

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01354-3 - The Travels of Pietro della Valle in India, Volume 2

Edited by Edward Grey

Index

More information

INDEX.

- Abag-devi-Ciautrù, Queen of Olala, her meeting with Pietro della Valle, 306; description of, 307; interview with Pietro della Valle, 308-10; her history, 313; becomes the wife of the King of Banghel, 313; puts herself under the protection of Venk-tapà, 314; her energetic attention to drainage works, 337; promises an audience to Pietro della Valle, 338; fails to send for him, 342
- Acosta, Christopher, writer on drugs, 37
- Adil, Sháh, meaning of the name, 149; his fears of Selim Sháh, 151; his want of courtesy towards the Portuguese, 196; pays tribute to Selim Sháh, 243; deposes the Governor of territories near Goa, who had given much trouble to the Portuguese, 443
- Aga Beg, Governor of Cananor, 383
- Aghoreswàra, temple of, 216 n.; idol venerated by Venk-tapà, 272
- Agra, town of, in danger on account of the rebellion of Sultán Kharram, 48
- Ahmadábád, royal seat of the province of Cambay, 34; notice of, 92; description of, 95; trees in, 95; palace in, 97; image of the Virgin Mary in, 98; temple of Mâhádeo in, 98; artificial lake near, 102
- Albertino, Antonio, rector of the Jesuits' college at Damán, 116; exchanges letters with Pietro della Valle, 121, 124; takes Pietro della Valle to the college, 133; provides accommodation for Mariam Tinatin, 133
- Alvares, Don Nugno, governor of the coast of Kaffraria, his arrival from Mozambique, 429
- Ambassador, the. See Leiton
- Ambe, or Mango, plant of India, 40
- Amboyna, massacre of, xxvii
- Andrada. See Ruy Freira d'Andrada
- Asaf, Khán, notice of, 47 n.; possibly aided Kharram's rebellion, 55; held in custody, 121
- Ayres de Siqueira Baraccio, sea captain, 354, 355; lands at Goa at night, 394
- Azarg, Beca, a learned Brahman, 75; identifies Brahma with Pythagoras, 76
- Badrapoor, town near Ikkeri, 243
- Baldinotti, Pietro della Valle's confessor in Goa, 163
- Balè Rairu, heir to Saluva Rairu, 318
- Banghel, description of, 302; King of, 313, 315
- Baraccio, Ayres de Siqueira. See Ayres de Siqueira
- Barocci, town of. See Broach
- Baroccio, Ruy Gomez, priest in Goa, shows civility to Pietro della Valle, 180; takes him to visit the Bishop of Cochin, 199; shows hospitality to Pietro della Valle, 394; accompanies him to Guadalupe, 404
- Barros, Giovanni di, Portuguese historian, notice of, 34 n.
- Barselor, Higher and Lower towns, notice of, 297
- Bassein, seaport town, 16, 17
- Batkal, town, notice of, 390 n.
- Beca Azarg. See Azarg, Beca
- Benastarim, fort near Goa, account of, 180; lovely view from, 181; captain of, 181. See Gerda
- Betle, use of, in India, 226, 255
- Bhadri Amma, wife of Venk-tapà, her death, 207; account of, 208-9
- Bhát Náth, or Batinato, King of the Jogis, 345; is visited by Pietro della Valle, 350; description of, 351; declines to write his name, 351
- Bombay, ceded to England by Dutch, xxxiv
- Borges, Antonio, resident in Barselor, 298
- Brahma, figure of, in temple at Nagar, 112; identified with Pythagoras, 76, 108, 111; and the lotus flower, fable of, 408
- Brahmans, the most noble caste in India, 88; dispute with Jesuits as to use of sacred thread, 88-91
- Broach, or Bharoch, description of, 60; cotton trade of, 60-1
- Bulachi, Sultan, son of Sultán Khushru, notice of, 59 n.
- Cacciatur, or Galal, servant to Pietro della Valle, is unable to leave Surat, 126; is left in charge of Vandembroecke, 129; who sends him after Pietro della Valle, disguised as an Indian, 130; dismissed for theft, 292
- Báber, a descendant of Tamerlane, founds the Mogul dynasty, 48; notice of, 51

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01354-3 - The Travels of Pietro della Valle in India, Volume 2

Edited by Edward Grey

Index

More information

448

INDEX.

