

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03119-6 - The Autobiography of Sir Henry Morton Stanley

Edited by Dorothy Stanley

Index

More information

INDEX

- Abruzzi, Duke of the, ascends the Mountains of the Moon, 371.
- Abyssinian expedition, 227–230.
- Aden, Stanley at, 237, 238.
- Africa, the Abyssinian expedition, 227–230; the finding of Livingstone, 251–284; Coomassie, 285–295; Stanley's expedition through, 296–332; founding the Congo State, 333–352; the rescue of Emin, 353–391; a review of Stanley's work in, 392–408; maps of, 392, 393; South, 482–500; on starting on an expedition into, 533; on the pleasure of travelling in, 533–536; on returning from an expedition in, 536.
- Ague, 155, 156.
- Albert Edward Nyanza, the, 370, 371.
- Albert Nyanza, the, 359.
- Allen, William, 468.
- Altschul, Mr., 151–161.
- America, Stanley's first visit to, 81–215; later visits to, 220–227, 291, 425–428.
- Anderson, Captain, 345.
- Anderson, Colonel Finlay, 228, 237.
- Arkansas, population of, 156; spirit prevailing in, 156, 157.
- Arnold, Sir Edwin, thoughts on his Light of the World, 522.
- Ashantees, the, 291–295.
- Ashburton, Lady, 423.
- Ashmead-Bartlett, Mr., 480.
- Auckland, Stanley visits, 435, 436.
- Australia, Stanley visits, 434, 435.
- Autobiography*, Stanley begins, 465.
- Baker, Mr., the American, 215.
- Baker, Sir Samuel White, death of, 462; Stanley's estimate of, 462, 463.
- Balfour, Dr. Andrew, 407.
- Balfour, Arthur, 473, 474.
- Balfour, Gerald, 474.
- Barker, Frederick, 298, 300, 317.
- Barttelot, Major, 354, 360, 364.
- Beauregard, General P. G. T., 185, 187 n., 445.
- Bedford, Grammar School at, 456.
- Belgium, in Africa. See Leopold.
- Belmont, battle of, 175.
- Bennett, J. G., Stanley's first interview with, 228; commissions Stanley to search for Livingstone, 245; agrees to join in sending Stanley to explore Africa, 298.
- Bethell, Commander, 478.
- Bible, the, the elder Mr. Stanley's views of, 136; Stanley reads, in the wilds of Africa, 252–255.
- Binnie, Mr., engineer, 344, 345.
- Bismarck summons a conference on the Congo State, 338, 339.
- Bonny, William, 363, 364.
- Books, Stanley's, in America, 97, 127; later read by Stanley, 237, 240, 429, 432, 433, 458, 459, 463, 475, 508.
- Bowles, 'Tommy,' 478, 479.
- Braconnier, 346, 347.
- Brassey, Lord, 501.
- Brazza, M. de, 336.
- Bruce, A. L., urges Stanley to become a candidate for Parliament, 439; death of, 459; Stanley's affection for, 459, 460.
- Bryce, James, 478.
- Brynford, 41.
- Buell, General D. C., on the battle of Shiloh, 203 n.
- Burdett-Coutts, the Baroness and Mr., 418.
- Burgevine, General, 166.
- Burton, Sir Richard F., 423, 424, 450.
- Campbell-Bannerman, 504.
- Camperio, Captain, 424.
- Canterbury, 432, 433.
- Carnarvon, Stanley's reception at, 431.
- Carnival, the, at Odessa, 247.
- Casati, 424.
- Caucasus, Stanley in the, 245.
- Cave City, in camp at, 179–185.
- Chamberlain, the Rt. Hon. Joseph, on

