

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

TABLE OF CONTENTS

T O

V O L U M E I.

S E C T I O N I.

GREAT features of English landscape. 1 —coasts of England described. 2—it's internal parts. 3—the circumstances of a chalky soil. 4—variety of the picturesque beauties of English landscape. 5—it's peculiar features. 6—intermixture of wood and cultivation. 7—English oak. 8—embellished landscape. 9—peculiar sources of picturesque beauty from the atmosphere. 10—ruins of castles, and abbeys. 12.

VOL. I.

b

SECT.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( ii )

S E C T. II.

Country about Hounslow. 19—between Hounslow and Oxford. 20—the idea of a country village. 22—Nuneham-house. 22—distinction between cabinet, and furniture pictures. 24—Blenheim. 26—Vanburgh defended. 27—Reubens's pictures. 31.

S E C T. III.

Country between Woodstock and Warwick. 35—town of Warwick. 37—priory. 37—castle. 38—Kenelworth-castle. 40—account of queen Elizabeth's entertainment there. 45.

S E C T. IV.

Country between Coventry, and Birmingham. 49—Lord Aylsford's. 50—Bolton's manufactory. 51—Leasowes. 52—artificial rock-work. 56—Hagley. 57.

SECT.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( iii )

S E C T. V.

New-canal compared with a river. 63—
 Shuckborough. 64—remarks on the representations of sea-fights. 65—remarks on artificial ruins. 65—country about Stone, New-castle, and Manchester. 69—Lord Gower's. 69—Tuscan vases. 69—Duke of Bridgewater's works. 71—Chap-mofs. 72—country between Manchester, and Lancaster. 73—Lancaster-castle. 75—river Lune. 75—description of the vale of Lonfdale. 76—view from the castle-hill. 76—Cartmel-bay, Levens, Kendal. 78.

S E C T. VI.

Analytical view of a mountain-country. 81—station of a mountain in landscape. 81—mountain-line. 82—objects, and tints on mountains. 84—lights, and shades. 87—accidental lights. 91.

b 2

SECT.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( iv )

S E C T. VII.

General remarks on lakes. 93—how the lake differs from the fen, and the pool. 93—line of boundary in lakes. 95—general remarks on the islands of lakes. 97—general remarks on the surfaces of lakes. 98—lakes on the summits of mountains. 102.

S E C T. VIII.

General remarks on fore-grounds. 103—broken grounds. 105—wood. 105—rock. 106—their surfaces, general form, and colour. 106—the cragg. 108—general remarks on cascades: the broken, and regular fall. 109—contracted valley. 112—the gill, or dell. 114.

S E C T. IX.

General remarks on the picturesque composition of lakes, and mountains. 117—those of

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( v )

of America, Italy, Switzerland, Sweden, and Norway. 117—mountains and lakes seldom correctly picturesque. 119—imaginary improvements. 119—their power over the imagination. 121—Canaletti. 127—description of a land-locked bay. 128—helm-wind, bottom wind. 129—water-spouts, falls of snow, fall of rocks. 131—Virgil's description of the fall of a cliff. 131.

S E C T. X.

Amblefide, and the grounds around it. 133
 —general view of Windermere. 134—Bownefs. 135—description of the great island. 135—mode of ornamenting it. 137
 —story of Robin the Devil. 139.

S E C T. XI.

Voyage from the great island to the northern extremity of the lake. 143—it's eastern, and western skreens. 143—the front skreen. 145 —observations on comprehending too much space in a picture. 146—the tints of the b 3 front-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( vi )

front-skreen. 147—different views of the shore on a nearer approach. 147—exemplified by a description in the Æneid. 148—a scene like Berghem's. 149—the transparency of the lake. 151—char-fishing. 152—variety of water-fowl. 153—the waters of the lake subject to little change from drought, or rain. 154—subject to violent storms. 155.

S E C T. XII.

