

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description
of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

INDEX.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description
of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

INDEX.

[The Figures within parentheses refer to the Appendix in Vol. I.]

- Air, its dissolving power at different temperatures, i. 422
- Alca alle, remarks on, i. 528
- arctica, common at Spitzbergen, i. 527
- Alderman Jones' Sound discovered by Baffin, i. 88
- America or the West Indies discovered in the 12th century, i. 67—British colonies in, their whale-fishery, ii. 134
- Amphibia, account of, i. 538
- Anas bernicla, notice of, i. 527
- mollissima, mention of, i. 527
- Anecdotes.—Courageous exploit of a sailor, ii. 263—Of whales, ii. 276—Respecting the whale-fishery, 276, 294, 297, 302, 331—Of accidents from ice, ii. 342—Of accidents arising from fogs, ii. 346
- Animalcula in the Polar Seas, account of, i. 544
- Apparatus used in the whale-fishery, ii. 223—List of, ii. 509
- Arctic gull, account of, i. 534
- Ascaris, mention of, i. 543
- Ascidia, mention of, i. 543
- Asterias, notice of, i. 550
- Atmosphere, tendency to equilibrium in, i. 349—Pressure of, changeable in the Arctic Regions, i. 371—Appearance of the atmosphere, i. 377—Colour and transparency, ib.—Density of, 378—occasional brightness of, i. 379—Extreme dryness of, i. 380—Electricity of, i. 382—Phenomenon in, produced by refraction, i. 384—Decrease in the temperature of, on ascending, i. (72)
- Atmospherology, observations on, i. 323
- Attraction, magnetic, focus of, in a ship, ii. 542
- Auk, Little, remarks on, i. 528
- Aurora borealis, common in high latitudes, i. 416—State of the weather when observed, i. 417—Appearance of, portentous, ib.
- Baffin, an enterprising character and able navigator, i. 89—Discovered Baffin's Bay, i. 84—Suggested that a profitable whale-fishery might be conducted there, ii. 184
- Baffin's Bay discovered, i. 84
- Balaena mysticetus, description of, i. 449—See Whale.
- Balaenoptera acuto-rostrata, described, i. 485
- gibbar, description of, i. 478—See Physalis.
- jubartes, description of, i. 484
- rorqual, description of, i. 482
- Banks, Sir Joseph, apparatus for determining temperature of the sea, furnished by, i. 185
- Barclay, Dr, his anatomical examination of a beluga, i. 500
- Barometer, table of remarkable changes in, in high latitudes, i. 371—These changes portentous, i. 373—Relations between the state of the barometer and the weather, i. 374—Value of, in predicting the weather, i. 399, 401
- Barrington's, Hon. D. account of navigators having reached extraordinary high latitudes, not to be relied

VOL. II.

N II

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

562

INDEX.

- on, i. 42—Evidence of this conclusion, i. 43, 45
- Basques, early whale-fishers, ii. 16
- Bear, Polar, account of, i. 517—Affection of, for its young, i. 520—Instances of sagacity in, i. 521—Feroocity of, i. 523—Seamen killed by, i. 524
- Bear Island discovered by Barentz, i. 79
- Behring's Strait, currents in, i. 211—Discovery of, i. (65)
- Beluga, description of, i. 500
- Birds, Bay of, discovered by Barentz, i. 80
- Biscayans, expert and early whale-fishers, ii. 16—Pursued the whales to Iceland and Newfoundland, ii. 17—Assisted other powers in the capture of whales, ii. 26—Fished themselves at Spitzbergen, ii. 161
- Blubber, nature of, i. 460—Proportion of, to oil, i. 461—Process of reducing into oil, ii. 400—Proportion of refuse in, ii. 403
- Boats, whale, description of, ii. 221—Manner of equipping for the fishery, ii. 232—Sunk by whales, ii. 362—Thrown into the air by the whale, ii. 365
- Boat-steerers, nature of their office, ii. 235
- Boatswain, gull, account of, i. 534
- Bones of whales, uses of, ii. 434
- Botany of Spitzbergen, i. (75)
- Bounty for encouraging the whale-fishery, offered, ii. 72—Increased, ii. 73—Occasions a revival of the whale-fishery, ii. 75—Being reduced, produces a depression in the trade, ii. 81—Trade again increases with the increase of the bounty, ii. 82—Bounty reduced, ii. 83, 87—Rate at present, ii. 496
- by the King of Denmark, ii. 83
- given by the Government of Holland, ii. 94
- Brent goose, mention of, i. 527
- British whale-fishery, ii. 98—Very successful in 1814, ii. 121
- Brodrick, Cape, Jan Mayen, i. 166
- Buccinum carinatum, notice of, i. 551
- Burgomaster, (bird) account of, i. 535
- Ca'ing whale, description of, i. 496
- Cancer ampulla, notice of, i. 542
- boreas, mention of, i. 542
- nugax, notice of, i. 542
- pulex, notice of, i. 542
- Canis lagopus, remarks on, i. 517
- Carey Island discovered by Baffin, i. 88
- Cellepora pumicosa, notice of, i. 551
- Cervus Tarandus, i. 526
- Cherie Island, description of, i. 152
- Chidley, Cape, discovered, i. 78
- China, first attempts to reach by sea, i. 2
- Chiton ruber, notice of, i. 551
- Christianity introduced into Iceland and Greenland, i. 66
- Chronometer, valuable instrument in high latitudes, i. 380
- Climate of the Arctic Regions, i. 323
- Of Jan Mayen in winter, i. (78)
- Of Spitzbergen, i. 137
- Clio borealis, account of, i. 544
- helicina, remarks on, i. 543
- Clouds of the Polar Regions, i. 419
- Coal, occurs in Spitzbergen, i. 149—In Cherie Island, i. 153
- Coal-fish, notice of, i. 540
- Cockin Sound, i. 89
- Cold, in the Arctic Regions, intense, i. 329—Prevents compasses traversing, i. 332—Remarkable effects of severe cold, i. 334—Effects observed by James in Hudson's Bay, i. 334—By Ellis, ib.—By Middleton, i. 335—By Janzen near Spitzbergen, ib.—By Pelham, i. 336—By seven Dutch seamen, ib.—By Barentz in Nova Zembla, i. 337—By Egedé in Greenland, i. 337—Morbid effects of cold, i. 338, 340—Transition from heat to cold, not dangerous, i. 339—Antiseptical property of cold, i. 341—Preserves meat fresh during several months, i. 342
- Colymbus glacialis, notice of, i. 533
- grylle, remarks on, i. 532
- troile, account of, i. 532
- Compass, its traversing affected by cold, i. 332—Affected by the iron in ships, ii. 376—Deviation of, productive of great errors in reckoning, ii. 377—Cause of the anomaly in the variation of, investigated, ii. 537—Deviation of, increases as the magnetic dip increases, ii. 546—Table of ob-