- the slave-trade in Africa, 344 n.; as a debater, 479; on South Africa, 495; as a speaker, 503.
- Christopherson, Albert, 345.
- Civil War in America, events preceding, 161–166; Stanley's part in, 167–221; why men enlisted for, 168; Northern view of cause of, 202.
- Cleveland, President, his Venezuelan message, 482.
- Clwyd, Vale of, 51.
- Coleman, Mr., 159.
- Columbus, Ohio, the Gibraltar of the Mississippi, 175.
- Congo, the, traced by Stanley, 318–330; opened up, 333–352.
- Congo and the Founding of its Free State*, 334.
- Congo State, founding the, 333–352, 399, 400; recognised by the civilised powers, 338; Stanley on the government of, 537; Stanley on the value of, 537.
- Cook, W. H., 222–224.
- Coomassie, 229, 292, 293.
- Crete, 230.
- Cromer, 453.
- Cronin, Mr., 151–153.
- Cypress Grove, 151–166.
- Dalziell, Mr., 476.
- Darkest Africa*, In. 411, 422.
- Davis, Richard Harding, 508.
- Death, thoughts on the fear of, 523, 524.
- Degrees conferred on Stanley, 424, 425.
- Denbigh, 219.
- Denbigh Castle, 4–8.
- 'Dido,' the captain of the, 114.
- Dilke, Sir Charles, 473, 474, 477.
- Dillon, John, 474, 476.
- Dixie Greys, the, 165, 166.
- Donnelly, Ignatius, Cæsar's Column, 433.
- Douglas, Camp, 205–214.
- East African Company, 446–449.
- East Anglia, 450.
- Education, thoughts on, 524–526.
- Eisteddfod, the, 14, 16, 430, 434.
- Ellison, Mr., 106, 112.
- Emin Pasha, calls for help, 353; as described by Dr. Felkin, 354; discovered, 361; Stanley's impression of, 362; a prisoner, 368; deceived by his officers, 368; goes with Stanley to the coast, 370–372; has a fall from a balcony, 372; engages himself to the Germans, 373–374; death of, 375.
- England, and Coomassie, 285–295; backwardness of, in founding the Congo State, 333, 334, 338, 406; belittles Stanley's work, 400; in East Africa, 422; and South Africa, 487–500; thoughts on returning to, 529; changes in, in forty years, 530, 531.
- Evangelides, Christo, 230–236.
- Felkin, Dr. R. W., his picture of Emin, 353, 354.
- Fetish, the, and Ngalyema, 339–342.
- Ffynnon Beuno, 42–47, 51–55.
- Fisher, Fort, Stanley writes account of attack on, 220, 221.
- Flamini, François, 345.
- Foraging, in the American Civil War, 180.
- Francis, James, 12–16, 32–34.
- Furze Hill, 506–514.
- Galton, Sir Francis, 286, 287.
- Garstin, Sir William, on the importance of Stanley's discoveries, 404, 405.
- Genealogy, 3.
- Generalship, American, fault of, 178.
- Germany, in East Africa, 422.
- Ghost stories, 8, 9.
- Gladstone, W. E., Stanley's interview with, 419–421; as a speaker, 479, 480.
- Goff, Mr., 65.
- Gordon, General, Stanley's view of character of, 338, 527; massacre of, 353; Stanley on death of, 396, 397, 538, 539.
- Goree, Dr. and Dan, 160, 162, 165, 169, 170, 180.
- Grant, Colonel J. A., death of, 437, 438.
- Grant, U. S., on the battle of Shiloh, 203; Stanley's opinion of, 445.
- Greene, Conyngham, 494.
- Grey, Sir George, letter of, on the Emin Relief Expedition, 378, 379; events of his life, 379; entertains Stanley at Auckland, 435; Stanley's opinion of, 436; letter of, to Stanley, 436, 437; letter of, to Mrs. Stanley on Stanley's defeat in the Parliament election, 442, 443; on place of Stanley's burial, 515, 516.
- Gully, William Court, 469–472.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03119-6 - The Autobiography of Sir Henry Morton Stanley

