CAMBRIDGE LIBRARY COLLECTION

Books of enduring scholarly value

Classics

From the Renaissance to the nineteenth century, Latin and Greek were compulsory subjects in almost all European universities, and most early modern scholars published their research and conducted international correspondence in Latin. Latin had continued in use in Western Europe long after the fall of the Roman empire as the lingua franca of the educated classes and of law, diplomacy, religion and university teaching. The flight of Greek scholars to the West after the fall of Constantinople in 1453 gave impetus to the study of ancient Greek literature and the Greek New Testament. Eventually, just as nineteenth-century reforms of university curricula were beginning to erode this ascendancy, developments in textual criticism and linguistic analysis, and new ways of studying ancient societies, especially archaeology, led to renewed enthusiasm for the Classics. This collection offers works of criticism, interpretation and synthesis by the outstanding scholars of the nineteenth century.

Corpus iuris civilis

The most famous legal work of the ancient world was compiled at the order of the emperor Justinian (c.482–565) and issued in the period 529–34. It was intended to be a complete codification of all law, to be used as the only source of law in all the courts of the empire. The work was divided into three parts: the Codex Iustinianus contained all of the extant imperial enactments from the time of Hadrian; the Digesta compiled the writings of great Roman jurists; and the Institutiones was intended as a textbook for law schools. However, Justinian later found himself obliged to create more laws, and these were published as the Novellae. This three-volume Latin edition of 1872–95, prepared by the great classical historian Theodor Mommsen (1817–1903) and his colleagues, is the culmination of centuries of palaeographical and legal studies. Volume 2 contains the Codex Iustinianus.

Cambridge University Press has long been a pioneer in the reissuing of out-of-print titles from its own backlist, producing digital reprints of books that are still sought after by scholars and students but could not be reprinted economically using traditional technology. The Cambridge Library Collection extends this activity to a wider range of books which are still of importance to researchers and professionals, either for the source material they contain, or as landmarks in the history of their academic discipline.

Drawing from the world-renowned collections in the Cambridge University Library and other partner libraries, and guided by the advice of experts in each subject area, Cambridge University Press is using state-of-the-art scanning machines in its own Printing House to capture the content of each book selected for inclusion. The files are processed to give a consistently clear, crisp image, and the books finished to the high quality standard for which the Press is recognised around the world. The latest print-on-demand technology ensures that the books will remain available indefinitely, and that orders for single or multiple copies can quickly be supplied.

The Cambridge Library Collection brings back to life books of enduring scholarly value (including out-of-copyright works originally issued by other publishers) across a wide range of disciplines in the humanities and social sciences and in science and technology.

Codicis Iustiniani editio quae iam prodit minor ex maiore mea repetita est additis variis lectionibus eis, quibus careri non posse videbatur. quibus ut cum fructu lectores uti possint, librorum manu scriptorum, quibus recensio mea nititur, ceteraeque suppellectilis criticae condicionem breviter exponam.

Praestantissimi omniumque antiquissimique libri saeculo VI vel VII scripti fragmenta extant in libro Veronensi (V). is liber olim Codicem integrum complexus est: reliqui libri Codicem in duas partes divisum exhibent, ut in aliis libri I—VIII, in aliis libri X—XII scripti sint.

Prioris partis libri derivati sunt ex Codicis Epitoma, quae vix quartam Codicis partem continet. genuina huius Epitomae forma non extat, sed auctam nonnullis supplementis ex integro Codice additis repraesentant libri Pistoriensis (P) saec. X vel XI, Parisiensis 4516 (L) saec. XI, Darmstadiensis (D) saec. XII: ex eiusdem propaginis libro auctor legis Romanae canonice comptae (A) saeculo VIII constitutionum syllogen mutuatus est. libri a saeculo XI exeunte exarati ex libris Epitomae auctae ita promanarunt, ut suppletis ex integri Codicis exemplis constitutionibus Latinis quae adhuc deerant (desiderabatur autem plus quam dimidia pars) reliqua ad eadem exempla castigarentur. huius classis antiquissimis libris Casinate (C) et Berolinensi 273 (R) usus sum: quorum librorum ubi utriusque lectio mendosa est aut alteruter deficit, alios eiusdem classis libros (MNQW) adieci. in lectionibus Epitomae auctae adscribendis libros Parisiensem et Darmstadiensem qui cum Pistoriensi conspirare solent praetermisi.

Librorum X, XI, XII codices ultra saeculum XII extremum retrahi non possunt. fundamentum editionis esse volui libros antiquissimos Parisiensem 4537 (K) saec. XII extr. et Oxoniensem (O) saec. XIII: horum ubi alteruter deficit vel utriusque contextus pessumdatum est, lectiones libri Vindobonensis 2130 (I) saec. XIII aliorumque librorum scriptorum (dett.) vel etiam editorum subieci.

Tradita per libros manu scriptos lectio neque mendis neque hiatibus ex librorum negligentia ortis caret: nonnulla etiam data opera omissa sunt. cui damno reparando alia subsidia praesto mihi fuere. atque in eis quidem constitutionibus, quarum pristina forma Codicibus Gregoriano Hermogeniano Theodosiano vel Novellis ante Iustinianum latis traditur, veram lectionem plerumque certa coniectura reperire licuit. neque minore ad eam restituendam adiumento fuerunt versiones indices adnotationes commentatorum Graecorum Iustiniani aequalium aut paulo recentiorum, quae in Basilicis aliisque iuris Graeci collectionibus extant.

In eis quae data opera omissa sunt restituendis partim eadem illa partim alia subsidia suppetunt: truncae autem sunt constitutionum inscriptiones subscriptionesque. inscriptiones enim in omnibus libris ne Veronensi quidem excepto communem brevioris licentiam subisse, quae e nominibus eorum hominum, ad quos constitutiones datae sunt, uno electo ceteros recideret, epitoma Codicis quae Summa Perusina vocatur (S) abunde nos docuit. atque hoc quidem damnum in libri quarti parte posteriore ex Summa Perusina reparari potuit: in reliquis Codicis partibus pauci tantum eiusmodi hiatus ex aliis constitutionum collectionibus vel ex legibus iungendis vel etiam ex Iustinianis Institutionibus explentur.

Subscriptiones veterum codicum librarii omissis quibusdam quae inutilia visa sunt in breve contraxerunt, recentiorum librarii fere omnino abiecerunt. quarum subscriptionum quae ita perierunt in libris novem prioribus plerasque Haloander ex libro manu scripto Egnatiano nunc perditio restituit, in posterioribus libris nonnulla Cuiacius e libris iam item amissis, plurima supplementa Theodosianus Codex suppeditavit.

Graecas constitutiones libri scripti omitunt excepto Veronensi, qui quattuor constitutionum Graecarum fragmenta servavit. plerumque tamen ipsa constitutionum verba vel indices earum e iuris Graeci libris restituere licuit: qui indices in hac editione ita ab ipsis constitutionibus distincti sunt, ut versuum initia paululum intra solitum spatium retraherentur. inscriptiones Graecarum constitutionum ex temporis ordine passim supplevimus, ac tacite quidem: supplementa ista uncinis quadratis includi. punctis indicavi, quam sedem olim habuerunt eae constitutiones, quarum ne indices quidem aetatem tulerunt.

Latinarum quoque constitutionum earum, quae Iustiniani sub diversis titulis iteraverunt, paucae in libris nostris exciderunt: has e geminis legibus ita restitui ut stellulas singulis versibus praeponebam.

Graece scriptorum interpretatio Latina in notis aut infra notas addita est.

Scripti Berolini die xv m. Martii 1877.