- servations for determining the anomalies in, ii. 538—Vibrations in the needle of, at Spitzbergen, ii. 544—Magnetic directive force on, under different dips, ii. 546
- Coronæ and parhelia, remarks on, i. 392
- Crow's nest, described, ii. 203—Its use in the fishery, ii. 237
- Crystallization, remarks on the cause of, i. 438
- Cumberland (Island) discovered by Davis, i. 76
- Cumberland Strait, discovered by Davis, i. 76
- Currents in the Arctic Seas, i. 4—Near Spitzbergen, i. 147, 204—Difficulties of determining, i. 205—Some effects of, i. 207—Proofs of, in the Greenland Seas, i. 212—Intimate the existence of a communication between the Atlantic and Pacific, i. 4.
- Customs, regulations of, on the importation of the produce of the whale-fishery, ii. 378—Duties of, on Greenland produce, ii. 501—Mustering of Greenland ships by the officers of, ii. 513—Affidavits, certificates, &c. by the, required, ii. 514
- Cuttle-fish, food of the narwhal, i. 544
- Cyclopterus liparis*, notice of, i. 540
- Davis' Strait discovered, i. 78—Whale-fishery of, commenced by the Dutch, ii. 64—suggested by Baffin, ii. 184—Account of the fishery of, ii. 382 Compared with that of Greenland, ii. 390
- Delphinus deductor*, description of, i. 496—Numbers stranded in Orkney, Faroe, Iceland, &c. i. 499
- Denmark, King of, encourages the whale-fishery by a bounty, ii. 83—Account of the whale-fishery from, ii. 166
- Deviation of the compass, ii. 537—See Compass.
- Dier's Cape discovered by Davis, i. 76
- Discovery, adventurous spirit in, manifested by our early voyagers, i. 22—Vessels of 10, 35 and 50 tons employed in, i. 23—Hints for conducting in the Polar Seas, i. 24—Class of vessels most suitable for, i. 24, 27
- Small vessels stronger than large, i. 24—Proofs of this assertion, i. 26—Practical knowledge of the polar regions, in navigators, necessary for making discoveries, i. 28—Evidences of this remark, i. 27—Advantages of wintering in Baffin's Bay to navigators on discovery, i. 29—Vessels might be secured from ice, by hauling them on land by means of Morton's patent slip, i. 30—Premiums by act of Parliament for making discoveries, i. 53
- journeys on land in N. America, most likely mode of discovering the seas between Behring's Strait and the Greenland seas, i. 33—Mode of travelling on snow, i. ib.—Provisions used by travellers, i. 35—Suggestions for performing journeys of discovery, i. 37
- voyages of, in the Arctic Seas, led to the Spitzbergen whale-fishery, ii. 19—Also to the Archangel trade, ib.
- voyages of,—Alarcon, i. (57) —Aubert or Hubert, i. 71, (56) —Baffin, William, i. 84, (61) —Barentz, William, i. 79, (59) —Behring, Vitus, i. (65) —Bennet, Stephen, i. (59) —Billings, Joseph, i. (69) —Biorn, i. 64, (55) —Bleffkens, Dithmar, i. (57) —Buchan, David, i. (71) —Burrough, Stephen, i. 72, 74, (57) —Busch, Henry, i. (64) —Button, Sir Thomas, i. 83, (61) —Bylot, Robert, i. 84, (61) —Cabot, John, i. 69, (55) —Cabot, Sebastian, i. 69, (55) —Cabrillo, Juan Rodriguez de, i. (57) —Camart, i. (56) —Cartier, Jacques, i. (56) —Chancellor, Richard, i. 72, (57) —Chaque, Martin, i. (57) —Christopher, i. (67) —Clerke, Charles, i. (69) —Columbus, i. 68, (55) —Cook, James, i. (68) —Cornelison, i. 79, (59) —Coronado, i. (57) —Cortereal, Gaspar, i. 69, (56) —Cortereal, John Vaz Costa, i. 69, (55) —Cortereal, Michael, i. 70, (56) —Danell, i. (63) —Davis, John, i. 75, (58) —Denis, Jean, i. (56) —Deschnew, Semeon, i. (63) —Duncan, Charles, i. (70) —Egedé, i. (69) —Fenton, Edward, i. (58) —Flawes, William, i. (64) —Flocke, i. 62, (54) —Fo-

