

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-05332-7 - Memorials of St Edmund's Abbey: Volume 3
Edited by Thomas Arnold
Index
More information

I N D E X.

INDEX.

Where there is no Roman numeral, the reference is to the first volume.

A.

- Abbo of Fleury, or Flory, I., 3; his letter to St. Dunstan, ib.; MSS. of, lxiv.
, his Passio S. Edmund, xiv., 6-25.
, his life, xxii.-xxiv. Followed by Denis Piramus, II., 207, note, 228, note.
- Aberconway, III., 152.
- Aberystwith, Llanbadarnvaur, III., 154, 155.
- Abingdon, riots at, II., 329.
- Acre, II., 6 and note.
- Adalbert, St., and the legend of S. Edmund, xviii., xix., note.
- Adam, a nutritus or familiar of Abbot Hugo, II., 75, 115.
, the Infirmarius, II., xii., xiv., 35, 44, 50, 52, 70, 75, 79, 93, 94, 121, 122, 123, 125; III., 19, 21 f.
, of Bremen, I., xix.
, de Bromholme, III., 82.
, of Dersle, infirmarian of S. Edmund, III., 89.
, de Hemmenhale, subprior, III., 99.
, of Ipswich, III., 89.
, de Philleby, canon of St. Mary of Stafford, II., 275.
- Adelnoth. See Canterbury, Abp.
- Aedric, governor of Mercia, I., 47.
- Aelfege. See Canterbury, Archbishops of.
- Aelfgar, I., 23.
- Aelfgeth, miraculous cure, I., xxix., 51, 52.
- Aelfgyve, for Emma, wife of Cnut I. 341, 343.
- Aelfhun. See London, Bishops of.
- Aelfueve, I., 49, 129.
- Aelfwin. See Elmham, Bishops of.
- Aelfwen, or Aylwin, a female recluse at Hulme, I., 38.
- Aernald Luvell, and the advowson of Hungeton, I., 265.
- Aethelstan. See Kings.
- Agelnoth. See Canterbury, Archbishop.
- Agennensis, of Agenna, Agen, III., 31.
- Agincourt, III., 296.
- Aimeric. See Ymeric.
- Aimoin, Abbo's biographer, xxiii.
- Aire, II., 22.
- Alan of S. Edmund, III., 20.
, See Brittany.
, king of Armorica, II., 142.
, de Broc, II., 76.
, de Setryngton, III., 70.
, de Walsingham, II., 106, 123.
, Walensis, II., 75, 76, 85.
, a builder, of Waynflete, III., 327.
- Albano, Bishop Walter, of, III., 80.
- Albano, Bishop of, Leonardus Patrasso, consecrates Abbot Thomas, II., 315.
- Alberton, III., 264.
- Albigenses, II., 18.
- Albinus, subprior of St. Edmund's, II., xii., 35, 36, 38, 43, 52, 61, 86, 107, 113, 115, 123; III., 11, 22.
- Almund, father of St. Edmund, I., xv., xix., 95, note, III., 348.
- Aldeby, John, monk of St. Edmund's, III., 99.

- Aldwin, displaces the clerks at Durham, I., xxvii.
- Alexander de Brewrth, II., 257.
- Alfred. See Kings.
- See York, Archbishops of.
- See Elmham, Bishops of.
- Alfric. See York, Archbishops of.
-, a guardian of the shrine of St. Edmund, I. 30.
- Alfwyn, Earl, invites Sweyn over, II., 246 and note.
-, or [Aelfwin, Ealfwin] Aylwin, father of Eadbriht, I., 41; afterwards Abbot of Ramsey, ib. and note. Testifies on behalf of St. Edmund, lxx., 65; at Council of Rheims, lxxi.
- Alice, daughter of Margaret at the Kirk, III., 328.
- Alisaundre, John, III., 142.
- Alkmundus. See Alcmund.
- Allinge (Halling), III., 23.
- Alnwick, battle of, III., 168.
- Alpheton, Alfleton, III., 68.
- Alured. See London, Bishops of.
- Alveredus Hispanicus, I., 64.
- Alwin. See Winchester, Bishops of.
- See East Anglia, Bishops of.
- Ambrose, of St. Edmund's, I., 223.
-, Saint, III., 149.
- Amesbury, massacre at, II., 147.
- Anagnia, II., 316.
- Anastasia, St., Cardinal John of, III., 80.
- Andegavensis, of Angers, 176.
- Andelys. See Chateau Gaillard.
- Andreas, of St. Edmund's, I., 223.
- Angles, take the south country, II., 148.
- Anglesey, kept by Llewellyn, III., 154; Edward I. at, 155 bis.
- Annales Paulini, II., xlvii (referring to Queen Isabella).
- Anselm, St. See Canterbury, Archbishops of.
-, his nephew. See St. Edmondsbury, Abbots of.
- Antonius, of St. Edm., I., 224.
- Antony, St., III., 146, 147, 149.
- Apollonius, St., III., 150.
- Apprentices of the weavers, III., 362, 364, 366.
- Aquitaine, III., 156-8; duke William and his heiress Eleanor, 157.
- Arfast. See Thetford, Bishops of.
- Argentan, III., 160.
- Argentin, Richard de, 376.
- Argenton, visited by King John, II., 9.
- Armorica, the Britons flee to, during a pestilence, II., 142.
- Arnald, a forester, overawed by Abbot Samson, 237.
- Arthur, King, II., 141.
-, Prince, his war against John, II., 10, 11; imprisoned at Falaise, 11; disappearance, ib.
- Articuli et Punctus, &c., III., xvii.
- Arundel, Edmund, Earl of, beheaded, II., 329; III., 295.
- Asser, refers to the life of St. Edmund, xiv, xx.
- Aston, Andrew, III., 77 and note, xv.
- Athanasius, St., III., 147.
- Athelstan. See Kings.
- Athelbert, St., the Passio of, lvi.
- Attehil, St. John, chapel of, III., 136.
- Atteschille, Athassel, Abbey founded, III., 347; legends of, 347-8.
- Attleborough, I., 100; II., 181.
- Augus, Eu ..., II., 10.
- Augustine, Eysteiu. See Trondheim, Bp.
-, St., III., 148.
- Augustinian canons, III., 148.
-, Hermits, III., 151.
- Aurelian, St., III., 148, and note.
- Aurelius, St., III., 148.
- Austin's, St., Scotland, abbot of, III., 237.
- Avignon, III., 42, 57, 326.
-, Abbey of St. Rufus at, III., 158.

B.

- Babergh, III., 272.
- Babwell, Samson's hospital of, 252 and note, 328. Franciscans removed to, II., xxxiii., 269; III., 79, 294.

- Baker, Edmund, III., 358.
 , John, III., 143.
 Baketon, Bacton, Bekton, III., 61, 63,
 note, 67, 68.
 Baldwin. See St Edmondsbury, abbots
 of.
 , Count of Flanders, II., 11, 13.
 , son of Earl Gilbert, III., 237.
 Baliol, John de. See Scotland, kings of.
 Bangor, III., 155.
 Banham, Robert of, protected by St.
 Edmund, 367.
 Bannaleuca, explained, 301 note.
 Barbefleot, Barfleur, 173.
 Barbour, Gilbert, escapes after riots at Bury, II., 349; helps to seize Abbot
 Draughton, 350.
 Barrow, Edmund, III., 177.
 , W. (of St. Edm.), III., 206.
 Bartholomew de Reynville, pope's chaplain, expels the friars, II., 274.
 Barton, III., 333.
 Basil, St., III., 147, 150.
 Basle, Council of, III., 253-4, 255 note, 256.
 Bateman. See Norwich, Bishops of.
 Battely, archdeacon, cited, II., xxvi., xxxiii., 289 note, xxxix.
 Bayonne, III., 266 and note, 267-8, 270.
 , (for Bayeux), Odo, bishop of, III., 234.
 "Beata Memoria," 20, note.
 Beaufort, Henry. See Winchester, bishops of.
 , Thomas See Dorset.
 Baulieu, Bello-loco, abbot of, II., 44,
 45, 58.
 Beaumont, John de, . . . II., xlviii., 367.
 , Robert, III., 237.
 Beccles, III., xvii., schools at, 182.
 Beda, his Life of St. Cuthbert, xiv.
 Bedford, Duke of, his letter to Bishop Fordham, III., 203-4; to the abbot of St. Edm., 205.
 Bedlam founded, III., 296.
 Bekyngton, Thos., 265 and note.
 Belaugh, III., 335 and note.
- Belers, Hamo, Rector of Bonaye, sub-executor of the bishop of Trieste, III., xii., 59, 63, 69, 72.
 Bello loco. See Beaulieu.
 Benedict, St., III., 150.
 , of St. Edm., 223.
 , sub-prior, 300.
 , de Blakeham, 213.
 , Saxo, lxii., App. B. §9, 351.
 Benedictines, at Ramsey, 7, III., xxiii.
 Beneit, Egidius, III., 177.
 Benet, St., Hulme, [St. Benedict's in Holm], 39, 359; relations with Bury, xxvii., III., 1, 2, 36, 37, 39, 40, 41, 47.
 , Abbot John, a monk of St. Edm.,
 II., 34. Correspondence of, II., xlv., III., 40, 41, 47, 48. Commission of enquiry into riot, 41, 43; sentence, 44.
 , Abbot Henry, correspondence with Thomas of Totyngton, II., xlvi.,
 III., 37, —, III., 247, vii., ix., x.
 Beneyt, Andrew, III., 104.
 Bennet, John, notary, III., 62, 65.
 Beodricsworth. See Bury.
 Ber Conway. See Aber-Conway, III., 152.
 Berin, son of Lothebroc, II., 190, 191,
 192 ff.
 Berkeley Castle, II., 328
 Bernard, St., III., 151.
 , cardinal bishop of Porto, . . . ,
 III., 80.
 Bernham, Robert de, III., 178.
 Bernwelle (Barnwell), canons of, III., 183.
 Berton, Great Barton, II., 125; the devastation there, II., 340; III., 22, 66.
 , John, leader in the riots at Bury, II., 337; III., 42, 294, 302;
 made alderman, II., xlviii., 331;
 initiates the design of kidnapping Abbot Draughton, ib., 350; treachery to the monks' envoys, 340; sentence on, 349; escapes, ib.; imprisoned for life, III., 294.
 Bertram, John, III., 260, 261.

- Bertrand de Sancto Genesis, dean of Angoulême . . . , III., 42.
 , prior of St. Faith, nominated for abbot of St. Edmunds, 228, and note.
 Berwick, taken in 1173, . . . , lvii.
 Beverley, St. John of, 351, III., 166 and note, 333.
 Bevis Marks (Buries Markes), III., xxx. note, 299 and note.
 Bigot, earl Hugh, aids the rebels before Fornham, lvii., 364.
 , Robert, II., 74, 77.
 , Roger, sheriff of Norfolk, witness to Arfast's renunciation, 64; permits de Curzun's occupation of Southwold, 79, 147; carries standard of St. Edmund, 262, 270.
 , earl Roger, at Bury, II., 39.
 , Roger, his son, II., 89.
 Bildestone, Bilston, III., 258 and note.
 Billyngford, III., 356.
 Binneham, 77.
 Blackfriars founded, III., 151.
 Blackpool, battle of, III., 295.
 Blanche, niece of king John, II., 8.
 Blitheburg, Blythburg, battle of, lxii.; St. Jurmin's body translated from, 361, III., 274-5.
 Blithing, III., 274.
 Blood-letting. See Minutio.
 Blundus, Hamo, his will, I., 293.
 Body, John, III., 94.
 Bomfield, a guardian of St. Edmund's shrine, 30; resists Leofstan, 31.
 Bomond, John, rector of Rougham, III., 178.
 Bonaye, III., 63, 69.
 Bordeaux, III., 157, 265 and note, 267, 268, 270.
 Boston, and St. Botulph, lxii., III., 333.
 Botulph, St., life, lxii, translation of, App. B., §10, II., 291; I., 352, 361, 366; feretry of, II., 289.
 Boulogne, count of, deserts Philip, II., 19; and John, 21: although well treated, ib. note; betrothed to the daughter of William the Lion, III., 169.
 Bourbon, duke of, at Agincourt, III., 296.
 Bouvines, battle of, II., xiii.
 Boxford, Thos., III., 143.
 Brabanters, sent by John to aid the Scotch, II., 20.
 Bradefield, H. de, in abbot Hugo's election, II., 115.
 Bradenham, East, II., 367.
 Bradfield, belonging to St. Edmund's, 234, II. 125; III., 22; royal hunting lodge, burnt by rioters, II., 338, III., 143; its losses, II., 342.
 Bramfield. See Bromfield.
 Brancaster, III., 100.
 Brasiour, John, III., 178.
 Bray, William, chamberlain, III., xvii., 182.
 Brecham, Thos., III., 142.
 Brening, II., 295.
 Brewere. See William.
 Bric or Brice, the carpenter, his wife among the rioters, III., 142, 182.
 Brichtiva, 164.
 Brightwold. See Winchester, bishops of.
 Brigit, St., monks of, III., 296 note.
 Bristol, II., 17, 328.
 Briseword, Hubert de, 269.
 Britain, story of invasion by Saxons and Goths, II., 142, 144, 146, 148.
 Brittany, count Alan of, buried at St. Edmund's, 350.
 Broc, Ranulf de, lvii.
 Brockdish, 365; Stephen of, ib., and 320.
 Bromfield, Edmund de, a provisor appointed to St. Edmund's, III., xvi., xxiii.-xxv., 113 note, 115, 117; action of his party, 118, 120, 179; installation, 119; protest against, 121; celebrates mass, 122; enquiry and punishment, 123-4; fate of his supporters, 124; receives a weekly allowance from the convent, ib.
 Bromton, chronicle of, xviii., lx., 211.
 Broughton, John, of Toddington, III., xix., 211.
 Brown, Thos. See Norwich, bishops of. , Symon, III., 330.

Brum, John de, III., 333.
 Brundyssch or Brundish, Edmund de, II., 332, III., 99.
 Bruno, St., III., 150.
 Brunstan, a verger, 49, 130.
 Bry, III., 296.
 Builth, III., 155.
 Bundus, tomb of, 32.
 Burdegalis. See Bordeaux.
 Bures, II., 186.
 Burgate, III., 68.
 Burgh, Thos. de, obtains the Cokefield wardship, 321.
 Burton, abbot Richard de l'Isle of, afterwards abbot of St. Edmunds, II., xxix., III., 26.
 Burwell, Borwell, III., 327, and note.
 Bury, or Beodricsworth, iv.; in Domesday Book, Appendix A., 339, lx.
, its government, 276, III., xvi., xvii., 177.
, markets and tolls, 278.
, called to account for harbouring the disinherited, xxxv.; for rioting against the abbey, II., 348, III., 131, 181; for supporting a provisor, III., 124.
, expulsion of the Jews, II., 5, 6.
, visited by archbishop Langton, II., 39; by Papal legate, II., 42; by Papal Commission, II., 74, 79; by king John, II., 95.
, meeting of barons at (1215), III., 10; of Parliament at, II., xlv.; III., xxxiii., 272, 278.
, great fire at, III., 11.
, riots, III., xxv.-xxvii., 125, ff., 131, 179-182; liability for, 181, 294. See Deprædatio.
 [See also St. Edmund's Abbey, relation to the town of].
, John, III., 141, 182.
 Buryrmarkys. See Bevis Marks.
 Busche, Matildis, III., 329.
 Buttavant, II., 9, 10.
 Bygge, John, III., 143.

C.

Cadwalader, II., 141.
 Caen, III., 296.
 Caistor, II., 183, and note.
 Cambridge, John de, prior of St. Edmund, III., xxii., xxvi., 141, 181.
 University, visited by Archbishop Arundell, III., 183, 195.
 Canons, order of, founded, III., 148.
 Canterbury:
, William the Lion at, III., 169.
, Christ Church, the quarrels between the monks and the Archbishop justify Baldwin's resistance to Arfast, I., xxxi.
, the monks suffer for the attempt to elect Reginald contrary to the royal will, II., xi., and note, 15. Their case cited at St. Edmunds, 60.
, charter granted by Henry II., I., 1.
, long quarrel with St. Edmunds, III., 188.
, the Archbishop's court decides in the Woolpit case, III., 95.
, Archbishop of, protests against papal tribute, III., 162.
 Canterbury, Archbishops of:
, Dunstan, and oral traditions of St. Edmund, I., xiv.
,, favours Abbo, xxiii.
, Agelnoth or Ailnoth, Adelnoth, III., 221; consecrates the stone church at Beodricsworth, I., xxvii., 342, 362; II. 3; III., 2, 225, 228, 233.
, Aelfege, martyrdom, I., lxxiv., 53 note; desires the cross from St. Edmund's neck, 53.
, Stigand, III., 236.
, Lanfranc, at Rome, I., 61; II., 4; inquires into Arfast's claim, I., 65; signs William I.'s charter, I., 349; III., 234-236.

Canterbury, Archbishops of—cont.

-, Anselm, resists secular encroachments at St. Edmundsbury, I., xxxvi.; complains of Roger of Evrout, ib. note; deposes Abbot Robert I., ib., 355; II., 4; III., 5.
-, , disposes of Bishop Herbert's claims upon Bury, I., xxxvi.
-, , consecrates Abbots Anselm and Robert II., III., 5; and Robert the Sacrist, I., xxvii., 355.
-, , on celibacy, III., 151.
-, Ralph, consecrates Abbot Albold, I., xxxvii., 356.
-, , his death, ib.
-, Theobald, consecrates Abbot Hugh, xxxviii.
-, , crowns Henry II., III., 158.
-, Becket, St. Thomas, 5, 365–68.
-, Richard (1173–84), inquires into Abbot Hugh's debts, I., 212, and note.
-, Baldwin, asserts jurisdiction over St. Edmundsbury, I., 1, 255.
-, Hubert Walter, III., 169; I., 256 note, 283 note; a native of Bury, 287; not allowed to visit St. Edmundsbury as legate, 283–5; treatment of riotous knights, 260 and note; appealed to by Abbot Samson, 270.
-, , gift to the shrine of St. Edmund, 313.
-, , the Cokefield wardship is sold to him, 321.
-, , restores the monks at Coventry, II., 6.
-, , his relations with King John, 7, 8, 9, 14.
-,, his death, 14.
-, Langton, supports Abbot Hugo against King John, II., xliii., 39, 124; his part in the election, II., 15, 31, 34; sermon, 39; letters, 45, 103; III., vii.; advice, 48, xx. and 126, 127; 66; III., 15, 21, 22, 23, 24; considers this an opportunity of making the church independent, II., 34.

U 79126.

Canterbury, Archbishops of—cont.

-, , story of his reading the charter of Henry I. to the barons, II., xix.
-, , negotiates for the removal of the Interdict, II., 17.
-, , consecrates Hugh of Lincoln, II., 18.
-, , hears the case of Hugo de Norwolde, 37.
-, Boniface, his quarrel with Lincoln chapter, II., xxxii.
-, , intervenes on behalf of the friars at Bury, II., 266.
-, Peckham, attempts to reconcile Edward I. and Llewellyn, III., 155.
-, Mepeham, Simon, excommunicates the abductors of Abbot Draughton, 352–3.
-, Sudbury, Simon, xxiii., xxv.; assists Abbot Tymworth, III., 114.
-, , his advice to the Provisor rejected, 117.
-, , inquires as Chancellor into Bromfield's case, 123, 125; murdered, 126.
-, Arundell, visits the monasteries of Ely, III., 183; Norwich, 184; Walsingham, 185; Bury, xvii., 183–8.
- Capgrave, John, his Nova Legenda Anglia I., xv.
- Caprais, St., of Agen, Prior of, III., 31. See Raymond de Nogeris.
- Carcassonne, Canon B. de, papal chaplain, II., 259.
- Cardigan, III., 155.
- Carleton, Thos., III., 358.
- Carlisle, Bishop Robert de Chause, deals with the Franciscans at Bury, II., 271, 281; delegates his authority, 272.
- Carlyle, Thos., on Abbot Samson, iii., xxxviii., xli.; on Henry of Essex, 272, note.
- Carmelites, III., 151, at Ipswich, xxiv.; London, 208; Norwich, 184.
- Carnotensis, of Carnotum, Chartres, III., 72.
- Cartæ Versificatae, III., 215 ff.

