

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

INDEX.

ABERCORN.

A.

- Abercorn, Lord, and Mr. Pitt, ii. 299.
 Abercromby, Mr. J., elected Speaker, ii. 262.
 Aberdeen, Lord, on Mr. Pitt's friendship for Lord Abercorn, ii. 299-302—on the United States Boundary Question, 398—the Homeric Poems, iii. 180—Lord Holland's 'Foreign Reminiscences,' 223, 229—at the head of the Coalition Ministry, 293—on the state of the daily press, 347.
 Adair, Mr., anecdote of, i. 152.
 —, Mrs., bribe to the Duchess of Devonshire, i. 293.
 Admiralty, Croker appointed Secretary to, i. 16.
 Alava, anecdote of the Duke of Wellington at Salamanca, ii. 120.
 Algiers, bombardment of, i. 92.
 Alison's 'History of Europe' not reviewed in the Quarterly Review, iii. 12, n.
 Alleyne, M., letter to Mr. Johnson, ii. 43.
 Althorp, Lord, Chairman of the Finance Committee, i. 400—on the repeal of the duty on Seaborne coal, ii. 107.
 Anglesea, Lord, his recall from Ireland, ii. 2—motion on, 14.
 Anti-Corn Law League, history of it in Quarterly Review, ii. 388.
 Arbuthnot, Mr. Charles, on the Duke of Portland's resignation, i. 15—Peel becoming a Member of the Cabinet, iii. 87—the removal of the Duke of Wellington's statue, 125—the differences between Pitt and Lord Grenville, 175—reminiscences of Lord Castlereagh, 189-192.
 Aristocracy, Tory and Whig, influence in the House of Commons, summary of the number of Members returned, i. 368, 371.

BECKER.

- Ashburton, Lady, on Carlyle's 'Cromwellian Confusion,' iii. 17—distribution of places, 105—anecdote of Peel, 106.
 —, Lord, his treaty, ii. 394—defence of it, 397—conversation with the Duke of Wellington, 404—on the Factory Debates of 1844, iii. 17—Croker's article on the First Earl of Malmesbury, 29, 31—Peel's politics, 48—the Repeal debates, 69—his hopes of Lord Stanley, 76.
 —, Croker's letters to, iii. 46, 72.
 Assaye, the Ford at, described by the Duke of Wellington, i. 353—long march after the battle, ii. 232.
 Athenæum Club, the, origin of, i. 254.
 Auchinleck, Lord, anecdote of, ii. 30.
 Augusta, Princess, anecdote of, i. 406.
 Aumale, Duc d', on the statues of two dogs at Twickenham mentioned by Pope, iii. 349.

B.

- Babbage's calculating machine, i. 262.
 Baird, Sir D., and the Duke of Wellington, ii. 102.
 Bank Restriction Act, the, iii. 99.
 Baring, W. B., on the "blow up" between Lord Stanley and Lord G. Bentinck, iii. 103.
 Barrow, Sir John, on the French Cruisers in the Channel, i. 33.
 —, Mr. George, letter from Croker, ii. 366.
 —, Lady, iii. 379, and see Croker, Miss Nony.
 Battier, Lieut., duel with Lord Londonderry, i. 267.
 Bavaria, Prince of, anecdote of his speaking English, i. 71.
 Beaucherk, Lord Amelius, and William IV., ii. 200.
 Becker, General, anecdotes of Buona-parte, i. 68—in charge of him, 328.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

INDEX.

383

BEDCHAMBER.

Bedchamber Question, the, ii. 314-316, 342-345, 347.

Bedford, Mrs., letters from Croker, iii. 279, 280.

Bentinck, Lord George, and Lord Lyndhurst, iii. 78—his rapid advance in political eminence, 116—sells his racing stud, 118—leader of the opposition, ib.—on the Duke of Wellington's statue, 127, 128—Free Trade, 130-132, 134, 137—Jewish Disabilities, 138—potato famine, 139-143—on the "Peel Policy" in the Quarterly Review, 145—the Bank Charter Act of 1844, 148-153—Peel's monetary laws, 153-156—Coercion Bill, 156, 161—resigns the leadership, 157—"Peel's Compact," 159—Irish affairs, 161—industry and zeal, 164—on Disraeli's manner of speaking, 165—sudden death, 166—proposed statue to, 189.

Bentinck, Lord George, Croker's letters to, iii. 147, 158.

Beresford, Lord, letter to Croker, iii. 115.

Bicknell, Mr., his funeral, i. 411.

Bishops, the Catholic, their address at the Levéé, i. 204.

Blackwood, Mr. W., Croker's letters to, i. 143; ii. 72.

'Blackwood's Magazine,' Croker's criticisms on, i. 143.

Blandford, Marquis of, on the payment of Members, ii. 100.

Blomfield, Sir B., his downfall, i. 243.

———, Croker's letters to, i. 224, 239, 251, 252, 264, 265.

Bode, Baron de, iii. 271.

Bois de Boulogne, British army encamped in, i. 63.

Boswell, anecdotes of, ii. 32-34.

Boundary Question, the, between the United States and England, ii. 393—map marked by Franklin, 394—disappearance and another substituted, 395.

Bouquets, fashion for, i. 379.

Boyle Farm, fête at, i. 377.

Braintree Church Rate case, the, iii. 269.

Bristol Magistrates, the, acquittal of, ii. 193.

Brougham, Lord, his conduct about Queen Caroline, i. 172, 173—made Lord Chancellor, ii. 80—mysterious appointment with Denman, 224—intimacy with Croker, 350—estimate of party, 353—on the Fitzherbert marriage, iii. 335-338.

CANNING.

Brougham, Croker's letters to, ii. 352, 369; iii. 13, 16, 59-62, 100, 145, 219, 222, 225, 265, 292, 338, 343, 373.

Brummell, Beau, at Calais, i. 123.

Budget, the, of 1833, unpopularity of, ii. 209.

Buller, his mistake in giving the oath of allegiance to William IV., ii. 66.

Buonaparte, measures taken for his arrest, i. 61, 328—anecdotes of, by Denon, 62—on board the Bellerophon, 65—letter to the Prince Regent, 68—his heartlessness, 69—character as a General, 338—littleness of mind, 339—system of secrecy, 340—at Valladolid, 355—plans of campaign, ii. 123—Wellington's opinion of him, 282.

———, Jerome, lawsuit on the legitimacy of his children by his first marriage, iii. 361.

———, Joseph and Lucien in England, ii. 212.

Burdett, Sir Francis, and his "Tory language," ii. 202, 211.

Burgos blown up by the French, ii. 308—Wellington's narrow escape from, 310.

Burial Societies, the crimes arising from, iii. 290.

Burke, quarrel with Sheridan, i. 289—his 'Paper' addressed to the King, 290—the "dagger scene," 409.

Burrard, Sir H., at the battle of Vimiera, ii. 122.

Burton, Mr. Decimus, letter from Croker on his having exceeded the estimate of expenses for the Athenæum Club, i. 258.

Byron, Lord, applies for a passage in a King's ship, i. 56; for a consulship for a friend, 144.

C.

'Cabinet,' the, started, i. 8.

Campbell, Lord, Croker's letters to, iii. 355.

Canada, disturbances in 1838, ii. 324.

Canning, George, friendship for Croker, i. 11—refuses to act under Perceval, 15—duel with Lord Castlereagh, 20

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

CANNING.