- therby, i. (61)—Fox, Luke, i. (62)
—Franklin, John, i. (71)—Frobisher, Martin, i. 74, (57)—Fuca, Juan de, i. (59)—Gama, Vasquez de, i. 68—Gibbons, i. (61)—Gilbert, Sir Humphry, i. (58)—Gillam, Zach. i. (63)—Gomez, Estevan, i. 71, (56)—Gualle, Francisco, i. (58)—Gundbiorn, i. 63, (55)—Gwosdew, i. (65)—Hall, James, i. 82, (59)—Hawksbridge, i. (62)—Hearn, Samuel, i. (67)—Heceta, Bruno, i. (68)—Heemskirk, Jacob van, i. 79—Heinson, Morgen, i. 112—Hudson, Henry, i. 82, (60)—Ignatiew, Isai, i. (62)—Ingolf, i. 62, (54)—Jackman, Charles, i. (58)—James, Thomas, i. (62)—Knight, James, i. (64)—Knight, John, i. 82, (60)—Koschelow, i. (66)—Kotzbue, i. (70)—Krupischew, i. (65)—Laptiew, Dmitri, i. (66)—Lassenius, i. (65)—Leif, i. 62, 64, (54)—Lowenorn, i. (69)—Mackenzie, Alexander, i. (69)—Madoc, i. 67, (55)—Malaspina, i. (70)—Maldonado, i. (58)—Markoff, Alexei, i. (64)—Melguer, i. (63)—Middleton, Christopher, i. (66)—Mlyagin, i. (66)—Moor, William, i. (66)—Morovieff, i. (65)—Munk, Jens, i. (62)—Naddodd, i. 62, (54)—Ohtere, i. 62, (55)—Owzen, i. (66)—Parry, William Edward, i. (71)—Pet, Arthur, i. (58)—Phipps, Const. John, i. (68)—Pickersgill, Richard, i. (68)—Poole, Jonas, i. (60)—Pronschitschew, i. (65)—Rauda, Eric, i. 63, (55)—Richard, Lieut. i. (65)—Roche, Marquis de la. i. (59)—Ross, John, i. (71)—Ryp, Cornelis, i. 79—Schæp, H. C. i. (62)—Scroggs, John, i. (65)—Shalaurowf, i. (67)—Skuratow, i. (66)—Smith, Francis, i. (67)—Swaine, Charles, i. (67)—Thorfin, i. 65, (55)—Thorwald, i. 64, (55)—Tschirikow, i. (66)—Uhlefeld, Baron von, i. (67)—Ulloa, Francisco, i. (57)—Urdanietta, Andrea, i. (57)—Vancouver, George, i. (70)—Vcrazzani, Juan, i. (56)—Vizcaino, Sebastian, i. (59)—Vriez, M. H. van, i. (62)—Wagin, Mercurei, i. (64)—Weymouth, George, i. 81, (59)—Wildier, i. (68)—Willoughby, Sir Hugh, i. 71, (57)—Wood, John, i. (64)—Young, Walter, i. (68)—
- Zeno, Antonio, i. 68, (55)—Zeno, Nicholas, i. 68, (55)
Doveca, account of, i. 532
Drift wood, i. 131, 161—An evidence of a northern communication between the Atlantic and Pacific, i. 6
Dunkirk, extensive whale-fishery from, ii. 88
Dutch, sent ships to the Spitzbergen fishery, ii. 23—Were driven away by the English, ii. 24—Were attacked, and one ship captured, ii. 27—Afterwards attacked the English, 34—Attempt to establish a colony in Spitzbergen, ii. 49—They found the village of Smeerenberg, ii. 52—Procured great success in the fishery, ii. 54, 56—Historical account of their whale-fishery, ii. 138—Profits derived by, from the whale-fishery, ii. 156
Duties on Greenland produce, ii. 501
- Edge, Thomas, the first whale-fisher at Spitzbergen, ii. 21
Eider-duck, abundant in Greenland, &c. i. 527
Electricity of the atmosphere, i. 382
Emberiza nivalis, notice of, i. 537
English, probably ancient whale-fishers, ii. 15—Their first fishery at Cape Breton, ii. 18—Were the original discoverers of the Spitzbergen fishery, ii. 19—Their first adventure unfortunate, ii. 21—They drive foreigners away from the fishery, ii. 24—Their fishery prosperous, ii. 31—Afterwards suffer heavy losses, ii. 60, 70—Their trade revives on the offer of a bounty, ii. 75
— historical account of their whale-fishery, ii. 98—extent of, to Greenland and Davis' Strait, ii. 119
Esk Mountain, Jan Mayen, discovered, i. 166
Esk, ship, narrative of proceedings on board of, ii. 438—Dangerous situation of, ii. 439—Damage sustained by, ii. 447—Attempt to invert, ii. 457—Contracts for assistance, ii. 465, 468—Immense influx of water, ii. 447—Leak diminished, ii. 473—Ship unmanageable, ii. 474—Immense quantity of water discharged from, ii. 481—Arrives safe in port, ii. 485

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

INDEX.

565

- Exeter Sound, discovered by Davis, i. 76
- Expences of a whale-ship, ii. 393—Of extracting oil, ii. 396
- Experiments for determining the relation between weight and measure in whale-oil, ii. 525
- Fall, the alarm of a whale being harpooned, ii. 243
- Fast-fish, what constitutes a, ii. 319
- Fenks, derived from blubber, ii. 402—Uses of, ii. 434
- Fields, fishery among, ii. 259. See Ice.
- Fin-whale, first attacked by Europeans, ii. 16
- Fishburn Cape, Jan Mayen, named, i. 166
- Fleming, Rev. Dr, his description of the narwal, good, i. 495
- Flensing, process of, how conducted, ii. 298
- Flustra pilosa, notice of, i. 551
- Fog, frequent in polar seas, i. 440—Not always wetting, i. 441—Inconveniences of, i. 442—Method of obtaining the sun's altitude during, i. 443—Of fishing during, ii. 273—Dangers of, to the whalers, ii. 346
- Fog-bow, description of, i. 394
- Foreland, description of mountains on, i. 97
- Formulae for finding temperature, i. 353, (53)
- Fortifying of Greenland ships, manner of, ii. 191, 508
- Fox, Arctic, remarks on, i. 517
- French, ancient whale-fishers, ii. 11—Historical account of their whale-fishery, ii. 163
- Fringilla linaria, remarks on, i. 537
- Frobisher's Strait discovered, i. 75
- Frost-rime, description of, i. 434—Cause of, i. 435
- Fulmar, account of, i. 528
- Gadus carbonarius, notice of, i. 540
- Gale, action by, respecting a whale, ii. 518
- Gama, Vasquez de, first sailed to India, i. 2
- Gammarus arcticus, description of, i. 541
- Gas, from oil casks, nature of, ii. 305
- Gas, from whale-oil, account of, ii. 421—Superiority over that obtained from coal, ii. 424—Properties of, ii. 425—Economy of, ii. 426
- Gas-lamp, portable one described, ii. 428
- Germans, whale-fishery by, ii. 166
- Gluc, made from whales tail, ii. 434
- God's Mercy, Cape of, discovered by Davis, i. 76
- Gold and treasure, the discovery of, was the secret design of some of the voyages towards the north-west, i. 16
- Greenland, discovered by an Iceland colonist, i. 63—Colonized from Iceland, ib.—Extensive settlements, i. 66—Intercourse between this country and the rest of the world intercepted, i. 26—Various unsuccessful attempts made by the Danes for the recovery of this country, i. 67
- Greenland, East, or Spitzbergen, i. 93
- Greenland Company established at London, ii. 59—Lose 82,000*l.* in the whale-fishery, ii. 60—Cause of their failure, ii. 62
- Greenland Company of Bergen established, ii. 65—Revived, ii. 72
- Greenland fishery. See Whale-fishery.
- Greenland Sea, situation of, i. 172. See Sea.
- Gulf-stream, course of, i. 206
- Gull Island, produces lead-glance, i. 153
- Gulls, account of, i. 534
- Hail, uncommon in high latitudes, i. 422
- Hakluyt's Island discovered, i. 88
- Hamburgh, extensive fishery from, ii. 168
- Harpoon, description of, ii. 223—Mode of preparing for use, ii. 230
- Harpoon guns, invented, ii. 70—Re-introduced, ii. 79—History of, ii. 227—Description of, ii. 228—Premiums for shooting whales, ib.
- Harpooners, the Biscayans, engaged as, by the English and Dutch, ii. 20, 26, 39—Nature of their office, ii. 234.
- Heinson's, Morgens, ship said to have been stopped by concealed magnetic

