

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-02367-2 - History of South Africa since September 1795, Volume 5

George McCall Theal

Frontmatter

More information

CAMBRIDGE LIBRARY COLLECTION

Books of enduring scholarly value

History

The books reissued in this series include accounts of historical events and movements by eye-witnesses and contemporaries, as well as landmark studies that assembled significant source materials or developed new historiographical methods. The series includes work in social, political and military history on a wide range of periods and regions, giving modern scholars ready access to influential publications of the past.

History of South Africa since September 1795

George McCall Theal (1837–1919) was a prolific South African historian and civil servant. After working as a missionary between 1875–1880 he was appointed magistrate of Tamacha before taking a position as a clerk in the government and became Keeper of the Cape Colony Archives. He was appointed Colonial Historiographer in 1891. These volumes, first published in 1908, contain Theal's detailed history of South Africa between 1795–1894. Focusing on the political history of the country, Theal explores the British control of Cape Colony and the reactions of the Dutch settlers to increasing British immigration, discussing the political consequences of the establishment of the various Boer Republics and the growth of Zulu power in South Africa. These volumes provide valuable details on the political history of South Africa, and reveal contemporary attitudes towards the history and ideas of colonisation. Volume 5 covers the colonies between 1854–1894.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-02367-2 - History of South Africa since September 1795, Volume 5

George McCall Theal

Frontmatter

More information

---

Cambridge University Press has long been a pioneer in the reissuing of out-of-print titles from its own backlist, producing digital reprints of books that are still sought after by scholars and students but could not be reprinted economically using traditional technology. The Cambridge Library Collection extends this activity to a wider range of books which are still of importance to researchers and professionals, either for the source material they contain, or as landmarks in the history of their academic discipline.

Drawing from the world-renowned collections in the Cambridge University Library, and guided by the advice of experts in each subject area, Cambridge University Press is using state-of-the-art scanning machines in its own Printing House to capture the content of each book selected for inclusion. The files are processed to give a consistently clear, crisp image, and the books finished to the high quality standard for which the Press is recognised around the world. The latest print-on-demand technology ensures that the books will remain available indefinitely, and that orders for single or multiple copies can quickly be supplied.

The Cambridge Library Collection will bring back to life books of enduring scholarly value (including out-of-copyright works originally issued by other publishers) across a wide range of disciplines in the humanities and social sciences and in science and technology.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-02367-2 - History of South Africa since September 1795, Volume 5

George McCall Theal

Frontmatter

More information

History of South Africa since September 1795

VOLUME 5: THE CAPE COLONY AND NATAL
TO 1872, GRIQUALAND WEST TO 1880,
GREAT NAMAQUALAND, DAMARALAND,
TRANSKEI, TEMBULAND, AND GRIQUALAND
EAST TO 1885, PONDOLAND AND THE
PORTUGUESE TERRITORY TO 1894

GEORGE MCCALL THEAL

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-02367-2 - History of South Africa since September 1795, Volume 5

George McCall Theal

Frontmatter

More information

---

CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY PRESS

Cambridge, New York, Melbourne, Madrid, Cape Town, Singapore,
São Paulo, Delhi, Dubai, Tokyo, Mexico City

Published in the United States of America by Cambridge University Press, New York

www.cambridge.org

Information on this title: www.cambridge.org/9781108023672

© in this compilation Cambridge University Press 2010

This edition first published 1908

This digitally printed version 2010

ISBN 978-1-108-02367-2 Paperback

This book reproduces the text of the original edition. The content and language reflect the beliefs, practices and terminology of their time, and have not been updated.

Cambridge University Press wishes to make clear that the book, unless originally published by Cambridge, is not being republished by, in association or collaboration with, or with the endorsement or approval of, the original publisher or its successors in title.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-02367-2 - History of South Africa since September 1795, Volume 5

George McCall Theal

Frontmatter

More information

HISTORY
OF
SOUTH AFRICA
SINCE SEPTEMBER 1795

BY
GEORGE M<sup>C</sup>CALL THEAL, LITT.D., LL.D.

