

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06896-3 - Nollekens and His Times: Comprehending a Life of that Celebrated Sculptor, and Memoirs of Several Contemporary Artists: Volume 1

John Thomas Smith

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

OF

THE FIRST VOLUME.

CHAPTER I.

Nollekens's pedigree. His Father frightened by the Rebels in 1745. Nollekens placed with Scheemakers the Sculptor. His juvenile passion for tolling bells. He gains premiums in the Society of Arts. Leaves England for Rome. Patronised there by Garrick and Sterne. He gains the Pope's gold medal. Exposed to assassination, by Barry the Painter. Barry's rude and brutal conduct. Nollekens a dealer in antiques. Athenian Stuart. Nollekens a botcher up of ancient fragments. A lucky hit. Successful smuggling by Nollekens. His filthy mode of living in Rome. He returns to London, and is chosen a Member of the Royal Academy. He falls in love and marries. Figure and wedding-dress of his bride. Fan-painting. London antiquities p. 1

CHAPTER II.

Execution of Sixteen-string Jack. Model of the King's state-coach. Sir Nathaniel Dance Holland. Tradesmen's signs sometimes painted by eminent Artists. Costly one of Shakspeare exposed for sale. Ignatius Sancho. Mortimer the Painter and Mr. Payne Knight. Duke of Mon-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06896-3 - Nollekens and His Times: Comprehending a Life of that Celebrated Sculptor, and Memoirs of Several Contemporary Artists: Volume 1

John Thomas Smith

Table of Contents

More information

vi

CONTENTS.

mouth's house in Soho. Marylebone basin and gardens, and Cockney-ladle. Fruit-gardens in Gower-street. Commencement of my own acquaintance with Nollekens. His servant Bronze. Hudson's sale of Prints, and anecdote of Sir J. Reynolds. Nollekens's recollections of London. Athenian Stuart. Colonel King. Residents of rank in Soho. Streets visible at one point. Nollekens's first Print, and subsequent collection. Recollections of his mother. Farthing Posts and early newspapers. Anecdotes of Hogarth. Characteristics of Mrs. Nollekens. Dr. Johnson's bust by Nollekens. His odd conduct to his sisters. His parsimonious habits. His monument for Dr. Goldsmith 23

CHAPTER III.

Friends of Mrs. Nollekens. G. M. Moser, and his daughter Mary. Her letters, and one from Fuseli in reply. Angelica Kauffmann, and her marriage. Mrs. Carter. Old Houses on Hampstead-heath. G. Steevens and his portraits. Nollekens's bust of George III. Parsimonious management of Nollekens when a Bachelor. Personal appearance of him and his wife. Economy of Mrs. Nollekens. The Sculptor's figure and dress. White's Coffee-house, and the Gamesters' Address to the King 59

CHAPTER IV.

Nollekens's dinner-parties and visitors. Mr. Taylor. Anecdotes of Frank Hayman. Economical eccentricities of Mrs. Nollekens. Dr. Johnson. The Sculptor and the Snow model in Oxford-market. Mr. White of Fleet-street. Mrs. Nollekens and the Modeller in butter. Salubrious air of Hampstead, and Artists residing there. Manœuvres of Mrs. Nollekens in dress, &c. 87

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06896-3 - Nollekens and His Times: Comprehending a Life of that Celebrated Sculptor, and Memoirs of Several Contemporary Artists: Volume 1

John Thomas Smith

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

vii

CHAPTER V.

Mr. Nollekens's fancies and his wife's jealousy. Anecdote of the Sculptor, Dr. Johnson, and Mrs. Thrale. Lord Besborough. Charles Bannister. The Sculptor's assistants and pupils. Dr. Johnson's encouragement of the Author. Instances of benevolence and eccentricity in Mr. Nollekens. Notices of his relations. Saunders Welch, his father-in-law. Anecdote of Wilkes. Henry Fielding, and his characters from life. Dr. Johnson's intimacy with the Welch family. Death, epitaph, and will, of Mr. Welch. Recollections of him by Mrs. Nollekens. His prudence and resolution as a Magistrate. Silver tea-pot, and other reliques of Dr. Johnson. Mr. Welch's humanity. Anecdotes of Wilson 110

CHAPTER VI.

Interview between Mr. Nollekens and Nathaniel Hone. Hone's satirical picture on Sir Joshua Reynolds and Angelica Kauffmann. Account of Hone's Exhibition of it, with extracts from his Statement. Other notices of Hone and his pictures. Short stature of Garrick and Nollekens. Anecdote by Mrs. Garrick of Dance's picture of her husband as Richard III. Mrs. Nollekens's dog. Sagacity of that of Mrs. Garrick. Norman the Dog-doctor. Mrs. Radcliffe's dogs. 143

CHAPTER VII.

Anecdotes of Seward and James Barry. Conversations in Westminster Abbey, on waxen figures, fees, alterations, monuments, and the Gate-house. Norfolk-House, the birth-place of George III. Mr. Nollekens's restoration of the Townley Venus. Colonel Hamilton and Gainsborough, his models and pictures. Conversation between Mr. Nol-

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06896-3 - Nollekens and His Times: Comprehending a Life of that Celebrated Sculptor, and Memoirs of Several Contemporary Artists: Volume 1

John Thomas Smith

Table of Contents

More information

viii

CONTENTS.

lekens and Panton Betew, on artists and the China manufactories at Bow and Chelsea. Characteristic anecdotes of Betew. Early engravings by Hogarth. Anecdote of Dr. Burney, and his musical parties 171

CHAPTER VIII.