- rocks; explanation of the circumstance, i. 112
- Hoar-frost, description of, i. 436—Deposited in beautiful crystals, i. 437—Speculation concerning, i. 438
- Hope Island, description of, i. 151
- Horn Sound, discovered by Baffin, i. 86
- Hudson's Bay discovered, i. 82—The discoverer lost his life by a mutiny among his crew, i. 83
- Hudson's Strait, first discovered by Weymouth, i. 81
- Hull, merchants of, early whale-fishers, ii. 20—A grant of Jan Mayen Island given them for a fishing station, ii. 40—Present fishery from, ii. 124
- Hutton, Dr James, his theory of rain, i. 421
- Ice, Greenland or polar account of, i. 225—Various kinds described, i. ib. Sea-water ice, i. 230—Fresh-water ice, i. 232, 320—Density of ice, i. 233—Experiment in forming ice, i. 235—In melting, becomes prismatic, i. 237—Formation of sea-ice, i. 238—First crystals, i. 239—Bay ice, i. 240, 318—Drift ice, i. 319—Description of ice-fields, i. 241—Their formation, i. 244, 320—Tendency to drift to the south westward, i. 246, 291—Movements, i. 247—Destructive effects on vessels, i. 248—Severe concussion, i. 249—Icebergs, their magnitude, i. 251—Where met with, ib.—Form, i. 253. Colour, i. 254—Icebergs useful to the fishers, i. 256—Sometimes fragile, i. 257—How generated on land, i. 258, 319—At a distance from land, i. 261, 319—Situation or outline of the polar ice, i. 262—Whale-fishers' bight, i. 266—Changes in the ice at different seasons, i. 270—in the summer astonishing, i. 273—Situation in the years 1803 and 4, i. 276—In 1805, 6 and 7, i. 277—In 1808, 9 and 10, i. 278—In 1811 and 12, i. 279—In 1813, 14, i. 281—In 1815, 16 and 17, i. 282—In 1818, i. 283—Ice has a tendency to separate during calms, i. 284—Closing and opening uncertain i. 285—Fields are subject to extraordinary movements, i. 286—Changes in the position of the ice often unaccountable, i. 287—Singular instance, i. 288—Besetment of the ship Esk, i. 291—Effects of ice on the sea and atmosphere, i. 296—Ice, causes a diminution of the wind, i. 296—Repels storms. i. 297—Produces a deposition of snow, ib.—Occasions a brightness in the sky, i. 299—Equalises temperature, i. 300 328—Produces fogs, ib.—Ice and sea produce a reciprocal action on each other, i. 301—Dangers of a swell among ice, to shipping, i. 302—Ice streams resist the sea, i. 304 Increase of ice proportionate to the waste, i. 305, 321—Its hinderance to approaching the Poles, i. 306—Successful efforts in penetrating to a high latitude, (81½ N.) i. 309—Abstract of observations on the polar ice, i. 318—Quantity greater in the Southern than in the Northern Hemisphere, i. 321—Specific gravity of, determined, i. (81)—Quantity destroyed intimates the existence of a northern communication between the Atlantic and Pacific, i. 5—Ice, dreaded by the first whale-fishers, ii. 100—Danger of, to the fishers, ii. 342—Various accidents by, ib.—Accident on the Esk by, ii. 446
- Icebergs, description of, i. 101, 159, 250—Origin of, i. 101, 107, 258—Why rare in the Greenland seas, i. 103—Fall of one, i. 105—Dangers of to shipping, i. 106, 256, 258
- Ice-blink, described, i. 299—Advantages of, to the fishers, i. 383
- Iceland, discovered by Naddo in 861, i. 62—Visited by some Swedes and Norwegians, soon after its discovery, ib.—A colony established in it, ib.—Tremendous storms occur in it, i. 412
- Icelanders, early whale-fishers, ii. 11—Pursued the whales to Newfoundland, ii. 17

INDEX.

567

- Impress, seamen of whale-ships protected from, ii. 85
- Instruments used in the whale-fishery, list of, ii. 509—Harpoon, ii. 223—Lance, ii. 227.
- Intestina, notice of, i. 543
- Ireland, whale-fishery from, ii. 132
- Iron, polarity of, ii. 540—Its polarity dependant on position, ib.
- Jameson Bay, Jan Mayen, named, i. 166
- Jan Mayen Island, account of, i. 154—Named Mauritius' Island and Trinity Island, ib.—Singular Mountain on, i. 158—Icebergs, i. 159—Examination of a part of the coast, i. 160—Found to be volcanic, i. 161
- Crater, i. 162—Some seamen attempting to winter in this island, perished, i. 167—State of the weather in, during winter, i. (78)—An important whale-fishing station, ii. 33—Two voyages made thither in one season, ii. 54
- Kittywake, account of, i. 534
- Labrador, whale-fishery on the coast of, ii. 386.
- Lamps, oil, caution in trimming, ii. 433
- Lance, description of, ii. 227
- Larus crepidatus, habits of, i. 534
- eburneus, account of, 535
- glaucus, remarks on, i. 534
- parasiticus, habits of, i. ib.
- rissa, account of, i. ib.
- Latitude, a desideratum in foggy weather, i. 442—Method of obtaining, i. 443—Latitudes and longitudes in Spitzbergen, i. (73)—In Jan Mayen, i. (74)
- Laws of the whale-fishery, ii. 312—Among the Dutch, ii. 313—Among all nations, ii. 319—With regard to wrecks, ii. 328—Circumstance illustrative of the nature of, ii. 331
- Lead-ore, occurs in Cherie Island, i. 153
- Lernæa branchialis, notice of, i. 543
- Leslie, Professor, his researches on the cause of rain, i. 421—Illustrations founded on these, i. 422
- Light, intensity of, among ice, i. 379—Contrivance of the Indians for defending the eyes in such light, i. ib.
- Lightning, seldom seen in the Arctic Zone, i. 415
- Lines, whale, quantity carried in a boat, ii. 232—Danger of their getting entangled, ii. 246, 357—Immense quantity withdrawn by a whale, ii. 281
- London, mean temperature of, i. (51)
- Whale-fishery from, ii. 124
- London Coast, Davis' Strait, discovered by Davis, i. 78
- Longitude, mistakes in, by vessels returning from Spitzbergen or Archangel, ii. 375—Occasioned by the attraction of iron on the compasses, ii. 376—Quantity of error in, estimated, ii. 377
- Loom, account of, i. 533
- Looming, phenomenon of, i. 384
- Loose fish, free prize of any one, ii. 322
- Low Island, description of, i. 150
- Lumley's Inlet, named, i. 78
- Mackenzie, Sir Alexander, his voyage to the Frozen Ocean, i. 37—Evidence of his having been at the Frozen Sea, or in a river falling into it, ib.
- Magnetic force, table of, ii. 545
- Magnetism of iron, ii. 540. See Compass
- Making off, process of, described, ii. 304
- Malleemuk, account of, i. 528
- Marine diver, description of, i. 186
- Markoff's, Alexei, journey of 800 miles over ice, i. 59
- Mayer, formula by, for calculating mean temperature, i. 353
- Medusa, description of various kinds, i. 544, 548
- , immense number of, in the Greenland seas, i. 179—Economy of, i. 546—Physiology of their preservation, ib.
- Meteors,—Winds, i. 395—Lightning, i. 415—Aurora borealis, i. 416—Clouds, i. 419—Rain, i. 420—Hail, i. 421—Snow, i. 425—Frost-rime,

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

568

INDEX.