FOREIGN MEMBER OF THE ROYAL ACADEMY OF SCIENCES, AMSTERDAM, CORRESPONDING MEMBER OF THE ROYAL HISTORICAL SOCIETY, LONDON, ETC., ETC., ETC., FORMERLY KEEPER OF THE ARCHIVES OF THE CAPE COLONY, AND AT PRESENT COLONIAL HISTORIOGRAPHER

WITH SIXTEEN MAPS AND CHARTS
IN FIVE VOLUMES
VOL. V.

THE CAPE COLONY AND NATAL TO 1872, GRIQUALAND WEST
TO 1880, GREAT NAMAQUALAND, DAMARALAND, TRANSKEI, TEMBULAND, AND GRIQUALAND EAST TO 1885,
PONDOLAND AND THE PORTUGUESE
TERRITORY TO 1894

LONDON
SWAN SONNENSCHN & CO., LTD.
25 HIGH STREET, BLOOMSBURY
1908

All rights reserved

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-02367-2 - History of South Africa since September 1795, Volume 5

George McCall Theal

Frontmatter

More information

HISTORY OF SOUTH AFRICA.

The latest and most complete edition of this work consists of:—

History and Ethnography of Africa south of the Zambezi from the settlement of the Portuguese at Sofala in September 1505 to the conquest of the Cape Colony by the British in September 1795.

In three volumes.

Volume I contains a description of the Bushmen, Hottentots, and Bantu, an account of the first voyages round the Cape of Good Hope of the Portuguese, the French, the English, and the Dutch, and a history of the Portuguese in South Africa in early times.

Volumes II and III contain a history of the administration of the Dutch East India Company in South Africa, &c., &c.

History of South Africa since September 1795.

In five volumes.

Volume I contains a history of the Cape Colony from 1795 to 1828 and an account of the Zulu wars of devastation and the formation of new Bantu communities.

Volume II contains a history of the Cape Colony from 1828 to 1846, a history of Natal from 1824 to 1845, and an account of the proceedings of the emigrant farmers in the territory between the Orange and Limpopo rivers from 1836 to 1847.

Volume III contains a history of the Cape Colony from 1846 to 1860, of Natal from 1845 to 1857, of British Kaffraria from 1847 to 1860, and of the Orange River Sovereignty and the Transvaal Republic from 1847 to 1854.

Volume IV contains a history of the Orange Free State, the South African Republic, Zululand, Basutoland, Betshuanaland, and Matabeleland from 1854 to 1872.

Volume V is the one in the reader's hands.

Each of these volumes is indexed and may be had separately from the others.

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER LXVII.

SIR GEORGE GREY, GOVERNOR AND HIGH COMMISSIONER, 4TH OF JULY
1860 TO 15TH OF AUGUST 1861.

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL ROBERT HENRY WYNYARD, LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR, ACTING ADMINISTRATOR, 15TH OF AUGUST 1861 TO 15TH OF JANUARY 1862.

Different position of the governor of the Cape Colony before and after 1872.—First visit of Prince Alfred to South Africa.—Great hunt at Hartebeest Hoek.—Commencement of the construction of a breakwater in Table Bay.—Change of name of Port Frances to Port Alfred.—Legalisation of English weights and measures only in the Cape Colony.—Effort of the British settlers of Albany to have the eastern province formed into a distinct colony.—Commencement of the construction of a dock in Table Bay.—Construction of lighthouses on Robben Island and in Simon's Bay, of a railway from Capetown to Wynberg, and a telegraph line from East London to Simonstown.—Introduction of Angora goats.—Unrest in Zululand.—Dealings of the Natal government with Ketshwayo. — Panic in Natal caused by Ketshwayo's action.—Prompt measures adopted by Sir George Grey. — Promotion of education by Sir George Grey. —
Establishment of a theological seminary at Stellenbosch.—
Divergent views of Sir George Grey and a very large party in England as to the extension of British rule in South Africa.—
Departure of Sir George Grey.—Presentation by Sir George
Grey of a valuable library to the Cape Colony.—Arrival of Sir Philip Wodehouse as governor of the Cape Colony and high commissioner ... .. 1

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-02367-2 - History of South Africa since September 1795, Volume 5

George McCall Theal

Frontmatter

More information

iv

History of South Africa.

CHAPTER LXVIII.