Furness-abbey described. 157—description of the road between Ambleside, and Kefwick. 159—a distinction between a mountain-scene and a scene of mountains. 160—Rydal-hall. 161—description of a cascade in it's neighbourhood. 162—Rydal-lake. 163—description of a mountain-amphitheatre. 163—a second scene of the same kind. 164—a grand retrospect of this last scene. 166—Dunmail-raife. 165—a mountain-vista. 168—Wyburn-lake. 171—a scene of mountains. 172—description of an evening-view from Castle-hill, over the vale of Kefwick. 173—town of Kefwick. 176.

SECT.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( vii )

S E C T. XIII.

General view of the lake of Kefwick. 179
 ——scenery from Kefwick to Borrodale. 185
 ——Lady's-lake. 186——Castellet. 187—— description of precipitous roads. 188——scale of menfuration in mountains. 190——description of the fall of Lodoar. 191——description of the straits of Borrodale. 193——Boo-thar-ftone. 194——Castle-cragg. 195——village of Rofthwait. 197——simplicity, and manners of the people. 197——mode of procuring fuel. 198.

S E C T. XIV.

Village of Satterthwait. 199——description of the courfe of the Derwent. 200——best way of examining the picturesque beauties of a country. 202——Eagle's cragg. 203——ftory of an eagle. 204——Black-lead mines. 205
 ——ftory of a fraud committed in them. 206 ——road to Watenlath. 207——description of the valley of Watenlath. 210——amphitheatre b 4 at

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( viii )

at the end of it. 211——strata-rocks. 213—— goats the proper ornaments of rocky scenes. 215.

S E C T. XV.

Valley of Newlands. 217——valley of Gaf-cadale. 218——observations on the picturesque beauties of fogs, and mists, 219——life of a mountain-shepherd. 223——description of the lake of Butermer. 224——lofty cascade. 225
——description of Gatesgarth-dale. 226.

END OF THE CONTENTS OF THE FIRST VOLUME.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

V O L U M E II.

S E C T I O N XVI.

BUTERMER lower lake. 1—mountain of Grasmer. 3—account of an inundation. 4—description of the vale of Lorton. 7—difficulty of verbal description. 9—difficulty also of picturesque description. 10—in what the perfection of painting consists. 11—why a sketch pleases. 14—a supposition of Mr. Burke's criticized. 15—different kinds of landscape require different modes of light. 17—description of a tempestuous night in a mountainous country. 20—images of the same kind from Croma. 22.

SECT.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( x )

S E C T. XVII.

Druid temple. 27—remarks on proper, and improper, subjects for painting. 29—description of the vale of St. John. 31—compared with the vale of Tempe. 33—violent inundation. 36—passage over mountains. 38—extensive vale. 40—ideas of space, not always adapted to little scenes. 40—a road, and a river compared, as objects of beauty. 41—Wolf's-cragg. 42—remarks on figures in landscape. 43.

S E C T. XVIII.

Description of a gill, or ravine. 49—first view of Ullefwater. 50—description of it. 50—full view of it. 52—Mr. Burke's idea of the sublime criticized. 53—reflections on sounds, (grand, or musical,) as adapted to scenery. 58—Stibray-cragg. 63—village of Patterdale. 64—the simplicity of the country exemplified in an anecdote of a clergyman. 65
—the

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( xi )

——the great wrongness of introducing diffipation into it. 67.

S E C T. XIX.

Description of Ullefwater under the circumstance of a perfect calm. 72——description of a rocky-pass, called Yew-cragg. 75——two circular vallies. 77——hill of Dunmallet. 80——village of Water-mullock. 81——view towards Pooly-bridge. 82——effect of moonlight. 82——an uncommon fish in Ullefwater. 83——Dacre-castle. 84——Penrith-castle, and beacon. 85——town of Penrith. 86——Inglewood forest. 87——story of bishop Nicolson. 88——Roman works at Plumpton, and Ragnire. 89——approach to Carlisle. 90.

S E C T XX.

City of Carlisle. 93——anecdote relative to the siege it sustained in 1745. 97——vale of Dalston. 100——Rose-castle. 101——inscription at Chalk-cliff. 101——Corby-castle. 102——Warwick.

S E C T.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( xii )

S E C T. XXI.