Edited by Dorothy Stanley

Index

More information

INDEX

545

- Haldane, Mr., 474.
Hancock, General, expedition of, against the Kiowas and Comanches, 225–227.
Happiness, thoughts on, 237, 238.
Harcourt, Sir William, 473.
Hardinge, Captain David, 67.
Harman, Rev. Dr., 246.
Harry, boy on board the ‘Windermere,’ 70–72, 78, 79, 82–84.
Hawthorn, Colonel A. T., 168.
Healy, Tim, 475, 477.
Heaton, Dick (Alice), 107–111.
Henderson, Senator, 226, 227.
Hills-Johnes, Sir James and Lady, hosts to Stanley, 464.
Hindman, General T. C., 203, 204.
Holywell, John, 28.
Houldsworth, Sir William, 476.
House of Commons, Stanley becomes candidate for, but is defeated, 439; becomes a second time candidate, and is elected, 439–445, 466; Stanley’s impressions of, 467–481, 501–505.
Hubbard, Mr., 158, 161.
- Illusions, thoughts on, 524.
Indians, American, the, 225–227.
Ingham, Major, Stanley’s meeting with, 142; takes Stanley home with him, 146; life on his plantation, 146–150.
Ingham, Mrs. Annie, death of, 445.
Ingham, C. E., death of, 463.
International African Association, 334–338.
Isangila, 335.
- James, Lord, of Hereford, 483.
Jameson, Dr., his invasion of the Transvaal, 482, 483.
Jameson, Mr., 354.
Jephson, Mounteney, joins Stanley’s expedition for the rescue of Emin, 354; sent by Stanley to search for Emin, 360, 361; a prisoner, 368; Stanley’s characterisation of, 382; sufferings of, 387; carries succour to Nelson, 390; accompanies Stanley to Ostend, 434; Stanley in last sickness talks of, 515.
Jerusalem, Stanley at, 245.
Johnston, General A. S., 185, 199.
Journalism, Stanley’s career in, 220–250, 291–295.
- Kennicy, Mr., 89, 91, 101, 102.
Khartoum, massacre of Gordon’s forces at, 353; how Stanley would have acted at, 538.
Kimber, Mr., 469, 470.
Kitchen, J. D., 101–106, 121.
Krüger, President, Stanley’s description of, 489–499; his ultimatum, 503, 504.
Kumishah, 248.
- Ladysmith, Stanley on its position as a camp, 499, 500.
Learning, thoughts on, 526.
Lee, Mr., nephew of General Lee, 165, 169.
Lee, General Robert E., Stanley’s opinion of, 445.
Leopold, King, of Belgium, interested in the opening up of Africa, 334, 338; discusses African affairs with Stanley, 412–417; concludes treaty with English Government, 418; Stanley the guest of, at Ostend, 424; invites Stanley to Ostend, 434.
Leopoldville, 336.
Liverpool, Stanley’s life at, 56–68.
Livingstone, Stanley goes to Aden to meet, 237; Stanley is commissioned to search for, 245; reported character of, 250; Stanley in search of, 251–263; found, 263–267; why he did not return of his own accord, 267–272; leaves Ujiji, 273; character of, 273–278, 281–284, 527; Stanley’s parting from, 279, 280; death of, 280; feelings of Stanley at news of his death, 295, 296; letters of, to Sir George Grey, 435.
Llys, the, 40.
Loafers, thoughts on, 531.
Long Hart, 72.
Low, Sidney, his article on Stanley’s African explorations, 392–404; poem of, on Stanley, 540.
Lowell, J. R., Letters of, 458, 459, 461.
Lualaba, the, 318–330. See Congo.
Lyll, Sir Alfred, Stanley presides at lecture of, 501.
Lyons, Colonel, 168.
- Machiavelli, 463, 464.
Mackay, A. M., 406.
Mackinnon, Sir William, patronises the Emin Relief Expedition, 354; and the

2 N

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03119-6 - The Autobiography of Sir Henry Morton Stanley