B B

- Carthusians founded, III., 150.
 Caruage, I., 362.
 Carucates and hundreds, II., 7.
 Cassian, on the origin of monks, III., 145, and note.
 Castel d'Avros, III., 266.
 Castle Acre, Samson banished to, I., 212, 254, xlv.; held by Earl Warenne, xlv., note.
 Cavendish, Sir John, Chief Justice, III., xxvi.; murdered, 128.
 Cavenham, John de, Rector of Westle, III., 98.
 Celer, John, III., 143.
 Celibacy of priests instituted, III., 151.
 Cellarer, duties of, 302 ff.; called secundus pater in monasterio, 303; moneys at his disposal, 281, 289, 321; manors attached to the Cellary, II., 125.
 Cely, John, a carpenter, III., 141, 182.
 Cernel (Dorset), hermitage of St. Edmund's brother, I. 344; the Abbot deposed, 355.
 Chaluz, II., 7.
 Chardro, Reginald, III., 358.
 Charles the Bald, I., 9; II., 232.
 Charman, Richard, III., 177.
 Charters affecting St. Edmundsbury : of Edgar to St. Etheldrida, III., 196.
 of Edmund II., I., xxii., lxi., 29, note; text, 340; II. 93. of Cnut, I., xxvi. f., lxi.; text, 342, 360; confirmed, II., 46; III., 2, 215.
 of Hardicnut, I., 363; III., 221, 227, xiv.
 of Edward the Confessor, I., xxvii. f., 48, 128, 261; as granting immunity from taxes, 269, 263, 364; confirmed, II., 46; III., 229; conferring freedom of election, 230. of William I., I., lxi., 67; text, 347; III., 232, 234.
 of Henry II., touching Woolpit, III., 84. of Henry III., licensing Bury and Melford fairs, II. 30; 45, 93, 94, xliii.
- Charters—cont.
 of Edward I., II., xliii. of Henry VI., III., xxxiv., 357. of Pope Alexander II., I., 345.
 granted by Abbot Samson to the town, II., xxxix.
 granted by Abbot Draughton, III., ix., xxi.; text, 302.
 seized by the insurgent townfolk in 1381, III., 130.
 of Canterbury, 255.
 Chastel, Sir Hugh de, in Leicester's invasion, lvii., lix.
 Chateau Gaillard, built, II., 6; its siege and fall, 12.
 Chaucer, on the monks, II., xlvii.; on popular fury in 1381, III., 126 note.
 Alice, III., 248 note.
 Chauncelere, Roger, rector of Woolpit, suit against, III., 85, 88, 90 f., 93, 96.
 Chebenhall, a manor of St. Edmunds, III., 79.
 Chelsworth (Cheteber), III., 210.
 Chertsey, Abbot of, 228.
 Chester, ravaged by Llewellyn, III., 152; Edward I. at, 153.
 Earl of, III., 152.
 Earl Hugh, the father of Abbot Robert I., III., 4.
 Chevington, II., 350; III., 294.
 Chinon, II., 14.
 Chyldyrston, Edmund, III., 142.
 Cirencester, Council of, 126; II., 61.
 Cistercians, instituted, III., 151.
 Citeaux, Abbot Jean Picart, at the Council of Basle, III., 256 and note.
 Clapton, Peter de, III., 38.
 Clare (in Essex), 79; III., 64, and 63 note, 200.
 Earl Roger, bears the standard of St. Edmund, 261; saves Henry I.'s life, 273.
 William de, Archdeacon of Sudbury, III., 57, 68, 82, 102.
 Classical quotations, 7, 11, 12 bis, 61, 130, 218, 221, 222 bis, 238, 239, 242, 256,

- Classical quotations—cont.
 272, 291, 297, 298, 299, 304, 305, 317,
 322, 327, 329, 330, 334; II., 58, 71;
 III., 25, 283, 284, 285.
- Claver, Thos., III., 141; buys off the rioters, 182.
- Clenchwarton, III., 68, 63 note.
- Clericis Laicos, II., xlv.
- Clerk, Thos., III., 142.
- Clerkenwell, Prior of, III., xxix.
- Clifford, Rd. See London, Bishops of.
, Roger. See Justiciary.
- Clipstone, royal hunting box, II., xviii.
- Clopton, suffers in the riot, II., 316.
- Cluny, Abbot of, visits Samson, li., 322.
- Clypton, Robert de, Sheriff of Suffolk, III., 200.
- Cnut. See Kings of England.
- Cockton, III., 68 and note.
- Coinage renewed in 1205, II., 13.
- Cokefield, or Cockfield, measures tested;
 II., 67; losses during the riots, 342;
 III., 66, 343.
-, Adam de, the terms of his succession, I., 262; wardship of his daughter, 298; is lost, 321, 334.
-, John, punished as a rioter, II., 349; escapes, 352.
-, John, sued by the Abbot in 1327,
 III., 42.
-, Robert de, a tenant of St. Ed-mund's, a guardian of the abbey during the vacancy I., 216, 218; II., 234, 255, 265; his death, 262.
- Cole, William, III., 358.
- Coleshill, 273.
- Colet, III., 332.
- Collectanea Astoni, III., xv., 77.
- Comessationes, the affair of, II., 57, 62, 63.
- Compendium, Compiègne, II., 17.
- Compostella, III., 333.
- Congeston, its losses in the riots, II., 346.
- Courad de Diche, envoy from Otho to John,
 II., 21.
- Constance, Council of, III., xxix.
- Constantine, Emperor, and monks, III.
 149.
- Constantinople, Baldwin at, II., 13.
- Cook, Richard, III., 358.
- Copeland, a knight of, 186.
- Cordova, William de Braos dies at, II., 19.
- Corfe Castle, II., 31, 92; III., xxv., 123.
- Corn, price of, II., 13.
- Cornwall, Earl Reginald of, at Fornham,
 I., lviii.
- Corsford, or Cosford, hundred, 234, 262,
 III., 272.
- Coterelle, John, kidnaps Abbot Draughton
 III., 351; punished, ib., note, 353.
- Cotton, the advowson of, III., 79, rector,
 W. Manthorpe, 34.
- Coustances, Bishop Godfrey of, III., 236.
- Coue, John de, III., 317.
- Couherd, Walter, III., 142.
- Coventry, seculars and monks at, II., 6., bishop Hugh in favour of the seculars, ib.; prior Jobertus 6, becomes prior of Wenlock, 7, note.
-, Archdeacon, John de Kirkby; collects tax for Welsh campaign, III., 34.
- Craneville, John de, III., 317.
- Cratfield. See Abbots of St. Edmund.
- Cressener, William, Mayor of Sudbury,
 III., 272.
- Criketot, William, kidnaps Abbot Richard,
 II., 350, III., 317.
- Croft, III., 331, and note.
- Cronica, Brevis, III., 291-300.
- Buriensis, III., vii-xv., 1-73.
- Crops, partial failure of, II., 16.
- Crux Roesiæ, Royston, convent of, II., 102, note.
- Culeford, III., 79.
- Cumin, John. See Dublin, Archbishops of.
- Cunegeston, III., 79.
- Cursins, of St. Geminiano, proctor for Abbot Thomas, II., 313.
- Curteys Register. See Registrum.
- Cuthbert, St., his cultus compared with that of St. Edmund, xiii; his shrine the seat of a bishopric, xxxi.

- Curzun, Robert de, punished for entering upon a manor of St. Edmund, 79, 147.
 , William de, punished for the same offence, liv., 148.
- D.
- Danegeld, St. Edmundsbury exempt from, III., 218.
- Danes (See also Hinguar), invade England, 357, II., 192, ff.; defeated by Alfred, 28; expelled by Eadred, II. 231; invade Normandy, 28, II., 232; return to England, II., 233; stricken by pestilence, ib.; invasions under Sweyn, II., 241, 247, 249.
- Daniel, prior of St. Edmund, II., xxx., 28.
- Dassard (Disserth), razed by Llewellyn, III., 152.
- David, Prince of Wales, and the Pope, III., 152; sides with the English, 154; rebels, ib.; death, 156.
- De Institutionibus Ordinum, III., 145, ff.
- De la Rue, Abbé, on la Vie de Seint Edmund le Rey, II., xxiv., f.
- De Miraculis Sancti Edmundi, 26-92; account of the work, xxxix.; authorship, liii.-lvi.; date, 33, note. The death of Sweyn ascribed to St. Edmund as that of Julian to Mercurius, 37, 118.
- Deacons, III., 151.
- Dee, River, King Edgar on, III., 166.
- Denis Piramus, author of "La Vie de S. Edm. le Rey," II., xxiv., 137; probably not of Partonope, xxiv., 138, note; his life; xxiv., f., 137-139.
- Denham, Geoffry, assault on the Abbey, III., 141, 143, 181.
 , Theobald, III., 177.
- Deorman, a London Merchant, undergoes a miracle and becomes a monk, I., 183-5.
- Depraedatio Abbatiae, II., xxxiii., 327-354; fomented by Londoners, 328-330. A charter extorted from the Abbot, 333; appeals to Parliament, 334; and to Rome, 335. Interference of the Friars, 335, f. Further riots, 337, ff., and destruction of property, 340-7. Punishment of rioters, 348, f. The Abbot kidnapped, 350. Agreement between convent and town, 353; text, 357. Enquiry into, III., 41, f. Excommunication of rioters, 44. Damage, 46.
- Derby, Earl of, his daughter marries Prince David, III., 154.
- Dereham, East, III., 336, and note.
 , West, a house of Premonstratensian Canons founded there, I., 284, note.
- Dieppe, or Depe, III., 157.
- Diest, in Brabant, Abbot Draughton taken to, II., xlviii., 352.
- Dietmar, of Merseburg, describes Sweyn, xxvi.
- Dionisius, a rival candidate to Samson, xlv., 227.
- Dioscorus, St., III., 148, and note.
- Disinherited, the, at Bury, II., xxxv., Ely, xxxvi. f.; restore the horses stolen from the convent, ib., 362. Excommunicated, III., 31; rhymed hexameters on, II., 362.
- Diss, John, and William, 312, 313, 334, while Sacrist, II., 293.
 , John, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 75, 97, 110, 115, 121, f., 125, III., 19, 22.
- Doffra. See Dover.
- Dominic, St. Founds the Black friars, III., 151.
- Dominicans, try to establish themselves at Bury, II., 30.
- Donald of Mar, surrenders Bristol to Queen Isabella, II., 328.
- Doneton (Dunton), II., 339.
- Donewyc. See Dunwich.
- Dorset, Earl of, Thos Beaufort, III., 201.
- Dover, Archbishop Geoffry arrested here, 258.

Downham, palace of Bishop of Ely, III., 204, 206.

Draper, Thomas, III., 177.

Draw, Thomas, III., 358.

Drury, Sir William, III., 264, f., 271, 273, 276.

Dublin. Henry II.'s claim to, III., 160, 162.

..... Archbishop, John Cumin, succeeded by Henry de Loundres, II., 22, and note.

Dufhouse, Thomas, III., 258.

Dugdale's Monasticon, iii., II., xxxiii.

Dunbar, III., 166.

Dunghogo, or Thinghogo, 31.

Dunstable prior of, in the Electio Hugonis, II., xii., 69, 73, 119; III., 16, 19.

Dunwich. Not attacked before Fornham, lvii., note; near Blythburg, lxii., 189, 367; moonlighters at, II., 364; III., 63, and note.

Durand, 333, a monk, accompanies Pandulf to England, II., 19.

....., de Hostesli, and the advowson of Hungeton, I., 265.

Durham. The See of St. Cuthbert; quarrels between bishop and monks, xxxi., contrasted with Westminster, ib.

....., bishops of.

....., Edmund, III., 229.

....., Ranulf Flambard, presides at the translation of St. Edmund's relics at Bury, I., xiii., xxxiv., 86, 156, 351; and of St. Cuthbert's at Durham, xiv., xxxiv.

....., Remigius, III., 236.

....., Richard de Marisco. His exactions, II., 23; Archdeacon of Northumberland, 23, note; represents the king's interests in the Electio Hugonis, 105, and note; 107, 108, 110, 112; III., 22.

Dyubeck Castle, given to Prince David, III., 154.

E.

Eadmund, St., King of East Engle, xv.; his character, 7, II., 187; legend of his life, xiv., xxi., xxxv.; his youth, II., 140, 151, f., III., 348; becomes the successor of Offa, II., 152, f., 157, 162, III., 349; reluctance of his father, II., 163-8; overcome by a vision, 169-175; his voyage to England, II., 175-9; piety, 180, f.; elected king at Caistor, 182-5; attacked and slain by the Danes, II., 190-204; date, 229; his martyrdom, two views of, xx.; account of, II., 12, 15, III., 204-209, III., 350; compared to that of Christ, 16, and of St. Lawrence, 23; his cultus, compared to that of St. Cuthbert, xiii., xv.; the incorruption of the relics, 22, 53, 111, 132, 169, II., 222, 227, III., 351; is a mark of purity, 24; the head recovered, 17, 109, II., 209, 215; re-united to the body, 19, 54, 111, II., 216, 220; buried at Hoxne, 19; afterwards at Sutton, 27; a chapel raised, II., 216, f.; relics transferred to Bury, xxi., f., 19, 30, 111, II., 218, 220, III., 352; a wooden church built, 219; translated to London, xxv., 43, 120; and again to the Abbey church at Bury, xxxiv., 85, 87, 155-160, II., 4; tended by Oswen, 20, II., 222, f., III., 352; guardians of the shrine named, 31, 359; date, 112; seculars replaced by Benedictines, xxiv., xxvii., 47, 126, 358; the shrine honoured by Alfred, II., 234; the cup stolen, II., 332, and note.

....., Miracles of. Miracles of punishment, 21, 30 and 112, 37 and 118, 41 and 120, 44 and 123, 54 and 135, 134, 58, 63, 79 and 147, 148, 166, 173, of protection of property. 69, 73, 185, 186; II., 223–8, 362, 364; III., 339.

- Eadmund, St.—cont.
 373; II, 233, 236–240, 245, 367, 368; III., 352, ib., 324.
 of healing, 41, 109, 43 and 122, 49 and 128, 50, f. and 131, 68 and 137, 144, 74 and 141, 75, 77 and 145, 80, 83, 89 and 158, 160, 91, 164, 179, 180, 181, 187, 188, 189, 197, 199, 202, 207, 208, 370, 371, bis, 372, bis, 373, bis, 374, bis; III., 328, 332, 333, 335, 344, 328, 329, bis, 331, 334 bis., 336, bis, 337, 338, 340, 341, 343, bis.
 of saving from shipwreck, 72 and 140, 92 and 162, 192, 195; II., 362; III., 318, 319, 330, bis, 345, 331. of fair wind; 176, 178. From other dangers, 74; drought, 90 and 159; demons, 372; the falling tower, III., 346; fire, III., 337.
 of visions, 38 and 118, light at tomb; 27, 100, 195, 199, 372, bis; II., 230; III., 327.
 of occasional special immobility of the relics, 41 and 120, 42 and 121, 45 and 124.
 of multiplication of coins, 370.
 of conversion, 204.
 of release, 374, f., III., 330, 333.
 causing springs to gush forth, 178, 180; III., 349.
 rain, III., 340.
 of the speaking head, II., 212; III., 351, of the wolf, II., 214.
 Eadmundus, a monk, dreams of the future abbot, 226.
 Eadred, or Ethered, xiii. reigns in Wessex II., 231, defeats the Danes, ib.
 Eadric, or Edfric, prior, 69, 137.
 Ealfwin. See Alfwin, bishop of East Engle.
 Ealsegate, Aldgate, lxxi., 43.
 Eardulf, xiii.
- Earthquake in Jerusalem II., 11.
 East Engle, the name, 6; seized by Saxons, II., 149; described, ib., 6; without kings after Edmund's death, 230.
 bishop of, Alwin, places monks at Beodricsworth, III., 1; builds church of St. Edmund, 2.
 Eclipse of sun (1206), II., 15; of moon, ib.
 Edgar. See Kings of England.
 Edmund, prince, named after the saint, II., xxx., III., viii., 28. earl of Kent, son of Edward I., accompanies Queen Isabella to England, II., 327.
 Langley, III., 294.
 a monk, opposes Abbot Hugo, II., 43, 52, 75.
 de Bokenham, III., 48; correspondence about, 49–56.
 de Mortemar, kills Llewellyn, III., 155.
 de Welnetham, escapes from Bury gaol, II., 352.
 son of Yvo (I. 145); care of, I., 77.
 Edmundsbury, St., Abbots of, (lists, III. 297, 299), 79.
 Uvius, xxvii., 48, 127, 341, 359. Consecrated 356, III. 233; formerly prior of Hulme, III. 1; his death, III., 3, II., 3, III., 225, 231.
 Leofstan, xxvii., xxix., 51, 54, 131; his violence and punishment, 134; translates SS. Botolph and Jurmin, 352; consecrated, 356, III., 3; illness, lxxi., 36, II., 3.
 Baldwin, physician to Edward the Confessor, II., 3; a monk of St. Denis, xxx., 344; called by mistake, prior of Westminster, III., 299, xxviii., 56, 57, 137; consecrated, 356, III., 233; Malmesbury upon, lxxi.; his life, xxx., 58, 345, II., 3, III., 3, 232; requests Herman to write his work, xxix; resists Arfast, 61, 345, xxxi.; visits Rome,

Edmundsbury, St., Abbots of—cont.

- xxxii., lxxii., 61, 68, 137, 345, III., 3; builds the abbey church and translates the relics, xxxiii., 155, II., 3, III., 4; date of his death, lxii., lxix., 26, 352, III., 4.
-,, Robert I., son of Hugh Lupus, xxxvi., 353, III., 4; made abbot against the wish of the monks, II., 4, 5; deposed, xxxvi., 355 III. 5.
-,, Robert II., of Westminster, 355, II., 4; consecration after five years, xxxvi., III., 5; erects new buildings, xxxvi., 356; separates the revenues of abbot and convent, xlv., 292, 293; his anniversary celebrated, 291.
-,, abbey vacant, xxxvi., xlii., Appendix B., section 16, III., 5.
-,, Albold, xxxvi., 356, II., 4.
-,, Anselm, nephew of St. Anselm, xxxvi., III., 5, consecration, III., 5; made Bishop of London and afterwards deposed, ib.; returns to St. Edmund's, ib.; builds church of St. James, xxxvi., II., 4.
-,, Ording, xxxiv., 93, III., 5, II., 4, f.; retires for a time on Anselm's return, III., 6, consecrated, ib., homo illiteratus, xxxvi., 219; educates Stephen of Blois, ib., obtains a charter, ib., also from Eugenius III., 271 note; his allocation of the revenues, III., 79.
-,, Hugo I., II., 5, III., 6, consecrated, ib.; displaces the canons of Thetford, xxxv.; submission to Theobald, xxxviii.; 212 f.; his character, xxxviii.; debts, ib., xlv., 210-213, and misgovernment, 209, x., xlv., 212, 242 f., 253; relaxes abbey rights over Bury, 276; his death, III., 6, 214; his house spoiled, 215.
-,, vacancy, 215, III., 5.
-,, Samson, writer of the De Miraculis, xxxix., xl.; how far indebted to Herman, xxv., xli., xlvii.,

Edmundsbury, St., Abbots of—cont.