- Calecut. See Kálfcot
- Cambay, principal town of Guzarát, desire of Pietro della Valle to visit, 46; the governor is removed by Kharram, 62; description of town of, 66; treatment of animals in, 67-8, 70; garden at, 68; temple at, 69, 71; singers and dancers at, 71; temple of idols at, 71; departure of Pietro della Valle from, 92; high tide, or bore, seen from, 103; temple of Vaishnavas, near, 105; corpse-burning at, 115
- Cananor, description of the city and its churches, 382; La Misericordia at, 382
- Canara. See Kánara
- Celuuá Rairu. See Saluva
- Charles, Prince, and the Spanish marriage, 171, 214, 255, 278, 425, 438
- Cháwul, arrival of Pietro della Valle at, 140; cathedral church at, 141; hill at, held by the Moors, 141; taken by the Portuguese, 141
- Chogia Riza, a Persian, friendly towards the Portuguese, is appointed governor of territories adjoining Goa by Adil Sháh, 443
- Chorrom, Sultán. See Kharram
- Chosrou, Sultán. See Khushru
- Christmas Eve, litanies sung on ships on, 381; cakes drugged by soldiers on, 381
- Cicco, Portuguese boy at the court of Vikera, 357, 364
- Clavijo, Ruy Gonzales de, writes history of Tamerlane's conquests, 50
- Clusius. See l'Elcuse
- Cochin, notice of, 199; Bishop of, administers the Archbishopric of Goa, 199
- Commandant, the. See Vandenbroecke
- Cortereal, Giovan Pereira, Admiral of the Portuguese fleet, 438
- Cos, or Corú, measure of distance, 23
- Costa, Ventura da, native of Kánara, his marriage at Goa, 427
- Courten, Sir William, obtains a licence to trade in India, xxix; the licence not renewed, xxix
- Cow-dung, use of, in India, 87, 230, 231, 318, 336
- Cugna, Lena da, Portuguese gentlewoman at Goa, receives Mariam Tintin into her house, 160; retains her during the absence of Pietro della Valle, 200
- Cutb, Sháh. See Kút'b, Sháh
- Dábul attacked by English ships, Whale and Dolphin, 136-7
- Dalboquerque, Afonso, his arrival in India, xi; sacks Kálfkot, xi
- Damán, Portuguese city, arrival of Pietro della Valle at, 132; description of the city and cathedral, 133
- Daváli, Hindú feast of lamps, in honour of Káli, wife of Siva, 206
- Davis' staff, used by Capt. Woodcock, 12
- Dher, or Dhed, a low and despised caste in India, 113
- Diu, sea-fight at, 444
- Dolphin*, English vessel, 4; leaves Surat on secret mission, 130
- Drugs, writers on, 37
- Dutch, take ports and forts from Portuguese, xii; their disagreement with the East India Company, xxvi et seq.; their treaty for a cessation of hostilities with the East India Company, xxix; colonise Java Major, 24; seize Portuguese orphans and marry them, 25; show great courtesy towards Pietro della Valle, 26; entertain Pietro della Valle at Broach, 61; and at Cambay, 66
- East India Company, charter of incorporation, xvii; first factory, xix; new charters of James I, xxii; establishes a factory at Surat, xxiii; its struggles with the Dutch, xxvi et seq.; is authorised to build forts, xxviii; firmán from King of Golkonda and from Mogul Emperor, xxviii; its treaty for a cessation of hostilities with the Dutch, xxix; takes island of Pulo-roone, xxxi; new charter of Chas. II, xxxi; is authorised to establish garrisons and keep ships of war, xxxii; change of character of the Company, xxxv
- English, entertain Pietro della Valle at Ahmadábád, 95; attack Dábul, 137; massacred by Selim Sháh at Súrat, 417; impolitic behaviour of, 418. See also East India Company
- Europe, news from, 425-7, 439
- Farnese, Ranuccio, news of death of, 171
- Fernandez, Francesco, Vicar of Cháwul, 142
- Fernandez, Gio. See Leiton
- Fernandez, Hettor, captain of war-ships, 194, 205, 299
- Figueroa, Don García de Silva y, formerly Spanish ambassador in Persia, account of, 188 n.; resides in Goa, 189
- Foufel, plant of India, 40
- Franceschi, Giacinto, a Florentine in Goa, 163
- Francisco, Christoforo Fernandez, captain of fortress of Onor, 204
- Gama, Don Francisco da, Viceroy at Goa, 158; visit of Pietro della Valle to, 175; his arrangements to assist Ruy Freira at Ormuz, 396; his lukewarmness in assisting Ruy Freira, 398