- applies for a passage in a King's ship, 86—indecision about India, 218
- Foreign Secretary, 220—George IV.'s invincible repugnance to him, 222—assumed rivalry with Peel, 223
- at the Lord Mayor's dinner, 266—visit to Ireland, 267—proposed provision for the R.C. clergy, 279—and the Exchequer Bills, 314—Spanish difficulties, 321—illness, 380—death, 382—monument for, 414—character described by Croker, ii. 352.
- Canning, Mr., Croker's letters to, i. 59, 367, 368, 370.
- , Lord, appointed Lord of the Treasury by Peel, ii. 262.
- Cardigan, Lord, duel with Lieutenant Tuckett, ii. 407.
- Carlton Club, the, founded, ii. 153.
- Carlton House, children's ball at, i. 252.
- Caroline, Queen, her guilt or innocence, i. 171—popular feeling in favour, 172—lands at Dover, 174—trial, 178—reception at Astley's, 194—conduct at the coronation, 197—illness, 199—death, 201.
- Carrington, Lord, his creation, ii. 302.
- Catholic Association Suppression Bill, ii. 9.
- Catholic Emancipation Bill, ii. 12, 13—receives the Royal assent, 14.
- Cato Street Conspiracy, i. 162.
- Cavendish, Sir Henry, his MS. notes of "Unreported Parliament," iii. 291.
- Chalmers, Mr. A., Croker to, ii. 37.
- Charles X., abdication, ii. 69—treatment in England, 191—on Henry IV.'s change of religion, 312.
- Charlotte, Queen, her illness, i. 119—death, 120.
- , Princess, her marriage with Prince Leopold, i. 104—death, 104—story about her sapphire, 193.
- Cholera, outbreak of, in 1832, ii. 130, 149.
- Church Reform Commission, issued by Peel, ii. 263.
- Cintra, Convention of, defended by the Duke of Wellington, ii. 121.
- Clare Election, the, ii. 1.
- Clarence, Duke of, anticipations on becoming King, i. 265—on the Catholic question, 401—retires from the Admiralty, 429—his proposed political changes, ii. 63—Croker to, i. 380.

CROKER.

- Clarke, Mrs. Mary Anne, her connection with the Duke of York, i. 13—with Col. Wardle, 14.
- Cleopatra's Needle, Croker's proposal to bring it to England, i. 275.
- Cockburn, Alexander, anecdote of, i. 403.
- , Sir George, and Duke of Clarence, ii. 63.
- Coercion Bill for Ireland, the, iii. 57.
- Coercion Bill, the Whig, of 1833, ii. 201.
- "Commercial Policy of Pitt and Peel," remarks upon, iii. 110–115—Lord G. Bentinck on, 145.
- "Conservative," the term first used by Croker, ii. 198.
- Conway Papers, the, presented by Croker to the State Paper office and the British Museum, iii. 376.
- Conyngham, Lady, the "Vice Queen," i. 173—at the children's fancy ball, 193.
- Corn Laws, the, and importation of foreign corn, i. 320—repeal of, iii. 56.
- Corn-law agitation and the sliding scale, ii. 379.
- Corporation Reform Bill, the, ii. 279—amendments in the House of Lords, 283.
- Courtenay, Mr., on Gen. Gascoigne's motion, i. 424.
- 'Cox's Magazine,' i. 89.
- Crabbe's Tales, i. 146.
- Crawford, Mr. Robert, intrigues against the Duke of Wellington, i. 346.
- Crimean War, Croker on, iii. 319.
- Crockford's 'Fairy Palace,' i. 404.
- Croker, J. W., his true character, i. 3—birth and parentage, 4—early recollections, 5—school life, 6, 7—impediment in his speech, 6—at Trinity College, 7—acquaintance with Moore, ib.—at London, and entered at Lincoln's Inn, ib.—letters to the Times on the French Revolution, 8—literary ventures, 9—marriage, ib.—elected to Parliament, 11—first speech, ib.—friendship with Canning, ib.—on Catholic disabilities, 11, 12—'Sketch of Ireland Past and Present,' 12—acquaintance with Sir A. Wellesley, ib.—defence of the Duke of York, 14—Secretary to the Admiralty, 16—extracts from journal, 20–22—defalcations in the accountant at the Admiralty, 23—"Battle of Tala-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

INDEX.

385

CROKER.

vera," 24—accuracy and truthfulness of his articles in the Quarterly Review, 27—speech on the Regency Bill, 30—incidents of the French war, 33—reply to the R. C. electors of Down, 39—elected to Athlone, 40—on the war of 1812, 43—confidential suggestions to English naval officers, 44—acquaintance with Peel, 46—office seekers and their reception, 48, 49—on Lord Nelson at the battle of Copenhagen, 50—passages in King's ships, 55—visit to Paris, 57—on the Duke of Wellington's memorial for Phoenix Park, 58—political squibs, ib.—retrospect of Buonaparte's career in the Quarterly Review, 59—second visit to Paris, 60—journal of events, 61–75—anecdotes of Buonaparte, 62, 68, 69—the field of Waterloo, 72–75—debate on the Navy Estimates, 79–85—the Elgin Marbles, 85—on Buonaparte at St. Helena, 88—a special medal for Algerian service, 92—contributions to the Quarterly Review, 93—'Childe Harold,' 94—the lasting merits of Pope and Dryden, 96–99—death of the Princess Charlotte, 105–108—the Royal matches, 110—obtains the warrant for searching for the Scottish Regalia, 113—on Peel's fitness for the office of Chancellor of Exchequer, 125, 126—illness and visit to Brighton, 121—describes the Pavilion, 125, 126—anecdotes of the Prince Regent and others, 126–129—Member for Yarmouth, 131—speech on Catholic claims, ib.—on the necessity of concession, 133—Parliamentary Reform, 135–137—reputation as a man of letters, 141—criticisms on a tragedy, ib.—'Blackwood's Magazine,' 143—'Don Juan,' 145—the Pringle application, 147—quotations from note-books, 151—from diary, 155—praying for the Queen, 159—dinner at the Royal Academy, 164—visit to Cornwall, 165—elected for Bodmin, 166—debate about Queen Caroline, 177–179—illness and death of his son, 180–182—edits Lady Hervey's Letters, 185—suggests the popular fête in the Park, 196—describes the Coronation, ib.—visit to Ireland, 199–207—tries

VOL. III.

CROKER.

to produce a reconciliation between the King and Lord Liverpool, 209, 210—remarks on Canning, 218—the Conynghams, 219—account of Lord Londonderry's suicide, 224—his funeral, 226—political rumours, 227–232—intimacy with Lord Hertford, 232–235—Court life at Brighton, 243–251—project for establishing the Athenæum Club, 253–255—advice to the architect, 258—exertions for Theodore Hook and his family, 259—on Canning at the Lord Mayor's dinner, 266—Horace Walpole's character and influence, 271–273—proposal to bring Cleopatra's Needle to England, 275—to Southey on Church and State, 276—proposed provision for the Irish clergy, 279—on the Emancipation Bill, 280—the Irish problem, 284—procures the release of Theodore Hook, 284–286—on the Exchequer Bills and withdrawal of the Scottish one pound notes, 314–317—on the loss of Mr. Robinson's son, 323—advice to a young naval officer, 324—to a consul suspected of jobbery, 325—describes Mme. de Staël, 326, 327—the capture of Buonaparte, 327–329—notes of conversation with the Duke of Wellington, 332–355—Peel's Corn Resolutions, 361—probable changes on Lord Liverpool's death, 362–365—summary of the Members returned to the House of Commons by the influence of the Peers, 368, 371—anxiety to effect a junction with the moderate Whigs, 373—Peel's jealousy, 374—memorandum of conversation with Lord Goderich, 384—offers to resign office, 390—on the Test and Corporation Repeal Bill, 417—at Dublin, 421—Privy Councillor, 424—tour in the City, 431—concludes the lease for Molesey Grove, 432—at the Speaker's dinner, ii. 8—the pay of the new police force, 17—'tale of woe,' 20—on the power of journalism, 21—project of a new edition of Boswell's, 24—loss of his notes from Lord Stowell, 27—correspondence about Johnson, 37—on the progress of Reform, 52—disturbed state of politics, 57—defeat at Dublin University, 59—letter to

2 C

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

CROKER.