- 107-208, 272, and to Osbert of Clare, xli., liii.-lvi.
-,, ..., his early life, xlii., xliii., xlv., 245, 247; first visit to Rome, xliii., 252; becomes a monk, xlv., II., 5; is twice banished, xlv., 212, 253; Abbot Hugo's efforts to conciliate him, 214.
-,, ..., his election, xlv. f., 223-229, II. 5; consecrated, 229, II., 5, and note, III., 7, xlvii.; twofold view of his life, (1) religious, xlvii., 241; visits the relics, xlviii., 312, III., 8; adorns the shrine, xlviii., 297 f.; self-mortification after the taking of Jerusalem, xlviii., 244; (2) secular, as baron and judge, xlviii., 243, xlix., 238; disapproves of retirement from active life, xlix., 245; visits Oxford, xlix., 296; his loyalty, xlix., 259, 260.
-,, ..., visit to Richard in captivity, xlix., 259; his ransom, 251; quarrels with him, xlix., 298 f.
-,, ..., excellent administration of the abbey, takes a secular adviser in place of the sacrist Wardell, 230; pays off the debt, xlvii., 236 f., and regulates the monks' expenditure, 246, 289, 291; his estate book, 234; good farming, ib., 238; inspection of the manors, 236; his calendar, 235; difficulties with the townfolk, 280; grants them a charter, 281; his pecuniary straits, ib., abolishes old and oppressive customs, 299; his action in the case of Blundus' will, 293, and the riot in the cemetery, ib., expels the Jews, II., 5 and note, 6.
-,, ..., Upholds the rights of the abbey against Archbishop Baldwin, I., 255, and the Bishop of Ely, 256, 259; King Richard, 298, and Archbishop Hubert, 283-287, and the town of Bury, 277, in other cases, li., 259; the bearing of the standard, 261; the mill, 263, 322;

Edmundsbury, St., Abbots of—cont.

- advowsons, 264 ; outwits Bishop Ridel, 275 ; these rights recognized by the Exchequer, 269 ; obtains a brief exempting the abbey from visitations by any but a legate a latere, 283 ; difficulties with the knights who hold from him, lii., 233, 269, 287.
-,, ..., Schemes for building, 217 ; checked, 218 ; repairs after the fire, 308 ; general account of, 296 ; fall of the church tower, liii. ; exhorts the monks to repair the shrine by self-denial, 308 ; their selfishness, 309, and ingratitude, 310 ; quarrels with them, 242, 289, 300, 315 ; his generosity in respect of Richard's ransom, 251 ; of Woolpet, 254, to poor scholars, 249, to schoolmasters at Oxford, 295 ; endows the schools at Bury, 296 ; founds Babwell Hospital, 252 ; his gratitude, 247, 248, 254 ; his gifts to the Abbey, 289 ; his treatment of the Jews, 249 and note, III., 7 ; fairness of his appointments, 246, 327 ; his influence in elections, 322 ; his alleged misdeeds, 327 ; feels the burden of his office, lii., 241 ; wishes to take the cross, 258 ; is appointed on a commission to release some who had taken the cross, 332 ; summoned to court, ib. ; list of applicants for preferment, 261 ; restores the monks at Coventry, II., 6 ; his death, liii., II., 19, 20, 29, III., ix. ; his body afterwards buried in the chapter-house, III., 85.
-,, vacancy of two years, II., 30, III., 5, 9.
-,, Hugo II., de Northwold, date, II., vii.
-,, ..., III., vii., 251 ; character, II., 41.
-,, ..., King John refuses to confirm his election, II., 33, 37, 38, ix., 48 f., III., 11–26 ; sends envoy to Rome, II., 48 ; a counter embassy

Edmundsbury, St., Abbots of—cont.

- sent, 51, 53 ; refuses to purchase his confirmation, II., xiii., 105–109, 124, xv. ; upholds the convent's right to free election, xiv., 94 ; intrigues of his opponents, 51 f., 57, 58 f., 61, 66, 86, ff. ; the Papal Commissioners, 69, meet at Bury, II., xvi., 73, f., 96, and confirm his election, xiii., 119–122 ; visits King John in Poitou, xiii., 85, Sherwood, xviii., 123, III., 21, at Oxford, II., xix., 124, III., 22 ; and at Runnymede, xxi., 128, III., 24 ; advice of Langton, II., 33–37, xx., 126 ; consecration, II., 126, III., 11, 23.
-,, ..., administrative measures, II., 122, III., 20, 22, 79 ; duration of his abbacy, II., xxvi. ; does military service, ib., 317 ; made Bishop of Ely (q. v.), II., xxvii.
-,, ..., Richard de l'Isle or de Insula (formerly prior of St. Edmundsbury, I., 376, II., xxvii.) ; former abbot of Burton, II., xxix., III., 26 ; consecrated, III., 26 ; appeals at Rome against papal visitors, xxix. ; death, ibid., III., 27.
-,, ..., Henry of Rushbrooke, former prior, II., xxix., III., 26 f. ; consecrated, II., xxviii., III., 27 ; papal taxation and exemptions, II., xxix., xxx. ; obtains royal charter for the holding of fairs, xxx. ; is excused attendance at the council of Lyons, ib. ; death, III., 29.
-,, ..., Edmund de Walpole, consecrated, III., 29, II., xxi., on special conditions, II., xxxi. ; character, ib. ; takes the cross, ib. ; weakly refuses sanctuary to the Archdeacon of Lincoln, xxxii. ; death, II., xxxii., 253, 255 note, III., 30.
-,, ..., Symon de Luton, formerly prior, II., xxxi., 253, III., 29 ; election, II., 253–259, III., 30 ; the first exempt abbot to obtain confirmation in person from the Pope, II., xxxii., III., 30; confirmation not asked of King Henry III., II., 259, note; cost of this journey, II., xxxii., 257; lawsuit with Earl of Gloucester, 295 note; clears the convent of complicity with the "Disinherited," xxxv.; conflict with the town, xxxviii., 322, death, II., xli., III., 33.

- Edmundsbury, St., Abbots of—cont.
 , , John of Northwold, II., xlii.; cost of journey to Rome, ib., III., 34; produces the charters to check taxation, II., xliii., 365; death, II., 299, III., 36.
 , , Thomas of Totyngton, election, II., xxxiii., 299–323; confirmed by Pope, III., 37; consecration II., 315; letter to the abbot of Hulme, ib., death, III., 38.
 , , Richard (II.) Draughton, II., xlv., III., 38, 89, 96; the abbey attacked by rioters (Depraedatio), II., xlv., 323; laxity of his rule, xlvii.; a charter extorted from him, III., 40, 47, 302 and note, ix., xxi.; is kidnapped, II., xlviii., 350 ff., III., ix., 294; letter to the Abbot of Hulme, III., 41; death, III., 47.
 , , William de Bernham, III., ix.–xi., xxi., xxvi., 47; admits a canon of Langley to Bury, 48; correspondence, 49–56; contention with Bishop of Norwich, 56–72; other lawsuits, 73, 101, 103.
 , , Henry de Hunstanton, III., xxii.
 , , John Brinkley or Bryncle, III., xxii., 113.
 , , John Tymworth, III., xxii.–xxviii.; election, xvi., 113 ff., 132; his unwillingness, 114; Richard II. forbids him to go to Rome, ib., 116; protest against the provisor, 121; consecrated, 133; blessed, 136; re-election, 135; monetary difficulties with the convent, 133; sues the town
- Edmundsbury, St., Abbots of—cont.
 for the customary payment for recognition of their liberties, 135.
 , , William Cratfield, III., xvii., xxviii., resists encroachments of the Bishop of Ely, 189, xxviii.; death, 202.
 , , William Exeter, III., xxix., 202.
 , , William Curteys, III., xxix.–xxxiii. Rebuilds the bell-tower, xxx., 241 f.; correspondence, 279.
 , , William Babington, III., xxxiii.
 , , John Boone, his life and benefactions, III., 298; a Lancastrian, xxxiv.; rebuilds the Church after the fire, ib., recovers a register, xix., 211.
 , , Robert of Ixworth, III., xxxiv.
 , , Richard of Hengham, III., xxxiv.
 , , Thomas Ratlesden, III., xxxiv.
 , , William of Codenham, III., xxxiv.
 , , John Reeve of Melford, III., xxxv.
 , , The Abbey, I. iv. Materials for the history of, vi.–xiii. History from 985–1095, xxiv.–xxviii., account of in Domesday Book, 339. History from 1020–1044, including introduction of the monks, and caruage, lxiii., 362.
 , , History during the 12th century, xxxvi.–xxxviii.
 , , Later stories (1220), lxiii., 364–377.
 , , Seculars expelled, and monks introduced, III.
 , , Liberties established, (a) see Charters. (B) by bull of Alexander II., xxxii., f.; and of Alexander III., xxxviii., 212, f.
 , , Separation of the convent revenues from those of the Abbot, xlv., 283, 292, III., 34.

- Edmundsbury, St., Abbey of—cont.
 , , Appropriation of revenues,
 III., 79.
 , , Degeneracy under Abbot
 Bernham, III., x., xi., xiii., xxxv., 65.
 , , The Abbot attends Parliament, III., 39, f.
 , , Its relation to the town, xxii., xxvii., 48, 128, 276, 280,
 299, f.
 , , Under Abbot Draughton,
 II., xlvi., 323.
 , , rent list, III., 77.
 , , Buildings, etc., at; Church, wooden, I., xxii., lxxiv., 19, 84; III., 360.
 , , consecrated by Agel-noth, III., 233.
 , , stone (Abbot Baldwin's)
 I., xxvii., xxix., 85, 155, 242, 360,
 II., 289; dedicated, I. 362; burning of, III., xx., 283–287, xxxiv.
 , , of St. James', I. xxxvii.
 , , Tower of St. James', II., 289.
 , , of St. Mary's, II., 289,
 III., i.
 , , great western tower, II., 291.
 , , tower next St. Faith's chapel, II., 291, f.
 , , tower next St.
 Catherine's chapel, ib.
 , , Western tower, fall of,
 I., liii.; bell-tower falls, III., xxix., and note 346.
 , , Abbot's camera, II., 289; burnt and rebuilt, 290; a new one, 292.
 , , aqueduct, II., 292.
 , , bath-room, II., 291.
 , , Bells, II., 289, 293, 294.
 , , Chapel of St. Andrew,
 II., 291.
- Edmundsbury, St., Abbey of—cont.
 , , Chapel of St. Mary,
 III., 298.
 , , chapter house, II., 289;
 burnt, and rebuilt, 290.
 , , choir built, II., 291.
 , , decoration, II., 290– 293.
 , , dormitory built and rebuilt, II., 290.
 , , feretries of saints, II., 289.
 , , fish pond, II., 293.
 , , guest chamber, II., 291.
 , , Spanne hall, II., 295.
 , , infirmary, finished, II.,
 289; burnt, and rebuilt, 290, f.
 , , Bible, II., 290.
 , , nave re-roofed, II., 293,
 III., 298.
 , , presbytery, II., 289.
 , , refectory, II., 289;
 burnt and rebuilt, 290.
 , , sanatorium, II., 292.
 , , vineyard, II., 293, and
 note.
 , , walls, II., 289; of Bury,
 290.
 , , the fire of 1327, III., 77.
 , , offices burnt, III., 6;
 a fire caused by lightning, 35.
 , , part of the shrine burnt under Abbot Samson, 306, III., 7, 286.
 , , its relations with the King,
 xxxvii., lxi., Appendix B., § 16, p.
 355; during a vacancy in the abbacy,
 278, 215, 277, 283, III., 113; the King seizes the convent revenues at the abbot's death, 283, f., 292, II., xli., f., III., 33, f., also 133, f. Con-fiscations after the bull Clericis Laicos, II., xlv.; seizure of the barony after the death of Abbot Samson, II., 73.
 , , as to taxation, II., 262–278; exemption from aids as being held in

- Edmundsbury, St., Abbey of—cont.
 free alms, II., 320–322; tithe granted to King Edward by the Pope, III., 31. Tax for Welsh campaign, III., 35; King's ransom, 251. Manner of levying scutage, II., 323, note; in military matters, 287, 317, II., xxvi.; difficulties with the knights who held from St. Edmund's, lii., 223, 269, 287; their tenure, II., xxvi.; the service is of 40 knights' fees, II., xliii, f., 323; leniency to the abbey in the levy of 1281, II., xlii.
 , , Payment for the liberties of the abbey, III., 33.
 , , Wardships, xlix., 298.
 , , royal confirmation of elections, II., ix., 33, 48; xiii., 109, 124; xv.; xiv., 94; xvi., 96; xxi., 128, 253, 259, note. III., 80.
 , , privilege of inspecting weights and measures granted by Edward I., III., 32.
 , , charter granted by William I, III., 4.
 , , its relations with the Church; is dependent on the Pope only, by the bulls of Alexander II., xxxii., lxi., f., 253, III., 3, 344, f., 61, and of Alex. III., xxxviii., 212; of Gregory IX. respecting the erection of chapels, III., 27.
 , , independence illustrated by the fact that the abbots were consecrated by various bishops, xxxiii., 229, 356, III. 79. Papal taxation, III., 29, f., 31; granted by Council of Lyons, 32.
 , , resistance to the encroachments of Ely, 256, 284, III., xviii., ff. 188, 193; of Thetford and Norwich, xxxi., 60, 65, xxxii., lxi., 347, 355, xxxiii., II., xi.; of Canterbury, I. 255, II., 188; St. Anselm's Council, xxxvi., 355.
 , , resistance to the Friars, III., xxv., 291, 131.
- Edmundsbury, St., Abbey of—cont.
 , , appeals to Rome and to Canterbury, III., 93, 80.
 , , relations with Westminster and St. Benet Hulme. See those art.
 Edric, or Eodric Streone, called the murderer of Edmund Ironside, lxx., 39.
 Edward the Confessor. See Kings of England.
 Edward the Elder. See Kings of England.
 Edward I. }
 Edward II. } See Kings of England.
 Edward III. }
 Edward IV. }
 Edward son of Henry VI., his tomb, III., 297.
 Edwin, a monk, sees a vision of Tolinus, I., 74.
 Edwold, brother of St. Eadmund, III., 349.
 Egelwin, Ailwin, I., xiii. Saves the relics of St. Edmund from the Danes, xxv., 40f., 120f.; reaches London, 42, 121; returns to Bury, 45, 124 f., 52–54, 132; visits the relics, xxx., 34, 115. His intervention claimed against Sweyn, 34; his visions, 35, 116 f.; embassy to Sweyn, 116 f.; his "schedula," 313.
 Egidius, St. See Gilles, St.
 Eglippus, king, III., 146.
 Eilmund, guardian of the shrine, 30.
 Ekelingham, J., prior of St. Edmund, III., 298.
 Eldaghe, or Eldhawe, II., 307, 345, identified with Eldo House, xlix.; Sir R. Morley at, 337; suffers in the riot, 345.
 Electio Hugonis, II., 29–130. Source of the MS., viii., its peculiar historical value, ib.
 , Symonis, II., xxvi., xxxii., 253–259.
 , Thomæ, II., xxxiii., 299–323. Found in the Registrum Thomæ, xxxiii.

- Electio, Johannis Tymworth, III., 113;
 Author of the tract, ib., note.
- Eleigh. See Monks Eleigh.
- Elfgyva. See Queens of England.
- Elfanus. See Aelfhun.
- Elias, cup bearer, Samson's gratitude to, 248.
- Elmham, bishops of; Aelfwin, effects the change from clerks to monks at Bury, xxvii., 47, 126, 348, 358.
-, Alfric, afterwards bishop of Norwich, III., 228, 231.
-, Eadulf, 30.
-, Theodred, 20; repents his severity, 21, f., II., 223–228. Views the body of the martyr, II., 227, and places it in a new loculus, 22. Signs Edmund's Charter, 341.
-, South, III., 249.
- Elmswell, or Elmset, 275; chapel at, III., xxxi., 88, 113, 298.
- Elphege, St. See Alfege.
- Eltham, III., 247.
- Elveredus. See Alfred, s. v. King of England.
- Ely, monks of, brought to Bury, xxvii.; Isle of, seized by the Disinherited, II., xxxvi.
-, bishops of;
-, Ridel, Geoffry; outwitted by Samson, 275; conflict of jurisdiction with St. Edmund, 331.
-, William Longchamp, I., 256; his excommunication, 257, and note; his quarrel with Samson, 259; holds council at Westminster, II., 5; banished, 6.
-, Eustace II., 16, 17, supports Abbot Hugo, II., 41, 48, 87, 109, 140. Holds patronage of Thorneye Abbey, 133, note; writes to the pope, III., 16.
-, Hugo, of Northwold. (See also abbots of St. Edmundsbury). II., xxvii., III., 26, brings queen Eleanor to England, xxvi.; attends Parliament, ib.; complains of the suppression of Ely
- Ely—cont.
- fair, ib.; completes the cathedral, ib.; attacked by William de Valence, ib.; gives the benediction to two abbots of Bury, xxviii.; III., 26, f.; 29; supports the liberties of England, II., xxviii.; death, ib., III., 29; called flos nigrorum monachorum, II., xxix., III., 29; buried at Ely, III., 29.
-, Fordham, John; his quarrel with Bury, III., xxxviii., 188 note, 198; letter to the Duke of Bedford, 204, 206.
-, Morgan, Philip, III., 210.
-, Monastery, III., 183; shrine of St. Awdry at, III., 343.
-, abbot of, II., 229.
-, precentor of, in expulsion of the friars, II., 274, ff.
-, letters to the dean of St. Edmund, 275, ff., to the mayor of Bury, 277–9.
-, prior, formerly Abbot of Walden, III., 184.
-, the prior of St. Edmund seeks shelter here from the insurgents, III., 126.
- Emperors, their relation to Britain.
-, Carausius, III., 162.
-, Claudius, III., 162.
-, Constantine, III., 162.
-, Maximian, III., 163.
-, Maximus, III., 162.
-, Severus, III., 162, f.
- Ephigenia, St., as nun, III., 146.
- Epistola, Roberti abbatis de Thorneye, II., xxiv., 133; deciding the abbot's rights at Bury over the sacrist's waggon and the wine.
- Espoye, or Espoyre: Sir Loys de, III., 265, and note.
- Essex, Henry of, 272, and note; wrongs the abbey, 273; his duel, 273, f.; overthrown by St. Edmund, 274; becomes a monk, 275.
- Estcroft, John, III., 142.
- Ethelbert, or Ayselbert, killed by Offa, II., 159.

- Etheldreda, St. (Awdry), III., 341; the bishopric of Ely founded in connexion with the monastery, I., xxxi.
- Ethelwerd, relates St. Edmund's resistance to the Danes, xx.
- Ethered, king of Wessex, 28.
- Eustace, son of king Stephen, 357, III., 6, 326.
 in Samson's election, 224.
 de Faukenberg, II., 90. of Flay, his preaching, 329.
- Euston, John de Totyngton, rector of, III., 100.
- Everisden, does not mention Henry III.'s death at Bury, II., xxxiv., xxxvii. His account of the "disinherited," xxxv. Continues Taxter's chronicle, xxxvi., note. The horses stolen by the outlaws of Ely, xxxvii. The royal seizure of the convent revenues, xli. Election of John of Northwold, xlii. A visit of Edward I., xliii. Scrutiny of convent, III., 29, 32, 33, 34; 35.
- Evesham, battle of, III., 292; many Welshmen at, 152; the abbey, 257.
- Evreux, bishop Luke, of, at Bury, II., 125, III., 22.
- Ewell, John, alderman of Bury, III., 178.
- Excerpta Cantabrigiensia, IV., 177, ff.
- Exeter, William. See Abbots of St. Edmund's.
 Walter de Stapelton, bishop of, treasurer of Edward II.; his death, II., 329, note. duke of, Thomas Beaufort; his bequest to Bury, III., 260, and note.
- Eye, III., 178.
- F.
- Falaise, Arthur at, II., 11.
- Falconer, Richard, III., 143.
- Fantome. See Jordan.
- Farceux, Robert, master of the Bury grammar school, III., 249; his emoluments and tenure, 250.
- Faversham, monks of, installed at Canterbury, II., 15.
- Fenton, Henry, rector of Woolpit, III., 96, f.
- Ferecent? III., 85. "Terracina" seems to be meant, where Alexander III. resided for some time in 1161.
- Ferreol, St., III., 148, note.
- Ffranceys, John, ringleader in Bury riots, II., 329; killed, 349.
- Fitz Asketil, William, miraculous cure, 74.
- Fitzdien, John, III., 42.
- Fitz Geoffrey, John, envoy to council of Lyons, III., 161.
- Flanders, Ferrand count of, quarrels with Louis the dauphin, II., 22. Count of, at Bury, III., 36.
- Flegg, or Flec, lxx., 39, 119.
 Walter de, justice in eyre, III., 294.
- Flemings, massacred in 1381, III., 126.
- Floods, in 1207, II., 15, f.
- Florence, where the loan for Symon's election might be raised, II., 257.
 of Worcester, relating the miraculous death of Sweyn, xxv.; passages from a MS. of, lxxviii., 340, f.
- Florentius, Abbot of St. Egmond's, and the legend of St. Edmund, I., xviii.
- Foracres. See 268, note.
- Forest rights, asserted by John, II., 17.
- Fornesete, John, writes to Abbot Curteys from the council of Basle, III., 254.
- Fornham, battle of, lvi.-lix., 365, II., 5; is the starting point of Jocelyn's Chronicle, 209.
 St. Geneviève, xviii.
 St. Martin, losses at in riot, II., 343, lix.

