

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06454-5 - Personal and Professional Recollections: With an Introduction
by John William Burgon

George Gilbert Scott Edited by G. Gilbert Scott

Table of Contents

More information

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

INTRODUCTION BY THE DEAN OF CHICHESTER.

CHAPTER I.

Birth and parentage, 1. Native village, 4. The early "Evangelicals," 9. The "high and dry" clergy, 12. Village characters, 16. The Drawing Master, 24. Rev. Thomas Scott, the "Commentator," 27. Visit to Margate, 33. John Wesley, 36. William Gilbert, 37. Stowe, 38. Hillesden Church, 42. Residence at Latimers, 48.

CHAPTER II.

Gawcott Church, 53. Articled to Mr. Edmeston, 55. St. Saviour's, Southwark, 59. Death of his brother, 65. The Oldrid family, 66. Messrs. Grissell and Peto, 71. Fishmongers Hall, 73. Death of his father, 77. Poor Law work, 78. Marriage, 85. Erects his first church, 85. Augustus Welby Pugin, 88. The Martyrs' Memorial, 89. The Infant Orphan Asylum, 91. Camberwell Church, 92. St. Mary's, Stafford, 97. Chapel on Wakefield Bridge, 101. The Cambridge Camden Society, 103.

CHAPTER III.

The Gothic Revival in 1844, 107. St. Nicholas, Hamburg, 113. First Visit to Germany, ib. Visits Hamburg, 117. The Competition for St. Nicholas' Church, 118. Journey to Hamburg and Holland, 127. Dissolution of Partnership, 130. Apology for undertaking the erection of a Lutheran

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06454-5 - Personal and Professional Recollections: With an Introduction

by John William Burgon

George Gilbert Scott Edited by G. Gilbert Scott

Table of Contents

More information

vi

Contents.

Church, 135. Appointed architect to Ely Cathedral, 146. Important works (1845—1862), 147. Paper on Truthful Restoration, 149. Becomes architect to Westminster Abbey, 151. Bradfield Church, 155. Tour in Italy, 157. The Great Exhibition (1851), 164. The Architectural Museum, 165. St. George's, Doncaster, 170. The Rath-haus at Hamburg, 174. Elected an A.R.A., 175.

CHAPTER IV.

Treatise on Domestic Architecture, 177. Competition for the New Government Offices, 178. Is appointed to this work, 181. Change of Government, 185. Is directed to prepare an Italian design, 192. Is elected a Royal Academician, 199.

CHAPTER V.

The Gothic Revival (1845—1864), 202. Progress of the subsidiary arts, Carving, 214. Metal work, 216. Stained glass, ib. The Gothic Revivalists, 225.

CHAPTER VI.

Death of his mother, 230; and of two sisters, 234—236; of his third son, ib.; of his brother, Samuel King Scott, 241. Illness at Chester, 247. A “haunted” house, 252. Moves to Ham, 254; thence to Rook's-nest, 256. Death of Mrs. Scott, ib.

CHAPTER VII.

The Prince Consort Memorial, 262. Reply to criticisms on this design, 267. The Midland Railway Terminus, 271. Glasgow University buildings, 272. Decoration of the Wolsey Chapel, Windsor, ib. Competition for the New Law Courts, 273. Design for the Albert Hall, 279. Professor of Architecture at the Royal Academy, 280. Works at Ely Cathedral, ib. Westminster Abbey, 284. Hereford Cathedral, 288. Lichfield Cathedral, 291. Peterborough Cathedral, 298. Salisbury Cathedral, 300. Chichester Cathedral, 309. St. David's Cathedral, 311. Bangor

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06454-5 - Personal and Professional Recollections: With an Introduction

by John William Burgon

George Gilbert Scott Edited by G. Gilbert Scott

Table of Contents

More informationContents.

vii

Cathedral, 316. St. Asaph Cathedral, 318. St. Albans Abbey, 320.

CHAPTER VIII.

Is knighted, 327. Tour in Switzerland and Italy, 329. Works at Chester Cathedral, 330. Gloucester Cathedral, 336. Ripon Cathedral, 339. Worcester Cathedral, 342. Exeter Cathedral, 345. Rochester Cathedral, 349. Winchester Cathedral, 352. Durham Cathedral, ib. St. Albans, resumed, 353.

CHAPTER IX.

The Anti-Restoration Movement, 358. The Queen Anne Style, 372.

APPENDIX A.

An Account of Sir Gilbert's last days, and of his death and funeral, 377.

APPENDIX B.

Funeral Sermon by Dr. Stanley, Dean of Westminster, 387.

APPENDIX C.

Papers on the subject of Restoration referred to in p. 367, 398.