Edited by Dorothy Stanley

Index

More information

546

INDEX

- East African Company, 446–449; death and funeral of, 446, 449; remarks on, 459, 460.
- Malone, Tom, 169, 180.
- Mason, Penny, 165, 169.
- Manyanga, 335.
- Marks, Mr., 489, 494.
- Matabele War, 454, 455.
- McKenna, Mr., 478.
- Melchet Court, 423, 428.
- Milligan, Colonel James A., 205.
- Milner, Sir Alfred, on South Africa, 495.
- Milton, John, 526.
- Mind and soul, thoughts on, 522, 523.
- Mirambo, 257, 258.
- Mississippi River, 115–117, 125.
- Moon, Mountains of the, 371.
- Morris, Edward Joy, 223, 245.
- Morris, Maria, aunt of Stanley, 55, 57, 62–68.
- Morris, Tom, uncle of Stanley, 58–68.
- Mose, boyhood friend of Stanley, 34–40.
- Mtesa, 311–313, 317, 318, 405.
- Murchison, Sir Roderick, 267, 282.
- My Early Travels and Adventures*, 225, 245.
- Myers, F. W. H., quoted, 289.
- Napier, Sir Robert, 229.
- National School at Brynford, 44, 47–51.
- Nelson, mate on board the ‘Windermere,’ 70, 75, 76, 80.
- Nelson, Captain, 354, 383, 387, 390.
- New Orleans, Stanley’s life at, 81–125; later visit to, 426, 427.
- New York, Stanley’s impressions of, 425.
- New York Herald*, Stanley becomes correspondent of, 228–230.
- New Zealand, Stanley visits, 434–437.
- Newspapers, Stanley reads, in the wilds of Africa, 252–255; the scavenger-beetles of, 288; thoughts on reading the, 528.
- Ngalyema and the fetish, 339–342.
- Nile, the, Stanley’s discoveries regarding the sources of, 301, 371, 405.
- North-Welsh, the, 52.
- Norwich, 452.
- Odessa, Stanley at, 247.
- O’Kelly, James J., 468, 469, 471, 472.
- Owen, Hicks, 18.
- Owen, Mary, aunt of Stanley, 42–57, 207, 208.
- Owen, Moses, 41–51.
- Parke, Surgeon, joins the expedition for the rescue of Emin, 354; on the march, 360, 373; his journal of the expedition, 378, 436, 437; Stanley’s opinion of, 381, 382, 390; accompanies Stanley to Melchet Court, 423; death of, 459, 460.
- Parker, Henry, 187, 188, 193.
- Parkinson, John, 58.
- Parkinson, Mary, 58.
- Parliament. See House of Commons.
- Parry, Moses, grandfather of Stanley, 6–8.
- Pasargadæ, ruins of, 248.
- Peace Commission to the Indians, 225–227.
- Persepolis, 249.
- Phillpots, Mr., 458.
- Pickersgill, Mr., 476.
- Pigmies, 365–367.
- Platte River, 222.
- Pocock, Francis and Edward, 298, 300, 301, 321, 329.
- Portugal, in Africa, 338.
- Prayer, thoughts on the efficacy of, 519–521.
- Price, Dick, 10.
- Price, Richard and Jenny, 8–10.
- Price, Sarah, 8–10.
- Provincialism, 155.
- Rawlinson, Sir Henry, 286, 289.
- Reading, Mr. Stanley the elder instructs Stanley in, 127.
- Recreation, real, thoughts on, 526, 527.
- Redmond, John, 474.
- Religion, thoughts on, 518–520.
- Religious convictions, of Stanley when a boy, 23–28; of the elder Mr. Stanley, 133–137.
- Religious education, thoughts on, 522.
- Reviews and reviewers, thoughts on, 527, 528.
- Rhodes, Cecil, 455.
- Rhuddlan Eisteddfod, 14, 16.
- Richardson, Mr., 89–121.
- Roberts, Lord, 464.
- Roberts, Willie, 22, 23.
- Robertson, Mr., 472, 473.