- Fornham—cont.
 All Saints, ditto, II., 347.
 Foulge, Richard, III., 143.
 Framlingham, lvii.
 France, supplies for the war against, III., 263–278. French cruisers harass Suffolk shipping, 275.
 Francheville, William de, 269.
 Francis, St., fails to shelter the Franciscans, II., 267, founds the Grey friars, III., 151.
 Cardinal, of St. Lucia, in the election of Abbot Thomas, II., 315.
 Franciscans, at Bury, II., xxx., 264, III., 291. Expelled xxxiii.; for the first time by the monks, 265; appeal to Rome, ib., re-established 266; again expelled, 266, 277, re-established by Henry III., 267. Their new building, III., 291. After 6 years (5½, II., xxxiii., 270 note), expelled by Urban IV., II., 268, 271, 281. The pope and their money, III., 293. Reconciled with the monks, II., 269, who grant them a site at Babwell, xxxiii., 269. Official documents, as to their expulsion, xxxiii. They side with the populace in the riots, xxxiv., 335, III., 294. Aid the escape of the ringleaders, 349, 352.
 Fraternitas Duodenæ, II., 35, and note.
 Frederick II. supported by the Pope against Otho IV., II., 19.
 French language, with difficulty superseded by English, II., xxv.
 Friars Minors and Preachers, their petition rejected by the legate Otho, III., 28.
 enter Bury but are expelled, III., 30.
 Friars' Lane, Bury, III., 292.
 Friars of the Cross, III., 151, and note.
 Friskney, III., 330, and note.
 Frontinus, St., III., 149, and note.
 Frost, severe, II., 13, 18.
 Froude, J. A., on St. Alban's Abbey, III., xxxv.
 Fructuosus, St., III., 147, 150.
 Fry, John, III., 358.
 Fuldon, Edmund, a monk, III., 178.
 Fulk de Cantelu, set in charge of ecclesiastical property at Canterbury II., 15.
 Fyston, John, III., 358.
- G.
- Gainsborough. See Geynesburgh.
 Gaisle, Gazeley, near Newmarket, surrender of to Earl of Gloucester, II., 295.
 Galfridus de Fontibus. See Geoffrey.
 Gannok, razed by Llewellyn, III., 152.
 Gaunt, John of. See Lancaster, Duke of.
 Garboldisham, III., 63, note, 65; 68, 178.
 Gaza, St. Hilarion at, III., 149.
 Geldeford. See Guildford.
 Geoffrey, a monk, II., 75.
 the chancellor, afterwards Abp. of York, 227. of Anjou, III., 157.
 de Constantino, 211.
 de Fontibus, and legend of St. Edmund, xviii., his life and works, xxxiv., f., the De Infantia, 93–103.
 son of Peter, released from vow of crusading, 332.
 de Fordham, in Samson's election, 223.
 Gaimar, not followed by Denis, II., 207, note. of Homelyngton, hosteller, III., 89.
 de Lenna, a monk, III., 99. of Monmouth, III., 161.
 de Neketoun, a Franciscan at Bury, II., 274. of Norwich, cruel punishment of, II., 25, and note.
 de Ormesby, III., 42.

- Geoffrey—cont.
 de Scrope, narrow escape during Queen Isabella's invasion, II., 329; his career, ib., note.
 George, St., 96, 160, II., 156.
 Gerard de Sudbury, III., 42.
 Germau, St., de Origine Britonum, cited, III., 163.
 Gernemuthe, tax for Welsh campaign, III., 34.
 Gervase, of Canterbury, relates quarrels between Archbishop and monks, xxxi.
 Gerwinus, Abbot of St. Riquier, 70.
 Gesta Francorum, cited by Adam of Bremen about Hinguar, xix.
 Gesta Sacristarum, II., 289, 296.
 Geynesburgh, Gheniesbure, or Gainsborough, 33, 35, 114, 361; II., 247, f., III., 353.
 Gibbe, Joan, III., 331.
 Giffard, John, kills Llewellyn, III., 155.
, Walter, III., 237.
, William, III., 317.
 Gilbert, made seneschal of the abbey, 233.
, of Alueth, in Hugo's election, 224.
, Alneden, cellarer, 302.
, or Ghislebert. See Lisieux, bishop of.
, Preston, justicier, reinstates friars at Bury, II., 270, note, 281.
, St., monks of, III., 296, note, founds the white canons, III., 151.
 Gilde de Dusze, III., 35, note. See Fraternitas Duodenæ.
 Gilles, St. (Sanctus Egidius), 178, and note.
 Gilmur, King of Ireland, submits to Arthur, III., 161.
 Gippeswich. See Ipswich.
 Giraldus Cambrensis, III., 159.
 Glastonbury, II., 65; monastery founded, III., 150.
 Glemesford, buildings erected at by Bishop Ridel, 275.
 Glendower, Owen, III., 295.
 Gloucester. Duke Thomas, said to have been killed by the rebels, III., 295; duke Humphrey, III. xxxii.; his death at Bury, xxxiii.
, earl of, as hostage for Llewellyn's safe conduct, III., 153; fights the Welsh, 155.
, earl Richard de Clare, his quarrel with Abbot Symon, II., xxxi., 295.
, earl Robert, at Fornham, lviii.
 Gocelin, subprior, urges the writing of the De Infantia, I., xxxv., 94.
 Godefrid, builds at St. Edmunds, I., xxvii.
, a burgess, of Bury, 277.
 Godfrey, Sacrist of St. Edmund, his works, II., 289.
, a clerk, says mass at St. Ed., II., 52.
, of Louvain, II., 22.
 Goding, witness to Wulmar's cure, I., 83.
 Godwin, Bishop, III., 221.
, Earl, III., 229.
 Goldsmiths, carried to London by order of Edward I., III., 33.
 Gosfield, III., 339, and note.
 Gosford or Gosforth, John, Almoner of the Abbey, III., xvi., 181, f.; pursued by the rioters, 141, f., author of Electio Joh. Tymworth, 113, note.
 Goths, invade Britain, II., 142, take Northumbria, 148.
 Gower, and Grosteste, doubt the power of English to supplant French as a literary language, II., xxv.
 Grange, losses at, during riot, II., 344.
, Almoners, during riot, II., 346.
 Gregory, formerly precentor of St. Albans, II., 294, afterwards prior, xxx., III., 28, and sacrist of Bury; miracles at his tomb, II., 294.
, subcentor at Bury, II., 75, 115, 121, f., III., 19.
, St., Church of, in London, 43, note.
 Grene, Richard, III., 358

- Gresley, Robert de, imprisons his bailiff, 375.
- Grey friars founded, III, 151.
- Griffith, son of Merodoc, III, 155.
- Grimketel. See Sussex, Bishops of.
- Groos, Sir Oliver, III., 203, f.
- Grosteste, Robert. See Gower, supra.
- Grundisburgh, St. Botulf buried at, lxii., 361.
- Guelphs and Ghibelines, their antagonism reproduced in St. Edmunds, II., ix.
- Guienne, III., 156, 263, 265-7, 270.
- Guildford, King John at, II., 8, 16.
- Guletune, or le Goulet, II., 10, note, conference at, between John and Philip, 9.
- Gurnai, or Gournay, taken by Philip, who floods it, II., 10.
- Gyn, Robert, III., 142.
- Gyppecwic. See Ipswich.
- Gyreneu de Mouneyn, smitten with madness by St. Edmund, 80.
- H.
- Haberdon, Dean Herbert's mill at, 263; losses at in the riot, II., 344.
- Haddam, or Much Hadham, a manor of the Bishop of London, III., 136.
- Haegelsdun, 10; Hagelsdun, 16; See Hoxne.
- Hales, Sir Robert, treasurer, III., xxv, Master of the hospital of St. John, his murder, 126.
- Halesworth, Thomas, intermediary between the town and the abbey, III., 139, 180; a rioter at Mildenhall, 143; his pardon, 354-356.
- Halling, Abbot Hugo II., consecrated at, II., xx, 126.
- Hamund, of Chigwell, kidnaps Abbot Draughton, II., 351, and note; escapes punishment through benefit of clergy, 353.
- Hanaper, clerk of the, III., 262.
- Haneford, John. Chief Justice, III., 202.
- Hardy, Sir Thomas D., on the authorship of La Vie Seint Edmund le Rey, II., xxiv, 11.
- Harflete, Harfleur, III., 296.
- Hargrave, Henry de, first rector of Woolpit, III., 87-8-9, 94.
- Harleian, MS. 447. Origin and value of, II., viii., relation to other historians, ib., author, ib.
- Harleston, John, III., 264 f., 271, 273, 276.
- Harlyng, William de, chaplain, III., 99.
- Harwich, III., 319.
- Hastings, battle of, heralded by a comet, 58.
-, H. de, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 54.
- Hatfield, manor granted to Ely, II., xxviii., noté; III., 27.
- Haughley, the castle of De Broc, lvii.
- Havelond, James, III., 143.
- Hawarden, III., 155.
- Hayton, John of, III., 328 f.
- Heath, or Heth, Robert, attests the covenant between town and abbey, in 1382, III., 139, 180.
- Hebyl, Walter, III., 143.
- Heggham, or Hitcham, 257.
- Hegilsdon, III., 350; Hailsdun, xvii., See Hoxne.
- Heigham, Thomas, Bailiff of Bury, III., 358.
- Helpby, William, bailiff, III., 358.
- Helyas, Widewell, sacrist, nephew of Abbot Ording, his buildings, II., 290.
- Hendringham, Thomas D. sheriff of Suffolk, III., xix.
- Hengham, William de, a monk, III., 324.
- Hengist and Horsa, their treachery, II., 147.
- Hengrave, Edmund of, III., 315.
- Henry, Prince, son of Henry II., lvi., III., 167.
-, de Blanford, relates miracles at Baldwin's tomb, xxx.

- Henry—cont.
 Doly, a Franciscan at Bury, II., 274.
 de Eli, a monk of St. Edmund, III., 12, 14. of Essex. See Essex, Henry of.
 Ferrar, III., 237.
 Fikeys, notary, II., 279., III., 96 f., 99.
 de Hehy, a monk of Bury, II., 76.
 de Len, a monk of Bury, II., 75, 115.
 de London, a monk of Bury, II., 52, 115.
 de Loundres, archdeacon of Stafford, becomes archbishop of Dublin, II., 22.
 Plumbe, II., 65.
 Rufus, a half insane monk, II., xvii., 100, 43, 75, 115, 121, f., III., 19.
 duke of Saxony, visits king John, II., 17. of Somerleyton, III., 63, note, 65.
 de Tenet, a Franciscan at Bury, II., 274.
 de Ver, royal proctor in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 104, 105, note, 108, 110, 114.
Herbert, dean, infringes the privileges of Abbot Samson, li., 263.
 elected prior through Samson's influence, li., 322, ff., II., x, xx., 34, 38, 123, 128. Appeals to Langton, 39. Summoned by king John, 40-1-42, 44, 66. Professes neutrality, xii., 29. Unjustly punishes an appeal, 53. Faces both ways, 54, 62. On the king's side, 52, 62, 107. Retires on Hugo's return, 71, 123, III., 14, 22, 24. His death, 26, II. xxvi.
 de Losinga. See Norwich, bishops of.
 subrefectorius, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 75.
Herdebridge, Roger de, III., 292.
Herdwick, 301.
- Hereford, bishop Robert de Losinga, III., 236.
 bishop Giles of, quits England during the interdict, II., 17.
 bishop Peter, III., 29.
, a canon cf, cured by St. Edmund, 207, 277.
 John de O., canon of, commissary of the bishop of Norwich, III., 63, 65, 69.
Hereward, dies after seeing the relics, 170.
Heringswell, III., 22., or Herringswell, 241.
Herlawe (Harlowe), II., 47.
Hermann, archdeacon, on the translation of St. Edmund, xxi., f., xxiv., mistaken chronology, xxiv., f., earliest authority for the story of Sweyn's death, xxv., account of his life, xxviii., 61, III., 80; MSS., xxviii.; his work recast by Samson, liv., Dr. Liebermann on, lxviii. The De Miraculis, 26-92.
Herman, a monk at Binneham, tutor to Edmund, son of George, 77, f.
 a monk, died after displaying certain relics irreverently, 173 ff.
Hermer, sub-prior, li., 323. A novice at the election of Samson, 223.
Hermit, the first, III., 147. Augustinian, 151.
Herningswell, a manor attached to the cellary, II., 125.
Herseth (Horningsheath?), III., 66.
Hertismere, III., 63 and note, 273.
Hervé, the sacrist, builds church of St. Mary, iv., xxxvi., II., 289. Secures the ancient revenues of the sacrist, 290. Assists his brother prior Talbot, 290. Arranges the pittances, ib.
 a Londoner, aided by St. Edmund on his way to St. Gilles, 178.
Hevenyngham, Sir John, III., 264 f., 271., 273.
Hilarion, St., III., 149.
Hüderc'e, II., 290.
Hinguar (Inguar), son of Lothbrce, II., 90 f., with Hubba attacks St. Edmund. xv., xvii., f. f., II., 192; the iustru Hinguar—cont.

- ment of Satan, 8; first attacks Northumbria, 9, II., 195; then proceeds to East Engle, 9, II., 196. Seizes Edmund at Hoxne, 15, II., 198–203; his terms, 11; rejected unless he accept Christianity, 10, f. III., 349, f.
- Hiricius, Eric., subdues Scotland, III., 167.
- Holland, count of, at Bury, III., 86.
- Hoo, William, of Wissett, chief constable of Blithing, III., 274.
- Hor, a monk, III., 149 and note.
- Horningsheath, a manor attached to the cellary, II., 125; its losses during the riots, 343.
- Horningsworth, 268, III., 22.
 Great, 267.
- Hospitallers, Knights, receive gifts from Ofa, II., 155.
- Hostiensis, of Ostia, title of a cardinal bishop, III., 80.
- Hoveden, on the campaign of Fornham, Ivii., note.
 gives date of Abbot Baldwin's death, lxii.
- Hovell, John, III., 358.
- Howard, Sir John, suppresses the riot at Bury, II., xlvii., 347.
- Hoxne (Hagelsdon, Hailsdun), scene of St. Edmund's death, xvii., xxi., 10, 16; II., 198–203; III., 63 and note. hundred, III., 273, 325, 350.
- Hoyland, 199; III., 340.
- Hubba, 8, II., 190, a sorcerer, 191, invades England, 192 f.; III., 349. See under Hinguar.
- Hubert de Burgh, his wife takes sanctuary at Bury, II., xxix.
- Hudde, Thos., III., 94.
- Hugo, prior, deposed by Abbot Hugo, 212.
 third prior, xlv., 223, f.
 sacrist, made custos of Bury, 277; quarrels with Roger, the cellarer, 300; views the relics, 312; his many works, II., 289–291.
 third prior in Symon's election, II., 253.

Hugo—cont.

-, vicar of Woolpit, 254.
 a monk, sent to Rome in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 53.
 See London, Bishops of.
 Bigod, envoy to the council of Lyons, III., 161.
 de Bove, sends help to King John, II., 21.
 de Correbrige, III., 82.
 Despenser, the elder, taken and hanged, II., 328. his son, his bad advice to Edward II., II.; 328; hanged, ib.
- Hugh of Gournay, betrays Montfort castle, II., 12.
 de Grantto, III., 237.
 de Hasting, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 76.
 of Hingham, receives the living of Woolpit, 254.
 de Northwolde, Norwolde. See St. Edm., Abbots of. de Theftord, a monk of St. Edm., coerced by Albinus, II., 53; his penance, ib.; his part in the election of Abbot Hugo, 54, f., 58, 68, 76, 99, 106; further punishment, 61.
- Hull, Sir Edward, III., 265 and note.
- Hulme. See St. Benet.
- Humetz. See Westminster.
- Hunbert or Hunferth, bishop of the East Angles, consecrates St. Edmund as king, 101.
- Hungary, King of, his surrender to the Pope revocable, III., 162 and note.
- Hunstanton, xvi., xix., xxxv., and note, 100; melleæ petra villa, ib.; the town near Maidenbower, II., 179; III., 349.

I.

- Icklingham St. James, III., 68; 63, note.
 Ikeling, fishpond at, II., 293.
 Ilegga. See Monks Eleigh.
 Incendium Ecclesiarum, account of the fire of 1465, III., xxxiv., 283-287.
 Indulgence, III., 249.
 Infantia S. Edmundi, the source of Denis Piramus, II., 228, note.
 Ingham, manor, losses during riot, II., 343; III., 63, note, 65, 68, 186, 344.
 Inguar, or Hinguar. See under Hubba.
 Interdict, II., 16; penalty for breaking it, 17; indulgence to English monasteries during it, ib.; to Bury, 45; fruitless negotiations to end it, 17.
 Ipswich or Gippeswich, attacked by Thurkill, I., 40, 120; William, Bishop of Ely, lands there, 257; also Queen Isabella, II., xlvi.; Carmelites at, III., xxiv., 57; Church of Holy Trinity at, 64; convent church of St. Peter, 67; 82, 83; 273, 278, 321.
 Irby, III., 334.
 Ireland, its acquisition by Henry II., III., 158-163; first annexed by Arthur, 161, f.; invaded by John, II., 18.
 Isidore, St., III., 147, f.

J.

- J. de Aspal, a Franciscan, encourages the Bury rioters, II., 336.
 J. de Basseingbure, II., 75.
 James, a monk of Bury, II., 76.
 de Broughton, proctor for the Abbey in the Woolpit suit, III., 90, 91, 92, 106; appeals to Rome and Canterbury, 93, 95, 107; his commission, 108.

- Jerome, St., on the origin of monks, III., 145, 147, f.
 Jerveys, John, III., 258; his wife Joan, ib.
 Thomas, III., 258.
 Jewels of the Abbey, taken in pledge by the rioters, 180, f.
 Jews, massacre of, in London, II., 5; attacked and expelled from Bury, ib., and note, 6; III., 6, f., 293; imprisoned or expelled throughout England, II., 18; III., 35; treatment by Richard de Marisco, II., 23; lend money to the abbey, 210, f.; punished for taking sacred vessels in pledge, 210, note; treatment by Samson, 249 and note.
 Joan of Kent, mother of Richard II., writes to Urban VI. against the provisor, III., 117.
 Jobertus, prior of Coventry, II., 6.
 Jocelin de Altari, a monk of Bury, II., 32, 76.
 Jocelyn de Brakelond, iv., vi; 231, 326; II., xi.; his Cronica, 209-336; calls Abbot Ordning illiteratus, xxxviii., 219; notes the dangers of an independent abbey, xxxviii., 213; criticism on Samson's administration, liii.; date at which his Chronicle ceases, ib.; cited, III., 294; made chaplain to the Abbot, 231; in Abbot Hugo's election, II., xi., 35, 44, 50, 52, 75, f., 62, 64, 70, 84, 114, f.
 Jocellus, cellarer, deposed, 320; restored, 321.
 John, King. See Kings of England. of Gaunt. See Lancaster, Dukes of.
 of C. (Cambridge?) prior; his book, iv.
 precentor, an elector of Abbot Symon, II., 253.
 Atte Suore, rector of Woolpit, III., 87, 89.
 de Bassingburn, restrained from extortion at Bury, II., 321.

