

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-05023-4 - Military Operations at Cabul: Which Ended in the Retreat and Destruction of the British Army January 1842

Vincent Eyre

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS.

INTRODUCTORY CHAPTER.

Internal State of Affghanistan in 1841.—The Eastern Giljyes unsubdued.—Disaffection in Kohistan.—Military Operations there.—March of Gen. Sale from Cabul en route for India.—He is attacked, and has to fight his Way to Jellalabad.—Major Griffiths, escorting him with 37th N. I., the like, in returning to Cabul.—Our great Foes Ameenollah Khan and Abdoolah Khan.—Character of the Giljyes.—Mistaken Security of our Government.—Premonitory Symptoms disregarded Page 3

CHAP. I.

Proceedings of November 2d.—Outbreak of the Rebellion.—Murder of Sir A. Burnes, Lieut. Burnes, and Lieut. Broadfoot.—Gen. Elphinstone called upon to act.—Troops ordered from the Camp.—Sir A. Burnes's fatal Security and Incredulity.—Attack on Brigadier Anquetil's Fort.—Murderous Attack on Capt. Lawrence and on Lieut. Sturt.—Irresolute and inefficient Measures on our Part.—Gen. Elphinstone's State of Health, and Incapacity thereby.—His Character.—The Envoy's Misapprehension as to the serious Nature of the Outbreak.—Our defensive Preparations.—Description of Cantonments.—Commissariat Fort.—Camp at Seeah Sung.—Great Faults of our Position 19

a

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-05023-4 - Military Operations at Cabul: Which Ended in the Retreat and Destruction of the British Army January 1842

Vincent Eyre

Table of Contents

More information

xiv

CONTENTS.

CHAP. II.

Nov. 3d to Nov. 10th. — Return of 37th N. I. from escorting Gen. Sale. — Fighting all the way. — Desultory fighting between Cantonment and Bala Hissar. — Reinforcements sent for from Candahar. — Sale recalled. — Murder of Lieuts. Maule and Wheeler. — Attack on Commissariat Fort. — Its inefficient Defence and Abandonment. — Enemy gain Possession of all our Stores. — Great moral Effect of this against us. — Indignation and Eagerness of Troops to retake this Fort. — Ill-concerted Measures for this End, and Failures. — Capture of Mahomed Shereef's Fort. — Sundry Skirmishes without Result. — Mackenzie's Juzailchees. — Our alarming Destitution as to Provisions. — Enemy's Design to starve us out. — The Town cannonaded from Bala Hissar. — Skirmishing about Guns. — Brigadier Shelton sent for to Cantonment - Page 35

CHAP. III.

Nov. 10th to 15th. — Troops dispirited. — Attack on Rikabashee Fort. — Desperate Conflict. — Gallantry of Brigadier Shelton, Major Scott, and Lieut. Bird. — Col. Mackerell slain. — The Fort taken, and four others. — A small Supply thus obtained. — Skirmishes at Seeah Sung. — Action on Western Heights. — Want of Spirit in our Troops. — Enemy's Guns captured. — Bad Practice of our Musketry - - - - 54

CHAP. IV.

Nov. 3d to 15th. — Collateral Events in Kohistan. — Treacherous Murder of Lieut. Rattray at Lughmanee and Attack on Major Pottinger's Fort there. — He is reinforced from Charekar. — Gallantry of Lieut. Haughton — Major Pottinger withdraws to Charekar. — Attack on the Posts

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-05023-4 - Military Operations at Cabul: Which Ended in the Retreat and Destruction of the British Army January 1842

Vincent Eyre

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS.

xv

there. — Major P. wounded. — Captain Codrington slain. — The Garrison closely invested. — Their Distress. — Sorties. — Lieut. Haughton treacherously cut down. — They resolve to retire on Cabul. — Dr. Grant's gallant and useful Services. — His Disappearance. — The Force disorganised, drops off, and disperses. — Major P. and Lieut. H. push on for Cabul. — Their painful Journey, and wonderful Escapes. — They reach Cabul. — The Ghoorka Regiment all cut up - - - Page 68

CHAP. V.