INDEX

547

- Robinson, Rev. Joseph A., refuses to allow Stanley to be buried in Westminster Abbey, 515.
- Rowlands, John, Stanley's real name. See Stanley, Henry Morton.
- Rowlands, John, Stanley's grandfather, 38–40.
- Runciman, Mr., 525 n.
- Ruwenzori Mountains. See Moon, Mountains of the.
- St. Asaph Union Workhouse, 10–34.
- St. Louis, 115, 116.
- Salisbury, Lord, accuses Stanley of having interests in Africa, 408; as an orator, 445, 446, 465.
- Sandford, General, 338.
- Saragossa, fighting at, 241–243.
- Saunderson, Colonel, 489.
- Scheabeddin, quoted, 371.
- Schnitzer, Edouard. See Emin Pasha.
- Seton-Karr, Mr., 474.
- Sherman, General W. T., 226, 227, 426.
- Shiloh, 186–204.
- Shipman, Mr., 205, 206, 212, 213.
- Short, Bishop Vowler, 17, 30.
- Slate, James M., 169, 180, 204.
- Slave-trade in Africa, 344, 407, 413, 419–422, 457.
- Smalley, Mr., 17.
- Smith, Parker, 478, 480.
- Smith, Captain S. G., 165, 168, 188, 189.
- Socialism, thoughts on, 531.
- Soldiering, 167–215.
- Solomon's Throne, 248.
- Soul and mind, thoughts on, 522, 523.
- Spain, Stanley in, 240–244.
- Speake, James, 89, 102–105, 121.
- Speake, Mrs., 105, 106.
- Speke, Mr., 435, 462.
- Stairs, Lieutenant, 354, 360, 381, 390.
- Stanley, Denzil, Stanley's son, 483, 485, 486.
- Stanley, Henry Morton, his progenitors, 3, 4; dawn of consciousness, 4; earliest recollections, 4–7; his grandfather, 7, 8; at the Prices', 8–10; taken to the Workhouse, 10; his first flogging, 13, 14; his second memorable whipping, 14, 15; life at the school, 16–22; his feelings at the death of Willie Roberts, 22, 23; his religious convictions, 23–28; his meeting with his mother, 28, 29; the most advanced pupil, 30; his personal appearance, 30; acts as deputy over the school, 31; his struggle with Francis and flight from the Workhouse, 32–34; adventures after leaving the Workhouse, 35–37; visits Denbigh and learns of his relatives, 37–40; calls on his grandfather, John Rowlands, 40; engaged as pupil-teacher, 41; visits his aunt, Mary Owen, 42–47; at the National School at Brynford, 47–51; returns to Ffynnon Beuno, 51; life at Ffynnon Beuno, 51–55; leaves Ffynnon Beuno, 55; sadness at departure, 56; arrival at Liverpool, 56–59; visits Mr. Winter, 60; employed at a haberdasher's, 62; about the docks, 64; employed at a butcher's, 65; ships as cabin-boy, 67; sails for New Orleans, 68; on board the 'Windermere,' 69–81.
- Arrival at New Orleans, 81; first night in New Orleans, 82–84; leaves the 'Windermere,' 84, 85; seeks work in New Orleans, 86–89; first meeting with Mr. Stanley the elder, 87–90; taken on trial, 89; in his new position, 90–93; permanently engaged, 93; his new feeling of independence, 94–96; his affection for New Orleans, 96; on the moral courage to say 'No,' 96; books read at this period, 97, 98; takes breakfast with Mr. Stanley, 98–100; his acquaintance with the Stanleys, 100, 101; his salary increased, 101; his discovery of a theft in the business house, 102–104; Mr. Stanley's gift of books to, 105; watches the body of Mr. Speake, 105, 106; adventure with Dick (Alice) Heaton, 107–111; discharged from Ellison and McMillan's, 106; his account of the death of Mrs. Stanley, 111–113; attends the captain of the 'Dido,' 114; leaves New Orleans, 115; goes to St. Louis, 115; returns to New Orleans, 116–118; taken under the charge of Mr. Stanley and given his name, 118–125; travels with Mr. Stanley, 125; his mental acquisitiveness and memory, 126; his judgement a thing of growth, 126; studies and reads with Mr. Stanley, 127; profits by the moral instruction of Mr.

Stanley, 128–133, 137–139; the religious views taught him by Mr. Stanley, 133–137; further education at the hands of Mr. Stanley, 140; his personal appearance, 140; his last parting with Mr. Stanley, 142–145; receives a letter from Mr. Stanley, 145, 146; on Major Ingham's plantation, 146–150; at Mr. Waring's, 150; walks to the Arkansas River, 150, 151; at Mr. Altschul's store, 151–161; learns of the death of Mr. Stanley, 161; hears of events preceding the Civil War, 161–166.

