

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06682-2 - The South-Eastern Bantu: Abe-Nguni, Aba-Mbo, Ama-Lala

John Henderson Soga

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER I. Page 1.

Who are the Bantu? Sons of Noah, Bible, Rozit ul Suffa. Nine sons of Ham. Hamitic inheritance. Canaanites. Entry of Shemites and Hamites into Northern Africa. Positions occupied. The Bantu race. Its birth place. The Negro belt. Bantu not a stock race. The Wa-Huma or Wa-Tusi. Bantu of Hamitic and Negro stock. The Zenj.

CHAPTER II. Page 12.

Arabs and Portuguese. Earliest knowledge of East African Arabs. Commerce in slaves: Africa's open sore. Arabs assisted by Bantu tribes. Portuguese commerce in slaves. Bartholomew Diaz. Vasco da-Gama. Conflict between Portuguese and Arabs for supremacy in East Africa. Arab stations captured. Re-assertion of Arab power. Portuguese early records of tribes. Monomotapa: its meaning. Zimbabwe. Scene of Solomon's treasure operations. Theodore Bent's investigations.

CHAPTER III. Page 20.

First contact of Portuguese with Makalanga. Divisions of the Makalanga. The capital in Masudi's time—Sofala. Extent of country occupied. Makalanga language and customs. Mutual distrust of Portuguese and Makalanga. Barreto's expedition. Homem's expedition. Peace concluded. Evils of multiplicity of chieftainships and Bantu tribes. The Makololo. The Mashona and Banyayi. The Aba-Tonga. The Ama-Lala. Occupation of Natal by Ama-Lala. Wreck of Sao Joao near Msikaba 1552. Tekeza manner of speech. Offshoots of Makalanga tribe.

CHAPTER IV. Page 31.

Gradual spread of Bantu tribes and the reasons for it. The Isi-Zi custom. Its effects in disrupting tribes. Polygamy. The Right-hand house. Destruction of all the sons of a chief except the heir. Dowry and its effects in securing a status for a chief's wives. Succession to chieftainship. Custom of um-Qolo.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06682-2 - The South-Eastern Bantu: Abe-Nguni, Aba-Mbo, Ama-Lala

John Henderson Soga

Table of Contents

More information

xxvi

CONTENTS,

CHAPTER V. Page 41.

Migration of Bantu tribes from the north. Three racial streams ; Abe-Nguni, Aba-Mbo, Ama-Lala. Three main causes for migration : (1) Pressure of Hamitic tribes ; (2) Slavery in East Africa ; (3) Internecine war.

CHAPTER VI. Page 48.

Ama-Zimba and Aba-Mbo. First notice of them by Portuguese. An important occurrence. Migration south, crossing of Zambesi. War of 1570. Order of events. Sonza's army, its destruction. Ama-Zimba on north bank of Zambesi. Hatred of Ama-Zimba for Portuguese. Combined Zimba army. Attack on Mozambique. Alleged cannibalism of Ama-Zimba. Attack on Kilwa. Advance and attack on Mombasa. Advance on Melinde. Defeat of Ama-Zimba. Retreat southwards. Reorganized Zimba army under Ntondo. Destruction of Portuguese force sent against Ntondo. Present habitat of Ama-Zimba. The Makanga modern representatives of Ama-Zimba.

CHAPTER VII. Page 59.

Tribal and Clan names. U-Ntu, U-Hlanga, U-Zwide. Creation of white, black and yellow men, native tradition. Five classes of prefixes to tribal and clan names. Prefix determined by phonetic sense. Clan names, how derived. Haphazard use of tribal names, Angoni-Zulus, Fingoes not Aba-Mbo. Misapplication of tribal names continued, Ama-Kumalo of Mzilikazi. Ama-Gasa of Manukuza ; Abe-Nguni of Zwangendaba ; Ama-Nxumalo or Ndwandwe of Zwide.

CHAPTER VIII. Page 69.

Correlation of Bantu tribes, only possible within restricted limits. Limits governed by relationship to common ancestors. Traced by means of Royal Salutations. Isitakazelo. Correlation hopeless between Ama-Lala, Aba-Mbo and Abe-Nguni. Ama-Ngcolosi and tribes derived from them. Royal Salutation more important than "tekeza." Difference in use of Royal Salutations by the three branches. Question of branch to which Zulus belong. Origin of Xosa obscure as salutations give no help. Interdict on marriage of blood relations.

CHAPTER IX. Page 81.