Description of Brugh-marsh. 109—death of Edward I. 112—view from Stanwix-bank. 114—Naworth-castle. 115—Lord William Howard. 116—abbey of Lanercost. 118—rivers characterized. 120—description of Scaleby-castle. 121.

S E C T. XXII.

Netherby. 127—ancient state of the borders. 128—present state. 129—account of the over-flowing of Solway-mofs. 133—methods taken to clear it. 142.

S E C T. XXIII.

Vale of Lowther. 147—Brougham-castle. 147—Clifton. 148—Lowther-hall. 149—Appelby-castle. 149—observations on smaller objects, detached from larger. 150—account

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( xiii )

account of the celebrated Lady Dowager Pembroke. 150.

S E C T. XXIV.

Observations on a formal piece of ground near Brugh. 169—Brugh-castle. 170—remarks on the colouring of nature. 171—Bowes-castle. 172—Gatherly-moor, and the various picturesque distances it affords. 175—story of king James I. 177—Leeming-lane. 178.

S E C T. XXV.

Studley. 179—the idea, which the scene naturally suggests. 180—the improper improvements it has suffered. 181—injudicious manner of opening views. 182—scenery around Fountain's abbey. 183—the propriety, and beauty of fragments uniting with a ruin. 184—description of the ruins of Fountain's abbey. 185—how restored, and ornamented. 186—anecdote of Henry Jenkins. 189.

SECT.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( xiv )

S E C T. XXVI.

Hackfall. 191—description of the scenery there. 191—vale of Mowbray. 193—natural idea suggested by the scenes of Hackfall. 194—remarks on a profusion of buildings in landscape. 194—comparison between Studley, and Corby. 197—and between Hackfall, and Persfield. 198—anecdote of Cromwell. 199—and of the battle of Marfden-moor. 201.

S E C T. XXVII.

Rippon. 203—Harrogate. 204—Harewood-castle, and house. 204—curfory lights in distant landscape. 204—country about Leeds, 206—about Wakefield. 206—Wentworth-house. 208.

S E C T. XXVIII.

General description of the peak of Derbyshire. 211—description of Middleton-dale.

212

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( xv )

212—Hopedale. 213—rock at Castleton.
 213—Devil's cave. 215—Mam-tor. 217
 Derbyshire-drop. 217—Buxton. 218—Pool's hole. 218—vale of Ashford. 219—vale of Haddon; and Haddon-house. 219—Chatsworth. 220—Gibbons's carving. 221
 —Darley-dale. 221—great Torr. 221—description of the vale of Matlock. 222.

S E C T. XXIX.

Description of Dovedale. 227—description of Ilam. 232—Oakover: criticism on Raphael's holy family. 235—on holy families in general. 236.

S E C T. XXX.

Keddleston. 239—the great hall. 240—remarks on the entrances of great houses. 241 —pictures at Keddleston. 242—tower of Derby-church. 243—china works. 243—criticism on Raphael's dishes. 243—silk-mill.
 244—country between Derby, and Leicester.
 244—a fragment of Roman architecture. 245
 —Lei-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06676-1 - Observations, Relative Chiefly to Picturesque Beauty, Made in the Year 1772, on Several Parts of England: Particularly the Mountains, and Lakes of Cumberland, and Westmoreland: Volume 1

William Gilpin

Table of Contents

More information

( xvi )

——Leicester-abbey. 247——death of Cardinal Woolsey, a good subject for a picture. 248——anecdote of Richard III.

S E C T. XXXI.

Country about Leicester. 251——cattle considered in a picturesque light. 252——as single objects. 253——as combined in groups. 258——subordination in groups to be observed as a principle in combination. 259——Virgil's authority quoted. 260.

S E C T. XXXII.

Country about Northampton. 263——Lord Strafford's, and Lord Hallifax's improvements. 263——beautiful lanes. 264——Wooburn-abbey. 264——country about Dunstable. 265——St. Alban's church. 265——Verulam. 266——country about Barnet. 265——Highgate-hill. 267——description of one of the great avenues into London. 267.

END OF THE CONTENTS OF THE SECOND VOLUME.