PHILIP EDMOND WODEHOUSE, ESQRE. (AFTER SEPTEMBER 1862 SIR PHILIP WODEHOUSE), GOVERNOR AND HIGH COMMISSIONER, ASSUMED DUTY 15TH OF JANUARY 1862, RETIRED 20TH OF MAY 1870.

Positions held by Sir Philip Wodehouse before becoming governor of the Cape Colony. — Depression throughout the colony. — Immigration and emigration of Europeans. — Proceedings during the session of the Cape parliament in 1862. — Tour of the governor through British Kaffraria. — Proceedings regarding the Transkeian territory. — Rejection by the parliament of the governor's bill to annex British Kaffraria to the Cape Colony. — Progress in the construction of railways. — Occupation of the last Bushman territory in the Cape Colony. — Dealings with the Bushmen. — Proceedings during the session of the Cape parliament in 1863. — Result of a general election. — Proceedings during the session of the Cape parliament held in Grahamstown in 1864. — Increase of taxation. — Revenue of the Cape Colony. — Creation of the eastern districts court. — Increase of the mail service with England. — Distress in the colony. — Domestication of the ostrich. — Account of British troops in South Africa. — Particulars of the census of 1865 of the Cape Colony ... .. 21

CHAPTER LXIX.

ABANDONMENT OF THE TRANSKEIAN TERRITORIES.

Condition of the Transkeian territories after 1858. — Succession of magistrates at Idutywa. — Negotiations with the Tembus of Glen Grey for an exchange of land. — Conditions under which it was proposed to locate Europeans in the Transkeian territory. — Dealings with Kreli. — Determination of the secretary of state for the colonies to withdraw British dominion from the Transkei. — Restoration of a portion of the territory to Kreli. — Renewal of negotiations with the Tembus of Glen Grey, who obtain a large tract of land in the Transkei, but give up nothing in exchange. — Dealings with Nonesi. — Futile attempt to obtain the Gaika location in exchange for ground east of the Kei. — Location of Fingos beyond the Kei. — Policy adopted towards the tribes and clans there. — Feud between the Tembus and the Xosas. — European settlements in Tembuland. — War between the Tembus and Xosas. — Account of the Fingos in the Transkei. — Description of Griqualand East. — Dealings with Faku. —

Contents. v

Tribes and clans between the Umtata river and Natal.—
Dealings of the Natal government with Faku.—Proceedings of Nehemiah Moshesh. — Location of Adam Kok's Griquas in Nomansland.—Ejection of Nehemiah Moshesh by the Griquas.
—Location of various Bantu clans in the remainder of the territory.—General discord and strife ... .. 44

CHAPTER LXX.

SIR PHILIP EDMOND WODEHOUSE, GOVERNOR AND HIGH COMMISSIONER,
(continued).

Objections of the majority of the European inhabitants of British Kaffraria to annexation to the Cape Colony.—Visit of Sir Philip Wodehouse to King-Williamstown.—Removal of Lieutenant-Governor Maclean to Natal.—Passing of a provisional annexation act by the imperial parliament.—Stormy debate in the Cape parliament.—Amalgamation of an annexation bill and an additional representation bill.—Passing of the amalgamated bill.—Completion of the annexation. — Statistics of British Kaffraria at the time.—Great gale in Table Bay and loss of many vessels.—Partial destruction of the village of Swellendam by fire.—Distress throughout the Cape Colony.—Proceedings of parliament in 1866.—Conflict between the governor and the parliament.—Loss of life from an epidemic of low fever.—
Conditions of the water supply of Capetown.—Proceedings of parliament in 1867.—Reduction in number of the British troops in South Africa.—Failure of the governor's plan for diminishing the power of parliament.—Exhibition of the first diamond found in South Africa.—Imports of the Cape Colony from 1862 to 1867.—Comparative trade through the different ports.
—Exports from 1862 to 1867 ... .. 70

CHAPTER LXXI.

SIR PHILIP EDMOND WODEHOUSE, GOVERNOR AND HIGH COMMISSIONER,
(continued).

LIEUTENANT - GENERAL CHARLES CRAWFURD HAY, LIEUTENANT - GOVERNOR ADMINISTERING THE GOVERNMENT, 20TH OF MAY TO 31ST OF DECEMBER 1870.

