

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06567-2 - A History of Egypt: Volume 4: Under the Ptolemaic Dynasty

John Pentland Mahaffy

Table of Contents

More information

TABLE OF CONTENTS

CHAPTER I

Authorities, 1. The results of battle of Issus upon Egypt, 2. Alexander's victorious entry, 3; his policy towards Greeks and natives, 4; his coronation, 5-7. Choice of site for Alexandria, 8; its foundation, 9; and topography, 10-13. His visit to oasis of Amon, 14-16. Deified, 17, 18. Effect of his conquest on natives, 19; political and military settlement, 20-22. Acts of Cleomenes, 23, 24.

CHAPTER II

Financial devices of Cleomenes, 25, 26. Egypt in the division of Alexander's empire, 27, 28. Disputes about Alexander's burial, 29, 30. Cyrene acquired, 30, 31; and Cyprus, 31, 32; but not Syria, at least not permanently, 33, 34. Ptolemy and the Jews, 33; and native soldiers, 33; his family affairs, 34, 35. Satrap for Arridæus and for Alexander IV., 35, 36. Wars, 37, 38. Proclamation, 38-41. Death of Alexander IV., 42. Naval supremacy of Egypt, 43, 44. Ptolemy declared king, 44, 45. Magas sent to Cyrene, 45-47. Invasion of Antigonos and Demetrius, 47-51; their retreat, 51. Title of king, 51. Coinage, 52. Battle of Ipsus, 53. Ptolemy holds Syria, 54, 55. Later years, 55, 56. The Serapeum at Alexandria, 56-58. New cities—Ptolemais, 59; Menelaos, 60; Alexandria, the Museum, 61, 62. Coinage, 62. Abdication, 63; and death, 64.

CHAPTER III

Accession of Ptolemy II., 66. His brother Keraunos, 67. Foreign relations, 68. The Museum, 69. State feasts, 70. Hellenistic policy, 71, 72. The Mendes stele, 73, 74. His wife, Arsinoë I., 75. Arsinoë II., 76. Adelpic marriages, 77. Arsinoë's

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06567-2 - A History of Egypt: Volume 4: Under the Ptolemaic Dynasty

John Pentland Mahaffy

Table of Contents

More information

viii

TABLE OF CONTENTS

deification, 78–80. Her ἀπόμοιρα, 81, 82. Building of temples, 83. Literature—Manetho, 85; Hecataeus, the LXX, 86. Red Sea stations, 87. Greek foundations, 88. The Fayyum, 89–93. Officialdom, 94, 95. Taxes, 96–98. Royal alliances, 99. The Pharos lighthouse, 100, 101.

CHAPTER IV

Accession of Ptolemy III., 103. Syrian war, 103–108. Domestic sedition, 109, 110. Elephants and camels, 111. Decree of Canopus, 112–118. Building of temples, 119–121. Death, 122. Gifts to Rhodes, 123. Character, 124. Edfu, 125, 126.

CHAPTER V

Accession of Ptolemy IV., 127, 128. Cleomenes the Spartan, 129. Attack of Antiochus III., 130. The natives armed, 131, 132. Raphia, 133, 134. Deification, 135. Literary work, 136. Buildings, 137–140. Revolts, 141. Policy, 142. Character, 143, 144. Native revolts, 145–147.

CHAPTER VI

Accession of Ptolemy V., 148. Attacked by kings of Syria and Macedonia, 149. Saved by Rome, 150. Coronation, 151. Rosetta stone, 152–158. Revolts, 159, 160. Origin of titles, 161, 162. Financial troubles, 163, 164.

CHAPTER VII

Regency of Cleopatra I., 165. Accession of Ptolemy VII., 166. War about Cœle-Syria, 167. Antiochus IV. stopped by Popilius, 168. The Jewish temple in Egypt, 169. The reges Ægypti, 169–171. Revolts, 171, 172. The king visits Nubia, 173, 174. Domestic quarrels, 175, 176. Ptolemy VII. crowned at Antioch, 177. Death and Character, 179. Ptolemy VIII., 179. Strained relations between Greeks and natives, 180–182.

CHAPTER VIII

Cleopatra II. and her son Ptolemy VIII., 183. Accession of Ptolemy IX., 184–186. Supposed policy of Cleopatra II.—M. Revillout's dreams, 187. Rivalry of Cleopatras II. and III., 188–190. Polybius' account of Alexandria, 191; omits the

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06567-2 - A History of Egypt: Volume 4: Under the Ptolemaic Dynasty

John Pentland Mahaffy

Table of Contents

More information

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ix

Jews who are attested by inscriptions, 192, 193. Buildings, 195. The stele of Aswan, 197. The will of Dryton, 199. Mixture of nationalities, 199–201. Policy of Ptolemy IX.—The Louvre Papyrus 63, 203, 204. Reform in the calendar, 205.

CHAPTER IX

Apion of Cyrene, 207. Regency of Cleopatra III., 208. Accession of Ptolemy X., 209. Disturbances, 209; and family quarrels, 210–214. Ptolemy XI., 212. Internal quiet, 214, 215. Buildings of the period, 216–218. Inscriptions of Ptolemy XI., 219–221. Death of Ptolemies X. and XI., 222, 223. Ptolemy XII., 224. Ptolemy XIII., 225, 226. Danger from Rome, 227, 228. Berenike IV., 229. Invasion of Gabinius, 230. Death and character of Ptolemy XIII., 231. Diodorus in Egypt, 231, 232. Buildings, 233–235.

CHAPTER X

Accession of Cleopatra VI. and Ptolemy XIV., 236–238. Caesar at Alexandria, 239–241. Death of Ptolemy XIV., 242. Ptolemy XV., 243. Cleopatra sole ruler, 244. Stele of Callimachus, 245. Antony and Cleopatra, 246–248. A Roman triumph at Alexandria, 249. War with Rome, 250. Cleopatra's death, her children, 250–254.

APPENDIX (by Mr. F. Ll. Griffith). Transliteration of the hieroglyphic names and titles of the Ptolemies, 255, 256.

MAP OF ALEXANDRIA (1897), by Dr. G. Botti.

INDEX, 257–261.