Enlists, 166; his enlistment a blunder, 167; his mess, 169; on the march, 171–175; witnesses the battle of Belmont, 175; campaigning, 175–179; in camp at Cave City, 179; foraging, 179–185; transferred to Corinth, 185; at the battle of Shiloh, 186–203; made a prisoner, 200; taken to the rear, 200–203; prisoner of war, 205–214; vision of Aunt Mary, 207, 208; enrolled in the U. S. Service, 214; has the prison disease and is discharged, 214, 219; events following his discharge, 214, 215, 219.

Arrives at Liverpool, 219; visits his mother's house and his reception, 219; returns to America and joins the merchant service, 220; enlists in United States Navy and is ship's writer, 220; writes account of attack on Fort Fisher, 220, 221; wanders about America, 221; "Press" and "Stage," 221, 222; floats down the Platte River, 222; goes to Asia (Stanley-Cook exploration), 223, 224; joins General Hancock's expedition against the Indians, and accompanies the Peace Commission to the Indians as correspondent, 225–227; his earnings, 227; becomes correspondent of the New York Herald, 228; reports the Abyssinian expedition, 229, 230; goes to Crete, 230; the Virginia episode at Island of Syra, 230–236; his further travels, 237; goes to Aden to meet Livingstone, 237; his thoughts on happiness, 237, 238; on slanderous gossip, 239; on change from boy to man, 240; in Spain, 240–244; his application to duty, 243, 244.

Is commissioned by Mr. Bennett to search for Livingstone, 245; at the opening of the Suez Canal, 245; in Egypt, at Jerusalem, at Constantinople, and in the Caucasus, 245, 246; on Rev. Dr. Harman, 246; sees the Carnival at Odessa, 247; in the East, 247–249; arrives at Zanzibar, 250; starts from Zanzibar in search of Livingstone, 251, 252; reads Bible and newspapers in wilds of Africa, 252–255; his feeling of tranquillity when in Africa, 255; his ideas on being good-tempered in Africa, 256; in Ugogo, 256; in Unyanyembe, 257, 258; hears of a grey-bearded man, 259; pays heavy tribute to the natives, 259, 260; sees Lake Tanganyika, 261, 262; arrives at Ujiji, 262; finds Livingstone, 263–267; tells why Livingstone did not return of his own accord, 267–272; leaves Ujiji, 273; his observations on Livingstone's character, 273–278, 281–284; his parting from Livingstone, 279, 280; his return home, 286.

Speaks before societies, 286, 287; hostility to, 286–289; received by Queen Victoria, 289–291; lectures in England and America, 291; accompanies campaign against the Ashantees, 291–295; on Lord Wolseley, 294; Lord Wolseley on, 294; feelings at news of death of Livingstone, 295, 296; conception of plan to explore Africa, 295–298.

Makes preparations in Zanzibar, 298, 299; proceeds inland, 299–301; his camp attacked, 302–304; arrives at the Victoria Nyanza, 305; circumnavigates the Victoria Nyanza and Lake Tanganyika, 305–319; traces the Lualaba (Congo), 318–330; aims to introduce civilisation into Africa, 333, 334; his work of opening up the Congo, 335–339; and Ngalyema, 339–342; his manner of dealing with the natives, 342–346; and his subordinates, 344–351; his answer to those who regarded him as 'hard,' 346–351; his virility of purpose, 351; called 'Breaker of Rocks,' 352.

Undertakes to lead the Emin Relief Expedition, 354; starts on the expedition, 355; forms Advance Column, 355, 356; on the march, 356–359; reaches the Albert Nyanza, 359; constructs a fort at Ibwiri, 360; discovers Emin, 361; his impression of Emin, 362; goes in search of the Rear-Column, 362; his discovery of the Rear-Column, 363, 364; returns to Fort Bodo, 364–367; returns to the Albert Nyanza, 367; commences homeward journey, 370; discovers the Albert Edward Nyanza, 370, 371; sees the Mountains of the Moon, 371; reaches the Indian Ocean, 372; enlightened as to the true character of Emin, 373, 374; results of his expedition, 375; his letter on the conduct of Englishmen in Africa, 376, 377; Sir George Grey's letter on his work on the Relief Expedition, 378, 379.