Mr. Blackwood on the continued attacks on the Duke of Wellington and Sir R. Peel, 72—resigns his office at the Admiralty, 74, 78—on political consistency, 82–87—on the Reform question, 92—first speech of the Session, 94—on the form of prayer for the disturbed state of the country, 96—Reform as a “system,” 97—rumoured Whig dissensions, 103—confidence in Peel, 105—on the pensions, 106—anomalies of the First Reform Bill, 110—on Revolutionary Reform, 113—conversations with the Duke of Wellington, 117—speeches in answer to Macaulay, 130–133—the outbreaks, riots, and supineness of the Ministers, 133–135—on the political article for the Quarterly Review, 135—the Reform Bill a “stepping stone” to a Republic, 140—literary projects, 142—Hume and Pope, 143—refuses to take office, 158—published letter on the Reform Bill, 171—urges Peel to take office, 177—retires from public life, 182—on turrets and bellries, 194—his library at West Moulsey, 195—replies to the Ministerial pamphlet in the Quarterly Review, 214—at Oxford, 225—on matters connected with the Quarterly Review, 229—determination not to serve under Peel, 245—recommends Mrs. Somerville and others for pensions, 257—describes G. Croly, 259—on the Repeal of the Malt Tax, 267—on the pictures in the Royal Academy, 274—article on ‘Robespierre,’ 285—‘Richardson’s English Dictionary,’ 290–294—on the system of delegation, 320—correspondence with the King of Hanover, 324—Shakespearean relics at Wilton, 333—the Bedchamber question, 347—renewed overtures to stand for Parliament, 350—intimacy with Brougham, ib.—disclaims the authorship of the article on the Oxford Tracts, 356—Queen Victoria’s announcement of her intention of marriage with Prince Albert, 359—the Eastern Question of 1840, 364—prospect of war with France, 369—to Bp. Phillpotts on the Church service for Sunday, 370—article on the Anti-Corn Law

CROKER.

Agitation, 388—conversations with the Duke of Wellington, 403—memoranda of duels fought by Prime Ministers and others, 407—article on the “Old and New Ministries,” 409—on Lord Hertford’s death and will, 415—sum bequeathed to him, 421—his irreproachable private life, 422—article on “Rubrics and Ritual,” iii. 2—reference to the “Young England” party, 7—on the Corn Law League, 13—‘Selwyn and his Contemporaries,’ ib.—Horace Walpole’s Memoirs of George III., 24—railroads, 25—discontent of the country gentlemen, 30—consults Peel on his article in defence of the Corn Laws, 36—on Peel’s resignation, 38—and his course of politics, 47, 50, 53–55—on the Conservative policy, 60—Repeal of the Corn Laws, 63–68—Peel’s change of politics, 71—on Crown patronage, 81—final separation from Peel, 91—article on his policy, 96, 111—Free Trade, 98—Lord J. Russell’s Irish measures, 100—payment of Irish priests, 103—the “Commercial Policy of Pitt and Peel,” 110—Jewish Disabilities, 138—Bank Charter Act, 146—charges against Huskisson, 175—advice to Sir G. Sinclair, 182—notes on Pope, 186—article on Macaulay’s History of England, 193—reminiscences of Curran and Kirwan, 214—on the “No Popery” paroxysms, 219—Holland’s ‘Foreign Reminiscences,’ 225—on a common thermometrical scale, 243—cheap railroad literature, 244—Lord Derby’s Administration, 256, 260—the Protestants of Ireland, 258—Disraeli’s attack in his Budget, 261–265—Lord J. Russell’s anomalous position, 265—conversations with the Duke of Wellington, 270–279—story of the cloak worn at the battle of Waterloo, 279—letter to a drunken servant, 287—the crimes arising from the Burial Societies, 290—article on ‘Memoirs of Moore,’ 294—controversy with Lord J. Russell, 300—supposed hostility to Disraeli, 303—retires from the Quarterly Review, 310—collection of Revolutionary pamphlets, 316—views on the Eastern Question and French Alliance,

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

INDEX.

387

CROKER.

- 318—on the “raw coffee” served to the soldiers in the Crimea, 327—war with Russia, 329—defence of Pitt, 330—weakness of the Government and power of the Press, 338—the “single handed Paddy,” 341—on Mr. Lockhart’s death, 343—the dogs at Twickenham mentioned by Pope, 349—authorship of the Waverley Novels, 351—the Life Peerage question, 354–358—on Lord Strangford’s death, 359—reminiscence of the Canning Administration, 367—fainting fits, 369—defence of Wellington, 374—calm and peaceful death, 379—prayer composed after the death of his son, 380.
- Croker, Miss Nony (Lady Barrow), i. 192, 398, 416.
- Croly, Rev. George, letter from Croker on Dryden’s and Pope’s works, becoming obsolete, i. 96–99—described by Croker, ii. 259.
- Cumberland, Duke of, his hatred of Wellington, ii. 13.
- , Prince George, described, i. 416—his accident, ii. 192.
- Curran, reminiscences of, by Croker, iii. 214.
- Curtis, Bp., his letter, ii. 3.

D.

- Daly, Mr. James, Croker to, i. 374.
- Darley, Alderman, his offensive toast, i. 215.
- Davy, Sir Humphry, on the proposed Athenæum Club, i. 255—Croker to, 256.
- Delany, Mrs., i. 128.
- Denman, Lord, his speech for Queen Caroline, i. 179—epigram on it, 180.
- Denon’s, ‘Anecdotes of Buonaparte,’ i. 62.
- Derby, Lord, on Mr. Locke King’s Bill, iii. 241—Louis Napoleon and the French war party, 249—first administration, 253—letter from Croker, 256.
- Devonshire, Duchess, a bribe offered by Mrs. Adair, i. 293.
- Disraeli, Benjamin, his hatred of Croker, i. 237—manner of speaking described, iii. 165—Chancellor of the Exchequer, 253—attacks on Croker, 305—Croker to, ii. 261.

FAGNIANI.

- Disraeli, Isaac, letters to Croker about ‘Boswell’s Johnson,’ ii. 40–42, 56.
- Dissenters’ Marriage Bill, the, ii. 268.
- Douro, Marq. of (2nd Duke of Wellington), on the Medicines sent to the Crimea, iii. 346—Napoleon III.’s coup, 347.
- Doyle, Mr., Croker to, i. 424—ii. 78.
- Drummond, Mr. Henry, correspondence with Croker, i. 283, 284—on Jewish and Modern Ecclesiastical Architecture, iii. 6—division of land and small holdings, 183—despondency of the Conservatives, 268—the Church Rate question and the Crimean War, 352.
- Dudley, Lord, his peculiarities, ii. 170.
- Duels, list of, fought by Peers and others, ii. 407.
- Dumouriez, Gen., anecdote of, iii. 208.
- Durham, Earl of, mission to Canada, ii. 324.

E.

- Eastern Question, the, in 1840, ii. 364, 368, in 1854.
- Education Debate, the, ii. 348.
- Elbing letter, the, iii. 78, 112.
- Eldon, Lord, to Croker, with notes about Dr. Johnson, ii. 46.
- Elgin, Lord, to Croker on his speeches on the Reform Bill, ii. 127.
- Marbles, their purchase induced by Croker, i. 85.
- Elibank, Lord, reply to Johnson’s definition of “oats,” ii. 35.
- Elliot, Lady (of Stobs), described by Croker, ii. 96.
- Ellis, Sir Henry, to Croker about Dr. Johnson, ii. 44.
- Elrington, Rev. C., letter from Croker, i. 134.
- Emerson’s ‘Essays,’ iii. 17.
- Esprit, St., Order of the, iii. 273.
- Exeter, Bp. of (Phillpotts), to Croker on the Church Service for Sundays, ii. 371—Croker to, 370.
- Exmouth, Lord, Croker to, i. 92.

