistola.Levy troops, delectum habere.Liable to, obnoxius, 212.Liar, mendax (adj.).Lie, mentiri.Lie near, adjacere, 229.Life, vita; (= life-time) ætas. In the life-time of Augustus, Augusto vivo, 364.Lift up, tollere (sustul, sublat).Light, levis.— (= kindle), accendere: succendere rogum, &c. S. 299, h.Lightning, fulmen, inis.Like, similis, dat.: (= equal to in size) instar, gen.Like (verb). See 491, d.Lines: to draw up an army in three —, triplicem aciem instruere.Literature, literæ.Little, pauci, pl.—: but or too —, parum.— a (= some, but not much), paulum; paululum, 402.Long, diu: pridem, jamdiu, jampridem. S. 420.Long for, avere, of an impatient, gestire of a joyous longing.Look to that yourself, id ipse vidēris.Loquacious, loquax.Lose, perdere (perdid, perdit): lose (passively), amittere. S. 56.— an opportunity, occasionem amittere.— flesh, corpus amittere.Love, amare, diligere. S. 185, a.Lover of, amans, diligens, gen., 183.— such a, adeo amans or diligens, gen. 183.Lowest, infimus, imus.Lust, libido, inis.Luxurious, luxoriosus.Lyre, to play on the. See Teach.

M.

Mad, to be, furere.Madness, amentia, 512.Magistracy, to hold, magistratum gerere.Make, facere (fec, fact); efficio: am made, fio. Obs. 'makes all things (acc.) flourish'; in Lat. 'makes that (ut) all things (nom.) should flourish', 254.Make the same promise, idem polliceri (licit).— treaty, &c., foedus icere, 299.— this request of you, illud te rogo (ut, ne).— (= appoint to an office), creare.— mention of, meminisse, recordari, 201.— sport of, }
— merry with, } illudere (lus), dat.— the same boast, idem gloriari.— it my first object, id agere (ut).— for us, a nobis facere.— a decree in a man's favour, secun-

P 2

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

dum aliquem decernere (decrev, decret).
 Making haste (after opus est), properato,
 abl. part.
 Maker, effector: fem. effectrix.
 Man, homo, vir (S. 38, y).
 —: I am not the — to; non is sum, qui (subj.).
 Manners (= morals, character,) mores, um, pl.
 Many, multi.
 March against the enemy, obviam ire
 hostibus.
 Marry (of a female), nubere, dat. 222.
 Marseilles, Massilia.
 Master, magister, dominus, herus (S.
 180).
 Matter, res.
 Mean, sibi velle.
 — time: in the —, interim, interea
 (S. 402).
 Means, by no, minime.
 Meat, cibus.
 Medicine, medicina.
 Meditate, meditari, acc.
 Meet, to go to, obviam ire (dat.).
 Melt, liquescere (licu).
 Merchant, mercator.
 Middle of, medius (in agreement with its subst. 179).
 Mile (= 1000 paces), mille passus: pl.
 millia passuum.
 Miletus, of Milesius.
 Milk, lac, lactis.
 Mind, mens, mentis; animus, 92.
 Mindful, memor, gen.
 Miserable, miser, era, &c.
 Mistaken, to be, falli.
 —, I am, me fallit.
 Mock, illudere, dat. 229.
 Moderate, moderari, acc. or dat. 220.
 Money, pecunia.
 Month, mensis, m.
 Moon, luna.
 Moral, sanctus.
 Morals, mores, um.
 More, plus, with gen. For more, pluris.
 Mortal, mortalis.
 Most men, plerique.
 Motion, motus, ūs.
 Mound, agger.
 Move, movere (mov, mot.). Move, neut.
 moveri.
 Much, multa, n. pl. (but if opposed to many things, or followed by gen. multum).
 — less, nedum, 443.
 Multitude, multitudo, inis.

N.

Naked, nudus.
 Name, nominare (also = to appoint).
 Nature, natura; rerum natura.
 Near, prope, acc.
 — to be very, minimum abesse (im- pers.) quin, 92.
 Nearer, propior; adv. propius, 211.
 — am, propius absum (quam).
 Nearest, proximus.
 Nearly, prope, pæne.
 Need, egere, indigere, abl. or gen.
 —, have — of, opus est, 176, e.
 —, you have no —, nihil opus est.
 Negligent, negligens, gen. 183.
 Neighbourhood, in your, istic.
 —, from your, istinc.
 —, to your, istuc.
 Neither — nor, { neque — neque.
 { nec — nec.
 Neutral, medius.
 Never, nunquam.
 Nevertheless, tamen.
 News of the town, res urbanae.
 Next: the next thing is, sequitur ut, 85.
 Night, by, noctu or nocte.
 No, nullus; after ne, quis.
 — one, nemo.
 — painter, nemo pictor.
 — where, } nusquam.
 — whither, }
 — time, nihil temporis.
 Nobody, nemo, inis*.
 None of you, nemo vestrum.
 — those things, nihil eorum.
 Not, non. After rel., see p. 194, d.
 — yet, nondum.
 — one's own, alienus.
 — even, ne — quidem.
 — only—but also, non solum—sed, or verum, etiam.
 — so far off, to be, propius abesse.
 — to say, ne dicam.
 — that—but, non quod — sed; non quo — sed; non eo or ideo quod — sed, 492.
 — at all, nihil.
 — as if not, non quin, with subj.
 — to be far from, haud multum (or, haud procul) abesse (quin).
 Nothing, nihil.
 — but, nihil aliud nisi, 185.
 Nourish, alere (alu, alit or alt).
 Now (= already), jam.
 Number, numerare.

* Neminis and nemine are not found, but nullius, nullo:—except now and then nemine with pass. participle.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

INDEX I.— ENGLISH.

213

O.

