

Cambridge University Press
978-1-108-06921-2 - Notes of a Botanist on the Amazon and Andes: Being Records of Travel on the Amazon and its Tributaries, the Trombetas, Rio Negro, Uaupés, Casiquiari, Pacimoni, Huallaga and Pastasa: Volume 2
Richard Spruce Edited by Alfred Russel Wallace
Table of Contents
More information

vi NOTES OF A BOTANIST

	PAGE
—Rockystreamandravines—Fineferns—Noroadsorpaths to travel on—Excursion to La Campaña—Hill of Lamas— The Inhabitants—An intelligent padre—Tabalosos—Over the pass to Lirio-pampa—The Indian Chumbi bitten on the wrist by a venomous snake—Terrible effects— Near death—Spruce’s remedies succeeded in saving the Indian’s life—And probably his own !—Effects of stinging caterpillar—Letter to Mr. Bentham, difficulties of a botanical collector—Hauxwell the bird-collector—Later letters to Mr. Bentham—Revolution described in letter to Mr. Teasdale—The chief botanical excursions, compiled from notes, by the Editor	37

CHAPTER XVII

VOYAGE IN SMALL CANOES FROM TARAPOTO TO CANELOS
ON THE BOMBONASA RIVER

By road to Chasuta—Canoe in a whirlpool—Dog driven mad, had to be shot—Delay at La Laguna—Self-flagellation of Indians—Up the Marañon—Deserted villages—Enter the Pastasa—Another dog shot !—Deserted pueblo of San- tander—Continuous rain in a deserted river—Pinches nuevo—At Andoas, delayed five days—Indians described —A kind Governor—Andoas to Sara-yacu on the Bom- bonasa—Indians’ morning toilet—Pass mouth of the Puca-yacu—Passed the Sara-yacu—Pueblo of Sara-yacu —On to Puca-yacu village—A dangerous flood—Descrip- tion of Puca-yacu—Detained three weeks for men— The Spaniards leave with the only men—A grand view of the Andes—On to Canelos	102
---	-----

CHAPTER XVIII

THROUGH THE FOREST OF CANELOS TO BAÑOS

Enter the Forest of Canelos—Nightly shelters described— Along ridges and precipices—Delayed by a swollen torrent —A Jibaro Indian’s hut—Delayed three days—On to Mount Abitagua—The mossiest spot in the world—And the rainiest !—Crossed the flooded Shuña river—On to the Topo—Delayed two nights—Perilous crossing—
---	--

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06921-2 - Notes of a Botanist on the Amazon and Andes: Being Records of Travel on the Amazon and its Tributaries, the Trombetas, Rio Negro, Uaupés, Casiquiari, Pacimoni, Huallaga and Pastasa: Volume 2

Richard Spruce Edited by Alfred Russel Wallace

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

vii

PAGE

Goods all left in the forest!—Sugar-mill on Rio Verde —Reached Baños—General account of the forest of Canelos—Second visit to Mount Abitagua—Notes on the vegetation of the forest of Canelos	135
--	-----

CHAPTER XIX

BOTANICAL EXCURSIONS IN THE ANDES OF ECUADOR:
AT BAÑOS AND AMBATO

List of Excursions—Letter to Mr. Benthams—Spruces sad position at Baños awaiting his goods from the forest—How he collected mosses on the road—New ferns in abundance —Description of Baños—Grand cone of Tunguragua— Paper unobtainable—European genera of plants—Letter to Mr. Teasdale—Baños, its hot baths, visitors, and earth- quakes—To Ambato—Its situation and surroundings— Manners and customs of the people—Effects of sand- storms—To Riobamba—Dr. James Taylor—Views of Chimborazo—Mountain travel—Market-day—Great mountains round it—Great cataract of Guandisagua— Society in Ambato—Botanical letter to Mr. Benthams— To Sir W. Hooker, mostly about Ferns—To Mr. Ben- tham on probable number of species in the Amazon valley —Spruces grief at passing new plants ungathered—To Sir W. Hooker, about mosses, etc.—To Mr. Benthams, about the Venezuelan collections and its rich rivers unex- plored—His great indebtedness to Mr. Benthams—To Mr. Teasdale about his journeys in the high Andes—Beautiful Gentians—Why they cannot be grown in England—An escape from a condor—Wishes England possessed the Amazon valley	171
---	-----

CHAPTER XX

AMBATO AND THE CINCHONA FORESTS OF ALAUSÍ

Letter to Mr. Benthams—War with Peru—To Quito and forest of Pallatanga—The warm forests far less known botanically than the mountains—Letter to Mr. Teasdale,
---	--

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06921-2 - Notes of a Botanist on the Amazon and Andes: Being Records of Travel on the Amazon and its Tributaries, the Trombetas, Rio Negro, Uaupés, Casiquiari, Pacimoni, Huallaga and Pastasa: Volume 2

Richard Spruce Edited by Alfred Russel Wallace

Table of Contents

More information

viii NOTES OF A BOTANIST

PAGE

about Indians and Christianity—A severe earthquake— The Cinchona forests of Alausí—Explorations for “Bark” trees and descriptions of the vegetation—The Revolution —Sanitation in Ecuador	221
---	-----