F.

- Fagniani, Maria, marriage with the Earl of Yarmouth, i. 235—death, 236.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

388

INDEX.

FAIN.

- Fain, Baron, his book about Buona parte, i. 348.
 Fancy Ball for Children, given by George IV., i. 192.
 Feodore, the Princess, i. 193.
 Fergusson, Mr. Cutlar, i. 331.
 Ferns, Bp. of, letter from Croker on a provision for the R. C. clergy, i. 279.
 Ferrol Expedition, the, i. 213.
 Fête, popular, in the Park, i. 196.
 Fitzgerald, Vesey, defeated at Clare, ii. 1—Croker to, 218—ii. 57–69, 185.
 Fitzherbert, Mrs., left-hand marriage with the Prince Regent, i. 122—position at Brighton, 125—supposed marriage with George IV., 292.
 Fleury, Card. de, anecdote of, i. 152.
 Follett, Sir William, on war with France, ii. 367—the Eastern question, 368—career and death, iii. 168—politics, 169.
 Follett, Sir William, Croker to, ii. 407.
 Fouché described by Croker, i. 65—his pretended conspiracy, 66—memoirs, ii. 236.
 Fox and George IV., i. 294, 295.
 Foy, Gen., ‘History of the Peninsular War,’ i. 352.
 French Revolution, Croker’s study of, i. 7, 93—writings or collection of books and pamphlets, iii. 316.
 Frigates, English and American, compared, i. 45.
 Fullarton, John, his book on Currency, iii. 106.

G.

- Gascoyne, Gen., his motion, ii. 115.
 George III., death of, i. 156—funeral, 161.
 ——— IV. proclaimed King, i. 157—anxiety for a divorce, 160—coronation, 195—visit to Ireland, 197—dislike to Lord Liverpool, 198—the Queen’s illness, 200—entry into Dublin, 202—levées and drawing-room, 202, 204—dinners, 205, 207—journey to Hanover, 213—presence of mind, 214—imitates the old Duc de la Chatre, 245—loss of his snuff-box, 247—on the errors in Moore’s ‘Life of Sheridan,’ 289–312—his father’s sentiments about the Catholic question, 295, 296—gives Sheridan
 20,000*l.*, 305—advances more money,
 310—increasing weakness, 408—

GREY.

- power of imitation, 431—illness, iii.
 57—death, 65.
 Giffard, Dr., letter to Croker, iii. 81.
 Gladstone, Mr., Vice-President of the Board of Trade, ii. 378—disapproval of Croker’s article on the Corn Laws,
 iii. 43, 47.
 Gleig, Mr., and the ‘Subaltern’ criticised by the Duke of Wellington, i.
 345.
 Glenbervie, Lord, ‘Life of Lord North,’
 i. 270.
 Gloucester, Duke of, anecdote of, i.
 329—and William IV., ii. 113—his great dinner to the Tories, 223—
 death of, 249.
 Goderich, Lord, and his Administration, i. 384—resigns, 401—created
 Earl of Ripon, ii. 208.
 ———, Croker to, i. 390.
 Goodriche, Sir Henry, ii. 212.
 Goosetree Club, the, iii. 330.
 Goulburn, Mr., on the United States boundary question, ii. 396.
 ———, Mr., Croker to, i. 147, 323—
 iii. 64.
 Graham, Sir James, his fears of Democracy, ii. 356—on the Anti-Corn
 Law League, and Croker’s article in Quarterly Review, 389–392—on Disraeli being leader of the “Young England” party, iii. 9—the reversal of O’Connell’s sentence, 19—Mr.
 Porter’s pamphlet on ‘Federation,’
 20—hostility of the Press, 29—the Corn Laws, 63, 64—the death of Lady Follett, 171—reconciliation with Croker, 296—on the issue of “Raw Coffee” to the soldiers in the Crimea, 327.
 ———, Croker to, ii. 74—iii. 30, 62, 63,
 171, 296, 327, 328.
 Grandees of Spain, the, privileges of, i.
 333.
 Grant, Sir Alexander—“Chin Grant,”
 i. 198.
 Grant and the Corn Resolutions, i. 415.
 Grattan, Mr., motion for the Catholics,
 i. 132—seconded by Croker, 134.
 Gregory, W., Croker to, i. 77.
 Greville, Mr. A., Croker to, iii. 280.
 ———, Mr. Charles, on Peel’s change of opinions, i. 221.
 Grey, Lord, his Ministry, ii. 76, 79,
 169—speech in favour of Irish tithes,
 150—foreign policy, 219—resigna-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

INDEX.

389

'GUARDIAN.'

- tion, 241—the Conway Papers, iii. 376, 377.
Guardian newspaper founded, i. 138.
 Guards, the, reported mutiny of, i. 175.
 Guizot, M., on the Corn Laws and Free Trade, iii. 197—describes his return to France, 198—on French politics and Napoleon III.'s marriage, 288—'Moore Memoirs,' 302—Croker to, 196, 302, 374.
 Gwydir, Lord, at George IV.'s coronation, i. 186.

H.

- Hall, Capt. Basil, anecdote of the Loo-Choo Islanders, i. 111.
 —, Dr., Croker to, ii. 37.
 Hallam, Mr., notes on Pope, iii. 185—on the sale of the Royal Library to Prussia, 286.
 Hamilton, Miss, her precedence as an Earl's daughter, ii. 299, 301.
 Hanover, King of, correspondence with Croker, ii. 325—on Lord Melbourne's resignation, 349.
 —, Croker to, ii. 324, 346, 357, 360, 363—iii. 23.
 Hardinge, Lord, on the funeral car for the Duke of Wellington, iii. 281—Croker to, 326.
 —, Sir Henry, Croker to, ii. 69—iii. 66.
 Hardwicke, Lord, on a statue to Lord George Bentinck, iii. 189—party politics, 259—the war with Russia, 314—Croker to, 260, 322.
 —, Lady, Croker to, ii. 358.
 Harrington, Lady, her passion for tea-drinking, i. 303.
 Harrowby, Lord, and the 'Waverers,' ii. 156 n.
 Harwood, Mr. T., to Croker about Dr. Johnson's family, ii. 43.
 Hatfield House, theatricals at, ii. 64.
 Hatherton, Lord, his recollections of the debate on the Navy Estimates, i. 80.
 —, Croker to, i. 81—iii. 368.
 Haydon, Benjamin, letter from Croker on his historical painting, i. 262.
 Helens, Lord St., on the scandalous stories published by Wraxall, ii. 296—anecdote concerning the equerries, 297—on Mr. Joseph Ewart's influence at the Court of Prussia, ib.

VOL. III.

HOWE.