- Obey, parēre, obedire, dat. (S. 222.)
 Object, not to, non recusare quin, 92.
 Obligation, lay a man under a great, confer an — on, magnam ab aliquo (C.), apud aliquem (L.), gratiam inire, 339.
 Obliging, commodus.
 Obstruct, intercludere (clus).
 Obtain, potiri, abl. gen.
 Occasion: you have no — to hurry, nihil est quod festines, 477.
 —: have — for, opus est, 170.
 Ocean, oceanus.
 Occupy myself in, operam dare, 337.
 Odious, to be, odio esse, 242.
 Of, after 'strip,' &c. abl.
 — after 'become,' 'deserve well,' &c. 'am persuaded,' and when of = concerning, de.
 — after 'enquire,' ex.
 — others, alienus, a, um.
 — such a kind, ejusmodi.
 Offend, offendere (fend, fens), acc.
 — against, violare.
 Offence: if I may say so without —, pace tuā dixerim.
 Old, vetus, veteris, n. pl. vetera.
 — man, senex, G. senis, G. pl. um.
 — age, senectus, ūtis.
 One (of two), alter, G. ius.
 One thing — another, aliud — aliud, 38.
 One (= a certain), quidam.
 — (= some one, no matter who) aliquis.
 One's, suus.
 Only, adj. solus, G. ius.
 —: the — one who, unus qui with subj.
 — son, unicus filius.
 Opinion, to be of, censere.
 Opportunity, occasio.
 Oppose, repugnare, dat. obstare, dat.
 Or, aut, vel, ve, 456 (in questions an).
 — not, necne.
 Orator, orator.
 Order, jubere (juss), acc. with inf.
 Ought, oportet. See 126.
 Out of, e, ex.
 Out of doors, foras.
 —: to dine —, cenare foris, 339.
 Over: it is all — with, actum est de.
 Over against, adversus.
 Overpower (with emotion), frangere (freg, fract).
 Overthrow, evertere (vert, vers).
 Owe, debere.
 Owing: it is — to, per aliquem stat, quominus, &c. 99.
 Own (emphatic), ipsius or ipsorum, after meus, tuus, &c.

P.

- Pace, passus, ūs.
 Pained, to be, dolere, acc. or abl. with de.
 Pardon, venia.
 ——— ignoscere (nov), dat.; (of a superior) veniam dare.
 Parent, parens; genitor, fem. genitrix.
 Part, pars, partis.
 Partner, consors, 185.
 Party, to be on our, a nobis sentire.
 Past, the, præterita.
 Peck, modius.
 Peculiar, proprius, 212.
 Perceive, sentire.
 Perchance (in questions), quid in ecquid, numquid, 400.
 Perform, fungi, perfungi (funct), abl.
 Perhaps, fortasse.
 Permitted, it is, licet.
 ———, I am, licet mihi.
 Perpetual, sempiternus.
 Perseverance, perseverantia.
 Persist, perseverare.
 Persuade (= advise), suadere, dat.; (= advise effectually), persuadere,
 dat. (suas).
 Persuaded, I am, persuasum est mihi de, &c., or persuasum habeo, 291.
 Perverse, perversus.
 Perversely, perversè.
 Philosopher, philosophus.
 Philosophy, philosophia.
 Piety, pietas.
 Pity (1), miseret me, or misereor, gen.
 (S. 201, r.).
 Pity, misericordia.
 Plainly: see — through, perspectum habeo, 364.
 Planet, planeta or es.
 Plan, consilium.
 Plant, serere (sev, sat).
 Play, ludere (lus).
 — on the lyre. See Teach.
 Plead a cause, agere causam.
 Pleasant, jucundus.
 Please, placere, dat.
 Pleasure, voluptas.
 Poet, poeta.
 Point: to be on the — of, in eo esse ut, 479.
 Poison, venenum.
 Pompey, Pompejus.
 Possession, to be in, tenere.
 ———, to gain, potior.
 Possible as, (after superl.) quam, vel, 410.
 Possibly. As great as can possibly be, quantus maximus potest esse, 412.
 Post himself, considerare (sēd, sess).
 Poor, pauper.
 Power, potentia of actual, potestas of legal, conceded, &c. power.

Power: to put himself in their —, potestatem sui facere.
 —: to be in our —, in nostrâ potestate esse.
 Powerful, potens.
 Practise (justice, &c.), colere (colu, cult).
 Praise, laus, laudis.
 —, v. laudare.
 Pray (= beg earnestly), orare.
 Predict, prædicere.
 Prefer, anteponere (posu, posit).
 — a charge, reum facere de, 187.
 — a capital charge against, rei capitalis reum facere, 187.
 — a charge of immorality against, de moribus reum facere, 187.
 Prejudicial, to be, obesse, dat.
 Prepare, parare.
 Present with, donare, 207.
 —, give as a, dono or muner dare, 242, (3).
 —, to be, adesse, dat.
 Preservation: tend to the —, 335, c.
 Pretend, simulare.
 Pretty often, nonnunquam.
 Prevent, obstare, dat. (obstit).
 Priest, } sacerdos, otis.
 Priestess, }
 Proceed against a person, consulere in aliquem.
 Produce (= fruits), fruges, pl.
 Productive of, efficiens, gen., 183.
 Profitable, to be, prodesse, dat.
 Promise, polliceri (licit); promittere. S. 17, l. See 15.
 Prompt execution (after opus est), matûre fact, 177.
 Prone, proclivis (ad).
 Property, all my, omnia mea.
 —, all their, omnia sua.
 Prosecute, postulare, 201.
 Protection, take under one's, tueri, 374.
 Proud, superbus.
 Prove an honour, honor esse; prove done by sum with the dat, 242.
 — myself (mindful); præstare me memorem.
 — my gratitude, } gratiam referre.
 — myself grateful, }
 Provide for the interests of, providere (vid, vis); prospicere (spex, spect), both with dat.
 Pull down, diruere (ru, rut).
 Punishment, pœna.
 Purpose, for the, causâ.
 — to no, nequicquam, frustra.
 Put; put down, ponere (posu, posit).
 — off, exuere (exu, exut).
 — in mind of, admonere, 194.
 Pyre, rogus.