- i. 434—Hoar-frost, i. 436—Fog, i. 440
- Meteorological Tables, extensive series of, i. (2)—Results of 12 years observations in the Spitzbergen Sea, i. (48)
- Meteorology, general remarks on, i. 345—As a science, imperfect, i. 348
- Millepora polymorpha, notice of, i. 551
- Minerals of Spitzbergen, i. (76)
- Moffen Island, description of, i. 149
- Monodon monocoeros, description of, i. 486. See Narwal.
- Morton, Mr Thomas, of Leith, invention for hauling ships on land, useful in discovery vessels, i. 30
- Moscow, visited by Richard Chancellor, i. 73
- Mount Raleigh, discovered, i. 76
- Mountains, altitude of, in Spitzbergen, i. 96—Danger of climbing, i. 100—Jan Mayen, i. 158.—Elevation, ib.
- Mullus barbatus, notice of, i. 541
- Musculus, Balæna, description of, i. 482—Stranded on the coasts of Britain, i. 483
- Mustering whale ships, manner of, ii. 513
- Mya truncata, notice of, i. 551
- Mysticetus, Balæna, i. 449. See Whale.
- Mytilus rugosus, notice of, i. 551
- Narwal, description of, i. 486—Size of its tooth, i. 489—Use of the tooth, i. 491—Skeleton of, i. 493—Dimensions of a narwal, i. 495.
- Navigation from Spitzbergen to Britain, remarks on, ii. 369—Set out from an uncertain point, ib.
- Neill, Mr Patrick, his examination of a fin-whale, 484—Of a ca'ing-whale, i. 496—Of a beluga, i. 500
- Nelson River discovered by Button, i. 83
- Newfoundland discovered, i. (55)
- Newland, a name given to Spitzbergen, i. 93.
- North, account of the progress of discoveries in, i. 61
- North Cape, named by Stephen Burrough, i. 72
- North Pole, nearest approaches to, i. 41, 306—Nearest approaches in Baffin's Bay, Behring Strait, &c. i. 315. Erroneous statements concerning approaches to, i. 42—Bias in voyagers to exaggeration, i. 44—Instances of it, i. 42, 45—Premiums for approaching within one degree, &c. i. 50, and within seven, &c. i. 53—Acts of Parliament and Order in Council respecting premiums, i. 51, 53, and 71—Close approach to in the ship Resolution, i. 307—abstract of a journal kept in this voyage, ib.—Open sea at the, chimerical, i. 46—Solar influence not sufficient to dissolve the ice around the Pole, i. 47—Temperature of the Pole, i. 360.—Only way of reaching seems to be by a journey over the ice, i. 54—Difficulties with regard to rough packed ice, answered, i. 55—Evidences of such a journey being practicable, i. 57—Instances of extensive journeys over snow and ice being performed, i. 58—60
- North-east passage, remarks on the existence of, i. 12—Has been in a great measure navigated by the Russians, i. 12—Voyages attempted by Europeans, i. 15
- North-west passage, remarks on its existence, i. 16.—Yet uncertain, i. 17—Arguments for its existence, i. 17—Its discovery could be of no use in voyages to the Pacific, i. 21—Might be of benefit to geography and science, i. 22—Premiums for discovery towards the passage, i. 53. (68)
- Northern passage between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, remarks on the existence of, i. 1
- across the North Pole, i. 40
- First suggested by Robert Thorne, i. 2 and 40.—List of voyagers who have attempted it, i. 41.—Highest latitude reached not exceeding 81°, ib.
- Northern lights, i. 416
- Nova Zembla, discovered by Sir Hugh Willoughby, i. 72—Wintered in by Barentz, i. 80

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

INDEX.

569

- Oaths, taken at Customhouse, account of, ii. 515 and 516—Immoral tendency of, ii. 517
- Ohthere, whale-fishery known to, in the ninth century, ii. 6
- Oil, mode of extracting, from blubber by the first fishers, ii. 174—Extracted in Spitzbergen, ib.—Expences of extracting, and premiums of sailors on, ii. 398—Premises used for extracting, ii. 397—Process of extracting, ii. 400—Uses of, ii. 420—For making gas, ii. 421—Properties of gas from, ii. 425
—description of, ii. 408—Proportion between weight and measure in, ii. 409. and 525—Price of, in different years, ii. 410—Cause of the smell of, ii. 411—Refined oil, properties of, ii. 413—Processes for refining, ii. 431—Specific gravity of, determined, ii. 527
- Oniscus ceti, account of, i. 543
- Orosius, the work of, translated by Alfred the Great, ii. 7—Examination of a difficult passage in, ii. 9
- Parhelia and coronæ, description of, i. 392
- Parliament, acts of, relating to the importation of the produce of the whale-fishery, ii. 378—For the regulation of the whale-fishery, ii. 491
Number of officers and quantity of stores for ships of different classes required by, ii. 493—Affidavits and certificates required by, ii. 514
- Phocæ, seals, account of, i. 508
- Physalis, balæna, description of, i. 478
—Magnitude. i. 479—Difficulty of capture, i. 480
- Plants, catalogue of, found in Spitzbergen, i. (75)
- Pole. See North Pole.
- Poole, Jonas, suggested the whale-fishery at Spitzbergen, ii. 20
- Pressure of the sea on a whale equal to the weight of 60 men of war, ii. 250
- Procellaria glacialis, account of, i. 528
- Protections from impress, granted to officers and seamen of whale ships, ii. 503—Bonds required before obtaining, ii. 515
- Providence, laudable dependence on, by our early voyagers, i. 23
- Puffin, common at Spitzbergen, i. 527
- Rain, in Arctic countries, i. 420—Cause of, i. 421—Illustrations of Hutton's Theory of, i. 422
- Razor-back whale, description of, i. 478
- Red-pole, lesser, account of, i. 537
- Refraction, beautiful effect of, i. 385
—Occasions a division in the sensible horizon, i. 387—Shews the horizon $8\frac{1}{2}$ miles more distant than usual, i. 389—Remarks on the cause of, i. 391
- Rein-deer, mention of, i. 526.
- Resolution, ship, expences of the equipment of, ii. 393—Profits of, ii. 395.
- Rostrata, Balæna, described, i. 485—One stranded in Orkney, ib.
- Royal Society, abstract of thermometric observations, kept at the apartments of, i. (51)
- Russia Company, first sent ships to the Spitzbergen whale-fishery, ii. 22—Obtain a Royal Charter for a monopoly of the fishery, ii. 25—Drive out all interlopers, ii. 26—Capture a Dutch vessel, ii. 27—Successful fishers, ii. 31
- Russian hunters in Spitzbergen, i. 140
- Sabella frustulosa, notice of, i. 551
- St John's Island discovered, i. 69
- St Lawrence's River discovered, i. 70
- Sandpiper, notice of, i. 537
- Scoresby, Captain senior, sailed to latitude $81^{\circ}.30'$, i. 42—His account of a boat soaked with water in consequence of pressure, i. 191—His remarks on winds, i. 401—His contrivance for reducing blubber to oil by steam, ii. 403
- Scotland, whale-fishery commenced from ii. 116
- Scurvy, dangerous disorder in cold climates, i. 340—Occasioned by the use of salt provisions, &c. i. 340
- Sea, Greenland, survey of, i. 170
—Situation of, i. 172—Saltness, i. 171—Colour, i. 173—Peculiarity