- Ganesa, son of Mâhâdeo and Parvati, fable of, 73
- Garsopa, account of Queen of, 219; kingdom of, conquered by Venk-tapâ, 219; beauty of river of, 220; pepper-growing in, 221
- Gerda, Manoel Pereira de la, captain of the fort at Benastarim, 181
- Ghâts, description of, 222; fortress and temple in, 223; cistern in, 223; native school in, 227
- Giaccamâ, widow in Ikkeri, who resolves to burn herself, 266, 273
- Giagata, calls his dominion after himself Giagataio, 50
- Giovanni, Christoforo di, a learned Portuguese in Goa, 163
- Gioivo, Paolo, an Italian in the Jesuits' college at Bassein, 139
- Goa, description of, 154-5; many religious orders in, 156; many slaves in, 157; pomp and poverty of the inhabitants of, 157; laxity of morals of the Portuguese in, 161; account of the Jesuits in, 162 n.; learned men in, 163; Jesuits' convent the handsomest in, 164; religious procession in, 167; two summers and two winters every year in, 170; arrival of four Carmelites from Rome at, 172; death of three of them, 172; Carmelite re-joining for the canonization of S. Teresia in, 173; masquerade in honour of S. Teresia in, 173; mass in praise of S. Teresia in, 174; masquerade on feast of S. John Baptist in, 177; Râmazân celebrated in, 179; large well at, constructed by the Hindûs, 182; church of S. Anna at, 182; wether used instead of horse in college of S. Paul at, 185; Hindû feast at Narva in, 186; feast of the Rosary at, 190; account of archbishopric of, 199; Jesuit procession in, 402; canonization festival at, 410, 413; representation of life of S. Xavier, 410; beatification mass at, 411; procession of Augustines at, 414; priest-ridden state of, 415; exact position of, 417; inquisitor's festival in, 421; feast of first-fruits in, 436; arrival of annual Portuguese fleet at, 437; arrival of vessels from Mascat at, 439; consecration of Archbishop of Angamâle at, 440; procession of the confraternity of the Misericordia in, 443; Dominican procession del Rosario in, 444; viceroy at, see Gama
- Gopi, builder of a reservoir at Surat, 34; was probably governor of Surat, 34
- Govea, Gaspar di, Procurator of Jesuits' college at Bassein, shows courtesy towards Pietro della Valle, 138
- Greenland, alleged discovery of, by Capt. Woodcock, 5; description of, 6
- Guadalupe, description of, 404; nyct-anthes and lotus flowers at, 406-7
- Gubielmo, a Dutch merchant at Sûrat, 120; his marriage, 123
- Guzarât, province of India, 34; notice of, 92 n.
- Hindû Nairs, succession by female line among, 218
- Hindûs, saint, or divining woman of the, 224
- Holi, or Holika, Hindû festival, 122
- Honelli, description of the town of, 234; temple of idols at, described, 235-7; religious procession at, 238; ground plan of the temple at, 241
- Horto. See Orto
- Hûmayûn, son of Bâber, 51 n.
- Idols, the worship of, in India, 38, 71, 72
- Ikkeri, royal seat of Venk-tapâ, description of, 244; description of the palace at, 250-1; feast of Mâhâdeva, celebrated by girls in, 258-9, 261; Jangama friars in, 260; costume of soldiers in, 260; dancing woman in, 263; exact position of, 264, 268; widow of, resolves to burn herself, 266; temple of Aghoreswara, or Mâhâdeo, 268; Jangami in, 268; dancing women in, 272; dancing priest in, 277; religious procession in, 279; religious dancing in, 269, 281-2; religious festival in, 283.
- India, arrival of Pietro della Valle in, 20; rainy season in, 32, 33, 432; use of pân leaves and areca-nut in, 36; the worship of idols in, 38, 71-2; plants of, 40; small cost of living in, 42; number of slaves in, 42; dress of natives of, 43; dress of women of, 44; fantastic religions of, 73; love of red-colouring in, 74; castes in, 77; religions in, 79; belief in the transmigration of souls in, 80; ceremonies of purification in, 81, 87, 232; "drinking in the air" in, 82; morality in, 82-3; condition of widows in, 83; widow-burning in, 83-5; treatment of animals in, 86-7; use of cow-dung in, 87, 230, 231, 318, 336; monkeys in, 93-4; armed beggars in, 94; inns in, 95; musical instrument used in, 117; account of kingdoms in, 144; confusion of the provinces in, 149; political condition of Moorish princes in, 150-2; the distribution of rains in, 174; native carriages in, 183; ear-pendants much worn in, 195; similarity of Egyptian gods with those of, 217; succession by females in, 218 n., 312, 318; description of torches in, 229; neglect of learning and books by the priests of, 278; rice-growing in, 296;