- Herbert, Sidney, to Croker about the Shakespearian relics at Wilton, ii. 334.
 Herries, Mr., Chancellor of Exchequer, i. 391, 392—the new Cabinet, 405—on the number of menservants kept in the upper classes, iii. 200—refusal to become leader of the House of Commons, 201.
 Hertford, second Marquis of, death, i. 239—character, 240.
 —, third Marquis of (Earl of Yarmouth), intimacy with Croker, i. 233—character, 234—marriage, 235—supposed portraits of him in 'Vanity Fair' and 'Coningsby,' 236—relations with Croker, 238—on Reform, ii. 98—distrust of Peel, 99—on the property tax, 125—illness and death, 416—his will, various codicils and legacies, 417—suspicions of insanity, 418.
 —, Croker to, i. 232, 281, 322, 359, 360, 366, 376, 377, 380, 382, 391, 392, 398, 402—ii. 12, 13, 55, 70, 75, 78, 79, 81, 91, 95, 98, 100, 105, 109, 112, 115, 140, 148, 150, 176, 191, 195, 199, 205, 208, 223, 249, 263, 267, 284, 313, 345.
 Hertford, fourth Marquis of, letter to Croker about the valet Suisse, ii. 420.
 Historical Society, the, at Dublin, i. 7.
 Hobhouse, Sir John, resigns his office and seat for Westminster, ii. 210.
 Holland, Lord, his 'Foreign Reminiscences,' iii. 223, 225, 229.
 —, Lady, anecdote of, i. 400.
 Hook, Rev. W. F. (Dean of Chichester), gratitude for Croker's kindness to his uncle, i. 261—on Croker's article on the Oxford Tracts, ii. 254—Croker to, 356.
 —, Theodore, Croker's exertions in behalf of, i. 259—release from prison, 286—anecdote of, 430—letters to Croker, ii. 405, 406—to Mrs. Croker, 406.
 Hopetoun, Lord, his bravery and rashness, i. 345.
 Horse Guards, the, "Dry Nurses" of, i. 343.
 Hotham, Sir H., measures relating to Buonaparte's capture, ii. 238–241.
 Howe, Lord, and the Duke of Wellington, ii. 118—the misdirected royal letter, 376.

2 D

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

390

INDEX.

HUDSON.

- Hudson, Mr. ("Railway King"), described by Lord Lonsdale, iii. 184.
 Hunt and Burdett, trial of, i. 169.
 Huskisson, Mr., his currency pamphlet, i. 34-36—President of the Board of Trade, 231—on the difficulties following Lord Liverpool's illness, 366—resignation, 420—killed on the Liverpool and Manchester Railway, ii. 70.

I.

- Incendiary fires, ii. 72—rioting, 78.
 Income Tax, the, pressure of it in 1815, i. 79—Lord Hertford on, ii. 125—and Tariff Bills passed, 384.
 Influenza, first appearance of, ii. 211—number of deaths, 313.
 Ingleby, Sir William, on the Malt Tax, ii. 209.
 Ireland, disturbed state in 1843-44, iii. 19—in 1847, 99.
 Irish Tithe Commutation Bill, the, ii. 268.

J.

- Jackson, Mr. Justice, early recollections of Croker, i. 4, 5.
 Jekyll, his bon-mots, i. 129, 153—and the Athenæum, 257.
 Jersey, Lady, her visit to the Duchess of Clarence, ii. 59.
 Jesse, Mr., describes Croker when he first came to London, i. 8—Croker to, iii. 13.
 Jewish disabilities, ii. 62—iii. 136.
John Bull, George IV. on, i. 246.
 Johnson, Dr., anecdotes of, ii. 29-32.
 Johnston, James, Secretary for Scotland, iii. 340.
 Joinville, Prince de, anecdote of, iii. 277.
 Jones, J. Winter, on Croker's collection of Revolutionary pamphlets at the British Museum, iii. 316—Croker to, 316.
 'Junius,' its suspected authors, i. 273, 274.

K.

- Keats, Sir Richard, Croker to, i. 38.
 Kelly, Michael, the singer and actor, i. 247.

LOCKHART.

- Kent, Duke of, death of, i. 155.
 King, Mr. Locke, his Bill for the extension of suffrage, iii. 241.
 Knighton, Sir William, Croker to, i. 226.
 Knowles, Sheridan, on his mother's love for Croker, i. 6.

L.

- Landseer's picture of 'Horned Cattle,' ii. 274.
 Langton, Miss, her letter from Dr. Johnson, iii. 284.
 Languet, Curé, anecdote of, i. 152.
 Laurie, Sir Peter, on the mode of executing criminals, iii. 15.
 Lawrence, Sir Thomas, death of, ii. 87—pecuniary troubles, 88—letters to Croker, 88-91.
 Leach, Sir John, i. 160, 161.
 Leonards, Lord St., on entailed estates, iii. 353.
 Lidwell, Mr., his duel with Sir Charles Saxton, i. 77.
 Lieven, Mme. de, anecdote of, i. 423.
 Liverpool, Lord, Prime Minister, i. 31—and George IV., 209-212—reconstruction of his ministry, 226—on Horace Walpole's letter and character, 270—sudden illness, 362—death, 434—Croker to, 271.
 ———, Lord (son), describes his family, iii. 177.
 ——— and Manchester Railway, opening of, ii. 70.
 Lockhart, J. G., Croker's letter on the projected Guardian newspaper, i. 138—on Southey as a political writer, ii. 412—disbanding the yeomanry, ib.—describes the leaders of "Young England," iii. 8—Alison's 'History of Europe,' 12—The 'New Timon,' 73—state of Peel's health, 77—the want of a leader, 88—the scena between Stanley and Lord G. Bentinck, 103—settlement of Sir Walter Scott's affairs, 106—Macaulay's 'History of England,' 192—Grote's 'History of Greece,' 193—on Croker's article in the Quarterly on the 'Memoirs of Moore,' 294—his last letter to Croker, 342—death, 343.
 ———, Croker to, i. 138—ii. 229—iii. 74.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

INDEX.

391

LONDONDERRY.

Londonderry, Lord, his suicide, i. 224, 225—funeral, 226.

———, Lady, her extravagance, i. 426.

Lonsdale, Lord, on French affairs iii. 184—Arthur Young's Travels, 201—prospects of a Tory Government, 237—Disraeli, 257, 259—Lord Derby's administration, 266—Lord Palmerston's secession, 267—state of politics in December 1853, 299—his opinions on Russia and America, 321—on the Duke of Newcastle's inefficiency and defeat of the Aberdeen Ministry, 323—on the £10 occupation franchise, 333.

———, Croker to, iii. 71, 225, 257.

Louis XVIII. and the Duc de Liancourt, i. 350.

——— Philippe in England, iii. 205—contributes to an article in the Quarterly Review, ib.—recollections of Robespierre and Louis XVIII., 207—on French history, 209.

Lowther, Lord, predicts the failure of the Goderich Ministry, i. 393.

———, Croker to, i. 155, 372, 373, 383—ib. 104.

Lushington, Mr. R., letter from Croker on behalf of Theodore Hook, i. 260.

Lyndhurst, Lord, commissioned to form a Ministry, ii. 154—on the Small Debts Bill, iii. 83—list of appointments, 84—on Croker's delicate state of health, 250—on the biography of B. Disraeli, 308—the Russian and French question, 317.

———, Croker to, ii. 259—iii. 318, 351, 367.

M.

Macaulay, Lord, unjust criticism of Croker's 'Boswell,' ii. 46—hatred of Croker, 47—threat of revenge, 48—his attacks resented by Croker, 130—133—slanders on Croker's private life refuted, 422—History of England reviewed in the Quarterly by Mr. Croker, iii. 192, 247.

MacMahon, Sir W., i. 203.

Mackintosh, Sir James, letter from Croker, ii. 33.

Maginn, Dr., recommended for a pension, ii. 258.

MURRAY.

Mahon, Lord, on difficult passages in Pope, iii. 203—on Pitt joining in Faro at Goosetree's, 332.

Malt Tax, the proposed repeal of, ii. 267.

Marat, death of, painting by David, ii. 276.

Marmont and the Battle of Salamanca, ii. 310.

Martin, Sir B., letter from Croker about Cleopatra's Needle, i. 276.

Martin's, St., Vaults described, i. 411.

Martineau, Miss Harriet, her unjust criticisms of Croker's character, i. 2—and calumnies, iii. 93.

Maynooth Bill, the, iii. 28, 31.

Melbourne, Lord, his resignation, ii. 242—propositions for remodelling the Cabinet, 243—second Ministry, 279—resigns and returns to office, 312—fall of his administration, 378.

Melville, Lord, appointed First Lord of the Admiralty, i. 39—his father's correspondence with George III. and his colleagues, 212—Croker to, 175.