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

570

INDEX.

- of its colour accounted for, i. 177—
Immense number of Medusæ discovered in, i. 179—Its transparency, i. 181—Specific gravity, i. 181—Saline contents, i. 182—Table of specific gravity, ib.—Temperature of, at great depths, i. 184—Table of temperature, &c. i. 187—Depth, i. 188—Suggestions for obtaining soundings in deep seas, i. 190—Pressure at great depths, singular effects of, i. 191, 203, and ii. 249—Experiments on the impregnation of wood with sea-water by pressure, i. 193—Tables of effects produced, i. 195, 200—Currents in, i. 204—Difficulties of determining, i. 205—Some effects of, i. 207—Illustrations of currents, i. 212—Its waves, i. 217—Its colour useful to whale-fishers, ii. 336
- Sea-horse, description of, i. 502—Fishery for, i. 505—Practised in the 9th century, ii. 7
- Seals, account of, i. 508—Uses of, i. 510—Fishery for, i. 512—Dangers of the seal fishery, i. 513—Dreadful catastrophe, i. 514
- Seamen belonging whale-ships protected from the impress, ii. 85
- Sepia, food of narwhals, i. 544
- Serpula, notice of, i. 511
- Shark, Greenland, description of, i. 538—Singular appendage to the eye of, i. 539
- Shetland, bank to the westward of, discovered, ii. 372—Lighthouses to be erected on, ii. 373—Dangerous tides near, ii. 374
- Ships, destruction among, in the seal-fishery, i. 514—Thirty-three lost in a storm near Spitzbergen, ii. 73—Greenland or whale, best size for the fishery, ii. 187 and 506—Manner of strengthening or fortifying, ii. 190 and 508—Peculiarities of equipment, ii. 196, 203—Crew required for, ii. 199—Proceedings of in the outward passage, ii. 199, 205—Of navigating homewards, ii. 369—Expences of equipment, ii. 393—Profits of one, ii. 395—Manner of measuring and Mustering, ii. 512
- Shipwrecks, fatal, in Davis' Strait, ii. 394—Thirty-three in one year, ii. 73
- Of first whale-ships at Spitzbergen, ii. 21
- Shrimps, account of, i. 541, 542
- Sir Dudley Diggs', Cape, discovered by Baffin, i. 87
- Sir James Lancaster's Sound discovered by Baffin, i. 88
- Sir Thomas Smith's Sound discovered by Baffin, i. 88
- Skrælingers, the aborigines of Winland, i. 65
- Smeerenberg, Spitzbergen, founded by the Dutch, ii. 52
- Snow, remarks on, i. 425—Variety of form, ib.—Red snow, i. 426—Various modifications of snow, i. 477—Lamellar crystals, ib.—Nucleus with spines, i. 429—Spiculæ, ib.—Hexagonal pyramids, i. 430—Spiculæ with lamellar crystals at the ends, ib.—State of the atmosphere when different forms occur, i. 433
- Snow-bird, account of, i. 535
- Snow-bunting, notice of, i. 537
- Society of Arts, premiums given by, for shooting whales, ii. 228
- Soundings, hints for obtaining in deep seas, i. 190—Near Shetland, a guide to the navigator, in determining his position, ii. 371
- South Pole, closest approximation of, i. 317
- South Sea whale-fishery, account of, ii. 529
- South Sea Company, whale-fishery commenced by, ii. 69—Suffered great loss, ii. 72—After eight years trial abandoned the trade, ii. 71
- Southampton Island discovered, i. 83
- Specific gravity of sea-water, i. 182—Of ice, i. (81)—Of whale-oil, ii. 408
- Spermaceti whale, fishery of, ii. 533
- Spiritous liquors not useful for resisting cold, i. 35
- Spitzbergen, discovered by Barentz, i. 80, 93—Description of, i. 92—Mountainous country, i. 94—Mountains, i. 94—Altitude of some, i. 96—Their regularity, i. 98—Danger of climbing them, i. 100—Deception in their apparent distance, i. 110—Icebergs, i. 107, 109—Latitudes and longitudes in, i. (73)—Scenery interesting, i. 109—Its bays and sounds,

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

INDEX.