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01354-3 - The Travels of Pietro della Valle in India, Volume 2

Edited by Edward Grey

Index

More information

450

INDEX.

- special colours adopted by princes in, 319; etiquette of warfare in, 380.
- Indus, wrongly stated by geographers to flow into the Gulf of Cambay, 63
- Jahángír. See Selim Sháh
- Jesuits, dispute with Brahmans as to the use of the sacred thread, 88-91; news of the martyrdom of, in Japan, 409; their mission to Ethiopia, 433-4; their friendly relations with Pietro della Valle, 434
- Jinghiz Khán, conquers vast dominions, 50; leaves Samarcand to his son Giagata, 50
- Jogis, or Gymnosophists, religious fanatics, 37, 99, 105, 107, 113; their king, Bhát Náth, 345 et seq.
- Kádiri, temple of the Jogis on the hill of, 345 n.; description of, 346-50
- Káli, or Bhawáni, Hindú goddess, wife of Siva, 206 n.
- Kálikot, account of, 344 n.; exact position of, 359; description of, 360; costumes in, 360; description of the palace at, 363; plan of the palace at, 377; community of wives in, 379
- Kánara, notice of, 168 n.
- Kárnáta, Queen of, subject to Venk-tapá, 314; desire of Pietro della Valle to visit, 352, 384; story of, 353
- Kharram, Sultán, third son of Selim Sháh, 47; rebels against his father, 47; obtains possession of Sultán Khushru, 57; brings about his death, 58; rumoured sack of Agra by, 121; is defeated by Selim Sháh, 177; is routed by Selim Sháh, 419
- Khushru, Sultán, rebels against his father, Selim Sháh, 55; is imprisoned, 56; declines to marry Nurmahál's daughter, 57; is killed by order of Sultán Kharram, 58
- Korfakan taken and destroyed by Ruy Freyra, 188
- Kútub Sháh, account of, 147-8; receives Sultán Kharram into his territory, but does not aid him, 419
- Lakshmi, goddess of prosperity, wife of Vishnú, 206 n.
- Lareck, arrival of Pietro della Valle off, 3
- Leandro, Fra, Provincial Vicar of the Carmelites at Goa, 159; his courtesy towards Pietro della Valle, 159
- L'Ecluse, Charles de, or Clusius, botanist and translator, 37
- Leiton, Gio. Fernandez, Portuguese Ambassador to Venk-tapá Naieka, 168; treats with the captain of the fort at Onor, 204; is delayed at Onor on account of the death of Bhadr Amma, 210; his interview with Vittala Sinaia, 211; is called to audience with Venk-tapá, 247; his interview with Venk-tapá, 252; his want of dignity, 253, 257; his dissimulation towards Venk-tapá, 288; Manoel, son of the Ambassador, a soldier in the fleet, 355
- Leni, Alessandro, a Roman in Goa, 163
- Lingam, an emblem of Siva, 93, 100, 208, 235, 341
- Lucena, Joam de, Portuguese writer, 110, 111
- Lucia, Donna, Portuguese orphan, married to a Dutch merchant at Súrat, 25; sends for Mariam Tinatin to lodge with her, 26
- Luis, Sebastian, master of a vessel at Damán, 124
- Maani, Gioerida (Sitta Maani), her marriage with Pietro della Valle, ii; her death at Mina, iii, 45 n.; her burial at Rome, iv; the body of, 122
- Macrán passed by Pietro della Valle, 7; prince of, friendly to the Persians, 401
- Maffæus, J. P., Italian writer, 180
- Máhádeo, Hindú idol of, 73; fable of, 73; temple of, in Ahmadábád, near Cambay, 93, 101; temple of, at Ikkeri, 268; or Putia somnáta, principal god of the Queen of Olala, 341
- Máhádeva, a title of Siva, 259 n.
- Malabar rovers, threatened encounter with, 356; friendly vessels mistaken for, 390
- Maldiva, King of, resides in Goa and receives tribute-money, 179
- Malik Ambar, Abyssinian slave, ruler of Ahmadnagar, 134; account of, 146
- Manel, residence of the Queen of Olala, 306; description of the palace of, 317; ground-plan of the palace of, 324; temple to the Devil in, 339; exact position of, 342
- Mangalúr, description of, 301; exact position of, 346; arrival of the Samori of Kálikot's embassy at, 354; notice of, 386
- Mariam, Signora. See Tinatin di Ziba
- Mariam, Signora, her marriage with Signor Guglielmo, 123
- Mariuccia. See Tinatin di Ziba, Mariam
- Marmagaon, church of St. Andrea at, 393
- Masagna, Joseph, an Italian in Goa, 163
- Mascarenhas, Freitas, adventures of, 435
- Mascát, news from, 422
- Mater, town between Cambay and Ahmadábád, 93