Second visit of Prince Alfred to South Africa.—Wreck of the transport Bosphorus.—Condition of the Cape Colony in 1868.

vi History of South Africa.

—Disturbed condition of the northern border. — Principal Korana clans there.—Appointment of a special magistrate and enrolment of a force termed the northern border police.—Dealings with the Bushmen.—Operations against the Korana insurgents.—Result of the general election of 1869.—Conflict between the governor and the parliament.—Rejection of the governor's measures.—Dissolution of the house of assembly and appeal by Sir Philip Wodehouse to the country to decide upon the future form of government. — Construction of a railway from Port Nolloth to Ookiep by the Cape Copper Mining Company.—Destructive fire in the Knysna, Humansdorp, and Uitenhage districts. — Destructive floods in the midland districts.—Wrecks in a gale at Algoa Bay.—Result of the governor's appeal to the country.—Proceedings of the Cape parliament in the session of 1870.—Particulars concerning the public debt.—Retirement of Sir Philip Wodehouse as governor of the Cape Colony.—Celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the arrival of the British settlers.—Opening of the docks in Table Bay.—Purchase by the government of the harbour works at Port Alfred.—Experiments in the cultivation of silk, flax, and cotton in the Cape Colony.—Change for the better in the seasons ... .. 95

CHAPTER LXXII.

SIR HENRY BARKLY, GOVERNOR AND HIGH COMMISSIONER, ASSUMED DUTY
31ST OF DECEMBER 1870.

Arrival of Sir Henry Barkly as governor and high commissioner. —Lengthy tour of the new governor. —Proceedings of the Cape parliament in the session of 1871.—Divergent views of the governor and the members of the executive council.—Debate on the introduction of responsible government.—Proceedings regarding federation. — Passing of the responsible government bill by the house of assembly.—Its rejection by the legislative council.—Attitude of the various sections of colonists towards federation.—Report of the federation commission.—Creation of the district of Wodehouse.—Improvement of the harbour of East London.—Commencement of the construction of railways in the eastern province.—Price of Kaffir labour.—Destructive flood at the village of Victoria West 114

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-02367-2 - History of South Africa since September 1795, Volume 5

George McCall Theal

Frontmatter

More informationContents.

vii

CHAPTER LXXIII.

SIR HENRY BARKLY, GOVERNOR AND HIGH COMMISSIONER, (continued).

Attitude of different parties towards responsible government.—The governor's speech at the opening of parliament.—Division lists in the house of assembly regarding responsible government.—Passing of the responsible government bill through the legislative council.—Protest of eastern province members against the measure.—Failure of the eastern province members to obtain separation of the provinces or removal of the seat of government.—Creation of the new electoral division of Wodehouse.—Reform in the manner of electing members of the legislative council.—Construction of a graving dock in Table Bay.—Purchase of the existing railways by the government.—Construction of new lines of railway.—Purchase of the existing line of electric telegraph by the government, and its extension.—Passing of the voluntary bill.—Formation of the first responsible ministry.—Retirement of the former heads of departments.—Particulars concerning imperial troops in South Africa.—Disbandment of the Cape mounted rifle regiment.—Constitution of the colonial defensive forces.—Statistics of schools.—Rapid communication with England.—Wreck of shipping at East London.—Imports and exports of the Cape Colony from 1868 to 1872.—Revenue and expenditure to 1872

134

CHAPTER LXXIV.

ANNEXATION TO THE CAPE COLONY OF THE TERRITORY BETWEEN THE RIVER KEI AND THE BORDER OF NATAL.

Transkei and Tembuland.