INDEX

549

Expects implicit obedience from his subordinates, 380; his descriptions of his subordinates, 381–383; lives alone while in Africa, 383, 384, 386; on the white man in Africa, 384, 385; accused of being 'hard,' 385; his manner of life while in Africa, 386–388; his thoughts while in Africa, 388, 389; Low's estimate of his work in Africa, 392–404; on his intellectual power, 396, 397; a leader of men, 397; on the criticisms of his methods, 398; his character, 399, 402, 403; his religious beliefs, 399; as an administrator and organiser, 399, 400; effects on his health of the Emin Expedition, 401; in the last fourteen years of his life, 401, 402; his personal appearance, 402; Sir William Garstin's estimate of the importance of his discoveries, 404, 405; his master-passion, that of a civiliser, not of a discoverer, 405–407; had no pecuniary interest in Africa, 407, 408.

On the charm of the Great Forest, 409; his return to civilisation, 409, 410; writes his book, In Darkest Africa, 411, 412; goes to Brussels and is received by the King of Belgium, 412; Grand Crosses conferred on him, 412; discusses African affairs with the King of Belgium, 413–417; arrives in England, 418; his reception in England, 419; his interview with Gladstone, 419–421; his refutation of the charge that he used slaves, 421, 422; In Darkest Africa published, 422; stirs up societies to see that Germany does not absorb too much of East Africa, 422; married, 423; meets Sir Richard F. Burton in the Engadine, 423; meets Camperio and Casati, 424; the guest of King Leopold at Ostend, 424; given degrees, 424, 425; visits America on a lecturing tour, 425; travels over the United States and Canada, 425–428; dines at the Press Club, New York, 426; newspaper comments on his personal appearance, 426; visits New Orleans, 426, 427; feels lack of freedom, 427, 428; returns to England, 428; lectures in England, 429; longs for rest, 429, 432; his reading, 429; on the Welsh language, 430; his reception at Carnarvon, 431; on Canterbury, 432, 433; visits Switzerland, 433; breaks his ankle, 434; visits King Leopold at Ostend, 434; his visit to Australia, etc., 434–438; letter to, from Sir George Grey, 436, 437.

Consents to become candidate for Parliament, 439; defeated, 439; his speeches on second candidacy, 440–442; his disgust at electioneering methods, 443, 444; on Beaugard, Lee, and Grant, 445; on Mackinnon and the East African Company, 446–449; on East Anglia and Yarmouth, 450–452; on Norwich, 452; his enjoyment of solitude by the sea, 453; on the Matabele War, 454, 455; on a coal-strike, 455; on W. T. Stead, 455, 456; on the destruction of the slave-trade in Africa, 457, 458; on Lowell's Letters, 458, 459, 461; on A. L. Bruce, 459, 460; on Sir S. W. Baker, 462, 463; goes to the Isle of Wight, 463; at the Hills-Johnes', 464; begins his Autobiography, 465; elected to Parliament, 466, 467; first impressions of the House, 467–472; impressions of the speakers, 472–476; on obstructive tactics, 476, 477; gives his maiden speech, 478–480; on the Venezuelan affair, 482; his love for his son, 483, 485, 486; frequently ill from malaria and gastritis, 483–485.

Leaves for South Africa, 485; his views on South African affairs, 486–489; his description of Krüger, 489–499; feels contempt for England for not act-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03119-6 - The Autobiography of Sir Henry Morton Stanley