Abe-Nguni, significance of the term, unjustified use of term. Original home of Abe-Nguni difficult to locate. The North-west theory of origin. Dohne's opinion. Possibility of their

CONTENTS.

xxvii

being a section of Ama-Zimba. Willoughby's opinion. Difference between Xosa and "tekeza" group of languages. The Ama-Xosa. Subdivisions of the tribe. The war-doctor. Xosas at the Dedesi. Their neighbours. Alleged incorporation of Hottentot women into the tribe not correct. Clicks in Si-Xosa, whence derived. Succession to chieftainship. Um-Qolo.

CHAPTER X. Page 101.

Approximate dates, starting point 1686, Togu's reign. Fixed by survivors of wreck, Stavenisse. Dearth of tradition concerning chiefs or their issue. Tshawe, Cira. "I-Xiba." Jwara. Xosa movement from Drakensberg to the sea. "Kwebé" an unusual suffix. Identity of tribes whose point of contact with progenitors is lost. Togu, 1686. Ngconde. Ziko chief of Ama-Kwayi. Uku-Kwaya. Tshiwo's reign, disturbances during. Country occupied by Xosas in Tshiwo's time. Ama-Ndluntsha. Noqazo. Broken clans forming ama-Ndluntsha. Hottentot origin of Ama-Gqunukwebe. Stories concerning them.

CHAPTER XI. Page 120.

Palo, his character. Attempt of Gwali to usurp the chieftainship. Gwali and Ntinde fly. Country occupied by Xosas. Punitive expedition against Gwali led by Mdange, 1715. Battle of Somerset East. Gwali flies south. Hintsati's Hottentots assist Gwali, both defeated. Mdange's forces return, pursued by Hottentots. Palo stationed at Tongwañe. Hubner's hunting party cut up by Xosas. Three Europeans met by Hubner among Pondos. Disruption of Xosa tribe under Palo. Battle between Gcaleka and Rarabe. Palo follows Rarabe, dies 1775. Langa, character of. Langa, 1740, settles at Fish river, joins Ama-Gwali and other revolted tribes: fights with Europeans, dies when nearly 90 years old.

CHAPTER XII. Page 128.

State of hostility between Rarabe and Gcaleka. Rarabe crosses the Kei, fights Hottentots, purchases country between Buffalo and Keiskama, dissociates himself from frontier fighting, is requested by Ama-Ndungwana to assist them against Ndaba. The latter insults Rarabe, fighting follows. Rarabe killed, about 1780. First Xosa war with Europeans, 1779. Second war, 1789. Ndlambe, Xosa regent. All sections of Xosas hostile to Ndlambe. Dutch Government at Cape averse

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06682-2 - The South-Eastern Bantu: Abe-Nguni, Aba-Mbo, Ama-Lala

John Henderson Soga

Table of Contents

More information

xxviii

CONTENTS.

to assisting Border farmers against Xosas. Tragic attack by Border commando on Ama-Ntinde. Transference of Government at Cape from Dutch to English.

CHAPTER XIII. Page 140.

Gcaleka succeeds Palo. Xosa tribe divided into two sections Gcalekas and Rarabes. Gcalekas' ambition to seize the reigns, of government. Reasons for his unpopularity. Gcaleka becomes a witch-doctor. Story of his initiation. The chief Kawuta, nothing important to record of him. Traditional story regarding his raising the Giqwas to importance. The Gcaleka tribe divided into two sections for war purposes. Genealogy of the Ama-Giqwa. The chief Ndlambe. Ndlambe made regent, guardian to Ngqika, his status undefined. Cebo and Ntimbo. Mdushane appointed successor to Cebo. Anta succeeds Ntimbo. Ndlambe's sons, Mhalla and Dyan. The Third Kafir war, 1793. The chief Gaika (Ngqika) comes of age. His personal character; shows little respect for family proprieties. Meets Lord Charles Somerset by whom compelled to cede territory between Fish and Keiskama rivers. Strong comment on same by Lord Glenelg. Trials as chief of Amara-rabe. His conduct estranges his people, resulting in battle of Amalinde. How battle was brought about. Nqoko, regent of the Gcalekas. Marches against Gaika, battle fought under Amatole range. Gcalekas driven home. Cattle of Gcalekas captured by Gaika. Gaika returns home. Nxele or Makanda stirs up the war spirit, his promise to raise the dead. Fails, but continues agitating. Ntsikana warns the chief Gaika not to go to war. Battle of Amalinde. Defeat of Gaika. Raid on Grahamstown 1819, by Ndlambe. Nxele surrenders, is sent to Robben Island, dies in attempt to escape to mainland. Ndlambe's power shattered. Emancipation of slaves at the Cape. Maqoma, his movements, warlike and otherwise. Sir Harry Smith arrives, 1834. Gcalekas threatened with war. Maqoma sent to Robben Island, dies in 1874.