CHAPTER XXI

THE CINCHONA FORESTS OF WESTERN CHIMBORAZO

List of excursions—Report on the “Red Bark” expedition— Journey to the forest—On the Paramo—The Arenal— Its curious Alpine vegetation—Flower-clad mountain side—At Guaranda delayed some days—Over another ridge of Chimborazo—A dangerous descent—Fine Mela- stomaceæ —At Limon saw first “Red Bark” trees— Occupy a trapiche (cane-mill)—A fine forest—The “bark” supposed to be a dye—How the bark is collected—The Cinchona succirubra a most beautiful tree—The mammals and birds of the forest—Insects— Large forest trees—The vegetation of the Red Bark forests—Arrival of Mr. Cross—Preparations for gather- ing, drying, and raising seeds and cuttings—Difficulties to overcome—Troubles from the war—Spruce takes the dried seeds to Guayaquil—Back to Aguacatal to build a raft—Letter to Mr. Teasdale describing Guayaquil—Con- struction of raft—Waiting for the young plants—The dangerous raft-journey to Guayaquil—Success of the plants in India	258
--	-----

CHAPTER XXII

SPRUCE'S LAST THREE YEARS IN SOUTH AMERICA: ON THE SHORES OF THE PACIFIC

List of excursions—Letter to Mr. Bentham—Spruce's mode of botanical work—Botanical notes—The climate of the coast—The loss of his property—To Mr. Daniel Hanbury —To Mr. John Teasdale—Journey to Piura—The climate and the inhabitants—Notes on the valleys of

Cambridge University Press

978-1-108-06921-2 - Notes of a Botanist on the Amazon and Andes: Being Records of Travel on the Amazon and its Tributaries, the Trombetas, Rio Negro, Uaupés, Casiquiari, Pacimoni, Huallaga and Pastasa: Volume 2

Richard Spruce Edited by Alfred Russel Wallace

Table of Contents

More information

CONTENTS

ix

PAGE

Piura and Chira—Topography and mineralogy—Indigenous vegetation—To Mr. Benthham—To Mr. Daniel Hanbury (after his return to England)	312
---	-----

CHAPTER XXIII

LETTERS AND ARTICLES RELATING TO HIS AMAZONIAN TRAVELS

Spruce to Hanbury—On the winter sun and leafless trees— Spruce's account of Santander—Santander's letter to Spruce—Spruce to Hanbury—Santander to Spruce— Essay on the Characteristics of Amazonian Vegetation—The relations of Plants and Animals—Some cases of insect migration—Migrations of birds and mammals— Concluding remarks	343
--	-----

CHAPTER XXIV

ON ANT-AGENCY IN PLANT-STRUCTURE

Introductory remarks—Letter from Darwin—Letter from the Secretary of the Linnean Society—The paper—Of Sac-bearing Leaves—Of Inflated Petioles—Of Inflated Branches—Of Elongated and Fistulose Stems and Branches—Other evidence, with some remarks by the Editor	384
--	-----

CHAPTER XXV

ON INDIGENOUS NARCOTICS AND STIMULANTS, WITH THEIR USES BY THE INDIANS

Remarkable narcotics of the Amazon and Orinoco—The use and effects of caapi—Niopo snuff and the mode of using it—Medicine-men and their customs—On spirits or demons among the Indians—A strange occurrence and its explanation—Rarity of curative drugs among the Indians—Nerve-stimulants used by the Indians—Use of guaraná as a tonic—Guayúsa, a tonic used in the Eastern Andes—Conclusion	413
---	-----

x NOTES OF A BOTANIST

CHAPTER XXVI

THE WOMEN-WARRIORS OF THE AMAZON: A HISTORICAL STUDY	PAGE
Orellana's report to Charles V.—Confirmatory statements—
Historians agree in their reality—Condamine's testimony
—The green Amazon stones—Velasco's testimony—
Raleigh's statement—Van Heuvel—Acuña's conclusion .	456

CHAPTER XXVII

THE ENGRAVED ROCKS OF THE RIO NEGRO AND CASIQUIARI Indian picture-writing—The Laja de Capibara—What the figures mean—Figures at the Caño Calipo—The Paapurfs figures and their history—At Jauarité—Discussion
of their origin and purport	474

CHAPTER XXVIII

A HIDDEN TREASURE OF THE INCAS
The story of Valverde and his riches — The "Derrotero" or Guide to Llanganati—Don Atanasio Guzman, the botanist—His map of Llanganati—Lent to Spruce and he copies it—Description of it—Spruce obtains a copy of the "Derrotero" and translates it—The translation—Spruce's account of the attempts to find the treasure by means of the "Guide"—Their failure—Explanation of the Quichua terms on the map—Editor's Critical Note confirmatory of the accuracy of Valverde's "Guide," and suggesting another expedition	489
GLOSSARY OF NATIVE NAMES	519
INDEX	525