571

- i. 113—Rocks and banks, i. 114—Anchorage, ib.—Examination and exploration of, i. 118—At Mitre Cape, difficulties in climbing the mountains, i. 120—Air mild at the height of 3000 feet, i. 123—Snow dissolves at the top of the mountains, i. 124—Beautiful prospect from the mountain summit, i. 128—Dangers of descending, i. 129—Bones, huts, &c. i. 130—Animals met with, i. 131—Drift wood, ib.—Sea-weed, i. 132—Dead whale discovered, ib.—Exploration in King's Bay, i. 134—Climate, i. 135—Progress of the seasons, i. 137—Account of persons wintering in, i. 139—Russian hunters, i. 140—Currents and tides, i. 147—Plants of, i. (75)—Minerals, i. (76)—Attempt by the Dutch to colonize it, ii. 47—Smee-renberg founded in, ii. 52—Buildings in, erected by the whale-fishers, ii. 177—Whale-fishery of, discovered by the English, ii. 19. See Whale-fishery.
- Squalus borealis*, description of, i. 538
- Star-fish, notice of, i. 550
- Sterna hirundo*, remarks on, i. 533
- Stockholm, abstract of fifty years observations on the temperature of, i. (52)
- Stockholm, Whale-fishing Company of, ii. 80
- Storms, phenomena of sudden, i. 398—Examples, i. 399—Sometimes heard before they appeared, i. 402—Intermitting storms, instances of, ib.—Local, examples of, i. 406—Tremendous in autumn, i. 412—Suppressed by cliffs at Disco, i. 414—Catastrophe from, in the seal-fishery, i. 514—Storms repelled by ice, i. 297—Thirty-three ships lost during one, near Spitzbergen, ii. 73—Terrors of, among ice, ii. 439
- Success in the whale-fishery, on what it depends, ii. 333
- Swallow, sea, remarks on, i. 533
- Sweden, whale-fishery from, encouraged, ii. 171
- Synoicum turgens, notice of, i. 551
- Table of specific gravity and temperature of the Greenland sea, i. 182
- Table of changes of specific gravity for every 5° of temperature, i. 183— of temperature and specific gravity of sea-water below the surface, i. 187— of effects produced on wood by the impregnation of water, i. 195, 200— of remarkable changes of temperature, i. 327— of monthly range and monthly extremes of temperature, i. 366— of winds, average, i. 411— of the state of the weather when the aurora borealis was seen, i. 417— of the dissolving power of air, i. 422— of the state of the atmosphere, when different crystals of snow were observed, i. 433— of the quantity of oil afforded by whales of different sizes, i. 462— of the comparative dimensions of six different whales, i. 464— of meteorological observations, twelve years, i. (2)— of meteorological results, twelve years observations, i. (48)— for determining the mean temperature of latitude 78° and North Pole, i. (49)— for determining do. month of April, i. (50)— for determining do. month of July, ib.— of abstract of observations on temperature made at London, i. (51)— of do. at Stockholm, i. (52)— of mean monthly temperature, latitude 78°, i. (54)— of latitudes and longitudes in Spitzbergen and Jan Mayen, i. (73)— of wind and weather in Jan Mayen, i. (78)— of the extent of the British whale-fisheries, ii. 119— of the comparative success of vessels from different British ports, ii. 131— of the expences and profits of the Dutch whale-fishery during 107 years, ii. 156— of duties on the produce of the whale-fisheries, ii. 501

- of specific gravity of whale-oil, ii. 527
- of weight of certain quantities of oil, ii. 528
- of anomalies observed in the compass on ship-board, ii. 538
- of the oscillations of a dipping needle, and intensity of magnetic force, ii. 545
- Taylor, Messrs J. and P. their invention of an apparatus for procuring gas from oil, ii. 422
- Temperature of the Arctic Regions, changeable in winter, i. 323—Uniform in summer, i. 325—Table of remarkable changes, i. 327—Effects of sudden changes, i. 330—Of very low temperatures, i. 332, 334.—Temperature has a tendency to equality, i. 349—Mean annual temperature varies little, i. 350—May be determined by a few years observations to within a degree, i. 352—Formula for calculating the mean temperature of any parallel, i. 353—Erroneous on approaching ice, i. 354—Data for determining mean temperature, i. 354—That of the Arctic Regions determined, i. 357, (49)—Table of temperature of different months, i. 358—Temperature of unobserved months determined, i. 359—Formulae for effecting this, i. (53)—Attempt to estimate the temperature of the North Pole, i. 360, (49)—Table of monthly range of temperature near Spitzbergen, i. 366—Inferences regarding mean temperature, i. 367—Temperature of April determined, i. (50)—Temperature of July, i. (50)—Temperature of London, i. (51)—Temperature of Stockholm, i. (52)—Decrease of, in ascending in the atmosphere, i. (72)—Temperature of the Sea, i. 184, 187
- Tern, great, account of, i. 533
- Thermometer, useful in predicting the weather, i. 328, 399
- Thunder, rare in Arctic regions, i. 415
- Tides, in Hudson's Bay, favour the supposition of the existence of a North-west Passage, i. 18—At Spitzbergen, i. 117
- Totness Road, discovered by Davis, i. 76
- Trall, Dr, Delphinus deductor described and named by, i. 496
- Trial respecting the right to a whale, account of, ii. 518
- Trichecus rosmarus*, description of, i. 502
- Tringa hypoleucos*, notice of, i. 537
- Turbo helacinus*, notice of, i. 551
- Unicorn, description of, i. 486—Its horn or tooth, i. 489. See Narwal.
- Ursus maritimus*, account of, i. 517
- Variation of the compass, anomaly in, ii. 537 See Compass.
- Vermes, remarks on, ii. 543.
- Voyages, Polar. See Discovery.
- Walrus, description of, i. 502
- Walsingham, Cape, discovered by Davis, i. 76
- Warwick's Foreland discovered by Davis, i. 78
- Watch, classification of a ship's crew into, ii. 235
- Watson, James, Esq. his drawing of a beaked whale, i. 485—Of a Delphinus deductor, i. 496—His observations on the deductor, i. 497
- Waves, remarks on, i. 217—Velocity of, i. 219—Effect of atmospheric pressure on, i. 221—Waves diminished by rain, i. 222—Several distinct waves may prevail together, ib.—Waves resisted by ice, i. 304
- Weather, cloudy, the most favourable for the whale-fishery, ii. 220
- Weigatz Island discovered by S. Burrough, i. 75
- West Indies discovered by Columbus, i. 68
- Whale, (Greenland or common), description of, i. 449—Bulk has been overrated, i. 450—Was never larger than in the present day, i. 452—Magnitude of, i. 454—Whalebone of, i. 457—Blubber of, i. 460—Proportion of blubber to oil, i. 461—Bones, porous and full of oil, i. 463—Comparative dimensions of six different whales, i. 464—In blowing do not eject water, i.—Speed of, i. 467—Food of, i. 469—Its maternal affection, i. 471—

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

INDEX.