Progress of the Fingos in prosperity.—Annexation of Fingoland and Idutywa to the Cape Colony.—Condition of the Galekas.—Quarrel at a marriage party.—Resulting hostilities between the Galekas and the Fingos.—Attacks by Galekas upon the colonial police.—Particulars of the ninth Kaffir war.—Rebellion of the Rarabe clans.—Utter defeat of the Galekas and their retreat over the Bashee.—Occupation of Galekaland by colonial forces.—Settlement of the territory as a dependency of the colony.—Mode of government of the united Transkeian districts.—Formal annexation of Galekaland.—Condition of the Tembu

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-02367-2 - History of South Africa since September 1795, Volume 5

George McCall Theal

Frontmatter

More information

viii

History of South Africa.

tribe.—Murder of a Galeka woman by Gangelizwe.—Events that resulted from the murder.—Cession of Tembuland Proper to the Cape government.—Its division into magisterial districts.—Rebellion of some of the clans.—Prudent conduct of Gangelizwe.—Extension of authority over Emigrant Tembuland.—Account of the Bomvanas.—Cession of Bomvanaland to the Cape Colony by the chief Moni and his people.—Union of Tembuland Proper, Emigrant Tembuland, and Bomvanaland under a chief magistrate.—Insurrection in Tembuland.—Settlement of the territory after the restoration of order.—Growth of the town of Umtata.—Formal annexation to the Cape Colony of the several districts of Tembuland.—Population of the territory.—Death of several chiefs.—Note on the suppression of the revolt of the Gaikas west of the Kei ... 154

CHAPTER LXXV.

ANNEXATION TO THE CAPE COLONY OF THE TERRITORY BETWEEN THE RIVER KEI AND THE BORDER OF NATAL, (continued).

Griqualand East.

Appointment of a British resident in Nomansland.—Condition of the territory at the time.—Reception of the Pondomsis as British subjects.—Rebellion of Langalibalele in Natal.—Dealings with Umhlonhlo and Umditshwa.—Extension of colonial authority over the Griquas.—Dealings with Nehemiah Moshesh.—Reception of the Bacas as British subjects.—Suppression of a Griqua revolt.—Annexation to the Cape Colony of the districts of Maclear, Qumbu, Tsolo, Matatiele, Kokstad, Umzimkulu, and Mount Frere, thereafter termed the chief magistracy of Griqualand East.—Form of government of the territory.—Rebellion of several clans.—Murder of colonial officials.—Events at Tsolo.—Suppression of the revolt.—Settlement of the conquered districts.—Formation of the new district of Mount Fletcher.—Condition of the Xesibes.—Reception of the Xesibes as British subjects.—Attitude of the Pondos.—Creation of the magisterial district of Mount Ayliff.—Trouble caused by the feud between the Pondos and the Xesibes.—Formal annexation of Mount Ayliff to the Cape Colony.—Method of administering justice.—Growth of Kokstad.—Population of the territory.—Necessity for the extension of civilised authority over Transkei, Tembuland, and Griqualand East ... 182

Contents. ix

CHAPTER LXXVI.

ANNEXATION TO THE CAPE COLONY OF THE TERRITORY BETWEEN THE
RIVER KEI AND THE BORDER OF NATAL, (continued).

Pondoland.—I.

Backwardness of the Pondos.—Doubtful origin of the tribe.—Condition of the Pondos.—Extension of British authority over Port St. John's.—Position of the chiefs Umqikela and Ndamasi to each other.—Death of Ndamasi and accession of his son Nquiliso.—Cession by Nquiliso of Port St. John's.—Occupation of the port by British troops.—Annexation of the port to the Cape Colony.—Its trade at the time.—Conduct of Umqikela and his advisers.—Attempt to play off Natal against the Cape Colony.—Action taken by the secretary for native affairs.—Attack by the Pondos upon the Xesibes.—Anarchy in Pondoland East.—Attempt by Umqikela to open a new harbour on his coast.—Disturbance between the Pondos and the Bacas.—Visit of a Pondo deputation to Capetown.—Disturbance between the Pondos and the Hlubi headman William Nota.—Arrangement between the secretary for native affairs and Nquiliso.—Dealings with Pali, chief of the Amatshezi.—Unsuccessful mission of Mr. W. E. Stanford to Pondoland.—Constant disturbances on the border.—Policy of the chiefs of Pondoland East.—Numerous charges of dealing in witchcraft.—Rapid increase in number of the Pondos.—Arming of the Bacas and Xesibes by the colonial government and strengthening of the military force on the border.—Fighting between the tribes.—Note regarding education in Transkei, Tembuland, Griqualand East, and Pondoland ... .. 209

CHAPTER LXXVII.

ANNEXATION TO THE CAPE COLONY OF THE TERRITORY BETWEEN THE
RIVER KEI AND THE BORDER OF NATAL, (continued).