Metternich, Prince, described by Lord Aberdeen, iii. 223—letters to Lord Londonderry, 232–234, 238, 282.

Michael, Archduke, anecdote of, i. 129.

Miguel, Dom, in London, i. 398.

Ministry, list of the, under Sir Robert Peel, ii. 251.

Monteagle, Lord, letter from Croker, iii. 339.

Moore, Thomas, first acquainted with Croker, i. 7—renews the acquaintance, 51—proposed sale of his office, ib.—reveals his marriage, 52—'Life of Sheridan,' 286—misstatements, 288—conduct to his patrons, 303—Croker to, 52—ib. 39.

———, 'Memoirs of,' by Lord John Russell, iii. 293—controversy between him and Croker, 300.

Morgan, Lady, her attack on Croker for his review of her 'France,' i. 109.

Morpeth, Lord, and the Duke of Wellington's statue, iii. 121.

"M.'s," the Four, ii. 137.

Mulgrave, Earl of, letter from Croker, i. 185.

Murat, Joachim, anecdote of, i. 331.

Murray, Mr. John, on Croker's plan for a history of the French Revolu-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

392

INDEX.

MURRAY.

- tion, i. 93—the proposal to edit ‘Boswell’s Johnson,’ ii. 26.
 Murray, Croker to, i. 94, 144, 145—ii. 24, 27, 135, 142, 290.
 ——— John, jun., on cheap railway reading, iii. 246—on Croker’s contributions to the Quarterly Review, 310—on his retirement, 311—the French alliance, 313.
 ———, Croker to, iii. 242, 247, 310, 372.
 Mutiny Bill, the, alterations in, i. 298.

N.

- Napier, Admiral Sir Charles, capture of Dom Miguel’s fleet, ii. 210, 211.
 Napoleon, I. See Buonaparte—Mr. Croker’s Despatch provides for his arrest in 1815, i. 328.
 ———, Louis, his descent on Boulogne, ii. 364, 366.
 Nelson, Lord, described by Wellington, ii. 233.
 Newspaper Duty, the, reduced, ii. 307.
 ‘New Whig Guide,’ the, i. 58.
 North, Lord, anecdote of, i. 330.

O.

- O’Connell, Daniel, his intended duel with Peel, i. 77—anecdote of, 130—prosecution, 268—indicted for conspiracy, iii. 19—described by Croker, 307.
 One pound notes, the Scottish, threatened withdrawal, i. 314.

P.

- Paisley, public distress in, ii. 391.
 Palmerston, Lord, correspondence with Croker, i. 17, 18—on Burial Societies and Cavendish’s debates, iii. 292—competitive examinations, 362.
 ———, Croker to, i. 17—iii. 290, 291, 361.
 Panic, the, of 1825, i. 313.
 Panizzi, Mr., on the readers in the Museum Library, iii. 285.
 Paris under English occupation, i. 61.
 Parliament, the First Reformed, ii. 197.
 Parliamentary Reform, ii. 50—proposed concessions, 53.
 Parnell, Sir Henry, and the Civil List, ii. 74.

PEEL.

- Pavilion, the, at Brighton, described by Croker, i. 125.
 Pé, St., the Priest of, i. 341.
 Peel, Sir Robert, on Mr. Canning and Lord Wellesley, i. 46—his life in Ireland, 47—describes his crossing from Holyhead to Dublin, 75—intended duel with O’Connell, 76—on Papal superstition, 89—Irish atrocities, 91—Mr. Davoch’s information, 100—Croker’s article on Lady Morgan, 108—disinclination for public life, 116—relinquishes the Secretaryship for Ireland, 117—on specie payments, 148—changed tone of public opinion regarding Parliamentary Reform, 170—omission of Queen Caroline’s name in the Liturgy, 176—overtures from Lord Liverpool, 187—190—his change of opinions, 220—Home Secretary, 222—on O’Connell’s affair, 269—opposed to the Emancipation policy, 282—jealousy of Croker, 374—reconciliation, 375—conversion to the Catholic Emancipation, ii. 6—letter to the Vice-Chancellor of Oxford, 9—on the pay of the new Police Force, 19—his growing importance, 108—on the errors of the First Reform Bill, 114—on going into Committee, 3b.—report of his joining O’Connell, 116—counter-associations, 137—consistency, 155—on Croker’s letter on the Reform Bill, 175—determined not to take office, 180—on battlemented houses, 188—speech on the disorder in the House, 202—anticipations of office, 205—on the Ministerial pamphlet, 214—the Irish Church Bill, 215—the Landed Interest, 221—summoned from Italy to form a Ministry, 246—the Tamworth manifesto, 251—prospects as Prime Minister, 255—Church Reform, 265—Dissenters’ Marriage Bill, 268—Irish Tithes Commutation Bill, 270—resignation, 272—criticism on Wilkie, 275—and on David’s death of Marat, 276—suggests a history of the Reign of Terror, 277—on the Corporation Reform Bill, 280—Lord Stanley’s position, 304—grouse shooting, 308—on the functions of the sovereign, 316—secular education, 323—selection of Wyatt for the Duke of Wellington’s statue, 328—

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

INDEX.

393

PEEL.

- on Lady Peel wishing for an apiary, 336—a 'Revolutionary Encyclopædia,' ib.—state of the country, 1838, 337—pictures at Drayton, 339—the Bedchamber question, 343–345—on the events of 1830–32, 375—forms his second administration, 378—his sliding scale, 379—foresees the necessity of a tax on property, 381; and of a liberal tariff, 383—reduction of the timber duty, 387—distress in Paisley, 391—on the price of bread, 414—state of politics in 1843, iii. 10—Lord Ashburton's advice, 14—the Maynooth Bill, 32—Corn Laws, 34—resigns and returns to power, 36—speech on his change of opinion, 56—his last letter to Croker, 94—congratulations on his marriage, 348.
- Peel, Sir Robert, Croker to, i. 89, 101, 105, 110, 114, 120, 177, 178, 196, 214–218, 227–232, 263, 269, 361, 410—ii. 18, 20, 52, 54, 73, 113, 136, 177, 189, 194, 247, 257, 266, 269, 271, 274, 285, 319—iii. 11, 38, 94.
- Peers, proposed creation of in 1832, ii. 153.
- Pennell, Mr. William, father of Mr. Croker's wife, i. 9.
- , Lieut. Follett, advice from Croker, i. 324.
- Penryn Disfranchisement Bill, i. 409.
- Pepper, Mr., anecdote of, i. 129.
- Perceval, Mr., on Huskisson's 'Currency Pamphlet,' i. 34–36.
- , Mr. J. W., on his father's character and opinions, ii. 373—and his writings, 374.
- Phillips, Mr. C., letters from Croker, iii. 213, 303, 305.
- Phillpotts, Bp. (Exeter), on Newman and Pusey, iii. 4–6—grace at table, 179—on Croker's article on Macaulay's 'History of England,' 193—Free Trade Taxation, 227—to Mrs. Croker on her husband's death, 380.
- 'Picnic,' paper, started, i. 8.
- Pitt at Goose-tree's Club, iii. 330.
- Planta, Mr. J., endeavours to establish a new Paper, ii. 21.
- Plunkett described by Croker, i. 230—letter from him on the provision for the R. C. Clergy, 280.
- Police Force, the new Metropolitan, ii. 17—conflicts with, 73.

RICHARDSON'S.

- Polignac and his Ministry, ii. 234.
- Political consistency, Croker on, ii. 82–87.
- Pope, new edition of his works, ii. 143, 144.
- Porter, Mrs., and Johnson, ii. 29.
- Portland, Duke of, resignation, i. 15.
- Portugal, dispatch of troops to, i. 322.
- Potato disease, the, iii. 32.
- Prayer, form of, on account of the disturbed state of the country, ii. 96.
- Priests, Irish, payment of, iii. 103, 104.
- Prior's 'Life of Burke,' i. 270, 273.
- Prussian soldiers in Paris in 1815, i. 62—review of their army, 70.
- Pusey advised by Peel not to resign, ii. 282.