573

- Places it resorts to, i. 473—Its enemies, i. 474—Flesh used as food, i. 475; ii. 14—Characters of whales in general, i. 477
- Whale, instance of one struck by a Greenland whaler being killed in the sea of Tartary, i. 8—One stranded on Kamtchatka with a European harpoon in it, i. 9—A stone lance found in the blubber of one, i. 10—And harpoon of bone, ib.
- one captured by a singular exploit, ii. 264—Others on a novel plan, ii. 269—Surprising vigour of one, ii. 276—One survived forty hours after being struck, ii. 289
- trial respecting the title to a, ii. 518
- Whalebone, largest size of, i. 457—Inequalities in, may be the measure of the age of the whale, ib.—Produce of the whale estimated by the length of, i. 462—Large importation of, into London from Holland, ii. 64—More afforded by whales taken near Spitzbergen than in Davis' Strait, ii. 392—Description of, ii. 415—Occasional value of, ii. 417—Method of preparing, ii. 418—Uses of, ii. 435—List of patents for its appropriation, ii. 436
- Whale-fishery, chronological history of, ii. 1—Probable origin of, ii. 3—Prosecuted in the 9th century, ii. 6—At an early period by the Icelanders, ii. 11—Also by the French, ii. 12—And probably by the English, ii. 15—But most expertly by the Basques and Biscayans, ii. 16—Fin-whale the object of capture, ii. 16—Spitzbergen fishery discovered by the English, ii. 19—Quarrels among different nations resorting thither, ii. 26, 32, 34—National importance of, ii. 57—Encouraged by bounties, ii. 72, 73—Revived by the English, ii. 75—Greatest cargo, from the, ii. 123—Comparative success, in of vessels from different ports of Britain, ii. 131—national benefit of, to the Dutch, ii. 154, 159—Profits derived by the Dutch from, ii. 156
- comparative view of, among different nations, ii. 96—By the British, ii. 98—Of London, ii. 124—Hull, ib.—Whitby, ii. 126—Ireland, ii. 132—British colonies in America, ii. 134—Dutch, ii. 138—Biscayans, ii. 161—French, ii. 163—Danes, ii. 166—Germans, ii. 168—Prussians, ii. 171—Swedes, ib.
- where at first conducted, ii. 172—How carried on, ib.—Alterations in the manner of conducting, ii. 179—Season for embarking in, i. 273; ii. 207—Where now conducted, ii. 208—On what success depends, ii. 333—Acts of Parliament for the regulation of, ii. 491
- boats and instruments used in, described, ii. 221—Schedule of apparatus necessary for, ii. 509—Preparations for conducting the, ii. 230—Measures for commencing the, ii. 236—Manner of conducting the, ii. 240—How conducted among packed ice, ii. 257—Among fields, ii. 259—Among crowded ice, ii. 266—Among bay ice, ii. 268—In storms, ii. 272—In foggy weather, ii. 273—Proceedings in, before flensing, ii. 292—Flensing process in, ii. 298—Making off, process in, ii. 304—Signals used in the, ii. 521
- anecdotes illustrative of the nature of, ii. 276, 294, 297, 302, 331—Laws of, ii. 312—Dangers of, ii. 340—From ice, ii. 342—From fogs, ii. 346—From storms, ii. 348—From cold, ii. 355—From the entanglement of lines, ii. 357—From blows from whales, ii. 358
- produce of, subject to legislative regulations on importation, ii. 378
- of Davis' Strait, account of, ii. 382—Of Greenland and Davis' Strait compared, ii. 390
- Of the Southern Seas, account of, ii. 529—For the common whale, ii. 535
- Whale-fishing stations, situation of, ii. 210—Proceedings of ships on, ii. 236
- Whales shelter themselves among ice, i. 263—Sustain immense pressure when at great depths in the sea, ii. 249
- used to resort to the Bay of

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-03779-2 - An Account of the Arctic Regions: With a History and Description of the Northern Whale-Fishery: Volume 2

William Scoresby

Index

More information

574

INDEX.

- Biscay, ii. 17—Also to the bays of Spitzbergen, ii. 51—Mode of capturing in ancient times, ii. 173—Places of resort at present, ii. 209—Different tribes of, ii. 211—Habits of the different tribes, ii. 213—Favourite haunts of, ii. 218—Seldom remain visible above two minutes, ii. 239—Mode of search for and pursuit after, ii. 236—Manner of capturing, ii. 240—Manner of striking, ii. 241—And of killing, ii. 248—Have been taken without a harpoon, ii. 254—When loose, the prize of any one, ii. 272
- Whale Sound discovered by Baffin, i. 88
- Whale's tail, uses of, ii. 434
- Whitby, whale-fishery from, ii. 126
- White Sea discovered by Othter, i. (55)—First navigated by Richard Chancellor, i. 73
- White whale, description of, i. 500
- Willow-partridges, plentiful near Hudson's Bay, i. 36—Way in which they are caught, ib.
- Winds, observations on, in the polar regions, i. 395—Variable, irregular, and partial, i. 397—Instances of sudden storms, i. 398—Of intermitting storms, i. 402—Variable and partial winds, instances of, i. 404—Local storms, examples of, i. 406—Prevailing winds at different seasons, i. 409—Tremendous storms occur in the autumn, i. 412—Calms frequent in winter, i. 413—Winds diminished by ice, i. 296
- Winland, a country supposed to be situated near Newfoundland, discovered by an Iceland colonist, i. 64
- Women's Island discovered by Baffin, i. 86
- Wood, its singular impregnation with sea-water by pressure, i. 193
- Wostenholm Sound discovered by Baffin, i. 87
- Wrecks, customs relative to the stores of, ii. 328
- Zoology of the Arctic Regions, sketch of, i. 466

ADDENDA ET CORRIGENDA.

- After the Note, at the foot of page 47, Vol. I. add, See Appendix to this Volume, No. III. b.
- Page 124, Vol. I. line 17, after every ninety, add, or one hundred
- 125, Vol. I. after the note at the foot of the page, add, See Appendix to this Volume, No. III. b.
- 151, line 16. for 20° read 22°
- 92, Vol. II. Note, line 1. instead of the words, which contain, read, and
- 191, Vol. II. line 9. after following manner, add, or according to the plan described in Appendix, No. II. 2.
- 377, Vol. II. line second of note, for first volume, read Appendix to this Volume.
- 416, Vol. II. line 13. for 300, read 320.
- 500, Vol. II. line 20. for 49th Geo. III. c. 98. read, 59th Geo. III. c. 52.

TO THE BINDER.

Let the View of the Ship ESK damaged by Ice, be placed as Frontispiece to Vol. I.; and Plate XVII. representing a BOAT with its Crew projected into the Air by a Blow from a Whale, as Frontispiece to Vol. II. The other Plates, amounting to Twenty-Two, may be placed in Numerical order at the conclusion of the Second Volume.