Edited by Dorothy Stanley

Index

More information

550

INDEX

- ing with more decision in South Africa, 469–499; on Ladysmith as a camp, 499, 500; presides at Lyall's lecture, 501; views of England's lack of decisiveness, 501; disgusted with the Parliamentary methods, 502, 504, 505; on the speakers, 503; on South African affairs, 503, 504; has little influence in Parliament, 504, 505; leaves Parliament, 505; looks for a house in the country, 506; buys Furze Hill, 506, 507; life at Furze Hill, 507, 508; created G. C. B., 508; how he was misunderstood, 508, 509; his story of the little black baby, 509; other baby stories, 510, 511; his repairs at Furze Hill, 512, 513; sickness and last days, 513–515; death, 515; buried at Pirbright, Surrey, 515; his headstone, 516–517.
- Thoughts on religion, 518, 519; on the influence of religion, 519, 520; on prayer, 520, 521; on religious education, 522; on Arnold's Light of the World, 522; on mind and soul, 522, 523; on the fear of death, 523, 524; on illusions, 524; on the training of young men, and education, 524–526; on learning, 526; on real recreation, 526, 527; on reviews and reviewers, 527, 528; on reading the newspapers, 528; on returning to England, 529; on the England of forty years ago, 530, 531; on socialism, 531; on loafers, 531; on the cry of 'Wales for the Welsh,' 531, 532; on starting on an expedition, 533; on the pleasures of travelling in Africa, 533–536; on returning from an expedition, 536; on the government of the Congo, 537; on the value of the Congo and British East Africa, 537; on General Gordon, 538, 539.
- Poem of Sidney Low on, 540.
- Stanley, Lady, her marriage to Stanley, 423; urges Stanley to become candidate for Parliament, 439; letter to, from Sir George Grey, on Stanley's defeat for election to Parliament, 442, 443; 'nurses' North Lambeth, 445; watches for signal of Stanley's election to Parliament, 466, 467; during the last days of Stanley, 512–517.
- Stanley, Mr., of New Orleans, Stanley's first meeting with, 87–90; Stanley visits, 98–101; visits Stanley, 104; his gift of books to Stanley, 105; Stanley's affection for, 118; charges himself with Stanley's future, and gives Stanley his name, 118–125; Stanley travels with, 125; teaches Stanley how to read, 127; gives moral instruction to Stanley, 128–133, 137–139; his religious views, 133–137; the further education he gives Stanley, 140; his adventure with a thief, 141; his last parting with Stanley, 142–144; sends a letter to Stanley, 145, 146; death of, 161.
- Stanley, Mrs., of New Orleans, 99–101, 111–113.
- Stanley-Cook exploration in Asia, 223, 224.
- Stanley Falls, 326.
- Stanley Pool, 329, 336.
- Stead, W. T., 455, 456.
- Story, Newton, 156, 165, 169, 170, 180, 193.
- Suez Canal, opening of, 245.
- Swinburne, A. B., 345.
- Syra, Island of, 230–236.
- Talbot, A., 456, 458.
- Tanganyika, Lake, 261, 262, 318, 319.
- Tanner, Dr., 468, 469, 473–475.
- Tasmania, Stanley visits, 434, 437, 438.
- 'Tay-Pay,' 475, 476.
- Taylor, Commissioner, 227.
- Teheran, 247.
- Tennant, Dorothy, married to Stanley, 423. See Stanley, Lady.
- Theodore, King, 229, 230.
- Thomas, Captain Leigh, 17.
- Tiflis, 246.
- Tippu-Tib, 319–325, 364.
- Tomasson, 169, 180, 184.
- Tremeirchion, 42, 51.
- Uganda, 309–313, 405.
- Uganda Mission, 318.
- Uhha, 259, 260.
- Ujiji, 262.
- Valencia, Stanley at, 243.
- Vasari, his Machiavelli, 463.
- Venezuela, and President Cleveland's message, 482.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03119-6 - The Autobiography of Sir Henry Morton Stanley

Edited by Dorothy Stanley

Index

More information

INDEX

551

- Victoria, Queen, receives Stanley, 289–291.
 Victoria Nyanza, the, 305–317, 319.
 Vivi, 335.
- Waldron, Mr., 151, 153.
 ‘Wales for the Welsh,’ on the cry of, 531, 532.
 Waring, Mr., 150.
 Washita River, 146.
 Waters, Mr., 71, 77, 79, 80.
 Webb, Mrs., 464.
 Wellcome, Henry, 514, 515.
 Welsh language, Stanley’s views of, 430.
- Wilkes, W. H., 206.
 Williams, Mrs., 92.
 ‘Windermere,’ the, 67–81.
 Winter, Mr. and Mrs., 60, 61.
 Winton, Sir Francis de, 338, 419.
 Wolseley, Lord, on Coomassie, 293; on Stanley, 294.
 Workhouse, St. Asaph Union, 10–34.
 Worsfold, Basil, on Sir George Grey, 379.
 Yarmouth, 450–452.
 Zanzibar, 250, 251, 280, 298.