

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-01671-1 - Herbals: Their Origin and Evolution

Agnes Arber

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

Chap. I. THE EARLY HISTORY OF BOTANY
1. Introductory	page 1
2. Aristotelian Botany	2
3. Medicinal Botany	6
II. THE EARLIEST PRINTED HERBALS (FIFTEENTH CENTURY)
1. The Encyclopaedia of Bartholomaeus Anglicus and The Book of Nature	13
2. The Herbarium of Apuleius Platonicus	14
3. The Latin Herbarius	20
4. The German Herbarius and related works	22
5. The Hortus (Ortus) sanitatis	28
III. THE EARLY HISTORY OF THE HERBAL IN ENGLAND
1. The Herbarium of Apuleius Platonicus	38
2. Banckes' Herball	41
3. The grete herball	44
IV. THE BOTANICAL RENAISSANCE OF THE SIXTEENTH AND SEVENTEENTH CENTURIES
1. The Herbal in Germany	52
2. The Herbal in the Low Countries	79
3. The Herbal in Italy	92
4. The Herbal in Spain and Portugal	104
5. The Herbal in Switzerland	110
6. The Herbal in France	116
7. The Herbal in England	119
8. The Origin of Herbaria	138
9. The Revival of Aristotelian Botany	143

Contents

Chap. V. THE EVOLUTION OF THE ART OF PLANT DESCRIPTION	page 146
VI. THE EVOLUTION OF PLANT CLASSIFICATION	163
VII. THE EVOLUTION OF THE ART OF BOTANICAL ILLUSTRATION	185
VIII. THE DOCTRINE OF SIGNATURES, AND ASTRO- LOGICAL BOTANY	247
IX. CONCLUSIONS	264
APPENDIX I
A chronological list of the principal herbals and related botanical works published between 1470 and 1670	271
APPENDIX II
An alphabetical list of the historical and critical works consulted during the preparation of this book	286
APPENDIX III
A subject index to Appendix II	304
INDEX	307