Q.
 Quite (to be without), plane (carere).
R.
 Ratify a treaty, icere fœdus.
 Rather, I had, mâlo.
 Rational faculty, mens.
 Rear, in the, a tergo.
 Reason, you, &c. have no, nihil est quod (subj.).
 Receive, ac-, ex-, re- cipere (cep, cept). S. 308.
 — favorably, boni consulere (in Quintil., Seneca, &c.); in bonam partem accipere, 185.
 Reckon, numerare.
 — one thing after another, posthabere.
 — as a fault, vitio vertere, 242.
 Recollect, reminisci.
 Reconciled, to be, in gratiam redire (cum).
 Recover, convalescere (valu).
 Recruit myself, me reficere.
 Refrain: I cannot — from, temperare mihi non possum, quin, &c.
 Regard the interests of, prospicere, dat. (spex, spect).
 Reign, regnare.
 —: in your —, te rege: te regnante or imperante, 364.
 Reject, repudiare.
 Rejoice, gaudere (gavisus sum).
 Relate, narrare.
 Relieve from, liberare, abl.: (of a partial relief) levare, abl.
 Religion, religio.
 Relying on, fretus, abl.
 Remainder = rest of, 179.
 Remains, it, reliquum est, restat (ut).
 Remedy, remedium.
 Remember, meminisse (Imperat. memento); recordari, reminisci. S. 201, q.
 Remind, admonere, gen.
 Render, reddere (did, dit).
 Renew, renovare.
 Repair, reficere (fec, fect).
 Repay a kindness, gratiam referre.
 Repent: I —, me pœnitet, gen.
 Report, fama.
 Require, egere, indigere, gen. abl.
 Required, are, opus sunt, 172.
 Resignation, æquus animus.
 — the most, æquissimus animus.
 Resist, resistere (restit), repugnare, dat.
 Resolve, constituere (stit, stitut).
 Rest, requies.
 Rest on, niti, 273.
 Rest of, adj. reliquus. See 170.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

INDEX I.—ENGLISH.

215

Rest, all the, cetera omnia.
 Restore liberty to his country, patriam in libertatem vindicare.
 Restrain, temperare, dat. 220.
 Restrained, to be, inhiberi.
 Retain a grateful sense, gratiam habere.
 Return, redire, reverti, revenire, S. 339, p.
 ——— thanks, gratias agere (eg, act).
 Revile, maledicere, dat.
 Reviler, vituperator.
 Revolt from, deficere ab (fec, fect).
 Rich, dives.
 Riches, divitiæ.
 Right, rectus: (of situation,) dexter.
 Rise, oriri, ior (ort). See 443.
 Rival, æmulari, dat. or acc.
 River, flumen, amnis, fluvius, 472, o.
 Rob, spoliare, abl.
 Rod, virgæ, pl.
 Rope (= hanging), suspensum.
 Rome, Roma.
 Roman, Romanus.
 Rule, regula.
 Ruling power, to be, rerum potiri.

S.

Safety, salus, utis.
 Sail past, } prætervêhi (vect), acc.
 — along, } Sake: for the — of, causâ.
 —, for its own, propter sese.
 Salute, salutare.
 Same, idem.
 Satisfaction, to your, &c., ex (tuâ) sententiâ.
 Satisfactorily, ex sententiâ.
 Satisfy, satisfacere, dat.
 Say, dicere: (= asserts) ait.
 — that — not, negare.
 — not to, ne dicam.
 — they (= people), ferunt.
 — as they, } ut aiunt.
 Saying: as the — is, } Says he, inquit.
 Sauce, condimentum.
 Scarcely, vix.
 Sea, mare. By sea and land, terrâ marique.
 Season, tempestas.
 Seasoning, condimentum.
 Second, alter.
 Sedition, seditio.
 See, videre: (= distinguish; have the sense of sight) cernere.
 — that you don't, vide ne.
 — (plainly) through (anything), aliquid perspectum habere, 364.
 —; do you — to that, id tu videris.
 Seem, videri (vis).

Seize on, incessere (of fear, &c.), 229.
 Self, selves. See 368. I myself, ipse, 33.
 Sell, vendere (vendi, vendit).
 —, neut. venire (veneo), 267.
 Senate, Senatus.
 Send, mittere (mis, miss).
 — forward, præmittere.
 — (news by letter), perscribere.
 — to the assistance of, auxilio mittere (two datt.).
 Sentence, sententia.
 Serpent, serpens.
 Serve a campaign, stipendium mereré, or mereri, 308.
 Serves, est with dat., 237.
 Service, to be of, prodesse (dat.).
 Serviceable, idoneus.
 Sesterce, sestertius.
 Set on fire, incendere, succendere, S. 299.
 — out, proficisci (fect).
 ——— to the assistance of, auxilio proficisci (2 datt.).
 — at liberty, } liberare, abl.
 — free from, } Several, plures.
 ——— times, 420.
 Severe, gravis: gravior, 409, g.
 Severity, gravitas.
 Shadow, umbra.
 Shed, profundere (fud, fus).
 Should, = ought, debere, oportet, 126: or (after Exerc. 49) part. in dus, 326, 327.
 Show (myself brave), præbere.
 Sicily, Sicilia.
 Sick, æger, gra, grum: ægrotus.
 Side, to be on our, a nobis stare.
 Siege, obsidio.
 Silence, silentium: (habit of) taciturnitas.
 Silent, tacitus: (habitually) taciturnus.
 —, to be, silere, tacere, S. 299.
 Silver, argentum.
 Sin, peccare.
 Since, quum, quoniam, 492.
 Sister, soror.
 Size, magnitudo.
 Skilled in, peritus, gen.
 Slaughter, trucidare.
 Slave, servus.
 Slave, to be the, servire, dat.
 Slay, occidere (cid, cis).
 Sleep, somnus.
 Smack of, redolere (acc.), } 245.
 Smell of, olere, }
 Snatch away, eripere (ripu, rept), dat. of pers.
 Snares, insidiæ.
 Snow, nix, nivis.
 So near home, tam prope a domo.
 So. The thing is so, res ita se habet.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

