LETTER X.

INTERVIEWS WITH THE BOSNIAN BEGS.

	PAGE
Resolve to obtain views on present situation from leading Begs of Bosnia. Their head-quarters, Kulen Vakup, a nest of fanaticism. Necessary precautions. I receive a letter addressed to the Czar of England, to the King of England, and the Ambassador of two Empires. On the way: dreams and omens. Encounter an armed fanatic. Received by Turks with ovation. Grant an audience to Bosnian Begs. Their irreconcilable attitude towards their rayah serfs. Necessity of 'force majeure' in Bosnia. Whence is it to come? Not from the Osmanlis. The Osmanlis in Bosnia allied, on confession of Mahometans themselves, with most fanatic among the Begs. Austrian occupation the only application of 'force majeure' within the sphere of practical politics. Probable effects of Christian Government on Bosnia. Probability that Islâm will yield there to Western Civilization and its allied Religion. Mahometan oracle at Kulen Vakup. Pythonesses and holy stones. Great seclusion of women there	92

LETTER XI.

FREE BOSNIA REVISITED. (I.)

Tosks and Gheggas and their respective Greek and Montenegrin affinities. The Miridites. Possibilities of Italian Protectorate in Albania. Pessimist views of situation there among Turkish employés. Preparations of Greek Committees for revolt in Epirus. The Mahometan population biding its time 131

LETTER XIV.

THE REIGN OF TERROR IN BOSNIA.

Arrival of fresh fugitives from Turkish Bosnia. My expedition to visit them. Kamen, their glen of refuge. Fearful mortality amongst the fugitives. Austrian shortcomings. Perishing children. Extraordinary quickness of Bosnian and Herzegovinian children in Miss Irby's and Ragusan Committee's schools. 'The Slavonic dawn.' The latest victims of the Turk. Cause of the fresh exodus. Results of Mr. Consul Holmes' exhortations to the Vali. Mahometan 'order.' Examination of the victims. Twenty-six villagers driven off to Turkish dungeons and never heard of since. Secret assassination of Christian prisoners in the dungeons of Derbend. Thirteen peasants massacred at Stekerovatz. Two relics of tyranny. The 'Nadjak' of the Bosnian Begs and its uses. An instance of atrocious oppression 143