Pondoland.—II.

Ordinary life of Bantu.—Conduct of Umhlangaso.—Battle between the Amanci and the Xesibes.—Position assumed by Umqikela.—Action of the legislative council of Natal.—Instructions of the secretary of state for the colonies.—Return of thefts by

x	History of South Africa.
	and from Pondos.—Invasion of Mount Ayliff by a Pondo army.—Strengthening of the government forces on the border.—Negotiations with Umqikela.—Settlement of all Pondo grievances.—Death of Umqikela.—Accession of Sigcawu as paramount chief of the eastern Pondos.—Continuation of disorder.—State of affairs in Western Pondoland.—Transactions of Umhlangaso with some German visitors.—Rebellion of Umhlangaso against Sigcawu.—Use made of British territory by the rebels.—Friendly conduct of Sigcawu towards the colonial authorities.—Cession of Western Pondoland by Nquliso to Great Britain.—Conditions of the cession.—Cession of Eastern Pondoland by Sigcawu.—Annexation of the whole of Pondoland to the Cape Colony.—Division of the country into magisterial districts.—Population in 1894.—Settlement of Umhlangaso in the district of Kokstad.—Area of Pondoland.—Population of the whole territory between the river Kei and Natal in 1904.—Note on the rate of increase of the Bantu under European rule	23

CHAPTER LXXXVIII.

FORMATION OF THE CROWN COLONY OF GRIQUALAND WEST.

Proclamation of British authority over the diamond fields.—The case for Waterboer.—Bitter feeling in the republics.—Result upon the coloured people.—Riots at the diamond fields.—Resolutions of a mass meeting of diggers.—Refusal of the Cape parliament to annex the territory.—Desire of the diggers as to government.—Condition of the principal mine.—Sensational robberies of diamonds.—Thefts of diamonds by black servants.—Renewal of rioting.—Demands of the diggers.—Concessions of the commissioners.—Action of Sir Henry Barkly.—Tenor of proclamations issued by him.—Visit of the high commissioner to the diamond fields.—Replacement of the triumvirate by a single administrator.—Creation of an executive council.—Course of the correspondence between the high commissioner and the president of the Free State.—Serious illness of President Brand.—Appointment of an executive committee to act during the president's illness.—Action of the volksraad.—Erection of Griqualand West into a crown colony.—Formation of three electoral divisions.—Particulars concerning each of these divisions.—Form of the administration.—Creation of a legislative council.—Particulars concerning the franchise.—Names of the first members elected.—Change of Mr. Richard Southey's title from administrator to lieutenant-governor.—Measures for suppressing illicit diamond buying	256
---	-----

Contents. xi

CHAPTER LXXIX.

ANNEXATION OF GRIQUALAND WEST TO THE CAPE COLONY.

Unpopularity of the new government.—Increased cost of obtaining diamonds.—Seizure of arms by the Orange Free State.—Action of Sir Henry Barkly regarding it.—Compliance under protest of the Free State government with the demand to surrender the arms.—Failure of the overture of the Free State to have a boundary decided upon and beaconed off.—Encounter between a Free State force and a party of Basuto.—Action of discontented men at the diamond fields.—Despatch of a military force from Capetown to the diamond fields.—Appointment of a commission to inquire into and register claims to land. Failure of the commission to effect its object.—Passing of a land settlement ordinance.—Decision of the land court.—Retirement of Lieutenant-Governor Southey and appointment of Major Lanyon as administrator.—Mission of President Brand to England.—Settlement of the dispute with the Free State.—Passing by the Cape parliament of an act to annex Griqualand West.—Condition of the diamond fields at the time.—Rebellion of the Griquas, Koranas, and Betschuana in the province.—General unrest of the southern Bantu.—Account of the expedition to Pokwane.—Account of the operations against the insurgents in Griqualand West.—Relief of Kuruman by a force from Kimberley.—Close of the hostilities.—Expedition to the Batlapin and Batlaro country.—Retirement of Major Lanyon.—Proclamation of the act incorporating Griqualand West in the Cape Colony ... .. 281

CHAPTER LXXX.