Nov. 16th to 23d. — Inconvenience of Cantonment. — Cold setting in. — Question of retiring to Bala Hissar. — Arguments for and against. — Gen. Sale finds Return to Cabul impracticable. — Mahomed Khan's Fort. — Its Importance. — Annoyance from it. — Discussion, and Show of taking it, but left in Enemy's Possession. — Envoy's Communications with Gen. Elphinstone as to Course to be taken. — Village of Beymaroo. — Its Importance to us. — Actions there. — No Result. — Mahomed Akber Khan arrives at Cabul - - - 89

CHAP. VI.

Nov. 23d. — Operations against Beymaroo, under Brigadier Shelton. — Severe Fighting all the Day. — Ends in our Discomfiture and Retirement with great Loss to Cantonments. — Observations on this Day's Errors - 101

CHAP. VII.

Nov. 24th to Dec. 12th. — The Enemy set about destroying the Bridge. — Nothing done to prevent them. — Retirement to the Bala Hissar mooted and argued. — The Enemy offer Terms. — The General advises Negotiation. — a 2

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-05023-4 - Military Operations at Cabul: Which Ended in the Retreat and Destruction of the British Army January 1842

Vincent Eyre

Table of Contents

More information

xvi

CONTENTS.

Conference between the Envoy and Chiefs—broken off.
 — Other more humiliating Terms offered, and rejected. —
 Attempts, by the Enemy, on the Bala Hissar and on Mahomed Shereef's Fort — repulsed. — Enemy fire into Cantonments. — Bridge wholly destroyed. — No Steps to save it. — Disgraceful Abandonment of Mahomed Shereef's Fort.
 — Like Conduct of the Shah Bazar Garrison. — Letters between Envoy and General. — Provisions very short. — Steps determined on, but nothing done. — Small Supplies obtained from Bala Hissar. — Negotiations again opened. — Conference between Envoy and Chiefs. — Terms proposed, and agreed to Page 118

CHAP. VIII.

Dec. 12th to 24th. — Sir W. Macnaghten and Gen. Elphinstone. — Their respective Conduct and Characters. — Deputation of Chiefs to the Envoy. — Their fresh Propositions. — Evacuation being agreed on, disorderly ransacking of the Magazines. — The Bala Hissar evacuated by our Troops there. — Mahomed Akber's Attempt to seize it. — Delay of the Chiefs in bringing the promised Supplies. — They insist on Evacuation of all the Forts. — These given up. — More Conferences and more Demands of us. — The Relief from Candahar fails. — Preparations for Evacuation. — We give Hostages. — Chiefs help themselves from Magazine. — Envoy sends his Carriage to Mahomed Akber. — New Proposals from him. — Their Purport. — Apology for the Envoy's Conduct in listening to them. — Conference for carrying them out. — Treacherous Seizure of the Party. — Murder of the Envoy and Capt. Trevor. — Other Atrocities 142

CHAP. IX.

From Dec. 2d to Jan. 6th. — Extraordinary Remissness of our People during these Atrocities. — Cowardly Deser-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-05023-4 - Military Operations at Cabul: Which Ended in the Retreat and Destruction of the British Army January 1842

Vincent Eyre

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS.

xvii

tion of the Envoy by the Body Guard. — Suspense in Cantonment as to his Fate. — His Death certified. — Major Pottinger takes Political Charge. — Negotiations renewed. — Council of War. — Major Pottinger proposes Retreat to Jellalabad. — This rejected. — Treaty then accepted. — Chiefs demand Hostages. — Six given. — Sick and wounded left. — Some guns given up. — Our Departure postponed from Day to Day. — Appeal of the King against deserting him. — Observations Page 180

CHAP. X.

Jan. 6th to Jan. 14th. — Preparations for the March. — Extreme cold, &c. — Order of March. — Confusion. — Camp-followers. — Delays. — Plunder and burning of Cantonments. — Attacks on the Force immediately. — Mahomed Akber's treacherous Delays. — Extreme Sufferings of the Troops in every way. — Mahomed Akber takes more Hostages — and the Ladies, &c. — Retreat continues from Jan. 6th to 13th, and ends in Annihilation of the Force - - 195

ROUGH NOTES DURING IMPRISONMENT IN AFFGHANISTAN - - - 235

APPENDIX :

List of Civil and Military Officers killed during the Rebellion at and near Cabul - - 321