Socrates, Socrates, Gen. is.
 Sold, to be, venire (veneo). 267.
 Some, aliquis, quispiam, 392. See note x. and 390, v.
 — one or other, nescio quis, 394.
 — body of consequence, aliquis, 396.
 — other place, to, alio.
 — other place, from, aliunde.
 — other direction, in, alio.
 — other direction, from, aliunde.
 — considerable, aliquantum.
 Some — others, alii—alii.
 Sometimes, nonnunquam, aliquando, interdum. S. 402.*
 Somewhat. Omit, and put adj. in compar. 408.
 Sorry: I am — for, piget me, gen.
 Soul, animus.
 Sow, serere (sev, sat).
 Spain, Hispania.
 Spare, parcere (peperc), dat.
 Speak, loqui (locut).
 — the truth, verum dicere.
 Spear, hasta.
 Speech, oratio, 249.
 Spend his life, vitam agere.
 — his time (in), tempus impendere, 337.
 Spoken ill of, to be, male audire.
 Sport: to make — of, illudere (lus), dat.
 Stand in need of, egere, gen. abl.
 — by, adesse, dat.
 Star, stella, S. 51.
 Stay (in a place), commorari.
 Starvation, fames.
 State, respublica.
 Stick, bacillum.
 Stir out of the city, urbe excedere, 249.
 Stone, lapis, adj. lapideus.
 Storm, oppugnare, acc.
 —, to take by, per vim expugnare.
 Strange, mirus.
 Strength, vires, ium.
 Strip off, exuere.
 Strive, niti, eniti (nisus, nixus), ut.
 Struck (by stones, lightning, &c.), ictus.
 Study, studere, dat.
 Subject to, obnoxius, dat.
 Succeed (= follow), excipere, acc.
 Successfully, ex sententiâ.
 Succour, succurrere, dat.
 Such, talis.
 — is your temperance, quæ tua est temperantia, 56.
 — a manner, in, ita (ut).
 Suffer, sinere (siv); pati (passus). S. 532.

Suggestion, at your, te auctore.
 Suitable, idoneus, 212.
 Sun, sol.
 Superior, to be, } antecellere, præstare, Surpass, } 229.
 Superstition, superstitio.
 Supper, cæna.
 Support (= nourish), alere (alu, alit or alt).
 Surround, circumdare (urbem muro, or murum urbi).
 Survive, superesse.
 Survivor, superstes, itis.
 Suspense, to be in anxious, pendere animi, animo (or, if necessary, animis).
 Suspicion, suspicio.
 Swallow, hirundo, dinis.
 Swear, jurare.
 Syracuse, Syracusæ.

T.

Take †, capere (cep, capt); sumere (sums, sumpt). S. 492.
 — by storm, expugnare.
 — in good part, boni consulere, 185.
 — away, adimere, eximere, S. 385, o (em, empt): eripere, dat. of pers.
 — measures against, consulere in (acc.).
 — cruel measures against, crudeliter in (aliquem) consulere.
 — a camp, exuere hostes castris, 233.
 — care, cavere (cav, caut).
 — that, vide (ne).
 — under one's protection, tueri, 374.
 — hold of, prehendere.
 Teach, docere, two acc., 257.
 Teach to play on the lyre, fidibus docere (i. e. teach with or on the strings).
 Teacher, magister; fem. magistra.
 Temple, templum.
 Tenacious, tenax, gen.
 Tend to, 335, c.
 Terrify, terrere.
 Territory, ager.
 Thank, gratias agere.
 That (after doubt, deny, &c. with neg.), quin.
 — (after fear) ne; that—not, ut (or ne non).
 —, as nom. to 'is,' &c. agrees with nom., after it, 366, m.
 — famous, ille, 381.
 —, (after 'it remains,' 'it follows,') ut.
 — too, et is; idemque, } 385.
 — too not, nec is,

* Rarius interdum quam nonnunquam esse memento.

† Take arms, arma capere or sumere. (Cicero.)

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

INDEX I.—ENGLISH.

217

That only, is demum, 385.
 Thebes, Thebæ, arum.
 Then (= at that time), tum.
 — (= after), deinde, inde.
 — (= therefore), igitur, itaque.
 There, ibi.
 — is no doubt, non est dubium quin.
 — are some who (think), sunt qui (putent).
 — not wanting, non desunt qui (subj.).
 — found some who, reperiuntur qui (subj.).
 Think, censere, putare, existimare, arbitrari, S. 257.
 — nothing of, nihili facere, 266.
 Thigh, femur, oris, n.
 Thirst for, sitire, acc., 240.
 This being the case, quæ quum ita sint.
 Thousand, mille, adj.; pl. millia, subst.
 Threaten, minari. See end of 222.
 Three hundred, trecenti.
 — days, space of, triduum.
 — years, space of, triennium.
 Through, expressing the cause, sign of abl.
 Throw before, projicere (jec, ject).
 — off, exuere.
 Till, colere (colu, cult).
 Till, donec, dum, quoad, 507, &c.
 Time, at that, id temporis.
 —: the — of the Latin Games, Ludis Latinis.
 —, for a long, dudum, diu, jamdudum, &c. S. 420.
 Times, two or three (= several times) *, bis terque.
 — (= not more than) *, bis terve.
 —: many — as great, multis partibus major.
 Timid, timidus.
 Tired: am — of, tædet me, gen.
 To death (after condemn), capitis.
 — no purpose, nequicquam, frustra. S. 33.
 — each other (after contrary, compare), inter se.
 Toga, toga.
 Together (after to compare), inter se.
 To-morrow, cras.
 Tongues: to hold their —, 299.
 Too much, nimius (nimius somnus, or nimium somni).
 — dear, nimio.
 Top of, summus, adj. See 179.
 Torch, tæda.