CHAPTER XIV. Page 178.

Hintsas, Sixth Kafir war starts near Fish river. Xosas hemmed in Amatole forests by Colonel England. Sir Benjamin D'Urban and Sir Harry Smith carry the war to Hintsas. Fingo "Emancipation." The term "slavery." What conditions constitute slavery? Sir Benjamin D'Urban succumbs to Colonial sentiment. Favourable Colonial estimate of the Governor. Promise

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06682-2 - The South-Eastern Bantu: Abe-Nguni, Aba-Mbo, Ama-Lala

John Henderson Soga

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS.

xxix

to meet Xosa chiefs to settle outstanding difficulties, but fails to meet them. Reference again made to cession of territory between Fish and Keiskama rivers. Sir Charles Somerset quite right in treating Gaika as paramount of the Gaikas. Xosas not always responsible for outrages on the peace of the borders. D'Urban's accusations against Hintsá. Sends ultimatum to Hintsá. The chief in British camp as hostage, or unjustly arrested? Fingoes "emancipated." Raid Gcaleka cattle, no precautions taken against this by the Governor. Hintsá endeavours to escape, is shot dead at Nqabara. D'Urban severely criticised in England. Lord Glenelg's condemnation of the Governor. The Foreign Secretary's Dispatch to Sir Benjamin D'Urban. Lord Glenelg's policy severely criticized in South Africa.

CHAPTER XV. Page 203.

A friend of the Bantu. Reflections on just discrimination. Dr. John Philip. His services to cause of truth and justice deserve more generous and fair treatment than has been accorded to them. The Missionaries. Various Societies in Scotland and England establish missions among the Bantu. Britain occupies the place of the Jews to-day in spreading the truths of Christianity. Missionaries and education. Rev. Henry Calderwood, appointed magistrate, at Tyumie. The Hon. Charles Brownlee, C.M.G. Professor Brookes's estimate of him. Matthew Blyth. Sandile, chief of Gaikas, of unsettled mind and unreliable. Kiva involves Sandile in war of Ngeyecibi. Killed at the Isi-Denge forest, 1878. War of the Axe, 1846-7. Affair of the Mgwangqa (Gwangwa). Governor Maitland carries the war into Gcalekaland. War of Mlanjeni, 1850-3.

CHAPTER XVI. Page 235.

Kreli (Sarili), 1820-1902. Ceremony of initiation into manhood. Cattle-Killing Delusion said to bear evidence of his influence in shaping that tragedy. Conditions imposed upon him by Sir Benjamin D'Urban. Kreli notable for his humanity. Died at Sholora, Bomvanaland, 1902. Kreli's first attack on Tembus, "Um-ngqingo," 1854. Nongqause—Cattle-Killing, 1856. Second attack on Tembus, called the second Um-gqingo. The affair of Umtsheko, 1860. Nongxokozelo war between Kreli and Ngangelizwe, 1875. War of Ngeyecibi, 1877-8. Battle of Gwadana. Battle of Ibeka. At the Mkonkoto. At Lusizi. Battle of Kentani.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06682-2 - The South-Eastern Bantu: Abe-Nguni, Aba-Mbo, Ama-Lala

John Henderson Soga

Table of Contents

More information

xxx

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER XVII. Page 268.

The Abe-Nguni of Nyasaland. Genealogy of chiefs. Ama-Ndwandwe or Nxumalo, Genealogy of chiefs. Zwangendaba, Abe-Nguni chief, leaves Natal and proceeds north. His movements. Dies in Fipaland. His successors. Tribes representing sections which broke off from Abe-Nguni. Story of Zwangendaba's witch-doctors. Establishment of Christianity among Abe-Nguni (Angoni). Ama-Xosa clans. Various clans among Xosa : Ama-Kwemnta, Ama-Qwambi, Ama-Nqabe, Ama-Kwayi, Ama-Mbede, Ama-Banqo or Ntshilibe, Ama-Ngqosini.

CHAPTER XVIII. Page 299.