ACCOUNT OF THE MAKOLOLO TRIBE AND OF THE HERERO WAR OF INDEPENDENCE.

Formation of the Makololo tribe.—Career of the chief Sebetoané.—Account of the Bangwaketse tribe.—Death of the warrior chief Makaba.—Account of the Bakwena tribe.—Succession of Setsheli to the chieftainship.—Account of the Bamangwato tribe.—Arrival of Sebetoané on the Zambesi.—Settlement of the Makololo there as the dominant power.—Attack by a Matabele band.—Removal of the Makololo to Linyanti on the Tshobe river.—Visit of the reverend Dr. Livingstone to Linyanti.—Death of Sebetoané.—Succession of Sekeletu to the chieftainship.—Second visit of Dr. Livingstone to Linyanti.—His ex-

xii	History of South Africa.
	ploration of the country.—His journey to St. Paul de Loanda and back.—His journey to Kilimane.—Attempt to establish a mission with the Makololo.—Fate of the mission party.—Death of Sekeletu.—Total destruction of the Makololo tribe.—Rise of the Barotsi power.—War between the Ovaherero and the Namaqua Hottentots.—Strength of the combatants.—Particulars concerning the Hottentots.—Account of the Rhenish mission.—First attack upon Otjimbingue.—Part taken by Europeans in the war.—Second attack upon Otjimbingue.—Destruction of mission stations.—Third attack upon Otjimbingue.—Treatment of Europeans by the petty captain Jacob Bois.—Action of the Cape government.—Settlement of mixed breeds in Great Namaqualand.—Final defeat of the Hottentots at Omukaru.—Conclusion of peace.—Independence of the Ovaherero	304

CHAPTER LXXXI.

ANNEXATION OF WALFISH BAY TO THE CAPE COLONY AND ESTABLISHMENT OF A GERMAN PROTECTORATE IN SOUTH-WESTERN AFRICA.

Condition of the inhabitants of Great Namaqualand and Hereroland.—Conduct of Kamaherero.—Migration of a party of farmers from the South African Republic to the country west of the Kalahari desert.—Alarm of the Herero chiefs.—Request for British interference.—Resolution of the Cape parliament in favour of annexing the territory as far north as Walfish Bay.—Mission of Mr. Palgrave to the country.—Report of Mr. Palgrave.—Request of the Herero chiefs for the appointment of a British official to be their head.—Different attitude of the Hottentot captains.—Second mission of Mr. Palgrave to Hereroland.—Arrangement with Kamaherero regarding British officials.—Condition of things in the Cape Colony.—View of the secretary of state.—Proclamation of British sovereignty over Walfish Bay and a small extent of territory around it.—Annexation of this territory to the Cape Colony.—Position of Jan Jonker Afrikaner.—Expedition for the relief of the emigrant farmers.—Examination of the coast from Cape Frio to Walfish Bay.—Condition of the emigrant farmers.—Appointment of a British resident at Okahandja.—Recruitment of Berg Damaras for service in the Cape Colony.—Outbreak of war again between the Hereros and the Hottentots.—Massacre of Hottentots.—Recall of the British resident.—Defeat of the Hottentots at Barmen.—Despatch of volunteers to protect Walfish Bay.—Purchase of territory by a German merchant from a Hottentot captain.—Communications between the

Contents. xiii

Prussian and British governments.—Action of the Cape government.—Final mission of Mr. Palgrave.—Proclamation of a German protectorate over the coast from Cape Frio to the Orange river, excepting Walfish Bay.—Dispute regarding the guano islands.—Subsequent extension of the German protectorate far inland ... ..	326
--	-----

CHAPTER LXXXII.

THE COLONY OF NATAL. 1857 TO 1872.