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01354-3 - The Travels of Pietro della Valle in India, Volume 2

Edited by Edward Grey

Index

More information

INDEX.

451

- Matos, Manoel de, a Christian, engaged as a servant by Pietro della Valle, 298
 Mehi. See Mhye
- Mendoça, Luis di, chief captain of the fleet, 385
- Mhye, a river flowing into the Gulf of Cambay, 64; difficulties of crossing, 64-5
- Mir Bey, captain of a fortress in the Ghâts, account of, 225
- Monardes, Nicolaus, writer on drugs, 37
- Moors, rise of their power in India, 145; equally familiar with Arabic, Turkish, and Persian languages, 150
- Moryad, confessor to the Viceroy, 176; translates Pietro della Valle's account of the wars in Persia into Portuguese, 177
- Mulla Muhamed taken by Malik Ambar, 442; the cause of war between Adil Sháh and Nizám Sháh, 442
- Murád Sháh, brother of Selim Sháh, 52
- Musé Bey, captain-general in Banghel, sent by Venk-tapà to accompany Signor Leiton, 247
- Myrobalane, fruit-tree, described, 234
- Nagar, temple of Brahma at, 108; formerly a royal seat, 113
- Naraina, or Naráyana, a name of Siva, 236
- Narbada, sacred river near Broach, 60
- Narghil, plant of India, 40
- Narsu, a Brahman, native of Mangalûr, engaged as interpreter by Pietro della Valle, 305
- Narva, celebration of washing by the Indians at, 436
- Negrone, or Negraone, Francesco, Portuguese writer on religion, 109
- Nizám Sháh, notice of, 134 n.; held the hill at Cháwul until routed by the Portuguese, 141; meaning of the name, 145; large cannon belonging to, 147
- Nûr Mahâl, wife of Selim Sháh, account of, 53-5
- Olala, description of, 303; Queen of. See Abag-devi-Ciautrû
- Onor, description of, 202-3; hot well near, held sacred by the Hindûs, 205; exact position of, 206
- Ormuz, condition of, 9, 10, 171, 279, 396-400, 431, 437, 440, 441, 445
- Orto, Garcia de, writer on drugs, 37
- Osorio, Jerome, Portuguese writer, 180
- Palmeiro, Andrea, Superior of the Jesuits in Goa, 160; offers hospitality to Pietro della Valle, 160; provides residence for Mariam Tinatin, 160
- Pangi, or Panjim, vice-regal residence at, 193, 197
- Pansecal. See Rains
- Pantaleon, Vincislao, representative of China and mathematician, 163; shows Pietro della Valle a description of China in the Chinese language, 165; his departure for China, 425
- Parvati, goddess, account of, 35; her effigy cures maladies, 37; fable of, 73
- Pasagna, Pero Gomez, captain of Mangalûr, 302
- Paul, Saint, principal patron saint of Portuguese churches in India, 142
- Perviz Sultán, son of Selim Sháh and governor of Bengála, 57
- Persian, the language spoken at the Mogul's court, 97
- Pietro, Don Sebastiano di San, Bishop of Cochín, account of, 199 n.
- Pontebuoni, Bartolomeo, Tuscan painter in Goa, 163
- Portuguese, build forts in India, x; sack Kálíkot under Dalboquerque, xi; occupy Goa, xi; build factory at Kálíkot, xi; take Mangalûr, xi; Bombay and other towns ceded to, xii; ports and forts taken from, by the Dutch, xii; decline of Portuguese power in India, xiv; cede Bombay to England, xxxiv; their neglect of the study of navigation, 13; do not gain the confidence of native princes, 179; their impolitic proceedings, 196; send vessels to the relief of Ruy Freira, 214; their impolitic behaviour in the Samori's palace, 372; their incompetency, 390; wreck of vessel belonging to the, at Kaffraria, 429
- Pratápára, favourite of Venk-tapà, 252, 284
- President, the. See Rastel
- Preti Janni, or Prester John, King of Ethiopia, joins the Catholic Church, 137
- Qara, Sultán, death of, 435
- Quadro, Andrea de, receives the degree of Master of Arts from the Jesuits at Goa, 434
- Rabelo, Henrico, Vicar of Onor, 204
- Rains in India, 32, 33, 155, 174, 432
- Rámo Rao, Hindû chief, subject to Venk-tapà, 306
- Rastel, Thomas, President of the English merchants at Surat, 19; goes on board the Whale, 39; notice of, 19 n.; his offer of hospitality declined by Pietro della Valle, 26; is offended with Pietro della Valle for lodging with Vandembroecke, and declines to see him, 28; receives Pietro della Valle's letter and is reconciled, 29; splendour of his