Mr. Nollekens's opinion of Colossal Sculpture. Restorations of the paintings at Whitehall. Increase of the value of modern pictures. Remarkable old houses and customs. Mrs. Nollekens's visits. Ireland's Vortigern. London cries. Sir Peter Lely's sale. Nollekens at the Academy Club, and at Harrowgate. His Venus model. Meanness of Mrs. Nollekens. Miss Hawkins and her Anecdotes 201

CHAPTER IX.

Mr. Nollekens's favourite amusements. Children's headcloths and go-carts. Bethlehem Hospital and Cibber's figures. Anecdotes of Dr. Wolcot and Mr. Nollekens, Boswell, H. Tresham R.A., and Fuseli. Eccentricities of Lord Coleraine. Mr. Nollekens and his Barber. Anecdotes of the Rev. John Wesley. Mr. Nollekens's restoration of antiques at Rome. Drawings at Rome by Mosman. Tailors. Family quarrels. Mr. Nollekens's manœuvres for importing a picture. Coarseness of his manners. Mr. Charles Townley and the Abbé Devay. Portrait, house, and antique marbles of Mr. Townley described. The Royal Cockpit. Immorality of Hogarth 235

CHAPTER X.

Notices of Sir Robert and Lady Strange. Mr. Nollekens's intelligence whilst abroad. Prints of Marc-Antonio. Distinction of draperies and flesh in Sculpture. Dutch tables, and improvement in English taste. Difficulties

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06896-3 - Nollekens and His Times: Comprehending a Life of that Celebrated Sculptor, and Memoirs of Several Contemporary Artists: Volume 1

John Thomas Smith

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS.

ix

attendant on the lighting of pieces of Sculpture. Ignorance of persons employed to erect and repair them. Huge blocks of marble used by modern Sculptors. Fatal consequences of piecing the stone. Works of a mender of Antiques. Anecdote of Mr. Whitbread. Coquetry, death, and funeral of Angelica Kauffmann. Death and epitaph of Miss Welch. Mr. Nollekens's visits to the Opera. Instances of his economy and ignorance. Dog-Jennings 269

CHAPTER XI.

The Elgin Marbles brought to England. Inquiries on them by a Committee of the House of Commons, with answers by Nollekens, Flaxman, Westmacott, Chantrey, Rossi, Sir Thomas Lawrence, and President West. Remarks on them by a Riding-master. Contrast of the manners of Nollekens and Flaxman. Collection of medals made by the latter. Old medals of Italy, and those by Pisano. English medals by T. Simon. French medals of Andrieu. Coins collected by Mr. Nollekens. His loss by robbery. His prints, gems, and casts in plaster. Art not hereditary 293

CHAPTER XII.

Mrs. Nollekens's new drawing-room. Caleb Whitefoord's attentions to Nollekens. Cross-readings. Goldsmith's Retaliation. Whitefoord's letter to his nephew. Mrs. Nollekens, her servant, and her acquaintances. Her death and funeral. Subsequent conduct of Mr. Nollekens. Mrs. Lloyd and Mrs. Paradise. A Garrick play-bill. Mrs. Lloyd's Will. Her death. Eccentricities of Mr. Nollekens. Mr. Barnard's Italian drawings. Jernigan's lottery-medal. Nollekens and his sitters. George the Third's wig. The Sculptor's family. Bat. Pidgeon's Shop 332

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06896-3 - Nollekens and His Times: Comprehending a Life of that Celebrated Sculptor, and Memoirs of Several Contemporary Artists: Volume 1

John Thomas Smith

Table of Contents

More information

x

CONTENTS.

CHAPTER XIII.

Mr. Nollekens's Confessor. Description of the Sculptor's house, paintings, &c. His indifference towards religion, and sacred subjects in Art. Decoration of churches, and exhibition of Westminster Abbey. Mr. Noliekens and Sir William Staines. Anecdotes of Biaggio Rebecca. The Pond family. Anthony Pasquin. Canal excursions. Mrs. Lobb and living models. Mr. Nollekens's visit to the British Museum. Recollections of his manners, &c. Eccentricity in persons of eminent talent. The advantages of greatness. Mr. Nollekens and his patrons and visitors 367

CHAPTER XIV.

Mr. Nollekens's insensibility to ancient Art, and liberality to modern Artists. Stewart's picture of Washington. Farther instances of Mr. Nollekens's eccentricities and manners. His intended bequest to the Royal Academy. Condescension of the Princess of Wales to him. Bantering letters. Conduct of Sir F. Bourgeois. Mr. Nollekens's man Dodimy. Moses Kean. Nollekens's summons to his tenants for rent. His household economy and habits. His custom when Visitor at the Royal Academy. Caprice of his charities. Lord Mansfield's benevolence. Mr. Wivell. Nollekens's love of newspapers, and memoranda of remarkable events. Unfeeling treatment of his model. Other anecdotes of his domestic arrangements, art, and liberality. Frivolous presents, &c. sent him towards the close of his life. Beauty of foliated ornaments in Sculpture. Inferiority of Architecture to Sculpture and Painting 402