Succession of heads of the government.—Causes of the small number of European immigrants.—Various efforts to obtain British immigrants.—Introduction of labourers from India.—Influx of other Asiatics.—Baneful effects upon the white colonists.—Efforts to promote commerce with the republics.—Construction of harbour works.—Opening of the first railway in South Africa.—Construction of a lighthouse on the Bluff.—Effect of a great storm.—Progress of sugar planting.—Experiments in cotton growing.—Progress of coffee planting.—Account of other agricultural industries.—Losses of cattle by redwater.—Progress in educational institutions and courts of law.—Enlargement of the colony.—Particulars concerning the Bantu.—Strife between the executive and the elected members of the council.—Alteration of the constitution.—Reckless speculations in the colony.—Commercial disasters.—Effect of the discovery of diamonds along the Vaal.—Ecclesiastical matters.—Shipwrecks at the port.—Population returns.—Condition of Maritzburg and Durban.—Particulars concerning the revenue.—Amount of the public debt.—Troops and volunteers in Natal.—Particulars concerning the imports and exports.—Death of the Zulu chief Panda and accession of Ketshwayo.—Preservation of peace ... ..	349
---	-----

CHAPTER LXXXIII.

THE PORTUGUESE POSSESSIONS IN SOUTH AFRICA DURING THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.

Condition of Portugal and of South-Eastern Africa.—Cession by a Bantu chief of a tract of land north of the Espirito Santo.—Whale fishing in Delagoa Bay.—Survey of the coast by Captain Owen.—His dealings with chiefs at Delagoa Bay.—Description of the people living there.—Advantages of Delagoa Bay.—New names given to rivers.—Captain Owen's report xiv History of South Africa.
---	--

upon Mozambique and Sofala.—His account of the slave trade.—Visit of Commodore Nourse to Delagoa Bay.—Dealings of the Portuguese with the Bantu tribes there.—Destruction of a Portuguese force.—Grant of a monopoly of the commerce at the bay to a whaling company.—Ravages of hordes of Bantu fleeing from Tshaka.—Career of Swangendaba and the Angoni.—Great battle on the Sabi river.—Terrible destruction of life caused by the Matshangana under Manikusa.—Destruction of the fort at Delagoa Bay and murder of the entire garrison.—Destruction of Inhambane, Sofala, and Sena.—Reoccupation of Sena on condition of payment of tribute to Manikusa.—Temporary separation of the government of the Rivers from Mozambique.—Havoc created among the Bantu.—Reoccupation of the Portuguese stations.—Census of Lourenço Marques in 1878.—Account of the prazos south of the Zambesi.—Occupation of Tshiloane and Santa Carolina.—Particulars concerning the slave trade.—Laws regarding commerce.—Creation of a council for the province.—Reoccupation of Zumbo.—Progress of geographical knowledge.—Journeys across the continent ... .. 373

CHAPTER LXXXIV.

THE PORTUGUESE POSSESSIONS IN SOUTH AFRICA DURING THE NINETEENTH CENTURY, (continued).

Effect upon the importance of Delagoa Bay of the occupation of the interior by Europeans.—Declaration of British sovereignty over the islands Inyaka and Elephant.—Account of the civil war in the Matshangana tribe.—Conduct of the chief Umzila towards the Portuguese.—Conclusion of a treaty between the Portuguese and the South African Republic.—Submission to arbitration of Great Britain's claim to the southern and eastern shores of Delagoa Bay.—Adverse decision of the president of the French republic.—Exploration of the Limpopo river from the junction of the Shashi to the sea.—Construction of a railway from Lourenço Marques to the interior.—Present condition of Lourenço Marques.—Foundation of the town of Beira.—Particulars concerning the dispute between Great Britain and Portugal as to the possession of the interior.—Occupation of Rhodesia by the British South Africa Chartered Company.—Dealings with the chief Umtasa.—Services performed by Gouveia.—Occurrences between British and Portuguese officials at Umtasa's kraal.—Defeat of Portuguese volunteers by British police.—Treaty between

Contents. xv

Great Britain and Portugal fixing a boundary and providing commercial facilities.—Construction of a railway from Beira inland.—Description of Beira.—Account of the Mozambique Company.—Insurrection of Nyaude and his son Bonga.—Description of Tete.—Successful war with Gungunyana.—Condition of the country at present	... .. 392
List of printed books and pamphlets containing information on South Africa in recent times	... .. 415
Chronological list of principal events in South African history	... 436
Notes on the Bushmen and their language	... .. 447
Index	... .. 463

CHARTS.

XV. THE TERRITORY BETWEEN THE RIVER KEI AND
NATAL - - - - -	facing page 255
XVI. PORTUGUESE SOUTH AFRICA - - -	„ 413