Tortured: to be — in mind, discruciaci animi.
 Towards, adversus, erga, 470: in, 281.
 Treachery, proditio.
 Treason, proditio.
 Treaty, fœdus, eris.
 Tribune, tribunus.
 Triumph, triumphus.
 — in, per triumphum (ducere).
 —: gain a — for a victory over the Gauls, de Gallis triumphare.
 Troublesome, molestus.
 Troy, Troja.
 True: it is—but, ille quidem—sed, 383.
 Truly, vere.
 Trustworthy, fidelis.
 Truth, veritas.
 Turn back, revertere, reverti, 339.
 — out, evadere (vas).
 — it into a fault, vitio vertere, 242, (2).
 Tuscan, Tuscus.
 Two days, space of, biduum.

U.

Unacquainted with, rudis, gen.
 Unbecoming, it is, dedecet, acc.
 Unburied, inhumatus.
 Under favour, bonâ tuâ veniâ.
 — such an age, 306.
 Understand, intelligere (lex, lect).
 Undertake, suscipere: (= engage to do) recipere.
 — to corrupt, corripendum suscipere.
 Unexpectedly, de improviso.
 Unfriendly, inimicus.
 Unless, nisi, 451.
 — indeed, nisi vero, or forte.
 — I am mistaken, nisi me fallit.
 Unlike, dissimilis, dat.
 Unmindful, immemor, gen.
 Unskilled in, imperitus, gen.
 Unteach, dedocere; two acc.
 Unwilling, to be, nolle.
 Unwilling, } invitus.
 Unwillingly, }
 Unworthy, indignus, abl.
 Use, uti (usus), abl.
 —, make a bad — of, male uti, abl.
 — perverse — of, perverse uti, abl.
 Useful, utilis, 212.
 Useless, inutilis, 212.
 Utter many falsehoods, multa mentiri, (de).

* BIS TERQUE augebit, minuet BIS TERVE notatum.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

218

INDEX I. — ENGLISH.

V.

Vain, in, nequicquam; frustra (S. 33).

Value, æstimare, 264.

Valuable, pretiosus.

Very (with superl.), vel, 410.

— many, permulti.

— much, permulta.

— little, perpauca.

—, to be translated by magnus or summus, when the adj. after 'very' is translated by a subst. 'Is very honorable,' 'magno honori est,' 242.

Vice, vitium.

Violence, vis.

Virtue, virtus, virtutis.

Virtuous, honestus.

Virtuously, honeste.

Visit (on business), adire; (as a friend), visere; (on business, or not), convenire. S. 249.

Voyage, to have a prosperous, ex sententiā navigare.

W.

Wage, gerere (gess, gest).

Wait, manere.

— for, expectare, opperiri, præstolari, S. 299.

— upon, convenire, acc.

Walk, ambulare.

Wall, murus; (of a walled city) mœnia, pl.; (of a house) paries, etis; (of a garden, &c.) maceria.

Wanting, to be, deesse, dat.

War, bellum.

—, in, bello.

Warn, monere.

Washed, to be (of an island), circumfundī (fusus).Watch over, cavere (cav, caut), dat.

Water, aqua.

Wave, fluctus, ūs.

Way, in such a, ita (ut).

Weary, am, tædet me, gen.

Weight, onus, eris.

Well, bene; (= rightly) recte.

Whatever, quicquid, neut. as subst.; quicunque, adj.

Wheat, triticum.

When, quum, quando, 105. (= as soon as) ubi, ut, 512.

Whence, unde.

Where, ubi.

— you are, istic; from where you are, istinc; to where, &c. istuc.

— in the world, ubi or ubinam gentium.

Whether — or (of two statements left doubtful), sive — sive; seu — seu.

Whether, utrum (in double dependentquestions); num (in single dependent questions).Which (of two), uter.

Whip with rods, virgis cædere (cecīd, cæs).

White, albus.

Whither, quo.

Why, cur, quare, 105.

Whole, totus, universus. See 179.

Will, against my, invitus. Against the will of Caius, invito Caio.

Willing, to be, velle.

Wind, ventus.

Wine, vinum.

Winter (as adj.), hibernus.

Wisdom, sapientia.

Wise, sapiens.

Wish, velle, 142.

— well to, cupere alicui.

With, cum.

— after 'to do,' de.

— 'to make a beginning,' a, ab.

With = in the house of,	} apud, acc. (and after — mind —, — estimation of,
— presence —,	} multum valere).

Without, sine; or adj. experts, gen.

—, to be, carere, abl.

— being heard, inauditus, a, um.

— before partic. subst., non, or some other negative, with participle, 363, c.— after nunquam and before particip. subst. quin with subj. 83, c.

Wolf, lupus.

Wonder at, admirari.

Wonderful, miras.

Wont, to be, solere (solitus sum).

Wool, lana.

Word, verbum.

— for word, ad verbum.

Worship, to, colere, colu, cult.

World, mundus: orbis terræ or terrarum.

—, in the, (after superl.) vel, 410.

Worthy, dignus, abl.

Would have been (better), } fuit, not — be (tedious, &c.), } fuisset.

Wound, vulnus, eris.

—, ferire, icere, 299.

Wretched, miser, a, um.

Write (news), perscribere.

Y.

Yesterday, heri.

Young, juvenis.

Youth (= time of), juvenus, utis; juvenenta.

— (= body of), juvenus. S. 339.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

INDEX II.

LATIN.

Words followed by (s) are distinguished from their synonyms.

A, ab, abs, 348.
 a nobis stare; facere; sentire, 348.
 a manu servus.
 abdicare magistratum, or se magistratu.
 abesse (s), 227, r (propius).
 ac, atque (s), 4, d.
 accedit (huc — quod or ut), 513.
 accendere (s), 299, h. accidere (s), 374, d.
 accipere (s), 299, h.
 acies (s), 348, t.
 actum est de, 59.
 adesse (s), 227, q.
 adimere (s), 385.
 adire (s), 249.
 adjuvare (s), 222, k.
 ædes (s), 356, y.
 æqualis, 212, x.
 æqui boni facere, 185*.
 æternus (s), p. 38, c.
 ait esse paratus, 149, c.
 ales (s), 480, u.
 aliquando (s), } 402.
 aliquantum (s), } aliud — aliud, 38.
 aliud alio (fertur), 400, d.
 amare (s), p. 55, a. ambulatum est, 296.
 amittere (s), 56, n. amnis (s), 472, o.
 amœnus (s), 212, v. an, in single questions, 120, f. an non (s), 122, b. an quisquam? p. 123, c. anima, -us (s), 92, c. apparere (s), 150, w. appellare (s), 51, i.
 aptus (s), 212.
 astrum (s), 51.
 audis seu Jane, 272, p. aut (s), 456.
 auxiliari (s), 222, k.
 ave (s), 281, s.

avere (s), 420.
 avis (s), 480, u.