John—cont.

- de Beaumont, or de Bello Monte, distinguished from the Sire de Beaumont, II., xlvi. [cancel note on p. 367]; correct account of his death in Murimuth, xlix; punished by St. Edmund, 368; III., 326.
- de Berewick, or Berewyk, king's attorney, manages the convent revenues seized by Edward I., II., xli.; III., 33.
- of Brabant, miraculously saved from shipwreck, II., 363.
- of Bury St. Edmund's, III., 89.
- de C., the book of, lxxiv., 92.
- de Castre, rector of Cotton, III., 63 and note, 65.
- Chetan de Pontelenio, notary, III., 72.
-, Clement of St. Edmunds, notary, II., 314.
-, de Cobham, royal agent, III., 33.
-, of Cornherde, trustee of abbatial property during vacancy, II., 73.
-, de Crumwell, joins Qn. Isabella; II., 327; life, v. note.
-, Cumin. See Dublin, Archbp. of.
-, of St. Edmund's, a monk of Bury, II., 76
-, de Ernstede, cellarer, III., 99.
-, of Ferentino, papal legate, holds council at Reading, II., 15.
-, de Gray. See Norwich, bishops of.
-, de Henadio, joins Qn. Isabella, II., 327.
-, de Holcham, chaplain, III., 82.
-, de Houtune, opposes the precentor, II., 90.
-, of Ikworth, prior of Bury, III., 35.
-, of Ingham, III., 63 note, 65.
-, de Kirkby, archdeacon of Coventry, q.v.
-, de Lancham, Lavenham, firmarius, II., 67; in Hugo's election, II., 34, 83, 41; raises a question as to the John—cont.

- convent beer, 67; II., 76; III., 12, 14, 341.
-, of Lincoln, king's counsel, III., xv.
-, de Norton, rector of Woolpit, III., 87, 89.
-, of Oxnead, cited, II., xxxv.
-, of Pakenham, brings a letter from the justiciar to Bury, II., 73.
-, de Quelnetham, pursues outlaws who escaped from Bury gaol, II., 352.
-, de Refham, clerk sent by the rioters to represent them at Rome, II., 335.
-, of Salisbury or Sarum, gives the reason why Cnut built the stone church at Beodricsworth, xxvii; relates the miraculous deaths of Sweyn, 357, and Prince Eustace, lxiii., 357; his Polycraticus cited, III., 326.
-, de Sithynge, III., 53.
-, St., of Lycopolis, III., 149, and note.
-, of Staunforth, a Franciscan at Bury, II., 274.
-, de Stokes, a monk appointed to take the place of the town chaplains during the riots, II., 336.
-, de Tadelowe, proctor, III., 70, f.
-, of Wadeshill, a Franciscan at Bury, II., 274.
-, of Wrangle, recovers his sight, III., 329.
-, de Wrotham, notary public, III., 101.
- Jordan Fautosme, places the assault on Norwich and Dunwich before the battle of Fornham, lvii., note; the landing of Leicester concealed from the Scots, lviii.
-, de Ros, claims an advowson, 265.
- Josaphat, an Indian king who turned monk, III., 150.
- Joseph, a monk, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 76.
- Julius Cæsar, III., 162.

- Jurmin, St., lxii, translated to Bury, 352, 361, 366; II., 291; his feretry, II., 289; his death at battle of Blythburg, lxii.
- Justiciars, John de Burseres, tries Bury rioters, II., 348.
-, Sir John Cavendish, III., xxvi, 128.
-, Roger Clifford, surprised by Prince David, III., 155.
-, John Cokyn, III., 205, f.
-, Dryver, tries rioters at Bury, III., 294.
-, Flegg, tries rioters at Bury, III., ib.
-, Walter de Friskenaye, tries Bury rioters, II., 348.
-, William of Girlingham, II., 368; III., 326.
-, John Haneford, or Hankford, III., 202, 205, f.
-, Robert Hill, III., 205, f., 208.
-, Oliver de Ingham, inquires into theft of the abbot's goods, II., 353.
-, William Lodyngton, III., 202.
-, Robert de Malmesthorp, tries Bury rioters, II., 348.
-, Richard Norton, III., 202.
-, John de Stonore, tries the Bury rioters, II., 348; annuls the charter extorted from Abbot Draughton, III., 302; inquires into theft of abbot's property, II., 353.
- Justitia ad Dominium Hibernia, III., 158-163.
- Justitia ad Scotia, III., 163-174.
- Justitia ad Walliam, III., 152-156.
- K.
- Karolus, a monk of Bury, II., 76.
- Kateshil, II., 113; identified, xlix.
- Kempe register cited, II., xxxi, note.
- Kenelm, a guardian of the shrine, 30.
- Keneliun, or Cenel Owen, invaded by John de Gray, II., 22.
- Kennett, III., 241.
- Kent, insurrections in, under Richard II., III., 126, 295.
-, Earl of, Hubert de Burgh. imprisoned, III., 27.
-, Countess of, takes refuge at Bury, III., 27.
-,, aids the bishop of Ely, III., 200.
- Kentford, 230.
- Kerfilium castle (Caerphilly), the younger Despenser hanged at, II., 328.
- Kersey, claimed by the Bishop of Ely, III., 200.
-, prior of, III., 68, and 63, note.
- Ketel, his death leads to the abolition of trial by combat in the jurisdiction of St. Edm., 301.
- Kings, of Cumberland, Eugenius, III., 166.
-,, Malcolm, III., 166.
-, of England, Alfred, called veridicus, I., lxi., 29; beats the Danes, 28, f.; honours St. Edmund, II., 234.
-,, Arthur, conquers Ireland, III., 161.
-,, Athelstan, 29, f.; II., 235; his suzerainty over Scotland, III., 166; attested by a miracle, ib., 218.
-,, Cnut, conciliates English clergy, xxvi; his charter to St. Ed. Abbey, ib., lxi., 46, 342, 361; II., 353; III., 2; replaces seculars by clerks, 358; III., 1; commences stone church at Bury, xxvii; his joint reign with Edmund Ironside, 39; good qualities, 46, 126; divides England into four provinces, 47; his death, 47, 127; III., 215, 357.
-,, Edgar, 29; charter to Bury, III., 196; II., 235; conquests, III., 166.
-,, Edmund, his charter to Bury, xxii, lxi., 29, note, 340; II., 235; III., 218.
-,,, Ironside, his murder, lxx., 39; reign, 119
-,, Edred, lxx., 29; II., 235; dealings with Scotland, III., 166, f.

Kings, of England—cont.

-, Edward the Confessor, his grants to Bury, xxvii., f., 261, 269, 363; 48, 128; visits Bury, 363; his life, by Osbert, lvi.; dealings with Scotland, III., 167, 229.
-, Edward the Elder, II., 235; his conquests, III., 166, 218.
-, the Martyr, 29; II., 235; III., 167.
-, I., birth, III., 292; coronation, 293; captured at Lewes, III., 30; grants the Dictum de Kenilworth, II., xxxvi.; urges Henry III. to reinstate the friars at Bury, II., 267; in the election of Thomas de Totyngton, 301, 318 f.; his visits to Bury, II., xxxvii., xliii. bis, xlv.; III., 31, 36; grants the abbey the privilege of inspecting weights and measures, II., xxxviii.; III., 32; infringes this, xliii.; leniency to Bury in the levy of 1281, xliii.; remits taxation of, fearing the fate of Sweyn, xliii., 365; orders a scrutiny of all convents, II., xlv.; confiscates the abbatial property during the dispute about Clericis Laicos, II., xlv.; his campaigns, III., 2, 3; Scotch, III., 169, 172; Welsh, III., 152 f.; taxes for, III., 34; grants to Bury, III., 194; Statute of Mortmain, 293; expulsion of Jews, ib.; marriage, ib.
-, II., his grants to Bury, III., 194; his deposition the signal for a peasant rising, II. xli., xlv., 329; his death, 328.
-, III., re-enters England with his mother, II., 235; his grants to Bury, III., 194; riots in the seventh year of his reign, 294; his sons, ib.; III., 39.
-, IV., III., 297, 358.
-, Edwy, 29; II., 235.
- Ethelred, II., 235; character, 246; revolt against, 246 f.; crowned, 29; expelled by Sweyn, 33; returns, 39, 119; relations with Scotland, III. 167.

Kings, of England—cont.

-, Hardeknut, 48, 127; charter to Bury, 363; III., 221; dealings with Scotland, 167.
-, Harold, 48, 127; III., 167.
-, Henry I., accession, II. 4; gives the abbacy to Robert, son of Hugh, without election, ib.; III., 5; suzerain of Scotland, III., 167; III., 236, 257.
-, II., his charter to Canterbury, l.; judges Baldwin's claim against St. Edmund's, ib. f. 255; defeats conspiracy of his sons at Fornham, lvi.; his charter to Bury, III., 84; dealings with William the Lion, III., 167 f.; his accession, marriage, and French possessions, III., 157; conquest of Ireland, 158–63.
-, III., birth, II., 15; marriage, III., 292; frequently visits Bury, II., xxxiv., xxxvii.; place of his death; ib., xxxvii.; is not asked to confirm Abbot Symon's election, 259 note; his grants to Bury, III., 194; re-instates the Friars at Bury, II., 267; letters on their behalf, 280 f.; names his son after St. Edmund, III. 28; at Lewes, 30; the Welsh rebellion, 152; protests against John's tribute to the Pope, 161.
-, IV., writ to Sheriff of Suffolk in the quarrel between Bury and the Bishop of Ely, III., xxviii., 193; is patron of both churches, xxviii., 295; writ to the Bishop of Norwich respecting Woolpit, 101; further proceedings, 101–5.
-, V., III., 201, 295.
-, VI., III., 296; crowned at Westminster and Paris, ib.; charter to St. Edmund, 357; his letters, xxxiii.; asks a loan of Abbot Curteys, 242, 244; invites him to the founding of King's College Chapel, xx., 246; grants a license in mortmain to the abbey, xxxiii., 261; asks Curteys' aid in raising supplies, 262–71; visits to Bury, xxx.–xxxii., I., 275.

Kings, of England—cont.

-, John, new light thrown on his character by the Electio Hugonis II., viii., xxiii.; retains the abbatial property for a year and a half, ix., 30; seizes the entire property of the abbey, 73, cp. 89; resists the claim of the monks to independence in their elections, ix., 34; III., 14; wishes to sell Hugo's confirmation, II., xiii., xv., xix., 105, 124.
-,, his favourable attitude to Hugo in Poitou, 89; changes on his return to England, xiv., 92–101; visits Bury, xv. [8 f.]; holds fruitless debate with the monks, xvi.–xviii., 96.
-,, his attitude again favourable after the report of the papal commissioners, xiii., 123, xviii.; interviews Hugo, xviii., 123, xix., 124, xx. f. 128; III., 21–4; declares the sacrist to be the real cause of the delay, xxii., 129.
-,, demands a loan from the abbey, II., 25.
-,, his coronation, II., 8 f.; expeditions to France, 9–13, 14; to Ireland, 18; to Wales, 19, 24; dealings with Scotland, 17, 20; III., 168 f.; rights as to marriage of a Scotch princess, III., 169.
-,, his quarrel with the Pope, II., 15–18, 21, 24; he retaliates for the interdict, 16; his submission forced, III., 161: and revocable, 162.
-,, holds a convention at Oxford, II., 12; his behaviour at his mother's death, 13.
-, Richard I., Samson's proposed visit to him in captivity, 259; afterwards carried out, xlix.; his ransom, 251, 298; quarrels with Samson, xlix. 287, 299; tax on tourneys, 260; at Acre, II., 6; his death, 314; II., 7; his gifts to St. Edmund's, III., 7.
- II., visits Bury, III., xxvii., 132 f.; treatment of the provisor Bromfield, 117, 123, 125, 131; in the election of Tymworth, 114, 132, 135.

Kings, of England—cont.

-,, rhym: upon the severities of his 14th year, 295; his burial, ib.
-, Stephen, I., xxxv., xxxvii.; III., 157.
-, William I., lxi., 317; letter to Sheriff of Norfolk, lxi., 350; the Conquest, 57; his charter to St. Edmund's, III., 4, 79.
-,, II., suzerain over Scotland, III., 167; his death, II., 4; miscalled Longsword 77, 145.
- Kings of Scotland:
-, Alexander, III., 167; helps Henry III. against de Montfort, 163 f. 167, 169; does homage to Edward I., III., 293.
-, Constantine, III., 166 bis.
-, David, does homage to England, III., 167; as does his son David, ib.; his daughter's marriage, ib.
-, Duncan, substituted for Donald by William Rufus, III., 167
-, Edgar, III., 167.
-,, John Baliol, does homage, III., 170; rebels, ib.; outrages committed by his troops, 171.
-,, Kynedius, III., 166.
-,, Malcolm, III., 167.
-,, William the Lion assists the English princes in rebellion, lvii.; does homage to Henry II., III., 167–169.
- King's College, Cambridge, foundation of the chapel, III., 247.
- Kingston, Ethelred II. crowned at, 29.
- Kirkstede, Henry de, a monk, III., 100, 339.

L.

- La Vie Saint Edmund le Rey, II., 137–250, 137, note; occasion of its composition, xxiv.; English words in, xxv.; compared with the song of

- La Vie Saint Edmund le Rey—cont.
 Dermot, xxv.; Latin and English sources of, 228, note; glossary to, 371, ff.
- Lacford, Henry, his wife conveys threats to the sacrist, III., 141, 182.
- Lailand, 273.
- Lakenheath, John de, III., xxvi.
, or Lakingheath, register, corrected as to abbot Robert, II., I., lxii., Appendix B. §16. Quarrel over the market between Ely and Bury, 329.
, 302; a gift from Cnut, 361, 343, III., 128, 193, 219.
- Lakin, J. C. and A., two monks threatened by rioters, III., 129.
- Lambert, abbot of St. Nicholas, visits St. Edmundsbury, iv.; miraculous aid to, 176.
- Lancaster, duke, John of Gaunt, III., xxiii., 294; his palace of the Savoy burnt, xxv., 295, 114, 126.
, earl Thomas, his friends avenge him on Despenser, II., 328.
- Lancettus, derivation of, 301, note.
- Langewode, John de, III., 339.
- Langham, John, III., 143, 358.
, Robert, III., 358.
, Thos., III., 358.
- Langley, abbey of, Richard II. buried at, III., 295.
, an excommunicated monk of, at Bury, III., x., xi.; a canon of, at Bury, 348; abbot John's complaints, 349.
- Lark, river, lix.
- Laurence de Somerton, III., 82.
- Leak, or Leyk, III., 329, and note, 332.
- Leicester, besieged by De Lucy, lvii.; fate of the citizens, ib., note, 364.
- Leicester, Earl Robert de Bellomont, at the battle of Fornham, lvi.–lviii., 364, II., 5, III., 6; the countess, in arms, II., 6 her ring recovered, lix.
- Leicester, Earl, Simon de Montfort, joined by Llewellyn, III., 152; Scotland aids Henry III. against him, III., 163. At Lewes, III., 30.
- Leofric, Earl, III., 229.
, name of two guardians of the shrine, 30. The deacon resists Leofstan, 31.
- Leofstan, balked by St. Edmund in his attempt to break sanctuary, xxiv., 30, 113; II., 236–240.
, See Abbots of St. Edmund's.
, a young noble, punished for viewing St. Edmund's body, 23.
- Leofwin, Earl, invites Sweyn over, II., 246, and note.
- Leonardus Patrasso, bishop of Albano, q.v.
- Leuns, castle taken by Philip, II., 10.
- Lewes, battle of, III., 30, 292; Llewellyn at, 152.
- Leyston, abbot of, III., 64, and 63, note.
- Liber Consuetudinarius, III., xxi.
- Lichfield, William of Cornhill bishop of, in abbot Hugo's election, II., 102. See note.
, Wulfsy, bishop of, III., 228.
, a clerk of, saved by St. Edmund, I., 195.
- Liebermann, Dr., has already printed Chronicle, I. of Vol. II. On interpolations in the Annales S. Edmundi, II., 3, note. On relation between Wendover and the Annales, II., 7, note. On John's expedition to Gascony, II., 8, note. Supplies a lacuna, ib. On the fall of St. Edmund's tower, II., 19, note.
- Lincoln, III., 165, William the Lion at, 169.
, archdeacon of, is refused sanctuary at Bury, II., xxxii.
, Bishop Hugh, restores monks at Coventry, II., 6. Consecrated by Laugton in France, 18.
, dean of (1257), reinstates friars at Bury, II., 266, III., 57.
, dean of, John de Shepey, ambassador at Rome, III., 125.
, Earl Henry de Lacy, II., 366, and note; his benefactions to St. Edmund's, ib.

- Lindesey, or Lindsey, seized by Linde, II., 148, III., 334; a knight of, cured of paralysis, 197.
- Linlithgow, Edward I. at, II., 301, 308.
- Lionel, duke of Clarence, III., 294.
- Lisieux, Gilbert or Ghislebert, bishop of, chief physician to William I., lxxii.
- Litster, Jack, III., xxv.
- Littleport, II., 364, and note.
- Llandaff, bishop of (1383), III., xxviii.; consecrates abbot Tymworth, 133.
- Llewellyn, leads Welsh against John, II., 21; joins S. de Montfort, III., 152; his first submission, 153; revolt and death, 153, 155, 253.
- Lodbroc or Lothbroc, his murder in England followed by the invasion of Hinguar, xv., xvii.; another version, xviii.; how far to be identified with Ragnar Lodbrok, xix.; Galfrid's version, I., 103, II., 190, 192.
- Lodere, Richard and John, III., 142.
- Lodyngton. See Justiciars.
- Lomb, John, III., 358.
- London, St. Edmund's relics translated to, xxv., 40, 120; merchants of, claim freedom from tolls at Bury, 278.
-, meeting of bishops at (1189), II., 5; massacre of Jews, ib.; taken by the barons, 127; riots at end of Edward II.'s reign, 329.
-, Synod of (1100), III., 151; general council of (1104), 145.
-, taxed for Welsh campaign, III., 34; liberal subsidy for French war, 270.
-, Tower of, III., 123, 191; Llewellyn's head, set upon, 155; and David's, 156; French prisoners kept in, after Agincourt, 296; Henry VI. dies there, ib.
-, Carmelite or White Friars in, III., 208.
-, Church of St. Mary de Arcubus, III., 106.
-, Aldermary or Olde Marie, III., 107, 112, note.
- London—cont.
-, bishops of; Elfvy confirms Abbot Uvius, III., 1.
-, Aelfhun, tries to secure the relics of St. Edmund, xxv., 45, 124.
-, Alured, III., 228.
-, Robert Braybrook (1383), consecrates Abbot Tymworth, III., 136.
-, Richard Clifford, III., xxix.
-, Hugh, III., 236.
- Long, John, III., 143.
- Longge, Henry, III., 358.
- Longinus, St., as monk, III., 146.
- Losinga, Herbert. See Norwich, bishops of.
- Louis VII. of France, crowned during the life of his father, III., 157; is divorced from Eleanor of Aquitaine, ib.; as Dauphin is promised the English crown, III., 161; receives knighthood, II., 17.
- Louis, son of Philip II., captures Godfrey of Louvain, II., 22; his quarrel with the Count of Flanders, ib.
- Loundres, Henry. See Archbishop of Dublin.
- Lucca, 68.
- Lucius, king of Britain, III., 150.
- Lucy, Richard de, justiciary, puts down the rebellion of Henry II.'s sons, lvi.-lviii.
- Ludovicus de Germale, III., 292.
- Luke. See Bishop of Evreux.
- Lullingstone, abbot Draughton taken to, II., 352, and note.
- Luton, II., 73.
- Lydgate, John, probable author of Cartæ Versificatæ, III., xix, xxx, 215.
- Lyng, III., 335, and note.
- Lynn, St. Edmund, lands near, II., 179.
- Lyons, council of, III., 161.
- Lyrlinge, Robert de, rector of Brauncester, III., 100.
- Lyving. See Worcester, bishops of.