Q.

- Quarterly Review*, the, foundation of, i. 25—Croker's letter as to the subjects of the articles, ii. 229. See also Alison; Anti-Corn-Law League; Bentinck; Croker; Graham; Lockhart; Louis Philippe; Macaulay, Murray; Morgan; Robespierre.

R.

- Raglan, Lord, on the losses on the 16th, 17th, and 18th June, 1815, and at other battles, iii. 289—on Croker's congratulations on the Crimean War, 322.
- Raikes, anecdote of, i. 432.
- Railroads, Croker on, iii. 25.
- Redesdale, Lord, on the decisions of the Law Lords and Judges, iii. 21–23.
- Reform, Croker's early opinion in favour of a measure, ii. 52.
- agitation, ii. 93.
- Bill, the First, ii. 109—its anomalies, 110—the Second, 127—the Third, 140—becomes law, 147.
- "Reformed Ministry, the, and the Reformed Parliament," ii. 213—notes on it by Peel, 214—by Wellington, 216.
- Regalia, the Scottish, discovery of, i. 113.
- Relief Bill, the, i. 280.
- Retford, East, franchise of, i. 410—division on, ii. 14.
- Richardson's English Dictionary, Croker's criticisms on, ii. 290.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

394

INDEX.

RICHMOND.

- Richmond, Duke of, death from hydrophobia, i. 149.
 ——— Duchess of, and her stuffed rats, ii. 15.
 Ripon, Lord, on the charge against Huskisson, iii. 175, 176.
 Robespierre, Croker's article on, in the Quarterly Review, ii. 285— anecdotes by Louis Philippe, iii. 207.
 Robinson, Rt. Hon. F. ('Prosperity'), described by Croker, i. 230—letter from him about Theodore Hook, 284— and on the loss of his son, 323—his misplaced anecdotes, 330. See Ripon.
 Rogers, Samuel, notes on Pope, iii. 186—Croker to, 187.
 Roman Catholic claims advocated by Croker, i. 278.
 Rosenerantz, Count, anecdote of, ii. 120.
 Rothschild, Baron, takes his seat in the House, iii. 136.
 Royal Academy dinners, the, i. 164, 417—ii. 210, 274.
 ——— Exhibitions, receipts of the, ii. 90.
 Russell, Lord John, his resolutions, ii. 54—the Irish Tithes Commutation Bill, 268—the Corporation Reform Bill, 279—fails to form a Ministry, iii. 36—Prime Minister, 38—defeat and resignation, 224—anomalous position, 265—controversy with Croker about 'Moore's Memoirs,' 300.
 Russia, the Emperor of, in Paris, in 1815, i. 64—Mr. Croker's views on the encroachments of, in 1854, iii. 318.
 Rutland, Duke of, on the Royal visit at Belvoir Castle, iii. 14—on the 'tide of Democracy,' 55—Sir S. Grant's speech on the Abrogation Debate, 58—on Pitt and Addington, 183—Croker's criticism of Macaulay's 'History of England,' 195—Pitt's sobriety, 331—his last letter to Croker, 363—Croker to, 330.

S.

- Sackville, Lord George, suspected author of 'Junius,' i. 273.
 Scott, Sir Walter, on the 'Battles of Talavera,' i. 32—Byron's politics and morality, 95—the projected Guardian paper, 139–141—in London, 168—stanzas about a mermaid, 169—on

STANLEY.

- the threatened withdrawal of the Scottish one pound notes, 317–320— anecdotes of Dr. Johnson, ii. 28–35.
 Scott, Sir Walter, Croker to, i. 113, 140—ii. 38, 113.
 Selwyn, George, on Wraxall being recommended for Sudger's Hall, ii. 294.
 Seymour, Horace, anecdotes of the Battle of Waterloo, i. 124.
 Shannon, the, and the Chesapeake, duel between, i. 45.
 Sheridan and Burke's 'Paper,' i. 292—George IV.'s liberality to him, 305—dishonourable conduct, 306–309—misery and squalor of his latter days, 311.
 Sidmouth, Lord, anecdotes by, ii. 339.
 Sinclair, Sir George, on the public burdens in Scotland, iii. 221—on 'Boswell's Johnson,' 222—on Croker's letter to Lord John Russell, 308—Croker to, 182, 329.
 Slane Castle, George IV.'s visit to, i. 206.
 Smith, Sir Sidney, his character criticised by the Duke of Wellington, i. 348.
 ———, Adam, anecdote of, ii. 31.
 ———, James, letter to Croker, i. 18.
 Smythe, Hon. G. S., announces the death of his father to Croker, iii. 358.
 Somerville, Mrs., recommended for a pension, ii. 257.
 Sontag, Mdle., described, i. 417.
 Southey, Robert, accepts the Laureate-ship, i. 49—his 'Life of Nelson,' 50—proposed 'Book of the State,' 276—as a political writer, ii. 412.
 ———, Croker to, i. 50, 276.
 Sparks, Jared, discovers the map of the boundaries of the United States, ii. 400.
 Spencer, Sir B., anecdote of, ii. 123.
 Spring Rice, Mr., describes Croker's speech on the Catholic question, i. 131.
 Staël, Mme. de, described by Croker, i. 326.
Standard, the, paragraph in, i. 397, 399.
 Stanley, Lord, refuses to join the Ministry in 1835, ii. 256—his position with Sir Robert Peel, 303—on the rate of navvies' wages, iii. 86—payment of Irish priests, 104—

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

INDEX.

395

STANLEY.

- object of the 'Peel' pamphlet, 112—115—on the Corn Laws, 131—political prospects in 1850, 217—difficulty of forming a Government, 229—on 'Protestantism, Protection, and down with the Income Tax,' 235.
- Stanley, Lord, Croker to, iii. 78, 103, 109.
- Staremborg, Count, anecdote of, i. 331.
- Statue of the Duke of Wellington, ii. 328—disputes about its site, 329.
- Stewart, Charles (Marquis of Londonderry), intrigues against the Duke of Wellington, i. 346.
- Stopford, Dr. (Bishop of Cloyne), and Mr. Phillips, i. 8.
- Stowell, Lord, notes of Johnson, ii. 27, 35.
- Strangford, Lord, on the Duke of Wellington's statue, iii. 126—on Croker's article on the 'Memoirs of Moore,' 295—George IV.'s generosity to Sheridan, 297—the Hougoumont transport being rebaptised, 341.
- Stuart, Villiers, on the Catholic question, i. 418.
- Studios, the, in 1828, i. 411.
- Suisse, Nicholas, valet to Lord Hertford, ii. 417—suspected of dishonesty, 419.
- Sutton, Charles Manners, letter to Croker on the illness of his son, i. 122—Prime Minister, ii. 164—elected Speaker, 200—raised to the peerage, 266.

T.

- Talleyrand described by Croker, i. 65—by Wellington, 334—in London, ii. 71—anecdotes of, i. 153; ii. 71, 101.
- Tamworth manifesto, the, ii. 251.
- Taylor, Sir Herbert, secretary to William IV., ii. 67.
- Tenterden, Lord, ii. 193.
- Test and Corporation Repeal Bill passed, i. 417.
- Thanet, Earl of, imprisonment and fine, i. 331, n.
- Thistlewood, arrest of, i. 163.
- Thompson, Sir Thomas, his death, i. 408.
- Tickell, Richard, author of 'Anticipation,' his suicide, i. 245.
- Tierney, Mr., and Croker on the Navy Estimates, i. 79—and Lord Althorp, 400.

WALPOLE.