- household, 41; present at a wedding in Súrat, 124; meets Pietro della Valle at the seaside, 129
- Roe, Sir Thomas, his embassy to the Mogul Emperor, xxiv; his treaties with him, xxiv-xxv
- Ruy Freira de Andrada, commands warships against the Persians, 158; besieges Sohár, 187; takes Korfakan, 188; his cruelty towards the inhabitants, 188; is forced to raise the siege of Ormuz, 397; news of, 399, 400; ships sent to his aid, 416
- Sa, Constantino da, his courtesy towards Pietro della Valle, 164
- Sabarmati, river near Ahmadábád, 100
- Saghed, Sultán, reported to be a member of the Catholic Church, 433, 446 n. See Preti Janni
- Sagher, new city, description of, 265
- Saints, canonization of five, 170
- Salsette, arrival of Pietro della Valle at, 139; province of, 392
- Saluva Rairu, son of the Queen of Olava, 316; description of, 319; begs Pietro della Valle to procure him a good horse, 334
- Samori. See Vikira
- Savoy, Prince of, news of his appointment as Viceroy of Sicily, 189
- Scander, Rastel's interpreter, lent to Pietro della Valle, 29
- Schipano, Antonio, kinsman of Mario Schipano, visits Pietro della Valle at Goa, 159-60
- Schipano, Mario, medical professor and friend of Pietro della Valle, ii; recipient of his letters, vii
- Scilling, Alberto di, friend of Pietro della Valle in Súrat, 19; visits Pietro della Valle on the sea-shore, 22; urges Pietro della Valle to lodge with Vandebroেকে, 26; undertakes to find a house for Pietro della Valle, 27; agrees to accompany Pietro della Valle to Cambay, 46; leaves Cambay for Ahmadábád, 92; visits a Jesuit from Goa, 116; present at a wedding in Súrat, 124; leaves Súrat on the Dolphin, 130
- Seda-Siva Nayak, grandson of Venk-tapá, 284
- Selim Sháh, his religious toleration, 30, 127 n.; removes the royal treasure from Agra, 47; why called the Great Mogul, 48; his descent from Tamerlane and Jinghiz Khán, 49, 51 n.; originally called Sceichú, 51; his many titles, 52; his sons, 52-3; his wife Núr Mahál, 53; his cruelty to Khushru and his followers, 56; encounters his rebel son Kharram and defeats him, 177; besieges him at Mandu, 177; massacres the English in Súrat, 417
- Shias and Sunis, rival sects of Muhammadans, 152
- Sitta Maani. See Maani, Gioerida.
- Siva, idol, 236 n.; the festival of, 259; See also Máhádeo
- Soháli visited by Pietro della Valle and the English captains, 22
- Sohár besieged by Ruy Freira, 187
- Sojitra, town near Cambay, 103
- Sombol Sháh, brother of Selim Sháh, 52
- Sorrentino, Vincenzo, chaplain to the Spanish Ambassador in Persia, 160
- Súrat, arrival of Pietro della Valle off, 18; factories at, 19 n.; Pietro della Valle enters, 23; description of, 30; religious toleration in, 30; marriage celebration in, 31; description of artificial lake in, 32-3; large banyan-tree near, 35, 39; garden in, visited by Pietro della Valle, 39; abundance of fruit in, 47; massacre of the English at, 417
- Tamerlane, or Teimur Lenk, descended from Jinghiz Khán, 49; notice of, 49 n.; elected King of Giagataio, 50; expeditions of, 50
- Telingana, a kingdom of the Dakhan, 144
- Teresia, Saint, rejoicings for the canonization of, at Goa, 173
- Tinatin di Ziba, Maria, taken under the protection of Pietro della Valle, iv; her marriage with Pietro della Valle, iv; goes to lodge with Donna Lucia, 26; special permission is required for her to leave Ahmadábád, 102; is present at a wedding at Súrat, 123; lodges with Portuguese gentlewoman in Damán, 133; is received into the house of Sig. Lena da Cugna at Goa, 160; remains in Goa with Sig. Lena da Cugna, 200
- Tumbri, arrival of Pietro della Valle at, 230
- Urban VIII, Pope, election of, 426; death of cardinals after the election of, 426
- Valle, Pietro della, birth, i; joins Spanish fleet, i; present at the capture of Karkensa Islands, ii; starts for the East, ii; marriage, ii; goes to Persia with his wife, iii; takes part in battle against the Turks, iii; embarks for India, iv; returns to Rome, iv; second marriage, iv; retires from Rome, v; death and burial, vi; his