M.

- Macarius, St., III., 149.
- MacWilliam, his raid on Scotland, II., 20.
- Maidenbower, or Maydenbure, St. Edmund lands at, 99, II., 79. Miracle of the springs gushing forth, 100, II., 180. Hunstanton built near, 100.
- Malmesbury, abbot Nicholas of, 228, and note.
- Manhall, II., 294, f.
- Manors of St. Edmund, list, 267; custody of, 320. The gifts of Edward the Confessor, 363, f.
- Manthorpe, William, rector of Cotton, III., 94.
- Margaret, Princess of Scotland, guardianship of, III., 164; her death, III., 169.
- Marie de France, lays of, II., 138.
- Mark, St., as monk, III., 146.
- Marmande, III., 266, note, 267.
- Martha, St., the first nun, III., 146.
- Martin, St., III., 148.
- Matilda. See Queens of England.
- Matildis de Braose, or Brausa, gifts to St. Edmund's, II., 19, note, III., 9; starved to death by King John, ib.
-, of Winchester, III., 328.
- Matthew de Aquasparto, Bishop of Porto, in the election of Thomas of Totyngton, II., 315.
-, Mantel, II., 90.
-, Paris, his account of Hinguar's raid, xviii.; adds to Wendover's account of the taking of Leicester, lvii., note; refers to the Council of Westminster, 259, note; mistakes the date of John's and Abbot Hugo's return to England, II., xiv., 14, 92, note.
-, cited, II., xxvii., f., and note, xxix., note.
- Matthew Paris—cont.
-, story of Henry III. and the abbots who protested against papal exactions, xxx.; Abbot Henry excused from attending the Council of Lyons, xxx.; Abbot Edmund ridiculed for taking the cross, xxxi.
-, of Westminster, and the legend of St. Edmund, xviii.
- Maurice, juvenis, a monk of Bury, II., 76.
-, chancellor to William I., III., 236.
- Melchisedec, III., 145.
- Melford, a manor of St. Edmund's, 275, III., 33, 66; a fair established here, II., xxx.; Abbot Symon dies here, xli.; the legate Nicholas stays at, 46; wood procured from, 292, f.
- Melen, Menlan, Mellent, Mollent, Henry V. at, III., 295. Albold comes from, II., 4, and note.
- Melun, Hugh of Lincoln, consecrated at, II., 18.
- Mendham, prior of, III., 63, note, 64.
-, Thomas of, claims to bear the standard of St. Edm., 262.
- Mercuriuss, St., and the death of Julian, 36, and note.
- Merewell, or Marwell, Samson blessed at, II., 5, and note, III.; 7, note.
- Merleberg, supposed disaster to Queen Isabella at, II., 23.
- Messenger, Thos., III., 143.
- Mewsen, Meaux, III., 296.
- Mey, John, III., 358.
-,, the younger, ib.
- Michael Cabalie, III., 42.
- Milan, St. Ambrose at, III., 149.
- Mildenhall, manor granted to the abbey, xxviii., 48, 363; Leicester marching there is surprised at Fornham, lviii.; re-purchased by Samson, 249 f.; its revenues, 281, 289, 321; claimed by the Earl of Gloucester, II., xxxi.; in the riots, II., 349, 352, III., 141, f., III., xxvi., 126, f., 181, 184, 186.
- Milding, murder at, 256.
- Miller, Thos., III., 142.

Minutio, or blood-letting, a monastic rule,
 221, note, II., 63.
 Mirabel, Queen Eleanor besieged at, III., 10.
 Miraculous interposition, Samson's theory
 of, 143.
 Mollent. See Melen.
 Monasticon, contains the Gesta Sacris- tarum, II., xxxiii., 289, note.
 Monks, their origin, III., 145, 147.
, White (Cistercian), excommunicated for celebrating worship during interdict, II., 17.
, Eleigh, murderers at, arrested by Samson, 254; dispute with Canterbury about, 255.
 Montauban, Charles VII. at, III., 266, f.
 Montfort, castle, II., 12.
, Hugh, III., 237.
, Robert de, duel with Henry of Essex, 273, f.
, Simon de. See Leicester, Earl
 of.
 Moese, John, III., 320.
 Morcar, Earl, invites Sweyn over, II., 246,
 and note.
 Morieux, Thos., III., 140.
 Morley, Sir Robt., directed to suppress the disturbances at Bury, II., xlvii.,
 337, 347; his further career, xlviii.
 Mortmain, first statute of, II., xlii., III.,
 34; petition for a license in, 259,
 293; the license, 261.
 Motte, John, and Anneys his wife, III., 259.
 Mowbray, Lord, III., 186-8.
 Moyse Hall, Thos. of Thornham at, II.,
 349, and note.
 Much Hadham, III., xxviii.
 Mundford, Hugh de, witnesses Arfast's renunciation, 64.
 Mundsley, III., 318.
 Munnehall, III., 79.
 Murimuth, cited for the death of Sir John Beaumont, II., xlix.

N.

Natalis, a monk of Angers, 177.
 Nedging, Neddyng, III., 210.
 Neuton, 213; losses at during the riots, II.,
 342; identified with Nowton, xlix.
 Newhall, manor of St. Edmundsbury, losses during riot, II., 341.
 Newmarket, II., 332, III., 39, 123, 127, 188.
 Nicaise, St., account of, II., 4, note.
 Nicholas, a burgess of Bury, 277.
, cellarer, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., xii., xx., 31, 34, 38, 43, 51, 54, 62, 66, f., 70, 76, 123, 128.
, chaplain, III., 14, 21, 22.
, hosteller, in abbot Symon's election, II., 253.
, the legate, bishop of Tusculum,
 in abbot Hugo's election, II., xii., 46,
 41, 42-44, 45-47, 55, 57, 61, 62.
, St., of Angers, 177; narrative of John of Bari, lxxiii.; cult of St.
 Nicholas in England, ib., 73, 176;
 invoked with St. Edmund, 374, III., 148.
, de Agla, professor of canon law,
 III., 72.
, de Bathonia, proctor for convent,
 III., 95, 106, f., 109.
, Brakspear. See Popes, Adrian
 IV.
, of Dunstable, master, II., 79, 80, 83, 85, 87, 94, 107-9, 111, 113.
, Romanus, in abbot Hugo's election, II., 54, 76.
, de Titteshall, III., 86-93.
, de Waringeford, nominated for abbot of St. Edmund's, 228, and note.
, of Warwick, sacrist, II., 294.
 Nigellus, a monk, of Bury, II., 51, 76.
 Nitria, monks of, III., 148.

- Norbert, St., founds the Præmonstratensian Order, III., 151.
- Norfolk, archdeacon of, III., 68.
-, Duke of, John Mowbray, dealings with Bury, III., 241.
-, Earl Roger Bigot, III., 326.
- Norgate, Miss, her "Hist. of the Angevin Kings" cited, II., 8, bis.
- Norman, a harbour, III., 330.
-, servant to abbot Baldwin, saved miraculously, 70, 140.
- Normandy and Kings of England, III., 187.
- North, all evil comes from the, 9.
-, aquilo, unde omne malum, II., xii.
- Northampton, III., 115; Parliament at, III., 169; precentor visits council at, II., 55.
- Northern lights, II., 13.
- Northumbria, seized by Goths, II., 148; invaded by Hinguar, II., 195.
- Northwold, Hugo de. See (1) Abbots of St. Edmund's; (2) under Hugo.
- Norton. See Justiciars.
- Norwich, not taken before the battle of Fornham, lvii., note; see transferred here from Thetford, and the cathedral takes the caruage granted to St. Edmund, lxiii., 362; contribution from St. Edmund's towards maintaining a watch in the castle, 270; the Waite-fe, 271; plundered by the "disinherited," II., xxxvi.; cathedral and priory burnt by rioters, xxxvii.; rioters tried at, 348.
-, tax for Welsh campaign, III., 34; visited by archbishop Arundell, III., 184; who reconciles the bishop and the monks, ib.
-, Synod at, in 1344, III., (56), 321.
-, bishops of.
-, Alnwick, William, III., xxxi.
-, Bateman, Wm., attempts to exercise jurisdiction over St. Edmund's, III., xi.-xiv., 56, f., 320; papal authority, 56, 58; letter to the - Norwich, bishops of—cont.
- archdeacon of Sudbury, 57; two further suits, 73; excommunicates the king's messenger, 323; is fined, xv., 227, 324; his death, 326, and note.
-, Brown, Thos., and King's College, III., 247; letter to abbot Curteys, 248.
-, Herbert de Losinga, claims to assist in the translation of the relics of St. Edmund, xxxiv., 87; revives Arfast's claims, xxxvi., lxii., 353, and note, III., 5; attempts to fix the see at Bury, 353, 355; secures the caruage for building Norwich cathedral, 362; III., 357.
-, John, and the revenues of Woolpit, III., 81.
-, John de Gray, his election to Canterbury quashed, II., 15; his defeat in Ireland, 22; in abbot Hugo's election, 54.
-, John of Oxford, II., 22, note.
-, Roger de Skerning, seeks asylum at Bury, II., xxxvi. and note, III., 31.
-, Spenser, Henry, in the affair of Woolpit, III., 101, ff., 111.
-, Suffield, Walter, charter as to Woolpit, III., 81, ff.
-, Thomas de Blunville or Blunville, at St. Edmund's, III., 26, and note.
-, William, and the advowson of Hungeton, 265.
-, prior of, III., 68 and note.
- Nottingham, John at, II., 2, f.
-, abbot Hugo visits John at, II., 38.
-, castle, III., 124.
-, Earl of, executed, III., 295.
- Nun, the first, III., 146.

O.

- Octavian, Antipope, xliii.
 Odo, the priest, his servant cured, 164.
, bishop, signatory to Edmund's charter, 341.
 Offa, king of East Engle, adopts St. Edmund, 94, II., 150, f., 153, f., 157, 162, III., 348; not to be confounded with the kings of Mercia or Essex, 97, III., 159; the latter becomes a monk, 160.
,, at Jerusalem, II., 155.
,, his death, 160.
 Oklie, Edmund, III., 358.
 Oliver le Gros, sheriff of Suffolk, III., 190.
 Ordeal by water, 367.
 Ording. See Abbots of St. Edmunds.
 Orford, Hinguar's descent upon, II., 196.
 Origen, as monk, III., 147.
 Orleans, Duke of, at Agincourt, III., 296.
 Orpen, Mr., editor of "The Song of Dermot and the Earl," II., xxv.
 Osbern, John, III., 177.
 Osberne, chaplain and counsellor to prior Herbert, II., 110.
 Osbert, a monk of Bury, II., 75.
, of Clare, his work incorporated by Samson, xxxix., liii.-lvi.; general account of, lvi.; text of the prologue, 152; letter to the monks of St. Edmund's, 153.
 Osgod Clapa, story of, xl., 135; lxxii., 54-56, 135. His manor of Pakenham given to St. Edmund, 364.
 Osmund, III., 236.
 Oswen, tends relics of St. Edmund, 20; II., 222; III., 352.
 Otho, papal legate, and the Friars at Bury, II., xxx.; III., 28.
, king of the Romans, II., 15 note; visits John, 15; receives homage after Philip of Swabia's death, 16; sends duke of Saxony to John, 17;

Otho—cont.

- crowned emperor, 18; breach with Pope, ib.; excommunicated, 19, 20; further communications with John, 21; his marriage, ib.
 Ottobone, papal legate, at Bury, II., xxxvii.; excommunicates the Disinherited, III., 31; mediates for Llewellyn, III., 153.
 Owen, brother of Llewellyn, III., 154.
 Oxenedes, III., 29, 31.
 Oxford, the great bridge falls, III., 295.
, assembly of barons at, in 1204, grant aids to John, II., 12; visited by John, 14; Hugo goes to meeting at, 124.
 Oxirinchus, city of, III., 150.

P.

- Pachomius, St., compiles a monastic rule, III., 147; which was used by St. Benedict, 150.
 Paganus de Camirciis ravages Wales, III., 153.
, the Lombard, an advocate, in abbot Hugo's election, II., xviii., 124; III., 21.
 Page, Thos., III., 358.
 Pakenham, a manor of St. Edmund, 364; attached to the cellary, II., 125; losses during riots, 341; III., 84.
 Palegrave, a manor of St. Edmund, 215, 245.
 Pandulf, legate in England, II., 19; III., 161.
 Papal commission, in election of abbot Hugo, II., xii., 69, 71, 74; exceptions to, 81; letter to king, 83. Meet at St. Alban's, 80; Bury, 90, 103, 115, 117; Royston, 91, 102; Reading, 104, 114; account of proceedings, 116; deliver judgment, 117-121; and enforce it, 122.
, in the expulsion of the Friars, II., 271 f., 281.

- Papal domination rejected by English barons, III., 172 f.
- Papias, grammarian, III., 145 note.
- Parishes instituted, III., 151.
- Passio Sancti Athelberti, lvi.
 Edmundi, 6–25.
- Passmenter, Robt., III., 358.
- Patrick, St., III., 149.
- Paul, St., the first hermit, III., 148.
- Pecche, John, III., 99.
- Pembroke, John crosses from, to Ireland, II., 18.
 earl of, William Marshal, justiciar, his strong action in abbot Hugo's election, II., 73, 75, 77 f., 127.
 earl of, III., 24.
- Penny, bent, as a charm, III., 328, 333.
- Penrith, English fief held by king of Scotland, III. 164.
- Pepyr, John, III., 142.
- Peter, a citizen of Lucca, 137.
 bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, III., 236.
 of Bradfield, III., 42, 47.
 de Broc, a monk, in Samson's election, 223.
 de Brystowe, minister of the Franciscans at Bury, II., 274.
 de Clopton, prior of St. Edmund's, III., 38, 89.
 de Leu, in the affair of the comesationes, II., 63, 73.
 Lombard, possibly a teacher of Samson, xliii.
 St., of Milan, III., 151.
 de Thifteshall [Titteshale, Thistleshale], cellarer, II., 125, xi., 66; in abbot Hugo's election, II., 68, 75, 77, 79, 94, 115, 123, 125; III., 22 bis.
 de Wridewell, a monk of Bury, 75, 115.
- Philip, II., his quarrel with John, II., 9 f.; settles dispute between his son and count of Flanders, 22.
 a monk of Bury, II., 44, 67, 76, 94; his ordination, 109, 115, 126; III., 22.
- Philip—cont.
 Basseth, envoy to Council of Lyons, III., 162.
 de Brunham, trustee of abbatial property during a vacancy, II., 73.
 de Hulekotes, carries a sword before king John at Bury, II., xv. 95, xvii., 100.
 de Lancauo, of Naples, professor of canon law, III., 72.
 of Swabia, murdered, II., 16.
- Piper, John, II., 330.
- Play of the Ascension at Bury, II., 361.
- Plymouth burnt, II., 295.
- Poitou, held by the duke of Aquitaine, III., 156; inherited by Eleanor, ib.
- Polsted, Ralph, brings back abbot Draughton, II., 353.
- Pontigny, the bishop of Worcester dies at, II., 21.
- Pope, royal surrender to, revocable, III., 162 and note.
 Adrian IV., born at St Albans, III., 158; history of, ib. and note; his bull authorising the conquest of Ireland, 159; the conquest not really based on this, 161; III., 164.
 Alexander II., receives Lanfranc with honour, II., 4; visited by abbot Baldwin, grants exemptions to Bury, xxxii., 61, 345; III. 3.
 Alexander III. visited by Samson, xliii., 252; his bull to St. Edmund's, lxi., 37, 253, 344; his bull of independence to St. Edmund's Abbey, xxxviii., 253; III., 78, 80 and note, 85; his second bull, III., 85.
 Alexander IV., III., 29; makes abbot Symon come to Rome in person for confirmation, 30; II., 255; grants bull to the Friars, II., 264.
 Benedict XII., confirms abbot de Bernham, III., ix., 47.
 Boniface VIII. confirms Abbot Thomas's election, II., 314; issues the bull "Clericis Laicos," II., xlv.; opposes Edward I.'s claims upon Scotland, III., 163 f., 165 f., 359, cp. 172.

Pope—cont.

-, Celestine III., commissions Samson to restore the Coventry monks, 295; II. 6.
-, Clement, St., institutes parishes, III, 151.
-, III., and English supremacy over Scotland, III., 168.
-, V., confirms abbot Draughton, III., 38; bull to the abbey, 321.
-, VI., III., xii., sanctions taxation in Norwich diocese, 56 f., 68 f., 177.
-, VII. (antipope), III., xxii.
-, Eleutherius, III., 150.
-, Eugenius III., makes N. Brakspear a cardinal, III., 158; appropriates the town rents for the use of the sacrist, I., 276 n.
-, and the anti-pope Felix V., III., 242.
-, Gregory, St., and the foundation of the Benedictines, III., 150.
-, VII. rebukes Arfast, xxxiii.
-, IX., sends visitors to the exempt houses, II., xxix.; approves William the Lion's submission to England, III., 168; his bull to St. Edmund's, III., 27.
-, X., grants Edward I. a tithe on church property, III., 31.
-, Innocent III. sends a ring to Richard I., I., 299; exempts the abbey from visitation except by a legate, 285; his ecclesiastical tendencies, II., ix.; appoints a commission to inquire into Hugo's election, xii. f., 69, 118; III., 16, 22; his sentence against John, 18; breach with Otho, ib. ff.; sends Pandulf to England, 12; releases Englishmen from their allegiance, 24.
-, IV. and Wales, III., 152; excuses abbot Henry from attending the Council of Lyons, on the ground of illness, II., xxx.; confirms abbot Walpole's election in return for payment of certain of his debts, xxxi.

Pope, Innocent IV.—cont.

-, John XXII., directions as to the recovery of ecclesiastical property stolen during the riots, III., 41 f.; III., 96, 106.
-, Lucius III. appoints Samson a judge in the church courts, xlix.
-, Martin and king Alfred, II., 234.
-, V., election of, III., xxix.
-, Nicholas (anno 1248) and the Carmelites, III., 151.
-, III. confirms abbot John, III., 34.
-, Urban IV., his rescript for the expulsion of the Franciscans from Bury, II., xxxiii., 268, 271, 281.
-, VI., III., xxii., appoints Bromfield as "provisor" to the abbey, III., 113 note, 115 f.; regards Tymworth's election as provisional, 132; agrees to a new election, 135.
- Portsmouth, John embarks at, II., 9; returns to, 12; second expedition, 14; a third and return, ib.
- Præmonstratensians instituted, III., 151.
- Prentyz, John, ringleader at Bury, II., 329.
- Privilegium Fori, III., 98.
- Provisors, Statute of, II., xxv.; enforced by Richard II., III., 117 and note.
- Pyamon or Piammon, III., 145 and note.
- Pye, Henry, III., 142.

Q.

Queens of England :

-, Anne visits Bury with Richard II., III., 132.
-, Eleanor (wife of Henry II.), gifts to St. Edmund's, 250 f.; besieged at Mirabel, II., 10; death, 13.