Aba-Mbo, second branch of Eastern Bantu. The Pondos. The chief Ngqungqushu. Faku. The agreement of 1844. Nqeto of the Ama-Qwabe, served under Tshaka, flees from Dingana into Pondoland, burns Morley Mission, kills Lieutenant Farewell and party. Nqeto overpowered by Faku, returns to Natal, and is killed by Dingana's orders. Mqikela. Ndamase. Mqwiliso. Tyabule. Sigcawu. Dalgetty. The Ama-Tsho-mané. Gquma. Her descendants. Pondo clans.

CHAPTER XIX. Page 334.

The Pandomise. Story of the lion's skin. Unreliability of Pandomise recorders of tribal tradition. Mamani, a curious instance of supplying a successor to a chief having no issue in the great house. "Dr. Wellington." War between Pandomise and Bacas. Hope's war. The Disarmament Act causes uprising of several tribes. Hope's murder. Mhlontlo's attempts at war collapse ; he flies into Basutoland. Magistrate Welsh beleaguered along with a few Europeans in Tsolo by Mditshwa. Ama-Xesibe. Ama-Ngwana. Chief Matiwana. Driven out of Natal by Tshaka. Settles at the Caledon river in Basutoland. Crosses Drakensberg into Cape Colony. Tembus swept aside by Matiwana, they solicit help of Europeans and Gcalekas. Governor sends Col. Somerset with troops. Battle of Mbolompo near Umtata. Destruction of the Ama-Ngwana. Matiwana returns to Natal, is put to death by Dingana. The Ama-Swazi.

CHAPTER XX. Page 360.

Ama-Bomvana. Bomvanaland and its occupation by Bomvanas. Gambushe, chief of Ama-Tshezi, purchases right of occupation from Hintsá. Causes which induced Gambushe to leave Pondoland. Faku sends two expeditions against Gambushe.

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06682-2 - The South-Eastern Bantu: Abe-Nguni, Aba-Mbo, Ama-Lala

John Henderson Soga

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS.

xxxi

Bomvanas take refuge in Gcalekaland from Faku. They remain in exile for nearly thirty years, then return to Bomvanaland at the Cattle-Killing time. The Imi-Ganu. Genealogy of Imi-Ganu. The Abe-Lungu (European) clan. Its origin. Genealogy of the clan. Captain Coxon's (of the Grosvenor) possible fate. The Imi-Tetwa. Genealogical line of chiefs. Dingiswayo introduces new method of close fighting in warfare.

CHAPTER XXI. Page 395.

The Ama-Lala, meaning of the term. Uku-tekedza, its various forms. Ama-Lala probably sections of the Makalanga tribe. Tribes comprised under the term Lala. Ama-Hlubi, origin of the name. Radebe. Fanciful story of creation of chieftainship. Story of submergence of the house of the great chief Maqubela. Wars between Hlubis and Ama-Ngwana. Matiwana's second war. Final battle between Matiwana and Mpangazita. Sidinane, Mehloamakulu. Langalibalele. Ludidi. Ama-Bele. Ama-Zizi. I-Ntlangwini. Ama-Tolo. Ama-Baca. Macingwane. Confederacy of tribes exposed to attacks by Tshaka. Ncapayi. Makaula. Baca-Wushe genealogy. Ama-Zulu.

CHAPTER XXII. Page 418.

Tshaka, his childhood. His character. Enters Imi-Tetwa army. Rises therein to position of supremacy. Last battle of the Ama-Ndwandwe with Tshaka.

CHAPTER XXIII. Page 450.

Kills his mother, Nandi. Other acts of brutality. Tshaka killed by his brother, Dingana. The Matebele. Manukuza and the Ama-Nxumalo. Genealogy of Ama-Ndwandwe.

CHAPTER XXIV. Page 466.

The Aba-Tembu, doubts as to which of the three branches of Eastern Bantu they belong. Approximate date of first occupation of Tembuland. Battle of Msana helps to determine position of Tembus about 1650. Movement, and direction of, determined by graves of their chiefs. Hlanga and Dlomo. Ama-Qiya. Ngoza or Ngozi, Chief of Qudeni Tembus. Battle with Tshaka. Tshaka's army conquered but Ngozi retreats fearing another battle. Subsequent adventures. Ngu-bencuka. War between Joyi and Gqirana, 1860. Ngangelizwe. Nongxokozelo war, its cause. Ama-Qwati war. Dalindyebho. Ama-Gubevu. Ama-Molo. Genealogy of both clans.