- Timber duties, the, ii. 112.
- Times*, the, announces Peel's intention to repeal the Corn Laws, iii. 48.
- Tories, the, 1832, ii. 147—difficulties, 161—failure, 167.
- Townshend, Lord, and Provost Hutchinson, i. 426.
- Trades of London demonstration before St. James's Palace, ii. 81.
- Trench, Dean, on the ignorance of candidates in respect of English literature, iii. 350.

U.

- United States, the, controversy with England in 1812, i. 43—Boundary question, ii. 393–403.

V.

- Vansittart, Chancellor of the Exchequer, i. 229.
- Vaughan, Mr., ministers to Sheridan in his last days, i. 311.
- Victoria, Queen, described by Croker, ii. 176—announces her intention of her marriage with Prince Albert, 359—letter to Queen Adelaide on her intended marriage, 376.
- Vieille Garde*, their rags, &c., i. 130.
- Vimiera, battle of, ii. 122.
- Vittoria, battle of, ii. 231.
- Volunteer movement, anticipation of, ii. 413.

W.

- Waithman, Lord Mayor, i. 266.
- Wake, Archbp., and George II., anecdote of, i. 9.
- Wales Prince of (George IV.), unpopularity when Regent, i. 102—grief for the death of the Princess Charlotte, 105, 107, 126–128.
- , Princess of, public feeling in her favour, i. 103—indifference on the death of the Princess Charlotte, 104—in Paris, 150—scandals concerning her, 158—difficulty about praying for her in the Liturgy, 159—see Queen Caroline.
- Walpole, Horace, letters and character, i. 270–272—'Memoirs of the first ten years of George III.'s reign,' iii. 24.
- , S. H., on the mistake in the

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

396

INDEX.

WALTER.

- financial propositions, iii. 261—the borough of Midhurst, 334.
- Walter, Mr. John, of the Times, his proposal for obtaining continental journals, i. 37—declines to support the Liverpool Ministry, 38—retires from Parliament, ii. 318, 321.
- Wardle, Col., his charges against the Duke of York, i. 13.
- Warrender, Lady, anecdote of, i. 153.
- Watchman, the old, of London, ii. 16.
- Waterloo, Battle of, the news conveyed to London, i. 60—Field of, described by Croker, 72-75—anecdotes of, by Horace Seymour, 124.
- “Waverers,” the, ii. 156, n.—Sir R. Peel on the, ii. 180.
- Waverley Novels, on their authorship, iii. 351.
- Wellesley, Sir A., first acquaintance with Croker, i. 12, 13.
- , Marquis of, on Johnson’s Latin poetry, ii. 45—notes on Pitt’s character, 294.
- Wellington, Lord, on the ignorance and misrepresentations of the Press during the Peninsular Campaign, i. 40-43—Victory over Soult, 53.
- , Duke of, his views on the emancipation policy, i. 281—day’s shooting with the French King, 282—on the French Cuirassiers at Waterloo, 330—offered an estate in France, 332—a Grandee of Spain, 333—on Talleyrand, 334—the Battle of Vittoria, 335—his Generals, 337—Archduke Charles, 338—Buonaparte as a general, ib.—history of his watch, 339—the Priest of St. Pé, 341—Horse Guards, 342—‘Dry Nurses’ of the, 343—Convention of Cintra, 344—Lord Hopetoun, 345—Mr. Gleig and the ‘Subaltern,’ ib.—Charles Stewart’s intrigues, 346—Sir Sidney Smith, 348—Louis XVIII., 350—First Portuguese campaign, 352—“White’s window,” ib.—national characteristics, 353—the Ford at Assaye, ib.—Buonaparte at Valladolid, 355—made Commander-in-Chief, 360—his Administration, 395—perplexities, 404—anecdotes of the Peninsular War, 433—on Lord Anglesea’s recall and the letter to Bishop Curtis, ii. 2-5—anxieties and difficulties, 10—resigns, 74—banquet

WILBERFORCE.

- to the Ex-ministers, 80—attempt to assassinate him, 81—and Sir D. Baird, 102—on Croker’s speech on the Reform Bill, 111—his armorial bearings an offence to the French, 117—has intimation of an intention to shoot him, 124—failure to form a Ministry, 160—on Croker’s letter on the Reform Bill, 171—the state of representation in the House of Commons, 205—the new democratic influence, 206—despondency about public prospects, 207—on the Ministerial pamphlet, 216—the Church of England, 217—foreign policy, 218—Chancellor of Oxford, 224—entry and enthusiastic reception, 225-228—the Battle of Vittoria, 231—long march after the Battle of Assaye, 232—describes Lord Nelson, 233—on Polignac and his Ministry, 234—on Vincennes, 237—on the state of the country in 1835, 286—Buonaparte’s character for falseness, 287—on the Stamp Act, 307—the blowing up of Burgos, 309—Massena and Soult, ib.—Battle of Salamanca and Marmont, 310—power of sleeping at will, 311—his colossal statue, 328—deafness, 331—rheumatism, 332—illness, 358, 361—on the potato disease and the harvests of 1844 and 45, iii. 40—his reasons for supporting Peel, 51-53—disapproval of Peel’s change of politics, 74—confidence in Lord Stanley, 78—on Peel not returning to office, 84—the ‘Peel’ pamphlet, 110, 111—the removal of his statue, 120-126—on the Battle of Quatre Bras, 173—French politics, 188—recollections of Louis Philippe, 211, 213—the removal of Buonaparte to St. Helena, 228—death of, 270—memorandum by Croker, 270-279—his version of “Up Guards and at them,” 280.
- Wellington, Duke of, Croker to, i. 314, 429—ii. 103, 172, 173, 183; iii. 42, 50, 53, 54, 65, 110, 111, 212.
- Whitbread and the Princess of Wales, i. 304.
- “White’s window,” and the Guards, i. 352.
- Wightman, Mr. Justice, on Pope’s Judge Page, iii. 240.
- Wilberforce, Bp. (Oxford), on the con-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-04460-8 - The Croker Papers: The Correspondence and Diaries of the Late Right Honourable John Wilson Croker, Secretary to the Admiralty from 1809 to 1830: Volume 3

Edited by Louis J. Jennings

Index

More information

INDEX.

397

WILLIAM IV.

- gregation joining in the singing, ii. 409—on Tractarianism, 411—‘Newman’s Sermons,’ 413—on the Tractarian controversy, iii. 2—review of some Episcopal charges, 3—on the Hampden controversy, 163—the Conservative party, 184—visit to Lord Brougham, 215—on Manning, 216.
- William IV., accession, ii. 65—and the Queen pelted by the mob, 109—dinner to the 1st Guards, 116—closed the Session in person, 212—death, 313. See Clarence, Duke of.
- Williams, Sir C. H., his Odes, i. 249, n.
- Wood, Col., letter from Croker on Free Trade, iii. 101.
- Workmen from Manchester, to intimidate the King and the new Government, ii. 169.
- Wraxall’s Memoirs, ii. 294–299.
- Wyatt, Mr. M., selected as the sculptor for the Wellington statue, ii. 328.
- Wyattville, Mr., and the alterations in Windsor Castle, i. 414.

ZICHY.

- Wynn, C. W. Williams, on the supposed author of ‘Junius,’ iii. 181.

Y.

- Yarmouth, Lord, Croker’s letters to, i. 149, 150, 175, 179, 184, 242, 243. See Lord Hertford.
- York, Duchess of, her mode of life described, i. 122.
- , Duke of, charges against him, i. 13, 14—anecdote of Frederick the Great, 151—opposed to the Catholic Emancipation Bill, 280—illness, 323, 359—death, 360.
- Young, Arthur, Lord Lonsdale on, iii. 201.
- “Young England” party, the, iii. 7.

Z.

- Zichy, Countess, relations with Lord Hertford, ii. 415—legacies to her and her sisters, 417.

THE END.