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01354-3 - The Travels of Pietro della Valle in India, Volume 2

Edited by Edward Grey

Index

More information

INDEX.

453

- love of music, vi; Egyptian travels, vi; study of Assyrian cuneiform writings, vii; arrival off Lareek, 3; arrives off Bassein, 16; arrives off Súrat, 18; lands in India, 20; is attacked by ague, 21; is visited by Alberto di Scilling, 22; visits Soháli with Alberto di Scilling, 22; reaches the town of Súrat, 23; declines offers of the English President (Rastel), and of the Dutch commandant (Vandenbroecke) to lodge with them, 26; is constrained by Vandenbroecke to enter his house, 27; occupies house lent to him by Vandenbroecke, 28; in so doing offends Rastel, 28; is reconciled by means of a letter, 29; desires to visit Cambay, 46; leaves Súrat for Cambay, 47; takes leave of Vandenbroecke, 59; arrives at Broach, 60; stays at Jambusir, 62; crosses the river Mhye, 64; arrives at Cambay, 66; leaves Cambay, 92; lodges at Saima, 93; leaves Ahmadábád, 101; returns to Cambay, 103; is received by the Dutch, 103; visits a Jesuit from Goa, 116; leaves Cambay, 118; stays at Jambusir, 119; reaches Broach, 119; is received by the Dutch, 119; arrives at Súrat, 120; exchanges letters with Antonio Albertino, 121, 124; visits Captains Woodcock and Willis at Súrat, 130; parts with Scilling, 130; commences his voyage with Sebastian Luis, 131; arrives at Damán, 132; is received by Antonio Albertino, 133; eats many new fruits at Damán, 134; leaves Damán, 137; arrives at Bassein, 138; visits the Jesuits' College, 139; arrives at Salsette, 139; leaves Cháwul, 143; arrives at Goa, 154; lodges with Jesuits, 160; attends mass at the Carmelite Church in Goa, 162; wears mourning since death of his wife Sitta Maani, 165, 412; visits the Viceroy at Goa, 175; gives him his account of wars in Persia, 176; arranges to accompany Gio. Fernandez Leiton to the court of Venk-tapá, 192; goes to Panjim, or New Goa by sea, 193; is introduced to Vittala Sinaia, 195; returns to Goa to obtain a licence from the Viceroy, 198; encounters pirates, 201; arrives at Onor, 202; leaves Onor with Leiton, 217; visits a widow in Ikkeri about to burn herself, 273; experiences trouble in obtaining suitable food, 294; visits Colur, 295; is in danger of shipwreck, 299; arrives at Mangalúr, 300; visits Banghel, 302; and Ólala, 303; leaves Mangalúr, 305; meets Queen Abag-devi-Ciautrú, 306; visits Saluva Rairu, 321; presents him with a map of the world, 322; is constrained by him to eat, 323; shows him the use of the fork, 331; answers his questions, 332; is esteemed on account of white skin, 335; leaves Manel, 343; visits Bhát Náth, King of the Jogis, at Kádiri, 350; visits Mangalúr a second time, 355; decides to accompany embassy to Kálklot, 355; is invited to visit the Samori's palace at Kálklot, 363; leaves Kálklot, 381; arrives at Goa, 394; lodges with Ant. Baraccio, 394; receives news of Cacciatur, 395