- Queens of England—cont.
 of Castille (Edward I.), visits Bury, III., 31. of Provence (Henry III.), urges reinstatement of Friars at Bury, II., 67.
 Elfyva, Elgyva, or Emma, wife of Cnut, attests Edmund's charter, 341; her signature does not appear in Cod. Dipl., lxi.; III., 219 f.
 II., 226; her interest in St. Edmund's, III., 1.
 Isabella, of Angouleme, date of her marriage to John, II., 8; 23.
 wife of Edward II., invades England, II., xlvi., 327; reaches Bury, 328; takes 800 marks left there by justiciary, xlvi.; wishes to save Hugh Despenser, 328; III., 39.
 Katherine, wife of Henry V., III., 296.
 Margaret of Anjou, coronation, III., 245. wife of Edward I., III., 293.
 Matilda, or Maud, wife of William I., consecrated by Aldred, II., 3; gives Workton to St. Edmund, ib.; III., 4; III., 235.
 Empress, left heiress by the drowning of her brothers, III., 157; marriage, ib.; suzerain of Scotland, 167.
 Queen-gold, 250, and note.
 Quinci, Saer de, II., 21.
- R.
- R. of Oxford, a monk of Bury, II., 76.
 Raby, i.e., "Rabbi," III., 127.
 Radingas, or Radinges. See Reading.
 Radepunt, castle of, besieged by Philip II., II., 10.
 Radulf, builds an altar under Abbot Hugh; his vision, 366.
 the gate porter, occasion of a quarrel between Samson and the monks, II., 315.
 Radulf, a monk of Bury, attests two miracles, 179, 192.
 de Carleflod, authority for a miracle, 368.
 Rakeham (Rougham?), III., 22.
 Ralph, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 76. sacrist of St. Edmund's at the translation of St. Botulf, II., 389.
 sub-sacrist of St. Edmund's at the translation of St. Botulf, II., 291. de Bocking, II., 352.
 of Cavenham, sub-cellarer, III., 89. of London, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 63, 76, 108.
 of Peinteneye, sub-sacrist, III., 89.
 Torny, proctor for Thomas of Totyngton, II., 320.
 Ramsey, abbey, 7, note; the monks choose an outsider for abbot, 329; III., xii., holds possessions in Norwich diocese, 60, 69; 322.
 Ralph, sheriff of Suffolk, III., 189; removed, 190.
 Ranulf, clerk to the cellarer, 281.
 a monk of Bury, II., 76.
 a Norman knight, turns monk, 75.
 Flambard. See Durham, bishops of. de Glanville, justiciar, 215, and note; dealings with Samson, 232, 255; with Bury, 276.
 Reading, or Radingas, Henry of Essex in the Abbey, li., 272; papal legate holds council at, II., 15, 114; Langton attends general council at, 39.
 Reap-silver, 299.
 Rearysby, Hugh, III., 358.
 Reddewelle, losses in the riots, II., 345.
 Redgrave, III., 66, 68; buildings, 299.
 Rēdham, III., 68.
 Reepham, III., 337, and note.

- Reginald, chaplain of St. Edmund's, appointed to the schools at Beccles, III., xvii., 182.
-, sub-prior of Canterbury, II., 15.
-, de Brome, a monk of Bury, III., 89.
-, of Offord, or Ufford, chamberlain of St. Edmund's, III., 40, 89.
- Registrum Pinchbeck, II., xxvi., note.
- Registrum Curteys, III., xix., 241-79.
-, Letters :—
1. Complaint of trespass against the Duke of Norfolk, 241.
 2. From the king, asking loan for embassy abroad, 242.
 3. From the king, asking loan for marriage, 244.
 4. From the king, inviting Abbot Curteys to the foundation of King's College chapel, 246, xx.
 5. From Bishop of Norwich, asking prayers for the Duke of Somerset, 248.
 6. Appointment of a schoolmaster, 249.
 7. Convention with Westminster Abbey, 251.
 8. From Abbot of St. Alban's, re the Council of Basle, 252.
 9. From J. Fornesete, at Basle, 254.
 10. Bill of John Yeldham, 258.
 - 11, 12. A license in mortmain, 259 and 261.
 - 13-16. Royal letters concerning a subsidy in Suffolk, 262, 265, 269, 271.
 17. Abbot Curteys to certain chief constables, 273.
 18. Report of other constables, 274.
 19. Report of the abbot, 276.
 29. Monition concerning library books, 278.
- Resus, son of Mayllon, III., 155 bis.
- Reymond de Nogeris, prior of St. Caprais, Agen, exacts a papal tithe, III., 31.
- Richard I. See England, kings of.
- U 79126.
- Richard, king of Germany, at battle of Lewes, III., 30.
-, notary public, III., 99.
-, precentor; opposes Abbot Hugo's election, II., xii., 35, 36, f., 52, 70, 36-88, 110, 121, f.; his blunders, ib.; accompanies Hugo to Sherwood, 123, and Runnymede, xx., 281; intrigues with the king, 41, f., 55, f., 66, 94, 99; his speeches 43, 56, 80, 90; at Northampton, 55, and St. Albans, 79; in the affair of the comessationes, 57; III., 11, 19, f., 21, f., 24.
-, sub-prior, in Abbot Symon's election, II., 256.
-, firmarius, and the convent beer, II., 67.
-, the Bald, Calvus. See R. de Sterteford.
-, of Bosco, prior, III., 28, f.
-, of Brunne, of Grantebidge, sacrist, II., 295.
-, of Colchester, sustains the lawsuit with Richard, earl of Gloucester, II., 295.
-, of Derham, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 90, 92.
-, son of Drogo, his son assaults a poor man, 248.
-, de Flammeville, in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 58, 76.
-, Froisel, kidnaps Abbot Draughton, II., 350.
-, de Frostenden, a monk of Bury, in Symon's election, II., 257.
-, son of Earl Ghislebert, or Gilbert, attests Arfast's renunciation, 63; III., 237.
-, of Hengham, accompanies Abbot Hugo to Runnymede, II., xx., 128, and London, 94; 48, 70, 76, 79, 129; III., 21, 24.
-, of Hingham, views the relics of St. Edmund, 313.
-, of Horningsheath, sacrist, his early retirement, II., 294.
- D D

Richard—cont.

-, de l'Isle. See abbots of St. Edmund's.
-, de Marisco. See Durham, bishops of.
-, of Newport, changes sides in Hugo's election, II., 79, 97; a new belfry keeps his name, II., 293.
-, of Poitou, archdeacon, aids William de Curzun, 149, and note.
-, Poore, II., 69, note. See Salisbury, Dean of.
-, of St. Victor, possibly a teacher of Samson, xliii.
-, of Saxham, of the free choice party in Hugh's election, II., xii, 76; 31, 53, xvii, 99; at Staines, xx., 54, 63, 75, 115; sub-cellarer, 67; deposed, 68; at London, 94, 106, 108, f., 127; III., 23, f.
-, of Stertesford, a monk of Bury, II., 44, 57, f., 61, 75, 115; appointed custos criptarum, 122, and confessor, 123; III., 20.
-, sub-sacrist of Bury, II., 75.
-, Taillehaast, a monk of Bury, his violence, II., 36, 44, 52, 100.
-, at-Wood, prior of St. Edmund's, II., xxx.
- Ridel, Galfridus. See Ely, bishops of.
- Ringmere, battle of, II., 245.
- Rions, or Royau, III., 266, and note.
- Riquier, St., Abbey of, 70.
- Riseby, or Rysby, Samson's gratitude to the two knights of, 248; riots at, II., 349, f., and 343; III., 188; the R. gate of Bury, III., 304, f.
- Rishanger, asserts that Henry III. died at Bury, II., xxxiv.; III., 152-6, 163-173.
- Robert, son of William I., III., 234.
-, a monk, saved from shipwreck, 163.
-, a boy, said to have been martyred by the Jews, 223; III., 6.

Robert—cont.

-, chamberlain of Bury, II., xvii, 97; 30, 34, 38, f., 41, 68, 70, 76; III., 12, 14.
-, chamberlain, in Symon's election, II., 253, 256, ff.
-, prior, lays foundation stone of new chapel, III., 32; resigns owing to ill-health, III., 34.
-, prior, a rival candidate to Samson, xlvi.; new election at his death, li. 322.
-, son of Hugh Lupus. See Abbots of St. Edmund's.
-, de Areines, punished for obstructing papal commission, II., 119.
-, de Baldoc, chancellor of Edward II., his cruel death, III., 28, note.
-, de St. Botolph, a monk of Bury, II., 76.
-, de Burgate, III., 24; II., 127.
-, de Chikeneyes, ill-treated by rioters at Bury, II., 330.
-, de Clare, Franciscan at Bury, II., 274.
-, de Curtun, in Hugo's election, II., xiii, 89, 92.
-, Fitz Rocelin, II., 60.
-, Fitz Walter, leader of the rebel barons, supports John's claim in the Bury election, II., xxiii., 74; flees to France, 25.
-, de Foxton, or Ffoxton, leader in autumn riots at Bury, II., 337; III., 42.
-, de Garboldisham, III., 63, note, and 65.
-, de Gravelee, sacrist, heads the king's party in Abbot Hugo's election, II., x., 35, 64; III., 19, f., 22, 24; excluded from the list of electors, II., x., 31; is called a fox, 47, and the north wind, xii., 51, f., 55, 58, 64, 66, 101, and Antichrist, 99; defeated in the meeting at Bury, xvii, 97; gives the king his version of the election, xvii., 98; accompanies Hugo to the king, 84, 38, 41, f., is at Runnymede

Robert—cont.

- xx., 128, where he is rebuked, xxi., 129; III., 25; intrigues with the king, II., 30, 40, 48, f., with the legate, 43, 47, 61, at Rome, 51, ff.; his sermon, 59; blunders and bad Latin, 59, 73; his treatment of R. de Saxham, 64, 68; money matters, 80, 85; the translation of Samson's body, 85, f.; also, 37, 53, 55, 86–8.
-, de Griswell, leader in autumn riots at Bury, II., 337.
-, de Hospitali, appointed cellarer by Hugo, II., 125, III. 22.
-, Lupus, killed by the Welsh, II., 21.
-, Lyrling, or Larling, of Brancaster, III., 63, and note, 65, 68.
-, of Molesme, founder of Cistercians, III., 151.
-, de Monte, Abbot of St. Michel, author of Chronicles, II., 4, and note.
-, St., the martyr, 223; life of, ib. note.
-, de Scalis, and the tithes of Wetherden, 296.
-, Vipont, in Wales, II., 22.
-, de Rudham, III., 93.
-, Russell, proctor in Symon's election, II., 256; superseded, 257.
-, de Valorius, and the advowson of Hungeton, 265.
-, de Watevile, governor of Walton, flees before Queen Isabella, II., 328.
-, Westhorp, keeper of the shrine, III., 89.
- Rocdale, Edmund, III., 358.
- Rochelle, or Rupella, John lands at, II., 14.
- Rochester, Bishops of—
-, Benedict, consecrates Abbot Hugo, II., xx., 126, and note; III., 11, 23, 59.
-, Grandulf, III., 236.
-, Lowe, John, at King's College (1446), III., 247.
-, Monks of, installed at Canterbury, II., 15.

- Rodelanum, or Rhuddlan Castle, taken by Edward I., III., 153; besieged by Welsh, 155, f.
- Rodoric, brother of Llewellyn, III., 154.
- Rodulf, sacrist, builds church of St. Mary at Bury, I., v., xxxvii.
- Roger, rectorarius, in Hugo's election, II., 68, 75.
-, the cellarer, in Samson's election, 223; a rival candidate to Samson, xlv., 227, 301.
-, of Avestane, chaplain to Roger of Haseley, 208.
-, de Bateford, III., 42.
-, son of Drogo, Fitz Drogo, a monk of Bury, II., 76, 94; his offices, 125, f., III., 22.
-, le Gode, III., 99.
-, of Haseley, canon of Hereford, his cure, 207.
-, of Herdebridge, III., 292.
-, of Hingham, accompanies Samson to Rome, II., 54, and in banishment, ib., 212.
-, de Lacy, constable of Chester, his death, II., 19.
-, Mortimer, joins Queen Isabella's invasion, II., 327; his vengeance on the Earl of Arundel, 329.
-, de Scalis, and the tithes of Wetherden, 296.
-, of Stanham, a monk of Bury, II., 58, 75, 115.
-, of Tostock, sub-prior of St. Edmund's, III., 89.
- Rokewood, Gage (Mr.), possesses the Countess of Leicester's ring, lix.; cited passim.
-, Jchn de, III., 344.
-, Robert de, III., 344.
- Rcony (Roni), Earl, III., 229.
- Roos, Sir Robert, III., 265, and note.
- Rotelanda, or Rutland, III., 130.
- Royston, Papal Commission at, II., 91, 102.
- Rualdus, an old monk of Bury, 224.
- Rucham, Rougham, Rutham, or Rugham, a manor of St. Edmund managed for a - time by Abbot Samson, 234; attached to the cellary, II., 125; losses during riots, 341; III., 22, 66, 79; in riots of 1381, 130, 142, 178, 182.

- Rudham, Martin, precentor of St. Edmund's, III., 89.
- Ruffus, accompanies Samson to Le Mans, 215; a monk of Bury, II., 75.
- Rufus, St. Abbey of, at Avignon, Nich. Brakespear at, III., 158, and note.
- Runnymede, Abbot Hugo at, II., xiii.
- Rushbrook, rector of, Henry, III., 99.
- Rustand de Wasconia, announces a Papal tax on St. Edmund's, III., 29.
- Ryngsted, prior of St. Edm., III., 298.
- Rysby. See Riseby.
- Ryvere, Richard de la, III., 315.
- S.
- Sabina, Bishop Greogory of, III., 80.
- Sabricsworth, Sawbridgeworth, III., 79.
- Saer de Quenci, Earl of Winchester, envoy to Otho, II., 21.
- St. Albans, refuge for the citizens of Leicester, I., lviii., note. The commission in Hugo's election sit here, II., 78, ff., 294; riots at, 329. The Abbey, J. A. Froude on, III., xxxv. Abbot John's letter to Abbot Curteys, III., 252.
- St. Andrews, Bishop John expelled, III., 168.
- St. Augustine's, monks of, at Canterbury, II., 15. Abbot Roger and the Franciscans at Bury, II., 271, 281, 272, ff.
- St. Macaire, in danger from the French, III., 266, and note.
- St. Martin-in-Montibus, presbyter G. of, in Abbot Thomas' election, II., 315.
- St. Neots, prior of, nominated for Abbot of St. Edmund's, I., 228.
- St. Omer, surrendered to France, II., 22.
- St. Saviour's Hospital, losses during riots, II., 346.
- Saladin, the secret of his resistance, II., 6.
- Salisbury, III., 155; King John at, II., 42.
-, dean of, judge in Hugo's election, III., 16, II., xiii., 69, and note, 116.
-, Earl of, William Longsword, pleads for Abbot Hugo at Oxford, II., xix., 124, III., 22.
- Salomon, a monk of Bury, II., 75, 115.
- Salusbury, John, sub-prior of Christ Church, Canterbury, in 1440, III., 257.
- Sanctuary, right of, at Bury, III., 315.
- Santiago, Abbot Anselm wishes to visit, I., xxxvii.
- Saroy, palace burnt in 1381, III., 126, 295.
- Saxham, III., 79.
- Saxon Chronicle, and St. Edmund, xiv., xx., xxv.
- Saxons, invade England, 6, II., 142, 149; said to be cannibals, 9.
- Scarborough, III., 144.
- Searle, John, rector of Woolpit, III., 104.
- Scarning, III., 337, and note.
- Schelton, John de, III., 37.
- Scrope, Lord Chancellor, III., xxiv., f. See also York, Archbishop of.
- Scutage, levied, III., 9, 19.
- Seculars, ejected from Beodricsworth, III., 1.
- Seietha, date of, liv.; account of, 166; her cure, 167; her story of Tolinus, 168, 172; is present at Herman's similar indiscretion, 174.
- Senowe, Thos., III., 358.
- Serapion, St., III., 148.
- Shaftesbury, Cnut dies at, 47.
- Sheen, royal residences, III., 264, and note.
- Sherwood, King John at, II., xviii., III., 21.

- Shrewsbury, 200, III., 153, 156; battle of, 295.
- Sibton, Abbot of, III., 64, and 63, note.
- Sigferth, Earl, invites Sweyn over, III., 246, and note.
- Sihtric, prior of Bury, begs Galfridus to write the De Infantia, xxxv., 94.
- Silvester, St., baptizes Constantine, III., 149.
- Simon de Montfort, see Leicester, Earl of.
- Siwara, mother of St. Edmund, III., 348.
- Siward, Abbot, III., 229.
-, the priest, authority for two miracles, 69, 137, 83.
- Skegness, III., 329, and note, 331.
- Skyunner, John, III., 336.
- Sly, William, III., 142.
- Snayleswell, or Snaylwell, John, precentor of Bury, III., 99; sacrist, 178.
- Snowdon, III., 154, f.
- Somerleyton, III., 63, note, 65, 68.
- Somerset, Duke of, Edmund Beaufort III., 269, and note.
- Song of Dermot and the Earl, III., xxv., ff.
- Sor-penny, 300.
- Souter or Soutere, Reginald, III., 141, 182.
- South Elmham, III., 62, 65.
- Southery or Sourhrey, its ceals, 300, outrages at, in 1303, III., 142.
- Southwark, St., Saviour's, a Cluniac church, 202, great fire in, II., 23.
- Southwold, a manor of St. Edmund, 79, 149, III., 274 and note; allotted to the cellary, II., 295; surrendered to Earl of Gloucester, ib.
- Spalding, 179.
- Sparham, III., 335, and note.
- Sparhavoc, dies after viewing the relics of St. Edmund, 170.
- Spark, Robt., III., 358.
- Staffaces. See 268, note.
- Stafford, archdeacon of, becomes archbishop of Dublin, II., 22.
- Staines, King John at, II., 127 f., III., 24.
- Stanesby, Robt., and Katerine, his wife, III., 259.
- Stanys, a manor of St. Edmund, III., 299.
- Stapleford, John and Otho meet at, II., 16, and note.
- Stedenwey, castle, III., 153, 155.
- Stephen, clerk, son of Roger de Walsingham, visits Rome, II., 48, 69.
-, of Blois, educated under Ording, xxxvii.
- Stephen de Ikworth, or Ikeworth, prior of St. Edmund's, III., 35.
- Stodland, or Studland, II., 14.
- Stoke-by-Clare, prior of, III., 63, note, 64.
-, John, a monk, III., 178.
- Stokke, Clement, III., 358.
- Stonor, John. See Justiciars.
- Stowe, Wm., sacrist, during the riots, III., 39, 41.
- Strawe, Jack, III., xxv.
- Storms, the, of 1201, III., 93, of 1207, III., 15.
- Stratford le Bow, 121.
- Strogoyl, Earl of, Richard Strongbow, in Ireland, III., 160, 162.
- Stuston. See Suthtune.
- Sudbury. See Canterbury, Archbishops of.
-, archdeacon of. See Clare, Wm. of.
-, mayor of. See Cressener.
- Suffolk, the villeins rise in, III., 126; poverty of, III., 277; correspondence about, 262, 278.
-, Earl of, Michael de la Pole, chancellor, III., 140, and note; 181, 187, f.
-, brings Margaret of Anjou to England, III., 244; 246; 248; marries Chaucer's granddaughter, 248, note.
-, Sheriff of, III., 101; le Gros, 190.
- Sussex, (or Selsey.) bishop Grimketel of, III., 228.
- Suthtune, Stuston, lxix., 27; first burial place of St. Edmund, 19, 27.
- Suthwalde. See Southwold.
- Swabia, Philip, Duke of, murdered, II., 16, Isabel (correctly Beatrice), daughter of, marries Otho, II., 21, dies, 22.