B.

beatus (s), 443.
 bibere (s), 257, k.
 bis terque, } 420 †.
 — terve, }
 bonâ tuâ veniâ, 428.
 boni consulere, 185.

C.

cadere (s), 299, i.
 callēre (s), 385.
 capere (s), 492.
 caput feritur alicui, 294 (b). carere (s), 273, h. caritas (s), 281, r.
 cave putes, 539.
 censere (s), 257, x.
 certiore facere, 187.
 CHARGE in the acc. if expressed by a neut. pron. 194.
 circumdāre urbem muro, } 232.
 — murum urbi, }
 CIVITAS in appos. to the plural name of a people: Carmonenses, quæ est civitas, 138, k.
 claudus altero pede, 276.
 cœpi (s), 150, x.
 cœptus est, 150, x.
 comes (s), 185, z.
 commissatio (s), 428, b.
 committere ut, 479.
 compilare, 257, g.
 componere (s), 222, r.
 concessum est (s), 124, d.
 CONDITIONAL forms of the infin. p.
 144, x.
 conferre (s), 222, r.

† Bis TERQUE augebit, minuet BIS TERVE notatum.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

220

INDEX II.—LATIN.

CONSEQUENCE in perf. subj. for imperf.

418 †.

consors (s), 185, z.
 consulere alicui, 233.
 contendere (s), 222, r.
 contingere (s), 374, d.
 convenire (s), 249, f.
 convivium (s), 428, b.
 creber (s), 410, n.
 crederes, 426.
 credor (when right), 474, r.
 cruor, 229, f.
 cujus es temperantiæ, 56.
 culpa (s), 242, g.
 cuncti (s), 443.
 cupere (s), 420.
 cur (s), 105, f.
 curare aliquid faciendum, 351.

D.

damnare voti, votis, 201, s.
 ——— capitis, 201.
 damnor a volente esse bono, not Latin, 152, y.
 dapes (s), 428, b. de facie nosse, }
 — improviso, } 521.
 — industriâ, } debere (s), 126, f.
 deesse (s), 227, r.
 defendere, 374.
 delictum (s), 428, c. desitus est, 150, y.
 desperatus, 229.
 deterior (s), 410.
 dicere (s), 177, q. diligere (s), p. 55, a.
 diu (s), 420.
 dolere (s), 521, a.
 dominus (s), 180.
 dono dare, 242 (3).
 donum (s), 242, h.
 dubito. See Q. § 14.
 dudum (s), 420.
 dulcis, 211, v.
 dum, 494.
 dummodo (ne), 494.

E.

e re meâ est, 542.
 ec, } ecquis, } 400, e.
 edere (s), 257.
 egere (s), 273, h.
 ego credor, when correct, 474, r.
 eo insolentiæ, 512.
 epulæ (s), 428, b.
 ergo, with gen., 207.

esse honori alicui, 242.
 est infinitum, 426.
 et is (idem, &c.), 385.
 evenire, 374, d.
 EVER, how translated, p. 125, k.
 ex pedibus laborare, 542.
 excedere urbem, 244, q. excipere (s), 299, a.
 eximere (s), 385.
 expilare (s), 257, g. exspectare (s), 227, z. exsul } extorris } (s), 276, u.

F.

fac ut, 539.
 facere de, 291 ; —non possum quin, 89.
 facturos pollicentur, 149, c. fallere (s), 38, z.
 fallit me, 209.
 familiariter uti, 456.
 fanum (s), 356, y.
 fari (s), 177, q.
 fas est, 124, d.
 faustus (s), 443.
 felix (s), 443.
 festinare (s), 177, m.
 fieri potest ut, 129.
 flagitare (s), 257.
 fluvius (s), 472, v.
 forsitan, 494.
 fortior quam prudentior, 452, w.
 frequens (s), 410, n. fructus } fruges } (s), 33, u. frustra (s), 33, v.
 fugit me, 209.
 fuit utilius, &c. 426.
 FUTURE SUBJUNCT. 41.

G.

gaudere (s), 521, a.
 gestire (s), 420.
 gratus (s), 212, v.

H.

hæres ex dodrante, &c. 556.
 haud (s), p. 57, b.
 haud scio an, 116.
 haud scio an nemo, stronger than haud scio an quisquam. Is the latter form correct? See note on Diff. of Idiom, 25.
 herus (s), 180.
 hic, 377, &c. relating to the more remote word, 378, h: to id de quo potissi- mum agimus, 378, h (3). homo (s), 38, y.
 hostis (s), 212, z.

† Potius dixerim, ubi de re præteritâ agatur, perfectum subjunctivi magis eventum facti spectare; imperfectum mentem et consilium agentis. Günther.

I.

- icere (s), 299, i.
 id, not to be used as nom. to 'to be' when a subst. follows, but to agree with that subst., p. 119, m. id ætatis, 163, β.
 ID QUOD, for quod only, adds emphasis, p. 18, n. *.
 idem (= also), 387.
 idem est qui (or ac, atque), 45, b.
 idoneus (s), 212* ; qui, 486.
 ignoscere (s), 428, c.
 ille, 49, 377, &c. : with quidem in partial concessions, followed by a 'but,' 383.
 imperare (s), 78, w. in ante diem, 530.
 — dies, 69, t.
 incendere (s), 299, h.
 incipere (s), 150, x.
 incolumis (s), 542.
 incusare (s), p. 59, m. indigere (s), 257.
 inimicus (s), 212, z.
 inquit, 177, q.
 instar, 207.
 inter se contraria, 25.
 interdum (s), 402.
 interea (s), 402 ; in neg. sentences, see note g.
 interesse (s), 227, q.
 interest Ciceronis esse eloquentis, wrong, 152, z. interficere (s), 308.
 interim (s), 402.
 invenire (s), 177, o.
 ipse (= exactly), 308.
 IPSE, with pers. pron., when in the nom., when in oblique case, 368.
 —, hardly ever in the nom. (in Cic.) after appended met, p. 116, c. irasci (s), 222.
 is sum qui, 483.
 iste, that of yours, 377 (c).
 — in LETTERS, refers to the place where one's correspondent resides, 382.
 istinc, 387.
 ita justum, si est, &c., 451.