- Vandenbroecke, Pietro, President of the Dutch settlement at Súrat, 25; description of his house, 26; importunes Pietro della Valle to lodge with him, 27; lends a house to Pietro della Valle, 28; takes Pietro della Valle to visit a garden in Súrat, 39; splendour of his household, 41; escorts Pietro della Valle out of the town of Súrat, 47; receives news from Agra, 47
- Veira, Ascencio, notary in Mangalúr, 301
- Venk-tapá Nayak, Prince of Kánara, 168; account of, 190-1; news of death of his wife, 207; is dissatisfied with the embassy of Leiton, 212; conquers the kingdom of Garsopa, 219; pays tribute to Adil Sháh, 243; his treaty with the King of Banghel, 285; his distrust of the King of Banghel, 286; assists the Queen of Ólala against the King of Banghel, 314
- Viceroy. See Gama
- Vikira, Samori of Kálklot, 345; his negotiations with the Viceroy, 357; his two nieces at Kálklot, 366; description of, 367; converses with Pietro della Valle and a Portuguese captain, 369; speaks of the Viceroy's demands, and desires time, 370; admires a Portuguese arquebus, 371
- Villa di Bahmani, village near Onor, 207
- Vira-badra Nayak, grandson of Venk-tapá, 284
- Virena Deuru, or Lingam, an emblem of Siva, 235, 238
- Vittala Sinaia, ambassador from Venk-tapá to Viceroy, 191; visits the captain of the fort at Onor, 206; his interview with Leiton, 211; presents Pietro della Valle with a Hindú book written on palm-leaves, 291
- Whale*, English ship, 1; leaves Súrat on a secret mission, 130
- Widow in Ikkeri resolves to burn herself, 266
- Willis, Matthew, captain of the Dolphin, 3; is visited by Pietro della Valle at Surat, 130
- Woodcock, Nicholas, captain of the

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01354-3 - The Travels of Pietro della Valle in India, Volume 2

Edited by Edward Grey

Index

More information

454

INDEX.

- Whale*, 3; exhibits a gigantic horn, 4; alleged discoverer of Greenland, 5; relates the affairs of Ormuz, 8; makes daily observations on board the Whale, 12; chart of Strait of Ormuz, made by, 15; visits Sobáli, 22; visited by Pietro della Valle at Súrat, 130
- Xaganos, 149 n.
- Xavier, S., notice of, 170; canonization festival of, in Goa, 410
- Xerafin, 184
- Yük, tails of, used as ornament, and as a weapon against the flies, 260-1
- Yellow colour, 75, 258
- Yellow squirrels, 93
- Yusuf Adil Sháh, builder of the fort at Pangi, 197
- Zeilan (Ceylon), 109, 110, 176
- Ziacche, fruit, 264