- Sweyn, his death attributed to St. Edmund, xxv., 37 f., 118, f., 357, 361, III., 353; is a warning to Edward I., II., 365; his first invasion, 241-245; his second, 248, f., demands tribute from Beodricsworth, 33, 39, 119, 361; character, 32, 114.
- Swifter, manor, III., 259.
- Sygo, Roger, III., 142.
- Symeon of Durham, gives the date of Abbot Baldwin's death, lxii.
- Symon, a monk, of Bury, II., 70, 76.
 , a relation of Thos. of Walsingham, accompanies him to Rome, II., 48.
 , paints the Abbot's seat, II., 291.
 , of Kingston, subcellarer, II., 295, sacrist, ib.
 , de Luton, prior, III., 29. See Abbots of St. Edmund's.
 , de Sudbury, commissary of the bishop of Norwich, III., 63, 65, 69.
- Sympringham or Sempringham, III., 151.
- Syon, near Sheen, III., 296, and note.
- Syward, Earl, III., 229.
 , Richard, a weaver, III., 358.
- T.
- Talpa, or Taupe, an emissary from the party opposing Abbot Hugo, II., 53, 88.
- Taxation of land in 1198, II., 7, and note; exemption of the lands of religious bodies, 8, and note; again during the French war, 12, 14, resisted by the archbishop of York, ib., 16; taxation of all religious houses, 18, by the pope for the crusades, 9; carts and tools for the Welsh war, 24.
- Tattershall, III., 334, and note.
- Taxter, cited as to the Friars at Bury, II., xxx., xxxi., note, xxxii., xxxv.; on the flight of the bishop of Norwich to Taxter—cont.
 Bury, II., xxxvi., note; continuation of his chronicle, ib.; the story of Robert, killed by the Jews, III., 6, note.
- Tedenham, manor of St. Edmund, riot at, III., 142.
- Templars, Knights, receive gifts from Offa, II., 155.
- Terling, III., 59.
- Tetelishale, or Tittleshall, III., 63, note, 68.
- Tewe, Robt., III., 142.
- Tewkesbury, King John at, II., 9, 13; tomb of Prince Edward at, III., 297.
- Thakstede, Thos. of, a monk, III., 339.
- Theodardestre, dean of, III., 83.
- Thenham, or Teynham, archbishop Hubert dies at, II., 14.
- Theodred, bishop, 20, III., 352, his sentence on the robbers of St. Edmund's tomb, 21, f.; views the relics and places them in a loculus, 22; signs Edmund's charter, III., 341.
- Thetford, III., 186; the home of Galfridus, xxxv.; the canons displaced by Benedictine nuns, ib.; the see transferred to Norwich, 362; Thurcytel at, 39; Sweyn at, II., 242; tourney at, 260, 266.
 , bishop Arfast, 60, assisted by Herman, xxix., 62, attempts to extend his jurisdiction over St. Edmund's, 60, 64; renounces, 64, but renews his claim, 65; attempts to remove his see to Bury, xxxi.; is cured by Abbot Baldwin, xxxii., 63; his claims rejected by the synod of Winchester, xxxii., lxi., 347, 355; rebuked by the pope, xxxiii.; attempts to bribe the king, 62; III., 232, 236, 326.
 , Prior of, his letter in Abbot Hugo's election, II., 54.
- Thinghogo, or Dunghogo, 31; Thinghowe, II., 236.
- Thomas, St., of Canterbury, appears in a vision at Bury, 366, 368; translated, III., 292, note.

- Thomas, archbishop of York, 349, III., 236.
 , third prior, of Bury, III., 12, 14 ; his proceedings, 36, 38, bis, 51, 68, 76.
 , of Beccles, master, II., 54.
 , of Boynton, proctor for Bury, III., 42.
 , of Cambridge, a friar, encourages the Bury rioters, II., 335.
 , Capra, a monk of Bury, 75, 93, 101, 115.
 Thomas de Cher, III., 95.
 , of Chermunfore, examiner general of the court of Canterbury, III., 106.
 , of Fordham, Franciscan at Bury, II., 274.
 , of Hastings, claims the stewardship of the abbey for his nephew Henry, 232.
 , of Ludgate, cellarer, III., 89.
 , Methewold, commissary of the bishop of Norwich, III., 63.
 , of Michefeld, III., 89.
 , Noel of Haustead, his lands acquired by the sacrist, II., 290.
 , of Thornham, a ringleader of the outlaws, II., 349.
 , Master, of Walsingham, an elector of Abbot Hugo, III., 12, 14, 22 ; supports him, II., xii., 76 ; visits the king, 30, 34, 80, xvii., 99 ; sent to Rome, 48 ; 108, 113, f., makes an agricultural inventory, 126.
 , of Woodstock, son of Edward III., III., 294.
 Thorned, III., 84.
 Thorneye, Abbot of, Robert of Gravelee, q. v., his letter to the sacrist of Bury, II., 133, and note.
 Thorp, III., 82.
 Thresher, Robert, III., 142.
 Thyrning, W., III., 101.
 Thurcytel, father of Aelfwyn, repays Sweyn's tribute at the King's death, 39.
 Thurkill, his descent on the Orwell in 1010, xiii., xxiv., 40, 120. Account of lxxi. ; earl of East Engle, 47, admits monks to Bury, 126, 341.
 Thurry, (Thor?) Earl, III., 229.
 Thurstan, sacrist of Bury, II., 289.
 Tivetshall, III., 66.
 Todyngton, Bedfordshire, III., xix., 211.
 Tolinus, sacrist of Bury, If., 289, date, liv. verger of St. Edmunds under Baldwin, 83 ; attests miracles, 144, 162 ; his handling of the relics, 169 ; leads to his death, 170 ; he reappears in visions, 172, f., 174.
 Totyngton, E. of, II. 330.
 , John of, rector of Woolpit, III., 99.
, Thomas of. See Abbots of St. Edmundsbury.
 Toulouse, destruction of Albigenses at, II. 18.
 Trieste, Bp. of, Francis Amerino, III., xii., 57, 59 ; exacts a papal tax, 69, and note.
 Trondheim, Augustine, Bishop of, visits St. Edmund's, 222, and note.
 Turner, Sharon, his view of Lodbroc criticised, xix.
 Turstan, and the union of St. Edmund's head with the body, xxx.
 , an old monk of Bury, 224.
 Turoid, witnesses Arfast's renunciation, 64.
 Turolf, punished by St. Edmund, 80.
 Tusculum, Bp. of, Cardinal Nicholas removes the interdict, III., 10.
 Tyler, Wat, III., xxv.
 Tyne-dale, English fief held by the Scottish kings, III., 164.

U.

- Ubba. See Hubba.
 Ulfketel or Ulfkytel, defeats Sweyn, II., 242-245, 242 note; dismayed at Sweyn's second invasion, 250, III., 219.
 Unesire or Ursire, John, robs monks of Bury, II., 332.
, suit of Abbey against, III., 42.
 Uther Pendragon, II., 141.
, Uvius. See St. Edmunds, Abbots of.

V.

- Villeins, the rising of, in 1381, III., 125; in Kent, 126, in Suffolk, ib.
 Vistula, tribes from, invade Britain, II., 113.
 Viterbo, III., 30.
 Vortigern, II., 141; peoples Wales, 147.

W.

- W. de Bec, seneschal of Abp. of Canterbury in Hugo's election, II., 65, f.
 W. laicus, a monk of Bury, 75.
 W. sacerdos, a monk of Bury, 76.
 W., prior of St. Edmund's; his letters to the Abbot of Hulme, III., 36, 38.
 Wadeley, manor of Ely, III., 183.
 Wadingfield, or Wadyngfeld, John, III., 142, 182.
 Wadington, doubts the power of English to oust French as a literary language, II., xxv.
 Walber, Thomas, III., 260, f.
 Waldegrave, Sir R., III. 272.

- Walden, abbot of, made prior of Ely, III., 184.
 Wales, does homage to King John, II., 17; subdued, 19. Rebels, 21; proposed expedition against abandoned, 24. Peopled by Vortigern, 147. Conquest of, by Edward I., III., 152-6; taxes for the expedition, 34; Prince David proposes to hold it from the Pope, 152.
 Walkelin. See Winchester, Bishops of.
 Walsham, Alexander of, III., 317.
 Walsingham, III., xxvi., xxviii., note, prior of, removed by Archbishop Arundell, III., 185.
, St. Mary of, III., 319.
 Walter, sub-sacrist, opposes Hugo's election, II., xii., 51, f., 64, 70.
, a monk, opposes Hugo, III., 19.
, medicus, in Samson's election, 223.
, rector of the schools, a monk of Bury, II., 60.
, primus, a monk of Bury, II., 115, 121, f.
, of Banham, sacrist, his many buildings, II., 292.
, of Benynggham, almoner, III., 89.
, of Bernham, III., 47.
, de Coutances, chaplain to Henry II., III., 84.
, of Diss, Samson's gratitude to, 248; II., 60.
, of Fulbourne, III., 89.
 Gale or Galle, infirmarian under Hugo, II., 125; III., 22.
, de Gray. See Worcester, Bishops of.
, of Hatfield, a tenant of St. Edmund, 237.
, of Helum, III., 33.
, Hugon, ringleader in Bury riots, II., 329.
, de Stapylton. See Exeter, Bishops of.
 Waltham, the court there at Samson's election, 227

- Walton-le-Naze, the rebels fail to take the castle, lvii.
 , Queen Isabella lands at, II., 328.
 Wardon, abbot of, commissioner in Hugo's election, II., xii., 69, and note; III., 16, 20.
 Ware, III., 205.
 Wareham, II., 14.
 Warenne, Earl, perhaps employed Samson as tutor at Castle Acre, xlv., notes. With King John at Staines, II., 127; III., 24.
 Warkton, or Werketon, or Workton, a manor of St. Edmund's, 268, 375, note; attached to the cellary, II., 125; the gift of Matilda, III., 4, 22.
 Warner, abbot of Rebaix; his adventure in Ponthieu, 70.
 Waterford, English claim upon, III., 162.
 , Bp. Augustine, blesses Samson, II., 5.
 Warwick, Earl of, governor of Henry VI., III., xxxi.
 Wattisham or Wachesham, III., 210.
 Waynflete, or Wainfleet, 17 miracles at, III., 127 and note.
 , William of, see Winchester, bishops of.
 , John, of Southwold, Chief Constable of Blithing, III., 274.
 Weavers, byelaws for, III., 358.
 Welnetham, III., 44 and note.
 Wendover, Roger de, his account of the taking of Leicester, with an addition by Matthew Paris, lvii., note; reference to Council of Westminster, 259; mistakes the date of King John's landing, II., xiv., 92, note; his story of Langton and the barons, xix.; his relation to the "Annales," II., 7, note; other mistaken dates, 9, 14 bis; on Geoffry of Norwich, 25.
 Wepstede or Whepstead, a manor of St. Edmunds, 213; rioters at, 339; losses, 342.
 Werewell (Merewell), III., 7 and note.
 Wessex, ruled by Cnut in person, 47.
 Westbrome, Robert, III., 143.
 Westchester, III., 32J.
 Westle, or Westlec, or Westley, losses during riot, II., 345, III., 66.
 , rector of, John de Cavenham, III., 98.
 Westminster, the peace of the abbey secured by its independence of the bishop, II., xxxi.; council of, 259; Henry II. crowned at, III., 158; Henry IV., do., III., 295; Henry V. buried at, III., 296; Henry VI. crowned at, III., 296.
 The monastery founded, III., 150; abbot William de Humetz makes a convention with Bury, III., 252, note; prior Robert elected Abbot of St. Edmund's, III., 5.
 , Bishop Bateman tried at, III., 324, III., 191, 262, 270.
 Wesynham, R., a monk of Bury, III., 206.
 Wetherden; Samson endows Bury Schools with half its tithes, 296.
 Whehetham, John of, III., 317.
 Whepstede. See Wepstede.
 Whethamstede, III., xxxiii.
 Wickhambrook, III., 68, 63 note.
 William, prior of Bury, 170.
 , , inferences from his letter in Abbot Totyngton's election, II., xlv.
 , , pitantiary, in Hugo's election, II., xii., 70, 121 f., III., 19.
 , , sacrist, a rival candidate to Samson. xlvi., 227; borrows money under the convent seal, 210; is too free with the money of the convent, 217; favours the Jews, ib., 223.
 , , clerk to Walter de Gray, II., 104.
 , de Bans, emissary of the sacrist in Hugo's election, II., 51.
 , the Bearded, hanged for rebellion, II., xi., 6, 60, note.
 , of Beccles, brother to Richard of Colchester, sacrist, II., 295.

William—cont.

-, of Bernham, III., 89. See Abbots of St. Edmunds.
, of Bosco, a monk of Bury, II., 75, 115.
, de Braose, his escape, II., 17; his wife and son die in prison, 19; himself at Cordova or Corbula, ib.
, Brewere, one of John's ministers, III., 21 f., II., xviii., 124 and note.
, of Burgo, III., 347 and note.
, de Cantelupe, envoy to Council of Lyons, III., 161.
, de Carteln, envoy to Otho, II., 21.
, of Cornhill. See Lichfield and Coventry, Bishop of.
, de Cotton, of Redgrave, III., 63 and note, 65.
, de Coulinge, envoy of the rioters sent to Rome, II., 335.
, de Curzun. See Curzun.
, of Diss, or Disce, befriends Samson, xlii.; in Hugo's election, II., 60 f.
, of Gislingham, punished by St. Edmund, II., 368, III., 326.
, de Graham, a Franciscan at Bury, II., 274.
, at-Green, a rioter at Bury, II., 332, 339.
, of Gyvingham, III., 43.
, de Hastings, dreams of the future abbot, 226.
, of Hendon or Henton, proctor for R. Chancelere in the Woolpit suit, III., 95, 106 f.; his commission, 110.
, de Hospitali, in Hugo's election, II., 115.
 William Kemp, III., 42.
, Longchamp. See Ely, bishops of.
, of Ludham, III., 82.
, of Lyston, III., 94.
, of Malmesbury; relates the miraculous death of Sweyn, xxv.; his view of Edred's malady, lxx.
, of Mildenhall, magister de hospitali, in abbot Symon's election, II., 256, f.

William—cont.

-, atte More, III., 143.
, Mothes, a monk of Bury, II., 75, 115.
, of Newburgh, places the assault on Norwich and Dunwich before the battle of Fornham, lvii., note.
, of Pakenham, III., 82.
, de Poywick, advocate at Council of Lyons, III., 162.
, Schuch, sacrist, II., 291.
, of Skegness, III., 329.
, de Stowe, sacrist, III., 89; prior, letters in Abbot de Bernham's election, 47, f.
, de Stanhov (Stanhoe), subchamberlain of Bury, II., 76, f., 94, 115.
, de Stuteville, a crusader to be released from his oath, 332.
, de Thomeston, a monk of Bury, in Hugo's election, II., 76.
, de Valence, his drunken assault on Abbot Hugo's lodge, II., xxvii.
, Wardell, sacrist, deposed by Samson, II., 291.
, of Wyvelyngham, III., 100.
 Wimer, sheriff; will support Samson, 231.
 Winchester, Parliament at, discusses the invasion of Ireland, III., 160; John at, II., 15; Cnut buried at, 47; synod of, xxxii., f., 347.
, bishops of confirm Abbot Leofstan, III., 3, Hugh, III., 6, and Samson, 7.
 , , Alwin, III., 228.
 , , Alwold, or Ethelwold, replaces the seculars of Coventry by monks, II., 6.
 , , Brightwold, III., 228.
 , , Henry Beaufort, III., xxix.
 , , Henry of Blois, founds a college of priests at Merewell, II., 5, note.
 , , Peter des Roches, justiciar, II., xiii., 74; knows nothing about Hugo's election, xiv., 94; 49, 54, ff., 74, 80, 89, f.; at Oxford, 124, III.,

- Winchester, bishops of—cont.
 22; is the only bishop who stayed in England after the Papal sentence against John, II., 18; orders that all the abbatial property at Bury be seized for the king, 73.
 , Richard Toelive, acts for the king in Samson's election, 227; consecrates Samson, 229, II., 5, III., 7, 84.
 , Walkelyn, presides at the translation of St. Edmund to the abbey church, xiii., xxxiv., 86, 156, 351; signs William I.'s charter, 349; III., 236.
 , archdeacon of, III., 67.
 , Earl of, Saer de Querci, accompanies John to Bury, II., xx., 95; is envoy to Otho, 21; in Hugo's election, 73; his name given as R. ib., and note.
 Windleshor, or Windsor, Samson at siege of, 259; king John at, II., 16, 18, f., 128; III., 24, 271.
 Winterton, III., 319.
 Wirlingworth, or Wirlinworth, a manor of St. Edmund, its wood, II., 292; III., 37, 66.
 Wissett, III., 274, and note.
 Wood Street, London, Abbot Draughton confined in, II., 351, and note.
 Woodstock, John, receives the homage of Wales at, II., 17.
 Woolpet or Woolpit, III., xvi.; payment from, 78–112; use of, 79, 81; value of, 81, ff. Legal proceedings in the archbishop's court, III., 106, 111; 107, f. The case of Roger Chancelere; fuller account resumed, III., 105–112.
 , rectors of: enjoined by royal writ to pay 40 marks to the convent, III., 101. The writ cannot be served, ib. Proceedings of bishop, 101, f.
 , Symon Brown, III., 104.
 , Roger Chancelere, III., 85, f.
 , Henry Foxton, III., 96.
- Woolpet or Woolpit, rectors of—cont.
 , Henry de Hargrave, III., 87.
 , John de Norton, III., 87.
 , John atte Snore, III., 83, 87.
 , John of Totyngton, III., 99.
 , John atte Yate, III., 101.
 , vicar, Robert, III., 83.
 , church of St. Mary, III., 84.
 Worcester, bishops of.
 , John, present at foundation of King's College chapel, III., 247.
 , Lyving, III., 228.
 , Malger, proclaims the interdict, II., 16; leaves the country, 17; dies at Pontigny, 21.
 , Walter de Gray, II., 104, f., 108, 110. Is John's chancellor and envoy to Otho, II., 21, 24.
 , Wulfstan, III., 236.
 Worthstede, P. de, a monk of Bury, II., 35.
 Wrangle, III., 329, and note.
 Wrawe, John, III., xxv., f.
 Wroth, III., 331.
 Wulfstan. See Bishops of Worcester.
 Wulfward, saved from shipwreck by St. Edmund, 163.
 Wydo, a monk of Bury, II., 76.
 Wymundham, III., 340.
- Y.
- Yarmouth, Sweyn lands at, in his second invasion, II., 249.
 Yeldham, John, and Joan, his wife, their petition to the chancellor, III., 258.
 Ymeric, Cardinal, III., xv., acts in the dispute between St. Edmunds and Norwich, 68.
 Yngwar. See Hingwar.

- York, visited by John, II., 19.
 Church of St. Peter at, II., 168.
 Archbishops of.
 Aldred, consecrates Queen Matilda, II., 3.
 Alfric, III., 228, 231.
 Gerard of Hereford, 353.
 Geoffry, the chancellor, 227; his arrest, 257, and note, in 1199; traduces Hubert Walter at Rome, 287.
 Resists John's exactions, and flees the country in 1207, II., 16.
 St. John of Beverley, III., 166.
 Odo, favours Abbo, xxiii.
 Richard Scrope, executed for rebellion against Henry IV., III., 295.
- York—cont.
 Thomas, at Rome, 61. Signs William I.'s charter, 349, III., 234, 236.
 William, ordered from Rome to publish excommunication, II., 353.
 Archbishops of, have no jurisdiction over Scotch prelates, III., 164.
 Abbot of, John Cottingham, III., 253, note.
 Duke of (1440), sent to Normandy, III., 243.
 Yrcus, governor of Northumbria under Cnut, 47.
 Yvenye, III., 112.
 Yvo, St., II., 125, note.
 Father of Edmund, who was miraculously cured, 77, 145.
 Aided by St. Edmund in a voyage to St. Gilles, 178.