J.

- jampridem cupio, 413.
 JUBERE (acc. with inf. ; ut when used absolutely), p. 67, h.
 jucunde vivi non potest, 504.
 jucundus (s), 211, v.
 juvare (s), 222, k.

L.

- lætari, 521.
 latet me, or mihi (bad), 259, a. libenter (= like to), 492.
 libertinus } (s), 561.
 libertus }
 licet (s), 124, d.
 — esse beatum, or beato, 153, b, c.
 — (although), 451.
 locare aliquid faciendum.
 locare (s), 480, v.
 loqui (s), 177, q.
 ludis Latinis, 311.
 lugere (s), 521, a.

M.

- maceria (s), 233.
 macte esto, &c., 280, q.
 major annis viginti, &c., Q. on § 42.
 male audire, 492.
 mādare (s), 78, w.
 me (miserum) qui, 486, i.
 mederi (s), 222, l.
 medicina } (s), 257, l. medicamentum }
 meminī (s), 62, q. 61, l.
 — legere, 426.
 mens (s), 92, c.
 metuere (ne, ut), 95 ; (s), 99, e. minari mortem alicui, 222.
 miserari } (s), 201, r. misereri } miseret me }
 modo, 494.
 mœnia (s), 233.
 mœrere (s), 521, a.
 monere *, ut ; ne ; acc. with inf. 189, k.
 — (s), 222, i.
 munus (s), 242, h.
 murus (s), 233.

N.

- nam appended to interrogatives, p. 124, 398. ne quis (not, ut } when a purpose is nemo), } expressed without — quid (not, ut } emphasis on the nihil), } negative, 80.
 — unquam (not, ut nunquam), } ne = that after verbs of fear, 95.
 ne — quidem, 185.
 ne dicam, 443.
 necare (s), 308.
 necesse est, 504.
 necne (s), 122, b.
 nedum (ut), 145.

* Præterita ADMONEO memori te mente : futura, } This however does not quite Ut monitus discas quæ sint, caveasque, MONEBO. } hold good of admoneo.

nemo pictor, 443: neminis, nemine; see note p. 212.
 neque, with verb = without, 520.
 nequicquam (s), 33, v. nescio quis, 394.
 — an, 116.
 nihil me terret, 443.
 — habeo quod, 477.
 — aliud nisi, 185.
 — quam rident, 450.
 nisi, 451.
 nisi forte, or vero, 451.
 noli putare, 539.
 nolle = would not, 541.
 nomen est mihi Caio, 239.
 non (s), p. 57, h.
 non possum quin (for facere non possum quin; or, non possum non with infin.) should not be imitated. [Cicero quotes non possum quin exclamem, from Plautus.]
 non quod, or quo — sed, 492.
 — desunt qui putent, 477.
 — solum—verum (or sed) etiam, 257.
 — est quod, 477.
 nonne, 102.
 nonnunquam (s), 402.
 noscere (s), 385.
 NOSTRUM, VESTRUM, after partitives, and with omnium, 372.
 nullus dubito, 492.
 num, 102.
 nuptam esse, 222, m.

O.

ob, in oberro, &c. = amb, ἀμφί, 246, r.
 obedire (s), 222.
 obire mortem, &c. (s), 249, u.
 obtingere } (s), 374, d.
 obvenire } obviam ire, 512.
 occidere (s), 308.
 operæ pretium est, 532.
 opitulari (s), 222, k.
 oportet (s), 126, f.
 — me facere } 126.
 — (ego) faciam }
 opperiri (s), 229, z. oppetere mortem (s), 249, v.
 oppidum (s), 83, z. opprobrium (s), 242, i.
 optare (s), 420. opto ut, p. 193.
 opus est (s), 126, f: 170, i.
 — properato, 177.
 — absolutum habeo, 364.
 orare (s), 257 *.
 ORIGIN OF THE PERFECT WITH 'HAVE'
 IN MODERN LANGUAGES, p. 114, a. oriundus } (s), 551.
 ortus }

P.

pace tuâ dixerim, 428.
 par (s), 212, x.
 parere (s), 222.
 parum (s), 402.
 paries (s), 233.
 PARTICIPIAL SUBSTANTIVE, Caution 26.
 See also p. 135, e.
 PARTICIPLES IN RUS AND DUS, § 46,
 p. 111.
 — of deponent verbs, 365.
 pasci (s), 257, k.
 pati (s), 532 *.
 paululum } (s), 402.
 paulum }
 pejor (s), 410.
 PERF. SUBJ. (for imperf.) in a consequence with ut, 418: in obl. narr.
 p. 145, z. persuadere (s), 222, i.
 persuasum est mihi, 291.
 persuasissimum habeo (bad), 291, z. petere (s), 257 *.
 pietas (s), 281, r.
 plerique: plerorumque, plerarumque, not found, 291.
 polliceri (s), 17, l.
 — with infin. fut. 15, a. ponere (s), 480, v.
 poscere (s), 257 *.
 possum (s), 125, e.
 post — annos quam excesserat; or excessit, 310, s. 514.
 posthabere aliquid alicui, 227.
 postquam, 512. postulare (s), 257 *.
 potare, 257, k.
 potentia } (s), 451.
 potestas }
 potestatem sui facere, 451.
 præbere } se fortem, 229.
 præstare } præmium (s), 242.
 præsens } 227, q.
 præsentem esse }
 præstolari (s), 227, z.
 præterit (non me), 259.
 prehendere (s), 492.
 PRESENT after si in connexion with fut.,
 p. 130, t.
 PRESENT and IMPERF. PASSIVE of English verb, p. 135, e.
 PRESENT or PERF. SUBJ. in connexion with infin. where the general rule would require imperf. or pluperf., 468.
 pridem (s), 420.
 prim-um, o (s), 83, a. probrum (s), 242, i.
 { pro re natâ }
 { — virili, } 542.
 { — eo ac mereor, }

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

INDEX II.—LATIN.

223 pro tuâ temperantiâ, 56.

 prælium (s), 348, t.
 profugus (s), 276, n.
 promitto (s), 17, l.
 properare (s), 177, m.
 propior, 211.
 propius (d. or acc.), 512.
 — abesse, 329.
 prosper, (s), 443.
 proxime, 512.
 proximus, 211.
 pugna (s), 348, t.
 purgandi sui causâ, 334.
 putares (you would have thought), 426.

Q.

quæ quum ita sint, 492.
 — tua est temperantiâ, 56.
 quam pro (after compar.), 409, f.
 — nullus, 492.
 — ut sit, &c. (after compar.), 486.
 — brevissime, &c. 410.
 — omitted after amplius, &c., 552, k. quamquam, } 451. See note u. quamvis, }
 quanta maxima potest esse, &c., 410.
 quare, 105, f.
 quasi, 494.
 queo (s), 125, e.
 quid ætatis, 164, ß.
 — facerem? 427, c.
 quilibet, (s) 390, u.
 quin, 44, 3. See note e, p. 21, and note d, p. 194.
 — after verbs of doubting, &c. in negative sentences, 85, 86.
 quippe (qui), 482, a.
 quis est qui? 477.
 quis sum qui? 483.
 quisquam, 389, 390 (γ).
 si quisquam, 391, w.
 quisquam: an est—qui? 477.
 quisque: doctissimus quisque, 399.
 quivis (s), 390, u.
 quo, 63. without compar. p. 194, e.
 — amentia, 512.
 quoad ejus, &c., 512.
 quod sciam, 56.
 quominus, 94.
 quot estis, &c., 174.
 quotidie, 69, t.
 quotusquisque est, qui (subj.), 477.
 quum interrogaretur, not interrogatus esset, 415, s.

R.

re = forth, 249, v. (= ēpt?)
 recipere (s), 308, a. recordari, p. 59: (s), 201, q. redire (s), 339, p. remedium (s), 257, l.

reminisci (s), 201, q.
 reperire (s), 177, o.
 reperiuntur, &c. qui, 477.
 res ita se habet, 451.
 reum facere, 187.
 reus, its meaning, 188, f.
 revenire } (s), 339, p.
 reverti } rivus (s), 472, v.
 rogare (s), 257 *.

S.

salutare (s), 249, f.
 salve (s), 281, s.
 salvus (s), 542.
 sanare (s), 222, l.
 sanguis (s), 299, f.
 sapientior Caio,
 — quam Caius, } 405, m.
 satis, 512.
 satius, ex. 34.
 scelus (s), 243, g.
 scire (s), 385.
 secundum aliquem decernere, 504.
 securus (s), 542.
 sempiternus (s), 123, c.
 sensit delapsus, 149, u. sententiâ (ex), 17.
 si = whether, p. 142, t.
 si hoc dicas, p. 137, h.
 si (mood), 451, t.
 si aliquis
 — quisquam } (s), 391, w: 402, h.
 si quis
 — quisquam } 391, w.
 sive, seu, 456, a.
 sidus (s), 51.
 silere (s), 299, g.
 similis tui, tibi, 212, w. (212, x.)
 simulac, &c., 512.
 simulare, 15 (a); (s), 17, m.
 sin minus,
 — autem, } 451.
 — secus,
 — aliter,
 sine aliquo or aliquâ, when right, 390, v. sine omni curâ, wrong, 391, w. sinere (s), 532 *.
 sodalis } (s), 185, z.
 socius } spoliare (s), 273.
 stella (s), 57.
 stipendium mereri, 308.
 suadere (s), 222, i.
 suavis (s), 212, v.
 sublevare } (s), 222, k.
 subvenire }
 succendere (s), 299, h. succurrere (s), 222, k.
 sumere (s), 492.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01141-9 - Practical Introduction to Latin Prose Composition

Thomas Kerchever Arnold

Index

More information

224

INDEX II.—LATIN.

succensere (s), 222.

summus mons, 179.

sunt qui putent, 477.

SUPERLATIVE and other adjj. placed in the relat. instead of in the principal clause, 53.

T.

tacere (s), 299, g.

tanquam, 494.

tantum abest ut—ut, 534.

templum (s), 356, y.

timere (s), 99, e.

triplicem aciem instruere, 456.

trucidare (s), 308.

-to, -tote (imperative forms in), 480, x.

tueri, 374.

tutus (s), 542.

U.

ubi terrarum, } 512.

ubinam gentium, }

universi (s), 443.

unquam, 402.

ut = as soon as; when, 512.ut = that not, 95.

ut omitted, 417, b.

UT NE, when used for ne, 77, note.

ut quisque—ita, 407.

ut ajunt, 319.

uterlibet (s), 390, u.

utervis (s), 390, u.

utinam, 494.

utpote qui, 482.

V.

vacat mihi, 154: 337, note i.

valere apud aliquem, 463.

vapulare ab, 291.

ve, } 456.

vel, }

velim (ut iudices), 417, b.

velle = would, 541.

— sibi, 242.

veniam dare, 428, c.

verbi causâ, 443.

vereri (s), 99, e.

videri, 150, w.

vir (s), 38, y.

vis, decl. p. 57, note g.

visere (s), 249, s.

vitium (s), 242, g.

vitio vertere, &c., 242.

vix crediderim, 428*.

vocare (s), 51, i.

volucres (s), 480, u.

vult { se esse principem, } 149.

{ esse princeps, }

THE END.